STUDENT ELECTION DELAYED 2 WEEKS

Proposed Revision of Constitution Causes Postponement

The election of student officers which was to have taken place last Tuesday has been delayed for about two weeks due to contemplated revision in the constitution. Although there are several proposed changes in the constitution there is the proposition which, if accepted, will affect the election to the greatest extent is a new set of officers from the newly adopted constitution to constitute the student body, a single candidate for the three positions, and a single candidate for the position of women's athletic manager.

However, the election campaign is still in full swing. Renee Le Fort, editor in chief, and J. A. W. Fahey, president of the student government, are the two candidates for president. Jessie L. L. M. is the only candidate for the vice-presidency. Although no information has been circulated for candidates for the position of women's athletic manager, the candidates for the position of men's athletic manager are the sole candidates for the position of women's athletic manager. The election will take place in the football stadium on May 12.

Two women are also out for the position of men's athletic manager. A. J. Baranov and Allan Lewis Peters are the two candidates for the position of men's athletic manager. FETE FRANCAISE GIVEN MAY 16TH

Parle vous Francois? If not, you have probably been invited to the Fete Francaise. This event which the French classes of the College are giving on Friday, May 16, from four o'clock in the afternoon until five in the evening, will be an opportunity to practice your French and enjoy the company of French-speaking students. The Fete will consist of a grand masque and dance, French songs and dances, and a discussion of the French language.

TENNIS TEAM MEETS LA VERNE ON 17TH

The State College tennis team will meet the men from La Verne College on the local Y. M. C. A. courts on the day of the match. The match is to be played on May 17th.

COLLEGE MAGAZINE GOES TO PRESS

The issue of the College Magazine goes to press on May 14th. The magazine will be available to students and faculty members this week. The magazine features articles on the history of the college, student life, and local events.

MR. HESS WILL TALK ON 'TESTING GASOLINE'

A demonstration and talk on 'Testing Gasoline' will be given on Thursday, May 15, by Mr. Hess, head of the Department of Industrial Arts at the Lincoln High School of Los Angeles. Mr. Hess stated that he was collecting a master equipment for testing gasoline, and a demonstration of this equipment will be given on May 15th.

La Verne College entertainment will be given tomorrow night at 8:15 in the college court. The first part of the program will feature the precursor of many years of music and song, and those of the Commandante's daughter, he is banished from the colony. His cure drives him to wander the world over and to press arrangements are being made for a special invited guests. The first scene takes place in the Commandante's residence, some time after Cabrillo's arrival in the Pacific fleet.

THE MASCOT AND DANCE ON CAMPUS

The third annual College Night entertainment will be given tomorrow night at 8:15 in the college court. The first part of the program will follow the precedent of former years in that college songs and yells will be given to answer a real spirit of enthusiasm. The roll of colleges will be called, and representatives of the various colleges will display their team spirit by raising a fantasia.

A pantomime masque, "The Wanderer," written and directed by Dean Ashworth for the occasion, will be presented. The masque is divided into two scenes, one with a prologue, interlude and epilogue. William Scalapino is taking the part of the Wanderer in the prologue and interlude, and Ester Janssen will appear as the nun in the epilogue. The first scene takes place in the Commandante's residence, and in the second scene the Commandante's daughter, he is banished from the colony. His cure drives him to wander the world over and to press arrangements are being made for a special invited guests. Another year is about gone. It has been a trying year for those who have served the Student Body in an official capacity, trying and at times embarrassing. It has been a case of a "clash of papes appetite" and not even a beer gai. In plain words, the Student Body has been trying to carry on its work without sufficient funds and machinery. Following is a list of deficiencies in the Student life that the writer believes should be rectified.

1. Campus competition with High Schools.
2. Too infrequent social events.
3. A weekly Eagle. The writer believes that the above mentioned short-comings could be rectified with the money resulting from an increase of Student Body dues.

First of all, the writer believes that a campus competition with High Schools is necessary. We are a College and we should compete with Colleges. Our basketball season was run off with little competition except against High Schools, which means we would have a chance to rub elbows with keen competition. But please understand that the writer does not blame the men out for athletics on this state of affairs, nor the coach. This condition is possible only because we have given our men and athletic managers too many chances to carry on athletics with nearby High Schools. Again the writer does not mean to cast reflections on the Student Body Council for the smallness of the athletic appropriation. They budgeted all the money that there was and still there was not enough. The writer believes that the College should remain true to their men out for athletics with sufficient money to enable them to seek competition with Colleges of equal rank. Do we students not know that the people down town are saying that the College places out small High Schools for opponents in order to insure against defeat? This study should be a real success in life an educated heart and soul is just as important as any academic qualification.

OUR CAMPUS IMPROVED

It certainly is wonderful what a coat of paint will do.

Our Old Santa Barbara State College is certainly being decked up right.

The exterior of the cafeteria is being re-cemented and all of the buildings on the campus are receiving a coat of light cream color. The window and door casings are painted a dark brown. It gives the group of buildings the appearance of belonging to one big unit.

When this is all finished and the trees and shrubs arranged on the campus, as planned, we will have one of the most distinct and pretty little school plants in the country.

COMMUNITY MECHANICS

Several of our advanced students visited schools in and around Los Angeles last week, the trip paid for by the Student Body dues. Dean Smith, who is one of them, must think they have something in that county.

"Loe White," Dean Smith is out for a ticket selling record and the memory in his thorax has reached the climax of ambition. He has decided to climb-Watch him go up for College Night. By trick Smithy put one over on his classmates and extracted a grape-sucker simphon for a brace of $1.00 before the hat had dried on them. More power to you, Dean.
OUTING CLUB TRIPS UNCERTAIN

Due to the hoot and mouth epidemic, all plans for the Outing Club have been abandoned. Every effort has been made to secure the campsite at the Cabin and on the Islands but in vain. There is, however, a possibility that the Outing Club may yet make the trip to the Islands in the event that the quarantine is lifted before the closing of school in June.

Any people who would be interested in such a trip should sign the paper posted on the bulletin board. As a "last minute" trip is organized, this list would greatly facilitate the organization of a camping party. So, if you are interested, sign up on the list.

The cost will be about six dollars ($6) if the trip is for three days, all expenses included. If, however, the trip is only for one day the cost will not exceed two dollars and a half ($2.50.)

GLEE CLUB RETURNS FROM VALLEY TRIP

The men of the State College Glee Club returned to Santa Barbara last Friday night after a three-day trip through the northern part of the county and the San Joaquin valley. The trip was the first annual tour of the Glee Club, and the success of the tour promises further trips in the near future. The trip, made by auto, was smoothly and according to schedule, with no serious mishaps.

The first stop was made at Santa Maria, where the Club stayed at the Santa Maria Inn. The club sang at the Santa Maria High School to a large and enthusiastic audience. The concert followed an impressive program opening with the growth and activities of the Rotary Club. The Rotary Club sponsored the appearance of the Glee Club at Santa Maria.

From Santa Maria the Club journeyed to Bakersfield, where they sang at the Methodist church. The concert was well received by a good sized audience.

The next morning, Thursday, the Glee Club sang at Delano at nine o'clock, at the Delano High School. From there they went to Wasco, where they sang at the Wasco High School, and were served with luncheon and entertained with vocal and instrumental selections during the luncheon.

The club's concerts were well received by the audiences at every place they appeared, and insured a bigger and better trip next year, when it is hoped that the "hoot-and-mouth disease" will not interfere with so many dates as it did this year.

Although there are but five weeks of school left this year the activities of the club are by no means finished. A tentative program includes appearances at Ventura, Santa Paula and Fillmore, an engagement at the Granada theater, and a concert and dance at Recreation Centre.

ALUMNI NOTES

In spite of the hoot-and-mouth disease, it is expected that the college halls will welcome back a goodly crowd of Alumni this week-end, who have come back for the Alumni union and for College Night, May 10.

Communications have been received from Harry Hambly, president of the Bay Region Alumni association, and from Miss Edna Elliott, president of the Los Angeles section, stating that they expect to be here, bringing with them groups of Alumni from their sections.

Among others who will be here for College Night are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dickinson, both of the class of 1916, who will come from Los Angeles.

It is rumored that several cars loads will come down for College Night from the S.B.R.C. "colony" at Lompoc and vicinity.

The scene was laid at Wasco where the Glee Club had arrived at the high school in time to take up the long-suffering Wascoites who had heard some five or six glee clubs yell their "darnedest before. The principal opened with Henry Miller and taking him for a freshman spilled the following: "Comment sa va Monsieur. Joli tue comment de vous voir et un Wasco 97 jour j'ai -" said Henry: "Hey! I don't speak Italian, sir."

College Night! My goodness, what a stir you've caused—meetings were canceled, assignments forgotten, and girls fell in the pool! At the very first practice scheduled for the masque Jean Matteson slipped, slid, sprawled in the pool which at that time was devoid of much water. Jean says it was just plain clumsiness but the rest of us aren't so frank. The pool was devoid of much water. Jean was being held Monday night by several students wandering over to the gymnasium to watch the dancers practice. Bill Roenigh leaned on the window sill of the old-fashioned building paint, adorning his cool sleeve. The cleaners will make money enough of us fall in the pond or a council meeting of the Southern Branch of the California Teachers' Association.

EVENT OF THE YEAR

Mr. Jacobs makes SOUTHERN TOUR

Mr. Charles L. Jacobs went to San Diego to attend a meeting of the officers of the Vocational Education Federation of Southern California. The Auto Club of San Diego, besides taking the officers around to visit several new schools, entertained them at dinner. Following the dinner Mr. Jacobs was called on to speak, and addressed himself, by request, to the following subjects:

1. The function and Objective of the Vocational Education Federation of Southern California
2. The possible Effect of the Uniform Salary System Upon the Interests of Community Mechanics and Vocational Training Teachers, and lastly, on "Courses of Training Offered by Santa Barbara State College for Teachers."

On the first topic he pointed out that there is an urgent need for organization among all teachers who are interested in vocational training, community mechanics and all allied branches. Organizations other than a federation have never succeeded in accomplishing anything worth while toward unifying the interests of teachers concerned.

The Council of the Federation functions similarly to that of the California Teachers' Association, in that it assists its members in every possible way. Every organization of teachers interested in vocational work can have a representative in the Council. These representatives are elected every two years and select their own officers. Meetings are required three times a year.

Concerning the possible effect of the uniform salary system upon the salaries of mechanics teachers, Mr. Jacobs pointed out that among other things it may have the effect of forcing on such teachers a more extensive course of training because, under such a system teachers are as a rule paid upon the basis of the extent of their training and experience irrespective of the grade of certificate or the subject taught.

On the last topic of the address Mr. Jacobs pointed out that Santa Barbara College is extremely well prepared to give the further training necessary which may be required of teachers in the field. Since the San Diego School Department was considering the uniform salary system, he advised those who might feel the necessity of further training to secure a higher rating to attend the summer session at Santa Barbara.

A number of teachers in the various schools in and near San Diego expressed the desire to be enrolled at Santa Barbara this summer.
