CAMPUS FINANCES MERGED

FOUNDER'S DAY PROGRAM HELD TOMORROW

By Marjorie Ballentine

With arrangements nearly completed for the ceremony tomorrow afternoon, the home economics department is preparing for the dedication of its new building, to take place as a part of the Founders' Day program.

All students and faculty members are cordially invited to attend the celebration, which will begin with a luncheon and program in the college dining hall at 12:30 tomorrow noon. Tickets for the luncheon are seventy-five cents. Those who wish to go may yet make reservations with Mrs. Miller if it is done this afternoon.

Although the program has not been definitely concluded, it is believed, according to Miss Charlotte Ebbetts, head of the home economics department, that Miss Maude Marchie, director of teacher training in home-making and a member of the state board, will speak. It is also possible that the superintendent of education of one of the cities will make a speech. Members of the original faculty of the college have announced their intention of being present, and are expected to make short talks.

Officials To Be Present

Following the luncheon, the dedication ceremony for the new building will take place at 2 o'clock at the main entrance on Alvarado Road. Dr. Charles E. Deuel, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, will pronounce the blessing. The formal presentation of the building will be made by state officials.

President Phelps plans to introduce a resolution passed by the student council to name the home economics unit Ebbetts Hall, in honor of Miss Ebbetts of the home economics department.

Alumnae to Attend

Concluding the events of the day, the Associated Women Students will hold their annual hi-tea from four to seven in the college dining hall. Invitations have been extended to women of the faculty, wives of the faculty men, friends of the college, and mothers of the students. Committees have been working on the tea for the past two weeks in the attempts to assure its success.

Former students of the college have evidenced a great interest in the Founders' Day program, and many plan to attend. Word has been received from Mrs. Ednah Rich Morse, founder of the college, expressing her desire that the ceremony should not be postponed because of the recent death of her husband, and wishing the college the greatest success in carrying out its plans.

There are several trophies for Inter Class sports in the trophy case that have not been competed for in the last two or three years. The Inter Mural Baseball and the Tennis cups could be competed for now.

GLEE CLUBS IN CONCERT TONITE, 8:30

Combined glee clubs of Santa Barbara State will present their annual home concert in the auditorium this evening at 8:30 o'clock. Ticket sales managers reported this morning that a large crowd of students and townspeople will hear the program.

A large and varied program, including both classical and popular music will be given by the clubs. Quartet numbers, solos, group numbers and other features will make up the entertainment which met with outstanding success before several thousand San Joaquin valley residents two weeks ago when the clubs made their annual advertising tour through that district.

The clubs presented the same program that it will give tonight in Hotel El Encanto last night before a large number of hotel guests and townspeople.

Tickets for tonight's event will be 40 cents for students and 50 cents for others. Proceeds from the affair will go to the glee club treasuries largely to meet expenses accruing from the advertising tour.

New Home Economics Unit Will Be Named After Miss Ebbetts

Approval of a movement to have the home economics unit named after Miss Charlotte P. Ebbetts, one of the founders of the home economics department and for many years associated with the college faculty, was made by the student body council yesterday, and the council's approval in the form of a resolution will be read tomorrow in the Founders' Day ceremonies by President Clarence L. Phelps.

S. B. Cards Required For Eagle and Dances

Student Body cards will be required to secure copies of next week's issue of the Eagle and to attend the next dance, it was announced yesterday by student body officials.

The Eagle will be distributed at the student body office in the Administration building. Those not presenting cards may secure copies at a cost of five cents.

Those not belonging to the student body and alumni will be charged 50 cents for admission to college dances hereafter.

Failure of a large proportion of students to pay the student body fee of ten dollars has caused the establishment of these rules, according to officers of the student organization.

Date For Clean-up Day Given by Pep Committee

Friday, March 28, has been set as the date for the annual Spring Clean-Up Day, it was announced yesterday by Miss Laura Breska, chairman of the Pep committee. Plans for the annual event are being made at the present time by the committee, and all details of the Spring cleaning will be given in later announcements.

Warning Concerning City Library Books Given by Dr. Maxwell

A warning concerning the use of city library books by college students was issued this week by Dr. William Maxwell, instructor in English and a trustee of the library. Students have been taking books from the library without presenting their library cards, according to Dr. Maxwell.

"This practice gives the college a very undesirable reputation," said Dr. Maxwell. "It has been carried on at times in the past and has caused no little criticism by library officials. Students who do this are committing a misdemeanor subject to a fine of $50 and in addition are jeopardizing the opportunities of other college students. The library spends from $10,000 to $15,000 a year on books, and it is no more than fair that students should abide by the few formalities it imposes."

STADIUM DEDICATED TO PRES. PHELPS IN PROGRAM ON FRIDAY

Dedication of Phelps Field, Santa Barbara State's new athletic field and stadium, will take place next Friday, it was announced this week by students and faculty members in charge of the field's development.

A program of ceremonies marking the stadium's naming and partial completion will be worked out next week.

The field will be named after and dedicated to President Clarence L. Phelps, through whose untiring efforts enough money was raised for its purchase and the completion of a large part of the work leading to a finished athletic equipment for Santa Barbara State.

Outing Club Trip Dated For May 1

Plans for the annual island excursion to be sponsored by the Outing Club on May 1 are being completed by club officers at the present time. Reservations may be made until Easter vacation but may not be made afterwards because only 100 students will be taken.

A building party will be given for the members on Sunday.

KAPPA DELTA PI INITIATES GROUP FORMALLY ON TUESDAY

Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary educational fraternity, will hold its formal initiation Tuesday night at six o'clock in the College Dining hall.

The entertainment will open with a song by the entire fraternity led by Schurer Werner. The welcoming address to the new members will be given by Mrs. Sara Arkley, and the reply from the newly selected group is to be given by Alpheus Lincoln.

The main feature of the evening will be a talk by President Phelps who will tell of his experience at the national convention

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY TO BE HIRED; EDITORS WILL BE APPOINTED BY BOARDS

WOMEN STUDENTS TO GIVE ANNUAL TEA

Being in a position for the first time since it was started in 1921 to hold the annual Hi-Tea in spacious surroundings, this year's event, which marks one of the high spots in Associated Women Students' social calendar, will be held in the new college dining hall, tomorrow, between 4 and 7 o'clock, according to Elizabeth Peacock of the A. W. S. executive board.

The Hi-Tea, which is a formal affair, is the big opportunity of the year for the women students to entertain the women faculty members, mothers of students, and friends of the college. In past years the event has been held at the home of the dean of women, except last spring when the Girl Scouts' clubhouse was thrown open to the A. W. S. "This year we feel particularly happy that we have a place on the campus in which we can hold our big social affairs," Miss Peacock said yesterday.

Each woman member of the faculty will have at her side a student specially designated to act as her hostess, to make introductions and serve refreshments. All women students will act as hostesses to their guests.

The program will consist of a group of musical selections. The Women's Glee Club will sing several numbers. A trio consisting of Inez Cash, Margaret Barnett, and Mary Louise Dye, will sing. William McDavid will play a flute solo, and Inez Cash will give a solo on the violin.

As the guests enter, they will be greeted by members of the Associated Women Students' executive committee, which is composed of Dean Mildred Pyle, Elizabeth Peacock, Virginia Weber, Laura Lou Houghton, Helen Nauman, Marlyn Jameson, Ann Hege-man, Dorothy Curtis, and Elizabeth Neblett.

PLAN EASTER SERVICE

Plans are being made by city churches and the Christian Endeavor Union for a College Sunrise Service to be held west of the Administration building Easter morning.

Sweeping changes in methods of financing the cafeteria, cooperative store and student body organization and in the election of editors for the two campus publications were announced this week by Llewellyn Goodfield, student body president.

Complete plans for the changes were approved by the student body council in a meeting held yesterday. They will be submitted to the student body in an assembly next Tuesday morning.

All finances of the cafeteria, cooperative store, and student body, representing the handling of more than $60,000 each year, will be placed in the hands of a paid executive. A committee, consisting of the college president, student body president, store committee chairman, and cafeteria chairman, will choose the executive secretary. He will act in accord with the constitution as interpreted by the student body president and the college president.

Old Customs Changed

Breaking away from a custom that has existed on the campus ever since the annual and the weekly were established, the editors of these publications next year will be chosen by an election board, which will be composed of the head of the English department, president of the student body, president of the college (chairman), men's club president, A. W. S. president, presidents of the junior and senior classes, and retiring editors of the publications.

These changes in student body government have been under consideration by student and faculty officials for several months, and through the efforts largely of President Phelps and Llewellyn Goodfield, student body president, they will become a reality.

St. Patrick's Dance Is Well Attended

A large crowd attended the Saint Patrick's dance held last Friday night, March 7, at Rockwood. The Irish motif was carried out in green shamrocks, green punch, a few green dresses and green ties on Irish patriots, to say nothing of the green freshment. A peppy orchestra, a good floor, an amiable crowd, and the usual spirit of levity contributed to the success of the occasion. In fact, many students have commented on the affair saying that it was one of the best dances this year.

ABOUT STUDENT DONATIONS

WE HEAR and see much in the present day and hour concerning the importance of an athletic field to a college, but no rah-rah assemblies and campus spirit shout into the skies concerning the relation of a library to the status of a college.

It is granted that a stadium, a place where citizens, students and visiting collegians can sit on concrete and marvel over the college spirit which created the Olympian imitations and incidentally watch a fairly good football game, is important to the college. All other colleges have them, so we must. That justifies them on the basis of popularity.

But when a college of 500 students in a more or less isolated city launches itself into a movement for modernization, the other factors of a college must not be forgotten. One of these factors, the library, really stands at the foundation of the college; without it there would be no college. A brief definition of a college might be: 1. People to learn; 2. Books to be used; and, 3. People to teach.

Santa Barbara State needs an athletic field, but it also needs new volumes on education, English, history, industrial education, home economics, and even physical education. Since student donations are being taken for the stadium, why not establish a library fund. There are many students who have contributed hard-earned money to the stadium campaign who have declared themselves willing to donate a similar amount to a library campaign.

SMOKING IN THE QUAD

JUST to let a few students know that the campus quad possesses an unwritten code, the Eagle suggests that smoking be discontinued in that section. Smoking is not prohibited on the grounds, but since there is some discretion involved it is suggested that the quad and also grounds about the elementary school be "no-smoke" zones.

EBBETTS HALL

THE decision of the student council to name the home economics building "Ebbetts Hall" in honor of Miss Charlotte P. Ebbetts, one of the founders of the department and a widely-known educator, is a fitting tribute to the life-long efforts devoted by Miss Ebbetts to the interests of Santa Barbara State.

CONCERNING FRATERNITIES AGAIN

PRINTED in this week's "Letters to the Editor" columns is a letter from an alumnae, now attending Mills College, concerning her reaction to the editorial recently published in the Eagle on the establishment of more fraternities on the campus.

The contributor makes a well-founded and constructive suggestion by advocating an increase in the fraternity and sorority memberships than an increase in the number of organizations. She advises the establishment of sorority and fraternity houses, declaring them helpful to both students and college.

It is the Eagle's hope that more student and alumni reactions and suggestions will be written in the popular endeavor continually elevate the standards of Santa Barbara State.

Yep! by Kenney

It pains me terribly to see these silly youngsters that are unable to forget their dear old high school days. They go about in sweaters done artistically in mauve and cream, the colors of old Bodifdy Union High or Saskatchewan Jaysee; with chests proudly inflated to show the monogram they won in chess or whatever. Such benighted laddies grieve my old heart, bowed down already with the griefs of the centuries. Wake up, little ones. You are at Santa Barbara State now and no one cares a fig for you or your high school achievements. Get wise, toss the offensive bit of wearing apparel in the farthest and darkest corner of the clothes closet and become a man among men.

And still I cry there ain't no justice. 'Twas only a few mornings ago that some of my fellow intelligentsia and I were carrying on a warm discussion of some weighty problem calculated to solve the troubles of the world and hasten the arrival of the millennium when the custodian of the books in our fair library descended upon us in hurt indignation and peremptorily urged us to cease our babble and take seats at tables remote from one another. And thus another one of those epoch-making ideas was nipped in the bud. And to add insult to injury I was roundly and soundly reprimanded by one of our beloved Industrial Education students who had evidently washed the grease from at least one ear else he had been unable to hear my earnest conversation. But imagine the colossal nerve of this upstart who never had an original idea in his life and whose only thoughts are for internal combustion engines or whatever it is i. e. men think about, if anything. Ah, me, alas and alackaday! The injustice of it all is driving to premature old age.

And now it comes to what passes for my mind that it is high time dear old State started to consider the possibilities of a band. God and Red Gillum willing, we shall some day have an athletic field the equal of any college of our size on the Coast, and what could be nicer than a Roadrunner band wheeling in graceful convolutions about the gridiron prior to the big football contest with Carpinteria High School or the Trojan Warhorse? Of course, there is the paltry item of expense to be considered, but what price sweet music? Think it over, good people, and write petitions or something.

And while I am on the subject of making suggestions I might as well comment on the lamentable fact that our jolly old Student Body treasury looks like Wall Street after the late unpleasantness. If some of youse blokes don't kick through with the requisite ten seeds in a hasty manner the Eagle will cease to exist and I won't be able to write a column telling people how much I adore them. (Shouts of merriment from the poor souls who feel forced to read every word of the paper because they get it with their S. B. card and crave their money's worth.) But all fooling aside, tragedy stares the Student Body in the face because of the slowness of the reactions on the part of the monied population. Come on, kick through, you didn't lose anything in the stock market.

The Sophomore men at the University of Washington are engrossed, in a beard-growing contest. Let's all boost such an event at dear old State. I'd like to view some of the efforts of aspiring young men. Nothing pleases me more than the scraggly beards of adolescent youths struggling to make themselves seen through the film of dirt. Personally I will start the contribution of prizes with a bottle of herpicide for the one that has the most dandruff at the end of a thirty-day period.

Spring, with all its possibilities for cutting afternoon classes to go swimming and the blossoming love affairs that bloom only to be blighted by the long drought of the summer vacation, is just around the corner. A few kites are dotting the cerulean blue of the heavens and other harbingers of the fairest season can be seen. The little birdies twittering in the trees, the little grasses poking bashful heads through the earth and all that sort of tripe.

Tra-la!

Some Other Guy—Postman: "Is this package for you, sir, the name is obliterated." Resident: "Shure man, it can't be for me, for me name is O'Reilly!"

Library Increases Fines On Due Books

Starting next Monday a fine of 25 cents per period will be charged on all books taken from the college library reserve shelves and not returned to the library by 9 a. m., according to Miss Elizabeth Wanzler, college librarian. Students have been keeping reserved books for much longer periods than allowed, causing the new ruling. Heretofore the fine has been five cents per period.

Advertising Plans Formed at Meeting

In order to make plans for an extensive advertising campaign, Charles Poore, recently appointed business manager of La Cumbre, called a meeting of the business staff at Casa de Seville. Plans for the 1930 edition of La Cumbre were discussed. It was decided that Poore was to be sent to Los Angeles this week-end to carry on business with the Webber McCray company. He has the plans for the cover and hopes that this house will be able to handle this business satisfactorily. The staff members also discussed plans for the inter-class pep contest which is to take place April 4. Those who attended the meeting included Charles Poore, business manager, Katherine Bishop, editor; Barbara Rowe, Ellsworth Carlston, Tad Foss, Dorothy Rust and Helen King. Carlston, Foss and Dorothy Rowe are now members on the staff.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor of the Eagle.

Dear Sir:

Last Thursday, as you know, the college projection committee gave a motion picture show to obtain funds to finish paying for the projection apparatus.

Possibly through insufficient advertising or misunderstanding the attendance was not large enough to completely pay for the apparatus.

There seems to be a misunderstanding on the part of some people regarding the use of the money taken in. All money obtained in this way is urged to pay first for the films and express charges on them and the rest is applied on the projection apparatus itself. Neither my assistant, Mr. Fred Olson, nor myself receive any pay. Some of the students who were selling tickets reported that many students when asked to purchase tickets refused to do so because they were under the impression the money collected was to pay only for the films and personal services of the people engaged in the projection work.

Machine College Property

I want it plainly understood that this projection apparatus when paid for will belong to the college and will not belong to any individual. As soon as the machine is paid for a very small carrying charge will be charged—possibly fifteen cents a month per person. This will be all that will be necessary for a month's entertainment. The apparatus must be maintained, good films rented, express and insurance for the return of the films to their agencies. In return we will be able to see the wonders of the world we live in.

We have a fine projection unit, are giving good projection and will present an outstanding show next Wednesday, March 19th at 7:30 in the college auditorium. Students and faculty members may see it for twenty-five cents, townspeople for fifty cents. Attend this show and help finish paying for this fine equipment. One more show and it is ours.

Yours for service,
William L. Rust.

Dear Editor:

I was very much interested in an editorial which appeared in your issue of March 1. It was concerning an increase in the number of Greek letter societies on the campus. Perhaps my opinion on the matter will be invalidated because I am an alumna of one of the groups. But my solution of the problem is not more fraternal groups, but a larger number within the group. I have been thinking this matter over ever since I left Santa Barbara, and it is my opinion that one of the places a society of that sort should take is that of "club," in that it should be able to support a "house." And in groups of the present size, and under the present conditions, that is next to impossible. The only houses that we ever had, have had to be given up. Could those conditions be changed?

Limit Is Raised

I am not taking my stand from the point of lessened prestige, but from the point of good accomplishment. The present three fraternities and five sororities take in the full range of personalities and activities. I am under the impression that since last year the fraternity limit of membership was raised to thirty, but that the sorority limit is still twenty members. Am I right?

I feel that with an increase in the number of groups there would not be the increase in cooperation that you hope for, but just a larger number with which the administration would have to work. With no increase in the number of groups, but an increase in the number within the organization, there would probably be smoother and more connected working.

But what I do wish in the way of an innovation, is that one of the local sororities would go national. The worth to the present national and to the locals cannot be estimated. We might compromise, and say that if a new group were formed, whether it be a fraternity or a sorority, that it be a national. If you will concede me that point, I will concede you yours.

An Interested Alumna.

The College Widow

Monday:

Recuperated enough from the Irish struggle to approach my alma mater with a more cheerful Monday disposition than usual. Walked up the steps of the quad behind Lucille Hall and Molly Cheroski. Lucille was telling Molly about a recent date:

Lucille: "He's from the University of Washington."

Molly: "But he has such a lumbering walk."

Lucille: "That's because he's a forestry student."

Molly: "Oh, I see, his limbs grow that way."

Watched Gates Foss, Mario Casoroli, Mr. Griffin, and others unload their cars of the weary Hill-climbers. Last bell rang and I was late again for first period class.

Shakespeare — 2nd Period: Learned that Shakespeare said, 300 years ago, "Sweet lovers love a Spring." The truth of the master-poet's words is shown each day as students stroll around the campus basking in the sunshine and gentle March breezes. I passed one couple the other day and heard the poor boy all bestirred with romantic phrases trying to get a like response from fair lady: Bob Kennedy: "My heart flames with a blazing fire." But the damsel was unmoved: "Don't be a fuel," was all she said.

Noon: My hunger appeased, I strolled forth to philosophize on the doings of the day. A group around the coop was trying to argue Elwood Grady out of the Scotch idea that there is no such thing as free love. Elwood was standing his ground pretty well.

Another group was discussing the styles. Dotty-May Gibson revealed her dumbness on the subject by saying that she thought a microbe was the correct apparel for a radio announcer. But that wasn't as bad as High Barnett—he thought a neckerchief was the president of a sorority.

Tuesday:

Worried about my grades — wondering if I'd been studying too much or not enough, so I decided to ask my profs. Imagine my chagrin when they whispered sweet nothings in my ear. All the consolation Sally Smith would give was "Absence makes the marks grow rounder."

It was 10:15. Dr. Jacobs had just imparted to the third period class the merits of being punctual. Climax—In rushed "Sparky" Pollard. And all the time Dr. Kenney was playing with the goldfish.

Déan's meeting: Parted with Hercules long enough to attend assembly. Didn't know what took place because I spent the time trying to console Grace Olson—her boy friend was an iceman this summer and the big bum gave her the cold shoulder.

Wednesday:

....Slowly—Oh, so slowly, the week is passing. Why do they put week ends so far apart. Ed Ellison told me this morning that a certain coed is only a candy manufacturer's daughter but she knows her suckers.

English, 1st period: Dr. Maxwell asked Cecil Hickman to punctuate this sentence: "Mary was a good looking girl and she was all alone." "Cece" replied, "I'd make a dash after Mary."

Dr. Maxwell asked Whitelaw Birss to define "pedestrian," and the bright young chap replied, "A pedestrian is a man who has a car, and a son who is a college student."

Whoopie! At date for the Glee Club Concert! I wonder if Marty Bredsteen will put on his little curtain act for us—the one he used on the tour.

Thursday:

Walked all the way to school today, but I met Dorothy Dowling, and if you know Dorothy you know that she knows almost everyone in Col. Well, we talked all the way to school—and what I didn't find out—well—Dot told me that Margaret Doig told her that she said no to seven men last summer. I wonder what they were selling.

Thursday being my easy day—Hercules and I went riding. And you'd be surprised how many great mnds wandered into the same channels and how many couples drove out on the same roads. My only regret was that I left my notebook at school and couldn't remember the names of all I saw. But anyway — nine times out of ten a fork in the road meant a spoon.

Friday:

As I handed my copy in to the editor, Ben Romer was trying to convince him of the worth of his poetry. Ben: "I have written a marvelous little poem on the sea." "Oh, you have"—said the editor, not looking up, "I'm going down on Saturday, and I'll take a look at it."

And in the next carriage came the flowers.

Eddie Davens to be Sole Candidate For Dramatic Director

Eddie Davens, prominent in campus dramatics for the past year, will be the only nominee for the position of drama manager, it was learned yesterday when the student council was informed that Miss Alvetta Van Tuyle, the only other candidate was ineligible because she is taking insufficient units of study to qualify. Davens will probably be nominated before the student body next week.

SCHOLARSHIP AVERAGES TAKEN FOR SORORITIES

Pi chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon, national social sorority, led the five women's social Greek Letter societies on the campus for scholarship during the past semester with an average of 1.9.

Delta Zeta Delta and Phi Kappa Gamma tied for second place with a 2.2 average. Alpha Theta Chi came next with a 2.08 average, followed closely by Tau Gamma Sigma with an average of 2.09.

Jocelyn Kelley, Delta Zeta Delta, and Grace Shorkley, Tau Gamma Sigma, made the highest averages among the sorority women with marks of 1.4. Dorothea M. Peterson, Delta Sigma Epsilon, and Anita Cochran, Tau Gamma Sigma, tied for second highest honors with averages of 1.5.

YEP!

"I've heard that one before." Ain't it great to write a column And sit up late at night, And scratch your wool And shout your bull, And write, and write, and write? And it doesn't matter how I Scrape my fingers to the core, Some poor benighted boob will pipe, "I've heard that before."

Women students are joining the Tuesday and Thursday night swimming classes being held in the city plunge on West Cabrillo boulevard. Under the instruction of Miss Van Fossen, instruction is being given in Red Cross Life Saving tests, and advanced swimming is being taught. Points towards W. A. A. membership are given for participation in the swimming classes. Additional women are being sought by the instructors to keep the number of participants large enough for continued use of the plunge facilities. Fee for the course is 25 cents each night.

Pictures of the basketball teams were taken yesterday for La Cumbre, the yearbook. Under the direction of Virginia Weber, pictures of all women's athletic teams are being secured at the present time. Notices for the "shots" are made through the mail boxes.

Plans for an A. W. S. edition of the Eagle for the Play Day to be given by women students of the college for 200 girls of high schools and colleges in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties are being considered by members of the athletic association and the general women's organization.

Sixty-four Attend Senior Breakfast

Heads of the various departments spoke to the members of the senior class at their breakfast last Sunday morning in the college dining hall. A brief word concerning applications for positions was spoken by Mrs. Abraham, also giving information concerning the filing of recommendations with her in her office and also the filing of six application pictures with her.

Howard McKibben, class president, introduced each of the speakers who were Mrs. Crosswell, Miss Ebbetts, Dean Pyle, Dean Ashworth, Dr. Jacobs, President Phelps. Overly sixty-four people were present for the breakfast. Plans were also discussed for an act in the Inter-Class Vodevil and chairmen named.

J. H. S. To Present "Treasure Island"

The Junior High School Dramatics Club under the direction of Robert Wormser has begun rehearsals on its semi-annual production, "Treasure Island," by Robert Louis Stevenson, has been chosen to be presented some time in May. Because of the length of the play, a special hour will be set aside in order that the college students may witness the entire performance. As an added attraction the Elementary and Junior High School orchestras will play.

NOPE!

Yep! Here's one dedicated to Kenney and his famous line of chatter, Yep! My idea of blank verse Is Kenney in a hearse Drawn by a wooden horse And Kenney dead of course; The Pallbearers all drunk, The services the bunk— Any no burying ground So off to the dog pound Or some place undiscovered yet, Lay Kenney and his awful column Yep!

It's a pretty picture of the college widow, too. Of course, you can't go much by pictures. But then no one seems to know who she is—maybe that's why she is still a wide. And then—

The other day we heard "Spud" Sawyers telling a certain blonde admirer (?) how really collegiate he was and suddenly we saw his garter fall. Well—anyway—

Here's Charley Huber's latest soliloquy on love: My Bonnie lies—not over the ocean, My Bonnie lies—not over the sea, My Bonnie lies whenever she takes a notion, And always—Oh always to me.

Mr. Bill Rust, late of Hollywood and now associated with the I. E. Dept. has signed a contract with Prof. W. W. (won't work) Peters to make Sound Pictures for a new picture company. Pete has organized "100 per cent Unsound Pictures Corporation."

The first picture will be an all-color, all-dialogue story of the elusive Bull Frog, the scenes of which were shot around the pond and athletic field. We'll give a partial synopsis of this fascinating thriller in our next column. Watch and wait!

And talking about sound pictures—with this new ground course in aviation coming in—I understand that they are going to give a course in "Underground Living" next year in the Home Ec. Dept.

If any of these birds taking the course ever get up in the air—it won't be safe on the ground any more for the rest of us.

Not only that but with the remaining few men of the campus out digging up the golf links it's hard to say just what will happen to this quiet, sonambulating (?) city of the Barbarians.

And then another little ditty— Little drops of water, Little crumbs of bread, Make dancing in the cafeteria Feel like one is dead.

And as we would say in French—that is, if we were French—but not being French, I guess we can't say it.

BIRDS-I-VIEW

By Larry Parma

With the inter-class meet coming off next week, the campus is mildly inquisitive as to the probable results. The winning team is rather hard to pick. With five places in each event, the sheer weight of numbers of the Frosh is bound to help them more than ever. Besides that, they have some good material. The Sophs, who tied with the Juniors last year for first place, have lost many point winners but are probably right now the strongest squad. The Juniors might win, but the Seniors are way out of the running, with all due respect for their beards, hoary with age.

They'll probably finish: 1. Sophs, 2. Frosh, 3. Juniors, or perhaps 1. Frosh, 2. Sophs, 3. Juniors, and then again ten will get you twenty that the final score will be 1. Juniors, 2. Sophs, 3. Frosh.

Individual winners are easier to pick with an even chance of selecting the right man. Providing the following men compete they should come out first. Of course, you must remember I picked Dempsey twice against Tunney, Chicago in the last World Series, and State to beat Cal Christian, but vice versa I had a hunch the Eagles would trim the Palookas.

- 100 yards.....Winters, Junior
- 220 yards.....Winters, Junior
- 440 yards.....Hickman, Junior
- 880 yards.....Tubbs, Soph.
- 1 Mile.....Eckhart, Frosh
- Two Mile.....Tubbs, Soph.
- High Hurdles.....Neidermuller, Jun.
- Low Hurdles.....Tinkle, Senior
- Shot Put.....Foss, Senior
- Pole Vault.....Schuyler, Soph.
- High Jump.....Winters, Junior
- Discus.....Denno, Senior
- Javelin.....Denno, Senior
- Broad Jump.....Winters, Junior
- Relay.....Juniors

Still feeling in that picking streak, the following all-star intramural basketball team is offered.

- F.—Floyd "Snapshot" Kenny, Eagles.
- F.—Larry "Loopshot" Parma, loud and prolonged jeering from "Highpoint" Grady.
- C.—Leon "Lucifer" Trimble, Lager Beers.
- G.—Ned "Punch Drunk" Porter, Palookas.
- 1st substitute—"Slopshot" Delaney, Beers.

History was made when the challenge of the Lager Beers was flung into the teeth of the world from this column. Now perhaps more history is being made as another defy is hurled forth. This time four local sportsmen representing a campus organization, claim the parchesi championship of the college, and are prepared to defend it against all comers. The only stipulations are that the opposing four man team be representing another organization.

Now, perhaps this may seem funny to you, and call forth loud guffaws, but it really isn't. Parchesi is a thrilling game combining the best points of bridge, checkers, chess, quots, dominoes and indoor baseball. Brains, concentration, and strategy are needed to play it as the champions do. After all it requires more skill than craps-shooting and matching pennies. And just so the pecuniary interest will not be missing, and so the old

ART STUDENTS TO HOLD SUPPER TONIGHT AT 5:30

Members of the art department and their invited guests will hold a pot-luck supper at five-thirty this evening in the art building. At the close of the meal the group in a body will attend the Glee Club concert.

The supper arrangements are in the hands of Doris Stanley who is assisted by a committee. Mrs. Crosswell, head of the department, will be the guest of honor. About forty members plan to attend the affair.

WOMEN WILL HOLD ANNUAL PLAY DAY

Several hundred girls from secondary and higher schools of the county will attend the affair, which will open at 9 o'clock with registration.

The program for the day follows: 9:00 to 9:30 a. m.—Registration. 9:30 to 9:45 a. m.—Assembly. 9:45 to 12:00—Sports. 1:00 p. m. to 3:00 p. m.—Sports. 3:30 p. m. — Awarding of prizes.

LONE MAN TAKES A STAND EAGLE GETS EXCLUSIVE DOPE CO-ED MAJORITY 'HELPFUL'

Being the only man in a large class of women does not hold the terrors of Amazonian domination that it may seem, in fact, it is rather an educational and pleasurable situation to Ralph Jameson, upperclassman, who yesterday granted an Eagle representative an interview on the equal rights question.

"It makes me realize why old King Solomon wanted many wives," "Jamey" told the aspiring reporter. "Philosophically speaking, it stimulates the egoism to be surrounded by feminine beauty and intelligence."

When asked concerning the chances of a lone man in a class of collegiate co-eds, "Jamey" said, "Even the realization that the woman must always have the last word can not take away the exhilaration of matching wits and thrills and human interest will be there, the Champs will play for large, small, or medium sized side bets, and all of the net gate.

Anyone willing to be shown up by the grand masters of the game communicate with the sports editor, who will be glad to arrange the time, place and weapons.

Both singles and doubles will be played.

VARSIITY AWARDS IN BASKETBALL ARE ANNOUNCED

Letter winners in State College varsity basketball have just been announced by Coach Hal Davis. Seven players and Manager Charlie Illenstein will receive awards denoting participation in Roadrunner athletics.

Players to receive letters are Captain Ray Denno, running guard and center; Bert Clemore, forward; Walter Barnett, forward; Art Trumbull, guard; Gates Foss, guard; Francis Williams, forward and guard, and Fred Imes, guard.

Five of these men are seniors and have played their last basketball for the State college. Only Imes and Barnett will be back for next year's five. The season just passed marks the second year that Ray Denno has been captain of the Roadrunner quintet.

Players for the freshman team who have been named by Coach Luke Trimble as winners of numerals are Nelson Treloar, guard; Lorenz Greeson, forward; Paul Hopkins, guard; William Pensinger, forward; Ellsworth Carls-ton, forward; Elwood Grady, center; Robert Hughes, guard; George Greenough, center; Frank Hobbs, forward, and Walter Powers, forward.

thoughts, of seeing if I can not force them to accept my opinion in preference to the one which they wrongly hold."

Classroom Digressions

After a barrage of questions, Jameson finally broke down and admitted that his mind automatically wandered during his social isolation. "Sometimes the instructor will make an important point and I will suddenly become aware of the fact that I had been wondering how a woman a few seats from me could keep her hair done up as nicely as she does. Or, why some women can not seem to realize that all men do not prefer them with such obvious make-up."

That he sometimes puzzled over feminine tactics was divulged in his next remark, made by Jameson just as he settled back in class after the first bell and as the reporter was pressing him for more of a philosophical angle on the situation. "Women are complex creatures," he said. "They insist that the feminine sex ought to stand together, but did you ever try to get a group to agree with perfect accord? At that, you may have tried."

As the last bell sounded he confided, "But, in all sincerity, being the only man in a class of women is very interesting and worthy of the experience."
