VERNON SILVA as King Leontes is the jealousy element in the triangle of "A Winter's Tale."

Tea Honors August Grads At Samarkand

Samarkand hotel's terrace and Jade room will be the setting of the annual tea honoring August graduates Tuesday from 4 to 6 p.m.

Under the direction of the social committee, hosts at the affair will be members of the student council. Approximately 120 graduates will be feted and the administration officers will be guests at the tea.

Heading the program will be a song recital by Roy Stone, baritone, with the string trio and a dancer also included on the entertainment bill.

In charge of invitations to the tea are Margaret Parks and Winifred Burum, reception, Mrs. Juanita Pettis and Mrs. Berda Stella Lewis. Wilma Kiesner, social chairman, will arrange the program and Eleanor Wennerberg, the pouring.

Amateur Hour Offers Prizes

Cash prizes will be offered winners in the amateur hour show Tuesday, students were reminded this week by Doug Mattson, director of assemblies. To be staged fourth hour in the auditorium, the talent program is open to both students and faculty, Mattson said.

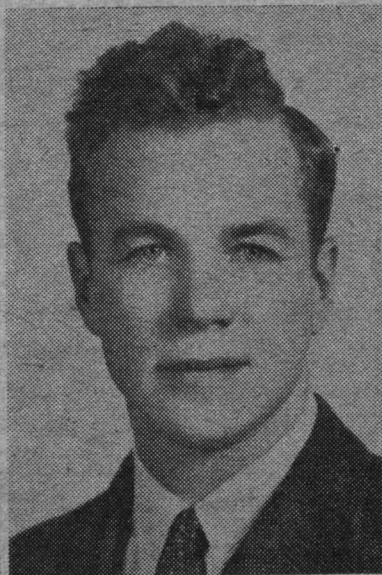

In conjunction with the awarding of medals to winners in the recreational tournaments, the amateur hour is an annual event on the summer session calendar. Anyone with talent or an idea for an act is urged to get in touch with Mattson immediately through his mailbox.

College Thespians Present Shakespeare Drama in Quad

WALDO PHELPS, King Polixenes, is the cause of it all.

The time: 8:30 tomorrow evening. The place: the Quad at State college. The thing: "The plays the thing" . . . namely, "A Winter's Tale," being presented by summer session students for three nights, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Now receiving its finishing touches by Director Frederic W. Hile, this less-known drama by William Shakespeare promises to be the high spot of the summer's extra-curricular activities, a dramatically-presented story that teaches a lesson in control of emotion as well as providing colorful entertainment.

The plot is concerned with unwarranted jealousy on the part of King Leontes, Vernon Silva, with regard to his wife, Queen Hermione, Gwen Davis, and her gracious entertainment of a visiting friend, King Polixenes, Waldo Phelps. Spiteful retribution and its tragic effect on the lives of all those involved is the substance of the first half of the play.

COMEDY

In the second half, Shakespeare turns to comedy, untangles the unhappiness, reunites the separated, provides sparkling wit, comedy relief and romance between Prince Florizel, Harry Sloan and Princess Perdita, Lucille Chester.

Others having a prominent part in "A Winter's Tale" are Georgia Mae Krebs as Paulina, through whose efforts the estranged queen is reunited with her jealous husband and Douglas Mattson as Autolycus, composite of several clown types all rolled into one.

EQUAL CREDIT

"In view of the unusually long speeches and consequent difficulty in emphasis of the thought-core and meaning, the cast has done exceptionally well," commented Director Hile. "Special effort in interpretation of lines, special timing of voice and action was necessary in this play in order to make it easily understandable. For this reason I give credit to every member of the cast for his excellent work in smoothing out the performance."

After the first act, coffee will be served to members of the audience, it is announced. Guests are advised to bring along a blanket, at least a heavy wrap, as the play will be given in the Quad's open-air court, with background of eucalyptus trees, foreground of pool.

Miss Lauritano Plays Tuesday In Assembly

Student body members and townspeople in the fourth hour assembly were thrilled yesterday by the finished playing of Miss Inez Lauritano, violin virtuoso, considered by New York critics to be the greatest woman violinist today.

Miss Lauritano, who has been giving concerts for 22 of her 28 years, was accompanied at the piano by her talented sister, Miss Iris Lauritano, who has only recently been graduated from the Juilliard Graduate School of Music in New York, known as the finest musical institution of higher education in America.

Demonstrating an amazing versatility of technique throughout six numbers, Miss Lauritano executed long runs clearly and smoothly, interpreted phrases with unusual spirit and sensitiveness.

First number was "Arioso" by Bach-Franko; next the lively, intricate "preludium" of Bach-Kreisler; third the melodic minor "Serenade Melancolique" of Tchaikowsky and the gay, rhythmic "Caprice Basque" by Sarasate. As her final number Miss Lauritano played the difficult though beautiful "Carmen Fantaisie" of Bizet-Sarasate, containing five of Bizet's most popular arias taken from the opera. Encore number was "Serenade Espanol" by Chaminade.

Students Tour I E Buildings

Summer session students and their friends will have the opportunity of touring and inspecting the industrial education plant on the Mesa tomorrow between 3:30 and 5 p.m.

All shops and laboratories will be open and students will carry on work indicative of regular activities. Under the guidance of industrial education majors and instructors, visitors may ask any questions desired, it was announced by E. E. Ericson, head of the department.

Following the tour, refreshments will be served in the foyer of the main floor. In charge of this part of the open house is the social committee under Wilma Kiesner.

Hospital Director Discusses Disease

Non-communicable diseases will be the subject of Dr. Franklin R. Nuzum, director of Cottage hospital, when he addresses the class in public health fourth hour Friday. In room 42, the lecture will be open to all students who care to attend, according to Dr. Elmer R. Noble, instructor of the class. The subject will be of particular interest to teachers, he said.

The Voice of the Low I Q

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is reprinted by request, it having appeared many times in periodicals and is particularly appropriate to work conducted by those in the field of education.)

Yeah, I'm in the special class this term. Sure, I like it all right; we have lots of fun and the work's got some sense to it. I can do it. Why did I get put there? Well, I ain't so sure. The report said I had a low I.Q., but nobody noticed it till last spring when I couldn't get along in Miss Brown's class. She gave me the test and when I handed in my paper she looked at it and said, "Just what I thought. I knew he didn't belong in here."

Yeah, it was something they call an Intelligence test. It was awful funny. At first I thought it was a joke but it turned out it wasn't. You had to put crosses on pictures and circles around 'em and lines under 'em and dots over 'em till I got sorta mixed up so I just drew a line right through the middle of all of 'em. There was sentences to write YES or NO after; sentences like this:—"A carpenter builds houses." I wrote NO because my old man's a carpenter and he ain't built a house in four years. He's workin' on the railroad track. The boy that set next to me put NO on every other sentence and then filled the rest up with YES.—He got a swell mark. I read so slow I only got four done before the time was up. I get so tired of bein' hurried up all the time.

A Tree, a Fish, a Cake of Ice.—Look at this. It was so funny I tore out the page and kept it. See three pictures—a tree—a fish—and a cake of ice. I'll read what it tells you to do. "John is ten years old and his sister Mary is eight. If John is not Mary's brother draw a line from the fish to the cake of ice. If Mary and John are twins write your middle name under the tree and if you have no middle name put zero there. If they are not twins print your last name on the tree. If Mary is younger than John write the Roman number eight in the upper left hand corner of the paper but if John is older than Mary draw a cat in the lower right hand corner. If they both go to school write your full name at the bottom of the paper." I'm never sure just how to spell my name so I didn't even try this one.

Miss Brown didn't like it because I always asked a lotta questions. She thought I was bein' fresh but I wasn't. There's a lotta things I want to know about. I never got mad when she asked me questions all the time. I answered 'em. I've got lots of answers—but they always seem to fit the wrong questions. Anyway, everything's changin' all the time so what's the use of learnin' a lotta things today when maybe they won't even be true by tomorrow?—I know heaps of things Miss Brown don't know—like where to find birds' nests and how to fix a leaky pipe and what the baseball scores are. She has to send for the janitor when the lights go out or a window shade tears. I can do lots of things if I don't have to read how in a book first.

Sure I'm glad I'M in the special class—I gets lots more attention. Seems like if you're awful smart or awful dumb they do a lot more for you in school, but if you're what they call normal they just leave you set. I heard the school Psychologist—that's the man that comes in just before promotion time and tells the teachers why they're not promotin' us—he told Miss Brown it was on account of my grandfather and the rest of my ancestors. She said wasn't it kind of late to do anything about that now, and he said it was but I must have the proper trainin' so I'd be a good ancestor.

Gosh, I don't want to be no ancestor. I'm going 'ta be a plumber.

LARRYETTES

Something old, something new Mostly borrowed—but Nothing blue.

The end is in sight . . . of a happy summer session . . . new friends . . . new ideas . . . new courage . . . and old memories more precious in the dew of remembrance . . . all these have come to us . . . who help ourselves to the abundance of Life.

A little laughter, and a time for tears,
A stretch of duty, and an hour of play—
'Tis thus we march Life's journey through the years
From baby curls to tresses thin and gray.

One of the troubles of this modern age is that too many people are spending money they have not yet earned for things they do not need, to impress people they don't like.

Nobody ever backed into prosperity . . . so don't live in the past . . . and we sometimes get our exercise . . . by jumping at conclusions . . . and most of our thinking is done in little shellaced capsules . . . a man who boasts of his illustrious ancestors . . . is like a potato . . . the only good belonging to him is underground.

Lives of small men oft remind us
We can make our lives so thin
That the folks we leave behind us
Will not know we've ever been!

Lookie! . . . A good way to forget today's sorrows . . . is by thinking hard about tomorrow's . . . let your best be for your friend . . . much of your pain is self-chosen.

For this is Wisdom; to love, to live,
To take what Fate, or the gods may give;
To ask no question, to make no prayer,
To kiss the lips and caress the hair,
Speed passion's ebb as you greet its flow:
To have—to hold—and—in time—
—let go!

It is easier to float a rumor . . . than it is to sink the truth . . . today . . . is what you have . . . it is also what you are . . . and what you do . . . and if you haven't anything . . . and aren't anybody . . . and do nothing . . . why, then . . . for you there is no Today.

When the stupe student turned in principal parts of a Latin verb as "Slippo, slippere, falli, bumpus," the prof came back with "Failo, failere, fluncto, suspendum." Who says profs aren't as bright as students?
Wishing you happy landings—

LARRY.

Mary Alice Murray Takes Table Tennis Tourney Final

Another champion was crowned last week as Mary Alice Murray emerged victor over Jeanette McCallister in the finals of the woman's table tennis tourney. Miss McCallister had previously defeated Phyllis McKibben and Eleanor Hall in the first rounds. Miss Murray triumphed over Dorothy Allen in early play.

Play in the other tourneys has come to a virtual standstill as the tournaments go into the final rounds.

Gamma Sigs Set Clean-Up

First summer meeting of Gamma Sigma Pi was held Monday evening at the fraternity house on Da la Vina street under the direction of Willard Reinick, president-elect.

A general clean-up and painting of the house occupied the major portion of the meeting, the campaign to begin in mid-August so that it may be completed before the opening of regular session.

Sue Baat Reveals Intention to Wed

The engagement of Sue Baat, summer session student, to Tom Crawford of Fresno State college, was announced Saturday by Miss Baat. The marriage will take place August 2 in Trinity Episcopal church in the presence of close friends.

Iona Lang won over Myrtle Arsfsten in the women's badminton play to advance into the finals.

Mike Koury trounced Leonard Swenson 6-1, 6-1 in the tennis tourney's only match to date.

Tennis for the women has been cancelled by Tourney Director Eddie Cole as acute lack of interest and facilities made itself evident.

All the tourneys must come to an end this week due to the conflicts of final examinations next week.

East Beach Club Sponsors Dance

College students and their guests are invited to attend a young people's dance at Cabrillo pavilion tomorrow night, 8 p.m. to 11, sponsored by the East Beach Social club under the management of Eddie Cole. A 10-piece orchestra, the Music Makers, will play for this weekly social event which last week attracted 160 of the younger set. There is no admission charge.

Faculty Cops Softball Play With 11-2 Win

The faculty softball nine romped to an easy 11-2 win over Los Peloteros Thursday to cinch the summer session softball championship and the gold medals.

Invincible Jack Fitzgerald doing mound duties for the profs, hurled his usual steady brand of ball in checking the bats of the Liegerot outfit. A five run splurge in the fifth canto on one blow and five free passes plus an error put the teachers way out ahead of a heretofore tight battle.

Mel Dennis had pitched a good game until this fatal fifth frame when his control went the way of the four winds and the faculty horsehiders capitalized to break the 2-2 deadlock.

The aging professors turned in some brilliant fielding in their all-out ballkreig against the neophytes to win that coveted championship and the medals.

Dennis' wildness kept Los Peloteros in hot water most of the game but his effectiveness in the pinches also saved the situation in the early stanzas of the game. The latter innings turned into a rout however as his effectiveness waned. The climax came when the hitless wonder, Franklin Berry rapped a hot single through second.

This game brought the league to an early close with the Faculty on top, Los Peloteros second and the hapless All Stars holding down the cellar spot. The All Stars possessed the best potential outfit but failed to field a team in any of the scheduled games.

This season was handicapped by the scarcity of men in the student body and especially young men.

Tourney Golfers Tee Off Monday

Beginning at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, the summer session golf tournament will be played off at La Cumbre Country club under the direction of Roland MacDonald.

Three medals will be offered in the tourney, for low gross score, blind bogey and low net.

Seven entrants had signed by yesterday, but it is hoped that those who wish to play will enter whether or not they have turned in their handicaps, according to MacDonald.

Registrar Issues Degrees August 8

Diplomas and credentials will be given out from the office of Miss Wilhelmina Menken, assistant registrar, after 10 a.m. on Friday, August 8, it was announced from that office yesterday.

The talk of the campus.

Printed in the Los Angeles newspapers but awaiting official recognition locally is the item to the effect that one Stan Williamson, past assistant football and basketball coach at Kansas State college, has been appointed to the faculty of Santa Barbara State college. We, like the rest of the public, lack any official knowledge concerning the situation but of course gossip runs the gamut in such a case. We would surmise that Mr. Williamson will come to State as head football coach releasing a very overworked Mr. Harder to do justice to his position as head of the department. Mr. Williamson would also take over the duties of freshman coach in basketball and track, a position vacated by Howard Yeager this year.

We personally know little of Williamson except that he learned his football under the late Howard Jones and coached as assistant to Wes Fry, graduate of University of Iowa. Our student prexy Rol MacDonald is a personal friend of the new coach and recommends him highly as far as personality and character are concerned.

An open letter to the Squabble club.

Dear Sirs:

In last week's issue of El Gauchito there was a story to the effect that your club planned to give a scholarship to some deserving freshman. Let me personally commend you on the action, if I may, and offer a bit of a plug for a sad situation. You probably have heard a lot of beefs about the prestige of athletics in this school but far be it from the truth. It is a fact that State spends less than half as much on athletics as any other school in the conference. It is also true that athletes personally suffer untold hardships and privations to perform for Alma Mater.

How about picking out some deserving lad with a future as a Gaucho performer and lend your aid where it will bear fruit? Thank you.

The story behind the story.

Many people wonder why Welby Van Horn, top seeded in the recent Santa Barbara Open, was vanquished so easily by lefty George Earn, an unknown. There is a reason. Welby has been a problem child and a headache to many a tourney director in the past, and incidentally, a remarkable tennis player. But Welby has a badly inflated ego which continually drags him into hair-raising escapades and a round of vicious night life almost perpetually. The gaff is too much even for the most rugged of men and the effects are telling on Welby much to the disappointment of him and his fans. Athletics and dissipation simply don't mix and it is much better for the advancement of tennis that Mr. Van Horn bows to real hard working conscientious kids.

Squabblers Urge Cooperation On Scholarship Fund Drive

Contributions toward the $60 scholarship fund are urged by members of the Squabble club this week as summer session draws to a close. Each contributor's name will be included on a scroll to be presented to the deserving freshman entering the industrial education department.

Four places are open for donations from summer students and those interested in aiding a student through his first college year. Leo Cohen on the Riviera campus, Hugh Baird's office in the woodshop, E. E. Ericson's office on the Mesa campus and Gordon Funk on the Mesa will accept contributions.

A traditional project for the past six years, the scholarship is sponsored by the Squabble club which meets each Wednesday evening in room 80, Pine hall.

Harold Seamens at tonight's meeting will discuss the necessity of requiring a student to take at least a year of shop work or home economics before graduation from high school. "Industrial arts men should spend six weeks each summer in their respective fields of industry" will be presented by Bob Smith and Baird will contend that "We are justified in spending considerable time in shop exercises with beginning students."

Speaking also will be Dr. Frederick Horridge, coordinator for Long Beach city schools, who has conducted a series of lectures on relative subjects during this week.

College Plays Dinner Host

Sixty members and guests of the Santa Barbara Good Neighbor group will enjoy a dinner in the college cafeteria and attend the opening performance of "A Winter's Tale" in the Quad as guests of the college tomorrow night.

The Good Neighbor group, comprising some 25 Santa Barbara people both American and Mexican, is dedicated to establishment of more friendly, more cooperative relations between all people of the Americas. The group was formed about three months ago to assist a local Mexican dramatic group, the Justo Sierra players, in production of a Mexican earthquake benefit play, "Chin Chun Chan."

Horridge Ends Lecture Series

Concluding his series of lectures, Dr. Frederick Horridge will speak fifth hour today on "Curriculum Reorganization in Industrial Arts" in room 222 of the Mesa building. The lecture is open to all students who care to attend, it was announced yesterday by E. E. Ericson, director of industrial education.

Dr. Horridge, who has spoken throughout the week, is coordinator for Long Beach city schools and is in charge of vocational and industrial arts. During the period of World War I, he was head of the industrial education department on this campus.

MARGARET PARKS Monday evening revealed her engagement to Al Mansfield. The wedding will take place in the Mission during August.

Miss Parks Reveals Troth

Literally "letting the cat out of the bag" by way of announcing her engagement, Margaret Parks Monday evening revealed her intention to wed Al Mansfield. The announcement came as a surprise to her Delta Zeta Delta sorority sisters, the meeting at which it was made.

Miss Parks, popularly known as "She-She," is Associated Students' secretary during summer session and will receive her A.B. in elementary education in February. She was social chairman during regular session and in June received the coveted A.W.S. award for being outstanding woman. Mansfield, a Sigma Alpha Kappa, left State college last semester to take a downtown position.

A definite date has not been set for the ceremony, according to Miss Parks, which will be held during the month of August at the Santa Barbara Mission. Attendants will be Carol Lambrecht, a Delta Zeta Delta, and John Jordano, Sigma Alpha Kappa.

Sororities Plan Affairs to End Summer Term

Meetings Monday night saw four sororities completing plans for activities before the close of summer session.

ALPHA THETA CHI

Discussion of their formal dinner-dance held at El Paseo last Saturday night preceded the Alpha Theta Chi meeting at the home of Margie Tompkins Monday night. Plans were made for the meeting next Monday night which will be held at the Samarkand hotel in the form of a swimming party. Following the meeting the members played bridge.

CHI DELTA CHI

A meeting will be held today noon in the A.W.S. club room to complete plans for a dinner to be held tomorrow evening in Ventura at the home of Marge Hannaford.

DELTA ZETA DELTA

Completing plans for their Spanish Supper which was held last night at the home of Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, Delta Zeta Delta met Monday night at the home of Carol and Irma Lambrecht. During the meeting "She-She" Parks passed the traditional box of candy to announce her engagement to Al Mansfield.

Alumnae present at the meeting were Betty Palmaymesa, Jean M-Skimming and Alice Boeseke who have just returned from a trip to Mexico. Mrs. Patrick J. Maher, patroness, and Mrs. Pearl Parks were also present at the meeting.

TAU GAMMA SIGMA

The active and alumnae members met at the home of Eleanor Mellinger, an alumna, Monday night to enjoy an informal harp recital by their hostess. Following the recital refreshments were served by the alumnae.

Campus Sings End Series

Final in the series of campus sings was held last night in the music hall under the direction of Van A. Christy, head of the music department.

The program included such numbers as "Thanksgiving Prayer" with accompaniment by the woodwind ensemble, "Yankee Doodle Oodle," "Camp Town Races," "Man on the Flying Trapeze" with the verse sung by Roy Stone, "Mariania," "Ti-Pi-Tin," "Little Brown Church," "Go Down Moses" and "Democracy Forever."

Special features on the program were "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" sung by Roy Stone, baritone; "Londonderry Air," a trombone solo by Lauris Jones which was a request repeat and "Lullaby" by Brahms, sung by the chorus. There were two woodwind ensembles played under the direction of Maurice Faulkner, music instructor.

Lobero Gives Student Rates For Matinee

A generous opportunity is being extended this week to State college students by John Houseman, co-producer with David O. Selznick of Eugene O'Neill's American classic, "Anna Christie," which stars the inspired and lovely Ingrid Bergman of "Intermezzo" fame in the Lobero theater production. Opening tonight, the play runs through August 2.

Houseman has announced that a special rate of 55 cents for seats priced at twice that amount will be made for students wishing to attend the Saturday matinee of the production which, in addition to Miss Bergman, features many other Hollywood notables, including J. Edmund Bromberg as Anna's sea-dog father, Chris.

Following the matinee performance, Miss Bergman will meet any who care to come backstage and will autograph programs for them. A cordial invitation has also been extended by Houseman for students interested in stagecraft to come out on stage after the performance and inspect the sets, properties, special effects, etc.

Those interested in attending may sign up at the Associated Students' office. Reservations will close Friday afternoon, and tickets will be held in the names of those making reservations until noon, Saturday, at the Lobero box office. When picking up their tickets, students should present their student body cards for identification purposes.

State Offers Extensions

It was announced last week that extension courses will be offered to those in Los Angeles and nearby vicinities including such places as San Bernardino and Bakersfield. They will be given during the regular school year and will cover the fields of industrial education, social science, education, English, etc. Other subjects will be added upon the request of a sufficient number of students.

Grades

Recorder Bids For Envelops

Summer session students are instructed to leave self-addressed stamped envelopes to receive their grade cards. The envelopes are to be placed in a box outside the recorder's office in the administration building before the end of school, according to Miss Wilma Lowsley, recorder.

Grades will not be mailed unless an envelop is left, she emphasized.
