First Formal Recital Slated for Tomorrow Night at Riviera Aud.

This year's first formal music department recital will be presented in the Riviera Auditorium on Wednesday, November 16, at 8:15 p. m. by the committee on drama, lectures, and music. Some of the best talent in the music department will be represented in this recital and the public is invited to attend.

A varied program, including the more advanced students of Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, Edwin Jones, Dr. Van A. Christy, and Maurice Faulkner, has been arranged and will be climaxed by the appearance of the Treble Ensemble in a group of three numbers under the direction of Mrs. Barnett.

Soloists in the concert will include Dolores Dahl, contralto, Betty Smith, soprano, Walter Jennings, trumpet, Grace Gott, soprano, Alfred Jensen, baritone, Sam Simons, baritone, Dale Emde, tenor, Marion Moreno, violinist, and Gloria Harrison, soprano. Frances Wishard, Helen M. Barnett, Miriam Hanlon, and Jean Davies will accompany the performers.

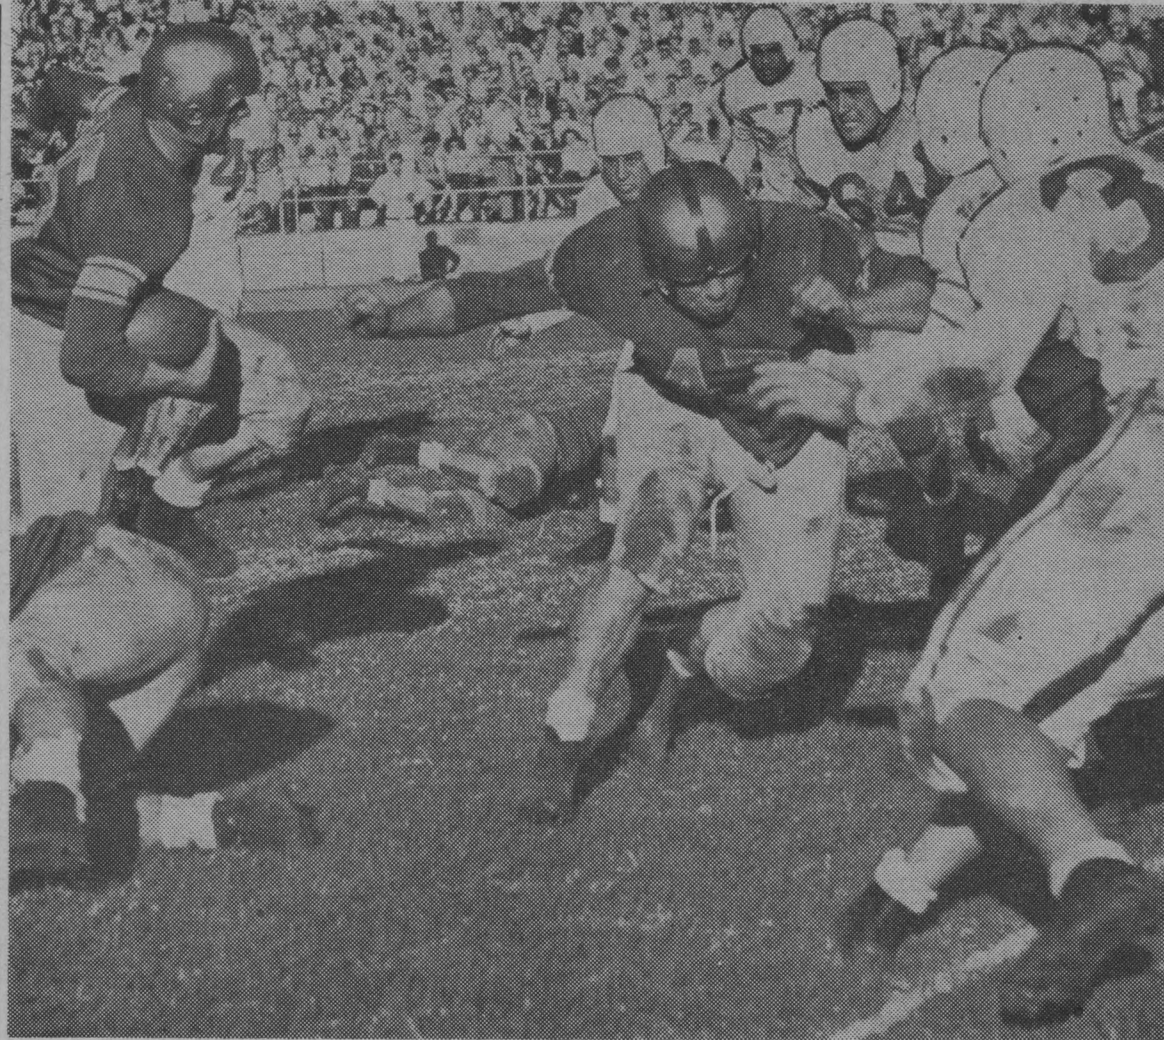

Only two or three formal recitals are held each year, according to Mr. Faulkner, so they require many hours of preparation on the part of the soloists and groups that participate in them.

Plans Made for Reorganization of Pre-Social Club

A Pre-Social Worker's Club has recently been organized on this campus. The organization will serve students interested in learning different aspects of the scope of social work, and at the same time to aid social welfare agencies by providing volunteer work on a scheduled basis. Thirty-five students have already joined the club.

The Pre-Social Worker's Club, the first of its kind on this campus, has been received with enthusiasm and offers of cooperation by local social agencies.

The club's activities will center around programs offered by persons qualified to speak on the various phases of social work; field trips to schools and institutions; and volunteer work on a scheduled basis with any of the social wel-

JOURNALISTS!
At high noon today in the El Gaucho office, there will be an important staff meeting for those people now working on the paper and also for anyone who would be interested in doing so in the future. There are places for reporters, copyreaders, proofreaders, rewrite men, etc. The purpose of this meeting is to formulate plans for a more efficient El Gaucho.

fore agencies in Santa Barbara which are willing to cooperate in providing an opportunity for such services.

Officers of the new organization are Harry Pannor, president; James Bagley, Jr., vice-president; Lynn Harnish, secretary-treasurer; Otey Scruggs, and Raymond Bagley, executive committee. Dr. Walter E. Conrad is faculty advisor.

The first speaker for the Pre-Social Worker's Club will be Joseph R. Kirchmaier, president of the Tri-County American Association of Social Workers. The lecture will be held in the AWS room at 4 p. m. on Thursday, November 17.

Sproul Explains Rules

Almost from the date of its founding, a substantial proportion of University of California students have resided together in self-governing groups and have come together in other self-governing societies. Far from attempting to prohibit or discourage the existence of such organizations, successive University administrations have recognized the benefits to be derived from them, and have welcomed, encouraged, and assisted their development. To maintain the close spirit of understanding which has prevailed throughout the years, a number of friends of the system have suggested that the administration restate the traditional attitude of the University toward certain problems of mutual concern to it and its student organizations, and that it describe the conduct which it regards as essential to protect the welfare of its students, the good name of the University, and the continued existence of the groups.

To this request, I respond that the University of California continues to expect its students and student organizations to conduct themselves and their affairs in accordance with the commonly accepted standards of morality, behavior and good taste, the laws of the State and community, and the educational purposes of the University.

In accordance with these principles, the deans of students of the four undergraduate campuses of the University have prepared the following regulations, which I endorse. I shall expect your organization to take such measures as are necessary to insure compliance with them.

Yours sincerely,
ROBERT C. SPROUL.

Library Receives Last of Cal Press Publications

Dr. Donald C. Davidson, librarian at Santa Barbara College of the University of California, this week reported the arrival of a shipment from the University of California Press including 522 items.

He explained that this was the last of several large shipments to make as complete as possible this library's holdings of the University of California Press publications. It climaxes a long-range program under the direction of Hobart F. Berolzheimer, head of the acquisitions department.

In addition to several previous shipments from the University Press itself, Dr. Davidson said, material has been obtained from the library at Berkeley as well as from academic departments, special departmental libraries on the Los Angeles and Berkeley campuses, and from individual faculty members.

The University of California Press, which was founded in 1893, now ranks in the first 12 university presses of the country, from the standpoint of gross sales.

The University of California Press distributes its books on a world-wide basis. In national distribution it uses the same channels as commercial houses, and in addition about 3,000 bookstores in the United States sell its books.

Vesper Service Revives Long Dead Gaucho Tradition

A long dead tradition of UCSBC will be revived Sunday, November 20, in the Riviera Auditorium when the AWS will sponsor a candlelight vesper for the women of the Santa Barbara College campus. Gaucho gals must leave their men to attend Sunday's 4 o'clock service for it is strictly a feminine affair.

Highlighting the ceremony will be a talk concerning the power of ideals by Dr. Paul Perigord of the Foreign Language department. Another outstanding feature of the vesper will be songs by a 20-girl ensemble under the direction of

Tri-Delt Alumnae Announce Awards For S.B. Students

Mrs. Ethel O. Gardner, Ventura president of the Ventura and Santa Barbara Alumnae Alliance of Delta Delta Delta, has announced a scholarship award of $100 to be granted to a junior or senior woman student of Santa Barbara College, for the spring semester of 1950. The selection will be made on the basis of scholastic record, financial need and character.

Application forms may be obtained in Administration Building 104, and are to be filed not later than December 15, 1949.

All applications will be submitted to a committee composed of Dr. Hazel W. Severy, chairman; Mrs. Thomas Peterson, Santa Barbara; Miss Martha Achenbach of Ventura; Mrs. Dorothy Schnell; Dean Helen E. Sweet.

Announcement of the winner will be made on or about January 3, 1950.

Woman House Reps to Organize For AWS Group

Four hundred and sixty women of the UCSBC campus will be represented Thursday, November 17, at a meeting to be held from 8 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. in the A. W. S. club room. Representatives of 56 houses of four or more girls will meet together under co-chairmen Merelie Robertson and Marilyn Shallis of the A. W. S. Board.

At this meeting, the first of its kind, items for discussion will be house organization, suggestions for various house functions and duties of the house representatives. The organization will serve as a center for all the houses, through which A. W. S. information and plans may be given out.

Continuance of the meetings will depend upon the value of the organization to the women students.

Mrs. Helen Barnett of the Music department.

Following the Pre-Thanksgiving Vesper, the girls will gather in the AWS Lounge where refreshments will be served.

Drinking at Organization Parties Prohibited by Univ. Regulation Received Here

The new regulation abolishing drinking that aroused such a storm of protest on the Berkeley and Westwood Campuses was received quietly here. Santa Barbara organizations had been warned at the beginning of this semester that the rules were forthcoming.

Greeks Give Goleta 'Bond-Fire Bounce' To Aid Alpha Thetas

All Greek organizations and college officials have made arrangements to hold an all-school dance, the "Bond-Fire Bounce," at the Goleta Gym, Friday night, November 18th. The dance will be a "Levi-Cord" affair complete with door prizes and concessions with a bazaar theme.

The reason for this sudden festivity was ignited last Saturday when the Alpha Theta Chi's float was burned. The truck being used was damaged extensively and if it were not for the friendliness and response of her Greek brothers and sisters the singed sorority would be much in debt.

This ability to change a heated disaster into a warm show of unity and spirit is greeted by glowing applause of those here at Santa Barbara.

We are all urged to turn out for this flaming affair at Goleta on November 18th to help support a worthwhile cause by the Greek organizations.

Rifle Instruction Offered Nov. 17

A rifle club is being organized on campus for women who would like to learn how to handle and shoot a rifle.

Previous experience is not necessary. The R. O. T. C. is furnishing rifles and instructional equipment. Sergeant Starling will act as coach and Miss Robarge of the physical education department is sponsor.

The first meeting for preliminary instruction will be held on Thursday at B101 at 4:10 p. m.

ALL-COLLEGE LECTURES

The next All-College lecture will be given tomorrow by C. Douglas Woodhouse, lecturer in mineralogy, in Pine Hall 100 on the Riviera Campus. His subject, "A Geologist's Wanderings in the Canadian Rockies," will be illustrated with colored slides.

The regulations approved by President Sproul and signed by the Deans of the University read:

1. The University expects its students and student organizations to observe the commonly accepted standards of morality, behavior, and good taste.

a. These standards shall be observed in the conduct of initiation ceremonies, including any so-called "informal initiations" which may be held, as well as in the other activities of recognized student organizations.

b. At all social functions which are attended by mixed groups of men and women, chaperones shall be present, whose names previously have been submitted to and approved by the Dean of Students.

c. No intoxicating beverages shall be served by such groups at any function, regardless of where it is held.

d. At any such function, regardless of where it is held, mixed gatherings of men and women shall be restricted to public rooms on main floors.

2. The University expects its students and student organizations to obey the laws of the State and community.

a. Included among such laws are those which prohibit the serving of intoxicating beverages in the vicinity of a University campus.

b. Since the possession of a bar is prima facie evidence of intent to violate the law, no bars shall be installed or maintained in the residence or headquarters of any fraternity, society, or other recognized student organization.

3. The University expects that the social activities of its students and student organizations will be compatible with the educational purposes of the institution.

a. Social functions, such as parties, dances, and initiations, and preparations for such events, shall be so scheduled, and of such reasonable number and extent as to leave ample study time for those participating.

b. Social functions, sponsored by recognized student organizations for mixed groups of men and women, shall secure advance authorization from the Dean of Students, or in certain categories of events, from other members of

THAT FRATERNAL SPIRIT

Ten days ago we had a Homecoming Week-end that proved to our Alumni that we had a college campus to be proud of—as a young, independent, growing institution of learning, and as an integral part of the expansive University of California.

During Homecoming the competitive spirit was high. Campus organizations were working themselves into the infirmity in order to win over other organizations for cups, trophies, and ribbons—symbols of victory. Rivalry for these symbols banded students together into groups and against other groups. "Fraternal spirit" was at its peak.

But when the smoke cleared away and we realized that the sinister smoke of catastrophe mingled with the figurative smoke of rivalry, a new form of the "fraternal spirit" emerged. The unfortunate burning of the Alpha Theta Chi float Saturday afternoon before the game brought the rivals together into a common bond of sympathy for the distressed sorority.

The result of this bond is a benefit to be given Saturday night with all the fraternal organizations donating their time and talent to make the dance a successful one. Furthermore, the University is donating part of the Goleta campus for the event. Appropriately, it has been named the "Bond Fire Bounce."

With a "fraternal spirit" such as this, we feel assured of a prominent place in the world of tomorrow. It is at a time like this that we fully realize the meaning of . . . that fraternal spirit. —don mills

Much Ado . . . by Jerry Noble

A friend was reminiscing about Fiesta last summer. He recalled a party at the Top Hat where he and a group of comrades were playing charades. One of the group was thrown out when he attempted to mime "The Rape of the Lock."

Sight of the week: A waitress at Broome's taking off for lunch, walking around the counter, sitting down, and picking up a menu to order.

News men still chuckle about the late (and original) Cholby Knickerbocker's headline over the report of Gloria Vanderbilt's first wedding. "Sic transit Gloria mundi," the line read.

Heard in Hollywood: A girl doesn't have to act to bust into the movies.

I wish that professors would start right out with classes at the beginning of the semester instead of holding one or two periods for just long enough to take roll.

If they did, then perhaps they could forget to come to class some day about this time in the school year.

There is a bookie joint operating in a wide-open fashion on Chapala Street.

If you hold a bourbon bottle upside down long enough it will drip out another quarter ounce. You can win bets on this.

THE Watchbird

Another week-end is over and there are only 41 days till Christmas and 66 days till finals. Not worrying about either of these dates this week-end were the party-happy Gauchos.

Traveling northward to the Cal Poly game were BeeGee Zink, Don Rucker, Frank Goodall, Chuck Cobley and a few other loyal rooters.

Shirley Vollers had a good reason for going to San Luis Obispo, namely Dick Bradshaw, Cal Poly football player.

Going in the other direction were Bob McGinley, Danny Smith, Stan Lokken. They took their talents down to Pasadena to watch the PCC Bulldogs go down under the strong Compton Tartars.

Yes, that was Dick Jehru's car wallowing in the mud on the men's gym lawn last week. It's now being referred to as "Sam" Tappy and the Stolen Car Caper.

Stan Baker has decided that he's too old for this Sadie Hawkins routine. He's afraid a girl will ask him to be her chaperone instead of her date.

Margaret Taylor's house was the scene of a quiet relaxed gathering Saturday night. Margaret was there with Chuck Cook and a few of the many others were Jane Manning, Dave Reed, Pat Henon, Bill Durwin, Eleanor Conte, Dick Stratton.

Later the same evening there was a party at Arnie Hargis'. Arnie wasn't there but Guido dal Bello, Joan Johnson, Teo Rodriguez, Barbara Drake, Mal Morehouse and Suzi Smith were, and had a fine time.

In town for the week-end were Jan Peckham and Holly Hollingsworth. Once a GaUCHO, always a GaUCHO.

Johnny Hackett has been wandering around the Delt mansion for a week now, with a dazed, stary-eyed expression on his face. The cause of it all seems to be cute Freshman Gloria Britton.

Le Vay's again: SAE and Alpha Thete pledges gave their actives a small brawl at the old homestead Friday night. The catastrophe of the evening occurred when several Kappa Sigs came roaring in, cigar in one hand and the "usual" in the other.

Happy Birthday: Many joyous mouths crooned "Happy Birthday" to Dick Davidson Friday night. Quite a party, if you like your birthday cake saturated.

Pinning of the Week: Dick Shaefer and Marilyn Mydland.

Seems Daisy Mae (Helene Honore) and Marryin' Sam (Cal Thacker) did a bounding business at the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance Saturday night. Fighting the crowds to the marriage booth were Adney Gass, Barbara St. Claire; Bill Cunningham, Betty Beck; Don Asmus, Vivian Schmit; Don Brunn, Sally Carjola, and many other eager couples. Seems Reno Chackel was really anxious—he gave one poor pigmy such a forceful boot that he was able to slide over to the justice on a sawdust carpet.

Last Sunday night Chi Delt Doty Langstaff announced her engagement to Jack Stone of Long Beach.

Don't miss the Bonfire Bounce Friday, November 5, Goleta Aud.

Looks like Tyson Willson is going glamour boy on us. His tete-a-tete with the Lady in Red—red tennis shoes that is—proved to be very diverting.

Howdy Gals,

With dressy sport in vogue for most college social affairs, it is a good idea to plan ahead on tying in odd blouses and skirts to make appropriate outfits.

Something of a different slant on the blouse and skirt subject is the addition of a matching or contrasting color vest. Especially nice with this is the full skirt which is the most graceful style a girl can wear.

If your wardrobe selection of blouses is in a depleted state, Jack Rose has the remedy. We carry a full selection from the classic tailored to the very feminine styles by Yolanda.

Here's hoping I've mentioned some ideas you can use.

J. V. Gridmen Lose to Ventura

The Gauchos J. V. footballers lost to powerful Ventura Junior College, 31-0, last Tuesday. The game was played on the winner's field.

The game, which was played more on the scrimmage style than game style, will be unofficial as time was not kept. The Gauchos held Ventura scoreless for the first quarter, but the second quarter saw some changes in favor of the Pirates, as they scored twice and completed one conversion. After a short half, the Pirates continued their point-making by scoring twice in the third quarter and once in the fourth.

The Gauchos were able to make yards in the middle of the field but were unable to cross the 20-yard line. The game ended when darkness made ball-handling impossible.

Mike Noonan, playing his first game with the squad, was the outstanding man both on offense and defense for the Gauchos. Mike played guard for the varsity club until declared ineligible and has now moved to fullback on the J. V. club. In the line Minor Rootes played a hard game on defense, making many good tackles.

Aspiring Fencers To Meet Tonight

Coach "Nick" Carter has issued an invitation for all students who are interested in fencing to come to the fencing meetings which are held every Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10:00 o'clock.

Experienced fencers are anxiously being looked for since only eight persons have turned out for the team and of the eight only four are from last year's squad.

Coach Carter has plans for at least two meets before the Christmas holidays and more after so as to keep his charges active for the entire season.

Cal Poly Gives Gauchos 6th Loss

Santa Barbara's gridsters continued their losing ways at San Luis Obispo Friday afternoon by dropping their sixth game of the year to a stubborn Cal Poly eleven, 7-0.

It was not until the fourth quarter that the Mustangs got out of their own territory, but when they finally got rolling, they made the most of the opportunity and scored the winning touchdown on a pass from Quarterback Stu Brown to Halfback Ed Mack in the end zone.

The game see-sawed back and forth through the entire first half, with numerous fumbles and intercepted passes causing the complexion of the game to change every few minutes. The Gauchos were within scoring distance time after time but just couldn't punch the ball over the goal.

With Doug Gorrie finding nice holes in the center of the Poly line, the Gauchos moved to the 14-yard line at the start of the third period before running out of gas. Francisco's attempted field goal was straight but too low and the Mustangs took over. Three plays netted three yards and Poly kicked beautifully to the Gauchos 24. Gorrie, Ternquist, Dear, and Brice took turns ripping through the enemy line and again worked the ball to the 14, where a fumble cost them the scoring opportunity.

It was at this point that the Mustangs began their 86-yard march to score the only touchdown in 17 plays.

Cal Poly dominated the rest of the game over the discouraged Gauchos as they again marched to the 12-yard line where an attempted field goal was blocked by LeRoy Criss.

It was a heartbreaking loss for the Gauchos to accept as they had completely outplayed the Mustangs for three quarters. Statistics showed 14 first downs to 9, and a total rushing and passing tally of 245 yards to 172, all in favor of Santa Barbara.

Dick Johnson, probably the number one threat on the field,

Inter-Class Track Meet Set for Dec. 8

The fourth annual inter-class track and field meet will be held December 8, 1949, the Thursday of the next to the last week before Christmas vacation.

Unlike the Intramural sports, lettermen are allowed to compete in this meet since it is an inter-class affair. However, all competitors must run for their class and none other! If a participant is going to graduate in June but still has another year of eligibility, he must nevertheless compete for the Senior class. Managers for each class will be chosen in the very near future and they will be announced in one of the editions of the Gauchos.

The awards will consist of an Interclass trophy which will go to the victorious class, ribbons for the first three places in each event (which, by the way, have been furnished by the AMS for the past three years), and there has been some talk of the possibility of having some sort of appropriate award for the high-point man of the meet.

Last year the Sophomores won with a total of 51 points. The Juniors, Seniors, and Freshmen followed with 47 - 28½ - 26½ points respectively. The high-point man last year was Mel Patten with a total of 21 points. Last year's meet was very successful with eight records falling and one being tied. If everyone who thinks he can run will start going out and get into shape, there should be no doubt that this fourth annual interclass track and field meet will be a tremendous success.

hurt his ankle on the second half kickoff and sat out the remainder of the game. Bob Wooldridge, Warren Vinton, and Don Casida also had to be helped from the field in the last period.

Doug Gorrie was the spark in the Gauchos backfield, rolling up over 70 yards on rushing plays. The Gauchos line, from end to end, played excellent ball recovering fumbles and stopping the Poly running game cold. The 127 yards that CP gained from scrimmage was nearly all accumulated in the final minutes of the game.

With football slowly fading from the public eye, I thought it best that I take a run down to the Armory one afternoon last week to see how Coach Wilton's Santa Barbara hardwoodmen were progressing.

Wee Willie himself opened the side door of the gym and I was confronted with the smiling countenance of the college's smallest but winningest coach. Never worse than second during his nine years on the hill, Wilton showed every sign of expecting more of the same success as he optimistically—and verbally—ran through his 20-man basketball squad for me.

Prepping with their first full-court scrimmage for the opening game of the year on November 26 with Occidental at Ventura, Willie's sweating casabamen were eagerly involved in an inter-squad battle that had all the earmarks of the real thing.

Jack Moore and Bill Kelso at guards, Bob McCutcheon at the pivot post, and Gene Snyder and Don Bradshaw at forwards comprised one team while Otey Scruggs and Nick Fasola, guards, Tom Moss, center, and Bernie Fox and Bert Guiness, forwards, made up the opposition. The score was inconsequential but the general feeling I got from watching was that this year's melonmen will stress an accurate passing attack with a few carefully set-up plays revolving around the slow break system that Wilton has so successfully utilized through the years.

The present squad will be pared to 15 for home games and 12 for out-of-town contests. Wilton will lose Fasola, McCutcheon, Moore, Scott, and Snyder, five men who ended up as first-stringers last year, at the completion of the 1949-50 season; and he is out to compensate for this loss by loading his squad with an even dozen sophomores and juniors.

Up from Pasadena City College are Bradshaw and Moss, both sophomores and lettermen from the Bulldog team that finished second in the WSC last year. Bradshaw is 20, stands 6 feet 1 inch, weights in at 170, and played his first real ball at Mark Keppel High School in Alhambra. Moss is also 20, 6 feet 3 inches, 185, and fills in at either center or guard. (To be concluded next trip.)

Discussion On Jazz

By Leonard Ulanov

I can still feel the repercussions from my last column, but I shall bravely point my bluntly-chiseled, wind-swept features into the future and struggle on, amid torrents of cat-calls and cutting remarks.

Many cast around and about have asked that I state my position as far as the classics go, before I get lost on this jazz kick. They phrased it like this: "What do you think of good music—you know, the classics?"

I don't believe there is a distinction between old music or new, classic or modern, progressive or stagnant. There are only two kinds of music: good and bad. What makes music good is a combination of many things: sound, originality, warmth, etc., but not really anything you can put your finger on. Like ol' Satchmo' once said, "If you have to ask what jazz is, you'll never know." A sampling of jazz, played sincerely by an artist, has as much soul and intrinsic value as an classic. I really like much of the "long hair" stuff, especially those modern Russians. But a person who appreciates bop can hardly turn far from the classics, as I feel there is quite a bit in common between the two. In particular, Lennie Tristano has developed jazz to such a point that it is classic in every of the word, even in construction. In fact, in many of the so-called classics, much room was left for improvisation by the musician. It's not the tune or melody, it's the way it's played—the heart that's poured into it by the artist that makes a thing great. How can anyone listen to Billie Holliday and help but feel the simple sincerity and tenderness in her song? Take a listen to Frank Sinatra's newest album, and then try. I dare you to listen to Vaughn (banana mouth) Monroe shouting "Ghost Riders" or "Cruising Down the River."

Maybe next week I'll simmer down to the point and begin to critique some of the things you know about and let you in on some that maybe you don't know about.
