STANFORD RECOGNIZES LOCAL DEGREES FOR GRADUATE STUDY

Recognition Places Local A.B. Degrees On High Graduate Rating

Recognition of local A.B. degrees for graduate work at Stanford University was acknowledged by J. P. Mitchell, registrar of the northern university in a letter to President Phelps early in the week.

The customary rating of the degrees was granted following an effort on the part of President Phelps to establish recognition for the purpose of allowing students earning their bachelor's degree here and desiring to continue work in the northern university for higher degrees to do so. The rating was granted at a meeting of the Committee on Admission held March 4.

Recognition by Stanford marks a pronounced step in the advancement of degree work in Santa Barbara. Stanford University has a widely established scholarship rating that makes the recognition very desirable. President Phelps feels that it is unnecessary to petition further recognition from other universities; because the degrees here are well enough established to make recognition a matter of course.

Whether or not M.A. degrees may be earned in one year after graduate standing is obtained at the university depends entirely upon the course of study previously pursued by the student.

Mr. Mitchell's letter to President Phelps is in part as follows: "For such candidates as in all other cases, candidacy for an advanced degree depends upon individual action by the department concerned and the Committee on Graduate Study. After consideration of credentials the length of time to obtain the degree sought will be determined."

"Of course," remarked President Phelps in commenting upon the recognition of degrees, "bachelor degrees earned in this institution will not be accepted for higher degree work without the personal considerations and examinations which must be taken by any candidate for the higher degrees regardless of how the initial degree is earned."

Next Week

Monday—Fraternity night.

Tuesday—Dean's meeting fourth hour. Faculty meeting.

Thursday—Class meetings. Pan-Hellenic.

Saturday—Annual invitational track meet.

Art Instructor Attends L. A. Art Convention

Mrs. Crowell, acting head of the Art Department, left the college last Wednesday to attend the second annual convention of the Pacific Arts Association held at Los Angeles in the gallery of the Museum of History, Science, and Art. Mrs. Crowell took a number of examples of the work done by the students of the college to exhibit them at the convention.

The exhibition is being held at Exposition Park at the present time. Work done by art students all along the coast will be exhibited at the meeting.

The association is composed of art instructors from all parts of the state. Several hundred are attending the convention.

Health Benefit to Continue Without Full Membership

Although the Health Benefit Association did not succeed in obtaining 75 members, it will continue to be active this semester. Miss Comstock, president of the Association, will call a meeting of the members soon to discuss several important matters.

Last semester many football men and others out for athletics had X-rays taken without receiving any authority to do so. This lowered the treasury of the association a great deal. Since the Cottage Hospital has so kindly given this exceptional offer of medical aid to the college Miss Comstock asks the members to be more considerate of the opportunities given them.

Sorority Hikes

The Tau Gammas enjoyed a hike to Flores Flats last Saturday. The group left at 7 o'clock in the morning and returned to Santa Barbara late in the afternoon. At the Flats the pledges were put to work getting water from the spring and cooking the beans, "hot dogs," and coffee. In spite of the task of packing all of the food and cooking the meal, the pledges declare that all had a wonderful hike. Ask one of them about the snake found on the trail.

Tendencies of Future College Told by Swarthmore President

An article by President Aydelotte of Swarthmore college on the college of the future appearing in the March issue of What Colleges Are Doing expressed very well, according to President Phelps, the trend of the local college.

Swarthmore College is practically the home of the honor course system that is being tried in Santa Barbara State for the first time this semester. Swarthmore has pioneered many progressive college movements.

According to President Aydelotte, the present trend of colleges is as follows:

The distrust of intellectual excellence, which is often associated with the pioneer spirit and which

Students Break Rule

A thorough check of all students enrolled has revealed the fact that many students have changed departments without a formal petition to the credentials committee.

All such students are obliged to comply with this ruling not later than March 23rd. Miss Severy can be seen in her office the 5th period of each day.

Education Class Gives Achievement Test

The advanced educational methods class which is being conducted by Mr. Jacobs on the honor system is at present giving the Stanford Achievement Test to the Junior High school of the city. The entire seventh grade will be given the test before Easter vacation. During the past two weeks pupils of the College Elementary school have been given the test. The seven students who are giving the test at Junior High school are Delia Stewart, Leona Homfeld, Norine Norman, Jean McKenzie, Dorothy Kimes, Helen Dane and Kathryn Dirham.

New Car Schedule Will be Benefit to Students

The Santa Barbara and Suburban Railway Company increased its frequency of service to twenty minute service on the Riviera line Monday. Since the earthquake of June 29, thirty minute service was rendered the campus because of congested conditions on State street.

The new service provides for cars leaving the campus for town at five, twenty-five and forty-five minutes past the hour. After 7 p.m. half-hour service is placed on the college line, cars leaving the Riviera at twenty-three and fifty-three minutes past the hour.

The fare remains the same.

Barbara Dewlaney, former editor of The Eagle, will visit the college next week.

Campus Fraternity Dissolved by Low Grade Average Last Term

The Beta Sigma Chi Fraternity is no more. A survey of the grade averages of the Greek Letter societies on the campus yesterday showed that fraternity's grade to be below the minimum which is 3. Since the Beta Sigma Chi average is 3.05, the fraternity will be compelled by a ruling in its own constitution, according to a statement made late yesterday by President Phelps, to leave the campus.

Whether the Beta Sigma Chi Fraternity will reorganize off the campus or dissolve itself is not definitely known, although it has lost its standing as a campus organization. If it were allowed to continue in existence, seven of the eleven members would be obliged to drop from the society because of individual grade averages below the minimum 3.

The other societies on the campus are sharing in the sympathy for the fraternity which has proved very popular on the campus. The loss of the Beta Sigma Chi fraternity leaves but one fraternity, the Sigma Alpha Kappa, on the campus.

Phi Chi Alpha Leads

The Phi Chi Alpha sorority led the Greek Letter societies in scholarship for last semester, but the Delta Sigma Epsilon followed just .006 in the wake, according to the official report released by Mrs. Miller yesterday. The grade average of the Phi Chi sorority was found to be 1.835.

The grade averages of the various societies are as follows:

Phi Chi Alpha	1.835
Delta Sigma Epsilon	1.841
Phi Kappa Gamma	2.02
Alpha Theta Chi	2.21
Delta Zeta Delta	2.28
Sigma Alpha Kappa	2.49
Tau Gamma Sigma	2.68
Beta Sigma Chi	3.05

Negro Quartet Entertains Students Tuesday

The Dixie Jubilee Quartet entertained a record crowd at assembly last Tuesday with many quaint Southern selections, recitations, and instrumental numbers with banjos and ukuleles.

The students especially enjoyed the banjo selections presented by Mr. Bennett, famed for his prowess with the stringed cheese box. Playing both bass and melody at the same time, Mr. Bennett made his instrument sound like it was twins. His Americanization of the Hawaiian ukulele was also well appreciated.

In spite of the improper environment for vocal rendition of Dixie favorites, the entertainers entered into the spirit of their selections and gave an interpretation of the negro songs and dialect so true to form that the students felt, on the whole, very well paid for their time and money.

Isabel Vaughn was elected pianist of the Women's Glee Club a short time ago.

Alumna Has Arrival

Miss Daphne Lathim, a charter member of the Delta Zeta Delta sorority on this campus, became the proud possessor of a baby girl last week. It will be remembered by many students that Miss Lathim was quite popular on the campus two years ago. She was married to Frank Kellogg, a brother of Eugene Kellogg, the former county horticulturist, a year ago.

Four Join Club

Four new members joined the Social Science Club at their regular meeting last Wednesday night. They are Leland Gammill, Edith Comstock, William Thrasher and Anna Cowan.

At the present time the club is discussing the Locarno Peace Treaty.

STUDENT BODY FINANCES

The unsettled situation in the Men's athletic fund in the college as was brought to light in the Student Body meeting is not an unusually alarming condition. It has been as indefinite in accounting for expenditures in the past as it is this year, but due to a ruling made at the beginning of the year that books of the various standing committees, including men's athletics, would have to be conducted in a business-like manner and be audited at the end of each semester, the situation has been thoroughly exposed in the auditing.

Every change in system is bound to be accompanied by more or less strife and unintentional disorder. When an organization moves according to custom and the brakes are suddenly applied, there is bound to be a little skidding. Previous to this year, disbursement of athletic funds has been left to the discretion of the men's athletic manager and the director of physical education and no auditing has been done. Due to the laxity in the settlement of last year's La Cumbre finances, President Phelps decreed that books must be audited thereafter. Since the athletic manager of the first semester of this year did not understand the situation, receipts for expenditures were not demanded and auditing has been difficult.

The books are being checked up at present, and it is believed the matter will be all straightened up in a very short time.

The council has just printed a number of financial report blanks to be filled out by the standing committee heads to account for all expenditures, receipts, and property incurred by that committee during the semester. Also business files are being obtained for the accurate keeping of material demanded in auditing. The use of these added facilities will greatly aid the proper keeping of books in the future and a recurrence of the situation in the men's athletic fund is extremely doubtful.

POMONA FROSH MEET

The fellows made a very good showing at Claremont last Saturday when Santa Barbara lost a track meet for the first time in its history of sports. As can be clearly seen, the meet was no walk-away for either team. That casts no reflection on either side. The fact that the relay decided the meet shows that the Roadrunners put up a hard fight throughout.

The real test is coming a week from tomorrow when the big event of the year, the annual invitational meet, will bring forth the real Roadrunner skill.

TARDY DINNER PAILS

Lately the cafeteria has been balky in opening its doors for the noon fill-up. Reports state that it has opened several times about fifteen or twenty minutes after the fourth hour terminated.

Why can't the chefs up there make it a point to be open each day about ten minutes before the fourth hour ends? A canvass of student opinion on the opening time will show a decided dissatisfaction of the WAITING line conducted these days.

A PROOF OF THE POWER OF ADVERTISING

Last week the city editor chirped extensively on the need of more advertising for campus events if a turnout is expected.

Everyone noticed the exceptional crowd at the Jubilee Singers Tuesday morning — and every one in that exceptional crowd paid twenty-five whole cents for admission. When the casual reader reflects on the amount of advertising that event was given, he can see why the campus left no empty seats.

It is quite probable that if the event was given the usual advertising that other campus doings receive that very few would have bothered to meander to the gym.

The student activities are going on all the time. Since the crowd last Tuesday dem-

EXCHANGES

There are no pretty men at Chicago. After two weeks of balloting to find the most handsome man in the university, the students have decided their campus to be entirely devoid of male beauty.

Students at Iowa State College object to their noon hour being cut from 80 to 60 minutes.

Five minutes is long enough time for any man and young woman to say farewell after a dance, according to authorities of the Colorado State Teachers' College.

Students who marry while at Northwestern university are expelled from school.

Chicago has sent more men to the Olympic games than any other western university.

Examinations have been abolished at Temple University in Philadelphia because the psychology department believes that they are inaccurate, antiquated and influenced by personalities.

Many of the students at the University of Missouri are financing their education by working on the new stadium that is being erected.

Northwestern University offers a month's course for police chiefs. The main study is the psychology behind the preparation of a crime.

Freshmen at the University of Kansas must enter and leave the building through specified doors.

John Hopkins University is importing twenty natives from the Himalayan mountain district to be used in the study of evolution.

Campus Engineers Flee From Pursuing Shamrock Saleswomen

Smash! Bang! Crash! Out through the rear exit door of Mr. Peter's class room dashed his heroic young engineers fleeing before the advance of those women Shamrock salesmen who graced the corridors Wednesday. They were being tracked to buy the five-cent Shamrock; and the engineers objected.

Engineers Mabe, Abbott, Towler, Culp, and the rest found themselves cornered, so the necessity of immediate mathematical calculations confronted them. Consequently they promptly invaded The Eagle office, borrowing ten dollar denominations to pay for the Shamrocks, knowing that the feminists couldn't change that large amount.

But the engineering skill of Mr. Peters' family failed, and for the rest of the day these mathematical gentlemen wore the famed Irish Shamrock!

Student Cars Prohibited

Two-thirds of the 180 students who had automobiles at Purdue last year received one or more conditions in their studies. This fact resulted in a recent ruling prohibiting students from having cars "unless it be necessary or will make it more convenient and really assist a student in getting his university work done."—What Colleges Are Doing.

"My hair is falling out," admitted a timid young man to the druggist. "Can you recommend something to keep it in?"

"Certainly," replied the druggist, "Here's a nice cardboard box."

Green Shamrock Reigns
On Campus Wednesday

"Sure and it's St. Patrick's Day in the morning," said the students of the College as they one by one turned out of bed. Then followed a wild scramble for something green (though if they only knew they were green enough already. They assured us however that they were not so green as they were cabbage looking).

This explains why these people who were already green enough appeared decked in green stockings, green dresses, green ties, shamrocks, and flags or anything else that boasted the color of the emerald isle.

No doubt old Saint Patrick who Wednesday ruled supreme, looked down from his throne and smiled upon this, our fair college murmuring to himself "Erin Go Bragh."

Phi Kappa Gamma will hold a dance at the home of Grace Miksch and Mildred Sample tonight.

Miss Lowsley was absent the first two days of this week with a slight attack of the "flu."

Much mystery is surrounding the dinner (?) to be given by the pledges of Tau Gamma Sigma for the members Monday evening. All that is known is that the members are to be at the home of Rosamond Martin at 6 o'clock sharp. What is going to happen remains to be seen.

portant respects. Students will have choices to make, but they will be fewer and more important choices.

The college of the future will not have so much of the character of a secondary school. It will allow its students more freedom, will insist upon more serious work, will make larger demands upon the intellectual independence and initiative, and will demand relatively less docility. The signs of the times indicate that American colleges of the future will be more highly differentiated and less standardized than they are at present. There will be more interesting variations in the curriculum and fewer conventional attempts to teach every aspect of every subject.

The belief that the college of the future will emphasize quality rather than size indicates that gigantism, so marked in the University of California and Columbia University, is on the decline. That means that entrance requirements for the larger universities will become more strict than ever. Modifying the elective system to fewer and more important choices is what the local college will do next year if plans that President Phelps has been formulating carry through with the state officials. The installation of honor courses here is right in line with the principal of allowing more freedom in courses which is emphasized.

"Development of Folk Dances" is Subject
Of Assembly Address

The development and universal characteristics of the folk dances and songs of the world and their mode of collection formed the subject of a talk given by Miss Burchenal before an assembly of students and teachers in the college gymnasium Tuesday afternoon. The talk took place at the eighth hour and was well attended.

Miss Burchenal began with an outline of the rise of the folk dance study in the United States and spoke of the intense feeling with which dances and songs were carried forward, first in New York city, then all over the country.

The method of collection of the dances and songs was described by Miss Burchenal who recalled incidents of her own experiences in Ireland and elsewhere. Emphasis was placed on the fact that many of the dances were very difficult to collect as they were guarded most sacredly by local propagators of custom and tradition. In many localities it was even particularly dangerous to go through the song and dance in question as so much importance and significance was placed on their rehearsal.

Miss Burchenal's address was followed by informal participation in folk dancing by those present at the assembly.

Instructor of Painting Here
Called by Death
Last Week

Mr. A. W. Brougier, former instructor of painting in the college in place of Mr. Wolf, was called by death last Thursday noon in a local hospital following an illness of several months.

Mr. Brougier, it will be remembered, was responsible for the painting of many of the sets in the Christmas pageant held by the Art Department at the Granada Theater just before Christmas. Mr. Brougier was taken with his illness very soon after the pageant.

The painter has lived in Santa Barbara on La Mesa for ten years where he became the center of a local group of artists and musicians. He sold a genuine Titian a short time ago for $100,000.

Mr. Brougier was a member of the British Royal Academy of Art and of the French Academy of Art while in Europe. His paintings have been frequently exhibited in this country and abroad.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon.

What we were going to do over the week-end:
Start our notebook.
Do our outside reading.
Go to church.
Read Atlantic Monthly.
What we did:
Went to the movies.
Read College Humor.
Went to a dance.

This Week's Absent-Minded Prof.
"Where is the car?" demanded Mrs. Noyer.
"Dear me!" ejaculated Professor Noyer, "did I take the car out?"
"You certainly did. You drove it to town."
"How odd! I remember now that after I got out I turned around to thank the gentleman who gave me that lift, and wondered where he had gone."

"Pa, Willie jabbed me in the eye with his joke book."
"Willie, don't poke fun at your brother," advised the stern father.

Women Enjoy Hi-Jinx
Friday; Well Attended

Well attended, the women's Hi-Jinx at the gym last Friday night was acclaimed the most successful women's social this year. Some of the best looking men yet seen on the campus appeared, dated, of course.

To the casual reader, it must be explained that half of the campus feminancy came garbed as men. Virginia Colton and Frances Luck were the prize winning couple for costume. Julia Anne Grimshaw and Kathryn Kueffer captured first honorable mention; Adele Miles and Josephine Black took second mention.

The prize winning stunt of the evening was put on by the group headed by Isabel Bolton, which enacted the "Krazy Klox Klan." It was a take-off on the campus clock system, the actors being dressed as Klansmen. The first honorable mention was awarded to the group led by Frances Luck for the skit, "Babies." "Tom Mix and Pola Negri," acted by Anna Daniels' group won second mention.

The events of the evening were judged by Miss Camp, Mrs. Steele and Margaret O'Reilly.

Green and bright colored balloons made up the decorations for the gym. These decorations, which were reported to be unusually good, were executed by Sylvia Wells and Corinne Kelley.

Hot dogs were served to refresh the Jinxers. Cigars were served to the men, and gum to the ladies. Ruth Kueffer was responsible for this part of the entertainment.

Other committees for the Hi-Jinx were Grace Miksch and Edith Comstock, who had charge of the program; Marjorie Scofield, Harriet Coleman and Elizabeth Jordan provided the piano music; Rose Ethel Lesh had charge of clean-up.

Edith Comstock managed the affair.

The Roadrunner track team was defeated last Saturday by the Pomona Frosh outfit on their own field, the final score being 73 to 67. The mile relay was the deciding event of the meet and was won by the fresher Pomona team.

The Frosh outfit was behind during the entire meet until the

Seven Colleges to Come To Invitational Meet; More Expected to Accept

The third annual invitational track meet to be held a week from tomorrow at Peabody stadium promises to be the biggest invitational meet yet held by the local college.

To date seven colleges have accepted invitations to enter the meet. These colleges include San Jose State, with some of the best sprinters on the coast, La Verne, Cal Poly, Santa Ana J. C., Ventura J. C., Cal Christian and Pasadena J. C.

Heggie Elected Captain of Track; Jacobs Manager

Rodney ("Bus") Heggie was chosen track captain and Fred Jacobs was elected manager at a meeting of the track squad held just prior to the Pomona Frosh meet last Friday.

The election was held by the varsity squad in accordance with the article in the constitution of the Men's Athletic Council which states that the captains and managers of the sports in season shall be elected just prior to the first official meet.

Heggie and Jacobs have been on the track squad for two years now and know the ropes pretty well. Owing to their persistency in training, they should prove very capable in holding down the positions.

ALVIN McILROY would like to get in touch with anyone in possession of the Liberty Magazine of Jan. 23 and March 13.

three final events took place. Jimmy Anderson starred for the Olive and White squad, copping the shot, discus and hammer and tying with Ben Fong for first in the high jump. The stars for the Frosh were Williams and Oliver. Williams won the broad jump, javelin, and high hurdles while Oliver won the 440-yard dash and the low hurdles and placed third in the century.

The Roadrunners showed up well in the competition although it was the first meet of the year for the squad. The times were slow because of a heavy wind and the heat.

W.A.A. Finally Accepts Constitution; Solidifies Women's Athletics

At a meeting of the Women's Athletic Association held last Wednesday, the constitution which has been several months in the making was finally accepted.

The constitution is expected to give a solidarity to women's athletics in this college which has formerly been lacking. It will also make the local W.A.A. similar to those in other colleges; for the constitution has been modeled after constitutions of W. A. Associations of various colleges.

What the W.A.A. Is

The W.A.A. stands for "Women's Athletic Association. Membership in this association is limited to those women who have made fifty points in any athletic activities. According to the newly accepted constitution, a person eligible to become a member must apply for membership, which request will be automatically accepted by the association.

Officers are to be elected in March, but will not take office until they are officially sworn in at an annual banquet to be held at the end of the term. The officers who were elected Wednesday night, however, will not adhere to the plan, but will take office at once. These officers are Eleanor Warren, president; Dorothy Kimes, vice-president; Elizabeth Cash, secretary-treasurer; Marian Hauan, athletic manager.

Football as it is Played in St. Louis

A football field so muddy that the Vermont punter could not get his foot out of the mud in time to kick the ball was one of the reasons why Vermont lost to St. Louis, the members of the Vermont eleven said on their return. The kicker attempted to punt from his own four-yard line, and the ball was blocked, after which St. Louis scored. Each player's suit after the game weighed about 35 pounds, and the ball, which should weigh fifteen ounces, weighed four pounds.—The Associated Press.

Council Debates Athletic Investigation in Hot Session Yesterday

At the council meeting held yesterday an audit of the books of the Men's Athletic Fund submitted by Miss Lowsley was turned down, because it was incomplete. Final data, however, could not be secured for the completion of the report.

In the meeting, before Mr. Dickey, Dean Ellison flayed the unbusinesslike procedure of the council in conducting the investigation of the athletic fund disbursements. Stating in the first place that the council authorized Mr. Dickey to conduct the investigation without first determining his qualifications for such a serious procedure, the dean mentioned that Mr. Dickey stated before the Student Body in a recent session that certain evidence in his possession was proved in the case without stating wherein the proof lay and without having previously proved such evidence to the satisfaction of the council.

It is rumored that the bonding company which has bonded Mr. Williams for the amount of the fund last semester will make an official audit of the books to get them straightened out within a very few weeks.

Coach Gilliland has refused to sign any more checks in the disbursement of Student Body funds in the future. Consequently, it is believed that President Phelps will appoint another faculty member to assume this responsibility soon.
