LOCAL LIONS HOSTS TO OJAI DEN AT BARBECUE

WATER COMPANY'S CLOGGED WELL REPAIRED; SERVICE RESUMED BUT OFFICIALS MAKE NO PROMISES

No Answer To Application For Federal Loan Received So Far; Consumers Asked To Eliminate Needless Waste

EXCEPT for a slightly discolored flow at times, the local water service is back to normal again, after ten days of intermittent and muddy supply. Water company officials said yesterday that the stream will clear up today, as the water in the storage tank settles.

Two hundred feet of new perforated pipe have been put into the well that became clogged over a week ago, leaving some parts of town entirely without water during the day.

"We state frankly that such a breakdown—or worse—may happen again at any time," said Secretary Atkinson of the Water company. "What has been done amounts to only a temporary relief measure until steps can be taken to assure a future water supply—something we cannot promise Carpinteria with our wells and pumping plant."

He went on to say that nothing has been heard as yet from the company's application for a federal loan of $15,000 for the purpose of drilling a third well as a source of reserve supply.

"If water users will only be careful as possible about dripping faucets wasting water and leaky connections we may be able to continue to supply our customers until the situation is worked out," he continued.

"Don't let sprinklers run all night. Don't go away leaving a garden hose turned on. Remember that the more water you use now the less there will be to use later."

SIX HURT IN CAR COLLISION NEAR LOCAL AIRPORT

Car Without Tail Light Is Blamed for Smash

Six persons were injured, one seriously, and two cars demolished Monday night in a head-on collision just south of the Carpinteria airport.

Officers who investigated the accident reported that the north-bound car had apparently swerved suddenly to avoid a car that had no tail light. The swerve took it head-on into the machine that was headed south, the impact being so great as to totally wreck both cars.

The victims were rushed to a Santa Barbara hospital in an ambulance. Two were treated and released that night, but fractures and broken bones will keep the other four occupants of the demolished cars in the hospital for some time.

H. G. Welsh and family of Santa Monica were in the north-bound car, en route to a vacation in Oregon. The other car was occupied by Hamilton Evans and family, of Pico, Calif., who were returning from an eastern trip.

Applications For Land Bank Loans On Farms Pour In

District Commissioner Explains Farm Loan Plan

APPLICATIONS for Land Bank Commissioner's Loans received in one month exceed those received by the Federal Land Banks in the whole year ending June 30, according to William H. Woolf, Agent, Land Bank Commissioner for the 11th District. From the date the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act was passed, May 12, to July 28, applications for Commissioner's loans numbered 70,432 for an aggregate of $177,926,833.00 in all of the 12 districts. Mr. Woolf states that whereas separate application forms have been used in applying for Commissioner or Land Bank Loans a joint form will be put into use in applying for Commissioner Land Bank Loans a joint form will be put (Continued on Page Four)

MOVIE COW HERO WILL TELL JUDGE TUBBS ABOUT IT

"Big Boy" Williams Went Too Darned Fast

Justice of the Peace Jerome F. Tubbs is faced with a bad combination—a cold in his head and a number of cases to be heard during the next few days.

On Tuesday he will receive as a business visitor none other than "Big Boy" Williams, Hollywood's cowboy de luxe, hero of countless horse operas and member of the Riviera country club polo team.

For on Wednesday Williams was flagged down by an officer who informed him that he was doing 65 in a 45-mile zone, and cited to appear in the local justice court.

When stopped Williams was accompanied by a ten gallon Stetson, cowboy boots, a lurid scarf and Miss Barbara Weeks, screen star, who, it developed, was the owner of the fast car.

2000 Year Old Barnacle Doesn't Look Over 1350

IF you've noticed the display in the window of Johnny Jones' office recently you probably already know that the collection is being augmented constantly.

Recent additions include a whale barnacle, estimated by authorities to be about 2000 years old, and the head of a small figure of early Aztec origin.

The barnacle was found in the hills east of King City, and is accounted for by a theory of students of the prehistoric which holds that ages ago that entire area was covered by water.

"Men who have made a study of such things tell me that the spot where I found the barnacle was doubtless a reef, and that the whales probably used the submerged shelf to scrape off their barnacles," says Johnny.

Jones carries the Aztec figure as a pocket piece. It was found at the excavations in the pyramid of San Juan Tloteahuacan, near Mexico City, and smuggled out of the country by a collector and traveller who sent it to Jones, along with an unusually vivid piece of fossilized wood from the Rainbow Petrified Forest of Arizona.

"During the last Fiesta," said Jones, "the collector noticed the bones and shells in the office window, and stopped to examine it more closely. He was very interested in the whale barnacles—I had two of them—and so I gave him one as a gift. A few days later he sent me the little head and the piece of fossilized wood with a note of appreciation."

Besides the items mentioned, the collection includes several whale bones, the shell of a huge red spider crab, and a surprising assortment of shells, all of which were picked up on the Carpinteria beach.

Thunder And A Few Raindrops All That Freak Storm Brings

Carpinteria Gets Taste Of Eastern Weather

SOME of the natives thought it was battle practice beyond the islands. A few said that they were doing some blasting on the Casitas. But it was only genuine old-fashioned thunder!

Wednesday morning an overcast sky and sudden gusts of wind were accompanied by intermittent rumblings. Any easterner could have told you that a good old summer thunder storm was well on its way.

But he'd have been wrong. A few scattered rain drops were all that materialized from a sky apparently all set to break loose with a real storm. The thunder grew more distant, the sun broke through, and by evening there were just enough clouds left to help out in one of those famous California sunsets.

Business Is Good As Airline Shows Figures For S. B.

Better Than One Rider Daily from Here

AN average of more than one passenger a day boards the planes of the Pacific Seaboard Airlines here, according to figures given out yesterday by Ross Wood, Santa Barbara ticket agent for the company.

"Since the service was started two months ago 75 passengers have booked passage from the Carpinteria airport, while 62 have been discharged from the planes. Business has increased steadily, as more and more people take advantage of the low prices and fast service of the only coastal air service between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Barney Hall, manager of the Carpinteria airport flew to the islands Sunday and picked up two Los Angeles men who had arranged to conclude a fishing trip in that manner.

D. Baxter reports a busy week of instructing potential pilots in his ground flyer that will be at the local field for a limited time.

Ye Kronikal Almanack

IF it be more than a tradition that barbers learn all their customer's secrets, then the original of the jovial countenance shown here should be able to tell almost a complete history of Carpinteria valley.

For Charlie Rodriguez (see the sissors in the lower left corner?) has been helping to keep Carpinteria's hair out of its eyes since the earlier stages of the War of 1812.

Charlie came here with a band of Technocrats who left Cabrillo and his bunch of explorers on the channel islands.

"A barber had no business with that crowd," Charlie will tell you. "If you've ever seen pictures of them you'll understand. They all prided themselves on their long beards and flowing locks, and the mere sound of my sissors—I had to practise, didn't I?—seemed to incite them.

So Charlie and some of the boys who liked the fishing here purloined a small boat and landed at the foot of Linden avenue. Charlie made himself a barber pole from a eucalyptus limb and some red and white tissue, hired a small native boy to twirl it, and set up shop.

"It didn't take me long to learn that I'd gone from one extreme to another," Charlie says. "No one had ever told me that California Indians don't have whiskers! Pete Jimenez and Doc Cota were my first two customers. They liked the smell of the hair tonic I had in stock so well that Pete bought most of it 'just to take home and smell it,' he said.

"Business picked up when the Bailards and Franklins moved in, so I just stayed here and watched the place develop. Hair like lemons and everything else, grows quickly here, and I've never been sorry I left Cabrillo and that bunch of long hair. No one but Santa Claus should be allowed a beard."

BARBECUE, ENTERTAINMENT, DANCE GIVEN AT CERCA DEL MAR AS OJAI DEN RETURNS ANNUAL VISITATION

Committee Leaves No Stone Unturned To Assure Out-of-Town Lions A Big Evening Of Dining, Dancing and Entertainment

A BARBECUE, musical numbers, a one-act play and dancing all were features of last evening's entertainment when local Lions were hosts to approximately sixty Ojai and Santa Barbara Lions and Lionesses and friends at Cerca del Mar.

Once a year the Ojai and Carpinteria dens exchange visits en masse, and last night's party more than maintained the standard of good times and sociability that marks these annual visits.

Door prizes—huge bouquets of Carpinteria flowers, were won by the following visiting ladies upon their entering the building: Mrs. Charles Phillips, Mrs. C. J. Taylor and Mrs. Fred Houk of Ojai, Mrs. M. J. Haider, Mrs. Thomas White and Mrs. Hubert Martin of Santa Barbara.

Following the barbecue dinner, which was held in the large reception hall of the club building, the following program was enjoyed:

Singing—by the Assembly, led by Nick Carter, in the absence of Frank Smith; Accordion solo—by Miss Schmidt, of Downey; Xylophone solo—by Miss Sybil Baker, accompanied by Miss Morse.

"All at Sea," one-act comedy enacted by Isabel Rice, Phil Mills, Harry Betts and Oliver Prickett.

Dancing from 9 until midnight terminated a highly successful evening.

Following were the chairmen of the various committees: barbecue, Percy Houts; entertainment, Chaslie Batsch, Fred Greenough, E. Solari, and Frank Smith; dance, Myron Robertson.

All told, about fifty from Ojai and ten from Santa Barbara were present, making, with the Carpinterians who attended, a total number of about 110.

BRALEY REPLACES VAN BENTHUSEN ON POSTAL STAFF

Appointment Received From Postmaster General

Word was received Wednesday of the appointment of Edward Bailey to succeed Van Benthusem on the local post office force. The appointment is effective on September 10.

For the past four years Van Benthusem has met all trains bringing Carpinteria mail, despatching the outgoing and carrying the incoming mail to the post office.

Braley's appointment comes from the office of Post-master General Farley at Washington D. C.

Van Benthusem's plans for the future are undecided, he stated yesterday.

"I've been on the job every day for four years," he said "and haven't had a chance to see much of anything but Carpinteria valley. I expect to see some of the rest of the state before making any permanent plans."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lintz and family arrived home last evening after a motor trip that included Yellowstone, Glacier National Park, and the Pacific northwest.

Woman's Club Plans Luncheon Thursday

A pot luck luncheon, proceeds of which are to go to the building fund of the Woman's Club will be given by that organization Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Percy Houts on Star Pine Road.

Other features will include a cake sale and entertainment. All Woman's Club members are urged to attend and to bring guests.

The charge will be twenty-five cents.

THE WATER SITUATION

"WE never miss the water 'til the well runs dry." It's an old saying, and applies very literally to the local water situation.

The "well went dry" last week, and residents in some parts of town had a taste of what the future holds in store, if the predictions of hydraulic engineers, forestry officials and water experts are to be believed.

Those who have made a serious study of the valley's potential water supply are almost unanimous in declaring that within a few years a water shortage will be the biggest problem Carpinteria will be called upon to face.

Many of us can remember when artesian wells were not uncommon in the valley. For scores of years Nature had stored up water in the subterranean pools. Each winter's rains raised the underground reservoir, and the supply was scarcely touched by the few homes that composed what was then a scattered settlement.

But recent years have seen many changes. Lemon acreage has doubled, tripled and quadrupled, replacing crops that required little or no irrigation. More and more people have come here to live, built homes and planted gardens and lawns. To precipitate the condition, this part of the state has experienced a number of dry years. Because of all these things the water level has dropped rapidly, and, according to consulting engineers, the danger looms of an absolute depletion of the supply. The last of the artesian wells went dry years ago. Drillers have been forced to go deeper each year to strike water. Shallow wells have dried up. And all this time more and more wells were sunk to tap the diminishing supply.

Water company officials state frankly that the drilling of a third well supplement the two now supplying the town, will only prolong the eventual crisis. Consumers are asked to cooperate and to use as little water as possible until something can be done to assure an adequate supply.

Several solutions have been suggested, ranging from the erection of a reservoir in the hinterland to the building of a water tunnel through the first mountain range. Aside from the vast expense entailed by most of these plans, engineers point out the uncertainty of the results. Any concerted action will require the formation of a water district. Any large scale undertaking would necessitate the floating of a bond issue.

The general lack of concern felt by Carpinterians was evidenced by a comparatively small attendance at a public assembly called in June for the express purpose of discussing the water situation. At that meeting the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of five valley residents to investigate ways and means of avoiding a water shortage. The committee was appointed on the first week in July. They have held no meetings to this date, and one member has resigned. Each member appointed has in the past been identified with some phase of civic life or development of the valley. Their attitude in this case is merely a reflection of the general indifference on the part of a community that has not yet awakened to the imminent danger of the situation.

Ranchers who now have wells which show no signs of weakening cannot be expected to be vitally concerned over conditions threatening the town proper. Townspeople are faced with the added danger of salt water filtering in and ruining their water supply.

Some have voiced the opinion that a wet cycle of winters would restore the failing supply and do away with the impending shortage. Experts refute such statements, saying that the supply which is now nearly depleted took years to accumulate, and only was formed then because it was not being constantly tapped. Obviously, they maintain, a few wet years cannot compensate for the ever-increasing drain on the supply.

Recently a new and deeper strata was tapped when J. R. Fithian struck water at a depth of 4000 feet, in the abandoned Shell oil drilling site on his property.

Analysis showed the water to contain borein, a chemical said to render it unfit for citrus irrigation, but not injurious for other general irrigation purposes.

Perhaps the valley's future water supply will be found at some such depth. But, as experts have pointed out, such things as water shortages can scarcely be dealt with by waiting until they occur. They usually do not happen until it is too late to do anything about it.

If a fire of any proportions were to start tomorrow nothing could be done but to allow it to burn itself out.

It is hoped that it will not require any such drastic stimulus to arouse the townspeople to assure themselves and their homes against such an ever-present possibility.

Unless Carpinterians take enough interest in the situation to investigate and do something about it, this community may wake up some morning to face the most serious situation in its history—an exhausted water supply.

Greenough - Biltmore Band at Arlington

Heather Angel, beautiful newcomer to the American motion picture screen, has her first important role in "Pilgrimage," the new Fox drama.

Saturday, August 26 will see the farewell performances of "Life in the Raw," thrilling Zane Grey Western drama starring George O'Brien which is seen with a huge stage show headlined by the original doubles of Laurel and Hardy.

Included in the stage offering are the Foster Triplets, harmony trio and genuine triplets, Elmore and Sims, blackface comedians who present a cannibal island act, Joe Jackson, Jr., pantomimist and bicyclist, and the Galene Sisters, dancers supreme.

Frank Greenough and his Biltmore gang are on hand to furnish accompaniment for the show and in a specialty of their own.

Theatrical history will be written Sunday, August 27, when the long heralded "Pilgrimage," Fox film's super spectacle starring Henrietta Crosman comes to the Arlington for a four day run. Heather Angel, Norman Foster and Marian Nixon are featured in the epic of mother love. "Pilgrimage" plays with a special radio star show called Economy Gasoline's Laff Clinic from station KHJ, which includes eight big radio acts of favorite ether stars.

Starting Thursday, August 31, "Best of Enemies" will be the principal attraction. "Best of Enemies" in cludes an all-star cast headed by Buddy Rogers, Marian Nixon, Joseph Cawthorn, Frank Morgan and Greta Nissen.

In addition to the delightful comedy drama, a new and greater vaudeville stage presentation will be offered, with a number of big time stage acts featured, in addition to Frank Greenough and his outfit who will furnish the accompaniment.

Last Sunday Mr. David J. Reese spoke on "Rebuilders." He said that we were ready, and rightly, to give praise to the builders and pioneers. But we are now in a time of rebuilding. What shall we say of them?

He made it plain that old things had passed away, but all things had not become new yet. That is the task of the Rebuilders. We have no virgin forests before us; no more open land to enter. It is our task to clear away a lot of debris, and out of used material to build for the future.

METHODIST SOCIETY MEETING HEARS L A DISTRICT SPEAKERS

Confusion Over Date Cuts Attendance Down

Songs, speakers and devotional services marked the group district meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, Wednesday.

Out of town visitors were present, as well as several members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Community church.

Luncheon was served in the Methodist church annex at 12:30, followed by an interesting program in the auditorium. Singing and devotional services were conducted by Rev. Horace Hay of Hollywood, who made a timely and helpful talk on faith in prayer. Mrs. Alta Clark and Mrs. George Clark, Jr. sang a duet.

Mrs. Horace Hay, District Superintendent of the Young People's Department gave an instructive address respecting the work of her department and of the general work of the society. Dr. Moore spoke in appreciation of the missionary work and of what had been said by the speakers.

About twenty-five were present, the attendance from out of town falling below expectations because of a misunderstanding concerning a change in the date of the meeting. Because of this the program could not be carried out in full as had been planned.

Masons and their wives were guests of the Order of Eastern Star following the regular meeting Tuesday evening.

A program, including two vocal trios by the Misses Grace, Jean and Mary Shorkley; piano solos by Miss Ruth Rizor, Santa Barbara, and a one-act play, enacted by members of the order. Refreshments were served following the program.

Those who were present included: Rev. and Mrs. Leon Kirkes, Mrs. Charles Verner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Senteney, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lewis, Miss Margaret Lewis, Miss Clarabel Lewis, Mrs. Arthur Clark, Mrs. Nelson, Earl Southworth, Mr. and Mrs. Mads Christensen, Earl Chaffee, and Dr. T. M. Shorkley of Carpinteria. Fifteen Santa Barbara Masons and Daughters of the Eastern Star also enjoyed the evening.

Mrs. Frank Wymond entertained the Girl Mariners and their friends with a treasure hunt on Monday evening. Routes taken during the hunt covered the territory between Foothill Boulevard, Toro Canyon and Highway 101. There was much fun and excitement in the race to finish. Prizes went to Marjorie Robertson, Lowell McCubrey, Barbara Houts and Walton Kendricks. Others who took part were Martha Hoffman, Barbara Demaree, Saralee and Mary Margaret Winters, Frances Morris, Frances Senteney, Ruth Rose, Frances Urwin, Rowena Kirkwood, Shirley Wilson, Margaret Bell, Margaret Rodriguez, Catherine McHardy, Arlene Thurmond, Leona McCubrey, June Coles, Louise Senteney and Ellen Hogle, Neil Furby, John Rodriguez, Bruce Rose, Bob Slicton, Bud Vail, Tommy House, Marcus Cravens, Edward Pqwell, Fred Bates, Bob Maxfield, Bob Bowen, Howard Higgens and Billy Lambert.

Mrs. Henry Sturmer entertained her Sunday school class Thursday evening with a weiner roast at the beach. Children who enjoyed the picnic included Martha Thurmond, Thelma Bauhaus, Lois Grell, Ethel Senteney, Maurine Fine, Merle Robbins, Carol Dane and Carolyn Andrews.

Miss Jenny Maxfield entertained with a family picnic supper Wednesday evening in honor of her guests, Miss Clara Maxfield and Mrs. Nora Maxfield. Relatives present were: Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Don Maxfield, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hendy, M. and Mrs. Henry Sturmer and Miss Jenny Maxfield.

Mrs. Harold Cadwell and children had as luncheon guests on Tuesday Mrs. Pearl Williamson, Richard Houts Coralyn Cadwell and Harriet Kirkland.

Ladies of the Community church will hold a cooked food sale Wednesday, beginning at 11 A. M. on the lawn of the Charles Curtis home.

Members of the Girl Mariners will entertain their friends at a formal tomorrow night at the high school auditorium. The committee for the affair is composed of the older members of the organization. Kerrey's orchestra of Santa Barbara will provide the music. Dancing will begin at 9 p. m.

Miss Virginia Bailard is entertaining with a week-end house party for a group of friends from Los Angeles. Riding trips and beach parties have been planned as part of the entertainment for the guests.

The Girl Scout group which is studying sea life under the leadership of Mrs. Donald Andrews, spent Wednesday at Rincon beach. Many interesting specimens were collected and described in the girl's note books. Miss Lua Thurmond, assisted Mrs. Andrews with the work. Members of the scout group are: Clair Thurmond, Carolyn Andrews, Beverly Humphreys, Marjorie Cadwell, Pheobe Bowen, Jacque Bailard, Laura Stewart, and Nancy Franklin.

Carp. vs. Y.M.I. as 2nd Half of League Starts

Carp's pill-pasters round the corner and start the last half of their league schedule Sunday when they take on the Y. M. I. s, who copped first place in the half season just concluded.

Winners of the second set of 7 games will play it off with the Y. M. I. s for the Whitmer Oil Trophy.

The locals finished the first lap in fifth place, having let several games slip through their fingers, just when everything seemed to be in the bag.

The new schedule, adopted at a meeting of team managers Tuesday evening, gives Carpinteria five of the six games on its home field. Following is the tentative set-up.

August 27—Y. M. I. at Carpinteria; September 3—Cubs at Carpinteria; September 10—Bye; September 17—Elwood Oilers at Carpinteria; September 24—Carpinteria at Goleta; October 1—Santa Barbara Athletic Club at Carpinteria; October 8—Unemployed at Carpinteria.

Manager Stemper announced last night that Sunday's battery will be composed of Sanchez and Granada.

"The line-up will be intact for the last half of the season," he added. "The boys are confident of finishing this lap in the first division. We are not alibi-ing, but the box scores show we've had some tough breaks in our last few games. There's no reason why we shouldn't have as good a chance as any of the other teams for the cup play-off."

Cricketeers Hope To Organize Oxnard Club

Vic Stubbs will travel south with the Montecito Cricket Club's team Sunday when that organization meets the Pasadena club in a match to be played on the high school grounds at Oxnard.

The game was scheduled to be played at Pasadena, but has been changed to Oxnard for the purpose of stimulating interest in the sport there, in the hope of effecting an Oxnard cricket club.

Besides Vic, other notables in the line-up include C. Aubrey Smith, cinema celebrity and veteran cricketer, and George ("Squirt") Greenough, the Occidental flash, who has a long list of bruised shins to his credit since taking up Johnny Bull's national game.

The match will start at 11 a. m.

Jean Bailard Plays In Biltmore Tourney

Jean Bailard was eliminated Wednesday from the Biltmore Junior Invitational Tennis Tournament when she was defeated by Jean McDougall of Santa Barbara in the girl's singles.

In the mixed doubles P. Merwin and N. Burt defeated Jeano and her partner, M. Cores, after three hard sets, the scores running 7-3, 6-1, 6-3.

Sam Opens the Show In Ventura Tonight

Sammy Nicholas, erstwhile paramount porter and Carpinteria's bid for pugilistic honors, will again be on exhibition tonight at the Ventura Athletic Club's weekly fracas when he meets Danny Maruffo, in the opening bout of what promises to be a hefty program.

It will be Sam's fourth professional appearance in the southern city, where he is popular with the fight fans because he always tries and occasionally connects. He connected so often in his last fight, just a month ago, that the referee awarded him the decision by a technical knockout in the second round of the curtain raiser.

Since that time Sam has practised consistently, extended his road work and made one trip to Los Angeles where he took on some expert sparring partners.

"Those Los Angeles boys ain't playin' when they spar," Sam grinned upon his return. "After goin' a few rounds with some of those Main street pugilists, I think I can show some improvement in this fight."

Two New Members On H. S. Faculty

Two new faces will be seen in the high school faculty when school opens next month.

Announcement was made this week that Miss Dorothy Pray, of Columbia University, will teach Home Economics. Mr. Leonard Wilson of Long Beach will have charge of the commercial department, replacing Miss Knox, who secured a leave of absence because of poor health.

Mills Leases Station

The service station and lubrication rack at Pine Haven Auto Court will re-open this morning under the management of Phil Mills, who has long been identified with the service station business in Carpinteria.

Mills states that he intends to specialize in lubrication and car polishing and that he will carry a complete line of "General" gasolines and "Socony" lubricants.

Applications For Land Bank Loans On Farms Pour In

into use in the 11th District on August 20.

The new joint application blank provides that a farmer may make one application for a loan and if he qualifies for a Land Bank Loan it will be made from that source. If part of the Loan can be made by the Land Bank and part from the Land Bank Commissioner's fund, the borrower will get two loans for the total amount applied for if that amount does not exceed 75 percent of the normal value of his farm as determined by a Land Bank appraiser. He will be notified of the amount which can be loaned on the security which he offers and if the amount is less than the amount applied for he may be able to compose his debts by getting his creditors to scale them down and accomplish his refinancing upon a basis that should assure his ultimate success.

This plan of combining consideration of applications should have a beneficial effect in conserving funds of the Land Bank Commissioner for use in making loans in cases where applicant is eligible for relief that cannot be offered under the regulations of Land Banks.

Mr. Woolf points out that he does not make loans on undeveloped land or for the purpose of buying land or establishing new agricultural ventures. He and the reviewing committee, as well as the appraiser, keep in mind the fact that the collateral offered for a loan should be a farm unit large enough to provide a living for the family and at the same time discharge the loan obligation and pay the taxes, insurance and other carrying charges.

A substantial amount of loans has been closed by Agents of the Land Bank Commissioner and the amount of weekly closing will be materially increased as the large force of newly trained appraisers get into the field. The equipping of the large group of new men for this work has been a tremendous task and has taken some time; however, the results will soon be apparent.

Smoke From Mountain Fire Shrouds Sun Here

Although over sixty miles distant, smoke from the forest fire that is raging on Pine Mountain, north of Santa Barbara, lent a copper tint to the sky over Carpinteria yesterday.

More than 6500 acres have already been burned by the fire, which is out of control on the east side of the mountain, and is threatening the regions near Madulce creek and the Strawberry Peak area, all good deer country and well known to local hunters.

No settled section is said to be threatened by the flames, which are being fought by 750 men, who are to be reinforced by at least 50 men and additional fire fighting equipment from C. C. C. camps during the course of the next few days.
