

Roadrunner Revue Opens Two-Night Run In College Auditorium Starting Thursday

Don't spread this nasty rumor around, BUT, strictly on the Q.T., State College students and visiting townspeople are destined to go through one of the most terrific bombardments of mirth and frolic the ole college has ever experienced next Thursday evening as curtain goes up in the college auditorium ringing in the 12th annual Roadrunner Revue, "Ain't It A Shame!" which is scheduled to run May 20 and 21.

Chiefly responsible for the success of this year's revue will be Edie Van Meter, director and producer, who in collaboration with Paul Kliss, technical director, wrote the script for the musical show which incorporates the best in original songs, dances and feminine pulchritude to insure revue-goers the tops in collegiate entertainment.

Complete in two acts, this year's musical revolves around the problem of combining a little rhythm with education. The first act presents the swing-conscious tots at play in kindergarten, while the second act shows the same characters, twenty years later, still playing, as collegiate hep-cats.

Featured in the singing roles of the revue are Millie Schwab, Jean Ausman, Kay Stockton, Emily Joost, Ted Murray, Bob Shelley, and Shirley Rogers, Martha Harding and Jean Casey, members of the musical trio.

Among the principal players in the show are Laurette Lovell, teacher; Bob Shelley, Johnny; Ted Murray, Donny; Mabel Barker, Gwendolen; Millie Schwab, Daisy; Dorothy Keniston, Ming Toy Ginsberg; Jean Ausman, Sally; Paul Kliss, education director; Bud Hanley, Horace; and Shirley Rogers, Martha Harding and Jean Casey, as Jean, Joan and Jane.

Adding shape to the evening's musical will be a dance chorus which will present a series of tricky dance routines with Darlene Sherfey, Martha Harding, Dorothy Saul, Nadine Loy, Shirley Rogers, Maureen Drury, Olga Ortnier, Sally Becker, Jean McClure, and Barbara Burtis.

Also included in the program are a series of entr'acts featuring numerous members of the cast in minor specialties.

Music for the revue was written by Dorothy Keniston, Emily Joost, Millie Schwab, Van Meter and Kliss, while the dance routines to be seen throughout the show are credited to Maureen Drury and Shirley Rogers.

Aiding Miss Van Meter and Kliss on the technical direction are Delphine Martin, stage manager; Maureen Drury, dance director; Emily Joost, music director; Doris Kirsten and Cathy Levovsky, costumes; Bud Hanley, publicity; and Gladys Kuhns, script.

The annual Roadrunner Revue is presented each year by the student body rally committee to raise funds for the publication of La Cumbre, college yearbook. Rally Chairman Gerry Cockins, is executive manager of the show.

Tickets will be on sale at the box-office preceding the revue with a fifty-five cent charge for student body members and seventy-five cent charge plus tax for townspeople. Service men will be given special rates.

Greek Women Hold Formal At Rockwood

Even with the male population in its present depleted state, the biggest event of the Hellenic social year, the annual Pan-Hellenic formal, will be held Saturday, May 15, at Rockwood.

Providing music for the evening will be Earl Fuche's all-negro orchestra. Dancing will start at nine and continue until twelve o'clock.

Members of all eight of the sororities on campus and Crown and Scepter women will attend the event. Each sorority is privileged to invite one non-sorority outstanding senior woman. This year through Dean Lois M. Bennink's and the Pan Hellenic council's suggestion, each sorority will be allowed to ask two or three more women students as guests.

Patrons and patronesses include Miss Florence Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Woodhouse, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Barnett, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Addicott, and Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Rauch.

Alpha Theta Chi has charge of refreshments; Sigma Delta Epsilon, invitations; Chi Delta Chi, decorations; and Delta Sigma Epsilon, programs.

Phi Lambda Mu To Entertain

Phi Lambda Mu, national honorary music sorority, presents its third annual spring musicale May 23 at the Margaret Baylor Inn.

Members of the all-women's organization will entertain with varied types of musical numbers including instrumental, vocal, piano, combination of instruments.

"Last year the concert was a great success and we assure all who attend a varied and excellent program," added Miss Appel.

Camp Service Clubs Visited By Annual Dance Concert

In response to the many requests by enlisted men of the United States Army at Camp Cooke, the entire cast of the fifth annual dance concert gave two performances at the camp service clubs on Friday evening, May 7.

With the exception of "Nocturne," and "Museum Piece — 1945," the entire concert was given, just as it was presented on this campus last April 2. Numbers which received the best response were "Swing Your Partner," "Two Shades of Blue," and "Merry-go-round."

Bus transportation and dinner for the cast was furnished by the service clubs of Camp Cooke. The girls attended the officers dance following their second performance.

This was the fifth repeat for the concert. It was a result of much favorable comment from those who saw the first showing in the college auditorium.

Phrateres Elects Geissler

Myrtle Geissler, Junior, was elected Phrateres president last week, defeating Frances Bigham by a close majority, according to Frances Houghton, incumbent and election chairman.

Catherine Bradley obtained the office of vice-president over Lila Atkinson, while Marie Thomas downed Barbara Senseney for the position of treasurer. Clara Anderson, Jean Pate-man, and Beth Esker were in the race for secretary, and following a revote between the latter two, Beth Esker was elected.

Officers for this past semester have been: Frances Houghton, president; Martha Feddrson, vice-president; Catherine Bradley, secretary; Agnes Shearer, treasurer; Mary Brown, social chairman.

June Graduates Plan Activities For Senior Week

Commencing Saturday, May 22, will be the big week in the lives of the seniors of Santa Barbara State as Senior Week, despite the lack of masculine participants, opens with a series of activities in which graduates will take part.

Starting off the week will be the Junior-Senior Prom at the Montecito country club, May 22 from nine to twelve p.m. This dance is given free of charge by the junior class to honor all graduating seniors. Dress will be formal.

Tuesday, June 1, according to Angie Nunez, president, the class will be feted by the student body with a picnic at La Playa field. Supper will be served at 6 p.m. with dancing from 7 until 8 in the Horticultural building. The admission price will be 25 cents per person and student body card.

Annual formal Senior Ball will be held at Rockwood the following Saturday evening from 9 until 12 p.m. Admission is by student body card and guest tickets may be obtained from Dean Lois Bennick for one dollar.

Reservations may be made at any time with Dean Bennick for the Senior breakfast, Sunday, June 6. At that time speeches to the class will be made by members of the graduating class and a guest speaker.

At 4:30 p.m., Sunday, June 6, baccalaureate services will be held in the college auditorium. Reverend John N. Ashley of the Methodist church will deliver the address.

Senior women's third annual candlelight recessional, sponsored by Crown and Sceptre, will take place Monday, June 7, in the Quad at 8:30 p.m. This ceremony is open to the public and will be followed by an informal

Much Ado

By GEORGE BLUMENSON

This is Much Ado's last stand for the duration of the war, perhaps, and possibly for good. This minor league Pegler or Lippmann (somehow I like that latter better) is, much as the Lucky Strike Green, gone to war. Of course, there is still one very slim possibility that he may be rejected by the examiners next Thursday, but that possibility is very slim indeed.

I have no qualms about giving up civilian life because I feel that we are fighting for something worth fighting for, and I think I know what that is. Thomas Jefferson once said "The world belongs to the living generation," and, as far as I am concerned, we are the living generation. Some of us, however, have not lived long enough to realize that fact, and others will, no doubt, be cut down before they realize it.

It is up to us, the living generation, to see to it that our lives are safeguarded, to see to it that we may hold on to whatever little bit of happiness comes out way. We, the living generation have not done that in the past, and, we will probably not do it in the future. Posterity? Let posterity look out for itself. Our children will be confronted with the same problems which have confronted us. If they make the same mistakes, if they fail to profit by our example, let them go to war and let them suffer. If they fail to live life as it can and should be lived that is their own fault. Certainly this generation has made enough mistakes so that all the generations to come can profit from them.

Those who have lived make the laws and the decisions and those who have yet to live go out and die for those decisions. Treason? Sedition? According to those who make the laws these two crimes are minor league affairs. This week the leaders of Mankind United were convicted of sedition and given five-year sentences. Other leaders received three years, one year and $1000 fines. Is this then, what we are fighting for? So that those who seek to disrupt the nation in its fight for life can get off so easily?

The trials of those men and companies who have sold the government sub-standard war materials have yet to come to court, but they will, no doubt, get off much more easily than did the leaders of Mankind United. This, then, is the penalty for premeditated mass-murder.

FINALS COMIN' UP! ( BUT SOON! )

Communism has been defined by one of our larger chains of newspapers as being against religion, capitalism and for free love. Americanism, however, is not being merely for religion, capitalism, and against free love. We must and should realize that being an American has its obligations. We should not, as the illustrious Dunderheads in Congress and the Senate would have us do, shut our eyes to what goes on in the world. Our obligation is not merely to America but to the world. Space does not permit the listing of these obligations, but you should be able to figure them out.

So much then, for the living generation.

Man cannot live by bread alone, nor can he progress by believing all he reads in the newspapers. It is too late for part of this generation, but for the rest of this generation it is time for the alarm clocks to go off.

Much Ado About Nothing has been a misnomer for this column. There is more than enough about which to make ado.

America Sees Need For Post-War Education

Adolf Hitler, in a recent speech to the German people, told them that they must be prepared to meet with many hardships on th home front until the war is won. Der Feuhrer further told his good Nazis that, although his armies are the finest, bravest and most courageaus in the world, it cannot be expected that the war be won overnight.

This speech differs in tenor just a little from the speeches of Hitler during the first year of the war. The German armies were going to conquer the world in one year—the German people would hav nothing to worry about in regards to food and clothing, for Germany had enough, and what she didn't have, she would take from her neighbors. That was four years ago.

Since that time the German people have suffered hardships and sorrows. But the German people brought these hardships and sorrows upon themselves. Now Hitler is admitting that there will be more to come, more to come until victory.

Hitler must see the handwriting on the wall. It is impossible that he still believes in victory, especially after the North African fiasco. But Adolf Hitler has missed the big point in his warning to the German people. He should have warned them of what was to come after the war.

The Germans will have to be de-propagandized. They must be taught that the Nazi philosophy is wrong, that Hitler was wrong. They will have to learn to live again with the Jews, the Poles and all the other subservient races. Their "ubermensch" complex will have to be taken away from them and some sort of an inferiority complex should be imposed upon them.

We will have trouble in an occupation of Germany. The Germans will have to be ruled with the same mailed fist with which they have ruled the countries they have occupied. The re-education will not be too difficult with those of the Germans who can remember pre-Hitler days, but the younger generation presents a different problem.

The younger generation will have to be educated for life instead of for death. The emphasis must be on peace, not on war. The uniform must be discarded and the sword must be beaten into the plowshare.

These will not come easily. There will be murder and bloodshed. There will probably be a Nazi underground in the days to come just as there is a democratic underground in the occupied countries today.

The German nation is in for hardships the likes of which it has never experienced before. Mr. Hitler should let the Germans know what is in store for them if they insist on carrying on the war.

Sororities Prepare For Spring Dance

The all-important event in the lives of sorority women on the Gaucho campus this week is the Panhellenic formal, annual affair, to be held this Saturday at Rockwood. Final plans are being completed by the various committees, and it promises to be a big success, despite the man shortage.

GAMMA DELTA CHI

Members were surprised by the announcement of two engagements, via the traditional chocolates, at their Monday evening meeting. Pauline Schindler announces her forthcoming marriage to Lieutenant Erwin Richter, of the Army Air Corps. She has just returned from a visit to Arkansas, where she attended her fiancée's graduation ceremonies.

Biggest surprise was the announcement by Nippy Houghton of her engagement to Cadet Norman Arrowsmith, also of the Army Air Corps, stationed at present at Ellington Field, Texas.

Business discussed included plans for the party for members and their guests to be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Miller, before the Panhellenic formal. Also discussed was the annual Senior lunch, to be held at the Samar-kand hotel, on June 5.

PHI KAPPA GAMMA

Members held their regular Monday evening meeting at the home of Mrs. Jack Wood, on Alameda Padre Serra. It was recommended that a forty dollar trust fund belonging to the sorority be turned into a war bond.

Elections of officers for the coming year were held, and results announced. President, Helen Webster, vice-president, Marian Agamalion; secretary, Joy Hiastand; treasurer, Joyce Roberts; corresponding secretary, Evelyn King; publicity, Pat Scott; historian, Florence Record; sergeant-at-arms, Edith Sutherland.

The next meeting will be held in the form of a barbecue at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Addicott. Installation ceremonies for newly elected officers will also take place at this time.

SIGMA DELTA PHI

Plans were made at the meeting for the Senior luncheon, an annual affair, to be held on Sunday June 6, at the Brown Room, El Paseo.

Final plans were completed for a light buffet supper to be held preceding the formal dance at the sorority house, for members and their guests.

TAU GAMMA SIGMA

It was reported at the Monday evening meeting that the Mother's Day breakfast was a success, with a large number of members mothers able to attend.

Greek Groups Close Activities

FRANCES HOUGHTON Retiring Phrateres Head

Preceding the Monday evening fraternity meetings, a meeting of the Inter-Fraternity council was held at seven, presided over by Bob Shelley, president.

A meeting of the council was scheduled for May 24 at the Beta Sigma Chi house. At this time all fraternities are to turn in their yearly financial report. Plans will be made to close the fraternities in June.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

A joint meeting was held Monday evening with Tau Gamma Sigma sorority at the Stroller's club. Possibilities were discussed for a beach party to be held in the near future.

Owen Sayling, alumnus Sigma Tau member, was reported killed in action on the African front.

GAMMA SIGMA PI

Plans were completed for the Gamma Sig formal to be held May 21 at Montecito Country club.

Gamma Sigs will play the Marines next Tuesday on the diamond at the Marine Base.

Plans were made for a house party at the Gamma Sig abode on De La Vina for tonight.

SIGMA ALPHA KAPPA

Meeting at the home of Bob Shelley, president, the Sig Alphas changed the date of their dinner-dance from May 28 to May 29 at the Montecito Country club.

Plans for a beach picnic for members and guests Sunday afternoon, May 30 at Hendry's beach were discussed.

Bob Stansbury, alumnus Sigma Alpha Kappa, was greeted by members upon his arrival in Santa Barbara.

BETA SIGMA CHI

The Beachcomber's Ball was the main topic of the evening. It will be held May 28, place still undetermined. It was decided to send favors from the Beta Sig formal to Beta Sig members now in the armed service. They consist of leather wallets with Beta Sigma Chi Greek letters on them.

White orchids were presented to the guests by the sorority members.

Plans have been completed for the dinner, to be held at the Mar Monte hotel, which will precede the Panhellenic formal.

DELTA SIGMA EPSILON

At the meeting final plans were completed for the midnight breakfast to be held at the sorority house, following the Panhellenic formal. Programs for the dance were worked on during the meeting.

ALPHA THETA CHI

Regular meeting was held in the form of a shower for bride-elect, Peggy Lou Anderson. Following the shower a short business meeting was held.

Reports were given on the Mother's Day Tea, held at the home of Mrs. Homer C. Thompson, and nominations were made for next years officers. Elections will be held at the next meeting.

DELTA ZETA DELTA

At their regular Monday evening meeting members made plans for the dinner to be held preceding the Panhellenic formal.

It was decided to hold an overnight party at the cabin of Marilee Stevens, May 22 and 23.

President Clarence L. Phelps Announces Opening of Summer Session June 28

In answer to the various speculating forces on campus which have been concerned with the future function of State College under the semi-approved Legislature bill which is intended to make the local college a part of the University of California, President Clarence L. Phelps today announced plans for a "banner" summer session and fall semester opening as well.

Under the administration's budget planning, preparations are being completed for the enrollment of an estimated eight hundred students next fall. While present indications show that some six hundred students will be enrolled for the six-weeks summer session which opens on campus June 28.

Also in releasing the estimated enrollment figures for the coming year, President Phelps explained that despite the demands that war has made upon the college populations throughout the United States, the local institution had suffered some slight ninety-four withdrawals. This would drop the earlier registration total of 928 to the present low of 834.

"Legislation concerning the institution should make little difference for the forthcoming summer session," President Phelps emphasized. "If the bill (AB 954) should receive the approval of the governor, there could be no change that would interfere with the regular procedure for next fall either."

In conclusion the president declared that changes of any character would have to await acceptance of the bill by university regents and if that should fail there would be no change whatsoever on the basis of recent legislation.

Under the procedure released this week in the college bulletins for the 1943 summer session, registration will begin on Monday, June 28. A state registration fee of twenty-five dollars will be made of all students enrolling for the six-week program which officially closes on Friday, August 6.

The maximum amount of credit that may be earned in the full six weeks' term is six semester units, plus one unit in recreational sports.

Immediately following the college's summer session the School of Natural Science will offer a two weeks post session during which students may earn two semester units of college credit. Credit for the post session is given on the basis of attendance as there are no examinations or textbooks. Tuition for the added session which will run from August 9 to 20 is ten dollars.

reception in the A.W.V.S. club-room.

Due to war conditions, this year's Senior banquet will be held on campus. The banquet, scheduled for Thursday, June 10, is open to class members, faculty, and friends. Reservations may be made in Dean Bennink's office for one dollar.

Concluding event of the week will be Commencement to be held in the College Court, Friday, June 11, at 10 a.m.

Seniors should note the dress for Commencement and Baccalaureate: With cap and gown, women wear white or very light dresses, and light stockings. Men wear dark suits and dark shoes.

According to Marilee Stevens, class treasurer, senior class dues are two dollars a year, payable to Miss Stevens, or to Mrs. Jane Abraham.

Seniors should remember that if their clearance sheet is not fully signed and filed with the Registrar by Tuesday, June 8, they will not receive their degree or credential. Degrees will also be held up because of incomplete grades or non-payment of fees and fines.

Ex-Student Tells of 'Life' In Nation's Capital

by Natalie Stewart

We went, we saw and we came home. Here ends any similarity between the writer and Julius (I came, I saw, I conquered) Caesar and a mild diatribe on Washington, D.C. begins. We say "mild" because after all it would be a pity to step on the well pedicured toes of the few Washingtonians left who take pride and joy in their native city. Imaginatively, we can hear them implore, "Keep it clean, it was a good town once and with three fourths of the present population out, it would still be a good town."

The Washington hegira began in February, 1943 and wound up last week with our return to familiar Santa Barbara haunts. No truer words were ever banded about than those philosophical gems that assert "There's no place like home." Well, if there is a place like the old homestead, it certainly isn't Wash., D.C.

Rumors wafted out here on the West Coast that Washington is overcrowded might be termed gross understatement. The Nation's Capitol is infested with surplus humanity, teaming with a galeidescope of people representing every nation of God's beautiful and peaceful world with the good old American citizen predominant. Washington represents either a halcyon paradise or a veritable hell on earth, depending on one's bankroll and the pull one may have with the Congressional or Army bigwigs from back home.

Much touted in the Nation's heart of our War effort is the oft-mentioned government girl. She is lauded for her place in the War effort, be it ever so insignificant, for her supreme sacrifice in coming to War-gear'd Washington and for her unflinching devotion to the War Department, proud parent of the Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard and their affiliated off-spring. Of no consequence to the War Department is the G.G.'s typical lament, "there aren't any men!" Conservatively, the ratio is eight-to-one and snaring a date is comparable to going downtown and buying five pounds of candy. Nasty rumor has it that the cherubic government damsels are even horning in on the married ladies, teaching them new tricks.

Weather in F.D.R.'s home town resembles one anti-climax after another. It snows today and frizzles tomorrow which all makes for some interesting experiences in dressing and undressing. Washington has both heat and cold but not in any form of continuity. Like everything else in Washington, D.C. the climate is very UNUSUAL!

Beta Sigs Slate Beachcomber Ball

Santa Barbara State Gauchos go native, Friday, May 28, as the Beta Sigma Chi fraternity presents its annual Beachcombers Ball to conclude the semester's all-student social activities.

As yet no definite place has been selected for the affair but plans are being made under the direction of Marvin Sands, president, Carl Fisher, George Chamberlain, Art Westmont, and Dick Fox.

A costume dance, prizes and favors will be given to all members of the student body and their guests who attend. Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Rauch are patron and patroness for the program.
