Great Improvements Shown In Santa Barbara State In Last Few Years Says Phelps Report

ROADRUNNERS TACKLE TAFT IN CLOSING BATTLE

After slapping down Redlands University with a score of 13-0 last Friday night, the Roadrunners will clash with Taft Junior College in Peabody Stadium this afternoon. This is State's third home game out of ten games scheduled, and it ends the most strenuous season in the history of football at the college.

Following the cancellation of the La Verne game, Coach Hal Davis secured a tilt with the valley J. C. in order that the students here might see the team in action before the season closes.

Little is known of the strength of the Taft gridders except that they trounced Visalia J. C., 63-0, and later succumbed to Fresno State freshmen by a count of 19-0. Valley newspapers report that the oil drillers have perfected an aerial offensive which has accounted for most of their scores this year. The Roadrunners have been playing against teams with good passing attacks for the past two weeks and should have gained enough experience to successfully bottle up any overhead scoring attempts made by Taft.

Coach Davis will probably rely on his power plays principally for his offensive work this afternoon. They met with such success against the Redlands Bulldogs that Davis has little worry as to their effectiveness.

The Roadrunner squad is in good condition, and if the first string runs up a lead in the early part of the game, practically every man will be given a chance to show his worth. Several of the first string men will be playing their last game of football (Continued on Page 4, Col. 5)

$3,000 Remains For Field Improvements

After a meeting of President Clarence Phelps, Coach Hal Davis and L. Deming Tilton last Tuesday evening, it was found that about $3000 still remains of the $10,000 appropriated by the state for improvement work on the athletic field, and this amount has been rebudgeted to continue the work on the field.

With about 4,200 yards of dirt yet to be cut away, $1785 will be expended to do this. An excellent running track, which will cost about $1000, will be built next and should be in condition for track meets next spring. Water mains and other minor details will probably take up the rest of the money.

CAST FOR COLLEGE PLAY IS SELECTED

The success of "March Hares," the play by Harry Wagstaff Gribble to be given by the College Players on January 24 at the Lobero Theatre, has been further assured by the choice of an excellent cast, according to Harold Jones, director of dramatics.

The story of "March Hares" centers around the lovers, Janet and Geoffrey, who run an elocution school. The part of Janet is taken by Yvonne Irwin, and the man by Harold Jones. These two become jealous of each other and each invites an affinity to the studio. The girl brings in Mr. Fuller and Geoffrey gets Claudia Kitts. These two parts were given to Eddie Davens and Sally Leonard. Janet's mother, who also lives at the elocution school, is played by Rachel Burns. Jack Viggars plays the part of Oliver, the butler; Laura Breska is Ethel, the maid; Emily Wood, the cook; and the minor part of Mr. Brown has not yet been decided.

The production staff has not been definitely chosen, but Ann Sampson has been given the task of publicity, and Doris Rodehaver is handling the program. It has been decided that the set will be done in modernistic design. Laura Breska and Emily Wood are in charge of this work.

Picnic at Paradise Held By Tau Omega

About thirty members, pledges, and guests of Tau Omega fraternity held a picnic last Sunday afternoon at Paradise camp on the Santa Ynez river. This affair was one of the first social events of the year and the first to be held since the pledging of eight prospective members.

A picnic lunch furnished by the various members and pledges was eaten, after which dishwashing seemed to be the main event for most of the pledges. Cards and baseball made up the program for the rest of the afternoon.

YOUNG DRAMATISTS PRESENT TWO PLAYS

Members of the junior high dramatics class presented two plays, "The Birthday of the Infanta" and "Sir David Wears a Crown," to a crowded auditorium of college and junior high students Tuesday morning.

The first play centered around the story of a Spanish princess who, twelve years of age, was tired of her life, and wanted pleasures as others did, shocking the rest of the royal family. Those who took part in this play were Helen Schott as The Infanta of Spain, Betty Thompson as Duchess of Albuquerque, Grange Lewis as Chamberlain, Everett Bourquin as Count of Tierra Nueva, and June Vance as a Moorish Attendant.

"Sir David Wears a Crown" centers around a story of a queen who is condemned to death by her great aunt for stepping on her toe at a dance. In the course of the play the queen who had run away returns with a small lad to claim her right in making the boy a knight, for she has found an old law that gave her (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

TURKET TROT PLANNED FOR TOMORROWEVE

I'm a jolly old farmer; Rubin
Huskie is my name;
I've come all the way from home a lot;
I've just come down to have a

And join with you in the Turkey Trot.

Yes, there is going to be a Turkey Trot tomorrow night at Rockwood at 8:30 o'clock. The dance will be in the form of a "barn dance," and the hall will be decorated accordingly. The boys will wear their cords and sweaters, and the girls will wear their best gingham.

Several special dances will be on the program, according to Betty Procter, chairman of the social committee. More will be on the program if the students don't come in the prescribed dress, she says.

Vin Janssens' orchestra will furnish the music. The committees assisting Betty are Dorothea Peterson, entertainment; Laura Breska and Emily Wood, decorations; William Pensinger, cleanup; Ann Sampson, program; Whitelaw Birss, floor.

The patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. William Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Schurer O. Werner; Miss Hazel Severy, Miss Edith Leonard, and Alpheus Lincoln.

WOMEN TO OPEN NEW CLUBROOM NEXT TUESDAY

Plans for the opening of the new club room for the women have been completed with the day marked by an open house following the Vesper services Tuesday afternoon. Miss Ann Hegeman, chairman of the clubroom committee and manager of the clubroom itself, will be one of the hostesses for the affair. Dean Mildred Pyle will assist.

A committee, composed of Ann Hegeman, Thelma Morgan, and Mary Jane Haney, have been working on the furnishings of the room. Wicker furniture, painted black, are off-set by creamy tan walls and curtains with a background of brown. The rugs are grey with a darker grey border, the floors stained to harmonize with the brown motif.

The larger room opens on to a sun porch through French doors. The woodwork of both these rooms has been painted black, the intentions of the committee in charge to keep the rooms as conventional as possible and yet carry out the general Spanish atmosphere of the patio.

"All women, and men, too, if they care to see our clubroom, are invited to be at the open house," said Miss Hegeman. The time has been set for immediately after the Thanksgiving vesper services.

COLLEGE COLLECTS $4580 IN S. B. DUES

Where do our student body dues and laboratory fees go? That is the question which many of the students have been asking. David Watson, student body treasurer, has made a thorough report to show where they go.

Four thousand five hundred and eighty dollars was collected this semester for student body dues, and the money was allotted to the following groups:

Men's athletics	40%	$1832.00
Social activities	13%	595.40
La Cumbre	13%	595.40
Eagle	10%	458.00

W. A. A.	4.5%	206.10
Dramatics	1%	45.80
Activities	1%	45.80
Sinking fund	10%	458.00

The laboratory fees which go toward keeping up the workshops amounted to $3859.50, the library collecting $1303, the science department $1202, the art department $307, the home eco- (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

Bright Future Seen For State College

Great developments have taken place at Santa Barbara State College during the past five years, according to a report just completed by President Clarence Phelps for the state department of education at Sacramento. The college has grown in enrollment, several more buildings have been added, and the courses of study have been improved to make State one of the leading colleges of its kind in California.

Five new buildings have been added to the campus, chief among which are the administration building and the home economics building. A fully equipped science building is also being planned, and work is expected to start on it some time next year. These additions in the last five years have more than doubled the floor area of the college.

Enrollment Grows

Enrollment has taken great bounds with an increase of 41 per cent in half a decade. In 1923-24 the enrollment was but 323 students. This semester the college has registered 584 students to break all previous records. Over 600 students are expected to be on the campus next year.

Courses have been enlarged to offer a much wider field for study. To the old four major courses of art, industrial education, home economics, and general professional, have been added five more to make nine courses in which an A.B. is granted. The new courses, all starting for the first time this semester, are physical education, junior high school teaching certificate, English, history, and another course in home economics. The last three named are pre-secondary courses and belong mainly to the liberal arts.

Standards for teaching have been raised. For a certificate permitting teaching in the elementary grades, the period of study has been raised from two to four years.

Notice

"Daddy" Robertson announces that there will be a special rooting section for the alumni of the high school at the game with San Bernardino tomorrow. He wants all graduates who are attending State to come and cheer for their Alma Mater, which is playing in the quarter finals for the Southern California championship. As State plays Friday, there will be no college game to attract the college rooters.

OUR FOOTBALL TEAM

THAT some students should be dissatisfied with the showing of the football team this season is natural when they are in ignorance of the circumstances attending competition this year. Let us give a brief explanation of football conditions this season, not as alibis, but as straight facts.

Competition among the major members of the Southern Conference is nothing to be taken lightly. Occidental is a threat to nearly any college team. Last year the Tigers gave powerful U. S. C. a scare before the Trojans won by only three touchdowns, and the Roadrunners held Oxy to 14-0 to startle members of the Southern Conference and football followers throughout Southern California. During the game we were in the press box with sports writers for many of the big newspapers around Los Angeles, and these authorities were astounded. And when the Roadrunners put up such a stubborn defense, those men, staunch Oxy supporters, were won over to our side and hoped for a score against the Tigers.

Later, Coach Davis took the boys north to play the Stanford Grays. Handicapped by a small squad, he had to keep the same players in the game for the major part of the time, and the sun was so hot that when Neidermuller, the waterboy, took out the pail, steam arose in clouds! Stanford had a big squad and fresh players were plenty. Stanford, too, was bound to have a strong outfit.

The Roadrunners count the San Diego 7-6 setback as a moral victory. They outgained the Aztecs all through the game, and had it won until a pass, thrown frantically in the last minute, netted a score, and for us a loss. We admit the boys should have beaten L. A. J. C., but the exhibition of poor playing that day should have given the southerners an easy victory.

Cal Christian and the Roadrunners were about on a par, but the Panthers took advantage of our miserable defense against passes and cinched the game in beautiful style. La Verne has forfeited to State, and things look rosy for the game against Taft. A victory in our last game would give the Roadrunners five victories, four defeats, and a tie, which is highly commendable for the toughest schedule the college has ever had.

Long trips in buses, week after week, as the Roadrunners have taken this year, are not conducive to good playing. After a season of many out-of-town games, we should have a majority of home games next year, and this fact coupled with the good material developed this year and that coming up from the freshman squad, should mean a bright season next year.

The boys, though they have slumped occasionally in some of their games, have turned in a splendid record for a trying year, and the college should be proud of the team. Fine work, Roadrunners, and let it continue in the game this afternoon with Taft Junior College. If you do, it will make a memorable impression on the minds of those students who have been too ready to condemn you in their ignorance.

Journalism Society
Pledges 5 Members

Five students were formally pledged to the local chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity, at the regular meeting held Monday night, November 18, at the home of Dora Woods, 1620 Garden street.

Those who received the little white pencils bearing the letters Alpha Phi Gamma as the sign of pledge to the organization are Dorothea Peterson, Katherine Bishop, Allan Ottley, Samuel Williams and Dean William Ashworth.

After the pledging ceremony the meeting was adjourned and the pledges joined the members in playing "Bunco." High prizes were won by Marie Cochran and Bob Smith, while Dorothea Peterson held the low score. A late supper of tamales, crackers and punch, concluded the evening's entertainment.

Elementary Students
Give Program In Aud.

Seventh grade students of the elementary school presented a Spanish program last Friday afternoon in the auditorium under the guidance of student teacher Rose Cicero to illustrate the work being done by that class in its first year of Spanish.

The program was opened by a chorus of gayly clad señoritas and caballeros singing an American version of a Spanish song, "The Gay Caballero." Two short skits were given and "El Vendedor de Legumbres." The close of the program was a solo by Rose Cicero, "Estrallita," with an accompaniment by the class.

An exhibit of student handicraft was exhibited in the front of the auditorium.

The plays were given under the direction of Robert Wormser and the costumes made by Mrs. H. A. Vance.

UPPERCLASS WOMEN
WIN HOCKEY TITLE

With the upperclass women already holding the interclass hockey championship, the sophomores and freshmen fought it out for second place last Thursday on the elementary school field. The sophomores trounced the freshmen with a 4-2 score. The upperclass team had defeated the sophs 7-3, and the frosh with a 5-1 score.

The teams were as follows: Upperclass: Marlyn Jameson, captain; Peggy Downs, Kathleen Donahue, Edith Maxwell, Helen Nauman, Lucille Powers, Helen Webster, Margaret Wilson, and Dora Woods; sophomores: Mary Longawa, captain; Theodora Corey, Mildred Chamberlain, Louise Dunham, Winifred Jones, Ellen Kimberly, Arleen Klett, Jean Nielson, Shirley Mercer, Elizabeth Peacock, Ida Reeder, Pearl Rieger and Jean Wood; frosh: Mae Smith, captain; Marjorie Ballentine, Shirley Burch, Meryl Adams, Sadie Ambrosini, Ruth Arnold, Edwina Elliott, Olive Nay, Florence Richmond, Betty Weeks and Sally Smith. Miss Van Fossen coached the teams and refereed the games. Lena Dardi was the student manager of hockey.

Delta Zeta Deltans
Give Party Tonight

The Delta Zeta Delta sorority has planned an Autumn Party to be held this evening, at 9 o'clock in the home of Jean Neilson's aunt at 2405 Santa Barbara street.

The music is to be furnished by Vic Janssen's orchestra, and four committees have been appointed to take care of the entertainment. The committees are as follows:

Refreshments, Elizabeth Peacock; decorations, Carmie Janssens; invitations, Elsie Tietz; programs, Jeanette Birnie.

Sr. Committee Chosen

The committee to prepare for Senior Class Day for next semester has been chosen with Franklin Anderson as chairman. Other members are Thelma Morgan, Marlyn Jameson, Dora Woods, and Margaret Webster.

Popular Frosh Girl
Engaged to Meston

Ann Sampson surprised her many college friends recently when she announced her engagement to Norman Meston, a former student at Santa Barbara State. Miss Sampson, who is a member of the freshman class, has been very prominent in school, being vice-president of the student body and president of the Girls' League while in the Santa Barbara High School, and just several weeks ago she completed with success the managership of Freshman Class Day.

Meston entered school at the first of this year, but dropped out six weeks later when he went to work in a local dentist laboratory. He plans to enter the dental school at U. S. C. next year.

No definite plans for the wedding have as yet been announced.

HALF DECADE BRINGS
FIVE NEW BUILDINGS

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5) is the training school. There are 180 students enrolled in the College Elementary School and Junior High School, with six supervisors in charge. That the work of the students is of the best is shown by the record made by the first graduating class from the junior high school in high school work. Of 11 students in the 10B class at the high school who are eligible for the honor roll, five are 1929 graduates from the college school, and it graduated only 11 students.

Great advances have been made in athletics. Two years ago the college entered the California Coast Conference, but soon outgrew it and is now in the Southern Conference on probation. The new athletic field, acquired principally through the efforts of President Phelps, will be in a year or two, as fine a field for a small college as can be found in the state.

Plans for the future of the college look bright, and within a few years Santa Barbara State College is going to be one of the leading educational centers in Southern California.

J. H. History Class Writes Henry Ford

Henry Ford is receiving a letter from the ninth grade history class of the College Junior High School regarding his recent statement that "history is the bunk."

S. A. Clark, Jr., is the young man who is the originator of the idea. The class had heard of Ford's statement and could not understand his attitude when he is spending so much money collecting objects for an American historical museum. Robert Wormser, principal, has sent the letters to the wealthy Detroit car man for the class, and a reply is being eagerly awaited.

Young Clark and Phyllis Badger wrote individual letters.

WOMEN BETTER PUPILS SHOWN BY VALENTINES

That women, as a rule, are better students than men was demonstrated in the recent flood of grade notices, commonly referred to as Valentines. Two hundred thirty-five Valentines were sent out among a total enrollment of 584 in the school. Of this number 120 were received by women and 115 by men. However, the women outnumber the men by nearly two to one on the campus.

Of the entire student body, 40 per cent received little notices. Fifty-three per cent of the 216 men in the college received Valentines. Out of the 368 women 33 per cent received the notices.

President Phelps declares that this is one of the poorest showings made by the college, but explains it somewhat by saying that if a teacher was in the least bit doubtful, a notice was sent. "It is better to receive a warning now and pick up than to go along in ignorance of one's standing and fail at the end of the semester," President Phelps said.

In practically every college, according to Phelps, the women are superior students, due perhaps to the fact that men are engaged in more outside activities such as sports and work.

Student Opinion

Every one seems to be having his say about the various student activities, therefore I feel justified in saying a word on a subject that deeply interests me.

Why isn't there more interest shown in that great game called tennis? We've got two courts, the best in town, over by the athletic field. And now a third one has been completed, just below the practice field back of the gymnasium.

There must be some tennis fanatics in this school, interested enough in the game to play at least once in a while. But no one ever sees them. The college courts are invariably empty. I suppose, however, that the poor players are ashamed to show how rotten they are, and the good ones are afraid to take a chance on playing, because they might ruin their superb games playing with some dub.

What I want to know is why doesn't someone put on a tournament? I'll bet Hal Davis would sponsor the thing. And it's a cinch that some of the sporting goods houses down town would put up a few cups. A tournament would at least pep things up, and give some of the players around the school a chance to strut their stuff. Signed A. Tennis Racket.

Dear Editor:

Not to indulge in the current destructive criticism of this forum but merely to question a particular campus situation and offer suggestions, may I ask: "Where are the student actors of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, and why has our freshman dramatics director chosen members of his class for all parts of any importance in 'March Hares,' the coming college production?"

Logic tells us that the best talent should be found in the upper classes. Why hasn't the director cast about for this material? Is he prejudiced in favor of freshmen, or did his tryouts conclusively prove that our freshmen are the best in drama?

We have sincere faith in the ability of our director, as evidenced by our choice of him, but why must we be forced to criticize this obvious situation?

An Observer.

Editor of the Eagle:

Action on the part of the freshmen to discontinue wearing their beanies seems to have been abandoned. Also for the past week there have been few, if any, paddlings by the sophomores. A mutual understanding has come between the two classes. The freshmen continue to wear their little green caps and the sophomores have discontinued the imposed indignities to their lower classmates.

Though an occasional question is asked of the freshmen by a sophomore about his beanie, nothing is done when a freshman is found not wearing one. What is wrong with the sophomores? Have they lost all of their spunk and initiative which was so prevalent and pronounced during the first weeks of college, or did they take heed of the warning the freshmen put in the Eagle last week?

It will be only a few days until it is known which class is the stronger, the freshmen or the sophomores. However, if the sophomores again choose to enforce beanie wearing, care should be taken by them in handling the situation which is at present undecided and delicate.

WOMEN OUT FOR CLASS CONTESTS IN BASKETBALL

Basketball practice for girls started last Tuesday night. Practice will be held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon starting at four-fifteen. Miss Van Fossen will be in charge of the practices and Jean Nielson, the manager of basketball this year, will also help with the coaching.

It is hoped that this year there will be enough girls out to have a team representing every class. In the past there has only been one team from the two upper classes. "If everyone that was out for hockey will come out for basketball there will be a very good showing," said Miss Van Fossen.

BULLDOGS ARE DEFEATED BY S. B. WARRIORS

By Ardle Pierce

Ripping the University of Redlands line to pieces for 19 first downs on straight smashing plays, gridiron warriors of the Olive and White hit their stride at Redlands last Friday night and took a 13-0 victory from the Bulldogs. Previous to the game the Roadrunners were doped at least two touchdowns under the southern players so the victory was something of an upset in Southern Conference circles.

The Santa Barbara eleven, beaten in three games this season by bad breaks, took the offensive from the opening whistle and kept the pigskin so much of the time that the Redlands team had no time to try its highly touted passing attack. A few passes by the Bulldogs counted for six first downs to Santa Barbara's 19.

The first touchdown of the game came early in the second quarter. After hitting the line time after time for gains of from 2 to 20 yards, the Roadrunners finally sent Fred Pierucci over for the score from the two yard line. The conversion was attempted by Bert Clemore but went a few inches to the right of the post.

Coach Hal Davis' proteges played hard football the remainder of the first half and kept plugging the line for gains and when the southerners did get the ball, after holding for downs, defense was strong enough so little ground was gained.

Bucks through gaping holes opened by the line were responsible for the second trip down the field and the Roadrunners' second score. Pierucci again toted the pigskin into pay dirt and Walt Barnett made what might be termed as a perfect conversion with a well-aimed place kick.

Redlands opened up with a series of short passes once or twice but they were soon smothered by the Roadrunners. Twice they threatened the Olive and White goal but when they came too close the Santa Barbara team showed its characteristic stiff defense with its back to the goal line and the Bulldogs were held for downs.

That the victory raised the stock of Santa Barbara in Southern Conference circles is a surety. Two defeats by what might be called bad breaks were suffered by the Roadrunners at San Diego State and Cal Christian. The Bulldogs had beaten both these teams, and the victory for Santa Barbara showed that it was not giving alibis when it told of the bad breaks.

Comparative scores, which, even if they don't mean anything, have a lot of bearing with fans, rate

J. H. Graduates Make Good In High School

The first graduating class from the College Junior High School has set a record that is going to be hard to beat, according to Robert Wormser, principal of the junior high school. Out of 11 students who graduated last June, five have made such grades as to make them eligible for the honor roll at the high school.

With only 11 students, too, from the 10B class at the high school eligible, five of them are from the College Junior High. Billy Okie led the entire 10B class with an A in every subject. Mea Schwatzenberg was second in the entire class, and Alice Schott, Ellen Mae George, and Robert Easton were the others to win eligibility.

Circus Party Tonight

A circus party will be held by the A. W. S. this evening at 5:30 in the gym. There will be a regular ring and booths to represent the usual circus side shows.

A parade will open the program. Sorority and class skits will follow. The best booth will be awarded a prize. Laura Breska will be ringmaster, with the art department, Elizabeth Peacock, Virginia Weber, making arrangements for the affair.

Phelps To Give Talk

President Clarence L. Phelps will speak to the Bakersfield Kiwanis Club next Tuesday on "Goodwill." Phelps gave this talk recently to the Lompoc Rotarians, and has spoken before several other service clubs lately.

Santa Barbara high in the conference. Cal Tech, rated as one of the strong teams of the group, was able to defeat Redlands by exactly the same score as Santa Barbara, which, according to dope, puts Santa Barbara on an even plane with the Technicians. Here's one better, however. Pomona, always rated as one of the two strongest schools in the conference, won from Redlands by 20-7, which is a difference of 13 points, exactly the same as the Roadrunners did. On paper this puts Santa Barbara even with the strongest teams in the conference. Only dope, of course, but it has weight with fans which all helps in the prestige of a school.

The lineups were as follows:

Santa Barbara	Redlands

BIRDS-I-VIEW

By Larry Parma

In a sport comment column in the local Daily News last week was a statement to the effect that State entered the Southern Conference too soon.

According to sport commenter Simpson, officials of State gained admittance to the new league just to be able to say, "Oh, we're in the conference now! Are we hot stuff? And How!"

Comparing us with U. C. L. A.'s position in the Pacific Coast Conference, the local expert goes on to say we have neither the material, men, or facilities to engage such strong teams, inferring in so many words that we are in a class with Padooka.

So we ups and sez to him, "Wotthahel, wotthahel. Whered yuh get that way, Grantland Rice?"

In the first place, the old Central Conference has degenerated into a J. C. league, so it was almost compulsory that Santa Barbara withdraw. Then to be able to get games it was necessary to enter some conference because free-lance teams have an awfully tough time scheduling contests in Southern California. The Southern Conference was the one and only.

Right now State is as big or bigger than most of the other conference schools with the exception of San Diego. Anyone with any foresight at all can see that this college is going to keep on growing till it has as many students as the other large state colleges. U. C. L. A. started in our class. And with the physical major drawing athletes here, material is and will be good. Of course, the Trojans may steal one or two of our stars but we can steal some of theirs right back again.

And with a real pennant to work for the team is going to put up a lot more fight than otherwise would be the case. As for being outclassed: It was a shame the way Redlands team outplayed us, and that 7-6 defeat by San Diego looks like we were shoved all over the field, and did Cal Christian outclass us? Up a pig's eye they did! Only the cancellation of the La Verne game permitted La Verne from outclassing us about minus thirty points. Oxy 14, S. B. 0—any time a margin of two touchdowns is being too much outclassed to enter a conference, and by the champs at that, they'll have to kick Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Montana, Idaho, U. C. L. A., and Oregon State out of the Pacific Coast Conference. And not let Notre Dame play anyone but the Trojans.

The general concensus of opinion seems to be that the estimable Mr. Simpson is given to dodging in his old age.

If the Southern Conference standings had been figured with Cal Christian and Santa Barbara as members they would stand like this today:

	W.	L.
Pomona	5	0
Occidental	3	0
Whittier	3	2
SANTA BARBARA	2	3
Cal Tech	2	3
San Diego	2	4
Cal Christian	1	3
La Verne	0	6

Not bad! Not bad! And only bad breaks prevented the Roadrunners from having won 4 and lost 1, which would have given them third place, and second if Pomona beats Oxy. But then I always was an optimist.

STATE TACKLES TAFT IN CLOSING BATTLE

for Santa Barbara State. Gilbert Martin, Ray Denno, Francis Williams, Howard McKibben, and Bert Clemore will defend the Olive and White goal this afternoon for the last time, each man concluding four years of stellar gridiron action for State.
