Many AS Offices Are Open To Qualified Candidates

Due to graduation and scholastic deficiencies six elective and three appointive offices are now vacant in the Associated Students. Elective offices vacant are Associated Students president, Associated Students secretary, one men's representative-at-large, one women's representative-at-large, sophomore class secretary and freshman class secretary. An election to fill these vacancies will be held March 10 and 11, with run-offs being held March 13. Officers elected at this time will serve for the remainder of the school year.

Candidates for office must sign up in the Graduate Manager's office before 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 24. At the time of signing up candidates will receive a copy of the Associated Students Constitution and Roberts Rules of Order, upon which they will be tested on February 27. All candidates must pass a test on this material in order to be eligible to run for office. The exact time and place of the test will be announced in next week's El Gaucho.

Petitions also will be issued at the time of signing up and candidates must have them signed and ready to turn in on the day of the test, Feb. 27. Candidates will be allowed to take the test only once and no make-up tests will be conducted.

Vacancies in appointive positions are Rally Committee chairman, Finance Committee chairman and Social Committee chairman. Applications for these positions are available in the Associated Students office, Building D, and must be filed with Associated Students Vice President Pauline Byard before 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 24.

To be eligible to run for an elective office or apply for an appointive position students must have an over-all grade average of "C" or higher, and at least a "C" average in work taken the semester preceding the spring semester.

These vacancies offer an excellent opportunity for students to participate in student government.

Proficiency Tests Set For Tonight at 7

Make-up proficiency tests will be given tonight from 7 to 10:30 in North Hall 101-103. These proficiency tests will be given only to those students who have failed in any part of these examinations. No new examinees will be admitted at this time.

The following schedule and rules of procedure will be observed:

Doors will be opened at the beginning of the administering of each division only.

Reading Comprehension	7:00
Reading Vocabulary	7:30
Arithmetic Fundamentals	7:45
Arithmetic Problems	8:30
English	9:15
Spelling and Handwriting	10:00

The entire division of the test must be retaken in case of deficiency in any section of any division.

No advance appointment is needed. Appearance at the time scheduled above for the particular make-up division is the only major requirement.

Each student must see his department chairman or advisor and present evidence, on the blank provided for that purpose, of having prepared for his particular make-up divisions. This statement, signed by the department chairman or advisor, must be presented for admission to these tests.

Extension Course In Driver Safety Given

University of California Extension yesterday announced the scheduling of a course on "Procedures in Automobile Driver Training and Driver Education" to commence Feb. 28 for a series of 10 meetings.

Successful completion of this procedures course, plus the course on Safety Education and Accident Prevention, entitles the student to the Special Secondary Credential in "Public Safety and Accident Prevention Including Driver Education and Driver Training."

Extension officials emphasized that this course is not designed to teach people how to drive, but is a training program for teachers who will eventually conduct driving classes in high schools and adult schools throughout the state. Enrollment can be arranged through the U.C. Extension.

Chappy Bortz Named 'Barbary' Chairman

Louis "Chappy" Bortz was named temporary chairman of Santa Barbara Coast Carnival at a recent Legislative Council meeting.

Preliminary plans are now under way for the annual spring carnival. The UCSBC campus will be converted into a carnival scene for a weekend of festivity. Fraternities, sororities and other campus organizations will participate.

Anyone interested in being chairman or working as committee members in Barbary Coast should apply in the ASB office.

LOTS OF FUN for a serious purpose will be offered this week when Santa Barbara College students and alumni offer "Hit and Run of '53" at the Riviera Auditorium in memory of Lt. Tom Keen. This scene from "South-West Pacific" shows Gerry Cox as the object of avid interest by Bill Kindel, Arlan Welch, and Ed Monreal.

Remember to Check Book Exchange Stand

Students wishing to sell or buy used books should check the book exchange booth, located on the Men's Gym lawn. Those who want to sell books must use the form available and file them under the correct subject heading. The forms list address, phone number and price asked by seller.

Betty Woodhead, who is in charge, requested that forms be left in the file until after the book has been definitely sold by the seller. Then the seller should remove the card.

Betty hopes that more students will profit this year from the book exchange, which has been successful in the past.

Films, Letter Are Set for CCUN Meet

The UCSBC Collegiate Council for the United Nations will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. in the AWS Room. Scheduled for the meeting will be films of the recently flooded areas of Holland. Selections of representatives to go to the model UN meeting at Berkeley and reading of a letter from President Eisenhower urging student co-operation with the World Student Fund.

President Eisenhower urges "all who can do so to support the good efforts of the World Student Service Fund for assistance to the universities of Korea." Refreshments will climax the meeting.

New System in Use For Quad Bulletins

Attention is called to the Quad bulletin board for transportation notices. Notices of transportation offered or requested by students must now be filed on white index cards and placed under the direction or area heading. This system of classification is a new innovation by the Publicity Committee, under Garvan Kusky's direction. The system is designed to simplify and clarify transportation matters.

'Hit and Run' Show Starts February 19

The fourth annual production of "Hit and Run," under the direction of Dr. Theodore Hatlen, will be presented for three consecutive nights in the Riviera Auditorium starting Feb. 19 at 8:15 as a benefit performance for Tom Keen, former UCSBC student who was killed last year in an air crash in Alaska while serving with the U.S. Air Force. Among the 20 performers will be two of Tom Keen's friends, Ken Kellogg and Fred Goerner, who will return to the school to participate in the production.

"Hit and Run" this year will be comprised of 20 acts of music and skits, etc., with the general theme as a satirization of contemporary radio, television and cinema. Assisting Dr. Hatlen in the direction will be Dr. Edwin Schoell, as technical director, and Dr. Carl Zy-towski, as musical director.

The production is sponsored by the Associated Students with Theta Alpha Phi, dramatics honorary. Tickets will be available at the Graduate Manager's office, Roy E. Gammill Clothing Store and Western's Camera Shop, with prices at 60c for students and 90c for the general public.

Free passes to the dance will be issued to all students who attend the game. Others will be charged 25c at the dance. Student body cards will be needed.

Plans Under Way for College Day March 7

With College Day for high school seniors on March 7 drawing nearer, Pete Kane, student chairman of the Student-Faculty committee in charge, requests all students interested in acting as guides for the visiting students to notify him through his box in the student body office.

Registration of the visiting high school seniors will take place in the Quad at 10:15 a.m. under the direction of the Associated Women Students and Associated Men Students. At 10:30 a.m. they will be welcomed by Associated Students Vice President Pauline Byard. From then until 1:30 p.m. the visitors will be under the direction of the student guides.

Following the tour of the Riviera campus, the IA Club will furnish transportation to the Mesa campus where a review and movies will be presented. This will be followed by a Mesa "open house."

A social hour in the cafeteria at 4 p.m. will end the day's activities. Cokes and coffee will be served at that time.

Rushees pick up and answer invitations in the Panhellenic office, Pine Hall 101-A, where there is a master calendar of sorority events. Any girl wishing to withdraw from rushing must clear through this office. Bidding will take place on March 8, Sunday.

Author Appointed to Advise Library Staff

The appointment of Jay Monaghan, prominent author and Lincoln scholar, as consultant on the library staff at Santa Barbara College, was announced yesterday by Dr. J. Harold Williams, Provost. Dr. Williams explained that this was an appointment made possible by the donation of funds from the Wyles Library Board.

The William Wyles Collection at Santa Barbara College is one of the most complete collections on the Pacific Coast of material on Abraham Lincoln and the Western Expansion period in America.

"To have this well-known authority with us for a year will present unusual and varied opportunities for us to receive recommendations as to ways in which the Wyles collection may be of greater service to the college, community and university, as well as to the world of scholarship in general," Dr. Williams said.

Monaghan, who has commitments to complete two books for publication, will spend the remainder of his time for the next year working on the Wyles collection.

The Colleges and the Witch Hunt

The news that Dr. James B. Conant has accepted an appointment as High Commissioner to Germany comes at a most inopportune time as far as American colleges and universities are concerned. The former Harvard president is perhaps the most influential voice in the country in the matter of academic independence and freedom of thought. Dr. Conant is sorely needed to lead the resistance against the impending Congressional investigations which, to quote the New York Times, may whip professors and teachers into a dreary and disastrous mold of conformity.

Elmer Davis, a brilliant, acid-tongued foe of reaction, comments on the investigations far better than we could. He said in his ABC radio broadcast of Jan. 26:

"Dr. Conant would probably have been the best man in the country to lead the opposition to that movement; but since he decided to take this appointment overseas, he leaves us some pointed and pungent remarks about freedom of thought and inquiry. It is in a sense a compliment to a university, Dr. Conant says, when it is under attack, for that happens only when what professors profess is regarded as important. Nevertheless he observes that we must now fight for principles which 25 or 50 years ago were taken for granted—or indeed 172 years ago, when the Bill of Rights was adopted.

"Conant makes it clear that he is opposed to appointing Communists to any jobs in a school, college or university. He doesn't believe they have any at Harvard, either open or concealed. If there are any in any universities who are engaged in subversive activities, he hopes the government will ferret them out and prosecute them.

"But in so doing the government must not create an atmosphere in which professors would be afraid to speak freely on public issues. Outside of the classroom, says Dr. Conant, a professor speaks and acts as a private citizen. However wisely or foolishly he speaks—and there have been one or two Harvard professors who seem to most of us to have spoken foolishly—that is no concern of the university administration, provided he is not acting illegally as determined by due process of law—and Conant means due process.

"As for the charges that some professors hold unpopular political opinions, says Dr. Conant, the answer is of course they do, and why not? The freedom to disagree, to quarrel with authority on intellectual matters, to think otherwise, is what has made this nation what it is today, and what has made modern society what it is today. Modern society is far from perfect; but its best qualities are mostly due to men who said, 'Well, now is that true; and if so, why is it true?' Men who went ahead asking questions and thinking, and eventually found out something better.

"And Dr. Conant points out that the global struggle with Communism turns on this very point—the right to ask questions, to disagree, to investigate—something that Communism does not and dares not permit, but which has been responsible for most of what is best in the United States as well as in the rest of the world."

Mr. Davis turns here from a report of Dr. Conant's words to some of his own. He points out that if the Communists in this country were numerous and respectable, they would be right out in front leading this attack on the right to think and teach. But they are not numerous or respectable; and it is another group of Americans who have unwittingly taken over the job, performing a task for the Communists.

A few of them, says Davis, on the fringe, are genuine Fascists; they know what they are doing and why. More of them are politicians looking for power; they know why even if not what. And they get a great deal of support from people who are merely ignorant and frightened—people who are afraid, consciously and unconsciously, that if anybody is allowed to think, it will turn out that what they themselves have always believed is wrong.

It is easy for some of us, nestled in this little college in the sunny, lazy atmosphere of a small California city, to scoff at the alarm expressed by Dr. Conant and Mr. Davis. But we should be concerned, too. These vicious, irresponsible legislators, these circulation-hungry newspapers, these Jenners and McCarthys and Peglers—they represent a threat to the basic American right—freedom of thought. The butchering job they hope to do on academic freedom would eventually effect this school, this city and this society.

As Mr. Davis says—"We can win the world struggle against tyranny, provided we don't let these people—some of evil intention and some merely of little faith—turn us into a nation of dimwits and cowards."

UP ON THE HILL . . .

by Joe Costantino

Now that registration is over UP ON THE HILL . . . I have put my spies to work on the significant aspects of registration and have come up with some completely worthless information.

The registration books, plus other forms filled out during the registration period, have given me some excellent insights into student life, but since I do not wish to be sued for slander I shall omit names in reporting this information.

Some of the students are not completely aware of what was expected of them in filling in the various blanks on the forms. For instance, on the first card of the registration booklet is a blank requesting information of the person with whom you make your college residence, and that person's relationship. One student has entered in the first blank the name (deleted for obvious reasons) and in the blank for relationship he entered "Mistress." I don't think this is the type of information desired.

In another blank on this same card there is a blank preceded by "Major." This has also been misconstrued, for someone answered: "No, I was an enlisted man."

This same card has a blank requesting the age of the person. On many cards this blank is still blank. "P.L." is also found on this card and likewise caused some difficulty, for several persons answered, "Not if I can help it."

Other forms caused considerable difficulty. The enrollment cards which are filled out for each course have space on them for the listing of prerequisites completed for the course. The one card I especially noted was a card submitted for Advanced Dancing P.E. 26. It listed two years at the Follies as prerequisites completed.

Due to censorship rulings I am unable to divulge some of the comments I noted on cards for other P.E. courses including "Body Mechanics and Relaxation—P.E. 62," "Rhythmic Adaption—P.E. 64," "Lead Up Games—P.E. 67," "Creative Rhythmic Activities for Children—P.E. 68," "Recreational Sports—P.E. 69" and "Physiology of Exercise—P.E. 70."

I am likewise prevented from commenting on several cards submitted for Men's P.E. which is "Safety Education and Accident Prevention."

Have these courses been investigated? I am sure the Regents should be notified.

AS Gets Profits of Vending Machines

Around the campus will be found coke, cigaret and candy vending machines. According to Graduate Manager Bob Lorden it would be worth while for students to patronize these machines. The vending machines were purchased by the Associated Students for personnel convenience, because the bookstore and Snack Shop close early.

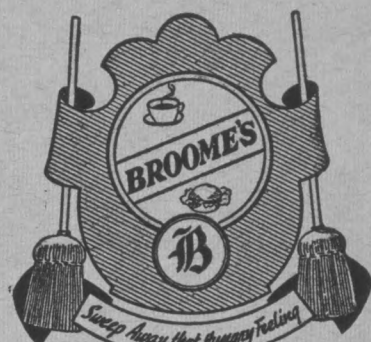

Also, the profits from these machines go directly into the student body treasury. By buying from these machines students are adding money to their treasury. Students are requested to use care in operating these machines and not do damage to them if they are not operating correctly, because student body money will only be lost in paying for repairs, according to Lorden. The Graduate Manager's office will handle all complaints.

Another coke machine for the West Hall area is on the way. Possibly more machines will follow in the future. The ones now in use are at the Snack Shop and in Eb-bets Hall.

The Santa Barbara College administration building was completed in 1928.

GAUCHOS PLAY WESTMONT TONITE

Wednesday, February 18, 1953 EL GAUCHO Page 3

Drop Games to Waves, 74-52 And Los Angeles State, 62-54

The upset fever was pretty common among California cage circles last weekend. But it missed the Gauchos. UCLA turned the tables against California Friday night and Stanford surprised USC Saturday night, but on both those nights, the Gauchos played true to form. They lost to Pepperdine, 74-52 Friday and 62-54 to Los Angeles State on Saturday.

Coach Willie Wilton's embattled crew, who have now lost 15 conference games in a row, step out of CCAA competition tonight when they meet the Westmont Warriors. This should prove to be some respite from the losing whims, since the Gauchos tagged the Warriors with a 64-57 loss earlier in the season.

But Westmont takes this cross-town series more seriously than the Gauchos do. They are very uncomfortable under the shadow of the SBC team, feeling that their tag as Santa Barbara's second basketball team is unjustified. They gloried in an upset victory over the Gauchos last season and would like nothing better than to do it again.

The game will be played at the National Guard Armory, starting at 8:15. Westmont will act as the home team and it's almost a certainty that, no matter what the basketball team does, the Westmont rooting section will make the Gauchos students look sick.

Hardly anyone expected the Gaucho cagers to come home after last weekend's trip to the Southland with two victories, but some of the more faithful did dream of a possible split. And it almost happened against L. A. State. After dropping a lop-sided contest to the Waves, the Gauchos bounced back and gave the Diablos a real battle.

The score was tied at 27-27 at

Local Cricket Club Seeks New Members

A local group of sportsmen, small in numbers but great in enthusiasm, has issued an invitation to any Santa Barbara College student who wishes to take part in that ancient and honorable game of cricket.

The local cricket club, which engages in matches with teams from Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena, is anxious to procure some "young blood" and hopes that SBC may serve as a source.

There are probably several students here who come from foreign countries (where cricket is played) and others from the U.S. (where it is not usually played) who are unaware that a cricket club exists in Santa Barbara.

Donald Berger, secretary of the local club, is available for further information at 636 W. De la Guerra, telephone 4118.

The season starts some time in April and practice starts about the middle of March.

half-time. With the score 52-48 and just five minutes left, the Gauchos appeared within striking distance of the leaders, but couldn't quite make it.

Ironically, it was a former Gaucho, Marvin Dennis, who proved to be the difference. His 14-point performance, tacked on to 18 markers by Team Mate John Barber, broke the SBC back.

After the Westmont game tonight, the Gauchos grab one night's rest and then travel to San Diego for a pair of games this weekend.

Santa Barbara College first became affiliated with the California Collegiate Athletic Association in 1937.

Plans Being Set For More Bowling

With the completion of a successful and highly competitive bowling league last semester, plans are already being laid for another double-barreled league. The coed league, with teams of two boys and two girls each, will begin at 6:30 Thursday evenings. The men's league will commence at 8:30 on the same night.

There are limited vacancies in the coed league and anyone wishing to enter a team or join one already partially formed may do so by contacting Dr. Ernest D. Michael in his P.E. office or Bill Faris, phone 2-3474, anytime during the coming week.

Bowlers who wish to practice may bowl at a reduced rate of 25c a line during the afternoon at the Barbara Bowl. The coed league will be on the usual handicap basis but a scratch league for the men is being contemplated.

Intramural Track Slated For Feb. 26

Track Coach Nick Carter announced that an Intramural Track Meet, an annual event at Santa Barbara College, will take place Thursday, Feb. 26 at La Playa Field. The starting time of the meet is 3:30 p.m. and entries will be accepted right up until the opening gun.

Carter emphasized the fact that the meet is restricted to "amateurs," no lettermen being eligible. The meet serves two purposes:

1. It gives athletes, both independents and members of campus organizations, the opportunity to compete on a level consistent with their talents.

2. It gives Carter a chance to spot any potential track team members.

The latter reason takes on added significance this year. There are only five track lettermen on campus this spring and the track team berths are wide open. Carter has issued an invitation to any track men to enter the intramural meet or contact him in the Men's Physical Education office.

Engle Begins Drills For Baseball; Eight Lettermen on Hand

Coach Roy Engle welcomed 29 candidates to Mesa Field last week as Santa Barbara College began baseball workouts. Eight lettermen from last year's CCAA co-championship team were on hand. The numeral winners are Pitchers Jerry McIlvaine, Bob Emirhanian and Duane Mittan; Infielders Gary Morris, Dave Townley and Bill Davis; Outfielder Dave Gorrie and Catcher Ray Knerr.

Engle faces a major rebuilding job. Gone from the squad are Catcher Roger Wilson, First Baseman George Mattias, Third Baseman Ed Wright and Outfielders Dick Gorrie, Al Cox and Corky Johnson.

But the returning lettermen give Engle a good nucleus with which to work. Shortstop Davis wound up the '52 season as the CCAA's second best batter (.425), its third best RBI producer (11), tied for first in runs scored (14), tied for second in total hits (17), tied for first in home runs (2), was first in doubles (4) and first in stolen bases (7).

Gorrie topped the league in runs batted in with 16, was fifth in runs scored with 10, fourth in hits with 16, tied for first in home runs with two and was third among league batters with .390.

In addition, Knerr clouted at a .324 clip to rank ninth in the CCAA.

Pitching may be the Gauchos' long suit this season. McIlvaine was the league's leading pitcher, along with San Diego's Dick Walker, with a 4-1 record. Emirhanian tied for fifth with a 3-2 mark.

Davis and McIlvaine were both on the All-CCAA team last year and Gorrie was named to the second team.

Spring Lectures Scheduled; Include Off-Campus Speakers

The spring series of free public lectures to be given by authorities on the faculty of Santa Barbara College and distinguished visitors was announced yesterday by Dr. Robert E. Robinson, chairman of the College Committee on Drama, Lectures and Music. This All-College Lecture series consists of 10 weekly lectures on a variety of subjects of interest to the public. Two speakers will be from other colleges. This series of Wednesday afternoon lectures will begin Feb. 25 and will be held at 4 p.m. in Pine Hall 100 on the Riviera campus.

The scope of the topics to be presented runs from the master-works of the violin to submarine earthquakes and from the unification of Western Europe to motion pictures in America. Two of the lectures will be of direct interest to the Spanish heritage of Santa Barbara, with David Scott, assistant professor of art at Scripps College and Claremont Graduate School and president of the California Watercolor Society, delivering a lecture on "The Character of Spanish Art," and Dr. Kurt Baer, associate professor of art at Santa Barbara College, speaking on "The Santa Barbara Mission as a Museum of Spanish Colonial Art." Both of these lectures will be illustrated.

A distinguished off-campus lecturer is Dr. Gustave O. Arlt, professor of Germanic languages and associate dean of the graduate division at the Los Angeles campus of the University of California, who will speak as an authority on folklore. This has been designated as a Provost's lecture.

Other fields to be represented in the series will include labor, literature and education.

These All-College lectures, which have been a traditional public activity at the college for several years, are offered as an educational and cultural activity for the community. Provost J. Harold Williams extends an invitation to the public to attend these events.

The complete All-College Lecture Series for the spring is as follows:

Dr. Gillespie Solos In Los Angeles

One of the soloists at a concert sponsored by the Los Angeles chapter of the International Society for Contemporary Music in Los Angeles last week was Dr. John E. Gillespie, assistant professor of music at Santa Barbara College.

Dr. Gillespie presented two selections on the harpsichord, Toccata by Ellis Kohs and DeFalla's Harpsichord Concerto.

Critic Albert Goldberg of the Los Angeles Times said of Dr. Gillespie's performance, "Ellis Kohs was lucky in the matter of performance, too, for his clearly written, fluent and slightly rhapsodic Toccata was given a thorough going over on the harpsichord by John Gillespie. . . . It was agreeable to hear DeFalla's Harpsichord Concerto played by Mr. Gillespie with full appreciation of its novel treatment of the instrument. . . ."

The term "college" was not attached to the institution now known as Santa Barbara College until 1921 when it became known as Santa Barbara State Teachers College.

Graduate Office Performs Services

New students on campus are reminded by Graduate Manager Bob Lorden that the office of the Graduate Manager serves the student body in a variety of ways. Two of the many services performed by the office are cashing checks for students and handling all ticket sales.

Desmond Kincaid Is Symphony Chairman

Desmond Kincaid, senior music major, has been named student committee chairman in charge of arrangements for the 13th annual performance of the All-California High School Symphony, scheduled for March 1 at the Lobero Theater.

This music festival has become more and more a part of Santa Barbara's cultural activities and has grown in importance and continued to provide incentive to high school musicians all over the state. Included in the 176-piece orchestra will be 12 students from the Santa Barbara High School.

The majority of the organizational details, as always, will be handled by other members of the student body at Santa Barbara College, with Maurice Faulkner, chairman of the Music Department, assisting in conducting the program.
