Junior High Group Visit Carpinteria

J. M. Hawley, Principal and Former Student, Welcomes Forty-Five Visitors

SENIORS ESCORT

New Plan Avoids Confusion in Elementary and Junior High School Grades

Miss Elsie Pond, head of the junior high department, and 45 members of the junior high introduction to teaching and elementary education classes visited the Carpinteria school system last Friday.

J. M. Hawley, a graduate from Santa Barbara State college and principal of the Carpinteria high school, welcomed the group and explained the system used in the institution. Mr. Hawley said, "In this school we have 12 teachers for 200 students. This assures sufficient individual attention. We have eliminated all home work, but each student attends six classes a day in which all work is carefully supervised. This system, although comparatively new, has been very successful."

Welcoming Committee

Ten seniors, who formed a welcoming committee, escorted the visitors from the State college through all the different departments. Later, the Staters were met by Mr. Harry Lintz, principal of the elementary school, who showed them through the junior high school. Mr. Lintz, who believes that children of elementary and junior high school ages are confused by attending different classes has devised a system whereby the students have only one class a day with the same teacher. There they work on a project which includes all the academic studies.

Visits Are Valuable

In commenting on the trip, Miss Pond stated that such visits are of value to the students from an educational point and that she hopes to make more trips in the future.

Eminent Japanese Talks to Special Student Assembly

Using Japanese wood-blocks and prints as his subject, Mr. Sogo Matsumoto, eminent art authority of Tokio, will give an illustrated lecture before the student body at a special assembly to be held Wednesday morning at 10:45 in the auditorium under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mary E. T. Crosswell and the art department.

Mr. Matsumoto is giving a series of lectures at art museums and schools in California prior to a visit to New York. He is speaking at U.C.L.A. today. The artist has been to the United States several times lecturing and selling his work. Last year he organized and guided a group of American artists in a tour of the Orient where they studied much of the work that will be shown in the meeting tomorrow.

Big Hamburger Gives Publicity to School

Publicity in 40 newspapers throughout the United States has been accorded the Santa Barbara State college through a Santa Barbara Associate syndicated picture of a huge hamburger being presented to seven State college cubs by Bill Broome of Broome's Hamburger shop in recognition of State's successful football season.

The sandwich, believed to be the world's largest hamburger, was made of an 11½ pound bun, 65 pounds of ground steak, 13 pounds of cheese, one-half gallon of mayonnaise, three quarts of sauce, two pounds of salt, one-half pound of pepper and eight heads of lettuce.

Seniors Stage Last Meeting Before Finals

Selection of Class Gift To Be Discussed; Group Selects New Committees

Mrs. Jane Abraham Instructs Graduates as to Proper Last Week Conduct

Meeting Wednesday morning January 15, members of the State college senior class will hold their last breakfast of the school semester. The meeting will start at seven o'clock and is to be held in the college cafeteria.

"It is urged that all seniors who are unable to attend the breakfast should attend the business meeting at 7:30, immediately following the breakfast as we have some very important business to bring before the group," said President "Goldy" Goldsmith. Among the subjects to be discussed are the selection of a class gift and the appointing of new committees.

Mary Ida DeMotte, chairman of the announcement committee, will name three members to work with her in preparing the announcements.

Instructions to the February graduates as to the correct procedure to follow during the final weeks will be given by Mrs. Jane Abraham, registrar. June graduates will also be given instructions and blanks to fill out.

An assessment of 25 cents will be made of those attending the affair. Paul Woods is in charge of the ticket sales and tickets may be obtained from Lois Jo McPheeters, Bun O'Reilly, Dorothy Clark, Marjorie Willis, "Goldy" Goldsmith, Joe Nightingale, Garlyn Basham, Bettie Walker and Shirley Warner.

GARDEN COURSE GAINS COLLEGE NATIONAL NOTE

Describing the new garden course of the Santa Barbara State college, an article under the title, "New Courses for New Demands" is presented in the "Industrial Education Magazine," a publication put out by Manual Arts Press of Peoria, Illinois.

In addition to the two year course in garden planning and landscape architecture, it lists the degree course in technical education discussing the subjects given and the units required in both shop and academic courses. Other short unit courses planned on the two-year basis, such as printing, machine shop, welding, automotive, motion picture machinery and electricity were mentioned.

TESTS COMMENCE ON JANUARY 24TH

Final examinations will commence Friday, January 24, and continue through Thursday, January 30. All examinations will be one hour in length except some laboratory courses which will have three hour finals. The schedule for the hours of examination have been compiled by Miss Hazel Severy and is now posted in the main hall of the administration building.

Registration for old students will be held February 3, and classes will begin February 4.

Librarian Wins Prize in Recent Contest

Miss Katharine Ball, librarian, recently won a five dollar merchandise prize in a contest conducted by the Associated Oil company, for an article on "My Home Town."

In her article she described the Mission, El Paseo, the Blakesley gardens and the State college campus.

STATEMENTS by the "POWERS THAT BE"

"All February, '36, seniors please see me immediately about filling out the required forms for graduation!" — Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar.

Appointments for senior pictures must be kept on time. Other pictures may not be used owing to a lack of uniformity. The charge is $1.00 for four sittings.— Jean Kandjounseff, Photograph Editor of La Cumbre.

All students intending to take anatomy for nurse's training course please see Miss Severy sometime before Friday, January 17, either in her office or in her class room.

Keating Speaks for Men's Club

Denning McArthur Arranges for Delinquency and Narcotics Talk

Sergeant Thomas Keating, juvenile delinquency officer of the Santa Barbara police force, spoke this morning on "Juvenile Delinquency and Narcotics" before the men's club in their final meeting of the semester. Sergeant Keating's address, which included local examples with which he has dealt, was well received and conceded to be the most interesting and beneficial to be arranged by Denny McArthur, men's club president.

Announcement of the sale of tickets to Shakespearean plays at the high school at student rates was made by Mrs. Byron Abraham, registrar. Mert Miller, social chairman of the club reported that plans for a barn dance were in the making. A plea for cooperation in making the best use of available parking space was voiced by Alistair Anderson, representing the Sophomore Squires. Mention of the progress of the intramural sports completed announcements preceding Keating's talk.

PROCESSING TAXES RETURNED

That $200,000,000 of processing taxes impounded by the courts must be returned to the taxpayers was the chief decision handed down by the Supreme Court yesterday. No provision was made whether or not processors had to prove that they had not passed the tax on to consumers before they could recover. This was one of the big points in the consideration. This decision had no direct relation to the suits filed by processors to recover one billion dollars of taxes already disbursed under the banished AAA.

1935's DEATH TOLL
If a gigantic fleet of automobiles sped through Wyoming, Utah and Nevada, injuring every human being; and if the cars then drove back and forth through Santa Fe and Albuquerque, N. M., until they had killed all the inhabitants—the result would be just about equal to 1935's toll of traffic accidents. This conclusion was reached by the National Safety Council after compiling accidents figures for the past year.

NAVAL CONFERENCE

A news bulletin from London yesterday announced that the next formal session of the five-power naval conference, scheduled for today after one postponement, was again postponed with no tentative date set. Meanwhile in the limitations negotiations, a Japanese spokesman with instructions from an emergency meeting of the Japanese cabinet said that if the de-

State College Gives Seminar in Education

Contemporary Philosophies of Education Is Subject of Graduate Seminar

Dr. Flaud C. Wooton Gives Lectures in Local Public Library

The graduate school of Claremont colleges has established a standard graduate seminar in "Contemporary Philosophies of Education" at Santa Barbara State college commencing January 14.

Introduction and organization will be completed tonight at 7:00 o'clock in the main lecture room of the Santa Barbara public library on the corner of Anapamu and Anacapa streets. Dr. Flaud C. Wooton, acting professor in the Graduate School of Claremont Colleges, is to be the instructor for the course. Dr. Wooton will be available for conferences regarding the seminar or other matters from 3 to 5 p. m. at the office of President Clarence L. Phelps this afternoon. Registration for the seminar may be made at that time or following the evening meeting.

In response to many requests during recent years, Claremont Colleges has selected Santa Barbara as a center for graduate work. Although not committed to a continuation of such study, it is anticipated that the demand will be sufficient to warrant substantial continued offerings of a graduate nature. It has been the policy of Claremont Colleges to meet such demands for service.

ATHLETIC MEET HELD ON STATE CAMPUS MAY 30

Coaches and managers of the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic conference will meet in Santa Barbara for the annual spring meeting the week end of May 30. Coach Hal Davis is president of the conference group this year, and Theodore Broadhead of Occidental college is secretary.

This conference meeting usually takes place in either Santa Barbara or San Diego and is an annual occasion. At this meeting the officers for next year's conference will be chosen, and the members will discuss plans and details for football as it will be played during the 1936 season.

The conference will also select and approve new track and swimming records thus formally acknowledging the breaking of many of last year's records.

TWO SHOPS MAKE PARKING SIGNS

Through the cooperation of advanced classes in the tin shop and the print shop, metal "No Parking" signs are being constructed to replace the cardboard signs now in use. According to Tommy Merrill, chairman of the Welfare Committee, 25 "no parking" signs are to be made to be distributed about the campus driveways. Ten "faculty parking" signs are also being constructed.

These signs will probably not be ready to be put up until the end of the semester as they are being turned out during the spare time of the students.

Newman Club Plans Officers' Election

At a meeting of the Newman Club of Santa Barbara next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Junipero Serra hall, plans for electing the officers for the coming year will be discussed and some time will be given over to a further discussion of the feasibility of joining the National Newman club.

Gauchos! Your Cooperation

Do the merchants of Santa Barbara consider their advertising in El Gaucho as gifts and donations? Yes, we're afraid that they do. Why does this illusion exist? Primarily because the Associated Students of Santa Barbara State college are not making use of a powerful weapon which they possess—the power of suggestion. The mere saying of "I'm from the State college" or "We're from El Gaucho campus" or any other phrase passed, as you make a purchase, lets the downtown store owners know that there is a value in the advertising which they buy in the columns of El Gaucho.

Santa Barbara State in possessing a semi-weekly publication ranks second to none in the Southern California Conference school newspapers. Pomona college with its "Daily Student Life" is the leading newspaper in the Southland's four year colleges as they publish every day but Sunday and Monday. The daily edition is the goal of every aspiring college.

To maintain a collegiate publication which is successful, one of two sources of income are essential: that derived from advertising or from student body appropriation. Finances obtained from a combination of the two are used in the majority of the institutions for meeting the journalistic expenses, but El Gaucho is dependent solely on its advertisers. For this reason it is paramount that the local merchants of Santa Barbara be made to realize the selling value of their advertisements in El Gaucho.

Last year it was conservatively estimated that the students and faculty spent 383,000 dollars a year. This year such an estimate has not been plotted, but with the high increase in enrollment and the numerous conventions and other activities that attract visitors to Santa Barbara, a large amount of business is transacted between the students, faculty and the local merchants each year.

The Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce considers the State college as one of the city's leading industries. So it is. Any group of busy, hard working people, who bring in and spend as much money as Santa Barbara State does, is a thriving industry.

So, fellow students, let it be known that you are a part of the Santa Barbara State college as you patronize El Gaucho advertisers, and at the same time you will guarantee the continuance of El Gaucho as a semi-weekly newspaper. Let them know that it pays to advertise in a college newspaper, especially in the leading journal of the southern conference.

Otto Klemperer

Conducting the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra in its concert at the Granada theater tonight will be Otto Klemperer, physical and intellectual giant of the symphonic world. The famous leader, who towers close to six feet 6 inches in height, is a German Jew.

During the anti-Semitic outbursts in his native land, Klemperer was banished and has subsequently made his home in the United States and intends to become a citizen. He is described as one of the most modest of conductors, although he is extremely emotional in his work and waves his arms wildly, quite dominating both his audience and the musicians.—B.H.

Writing Shows Propensities

Science of Graphology Disconcerting to Scribblers

If you believe in graphology, mind your p's and q's. And if you don't, take our sage advice and mind them anyway. The graphologist can analyze your writing and tell whether you are happy or sad, smart or dumb, aggressive or retiring, honest or crooked, and a lot of things you might never have suspected. (At least he thinks he can, and even if it isn't so, you probably wouldn't want him to be thinking you were a genius or an artist or a banker.)

You're incredulous? Imagine a note written in letters an inch high, spaced three inches between lines, with wide margins and extended words. Would anyone but a wide-open spender have spread himself out so much, even on YMCA stationery?

Lines Run Together

Would you expect lines spaced very close and running together to represent the thoughts of a clear and orderly mind, or very high capital letters to occur in the writing of a shrinking violet, and low initials in the writing of an egomaniac?

The graphologist holds these truths to be self-evident, because of their very obvious derivation. But he cannot explain all his criteria in that way. He cannot show logically why stencil-writing — a's and o's left open at the base—should betray hypocrisy, or why compressed letters should indicate reserve, and extended letters, friendliness. He is obliged to fall back on the results of extensive observations to corroborate his data.

Slope—Slant—Shape

Besides these factors in handwriting, the graphologist takes into consideration the slope of the line, the slant, size, shape and form of the letters, the width and inclination of the margins, and the final stroke of the word.

He claims great accuracy for his established principles, but some scientists (particularly handwriting experts) hold that many of his claims are extravagant and unwarranted.

In view of the questionable status of the science, the reader is advised to satisfy his doubts as we did ours, by having his own writing analyzed. If his verdict is as flattering as ours, graphology will find another apologist.

STUDENT'S BLOWOFF

TEAM, LOCKERS, FINES

Dear Editor:

I agree with the letter written by "A Femme" in the paper last week about attendance at the basketball games. Where is the spirit in this school especially among the girls? We need to support the basketball team as much as we support the football team. We showed that we could during the football season. Why can't we now?

The new gym lockers are certainly an improvement. The whole school has spruced up so much this year that it looks like a college now. Registration is no longer an ordeal to go through every semester; we can now look forward to it with something like pleasure. This is off the subject, but why are the library fines so high?

Sincerely yours—A.Z.

Dogmatic

By UNCLE HENRY

Hecko, folks, hecko! The reform movement marches on.

Satirical remarks by Dr. Ellison about CRACKED gasoline reminded us that the cracking process was invented about ten years ago, long before we heard about it over the radio. The object is to use a greater proportion of the crude-petroleum for gasoline, since the natural product usually contains more of the heavy and complex molecules than are usable.

These unwieldy molecules like fuel oil and lubricating oil are distilled under 750 pounds pressure, near 1000 degrees C. Conveniently they break down, give up some of their carbon, and form a volatile liquid, which is quite high in "anti-knock" value. So it's not bunk at all, EXCEPT that practically every producer of first-grade gas now uses the patented process.

Digging in our mothball heap, we resurrected the abacus song, "I'm Counting on You." You WOULD NOT know what an abacus is, but you'll look it up before we tell you.

Memo to our "Hm" department: Cincinnati completes the 10th year under the city manager plan thousands of shekels in the black. Hm!

Driving a truck loaded with explosives was the entertaining pastime of DICK CHATTEN. "Pinkie" worked for the Geophysical Research Corporation or something in Texas a couple of summers ago. But the blasting gelatin he chauffeured was really quite tame, Dick insists. The stuff is about 90 percent nitroglycerine, but the only time it ever gave him a headache was when he touched it.

Probably everyone knows that DICK HORNBECK drove an ambulance, but there's no harm in repeating. Tuxedo is also a crack shot with a pistol, he says.

ROUND and SQUARE are synonyms. Both share the meaning of "just" or "honorable." That explains how a guy who hangs around a lot can still be on the square.

"The Isle of Capri" and "Red Sails in the Sunset" were introduced from England. There's a powerful argument for national isolation.

She calls him sugar plum, because he sounds kinda dumb.

Bare facts: The world's record rainfall occurred in the hills of eastern India in 1861 when 905 inches (or 75 feet) fell, most of it in five months. San Diego county holds the record for the heaviest cloudburst in America. At Campo, in 1891, 11.50 inches of rain dropped in 80 minutes. Now who insists that facts are always dry?

So he calls her hypodermic injection, because she gets under his skin.

Hate of the week: Smooth-troweled sidewalks on a hill, a coating of fine dust, a light misty rain, and us in our rubber-soled shoes. Our first half hour on roller skates was nothing.

RUGBY INEXPENSIVE

A rugby player can be equipped for about $3.50, Dickinson said, in contrast to the $75.00 necessary to correctly equip a football man.

Termites, Brutally Evicted From Logs, Threat to Students

Termites are pretty much okay, in the right environment. All they ask is a comfortable berth in any old piece of wood, a warm summer's day, a pair of bedroom slippers, and a two tube radio playing. "The Music Goes Down and Around." But a termite is a beast when it is aroused.

Attracted by a cracking, splintering sound in front of the Zoo lab, I ambled over to find the boys liberating and spearing the minute specimens by the dozens. They were playing a little game called, "Catch as Catch Can," or, "Busby, Don't Lean Too Far Over Those Beauties—It's Easy for Them to Make a Mistake."

All Workers

In all the rotten logs there seemed to be a definite lack of Bull-In-The Woodses, or Queen "Terms." But the common peepul, "workers" to you ignorant, strayed steadily around the ruins of their homes, thumbing their respective noses at Twaddell, who continued spiking dirt-bugs, irrespective of their actions.

It wasn't until Gilkerson commenced to sweep up the remains that they put their heads together in a council of a war. Termite One's suggestion that they give-it-to-em was rejected, and upon a sudden motion from the floor, decided to remain at State. I quote, "After due consideration we have decided to stay and look over prospects and material—or, in other words, continue with our wood-work," signed, chairman, Termite Council, who was looking maliciously after the retreating figures of Mickey and Erbes.

As for You

I was lost in reverie, when the T.I. spoke scoffingly, "As for you—" but by that time I was slyly sidling away, before they started "considering prospects" again. And, when, in history section, any Gaucho starts scratching his head, it's still all right. That indicates perplexity. But if a slight shower of sawdust follows, it's bad. That indicates termites. And don't say I didn't warn yuh!

"THE AMATEUR GENTLEMAN"

Serialized dramatizations on the air have become extremely popular this season. Now we find the talented Britisher, Leslie Howard carrying on Sunday nights over C. B.S. in just that type of program. The broadcast is entitled, "The Amateur Gentleman" and is one half hour in length. Howard has selected as excellent supporting cast to complete the program.

WOOLCOTT CENSORED

Alexander Woolcott concluded his C.B.S. series because he and his sponsor disagreed about what liberties he should take in his remarks. He probably will be back on the air before long, since as a comparative newcomer, he enjoyed a tremendous following.

By FRANCIS BECCHIO

Deadline flash—The jayvees lost another last night. But all is not as it seems, the game ended 26 to 25 in favor of the C.C.C. forces. The baby varsity men must have been worried no little over the outcome for they might have won and that would have ruined their record. From all appearances, it looks as if Lee, Hoyt, Follett, Lebeck, Dunham, Sloan, and the rest of the boys are gunning for that Knox college record of some 29 straight defeats. You've got to give them credit though, they at least think the big game with the varsity February 18 will be a cinch victory. In the words of one J. V. luminary, "We're pointing for the varsity game, so how can we open up our bag of tricks now." Civil war looms!

Really shouldn't let this opportunity pass to congratulate the students of Chapman college who attended last Friday night's basketball game between the Gauchos and the southerners. Over 50 strong, the Chapmanites engendered enough vocal energy to satisfy the requirements of any outdoor rooting section. And to top it all off, the southern rooters remained in their seats following the victory of their hoopsters to render a school song. And we wonder why the court battle was so one-sided. Half the game was won in the stands.

If only we could say the same for the State students. But that's the way it goes. No one can explain the lack of support on the part of the student body for basketball. It surely isn't a financial reason. Perhaps everyone is waiting for the conference slate to begin. Perhaps that's the reason and perhaps it's not the reason. We certainly hope it is and that a large group of students turns out for the first home league tilt a week from Friday and Saturday, when Coach Davis sends his five against the Oxy Tigers.

What's happened to the rally committee? How about figuring out ways and means to add a little color to the casaba frays. The opportunities are numerous, why not take advantage of them? An attempt is better than no action at all.

A recent article which appeared in the columns of the sport page of the Los Angeles Times gives due credit to one of State's athletic teams. In this writer's recollection it's the first time a southern scribe has acknowledged the merits of a Gaucho squad without limitation.

The Times article, which contained a comprehensive summary of the spring schedule of the Southern Conference schools, concluded with the following paragraph. "That's the spring schedule. Tab Redlands for basketball, San Diego for track, Santa Barbara for baseball, Redlands

Chapman Trips State Varsity in Fast Game

Los Angeles Casabamen Show Skill in Floorwork; Sherman High With 17 Digits

In a high scoring exhibition at the Armory last Friday evening the Chapman college quintet proved the victors over State 56-35.

Coach Wells' boys were hot and could not be denied. The score does not give the picture of the close game. The Gauchos were playing a fair brand of ball and at times have could have had the lead changed, but a young satellite named Tower for the visitors stood back on the center line and dropped in five buckets in five straight tries. Sherman, visiting center, copped high point honors sinking five field goals and five foul shots.

The hilltoppers got off to a nice start when Dave Rumbaugh dribbled half the length of the floor, and rang up two counts. This was shortlived, however, when Tower, Sherman, and Slater started to hit the bucket.

Charlie Hoffer led the State offense besides breaking up a lot of the southern boy's thrusts. "Skeeter" Voorhies looked great at the guard post until he was ejected from the game for too many fouls. Coach Davis moved Homan to the forward berth for the game and the former Santa Ana J. C. flash showed a liking for the position.

Headman Davis' youngsters were far off their shooting form and used six forwards to no avail as Hoffer was the only one who knew the direction of the bucket. The three Gaucho guards namely Rumbaugh, Erhart, and Voorhies scored fifteen points among them while the front rank including Bob Johnston accounted for 20 points.

Coach Wells of the visitors remarked after the game that he noticed a decided improvement in the play of the Riviera boys and said his casaba tossers gained their decision by playing way over their heads especially in the shooting department.

HOOP INTEREST HIGH

Interest in basketball in the Southern Conference reached a new high last season. From all indications the 1936 campaign will be an even greater attraction. Many spectators were turned away from the smaller gymnasiums and the larger pavilions were, on most occasions, filled to capacity for tennis, and Oxy for swimming." The writer goes on to say, "If two of the predictions come true it will produce a satisfying percentage."

Referring back to the basketball "titanic" of the year, this columnist looks for the Davismen to come out in the second half of the ball game and take the lead away from an inspired, but fast tiring Junior Varsity squad.

San Diego Trackmen Favored to Conquer Conference Schools

San Diego State is favored to win the Southern California track Conference in view of the fact their varsity has won the All Conference meet two years in succession, and their frosh has been victorious for the last two years in the same meet. With the loss of only three first place winners from last year's varsity San Diego is highly favored to win by leading coast sport critics.

Occidental, however, may spring a surprise upset, as they have a great deal of unknown material reporting for practice. They have six men, who are capable of running ten flat or better in the hundred yard dash, and according to Joe Pipal, Oxy mentor, they have a high jumper capable of soaring over six feet in the high jump.

Santa Barbara State may be listed next in line providing all the spike artists now attending school make the grades for the fall semester.

At the time of this writing a number of the boys are having pretty tough sledding in regards to their studies. However, there is some very good material in school. On the varsity there will be such outstanding stars as Virgil Hooper, Howard Yeager, the Crows, Joe Nightingale, Elwood Lindley, Rumbaugh, Woods, Trigueiro, Bowlus, and a number of last year's freshmen.

Providing the athletes come through with their studies State should have a successful track season regardless of the strength of the conference schools, as the State squad will be tough to beat in the conference dual meets.

FROSH LOSE TO MUSTANG SQUAD

Stretching their losing streak to three games the frosh hoopsters dropped a 34 to 18 decision to Cal-Poly Friday night in the Armory gym at 6:30.

The visiting squad proved to be a fast moving quintet ready to capitalize on any break. Their defense was very tight and kept the locals from getting in close to the basket. The Mustangs kept the frosh under control by keeping the ball for the greater part of the game.

The scoring power of Los Gauchos is definitely in a slump, with the exception of Clair Busby, who has been fairly consistent in hitting the loop. Busby scored 12 points to tie with E. Jauck of the Mustangs for high point honors, but of the five forwards that played three of them hit the loop for four points. The forwards seem to have possibilities as basketballers, but are concentrating too much on the basket for effective play.

Those who saw action for State were: Swatzburg, Fosdick, Coon Reynolds, Fujii, Busby, Erbs, Mickey, Gwinnett, and Hackleman.

Allred Arranges Tournament for Gaucho Teemen

After a lapse of two years in interscholastic golf competition, arrangements have been made to have an official State college golf team of four or six members during the coming semester. A schedule of eight tournaments has been drawn up in which Santa Barbara, San Diego and Occidental will participate.

The tournament lined up by Fred Allred, who is organizing the team, is as follows:

| Date | Schools | Place |
|----------|----------------------------|---|
| April 25 | Oxy vs. San Diego | S.D. |
| May 8 | Oxy vs. San Diego | Oxy |
| May 9 | S. Barbara vs. S.D. | S. Bar. |
| May 15 | S. B. vs. Oxy | Oxy |
| May 16 | S. Bar. vs. S. D. | S. D. |
| May 23 | All conference meet at Oxy | (Santa Barbara vs. Oxy date to be arranged) |

Those signing up will have the use of the Santa Barbara Golfers Association course in Montecito. Membership will be 50 cents each semester with a twenty-five cent green fee. Intramural golf competition will get underway as soon as the organization is complete. If there are enough players signed up there will be class tournaments. Those having all ready shown interest in the golf team are Pete Hathaway, Yale Lorden, Frank Voorhies and Fred Allred.

As the expenses for a golf team are the minimum, financial support will not be a large factor. According to Allred the team will keep their expenses as low as possible. All interested in competing for a place on the golf team are requested to see Fred Allred at the Controller's office.

Davismen Meet Santa Maria in Northern City

Hilltoppers Yet Unaccustomed to Scoring Points; Locals Will Use Two Squads

In preparation for their first conference battle with San Diego the State Varsity meets the Santa Maria J. C. in the northern city tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m.

The hilltoppers have been spending the major part of the week in getting their eyes attached to the bucket. There are several potential "deadeyes" on the squad who, as yet, have not reached anywhere near their capabilities in garnering the digits. Chief among them is Ian Crow who proved to be the best shot that ever performed on a local frosh team. Crow as yet is not enjoying this success on the varsity, but will undoubtedly reach form before long.

Coach Hal Davis has announced that he will use two full teams instead of the usual run of substitutes. In this way the casaba mentor will have two separate working units that will give added power.

The Staters will probably answer the whistle with Homan and Hoffer at the forward positions, Bobby Johnston at center, and Rumbaugh, Voorhies, or Erhart at the important guard posts. For Santa Maria French and Schilling, forwards, Barr and Burchard at the back positions and Funk at the pivot post will comprise the starting lineup.

This week is cited to show a marked increase in the efforts of all basketball players toward more perfect coordination and cooperation among several teams. The Frosh will play against the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors and vice-versa in mock battles. Scores will not be tallied, the object being to keep the contestants in good fighting form for the start of the big games next week.

An interview with several freshmen netters showed that they have great confidence in their teammates: Rosie Pagliotti and Joan McCormick are said to be doing "swimmingly" in the office of guarding while great expectations rest on the accurate "sinking" ability of such players as Irene Baptiste, Elizabeth Vincent, and Cecile Katz. Here's to you, Freshmen, "Let 'er buck."

There will be a quiz covering basketball rules this week so that girls who may not be too sure of what to do and when will have their errors straightened out before the tournament.

Any girls who are interested in being either a time-keeper or score keeper during the season please sign up on the bulletin board in the gym. Official opening of the tournament takes place with a Frosh-Senior clash on Monday, January 13th, during the tenth hour.

Although Tuesday is not scheduled for a tournament game, it is imperative that those girls taking sports for credit be present at the usual time as class will meet regardless!

What!—another depression? La Rue Steelsmith and Harriet Cooper have been seen "wangling buffalo heads" (nickels to you) from unsuspecting sportsters with the measly security of two minute withered apples per culprit.

We wondered whether this darling little enterprise was actually being sponsored, or looking ahead into the dim future, could it be for Christmas "Pin-Money?"

Statistics on Library Given

Following Flunks Maximum Attendance; Minimum Before Vacation

Compilation of library statistics released yesterday from President Clarence L. Phelps' office to El Gaucho by Mrs. J. W. Stewart, showed that flunk notices on the ninth week of the semester sent a maximum of 2589 students to the library during the following week, November 18 to 22. In contrast, the lightest week recorded, that of December 16-20, preceding Christmas vacation, only 2075 students made use of library facilities.

Monday was accredited with the highest daily average for the period between October 21 and December 9, with 531 in attendance. Figures for Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays were fairly constant at the 480 level, with a slight drop appearing on Tuesday. Friday averages showed a slight upturn reaching the 495 mark.

Hourly averages taken, gave a minimum of 16 students at eight o'clock, increasing to about 72 between 10:00 and 10:30 a.m. A heavy drop during the noon hour lowered the attendance to a low of 15. Afternoon statistics revealed only a slow comeback.

One hundred and nineteen students crowded into the library at 10 o'clock Monday, October 21, to set a record for the period.
