SERA Relief Work Roll Shows Marked Decrease As Crops Are Harvested

ONLY 42 CASES ON FILE FOR MONTH OF OCTOBER

Six Projects Now Under Way in This District Including Aliso School and work at High School

According to the monthly report of the SERA for October compiled by Butler Coles in charge of the work here, the list of persons on SERA relief has been greatly reduced during the past month, there being but 42 cases on file now for this district which comprises Carpinteria, Summerland and Montecito.

The falling off of cases is due largely to the seasonal work in the beans. Following the bean harvest will be work in the peas. This is expected to keep the list low for the next several months.

At the present time there are six SERA projects under way in this district. The projects and number of men employed on them are as follows:

Carpinteria High School—Connecting school with sewer. 4 men under SERA employed.

Carpinteria High School—Painting window trim and woodwork. 1 man under SERA employed.

Carpinteria State Beach Park—Cleaning up grounds, painting dressing rooms, grading and laying stone curbing. 12 men under SERA employed.

Montecito School—Clearing five acres of ground to be used for a school project. 9 men under SERA employed.

Montecito School—Fencing tennis court. 2 men under SERA called from Santa Barbara.

Aliso School—Skilled and semi-skilled labor used in building work. 51 men under SERA mostly from Santa Barbara; some local.

All the men on the list for this district are employed locally. It has been necessary to call on the Santa Barbara list for a number of men in order to have sufficient help on the various projects under way.

Of the 42 cases receiving work relief in October, 36 were U. S. citizens, 2 were Mexicans, 3 were English and 1 Italian.

SERA work relief is only extended as a last resort in cases where people are in dire need and have been unable to find other work. The number of days each man may work is dependent upon the budget established for his family by the case worker.

TWO NEW SERA PROJECTS STARTED AT HIGH SCHOOL

Two new SERA projects were begun in Carpinteria last week, both being in connection with the high school, the contracts being received from Chief Engineer Ralph Wodsworth late last week, and work begun at once.

One project is the completion of the hook-up of the school sewage system with the city mains. The contract calls for 114 feet of 4-in. pipe, and 426 feet of 8-in. pipe, the maximum cost being figured at $650, of which the SERA funds pay $396. Labor from local unemployed is being used, the school directors securing E. V. Stubbs to superintend the work.

The second project is the painting of the exterior of the high school buildings, the maximum cost estimated at $832 of which $693 came from the SERA funds. E. R. Schuyler is employed at the job under the SERA.

Merriam Leads in Race by 250,000 Majority; Bliss and Kramer Lose

TUBBS AND TALMAGE RETAIN LOCAL OFFICES

Election Boards Work Far Into Night as Record Vote Is Cast; Bond Issues Pass; Local Option Defeated

Now that the smoke of battle has cleared, California is taking inventory of the officials elected on Tuesday. With practically all returns complete Merriam has a lead of approximately 260,000 over Sinclair. Hatfield also leads Downey by a comfortable margin. Other state officials were returned to their offices by a wide majority.

A number of the amendments carried; among them No. 2 liberalizing liquor laws; No. 23 authorizing $54,000,000 bond issue for relief of unemployed; No. 1 authorizing $30,000,000 bond issue for loans for veterans and No. 7 extending state civil service.

The amendment providing for local option, No. 13 was overwhelmingly defeated. Other measures that did not meet with the approval of the voters were No. 9 and 17, initiatives governing chiropractors and naturopaths and No. 11 which would have established an elective board of education in place of the superintendent of public instruction.

George R. Bliss, local Republican candidate for congress from the 10th district was defeated by Henry E. Stubbs, incumbent and Democrat by about 33%.

Alfred W. Robertson, Democratic candidate for Assembly from this county won the office from Ira Kramer, Republican by a small majority. The race for the office of County Treasurer developed into quite a battle and L. A. Gammill ousted the incumbent, George W. MacLellan, by a wide majority.

Judge Jerome F. Tubbs retained his office as Justice of the Peace by the small majority of 34 votes. C. A. Talmage was returned to the office of Constable by a majority of 811 votes.

Voting in all precincts in the first township was heavy. Election boards in the Carpinteria precincts worked far into the night and at 9:30 Wednesday morning two of the Montecito boards were still tallying votes; 364 votes having been cast in one of the precincts and 387 in the other.

All precincts in this township gave a majority in favor of No. 2 and all precincts with the exception of Summerland voted heavily against No. 13, local option.

Votes by precincts are tabulated on this page.

COMMITTEE WORKING ON BY-LAWS OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

A committee of three appointed by Marc Latham, acting president of the chamber of commerce, has been working on the revision of the by-laws of that organization. The committee is composed of Stuart McMartin, Percy Houts and C. B. Franklin.

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce which was to have been held next Wednesday night has been postponed a week, in order that legal advice may be had concerning certain phases of the re-organization.

At the next meeting the revised by-laws will be submitted for approval. It will then be possible to plan for the election of officers to serve the body during 1935.

The district has entered into a contract with Hartley whereby the equipment is to be housed at his garage, a man to be on duty at all times, the equipment to be kept up and fuel provided for the sum of $75.00 a month.

Arrangements are being made to have the garage open 24 hours a day within a few days. In the meantime should a fire occur between 6 p.m. and 8 a.m. persons are asked to call either Mr. Hartley or his chief mechanic at once. These two telephone numbers may be found on the front of the telephone directory.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. A. E. Koehler of Santa Barbara will give a program of vocal numbers at the meeting of the Woman's club next Thursday, and Miss Martha Jayne Godding will tell of her visit to the Madiera Islands. The American Homes department will meet at 10:30 for its demonstration.

ADULT ECONOMICS CLASS TO START AT HIGH SCHOOL

A continuation of last year's successful class in economics and current problems is promised by Dr. Irving A. Mather, of the high school faculty. A new surprise feature of this class has been arranged with President Phelps of the State Teachers College. All high school graduates who have once enrolled at the State College or who plan to register there in the next year or two will be given State College credit upon completion of the course and approval of Dr. Mather. This is the first extension service by the State College to be given the Carpinteria Valley and should be taken advantage of by those who have been unable to continue their college education this year.

The class will study current and practical applications of economic principles and is open to any adult. A large number of the forty who were enrolled in the World Economic problems of last year have already signified their desire for such a class this year. The class will probably start in two weeks and the exact night will be announced later.

MRS. VIRGIE REEVES IS BITTEN BY INSECT

Mrs. Reeves was working in the beans at the Miller & Humphreys house when she suffered a sharp sting on the third finger of her left hand. While she did not see the insect that inflicted the bite, symptoms indicated that it might have been one of the poisonous spiders.

Mrs. Reeves was released from the hospital Wednesday and is now out of danger.

IS IT FAIR?

In gathering up election returns we came upon two precincts in Montecito where the boards were still counting at 9:30 the next morning after election. In both of these precincts nearly 400 hundred ballots had been cast. In addition to the officers to be elected there were 23 amendments on these ballots which practically doubled the work.

The state and national government is strongly advocating shorter hours and higher pay but apparently this does not apply to the government. Granted that the cost of government is much too high, it would seem that there must be other places where cuts could be made without working hardship on election boards that only function at the most a few times a year.

People working on election boards have had the pay for this work cut from $10.00 to $8.00. Many persons working on this last election put in 28 hours without sleep. In the first place, with the government advocating a 6 hour day, why shouldn't election boards be run on two shifts at least? One to work during the voting hours and another to count the votes. The work could be done more rapidly and with less chance of error if a fresh crew started in on the counting rather than a group of people already tired from a full days work.

In the second place, 28c an hour for work of this nature is mighty poor pay, even during a depression. A much fairer basis of pay would be at a certain rate per hour. In this manner the boards would be paid for the extra time put in when voting is heavy or there is a long ballot and in case of a light vote the pay would automatically be cut by the shorter hours put in.

CONGRATULATIONS, CHIEF

Cyril Hartley, who was today appointed Fire Chief of this district by the directors of the district deserve the congratulations and thanks of the entire community for the time and untiring effort he has devoted for several years to the bringing about of adequate fire protection to this community.

It was largely through his efforts that an election was called and a fire district which includes Carpinteria and Summerland was formed. He is experienced in organizing and training volunteer departments and it is only fair and fitting that he should receive this appointment.

To organize and train a volunteer department is no small task and Hartley will need, in fact he must have, the co-operation of the entire district if he is to carry out his program successfully.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY

It may be possible that some people in this vicinity are not aware of the fact that we now have a Theatre operating here again. Or if they are aware of the fact, they do not realize that first run pictures are being shown practically as soon as they are in Santa Barbara.

It is no longer necessary to drive 25 miles and pay a higher rate of admission to see a good show. You may see the same thing here for less money and trouble.

The theatre is an asset to the community and if the people want it, it should receive their support.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

California's state gasoline tax, which has been the storm-center of bitter and protracted battles in by-gone sessions of the state Legislature, promises to stir up another battle-royal during the 1935 meeting of the law-makers.

At least three proposals for changes in the tax and in the system of allocating its revenues are certain to make their appearance in the Legislature, according to present indications. And each of the suggested changes will generate days of heated controversy, if the legislators run true to form.

Here are the three amendments which are under consideration by various groups for submission to the Legislature:

1. Diversion of part of the gasoline tax revenues from highway purposes to the general fund to help meet the state deficit.
2. Increase of the present 3-cent tax to 4-cents, with the additional income allocated to general revenue purposes. There have also been some suggestions that the tax might be increased to 5 cents.
3. Allocation to California cities of 1/2 cent of the present 3-cent levy to build and maintain city streets without special assessments.

The proposal to divert gas tax revenues to the general fund is not new. It was submitted to the voters less than two years ago, with a stipulation that the money was to be used to pay for the interest and redemption of highway bonds, but was decisively rejected.

Since that time, however, the state deficit has doubled and trebled, with every indication that the forthcoming Legislature will be forced to find more than $100,000,000 in new revenues. And the pressure for diversion of gasoline tax revenues to cover some part of the present fund shortage has greatly intensified.

The terrific deficit confronting the State is also responsible for the proposal to increase the gasoline levy to 4 cents, or more, with the additional revenues going to the support of general government. And with determined opposition to any increase in property taxes, plus violent opposition to any plan to increase the sales tax, the suggestion that the gas tax be used as a general revenue measure will undoubtedly have strong support in some quarters.

The proposed amendment to allocate 1/2 cent of the gas tax to the cities is sponsored by the League of California Municipalities and is likely to have the support of such powerful groups as the two state auto clubs (leading opponents of the diversion proposal); the State Chamber of Commerce and possibly the State Department of Public Works.

At the present time, under an amendment enacted during the 1933 session of the Legislature, the cities are allocated 1/4 of a cent of the tax for city street work. In addition to asking that the 1/4 cent be increased to 1/2 cent, the League of Municipalities will make a drive to have the state finance all expenses of state highways within cities—approximately 1,000 miles, in total.

California farmers, considering the various tax proposals, must not render hasty judgment. The financial crisis at the 1935 session of the Legislature will be the greatest in the history of California state government. And when the smoke of battle clears from the general election, every California citizen, if he values his pocketbook and the welfare of his state, must give serious attention to the financial dilemma confronting the government.

To further constructive action, every group sponsoring tax amendments should submit its proposals to public scrutiny before the Legislature

The Last Word

By ANN

Now that the election is over, guess I will take myself to L. A. and relax? by enjoying a good football game Saturday. No stop to think about it I rather doubt whether I will relax or not, especially when I'm betting on USC. I'll probably work just as hard as the team and feel worse when the game is over. And if I look slightly scratched up when I get back it is nothing to be alarmed over. My husband is hiding behind a very bushy beard which he has grown in honor of an Armistice Day Celebration to be held in his home town. I am beginning to understand why stories of the pioneers usually mention the fact that wives only kissed their husbands when they were leaving on long trips. I don't think if it was due to any lack of affection, but then if you've ever had a hubby come home from a hunting or fishing trip or one that was celebrating pioneer days you'll understand what I mean.

And being a female of the species I'd like to know just what "kick" these men get out of growing beards and mustachios. My hubby admits that it itches like "heck" and that he will be glad when he can shave it off. Guess it will have to be charged up to a hang-over from the stone age.

But getting back to the election, I'd like to know why one election board posted the returns on a pole that was surrounded by a large and hungry family of ants. One ant is bad enough, but when you suddenly discover that a whole family of them is exploring your anatomy and taking sample nips frequently you're busier than a one-armed person with the hives.

And also there must be some deep secret about the number of ballots cast in Summerland. Both at the primary and this week's election, the number of ballots cast did not appear on the return sheet posted at the polling place.

BABBLINGS

By A. BROOK

At last this hectic political battle is over and this writer is glad of it. Through the entire campaign there have been several confusing factors that we have had some difficulty in straightening out.

In the first place we have been hearing for several months about "I Governor" by Mr. Sinclair. Now up until his death we were of the opinion that Rolph was in the chair and was followed by Merriam. When Merriam took over the reins it seemed to us that he should have been the one talking about the "I Governor" business. We just can't seem to get the matter straight.

As the campaign waged hotter and hotter and the time for election drew nearer we were dumfounded to find

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

By IVAN KELSON
General Counsel, Automobile Club of Southern California

Question—Is the liability of the owner of an automobile who gives permission to another to operate his car unlimited?

Answer—Section 1714 1/4 of the Civil Code establishes the following limits of liability in any one accident: Property damage $1,000; death or bodily injury to one person $5,000, or to two or more persons $10,000.

Question—Must the driver of an automobile, who in making a "U" turn on the highway forces another machine off the road and into a bank causing injuries to occupants of the other car, stop and render aid even though there was no collision between the two vehicles?

Answer—Section 141 of the Vehicle Act, which sets forth the occasions in which a duty exists to stop in the event of an accident, refers to "the driver of any vehicle involved in an accident" resulting in injury or death to persons or damage to property. A proper construction of this wording would include incidents of the kind described, as well as those in which the driver of a vehicle collides with another object, as it cannot be said that the vehicle making the "U" turn was not "involved" in the accident. Aid should be rendered and the other duties required by Section 141 should be fulfilled.

Question—A judgment was rendered against me and was not satisfied within fifteen days after it became final and I was required to surrender my operator's license to the Department of Motor Vehicles. Thereafter the judgment was satisfied and I filed an insurance certificate and application for the reissuance of the license. The license was reissued in a restricted form. For how long a period of time will I be required to operate my car under this restriction?

Answer—The provisions of Section 73-g of the California Vehicle Act do not limit the time in which proof of ability to respond in damages must be made. Neither is there any limitation of time in Section 36 1/2 and 36 3/4 of the California Vehicle Act providing the method of filing proof of ability to respond in damages. It will, therefore, be necessary to file such proof as long as the license is effective or until some future action by the legislature.

MONTHLY SUMMARY OF BUSINESS CONDITIONS COMPILED BY THE SECURITY-FIRST NATIONAL

Improvement during October advanced the general level of business activity in Southern California to a new high point for 1934 with marked gains in retail trade and agricultural income as the outstanding developments of the period, according to the Monthly Summary of Business Conditions compiled and published by the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles.

"Favorable records were also made by the petroleum industry and building construction and renovation concerns. Most manufacturing businesses, however, operated at about the same rate as in preceding months. In the field of finance, a sharp recovery occurred in the price of California municipal bonds while deposits continued to expand," the report states, continuing in part as follows:

"The bank's index of local business activity stands, on the basis of preliminary figures, at 69.7 for October, equalling the high point reached in the inflation-inspired rise of 1933. In September, the index stood at 67.5 and in October, 1933, it was 65.0.

"Of interest to both property owners and people occupying rented dwellings is the growing evidence that rental rates are beginning to rise in this area. Reports gathered from 26 Southern California communities during the past month revealed a distinct reversal of the downward trend of recent years in all but a few instances. Since much of the large volume of unemployment in Los Angeles County is occasioned by the inactivity of the building trades, the appearance of a demand for new housing is significant.

"Preliminary figures on department store sales show an expansion of retail trade in Los Angeles of about 3 per cent as contrasted with September, after seasonal factors are given consideration. Trade in suburban and agricultural communities was considerably larger in October than in either September, 1934, or October, 1933, according to preliminary reports from 26 representative communities in the southern part of the State. Marked gains are shown by Santa Ana, Fresno and other agricultural cities as a result of the increased returns received for farm products this season.

"A further expansion of demand deposits, increases in commercial loans, and a sharp gain in reserve balances characterized the local banking situation during the four weeks ended

October 24. Aggregate deposits advanced to a new high level for the recovery period, the growth of demand accounts offsetting recessions in time funds. California municipal bond prices rose appreciably during October, retracing about three-fourths of the recession which occurred during August and September. Several issues are not far below the peak levels reached in July of this year.

"The general level of industrial activity in October remained about the same as in August and September. Awards pending on public works projects, however, indicate that a more active level will be attained in November. Third quarter earnings reports of California oil companies revealed a substantial recovery resulting from more orderly marketing in this area during the last few months. "There was a substantial increase in the number and value of building permits issued in Los Angeles during October. The report for that period as published by the Los Angeles Department of Building and Safety, reveals a total of 1,858 permits valued at $1,936,018 as compared with 1,454 permits aggregating $1,086,518 in September.

"A moderate increase was registered during October in the volume of additions to and alterations of residences, the total of $297,800 comparing with $188,100 in the previous month. It is believed this is attributable largely to the stimulus of the Federal Housing campaign, since the inception of which the banks of Southern California have authorized loans estimated at over $500,000.

"While final data on the 1934 agricultural crop returns are not yet available, most observers are of the opinion that farmers are enjoying the most profitable year since 1931. Reports from Fresno and other south San Joaquin Valley communities indicate that the aggregate income of that area will be several million dollars larger this year than in 1933. Harvesting of beans is nearing completion in Southern California with lima bean growers favored by higher prices for a larger crop than was produced in 1933."

Work was started last week on the remodeling of the lower floor of the Masonic Building which is to be occupied about December 15th by Frank E. Smith's Hardware Store.

"GOING HOME TO A WARM HOUSE? AN EVENING'S WARMTH COSTS LESS THAN THE MAGAZINE IN YOUR POCKET"

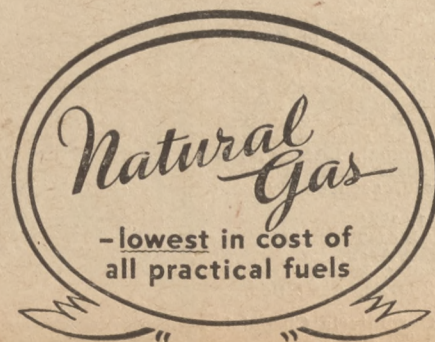

Which would you rather pay 10c for—a magazine to read in a cold house, or warm rooms in which to spend the evening comfortably doing anything?

That's a true illustration of the small cost of natural gas for house heating in Southern California. It is based on accurate statistics showing that the average expenditure for heating, by nearly a million users of gas, is between seven and eight cents a day—during the coolest six months of the year.

Indoor comfort in winter is so insignificant an item of household expense that you needn't be concerned about the cost of making your house heating arrangements perfect. Perhaps another small gas heater will do it—ask your dealer or gas company to inspect your heating equipment now.

S. B. CHEVROLET NINE PROVES TOO STRONG FOR CARPINTERIANS

In a well played and fast baseball game staged on the high school diamond the Carpinteria baseball team was defeated by the strong Santa Barbara Chevrolet team by the score of 5 to 1.

Although the Carpinteria team was defeated they showed the townspeople that they had the making of a good hustling ball club which would, in a short time, be able to keep company with any of the teams in this vicinity.

Outside of one bad inning when the Chevrolets scored three runs the game was a nip and tuck affair.

The Carpinteria team scored the first run of the game in the third inning when Beaver scored after getting a single on Joe Granada's three-base hit.

Joe Granada and Darrell Beaver both got two hits apiece, with Dominguez, Luther, Luer and Sanchez each getting one.

The batting averages of the team in the two games played under the management of Darrell Beaver are as follows: Granada, .714; Beaver, .556; Dominguez, .333; Sanchez, .333; Moreno, .300; Luther, .167; Alonzo, .125; Stewart, .125; and those who have been in one game averages are: Jimenez, 1.000; McLaughlin, .400 and Luer, .333 with team team batting average of .399.

BLISS THANKS VOTERS FOR LOYAL SUPPORT

I thank from my heart the scores of Carpinteria people who labored so long and faithfully upon the preparation and distribution of my publicity material.

I thank Carpinteria for the splendid vote given me. A vote of two to one in the three precincts and nearly 70% in my own precinct is all that I could possibly expect in view of the overwhelming sentiment of the nation to endorse the New Deal. I realize that many in Carpinteria voted for me because of friendship and a personal confidence who would have otherwise voted for Mr. Stubbs. He is a fine fellow and a friend of mine and has my best wishes for a successful term.

I see no hope for the Republican party until it offers the country and its candidates a definite substitute program to replace the New Deal. It cannot expect success on a policy of mere opposition and criticism. Modern conditions demand something more than an attitude of "let-things-alone and prosperity will return." The Republican program should be a definite well-thought-out plan for making the country what it was intended to be by its founders—a land of equal opportunity for the private industry of its citizens and for the development of private initiative to make an honest living. Neither in Sinclair's socialism or the New Deal policy of wholesale gifts and subsidy is there any hope of real prosperity and happiness for America.
