UCSB HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

Well over 1500 visitors are expected to converge on the campus at the University of California, Santa Barbara on Saturday, Nov. 12 for an annual open house.

Formerly "College Day" and held during the Spring semester, this event is now "University Day" and scheduled earlier in the year in order to give prospective university students from all over the state as well as their parents, counselors, and friends an early preview of life on the thriving UC campus.

On Hand

UCSB now boasts over 3500 students, offering a strong undergraduate curriculum in the liberal arts with expanding M. A. program and opportunity to earn various teaching credentials. Representatives of all academic departments will be on hand during "University Day" to advise students. Administrative personnel will also greet visitors and answer questions regarding admissions, housing, scholarships and loans, summer session, and special courses of study.

The "University Day" Committee headed by Prof. Ralph K. Nair, assistant director of Relations with Schools on the Santa Barbara Campus has announced a full program of events for the day.

Registration

Registration begins at 9:30 A.M. in the classroom building patio. Refreshments will be served by volunteer hostesses who are university students and student guides will conduct walking tours of the campus. Bus tours will also be available for those who wish to get an over-all look at the 408-acre Pacific Ocean site. Highlights of these tours will include the showing of modern residence halls facilities, a chance to visit permanent new buildings, particularly the arts building, Robertson Gymnasium, and the new music building. The campus art gallery will be open and will feature an exhibition of drawings by the well-known contemporary artist, Rico Lebrun.

Luncheon will be served in Ortega dining commons for 85 cents. UCSB faculty members will sit at tables with prospective students, informally answering questions and discussing college life during the noon hour. An afternoon assembly in the campus auditorium will feature musical entertainment and visitors will meet university officials and personnel deans. Guests will be officially welcomed by Dr. Samuel B. Gould, UCSB chancellor.

High school and junior college students of organizational groups who plan to attend this 12th annual "University Day" may obtain further information through their school counselors or by writing to: Office of Relations with Schools, University of California, Santa Barbara, University, California.

NATIONAL POLLS CLOSE, AMERICA GOES KENNEDY

Job Interviews Now Occurring

According to the placement office, interviews will be held for governmental and industrial positions during this month.

Dr. Donald Phillips of Stanford University will be interviewing students interested in doing graduate work at the Stanford Graduate School of Business, Monday, Nov. 14. Specific majors are not required, making it possible for anyone to apply for an appointment. Catalogues describing the school and its program may be obtained at the Placement Office.

Bank Careers

Students interested in banking careers and with one year of accounting may speak with Mr. Lawrence L. Marshall of the Security First National Bank of Los Angeles. Any senior or graduate student with an economic or industrial management major, or liberal arts majors with the one year of accounting may apply. Mr. Marshall will be on campus Monday, Nov. 14.

A special program, open to undergraduates and graduates, is the American Institute of Foreign Trade program, from Thunderbird, Phoenix, Ariz. Again, no requirements are specified, and overseas programs are available. Mr. Amalio Suarez will be on campus, Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Civil Service

Mr. Fred Baker and two other interviewers will be here Tuesday, Nov. 15 to speak with students interested in Federal Civil Service. Any and all majors may apply.

Another opportunity for students interested in a banking career will be Mr. William B. Denton of the Bank of America, who will speak to students, Wednesday, Nov. 16. A year of accounting is preferred, but not required, and overseas positions are also available. Also on Wednesday, the Prudential Insurance Company, represented by Mr. Paul McEwen, will interview students interested in the sales and management field. Further information regarding this interview may be obtained from the Placement Office.

Faculty Poll Results Compared With Student, National Choices

The polls are closed the Duke, Princeton, Cornell, Trinity and the University of Texas all voted similarly.

On the other side of the political fence we find Harvard and University of Texas going for Kennedy.

As most other students know, here at UCSB Nixon won with a 296 vote margin. We are in good company, as

Faculty Poll

Besides the Student Mock Election, a poll was taken among the faculty by the members of psychology 145 class. The primary purpose of this poll was to obtain information regarding a large population and then to test the efficacy of various sampling techniques. Between 85-95% of the faculty responded with the following results:

S. B. Symphony Concert Plans

The Santa Barbara Symphony Orchestra has announced plans for its 1960-61 Winter Subscription Series of four pairs of concerts to be held in the Lobero Theatre, East Canon Perdido St.

The second pair of concerts will bring to Santa Barbara the distinguished young American pianist Daniel Pollack in a performance of the Concerto No. 3 for Piano and Orchestra by Prokofiev. Symphony No. 2 by Brahms and Beethoven's Leonore Overture No. 3 will conclude the program.

The third pair of programs on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 will feature the Santa Barbara Choral Society, Dr. C. Harold Einecke, director, in a joint performance with the orchestra in Zoltan Kodaly's "Psalmus Hungaricus." This program will also feature Beethoven's Symphony No. 8 and the Overture to The Marriage of Figaro by Mozart.

The Winter Season will close with a pair of concerts on Feb. 21-22 which will bring to the community our distinguished conductor-musical director in yet another role, that of piano soloist in the Liszt "Todtentanz."

Symphony No. 49 ("La Passione") by Haydn and the Fifth Symphony by Tschai-kovsky will close the program.

Tickets Offered

Tickets are now available for the Winter Subscription Series of these four exciting concerts at the Lobero Theatre. Savings of 25 per cent are possible by purchasing the entire series at $5.00-$7.50 and $9.00. Also, student tickets are available at additional savings of 20 per cent. Tickets may be purchased at the Box Office at the Lobero Theatre or by writing the Santa Barbara Symphony Orchestra, 105 East De La Guerra, Santa Barbara or telephoning Woodland 2-1416.

GIANT ON CAMPUS

UCSB students will have the opportunity to see the box-office success "Giant," starring Elizabeth Taylor, Rock Hudson, and James Dean. The junior class is sponsoring this movie which will be shown on Nov. 16 in the campus auditorium. The junior class urges UCSB students not to miss the last chance to see this epic story of the building of Texas. The cost is 50 cents per person with a special price of 25 cents for junior class card holders.

Nation's Vote

On the national scene, 50.3% of the voters cast their ballot for Mr. Kennedy while the remaining 49.7% chose Mr. Nixon. Despite this amazingly close popular vote, Kennedy swept through with 337 of the electoral votes, leaving only 192 for Mr. Nixon.

This year the election was both interesting in many new ways and close. An example of the intense interest shown by the people in Los Angeles alone, 91% of the registered voters went to the polls. Over 63 million Americans cast their vote to decide the future of their country.

DEBATERS RECEIVE EXCELLENT RATINGS

Last weekend UCSB's debate squad traveled to El Camino College for the second intercollegiate forensic meet of the season. UCSB's senior team Alsang and Thorpe took first place among 30 schools entered in upper division debate. Gaucho team Mike Leff and Max Rush took an excellent certificate in this senior division. Jerry Patch and Jo Ann Jensen picked up an excellent certificate in the junior division for UCSB. The junior division was won by San Fernando Valley State. This division had a total participation of 37 schools. Besides the two winning teams, six other Santa Barbara teams participated.

This weekend Modesto Junior College will host a tournament including both junior and senior divisions which four UCSB teams will enter. Forensic director, Forbes Hill stated: "We have every reason to be optimistic about winning in this tournament." Teams participating at Modesto this weekend will be Mike Leff and Max Rush, Sharon Laschinski and Judy Lawter, Kathy Loew and Bobbi Findley, and Jerry Patch and Carol Waslien.

GAUCHO NOTES

TRAFFIC REROUTED

The UCSB police department has announced that traffic entering the campus from the west on Thursday mornings between 7:30 and 8 A.M. will be rerouted to the road paralleling the ground and building department which intersects with the main drive at the tennis courts.

At this time, ROTC students are marching across the roads to the drill field. The cooperation of students, faculty, and staff is asked to facilitate the movement of traffic during the drill.

History Club Planning

Third Meeting Tuesday

The third meeting of the History Club will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, at 8:30 P.M. at the home of Dr. C. Warren Hollister, 7096 Del Norte Dr., Goleta.

The meeting will be an informal gathering of club members only (although a student may join that night), and a required meeting of all active Phi Alpha Theta members. Refreshments will be served. Directions for securing transportation and the route to Dr. Hollister's home are posted in the History Department Office. Any student interested in history is encouraged to attend Tuesday evening and join the club.

Obscenity Law Passed

On Wednesday, Nov. 9, the Santa Barbara City Council voted in the new obscenity law, despite opposition from UCSB students and other interested parties. (See pages 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 for further details.)

BLUE KEY MEETS

Blue Key, the upper division men's honorary fraternity, will meet Sunday, Nov. 13, at 7 P.M. in the Huddle.

20's DANCE TONIGHT

Don't miss it... It's a revival of the 20's—the return of short skirts, long beads and bathtub gin. It's the "Roaring 20's Dance" presented by the junior class.

The all-school dance will be held tonight at 8:00 P.M. in the Campus Auditorium. In honor of the suffragettes fight for equal rights for women, the dance will be girl-ask-boy.

Tickets may be bought today in the Graduate Manager's Office or tonight at the door. Dress will be that appropriate for the period.

URC Plans First Tea For Foreign Students

The University Religious Conference at UCSB is sponsoring a "Get-Acquainted Tea" for all foreign students at UCSB. This function, the first of a series of meetings, will be held at the URC Bldg., 766 Embarcadero del Norte, Isla Vista, on Sunday, Nov. 20, at 4 P.M.

The purpose of these gatherings will be to give the foreign students an opportunity to learn about the University Religious Conference (URC), the program it supports, and the purpose of the conference. These meetings will give the foreign students an opportunity to meet with other

MOON ORIGINS

UREY EMOTES AND EQUATES

Dr. Harold C. Urey, professor at large at University of California and an eminent chemist and noble laureate, presented some current theories on the origin of the moon in last Tuesday's lecture.

Dr. Urey said that scientists are able to gain valuable information concerning the origin of the solar system—from the composition of various meteorites.

More Fundamental

On the origin of the moon, foreign students, as well as with other UCSB students that have traveled, and exchange ideas and views in an informal situation. All foreign students will receive further information regarding the tea through the mail, or they can call the URC at 7-6219 if they have questions.

Appointment Needed For all interviews, an appointment is necessary. These may be received from Betty Koral, Room 110, Placement Office. Further information regarding more occupational interviews will be presented in future issues of the newspaper.

Two UCSB Professors Have Works Published Two members of the UCSB faculty have recently appeared in print. Dr. Henry Adams has published "Prussian-American Relations, 1775-1871," while Dr. Hugh Kenner has written an introduction for the current reprinting of Frank Budgen's "James Joyce and the Making of Ulysses."

Deputy Sheriff Patten was serving as an auxiliary sheriff's deputy when he was shot attempting to apprehend single-handed three gunmen who had held up a Montecito liquor store, on Aug. 20. He was 28 at the time he was killed, married, and the father of two small children.

A graduate of UCSB with a major in history, Patten went on to earn a general secondary credential to teach in Ventura High School.

His new book is to be translated into German for publication by the Society of German Scholars in Gottingen, West Germany.

WE GET LETTERS . . .

Walter Replies

Mr. President:
With regard to your open letter to me of Oct. 28, I suggest that you read once again my letter and note that I carefully avoid naming the members of the committee. I thereby meant to emphasize (sic) that the persons involved were not the focus of my criticism, rather I wished only to point out to the student at large that the structure of the committee was such that the student members, as young, normal, rational, intelligent human beings, could not aggressively advocate the student viewpoint, assuming that they could discover it.

Also, I wanted to express my opinion that the utilization of a closed meeting technique makes it very difficult for the student or faculty members of the committee to "sound student complaints and opinions," for those opinions must be formed in a vacuum. I had no intention of insulting anyone by insinuation.

True Facts

I am accused of "not publishing the true facts," obviously in reference to my failure to discuss the open meetings slated to follow closed meetings. I did not mention them because I considered open meetings irrelevant (sic) to a discussion of closed meetings.

I suggest to you that the statement "several open meetings will be held on the same subject before any recommendations, compromises or decisions are made" cannot be reconciled with your later statement, "those concerned are invited to DECIDE which phase of the problem to attack and to what extent they should carry their investigations." To me the decision to limit the scope of an investigation or problem is important.

Opinion

I must admit I do not fully understand the aims of the Student Affairs Committee. You ask for suggestions for the discovery of student opinion. I have three. First, open all Student Affairs Committee meetings to students, not to discuss but to observe; second, print a statement of principles and purposes of the committee; and third, unrelated to the committee, initiate (sic) a student forum on an informal basis.

Purpose Lost

I will not say I desire SACOM to be abolished, but I will say I will not passively see it develop (sic) in a manner destroying its usefulness. Regrettably, I must suggest that your statement that if it is abolished, "the chancellor will make his decisions without the student's voice ever being heard," implies that our "student government" has lost its purpose as a voice of the students in the "determination and administration of BROAD areas of University policy of the most direct concern to STUDENTS in their out-of-class activities," to quote President Kerr.

Respectfully (sic),
G. R. Walter

Mr. Walter:
Thank you for your opinion. I will be glad to print a statement of the principles and purposes of the Student Affairs Committee. In return, you might like to explain the principles and purposes of a "student forum on an informal basis." If the students felt that your proposal is satisfactory, I am sure that Council will be very willing to accept it. What we have pointed out to the student body at large is that there seems to be a difference in our opinion. I have faith that student members, as normal, rational, intelligent human beings, will stand on their own two feet and will not become stunned with admiration or fear to the point where they forget that they are intelligent and that the administrators are also human beings.

Law Defended

Dear Editor:
I was sorry to see the University concern itself in a biased way with the proposed Santa Barbara anti-obscenity law. Aside from the possibly questionable propriety on the part of a student body, many of whose members do not vote, and of whose parents do not pay local taxes, of attempting to judge the community's problems, this body has not, I believe, studied official crime records seriously enough to know just what to be concerned with most. If it had, I feel certain that it would have been at least equally interested in smut peddling itself as with the obvious and admitted difficulty of regulating it legally. The very presentation of the anti-obscenity law before the City Council was evidence enough that the public does not welcome the deluge of filth that has been inundating it. A sympathetic and, perhaps, helpful attitude on our part toward the problem would not be amiss.

Sex Crimes Rising

Captain McConnell of the Santa Barbara Police Department said to me, "Crime involving sex and sex perversion have been increasing alarmingly in Santa Barbara in recent years." Chief of Police John Gauthier told me this: "In the investigation and apprehension of sexual pervers and those charged with molestation of women and children, we find time and again that they are in possession of pornographic material in their vehicles or homes."

But which is the cause and which the effect? Dr. Fredric Wertham, the world famous American psychiatrist, avers that the mass media are not only a reflection of the social life of our time, but help to mold it.

Evasion of Problem

R. Cardinal Cushing states, "What is new and distressing is the effort which is being made in some quarters to minimize the dangers which arise in the prevalence of obscene literature, and to impede the application of existing laws by raising questions concerning their precise meaning, and the definition of their terms. It is this dishonestly casualistic evasion of the problem which has emboldened distributors and retailers to offer for sale types of literature which only a quarter of a century ago would have fallen under universal condemnation."

Brooke Williams

Vulgarization

To the Editor:
Now that the acacia tree faces extinction in Isla Vista, now that defunct eucalyptus limbs and trunks litter every day a newly vacant lot, now that the Modern Pioneers have built their concrete block-houses to defend their occupants against the septic sights, tastes, and smells of this once pleasant valley, now that the evening air is polluted by the odors of burning flesh and by the sounds of denatured folk-music broadcast from Los Angeles style coffeeshops, now that progress has replaced our swamps with beauty parlors, our cliffs with apartment houses, and our forests with swamps, now that the movement to erect street lights (symbolized by the famous picket line of ravished lady graduate students) has come to nothing, has not the time arrived for one intelligent cry of protest against Conditions Which Necessitate Force.

To the People of the Student Union:

That there may happen cases in which the resort to force be necessary, cannot be denied. Our own experience has corroborated the lessons taught by the examples of other eras that experiences of this sort might arise in all societies. Unhappy maladies, inseparable tumors and eruptions from the natural body such as might be found in the minds of certain individuals cannot be denied.

That the idea of governing at all times by the simple force of law (which we have been told is the only admissible principle of a republican society) has no place but in the pleonastic reveries of those who keep their fauces in a constant state of flux, consistently emitting corbeilles de ordures.
Use of Force
Should such experiences arise there could be no remedy but the use of force. The means to be employed must be proportioned to the extent of the mischief. An occurrence of this sort, whatever may be its immediate cause, eventually causes all to drain the cup of misery to the dregs.
Regard for the public peace, if not the rights of the Student Union, would engage the citizens to whom the contagion has communicated itself to oppose those few insurgents.

Enchained Shakers

THE RUB

by Stephen Davis

I shall request that students, an awareness necessarily precludes the kind of audience participation manifested by the sweet young things who act as if the concert were some interruptive influence in the background.

The Brilliant Blind

It is inevitably to be hoped that whatever tests they were preparing for they fail miserably and, as a consequence, be routed out of and away from the department—unless, alas, the Very, Very, Very General Education program dictates their continued presence.

But, then, it is much the same elsewhere. There are the brilliant art historians who do not know how to look at a painting; articulate critics of literature who cannot read a poem; competent teachers steeped in educationist courses who have not the slightest idea what they are teaching, competently in the prescribed manner.

One Semester Genini

I shall also request that students who have taken one semester of psychology, sociology, or semantics be forbidden to make any comments upon poetry, drama, or literature either until they have taken many more courses in the English Department, or until they have forgotten the proficiencies distributed under the guise of psychological insights, sociological interpretations, and semantic analyses of, into, upon, over, under, facts of growth and finance.

Furthermore, he ignores the essence of the problem which is the fact that the Student Union cannot afford to supply salt and pepper shakers, plates, ash trays, or eating utensils for every young swain or miss who wishes to establish apartment living in Isla Vista.
If the gentleman is insulted in having to grub on the pre-fabricated rubbish which naturally turns to garbage during the course of its travels through ones body, then caveat emptor and go elsewhere.

EFFECT OF SLOUGH PROJECT DISCUSSED BY DR. ERICKSON

When asked about possible effects of the proposed slough development, Dr. Mary Erickson of the biological sciences department explained that almost all of the members of the department make use of the slough for research or observation. For this reason, it is hoped that part of the area will be left natural.

Observe Behavior

Dr. Erickson stated that ornithologists and vertebrate zoologists can observe the behavior of birds in the slough area, as many birds winter there. This is also valuable to students, who are given an opportunity to identify birds in their natural habitat.

That part of the slough left untouched is important, since there are few such stopping places for birds now, due to the increased building of homes between Los Angeles and San Diego.

Research Related

As for invertebrate zoologists, Dr. Erickson stated that marine invertebrates are in abundance. This is of consequence to the parasitologists working on research concerning the relationship between fish and certain marine parasites, as part of the life cycle of most parasites takes place in the ocean, and in particular, in the body of a fish.

Botanists, continued Dr. Erickson, find the varieties of saltwater vegetation useful for their studies and classes; taxonomists find many species living in the waters, and ecologists can study the interrelationships of certain kinds of individuals.

Mosquito Control

When asked about the possible effect upon controlling mosquitos, Dr. Erickson replied that, possibly, deepening the slough could have some effect, but that she didn't feel that the slough was the only cause of mosquitos.

Bird Problem

The problem of birds, however, is quite different. Even if some area is left, the birds will not populate it if it is too small, or near disturbances. Unless the same depth is left, with exposed mud flats at low tide, the birds will not winter in the area. This, coupled with the fact that there is such a small amount of area left for birds to winter, could mean a drop in their population.

For these reasons, the biological sciences department hope that a suitable area of the slough will be set aside for research and observation when and if the proposed project is carried out.

MUSIC DEPT. PLANS FALL CONCERT LIST

A very busy calendar of events has been scheduled for the fall semester by the UCSB music department.

On Nov. 9, the University Symphony will present their first concert of the year, in which Don McInnes, a senior scholarship winner, will perform the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto.

Other Ensembles

Other smaller instrumental ensembles are also very busy with concerts and tours: string orchestra, string quartets, woodwind quartet, brass choir and piano ensembles. The Woodwind Quartet plans two tours this year, one to the San Francisco bay area in March and one to the Riverside-UCLA area in mid-April. The Brass Choir and Men's Glee Club are planning tours for early spring, the glee club going to the Los Angeles area and the Brass Choir going to areas yet to be determined.

The department's other choral groups are also very busy planning concerts both on and off campus: the University Chorus, Women's Glee Club, Modern Chorale, and the Chamber Singers. Opera workshop plans productions of two operas this year, "The Beggar's Opera" and "Turn of the Screw."

A series of student recitals has also been planned for the year, in which students in all areas of music will participate. The first of these is set for Wednesday, Nov. 2.

Lectures Planned

In connection with the new master of arts program in music, a series of four lectures will be given throughout the year. Dr. Pauline Alderman, visiting professor of music for the fall semester, will lecture Nov. 10 on "Mr. Gay's Opera: An Account of the Astonishing History of the Beggar's Opera" and Dec. 6 on "Highroads and Byways in Music."

Anyone wishing further information about any of the activities of the music department is invited to stop by the music office at any time.

Persuasion Fails

Mr. Forbes Hill and some UCSB students unsuccessfully argued against the passing of the new Santa Barbara obscenity law, Wednesday, Nov. 9, in the city council chambers.

POLITICAL PERSPECTIVES

by Dennis Livingston

To the great relief of millions of citizens of this country and of those of our friends abroad who are still interested, the most fascinating election that America has come up with in a long time is finally over. The party of Stevenson, Lawford, and Sinatra triumphed over the party of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith.

"Triumphed" is not exactly the correct word perhaps, considering that the popular vote was as close as Kennedy could get without having the stigma of being a minority President. If he had thrown a few more brothers and sisters into the fray, he might have increased his vote; as it is, he can work it so as to get an all-Kennedy family Cabinet. This way they can all run through a touch football scrimmage after long Cabinet meetings; eliminating the national debt would be like paying off the mortgage on a house.

On-the-Job Training

As for Nixon, I find it impossible to believe that we have heard the last from the sage of Whittier. He might find a lucrative position in becoming general manager of the Safeway stores, something for which he needs no on-the-job training considering his years of experience in his father's store. But I expect to find him running for Congressional office within the next few years, as soon as he can find someone around who is soft on Communism.

Lodge looked like he could use some sleep, which I advise him to get before his next public appearance. It is my hope that Kennedy will use him in some policy-making position in his administration, but I think Lodge's days as U.N. Ambassador are over for the present. Kennedy has plenty of capable men in his own party for this position, like his father.

I'm not too sure what to make of Johnson. He always looked like that cat who swallowed the canary. I don't suppose we will ever know if this is what LBJ was heading for all the time, the Vice-Presidency. But he has it now, and he'll make the most of it. I expect to see him as a sort of Congressional liaison of the White House office, as it is in relations with the Congress that his greatest skills lie. He won't take as great a part in the making of foreign policy as Lodge would have if he had been elected.

Rocky's Road

Rockefeller, I suppose, views the outcome with mixed emotions. Being a Republican (the last I heard), he shouldn't appear overly pleased that his party lost. Being a potential aspirant for the Presidency is another matter. The devious ways of politics are strange indeed. It is obvious that the party conventions of 1964 will be the reverse, in terms of suspense, of what they were this year. Barring some unforeseen event, such as Russia taking back Alaska, Kennedy will be renominated in a dull convention. But the Republican convention will be quite the show, with a three way fight between Nixon, Rockefeller, and Goldwater. I make no predictions.

I think everyone would be happy if the candidates' wives had stayed in bed. I would be content if Jacqueline just stood there and breathed. But Lady Bird has got to go. For Mrs. Nixon it's back to the dressmaker. Checkers gets replaced by a cat.

SENIOR PICTURES

Because so many have tried to have their pictures taken, and the photographer's schedule is quite full at the present, a new deadline has been made for the seniors in which to have their senior pictures taken for the yearbook. Nov. 18 is the last day for which appointments may be made.

RHA SCHOLARSHIPS

Two RHA scholarships of $80 each are to be awarded soon to a man and woman RHA member in recognition of outstanding scholarship. Qualifications for this award are as follows:

1. Dean's List semester preceding award.
2. RHA member semester preceding award.
3. RHA member semester award is given.

Application forms have been sent to all eligible RHA members. These must be turned in to the Scholarship and Loan Office by Friday, Nov. 11. If anyone eligible for this award has not been contacted, applications may be made through the Scholarship and Loan Office, building 404. The Committee on Honors and Scholarships will select the two recipients of these awards. A short form of application has been devised this year in hopes of promoting more interest in the scholarship. The amount of $80 covers incidental and RHA fees.

Opens in Goleta Plaza

The Goleta Branch of the Santa Barbara Library is in its new location next to the Fox Market in Goleta Plaza. Up until five years ago, the library was in a public school, and then it moved to a room in the A.S. Office. Remember, in back of a Goleta dress store. It has been in the new building for only a little over a month.

Three Hispanic Studies Majors Earn Francis Price Scholarships

Three local residents — all students at the University of California, Santa Barbara — have been named joint recipients of the 1960-61 Francis Price scholarship award. Rosendo J. Castillo, Theodore Martin and Miss Sasha Schmidt received cash awards for outstanding achievements in the field of Hispanic studies. This prize was made possible through the generosity of the Hispanic Society of Santa Barbara.

Second Year

This is the second annual Francis Price award to be given to UCSB students. The prize was established in 1959 in honor of the founder of the Hispanic Society of Santa Barbara. Price is also one of the community's most distinguished historians and civic leaders.

A $500 scholarship check has been divided between the three awardees. Miss Schmidt received $300 on the strength of her top academic record in Hispanic studies at UCSB. The university senior was the sole recipient of the award last year. The outstanding achievements and promise of both Castillo and Martin earned them $100 each. Castillo is also a UCSB senior. Martin is a graduate student majoring in Spanish. All three recipients are graduates of Santa Barbara High School.

Stimulate Interest

The Francis Price award was established to stimulate interest in Hispanic studies at UCSB. Winners are chosen by the Hispanic civilization committee at UCSB. Selection is based entirely on performance and promise in this area of study rather than financial needs.

INCREASES IN ENROLLMENT SET ALL-UNIVERSITY MARK

Registration on the seven campuses of the University of California swelled to 49,179 for the fall of 1960, a 9.6 per cent increase over last year and an all-time record for the statewide University.

The over-all enrollment figure exceeds the previous high of 48,943 set in the fall of 1948 when the University strained its facilities to accommodate returning war veterans.

The 9.6 per cent increase was more than twice the average annual increase for the past three years when registration increased by approximately 3.5 per cent annually. An enrollment of 48,853 had been predicted for the seven campuses.

University Must Grow

"The enrollment figures confirm predictions that the University must expand if we are to meet the demands that will be placed upon it by the people of California in the years ahead," declared Dr. H. R. Welman, vice-president of the University.

Registration at Berkeley jumped to 21,860, a 9.7 per cent increase over a year ago when 19,936 students were enrolled.

Enrollment at the Los Angeles campus totaled 17,331, a 4.3 per cent gain over the 16,623 in 1959.

The University's smaller campuses, destined to play a

NEW COL'S COEDS SELECTED BY ROTC

Recent balloting by ROTC students has resulted in the selection of 21 new Colonel's Coeds from more than 250 applicants.

On the basis of one Coed for each cadet officer, twelve honorary lieutenants, five honorary captains and four honorary majors received their commissions yesterday. Criteria for selection are personality, interest in student activities, academic record and beauty.

The new majors are Joyce Calahan, Sue Frembling, Penny Mills and Gloria Pierce. New captains are Lorie Drammar, Ann Robinson, Stephanie Reingold, Carolyn Shepherd and Margie Sowers. Lieutenants are Judy Calvert, Gail Eggleton, Carol Johnston, Judy Jones, Gilda Lee, Diana Letts, Deanne Mistretta, Kathy Murphy, Sally Shapker, Gail Ann Vanderloof, Merrily Vincent and Judy Ann Wilson.

The new Colonel's Coeds will raise the total membership of the organization to 51. All Coeds will march with the ROTC corps in the Veterans' Day Parade, Nov. 11.

Functioning as a service organization, the Colonel's Coeds will serve as guides on University Day, Nov. 12.

Los Angeles and SB Contribute Largest % of '60 UCSB Students

If you were to pick out a student at the University of California, Santa Barbara at random and ask him (or her) where his home is, the odds would be 3 to 2 that you would choose somebody from the Los Angeles or Santa Barbara areas. Approximately 60 per cent of the 3511 students enrolled at UCSB this year come from these two counties.

However, you might very well approach a student from Massachusetts or Wyoming or even Afghanistan or Switzerland. Students attending the local university campus come from 50 out of the 58 California counties, 28 states of the U.S. and 25 foreign lands, according to statistics compiled recently by the UCSB registrar's office.

Elements Top Major

Turning to courses of study, we find that UCSB students are majoring in 50 different academic areas. Some of these are combined fields of study. The largest group of majors comprises 565 concentrating in general elementary education. The department of English boasts 239 majors; zoology, 184; and history, close behind, 183. Mathematics, political science, psychology, and sociology majors number over 100.

The registrar's report further shows that 1258 UCSB students are enrolled in teacher education curricula. These are all undergraduates majoring in some phase of education or seeking a special secondary or general secondary credential in a subject area.

Many Job Opportunities Offered By Placement Office on Campus

Those of you who are concerned with looking for work for the future will be pleased to know that the University Placement Office is eager to be of assistance. Mrs. Betty Koral of the placement office stated that too many students come to the office too late to be adequately helped. Offers are arriving at the office daily and many of them have scheduled interviews in the near future.

A great many of the prospective employers have stated that they are not looking for students with any particular major. Students with a liberal arts background who are undecided as to a prospective occupation should have no reservations concerning an appointment with the office.

Drop-outs

Anyone considering dropping from school should contact the placement office. The office realizes that due to unavoidable reasons many students are forced to drop from the enrollment before completion of their programs. The placement office staff has information covering many opportunities for such students.

Some of the firms looking for applicants will have representatives in the placement office during this month. The following is a list of firms who will be represented at the placement office. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Koral as soon as possible to secure an appointment.

WHO? WHAT? WHY?

CAMPUS FIREMEN PROTECT

UCSB's own fire station, located in the north section of the campus, goes virtually unrecognized by most students, yet its importance to an individual's safety is great. Established eleven years ago, the station is under the guidance of Chief Joe Lowry, who has been head of the department since it opened. The first station employs at present five regular, full-time firemen as well as eleven students who work there part time.

The station is completely equipped with the most modern fire-prevention and fire-fighting materials. A respirator-inhalator, which can supply oxygen and regulate breathing, a 500-gallon pump truck, a 400-gallon high-pressure tank truck, plus thousands of feet of hose are handled by the firemen. There are nozzles that can produce the finest spray to the most solid streams of water, ladders, ropes, axes, and full fire-fighting regalia.

Once of Prevention

"Our job is more that of fire prevention than anything else," stated Chief Lowry. "The campus is inspected twice weekly to insure against the dangers of a fire breaking out." The station posts large plans of campus structures, including the locations of all fire extinguishers, exits, shut-offs for gas and electricity, and possible aids or hazards to fire fighting. "These older buildings are fire traps and a source of constant worry to us," admits the Chief. "However, we do our best to maintain fire regulations."

Busy Schedule

A fireman's schedule is a major might also be interested in cost control and automation.

Bank of America—Management trainee program offered to those interested in banking. Overseas program is also possible after training for about two years in the states.

Thursday, Nov. 17—Union Carbide Consumer Products Company representative has openings for sales representatives.

Friday, Nov. 18—Los Angeles County—will have several representatives interviewing for positions in their probation department.

IBM Tests

International Business Machines Corp. will schedule their 3-hour tests. One given at 9 A.M. and the other at 1 P.M. for men and women interested in positions as sales representatives. (Any major—but 1 year of accounting required and technical or math aptitudes helpful). For math and physics majors there are positions as system service representatives for men and women.

Extinguishers

One of the fire department's most important jobs is that of checking and tagging all of the fire extinguishers on campus. Every three months this vital service determines the safety of these fire preventatives.

The station does not have a Dalmation, so frequently pictured as a member of a department. It does, however, admit the presence of a cocker spaniel named Suzy. She's been with the station as long as it has been operating on campus.

No.

"No. We do not miss sliding down poles." Located adjacent to the famous bicycle path, the fire department is always performing Good Samaritan deeds for maidens in distress. Flat tires and bent spokes receive careful attention.

Chuckles

As for laughs, well Chief Lowry remembers the time a girl found herself locked in a shower, unable to get out. The problem for firemen—how to avoid a very embarrassing situation. Tossing clothes into the stranded shower-taker before rescue solved the ticklish situation.

The fire station offers training in the profession of fire prevention and fighting to any man on campus. Students are allowed to live in while serving as a part time fireman. They receive pay, free board and room, and participate in all fire drills and practices. "We need young men in the fire department," says Chief Lowry. "In the rush to high positions people have forgotten the need for active public servants."

People are fallible. How elementary and yet how impossible to have grasped by the impassioned mind. During the week we were besieged with such heated protests as: "What's wrong with Rodgers and Hammerstein?" The answer has been "Nothing—almost."

We heartily enjoy the rustic simplicity of "Oklahoma," the musical variety of "South Pacific," and the stylized perfection of "The King and I." But the boys certainly weren't perfect. For instance, they wrote "Allergo," "Pipe Dream," and "Me and Juliet."

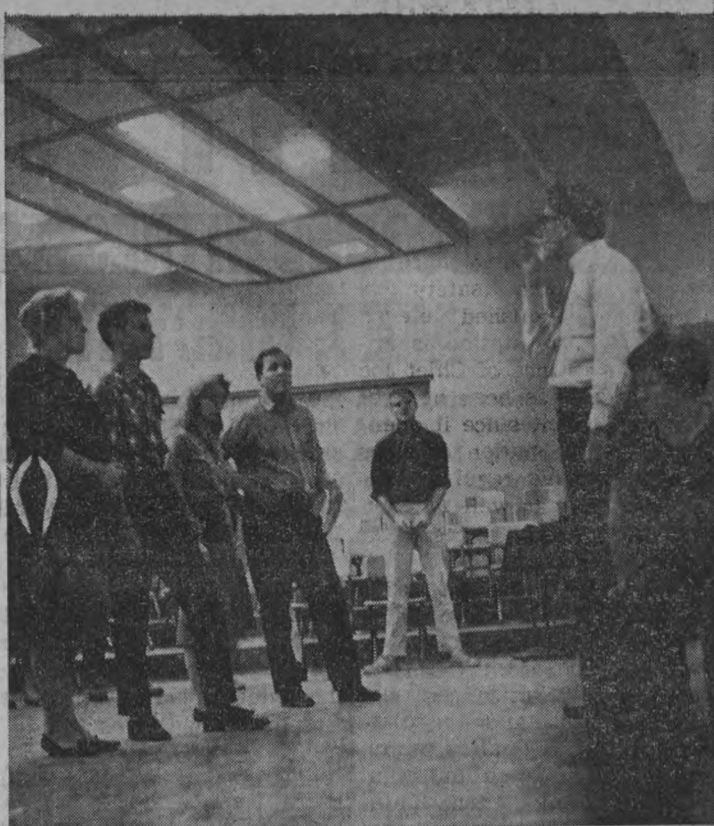

This doesn't mean Rodgers and Hammerstein are bad—merely that they aren't gods, and we bristle when they are considered such.

Sound of Fury
Their final commercial—not artistic—success was "The Sound of Music" (and this title ought to be qualified). It is visually and melodically a glutinous bore, in the recent tradition set by "My Fair Lady." The latter managed to survive, due to the original cast, a few melodies, and Shaw's "Pygmalion." It is a wonder that the whole play didn't drown in the morass of scenery swinging in from all directions.

In "The Sound of Music" there are no survivors.

We do not believe in gods. Hear Ye
Although it will solve nothing, perhaps confuse a few, and prove us social outcasts by the rest, we have been urged to list some musical artists or works we have somehow found it possible in our cold, cold heart to admire.

1. Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto, preferably by Michael Rabin. Don't bother with the library's copy.
2. Chopin's Four Ballades. They are worth all of Beethoven's piano works.
3. Instrumental interpretations of Jerome Kern. "Give us this day our necessary sucrose."
4. Julie Wilson, a member of the sophisticated supper-club entertainment school. We are pleased that Miss Wilson has broken into the realm of Pearly Bailey and Lena Horne, despite the fact that she is of a lighter caste.

'Beggar's Opera' Opens Nov. 18 With Five Guest Stars Highlighted

John Gay's satirical work, "The Beggar's Opera," set to music by Frederick Austin, with script revision by Carl Zytowski, will be presented in the campus auditorium on Nov. 18-20 at 8:30 P.M. A student cast will be supported by five special guests, including two UCSB faculty members.

The local campus production is being staged by Mr. Zytowski, associate professor of music and director of the UCSB Opera Workshop. Zytowski will also direct a small chamber orchestra accompanying the opera. The opera is set in the colorful atmosphere of San Francisco, 1850. Members of the Opera Workshop not only make up the cast but also are constructing the sets and working out the technical details of this production.

G.B.S. Cast Set

Dr. Stanley Glenn will be the director of the forthcoming production of George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman," a play dealing with the eternal struggle for supremacy among the sexes. This will be the first UCSB production to be staged in the Lobero Theatre for the past two years, and will run Dec. 14-17.

The cast is as follows: Jack Tanner, Herbert Berneau; Ann, Nancy Evans; Ramsden, Theodore Pengell; Violet, Carol Williamson; Octavius, William Arnett; Mrs. Whitefield, Linda Velpoux; Hector Malone, Jr., Ronald Atwood; Straker, William Black; Hector Malone, Sr., Michael Binette; Miss Ramsden, Mary G. Aproberts and the Parlor Maid, Louise Raymond. Steven Alkire will be stage manager for the production.

There is a book store of sorts in Santa Barbara (the exact location will remain undisclosed so as not to give the impression this is a paid commercial), mis-named the Book Den. It is instead a cave, a gigantic, musty, ill-lit cavern. Some faded prints are propped up in the window, and shelves of ragged paperbacks sit outside the entrance—not all worthless, as we discovered an interesting edition of Zola's "Nana" for a dime.

Once inside, though, the actual treasure hunt begins.

POLLACK TO SOLO WITH SB SYMPHONY

Daniel Pollack, a young American pianist, has been engaged to appear with the Santa Barbara Symphony Orchestra as soloist in the second pair of concerts, Nov. 22-23 in the Lobero Theatre.

Mr. Pollack is the youngest American artist ever to tour the Soviet Union. He won international acclaim as a prizewinner at the First International Tchaikovsky Piano Competition held in Moscow in 1958, and will return to Russia this season for another concert tour.

At the age of 16, Mr. Pollack appeared as soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. He has been awarded many honors and prizes for his great talent, including the Carl M. Roeder Prize, the Morris Loeb Prize and the first Josef Lhevinne Memorial Scholarship.

The Lobero concerts, to be held at 8:30 P.M. Nov. 22-23, will feature the piano soloist in Prokofiev's Concerto No. 3, and will also include Beethoven's Leonore Overture, No. 3 and Brahms' Second Symphony. Tickets for these concerts are now available at the Lobero box office, phone number Woodland 3772. A 20 per cent reduction is offered for students.

UCLA "GOATS" HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

The Ugo Betti play, "The Island of Goats," will be staged in the UCSB Little Theatre on Wednesday, Nov. 16. Two performances will be given, a matinee at 3 P.M. and an evening performance at 8:30 P.M. Tickets will be available on Nov. 1 at the UC extension office on the UCSB campus. General admission, $1.50; students 75c.

This play is being produced by students and staff at UCLA and comes to the Santa Barbara campus under the auspices of the intercampus arts exchange, through which University of California campuses exchanged appearances of talented student groups.

"The Island of Goats" was written by the Italian playwright Betti in 1950 and marks the culmination of man's sexuality. It speaks of loneliness, uncertainty, and pain and reminds the audience of the need for pity in judging human affairs.

A MODEST PROPOSAL

A movement is afoot—a shocking, startling movement—to solve the problem of overcrowded colleges by the simple expedient of refusing admission to women at coeducational schools!

It is argued by proponents of this plan that in today's world a college education is absolutely essential for a man, while for a woman it is merely a pleasant interlude between adolescence and housewifery. There is simply not room enough for both men and women in our overburdened colleges; therefore, in all fairness, women who have far less need of a degree than men, must yield their places.

Well sir, when I heard this drastic proposal, I was so shocked that I sat right down and lit a Marlboro. I always sit right down and light a Marlboro when I am shocked. I also always sit right down and light a Marlboro when I am not shocked. There is no time, no condition, no mood, no estate when it isn't a source of soul-deep gratification to settle back and have a full-flavored smoke—Marlboro, the filtered cigarette with the unfiltered taste—Marlboro, the jewel of cigarettes—Marlboro, the pinnacle of the tobaccoist's art—Marlboro, my comfort, haven, and snug harbor.

Well sir, I sat smoking my Marlboro and thinking over the shocking proposal to keep women out of coed schools, and hoping fervently that another solution can be found. If the calamitous day ever comes when women are banned from coed colleges, I will gnash my teeth and read my garments and take to my bed without supper. Like any other Marlboro man, I love women. I love the sight and sound of them, the cut of their jobs, their beauty and grace, their cunning little spiteurs, their sleek dimples, their niddy blouses, their aura and effluvia. Moreover, I freely admit that when it comes to brainpower, they can give the average man cards and spades and big casino too. It would be a shame, a disgrace and a catastrophe to keep these beautiful, intelligent creatures out of college.

However, it is always wise in time of fair weather to prepare for foul. What if the advocates of keeping women out of college begin to gather strength? We who abhor this fiendish plan must be ready with a substitute... and it just so happens I have one—and a mighty ingenious little plan it is, if I say so myself. Granted that classroom seats are in short supply, and granted that men need degrees more than women, it is still not necessary to bar women from college. Let them go to college but—here is the beauty part of my plan—don't let them go to class!

I love the sight and sound of them...

This solution, it seems to me, answers every requirement. It releases hundreds of thousands of classroom seats to needy males. At the same time, it does not deprive women of the rich and varied benefits of campus life. They can join sororities, shoot pool at the Union, build bonfires for Homecoming games, pour at the Dean's tea, plait daisies in their hair, organize drag races, sculpt in ice, hook rugs, walk their cheetahs, play Monopoly, find love—in short, they can do anything except go to class.

Tell the truth, girls: Is that bad?
Classroom space is short, but smoking pleasure is abundant supply. Try Marlboros—or Marlboro's unfiltered sister cigarette—mild, flavorful Philip Morris, now available in regular size or the sensational new king-size Commander. Have a Commander—welcome aboard!

DAVIS, SANTA BARBARA FIGHT TO 6-6

Page Six November 11, 1960 El Gaucho

Mermen Tip Fresno, St. Mary's, Davis, Hold Six Straight Record

Gaucha water poloists extended their season record to 8-1 and retained second place in the CCAA conference standings with a 4-1 mark by wins over Fresno State, Cal at Davis, and St. Mary's in a northern trip last week. This makes it six straight victories for coach Frank Rohter's swimmers.

In the Fresno State contest, defeated the same teams, sophomore Blair Ballard and senior Don Smith scored six goals apiece to lead the team to a 14-10 victory over a determined Bulldog team. Forward Bob Carty and guard Mike Goodwin each contributed one goal to the hard-fought win.

At Davis, the Gauchos found themselves behind, 4-0, half way through the first quarter. The defense then tightened up behind guards Blair Hull, "Gibby" Gibson, and Goodwin to shut out the Aggies in the three remaining periods. At the same time, the offensive punch of Smith and Ballard opened up with 5 and 3 goals respectively to lead the team to a 10-4 victory. Carty and Goodwin once again supplied one goal apiece, in this game played in rain and steam.

A complete team effort which saw every player on the team score except John Bankard, who turned in a stellar performance in the goalie position, routed St. Mary's 29-8. Ballard led the scoring with six goals while Smith, Carty, and Jim Woods chimed in with four apiece, Goodwin, three; Hull, Gibson and Nelson Nakaji, two each and Ed Nelson and Dave Olson, one apiece.

Don Smith and Ed Nelson, co-captains of the Gauchos for the last two years will end their collegiate water polo careers tomorrow when UCSB meets Claremont in its last match following today's match against Cal Poly SLO.

The Cal Poly tilt begins at 3 P.M. today and promises to be the most exciting contest of the season. The Mustangs have a three and one conference record with wins over San Fernando Valley State, Los Angeles State, and Fresno State. The Gauchos have OOOPS, THERE---Gaucho halfback Fred Standifer falls prey to mud and a gang of tacklers as Aggie back Ken Gardner rushes in to pick up the fumble, one of four that Santa Barbara lost in the All-Cal tilt which ended in a 6-6 tie.

ALL-CAL CROWD WITNESSES RAIN SOAKED, WINDY TIE

Grey skies, occasional rain, and gusty winds hovered around Berkeley's Memorial Stadium last Saturday morning as UC, Santa Barbara, and UC, Davis, slithered to an All-Cal 6-6 tie.

The contest was an unfortunate end to a disappointing season for the Gauchos, whose final record stands at two wins, five losses, and one tie.

The intermittent rains muddled the field enough to slow down the runners, while the windy blasts wreaked vengeance on the kicked or thrown pigskin.

Easy Win?

Appearing at first to be in a position to chalk up an easy win and a high point total on their northern brethren, the Gauchos scored early in the first quarter.

The score itself was made by Fred Tunncliffe on a one-yard rollout, but was set up with a 25-yard punt return by that same quarterback, a 10-yard dash by back Fred Standifer, and a fumble recovery by Tom Stoffel. The linesman's recovery came on the play following one on which fullback Tony Pallante bobbled the ball to the Aggies on their own five.

The water and mud took charge of the two-point conversion try, as Standifer attempted to circle right end and slid onto his knees in the stuff.

Penetrations

Although the Gauchos were not to score again, they penetrated fairly deep into Aggie territory four times more. In the second quarter, a drive starring a 60-yard screen pass and run to Curt Curtis from Tunncliffe brought the Gauchos only five yards short of their goal. Again, at the end of the same quarter, Davis held the Santa Barbarans at the sixteen yard-marker. In the third quarter, the nine yard-line became the Gauchos' first nemesis, and later on, it was the 23-

Tragedy

But in this third quarter tragedy befell the already bad Gaucho fortunes: Ken Gardner, an Aggie freshman halfback, got his hands on the ball three times too often. The first time he intercepted a Tunncliffe aerial at the midfield stripe, and carried it back to the Santa Barbara fifteen. On the next two plays, Gardner carried the ball seven and eight yards respectively, which took it over the goal and set the score at 6-6. It remained at

In a stellar performance Wednesday afternoon, the SB Councilmen came thru as expected with a strong anti-obscenity vote. It is hoped that the UCSB contingent will show better in future performances.

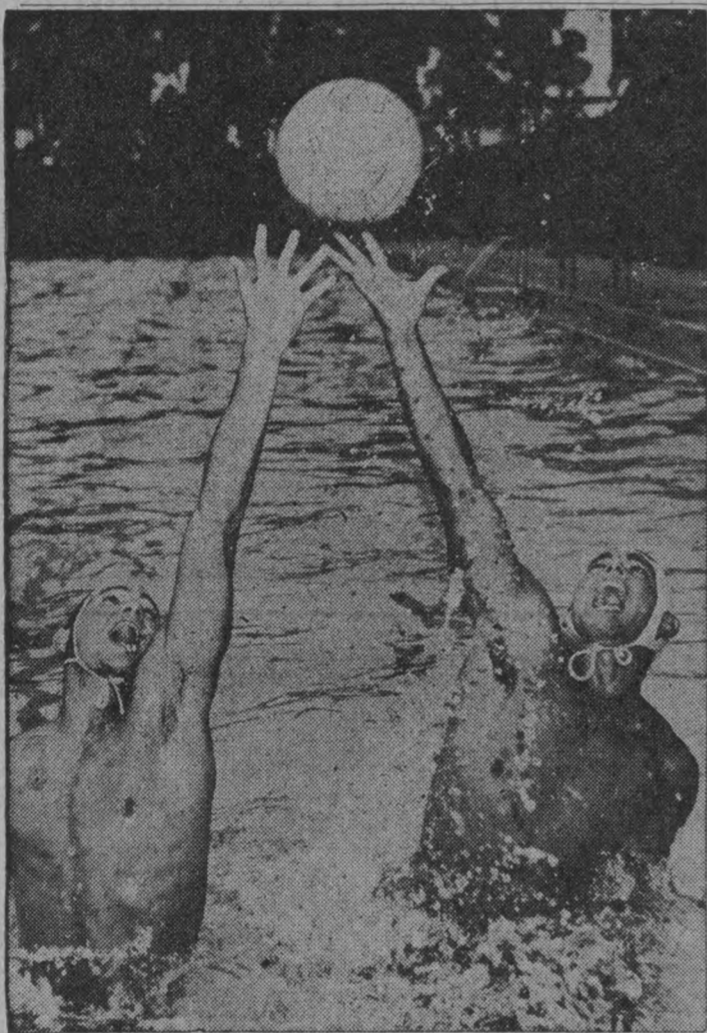

this, as the Aggie PAT kick by another freshman, Dick Carrier' was wide.

It cannot be said that the Aggies had trouble penetrating the Gaucho defense, for they reached as far as the four in the second quarter and the eight in the third.
