GOING, GOING, GONE!

Faculty Goes On The Block

Need a shoe shine? Car need washing? How about getting your front lawn trimmed or your trousers pressed? These, and other services, will be performed by faculty members and student officers as part of next Tuesday's charity drive.

The services of many well-known campus personalities will go under the hammer at the Charities Committee "slave market" on the men's gym lawn at 11 a.m. Among faculty members whose labor will be offered to the highest bidder are Deans Helen Sweet Keener and Elmer R. Noble, economists William F. Kennedy and Harold J. Plous, and political scientist Stephen S. Goodspeed.

AS Representatives

Others who will be contributing their exertions to charity include Stanley L. Williamson, Willie Wilton and Ernest N. Carter (physical education); Herbert Fingarette (philosophy); Pablo Avila (Spanish); Clyde Keener (industrial arts); Capt. Carsten E. Fosmark (ROTC); and AS representatives Dave Hodgin, Teddy Tye and Pam Smyser.

Other names will fill out the list, and Charities Committee chairman Don Sherwin assures the presence of your favorite faculty member. Shoe shine booths and ironing boards will be set up on the lawn to facilitate the performance of the required tasks, and bids of over five dollars will include an 8 x 10 photo of the job being performed.

Bid as Organizations

Bids must be at least two dollars, and fraternities, sororities, and other groups are urged by the charities committee to bid as or-

CAL NEWS

UCLA, May 10—UCLA will have two concurrent summer sessions this year—a six-week session lasting from June 21 to July 31 and an eight-week session from June 21 to Aug. 14. Courses may be taken in both sessions.

UCLA, May 11—"The best way for students to get into politics is to distinguish themselves in civic affairs," the president of the California Federation of Republican Women told a conclave of California college and University students. The purpose of the conclave was to enable students to gain a more vivid sense of practical politics through personal acquaintance with party leaders and political writers.

BERKELEY, May 10—A two-day High School Publications conference closed recently and 400 students from 65 northern California high schools returned home with a wider knowledge of how to handle newspaper and year-book problems. Most students were very impressed with the campus and expressed pleasure at finding students friendly and willing to help them.

BERKELEY, May 11—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight stated, "I will not try to raise the tuition fee" to finance the University next year. Knight had proposed raising the fee last year, but the legislature voted his proposal down.

DAVIS, May 6—In light of recent and rather extensive discussions concerning general school spirit the Executive Committee came to the conclusion that freshmen should again be required to wear dinks. It was felt that this tradition would do a great deal to stimulate unity within the frosh class.

ganizations for the labors of the faculty. "Just think," said Sherwin, in urging students to take part in the auction, "when you are forty you can tell your kids that when you were in college you had the instructors shining your shoes in their spare time."

The money collected in the drive will be devoted entirely to charity, and the Charities Committee reports that projects under study include the Damon Runyan cancer fund, the sponsoring of YMCA memberships for underprivileged children, and contribution to the permanent student union for the Goleta campus.

Instructors who wish to donate their time and dignity to the auction and who have not been contacted as yet are urged to notify Don Sherwin, either through student mail-box or the box in Building D. "Volunteers will be welcomed with open arms," he stated.

Junior-Senior Prom To Finance '54 Class Gift to New Campus

In the plush beauty of the Biltmore Loggia Room and with the music of a four piece combo setting the mood, the annual Junior-Senior Prom will be held on June 5 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

This is the last social event of this school year to which all students are invited. "Bids will be $2 a couple, which can be covered in 18 monthly installments if desired. Just so we get the money," said chairman Don Sherwin, with tongue in cheek!

Senior class card holders may buy bids for $1 a couple.

Dress will be semi-formal (that means dark suits for the men), and corsages are optional.

All Students Invited

Traditionally, this annual dance is given by the junior class in honor of the seniors, but this year it was decided to invite all students to enjoy the event as much as seniors do. The profit from this dance will be used to buy the senior class gift to the college. The seniors want to make this gift special because it will be the first class gift to be used on the new campus of the University.

All seniors interested in planning this and any of the traditional events connected with graduation are asked to contact Don or leave a note in the student mail box marked "sh."

"Come and live it up at the dance before finals start," added Don.

Choir Sings Requiem

Dr. Van A. Christy, professor of music, will direct the Symphonic Choir in a presentation of "The Requiem" by Gabriel Faure in the Riviera Auditorium on May 26 at 8:30 p.m.

The presentation of this unique work will feature Dr. John Gillespie at the organ and Suzanne Payne at the piano as accompanists, with Carl Zytowsky and Sylvia Smith as soloists. The symphonic choir is a mixed chorus of 65 voices combining all the smaller choruses on campus. In spite of its title this work is not dark or dramatic, but full of confidence and sincerity.

There is no admission charge for this performance, and all are invited to attend.

Faculty Head Chosen

Dr. Ralph K. Nair, associate professor of industrial arts, has been elected vice-chairman of the faculty of Santa Barbara College, for 1954-55.

The chairman of the faculty on each campus of the University of California is the President of the University. Robert Gordon Sproul, who serves in an ex-officio capacity.

Results of the faculty election included the selection of the Coordinating Academic Council: Dr. Theodore Hatlen, for the Liberal Arts Division; Dr. Kermit A. Seefeld, for the Applied Arts Division, and Dr. Paul A. Jones, for Education. This body serves as the connecting link between the local college faculty and faculties on other campuses of the University of California.

No Special Parking Lot, No Tickets Say Council, Campus Cops

Removal of special parking privileges on the Riviera campus for Mesa students and student teachers was effected through the courageous stand taken by Mesa Representative George Kostakis at the May 11 meeting of Legislative Council.

George stated that he has always been opposed to a reserved lot for Mesa commuters on the grounds that the reverse situation would certainly not be popular with IA students. "Mesa students," he explained, "would be justifiably opposed to the establishment of a Riviera lot on their campus."

Restrictions Removed

"In view of the present parking problem on the Riviera, it is particularly unfair to grant parking privileges to Mesa students," asserted George. After the subsidence of tumultuous applause from the floor, a motion was passed that all reservations be withdrawn from the lot adjacent to Ebbets Hall.

Upon notification of the change Building and Grounds removed the restricted parking sign, and Capt. Floyd Bernard announced that tickets will no longer be issued on the lot other than for disobedience to general parking policies.

Hambelton Caps Year With a Second Place

Traveling south for the last speech tournament of the year, the U.S.C. Pentathlon, last weekend were Gene Hambleton and Jerry Perry.

In upper division Hambleton placed second to USC's first place. Pomona took third. In lower division the first three places went to LACC, San Diego, and USC in that order.

This tournament which is a new event this year is unusual in that each contestant must compete in five events: Discussion-Debate, Interpretive Reading, Extemporaneous Speaking, Oratory, and After-Dinner Speaking. Each school was permitted only one entrant in each division. Hambleton was entered in upper division while Perry competed in lower division.

Although only two SBC students were actually at the tournament, their efforts represented the concentrated co-operative efforts of almost the entire squad. Dr. Upton Palmer, debate coach, supervised the work and traveled with Hambleton and Perry to Los Angeles.

WORLD-WIDE DATE-LINE

HANOI, French Indo-China—At this writing, the military situation in this embattled part of the world couldn't look much worse. The Reds are pouring inexorably down the Red River delta, and the French, who lost the cream of their leadership and fighting force at Dien Bien Phu, probably will not be able to carry out much more than a delaying action. Furthermore, the American intervention which the French have hoped for so desperately is now definitely not going to be forthcoming, except, perhaps, as an eleventh hour rescue operation to prevent an Asian Dunkirk.

Meanwhile, at Geneva, the diplomatic picture as regards Indo-China is equally dismal. The French are now seeking for any method of extricating themselves from their impossible position, and will quite likely seize on the first Red offer that has even the remotest appearance of an honorable withdrawal. The Washington policy, at the present time, has apparently written off Indo-China and proposed to try and save the rest of southeast Asia only interested nations.

Mr. Dulles has clearly pointed out that the US is not going to enter into any military activity in this—or any other—theatre as long as the affair has the appearance of a purely internal one. And, although their support is glaringly obvious, the Chinese Reds have not actually appeared on the firing line in Indo-China, so that technically, at least, this is a civil, rather than international, conflict.

This is the reason why we are so anxious to bring about the proposed southeast Asia military alliance; for, if the remaining nations of this area can be bound together with the major allied powers in an agreement promising mutual aid, we would then be fully justified in taking active measures against further Red aggression. This agreement would be drafted along the line of NATO, and it is worth noting that the Communists have, so far, at least, exhibited a nervous respect for the North Atlantic pact.

Whether or not southeast Asia can be safely held without Indo-China is problematical, but clearly, an attempt must be made to do so.

CHICAGO — Turning to the home front, a recent development in the midwest calls attention to the possibility that we may soon have the opportunity to see something very rare in American politics, a major re-organization of political parties. Political experts have, for a long time now, been aware of the inconsistencies of party membership that have been developing in recent years. The incongruity of an arch-conservative such as Harry F. Byrd waving the banner of the Democratic party, while liberals such as Ives of New York claim to be Republicans is something that cannot go on indefinitely without a resettlement. Many southern Democrats act much more like Republicans, while a large segment of the GOP is unhappy with the relatively liberal attitude of the present administration.

It is this last situation which has crystallized into action. A group of ultra-conservative Republicans, under the apparent leadership of Chicago publisher Bertie McCormick, have banded together into an organization dedicated to the rendering of financial and political aid to conservative candidates for office. Senator Joseph McCarthy is thought to be very interested in this group, as well as several other like-minded politicians, and there is definite possibility that, by making concessions on civil rights and similar issues, many southern Democrats could be attracted to the fold.

It is unlikely that this group will take on the appearance of a full-fledged political party, at least in the near future, but there is no question that it is a significant indication of a developing trend toward redefinition of party lines. It is quite possible that the Republican party, or at least its present leadership, will find itself caught in the center, neither fish nor fowl, but rather the middle ground between the two political extremes. This will, of course, mean that a lot of people are going to have to re-evaluate their political stand.

Obviously, these readjustments are not going to take place overnight; it will be, in all likelihood, a matter of many years before the matter becomes finally settled, and the interim will provide some interesting material for students of the political scene. There may well take place, in fact, the emergence of a new political party, as happened last in the days immediately before the Civil War when the whig party disintegrated and the present GOP developed under Lincoln.

Or, on the other hand, there may be an unsuccessful attempt to found a new party, such as the Teddy Roosevelt-LaFollette progressive movement of the early twentieth century, which, though it was unsuccessful, caused a very marked readjustment within the existing parties.

It's too early to tell yet just what is going to happen, but there's little question that the political scene is long overdue for some drastic changes, and it will be interesting to watch them develop.

Triumph of "Honor" "Full Score" Scores

If anyone attended the Festival of the Arts operatic production with the idea that opera must be profound, they were doubtless disappointed. Those who went to see "Triumph of Honor" to be entertained, however, and who joined the company in "... the spirit of the production, in which nothing is taken seriously—not honor, not virtue, not even opera," got their money's worth and then some.

There was, for a while, some doubt about the promised triumph of honor, but there was never any question about the triumph of music lecturer Carl B. Zytowski who, in the Orson Welles manner, translated Scarlatti's work into English, produced and directed the show, and was its star—all with conspicuous success. As the young adventurer Riccardo, Zytowski performed exceptionally well, displaying a fine voice, well adapted to this type of work.

Of the students who appeared, Sylvia Smith was particularly outstanding as the sardonic Rosina, exhibiting a delightful bit of acting and a very pleasing vocal effort, even though afflicted with laryngitis. Other polished performances were turned out by guest performers William Eddy (Capt. Bombarda) and Betty-Carol Gilbert (Leonora), and students William Blackstone (Flaminio), Mary Inez Tidwell (Cornelia) and Joy Aarset (Doralice).

Special note should be made of the fine work of the College string orchestra, conducted by Stefan Krayk, and of the imaginative staging directed by Edwin Schoell, both of which contributed greatly to the over-all success of the production. "Triumph of Honor" proved that opera can be fun; it also made clear that it can be played by a college group with noteworthy success.

After viewing a play described by the author himself as a "sentimental chronicle," I have the opinion that it is still not yet old-fashioned to be sentimental in this supposedly hard-boiled world. Very few playwrights seem to be able to experience a favorable reception to their works when they are first presented, although appreciation of these creations might be shown later, but Dr. Theodore Hatlen is one of the few.

Playing the main characters around which the play revolves, Pat and Charles Metten conveyed their parts very well, being particularly outstanding in the second half of the play as they grew older. Angus Greenlaw had the very difficult task of winning over the audience as the Narrator but managed to do this competently, although at times he appeared to be over-friendly.

In supporting roles, Ted Scott, Dave Robinson, Mike Feith and Sally Hiatt stood out with exceptionally effective characterizations. Dick Wilcox, Shirley Kent, Miriam Birch, Merrill Hatlen and Craig Baise comprised the remainder of the cast and won the approval of the audience despite the handicap of relatively small parts in comparison with the main actors.

Special mention should be made about the set by Dr. Edwin Schoell which helped to convey the passage of time with facility. Individual compliments should go to Gary Hess for lighting and Ralph Clements for sound.

The play itself held interest all the way. The two disturbing factors were the abruptness with which several of the scenes ended instead of a general fadeout which would have prepared the audience for the next episode, and the occasionally over-long narration.

Dear Momma...

The major topic of conversation around here this week has been the weather. It's been so foggy that we've been unable to sit out on the lawn or at the Snack Shack. There's even been a nasty rumor going around that some people have been so desperate that they've gone to class to get out of the cold and damp.

However, one afternoon the sun did shine, and I took my Alice in Wonderland and went out under a tree to read it. After a while I looked up, and there on the other side of the lawn was a big white rabbit watching a television set.

He introduced himself and explained that he had been sitting there all day watching a lot of men arguing about pictures, letters and stuff. He asked me if I could understand what was going on as he found most of it very confusing.

In the first place there were two groups of men watching what was going on, and the ones on the right side never could agree with the ones on the left side as to what was happening. Second, the guys on the left side said the whole thing was a waste of time while the military men on the right side insisted it was very important. But on top of that the guys on the left side said that the military was full of communists, and the rabbit, his name Hare, March Hare, said that he thought that was very important.

He was going on to say that now the Hatter's tea parties and the Queen's trials looked sensible when he pulled out his watch. He looked at it, exclaimed, "I'm late; I'm late," and dashed off.

Well that's about all for now. Please write soon and send my allowance.

Your loving daughter,
 Caprice

 WHAT MAKES A LUCKY TASTE BETTER?

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!

A Lucky tastes better for two important reasons: 1. Lucky Strike means fine tobacco...light, mild, good-tasting tobacco.
 2. That tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' fine tobacco... makes it taste even better—cleaner, fresher, smoother.

That's why a Lucky tastes better. And naturally, better taste is why thousands of college students prefer Luckies to all other brands.

So, enjoy better taste. Be Happy—Go Lucky!

Benning, Ga., where he will attend the infantry officers' advanced course which trains battalion and regimental staff officers.

A popular member of the staff, Capt. Doty took part in many activities of the college and served as faculty adviser to the Colonel's Coeds, service auxiliary for the ROTC cadets.

The young officer came to Santa Barbara as a first lieutenant in Aug., 1952, after a three-year tour of duty in the European command. He was promoted to captain last June. He attended the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, prior to his enlistment in the Army in 1942. LOIS JARAL

Frantz and Jaral Editors Next Year

Last Tuesday night Legislative Council approved the nominations of the Press Control Board for next year's editors of student publication.

Complicated Job

Joan Frantz headed the list as choice for El Gaucho editor. An English major from Santa Monica, she qualified for the job through her work as associate editor of El Gaucho this semester and as a staff writer last semester.

Her job in our first year at Goleta will be complicated by the fact that every issue will contain six pages rather than the four pages which were common the earlier part of this year.

Moves Up To Edit

The Student Directory editor for the last two years, Lois Jaral, will move up from the position she held this year as assistant editor to that of editor of La Cumbre. Lois hailed from Santa Barbara and is a junior sociology major.

Two Directories

The Student Directory was turned over to Nikki Liatas, who has worked on both the Directory and El Gaucho. Her task will also be greater as plans have finally been made to issue the Directory in both the Fall and the Spring.

DESIGN TALK TODAY; ART DISCUSSED

Differences and similarities in contemporary trends in four mediums of art were explored briefly by four members of the faculty in a symposium on the contemporary arts at the All-College lecture last Wednesday.

Dr. Theodore Hatlin, chairman of the speech department, served as moderator. On the panel with him were William Rohrbach, instructor in art; Carl Zytowski, instructor in music, and Jean Bellinger, assistant professor of physical education.

Experimentation is an important factor in all the four arts, it was agreed by the speakers, and there was general agreement, too, that the factor of communication was one of great importance. It was pointed out, however, that this public understanding may be of a long-range rather than immediate nature as regards painting and sculpture, whereas dance, drama and music are more dependent upon the immediate acceptance by contemporary audiences.

Some of the individual viewpoints expressed may be summarized as follows:

Miss Bellinger on Dance—Modern dance reacted against the romantic and sentimental aspects of traditional ballet and sought to return to the simplicity and directness of the primitive peoples to whom dance was a vital and meaningful part of life.

Rohrbach on Art—In the past century the emphasis has shifted first from romanticism to realism, from realism to impressionism (with special concern for the values of light and color), and from impressionism to expressionism of today in which many painters try

$24,000 Given In Scholarships for Next Year

A total of 68 scholarships, amounting to more than $24,000 was awarded this week by Santa Barbara College, for the 1954-55 academic year, it was announced by Dr. Cornelius H. Muller, chairman of the SBC committee on honors and scholarships.

This substantial scholarship fund went to 36 currently enrolled Santa Barbara College students, 27 incoming freshmen and five transfer students from other colleges, universities and junior colleges.

Students honored will each receive between $300 and $750 to begin or continue their education at SBC. The bulk of the awards were $300 scholarships with several $500 and $750 awards included.

The generous scholarship fund of the college has resulted in considerable interest on the part of prospective students in all parts of California and many other states. The competition for the awards is severe and hundreds of applications were received from qualified students.

Scholarship awards are based largely on scholastic attainment, but financial need, character and promise of future success were also considered.

Dr. Muller, whose committee has the responsibility of making the selections, stated that the size of the individual awards is high in comparison to the low incidental fee and no tuition fee at Santa Barbara College, making scholarships highly attractive among those offered by other collegiate institutions.

Applications for scholarships for the 1955-56 academic year will be accepted on a continuing basis by the committee.

Scholarship winners are Bob Minier, Mary Otten, David Thompson, Jackson Hargis, Geraldine Christ, Chuck Eckert, Janet Adameck, Charles Ball and Spyros Evnouchides.

Other receiving scholarships are Barbara Fink, Elsie Surian, Don Petterson, Jacqueline Newby, Patricia Henry and Gwen Norton.

"Milk Wood" Reading Slated by Oral Group

Dylan Thomas's prose-and-verse play "Under Milk Wood" will be performed in an oral reading by 12 SBC students in PH 100 on Tuesday, May 25, at 4:00 p.m.

The leading roles of first and second narrators are to be taken, respectively, by Diane Page and Gary Hess. The production is being directed by Rollin Quimby, assistant professor of speech, and is presented as the fourth and final event in the English department's annual poetry-reading series.

Inner, Outer Lives Dramatized

"Under Milk Wood", which especially written for oral reading and which has been performed over the BBC and in a public reading in New York with the author participating as one of the readers, is a play about the inner and outer lives of the citizens of a small Welsh fishing village much like Laugharne, Dylan Thomas's birthplace and home. The play follows and dramatizes the lives of a representative group of villagers during a single day—villagers like Captain Cat, a retired sailor; Evans the Death, the local undertaker; and Organ Morgan, the church musician. The dialogue is marked by Thomas's sensitive descriptive powers and robust humor.

To quote our late President, Going into last Thursday night's competition, the favored Sig Taus trailed the Splitters by a game and a half. The Faculty rested another game back in third place, followed by the Sig Toos another length behind. The Sig Taus had to win three to assure a first-place tie in the event that the Faculty won all four of their games. The defending champions met the league-leading Splitters in one of the most thrilling sports finishes this writer can remember. The Faculty won four handily from the Sig Toos, but it wasn't enough as the Sig Taus rolled high series of the evening and swept their four games. The final two were not decided until the tenth frame, and the third contest required nine marks in the final stanza to gain the win.

Women All Over

Women's Intramural Basketball competition came to a close last Thursday night with the Luckys emerging on top. The Smith House met the Prospectors at the City Recreation Center in a second-place playoff, with the Smitties winning.

The Luckys finished the season undefeated and were presented with the league's perpetual winner's trophy. Other awards were given to the top teams. Refreshments were served after the game.

Oops!!

Had they been skin divers I might have been speared. I should like to correct an error made in last week's column. The Dave Russell Memorial Swim Meet will be held on Thursday afternoon, May 27, rather than Monday, May 17 as originally reported. The meet will start at 4 p.m. at Los Banos. Individuals and teams are urged to enter. This is the last time this meet will be held at the municipal pool. The men's and women's perpetual team trophies, as well as the Dave Russell Memorial plaque for outstanding individual performances, will be awarded.

Skin of the Horse

On the intramural softball scene the Beach Rats continued their winning ways by checking the House of Bixby, 6-1, behind the fine twirling of Jerry Gray. Mike Moropolus and Bob Minier led the BRs at the plate.

In other league games the Lambda Chis outlasted the SAE in an 11-8 slugfest, while the Sig Eps dropped the Sig Taus from the ranks of the undefeated, 6-3, in a game marred by numerous miscues afield.

Tttim

The Men's Intra-m Table Tennis Tourney came off on schedule last Wednesday evening at the City Recreation Center. Lambda Chi Alpha came out on top with 15 2/3 points. Sigma Phi Epsilon squeezed by Delta Tau Delta with 14 1/2 points while the Delts carded 14 1/6. Bixby House and Sigma Tau Gamma finished fourth and fifth, respectively, to round out the first five.

Jerry Anderson took first singles for Sig Eps; Delts Wynne Smallwood and Bill Meyers won first doubles. The Lambda Chis annexed second singles and doubles with Mike Perret and Paul Brennan-Jim Piatt the winners.

Sun, Sea, Sand

The first intramural volleyball doubles tournament came off very successfully and appearances would have it that there will be more of the same on the new campus. Bob Ormondroyd and Jim O'Hara were the winners.

Father Time

"You're never too old," said 21-year-old Phil C. (Chronos) Jacks, Jr., after winning the men's division of the All-College Badminton Tournament. Dad Jacks went on to team with Peggy Davis and take the doubles competition. The pair made a day of it as Peggy also won the women's singles division. Two trophies each . . . not bad for a couple of kids.

Hiliters: Ken Murphy (Bixby House) rolled high game in the Men's League last Thursday night. House of Bixby . . . a student version of the military science department . . . they've been lending truly great support to the college intramural athletics program . . .

STATE OF MIND...

...AND THE STATE OF THE NATION

Perhaps far more than we realize, the state of our nation depends on our state of mind.

For if false fears can incapacitate an individual, they can do the same to a country, which is made up of individuals.

The people of Union Oil believe in America and its ability to continue to furnish the highest standard of living ever achieved by man.

We are backing this belief this year with a nearly one hundred million dollar vote of confidence which calls for new wells, new products, new plants, new refineries, new tankers, new trucks, new tools, new processes.

All of this will help to create new jobs and new opportunities in the years ahead.

All of this should help to create a state of mind that is good for the state of our nation.

GAUCHOS CCAA TENNIS CHAMPIONS

SBC NINE TIFFS MISSIONS IN 1954 SEASON FINALE

The 1954 baseball season comes to an end for the Santa Barbara College Gauchos this coming Friday night at Laguna Park with a special game against the semi-pro Santa Barbara Missions.

The Gauchos will be out to finish a dismal season on a bright note by handing the tough Missions of Nick Aguilar a defeat before the home fans. The Hilltoppers ended league play with a 7-2 loss to San Diego State on the Aztecs' field last Saturday to chalk up a 4-11 record against CCAA competition. Jerry McIlvaine suffered the loss, allowing but seven hits, but was plagued with four Santa Barbara errors.

McIlvaine to Start

Coach Rene Rochelle has named McIlvaine to start against the Missions on Friday. This will be the big righthander's last game in a Santa Barbara College uniform, as he will be graduating in June. A victory over the strong semi-pros would make up in part for the hard luck Mas has had this season and would close out his college career on the winning side of the ledger.

Missions Tops

The Missions, one of the top semi-pro outfits in the Tri-County area, will act as home team for the game.

Missions Manager Nick Aguilar will field a club studded with veteran Santa Barbara players, including former Gaucho star shortstop Dave Townley, and several holdovers from the 1953 squad which romped off with the Semana Nautica Tournament crown.

Tough Pitching

The Mission pitching staff consists of John McMillen and Johnny Ruiz, who have each rung up a victory for a share in the Missions' 2-1 slate. McMillen receipted for the only Mission loss to the Lompoc USDB team.

Game time is set for 8 p.m. with tickets available at the box office. Tickets are also currently on sale at Ott's Hardware and All-American Sporting Goods, as well as at Danny's Barber Shop.

Reynolds Men Sweep All Foes From Courts in Loop Runaway

Winning 19 of 20 matches, Coach Lyle Reynolds' Santa Barbara College tennis team captured the CCAA racquet crown in the two-day round-robin league tournament held last Friday and Saturday in Los Angeles.

It was the first league championship in any sport for the Gauchos in the last ten years of competition, and the Blue & Gold netters took it going away. L.A. State, San Diego State, Pepperdine, Cal Poly and Fresno State were crushed in that order, and all were blanked except the Aztecs from the Border City whose Gary Russell upset the Gauchos' Neil Roberts for the number one singles slot in the tourney. Five of the six-man Gaucho squad were named to the six-place all-tournament team, Roberts being the only exception.

Walker-Bernard Top

Dick Walker and Ken Bernard, the Gauchos' No. 2 tandem, went undefeated and were chosen as the top second doubles team in the tournament. No. 2 Santa Barbara singles man, Pete Lederer, was voted that position in the competition.

The all-tourney doubles teams were all Gauchos as Don Tully and George Lederer, who were also undefeated in the two-day competition, were ranked the top doubles combo.

Gauchos Trail

After the first day's matches the Gauchos trailed Cal Poly by a point as the Mustangs blanked two opponents while Roberts' loss gave Santa Barbara a 7-1 record.

The Hilltoppers easily made up the deficit, sweeping 12 consecutive matches on the second day.

Santa Barbara's clean sweep over Fresno was interesting because it marked the first meeting between the two teams this year, but the four points gained in this victory proved superfluous as the final margin was a fat six points over the Aztecs and Diablos.

Still Undefeated

Considered singly, the five easy victories gave the Reynolds men a clean season slate of 15 wins and no losses in collegiate competition. Having defeated the highly touted outfits from Redlands University and College of Pacific, Santa Barbara's record rates the Hilltopper netters fifth in the state behind UCLA, USC, Stanford and California.

RIDDICK FOURTH IN FRESNO HIGH JUMP; USC AGAIN TEAM VICTORS; O'BRIEN STARS

Santa Barbara performers were more or less shunted to the background last Saturday at the Fresno Relays by the record-breaking performances of the big boys from USC and the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Gaucho high-jump ace Joe Riddick flipped over the bar at a good 6-4, but this showing was good only for a six-way tie for fourth place. The winning leap was a new record 6-9½ effort by Ernie Shelton of the University of Southern California.

O'Brien Takes Weights

Gigantic Perry O'Brien, representing the L.A. Athletic Club, won the shot put and discus events to complete one of the great doubles in track and field history. O'Brien threw the two farther than any man in the past has done, although he did not break a world's record in either event. His heave of 184 feet 1½ inches was the third best the world has produced, but his gigantic 59-foot effort in the shot was considerably short of his own week-old world mark of 60 feet, 5 inches.

High School Sprinters

A mark of 9.6 seconds in the 100-yard dash was chalked up by two high school youngsters, James Jackson of Alameda and Leamon King of Delano. Joe Graffia of USC ran no faster in winning the open intercollegiate division.

Bill Miller, former Arizona (Tempe State) star now with the Camp Pendleton Marines, set a new Relays javelin record with a toss of 245 feet, 4 inches.

Although he knocked down the last two hurdles and nearly lost stride, former USC hurdler Jack Davis ran the highs in 13.7 seconds, only two-tenths of a second off the world record.

USC came through with its 23rd team championship in 28 tries in their usual overwhelming style.

The Foss brothers, Gates and Bob, did not fare too well in the pole vault as both finished out of the money.

On the Flying Carpet

by Tahashmah

I suppose I should begin by making some mention of certain wild blabberings of last week. The tirade which appeared to be aimed, though somewhat obliquely, at me, indicated a typical deficiency on the part of this commentator. I do not propose to reiterate my statements of last week, although, I must say, I was quite disappointed in the lack of mob violence which accompanied my article. Still, I advise this "man" to beware of the assassin's knife, as there is yet hope that it may someday come to him in his sleep—which is any time. Quite obviously he misunderstands not only my intention but the purpose of his own writing as well. It is my intention merely to comment and not to teach, while his avowed purpose is to inform. It is perfectly legitimate for me to "say nothing well." But for him to do so, as he does, makes him blackest among the frauds. I suggest he be hanged.

This week from the flying carpet let us meditate upon the Senate investigation into the McCarran Army controversy. I shall speak of my own experience because, although we of the East are not prone usually to do it, I can no longer control myself.

Last week I seated myself on my pillow in front of the television set and, whistling a melody from Saint-Saen's The Carnival of Animals, tuned in the first act of the "Greatest Zoo on Earth." As I usually do, I entered the state of Yoga and, at the same time, recalled the Bhagavad-Gita (translated by illiterates as "The Song of God"). As I entered the smokey haze, Sen. Mundt spoke first. I recalled the words of the Bhagavad-Gita: "He who regards with an eye that is equal friends and comrades, the foe and the kinsman, the vile, the wicket, the men who judge him and those who belong to neither faction: He is the greatest." It hardly fit, to say the least.

Then Junior from Wisconsin interrupted my thoughts. As he spoke I heard: "When goodness grows weak, when evil increases, I make myself a body. In every age I come back to deliver the holy, to destroy the sin of the sinner, to establish righteousness." I was obviously in Mr. McCarthy's mind and out of my own. And then as the good Senator eulogized himself, the words of the immortal came to me: "For I am Brahman within this body, life immortal that shall not perish: I am the truth and the joy for ever."

As I became lost in the confusion of the fight, these gems came: "He hides in me, his refuge, his safety . . ." "He calls nothing his own: he acts, and earns no evil." I strained to follow the line of reasoning. I could not. Beads of sweat appeared on my forehead. The words, the whines, the confused outcries, the objections, the noise, the silence, the heat, the cuts, the slashes, the hot air screamed, I swear, about the very room. Then as my crazed mind swung, out of control, toward the vortex

History Club Meets

"What is History? Its Meaning, Function, and Purpose" will be the topic under discussion at a meeting of the History club on May 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the AWS room.

Participants in the program will be Wanda Spence, Johanna Roetche, and Richard Fletcher. Jay Monahan, consultant to the Wyles Library, will be commentator, and Peter Loewenberg will act as chairman. Dr. Wilbur R. Jacobs, assistant professor of history, is sponsor of the event.

A discussion and refreshments will follow the program.

of this veritable hurricane of shrieks and jabbering, I broke! My once-proud will was now but an illusive amoeba in the hollow cavity of my swirling exhausted head. In a last desperate effort to maintain my sanity I struggled for the knob and silenced the machine. I staggered out of the house into the fresh outdoors which even itself seemed to echo with the cries of that mad menagerie.

I thought then as I say now: oh what straits has this world now entered? It truly seems that the national capital has been transformed from a seat of government into a pit for animals. A pit in which these specimens, which may yet prove themselves the "missing-links," scrap, fight, and do their petty tricks, while around the edge of this spectacle the American people sit and watch and listen. Those who match must either consider this torrent as a great sport, or else, if they attempt to make sense of it, risk losing their minds. What a sad plight!! What quality of leadership! But alas, the only salvation lies in a general revolve by the populace. Those who follow blindly must repent. Let us meditate:

If we spend our time behind a leader,

We have no chance for personal pleasure. For he absorbs the best of life, and leaves for us the coarse, the strife!

In this position please remember that no one made a living ever,

Following in another's rubble, unless behind a horse, with shovel!

From The President's Desk

(This is the first of a series of articles from the typewriter of AS President George Allen. This will be a regular feature next year, to let the students know what is going on in their government. Since George has not yet taken office, this column should perhaps be entitled "From the President-Elect's Desk." Let us not quibble about details, but see what he has to say.)

Sylvia and I are certainly happy to have been chosen to serve you the Associated Students in the coming year. We will be faced with many new and varied problems and I hope you will bear with us in dealing with these problems on a trial and error basis.

We are looking forward to a successful year at Goleta. To make

FIFTH CARNATION RING TEA GIVEN BY CHI OMEGA

Plans are being completed now for the fifth annual Chi Omega Carnation Ring tea, which will take place in the quadrangle of the college on Sunday, May 23, from 2 to 4 p.m., according to Gwen Lanning, chairman of the event.

All SBC women who have been married or engaged within the past year are invited to step through the ring of white carnations as Diane Page, mistress of ceremonies announces the name of each, the name of her fiance, or husband and the story of her romance.

A traditional show of bridal fashions will be a feature of the Carnation Ring tea, and will be presented by Gloria Duff, Santa Barbara designer. Refreshments will be served by members of the Chi Omega Mothers' club.

it even more of a success, we urge all of you to turn out and participate in the activities of the Associated Students. Concerning this, the applications for chairmanships of all committees and boards must be submitted to the Associated Students building by Friday, May 28. The first meeting of the new Legislative Council will be held on Tuesday, June 1 and we hope to appoint the new chairmen at that time.

All committee and board chairmen are non-voting members of the Legislative Council and as such carry responsibility as representatives of the Associated Students. The various duties of these positions are given in more detail in another article and I urge you all to turn out for these activities.

Remember it is going to take the combined effort of all of us to make next year a good year.

The State of Our Union

Recently, many of you have been hearing the word "student union" on campus. This is a new word and a new idea for us. On the Riviera campus we have the bookstore, "snack shack" and cafeteria. Next year on the Goleta campus we will have a self-service bookstore, a coffee shop and many other conveniences—all incorporated in one building—which we will call our student union.

Along with the bookstore and coffee shop will be a coed lounge, recreation room, barber shop, laundry and dry cleaning pickup and delivery and a U.S. Government postoffice. Behind the Union will be the Associated Students office building. This will house the Graduate Manager, Director of Publications, La Cumbre and El Gaucho offices, and the headquarters and meeting rooms for the Associated Students with its variety of activities.

All of these facilities are designed for the benefit of the students, and we hope that the students will take advantage of them. This should be the hub for the majority of activities on our new campus. It is being built for us; let's use it to its fullest capacity.

Much discussion has been carried on during the recent campaign about student management of this union. I'd like to tell you what has been done concerning this issue. We have been trying to gain partial or full control of this activity during the past semester. As it looks now, we will be financially unable to take over the Student Union management next year. However, we should be financially able to do this in a few years. At the present time we are in the midst of building a permanent revolving fund. We plan to watch closely the managerial side of the operation so as to be familiar with its functions when we are able to take it over.

A standing Student Union committee is now organized with definite, substantial by-laws to make it a powerful recommending and policy-forming group. We should be able to keep a guiding hand on the reins of this operation, and by virtue of public opinion and our school newspaper, accomplish this end.

Let me again reiterate that this Student Union is being built for our convenience as students; let's make it the center of the activities of the Associated Students. This could do more than anything else to weld everyone on both of our campuses into a solid, strong body of students working together for the benefit of all.

GEORGE ALLEN
