Primary Department Program Theme Is 'The Old Woman in the Shoe'

MUCH TALENT SHOWN

Solos, Tap Dances, Tumbling, Choric Speeches Feature Varied Program

Kindergarten - primary department members presented their annual program at the student body assembly yesterday, second hour, using as their theme, "The Old Woman in the Shoe."

The stage-set was an enormous shoe and a flower garden, where, as the curtain opened, the many children were playing. Games were broken up by fighting and the Mother sent her charges to bed. Later they came back to sing and dance till again discovered by their parent, who was played by Ardis Hendry.
Solo Featured

A marimba solo by Miriam Turton, entitled "The Old Woman in the Shoe," was the first musical number. "This Little Pig Went to Market," was sung by Dora Johnson. A group dance, "Jack Be Nimble," and a group song and dance about, "Old King Cole," followed. Miriam Turton, Jane Goslin and Verna Fisher did a tap dance. "Little Dog Gone," was the next song by the singing young-

Tumbling was done by Milicent Lincoln, Isabel Scott and Dorothy McNall. Miriam Gragg vocally boarded "The Good Ship Lollypop." Two numbers, "The Cupboard" and "Happiness" were recited by the choric speech group. (Continued on Page 4, Column 1)

Official Delegates Journey to Aztec Campus for Fall Conference

Santa Barbara State college will again be host to delegates of the Southern California Collegiate Press association at the spring meeting, was the decision made at the fall conference held Friday at San Diego.

The staff of El Gaucho, aided by Alpha Phi Gamma, entertained representatives from colleges and junior colleges throughout Southern California last fall on the campus at the semi-annual event.

Estimate Places Number of Santa Barbara Rooters at 1,000 Mark

210 TRAVEL BY TRAIN

Cowbells and Serpentine Add to Spirits of Staters in Cheer Section

By NORMAN BECCHIO

The largest contingent of State rooters ever to follow a Gaucho football team proved their support of this team by their spirit in pregame activities and their unyielding support in defeat last weekend in San Diego.

The most conservative estimate places the number of Santa Barbara rooters at the game at 1,000 persons, who, augmented by a large number of alumni throughout Southern California, went south by train, car and airplane. 210 Fans on Special

There were 210 fans on the Southern Pacific special, which was made up of a buffet car, diner, observation car and four coaches When the train arrived in the Aztec city, a parade headed by the band, marched to the San Diego hotel Gaucho headquarters.

Twelve dozen cowbells and 3,200 rolls of serpentine added to the spirit of the rooting section. During the half, the Aztec Freshmen won a push-ball contest from the Sophomores, and the San Diego section presented several card stunts.

Football Finis

The theory of good sportsmanship continually held before those who participate in competition of any nature is a highly-lauded subject, but it requires a definite instance to prove the practicability of such a theory. The San Diego-Santa Barbara State football game which took place last Saturday stands as an example.

With constant pressure brought to bear upon the 1936 eleven during the past week and the entire season, the Gauchos went into the championship battle as the finest team ever to wear the green and white for Santa Barbara. Though defeated 9-8, the Gauchos returned from the fray still titled "the finest team to represent State.

Let us say that the "breaks" went against them. Let us say that they came up against odds too strong for them. Let us say that they lost the Southern California championship by a close margin. But let us say also that from the kickoff to the final gun, the Gauchos fought the hardest battle of their career to justify faith in themselves, and the trust and confidence placed in them by fellow-students and townspeople.

One thousand persons witnessed the game in the Aztec stadium. While stunned by defeat and disappointed to a certain extent, these same fans stood by the team as they have done during the season, and as they will continue to do as long as football is played.

To Coaches "Spud" Harder and Willie Wilton go congratulations on a team of which we may justly be proud; a team who, with eight straight wins to their credit, fought valiantly against the Aztec squad, in a game that has been played and replayed by spectators and "Sunday morning quarterbacks" throughout the coast.

With the selection of Howard Yeager as the most valuable man, and Doug Oldershaw as honorary captain. Santa Barbara's official 1936 competition draws to a close, with but one remaining game, a benefit with New Mexico State on Christmas Day, left to play. The same crowd of fans that has "Followed the Gauchos" since the first game of the season will again turn out to see the team again in action for the last time this year.

The San Diego game is over. Down in the annals of collegiate history will go the November 21 contest, and the pages closed until, in 1937, the Gauchos again take the field against the Aztecs. Played primarily for the love of clean fun and competition, football as entered into by the Santa Barbara Gauchos with their spirit of cooperation and sportsmanship, and their "dollar's worth of pigskin," is finished for a time, or until next year, when the King of Sports once more comes into its own in the sport spotlight.

Downtown Attitude

This is an example of many letters received by El Gaucho from various citizens. It is reprinted for the benefit of all those interested. EDITOR EL GAUCHO:

In the words of the illustrious box-fight manager Joe Jacobs, waz robbed."

As yet I've seen no pictures of the highway robbery in San Diego, but I did see the game with two perfectly good eyes aided and abetted by a pair of "see-away" glasses, and unlike one or more of our alleged sports writers I did not think the game was lost before the start in the dressing room. To my way of thinking and abetted by a pair of "see-away" glasses, and unlike one or more of our alleged sports writers I did not think the game was lost before the start in the dressing room. To my way of thinking, and I am joined in that by hundreds of others, the game was not lost a-tall, regardless of the opinion of experts (?).

Now let's go back a year when Santa Barbara played San Diego before, what happened then? The same identical thing that happened this year except that last year the officials only nullified one touchdown which this year they took two.

Poor losers sez you. Oh yeah? Well if I get stuck once that's the other chap's fault but if I get stuck twice by the same chap that's my fault. And the same applies to this football controversy over San Diego. Hence this protest for the boys. Why do you suppose every one had a feeling before we went down that there was danger of being robbed? For the simple reason that we had been there before. To that end the team planned to get the jump on them at the start in order to have one touchdown on ice before any dirty work could start. It caught the officials napping, but only for a minute and then—blooie, goodby touchdown.

How in Sam Hill could that field judge running up the field beyond the middle stripe (and I saw him) see the clipping back on the 25 yard line and why did one Aztec "and I saw him too) go over to the official and point back to the line where the alleged clipping took place? If the official had on a pair of "see-back-of-you" glasses I failed to see them. Clipping? That was a football game not a sheep shearing contest, And that touchback (safety) netting us 2 points—just when did Sid Gardner join the Aztec team? For it was he who held the ball back of their goal line when bighearted Tunney gave us 2 points and took 4 away. Oh, a whistle blew before the Aztec fumbled sez you. A thousand interested persons can testify that if any whistle blew it was a mess call on a battleship in the harbor.

Now here's another thing—just who said the conversion was no good? It

So—we townspeople are burned up over the way our boys have been treated. We understand that it is not ethical for the college to squawk, but how about the citizens? Here we have supported the team all year, have gloried in the splendid playing of every one of them, have grown to love these fine chaps—are we going to take it laying down? I don't believe in that method. I believe that the citizens should get up in arms and protest the unjustness of the decisions which robbed our boys of a well earned victory and the conference champion—ship.

Hard losers? Bah.

Yours in disgust.

Maybe we only did take a small band, but they sure sounded a heck of a lot better than that Aztec swing band. Speaking of bands, we would like to know the reason why some of our band men missed the train Saturday night?

It seemed to me that the townspeople were the ones that were exhibiting the so called college spirit and the spirits. Darned commendable I calls it.

I guess all we have to look forward to is the band tour. That is always a lot of fun though, specially Fresno.

Modern efficiency huh? The Lambournes chartered a special airplane so that they would be sure to get to the game on time and then were a half an hour late. It sure looked nice though to see that yellow plane circle the field after the kickoff.

Was it a coincidence that the orchestra at the dance was dressed in referees' uniforms?

Radio Ranglings

We're sorry about the Hollywood hotel announcement last edition. Our bulletins got mixed up. This Friday, at any rate, Charles Boyer will do scenes from his new picture, "Garden of Allah." It is another technicolor.

Eddie Cantor's gag-man deserves a medal for his program last Sunday. It is one of the best he has had for many months. We just hope he keeps it up. We don't mean we hope he keeps on losing the script, but keeps on writing good programs.

It is rumored that Kenny Baker, of Jack Benny's program, is going to be the lead in a musical, "The Great Crooner." We hope he gets it because we would like to see as well as hear him.

Helen Hayes has been awarded the Radio Stars Magazine award for Distinguished Service to Radio for her work in Bambi. The program is much better material for Miss Hayes' talent than was The New Penny, her program last year. Radio would certainly be much improved with more actresses of her caliber working for it. The program comes on Monday nights at 5:00 over the National hook-up.

Aztecs Defeat Gauchos 9-8 in Close Game

Yeager Runs Ninety Yards on Opening Kickoff Only to Have it Called Back

GARDENHIRE GOES OVER

State Scores Moral Victory and Still Considered Better Team

Passing their way to a touchdown and kicking a field goal in the second quarter of the game, the Aztecs of San Diego State college managed to eke out a 9 to 8 victory over the Gauchos of Santa Barbara State in the Aztec Bowl last Saturday afternoon.

Putting the Big Green in the hole at the start of the game with a kick that went out of bounds on the one yard line, the southerners held the upper hand during the entire first half. Statistics show that the Gauchos made only three first downs to six for the Aztecs in this period.

Run Called Back

Howard Yeager supplied the biggest thrill of the afternoon when he grabbed the opening kickoff and returned it 90 yards for a touchdown, only to have it called back because of a clipping penalty. Yeager, standing on his own but the referee, Jim Tunney saw 10 yard line, received the ball and started like a streak up the center of the field through a gaping hole that had been cleared by his team mates, at about the 25 yard line he cut over to his left, and was off to the races with no one able to lay a hand on the speeding halfback.

Thwarted in their attempt to have Howie score on the opening kickoff, the Gaucho attack bogged down and failed to produce anything spectacular during the rest of the quarter. With the ball in Santa Barbara's territory most of the time the Gauchos were on the defense while the Aztecs were constantly knocking at the goal line with potential scoring drives. Midway in the opening stanza, John, Twaddell was taken out of the game with an injured leg.

San Diego's Drive

San Diego's first score came as a result of a drive up the field to the Green and White five yard ing man on the field, while Morline. The Big Green came back in the third quarter, and after a sustained drive down the field featured made them look like a junior high by repeated gains by Yeager and Gardenhire, put the ball on the play for the national championfour yard line. Gardenhire blasted his way through the secondary of the Aztecs to score. Passing in Keview By TED JOHAM

Well, after seeing that game at San Diego last Saturday I think that I'll take up some nice clean sport such as "rasslin" or politics. Jim Tunney certainly made a hit with the 1,000 Santa Barbarans who went to the game; he managed to keep his slate clean of giving anything to the Gauchos that they could use. Incidentally Tunney was one of the officials that hooked the Frosh at Ventura on Armistice Day against the cadets of Black Foxe

I'd like Tunney to explain just why when Gardner recovered an Aztec fumble across the goal line there wasn't a touchdown scored? From where the Santa Barbarans were seated that conversion kick of Oldershaw's looked mighty good.

Without a doubt Howard Yeager was the outstanding back on the field and if he ever deserved All-American honors he sure rated them on his performance in the Aztec stadium. Had that opening kickoff runback for a touchdown been allowed, the Gauchos would still have been scoring touchdowns against a bewildered "Dago" squad. Howie got the best ovation ever given to any Stater when he was carried off the field in the last quarter; even the San Diego rooters united to give him a lusty Participate in Meet cheer.
