SANTA BARBARA COLLEGE

Vol. XXXIII SANTA BARBARA, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1953 No. 11

EXPERIMENT—Take one dose of "Gone Tomorrow," add a teaspoon of "Astray" and a glass of "Sweeney Agonistes" and mix well with "The Telephone" and the result will be a portion of experimental theatre production. This experiment will be performed for the benefit of the public at 8:30 on the night of Dec. 9th and repeated every night for three days.

Various students from Santa Barbara College will serve as patients under the careful direction of Frank Rowley, Mary Ann Stewart and Dick Wilcox, student doctors, who will be under strict supervision of Professor Theodore Hatlen, chairman of the Speech Department. Sitting in and also taking an active part will be lecturer from the Music Department, Carl B. Zytowski.

Shown above are Carl Zytowski and Betty-Carol Gilbert singing protagonists in Menotti's opera "The Telephone," as depicted by artist Don Freeman.

The experiment will take place at Music Hall 100 with ample viewing seats around the operation area. Music will be included to lend to the proper atmosphere and assure the success of the experiment, but a small charge of 25 cents for students and 90 cents for adults will be made to defray expenses of sterilized costumes, extra lighting, setting, etc.

To guarantee complete success of the operation, great participation by an audience is needed and attendance should be the maximum in order that the future life of the theatre can be saved and its health made secure. —J.N.

Panel Discussion of University Continues; Group of Three Consider Academic Functions, College Responsibility Among Administration

Last Wednesday's All-College Lecture was the first of two panel discussions entitled "The University and Society." Participating were Dr. Harry Girvetz, professor of social philosophy, Dr. Kermit A. Seefeld, associate professor of industrial arts, and Dr. Mortimer Andron, assistant professor of economics. The second discussion will take place today at 4 pm in PH 100.

Outside Politics

Great emphasis was placed on the fact that the faculty of the University of California has always been supreme in academic matters. Four important topics dealing with the university's organization and functioning were concerned with the distribution of responsibility among regents, administration, and faculty; the basic organization of the university; methods of hiring and promoting faculty members; and the relative tasks of junior colleges, colleges, institutes, and universities in higher education.

The state constitution, which provides for the University of California, vests in the regents "virtually plenary powers to govern the university." Because of this, it is taken outside the boundaries of politics, although the legislature still holds great influence, since it controls the fiscal powers regarding the university. Further stabilization of the system is brought about by the length of term of each regent, who is appointed by the governor for 16 years.

The panel explained that by authorization of the regents, the academic senate and faculty committees supervise all courses of instruction and set standards for academic credits and university entrance requirements. While the administration hires faculty members, the actual selection is made by department chairmen in consultation with senior members of the department to which the new member is to be appointed.

Though differing on importance of the four standards determining advancement in academic rank of faculty members in relation to each other, the panel agreed that the main points are quality of research activity, the skill of teaching, professional competence, and services to the community and the university.

Public Support

In answer to a taxpayer who asked, "What are we getting for our tax dollars?" Dr. Andron replied, "Through the university, California taxpayers are not only subsidizing higher education for young people, but they are determining the tone of the state's intellectual atmosphere through the leadership provided in many communities by faculty members and the university staff. The test of its worthiness lies in the fact that the taxpayers have been willing to support the university generously and that attempts by the legislature to make serious inroads on the university's budget have always met with the successful resistance of friends of the university."

SBC Forensics Team Leaves Fresno With Awards and Trophies

Making its best showing in some time, the UCSBC Forensics team came home from the Annual Western Speech Association Tournament at Fresno with several trophies. Every member of the five man squad, competing against approximately 340 other students representing 48 colleges and universities from the 11 western states, reached the semi-finals in at least one event.

Student Winners

In Interpretive Reading Pete Kane and Gary Hess both advanced to the finals in upper division. Kane took first place, and Hess took second. In lower division discussion Jack Adler took third place.

Reaching the finals in upper division Extemporaneous Speaking were Kane and Bill Hoisington. Hoisington took fourth place and Kane fifth.

In debate the lower division team of Adler and Earl Peterson tied for fifth place, while in upper division the team of Hoisington and Kane was among the 16 teams to reach the semi-finals.

West Point Berth

According to Dr. Upton Palmer, forensic coach, the prospects of a position on the squad representing the Pacific Coast at the national debate tournament at West Point in the Spring are quite good for the team of Hoisington and Kane.

CHRISTMAS FORMAL AT CORAL CASINO THIS WEEKEND; TREE DECORATED WITH CANDY CANES, FALLING SNOW FLAKES

"Candy Cane Carnival," the annual Christmas formal will be held Saturday from 9 pm to 1 am with the glamorous and exotic Coral Casino as the setting for the event.

Extensive decorations carrying out the theme will augment the glamorous Casino. These decorations will include George Vrtiak's "secret illusion" of falling snow flakes and a white Christmas tree adorned entirely with candy canes.

Candy Canes

There will be candy canes for all who attend the event "just for the taking," according to Dave Daniels, Social Committee chairman.

Lino Mautino's reorganized 10-piece band promises a variety of musical entertainment to set the perfect background for the dance.

Dress will be semi-formal, with dark suits or tuxedos for the men and formals for the women.

Tickets

Also carrying out the Yuletide theme, the tickets are in the form of a modified Christmas card, for which a special cut was designed by Panda Schlegel. These tickets will be on sale at the Graduate Manager's office and in the ticket booth near the Men's Gym lawn.

"The Associated Students present the Christmas formal for your enjoyment," stated Dave. "Because of this, tickets have been reduced to only $1.50 per couple. Therefore it is imperative to get your tickets early, as there is a limited number available."

"Don't miss this year's Christmas formal," Dave continued. "It is designed for your greatest enjoyment as the crowning event of the Fall social calendar. The Social Committee promises you the most for the least. You can't afford to miss this gala dance."

AWS SPONSORS ANNUAL ASSEMBLY; CHRISTMAS MUSIC TO BE HIGHLIGHTED

The annual Christmas Assembly sponsored by AWS will be held this year on Dec. 15, at 11 am in the Riviera Auditorium. This unique musical program will include selections both beautiful and familiar during this Christmas season. The Music Department and the Speech Department are cooperating to make the assembly possible. The general chairman of the program is Sharon Musgrove, second vice-president of AWS.

The program is to be as follows:

Modern Chorale Group

Dr. Van A. Christy

"Hodie Christus Natus Est" Pollack

"The Birds," Protherol

"Lullaby of the Christ Child" Arr. by Christy

Men's Glee . . . Carl Zytowski

"Come All Ye Worthy Gentlemen" arr. by McMasters

Treble Ensemble

Dr. John Gillespie

"Christmas Lullaby," Warren Sylvia Smith, soloist

"Joseph Caine Seeking A Resting Place," Willoughby

Dr. Gillespie at the organ

Mr. Zytowski leading Christmas caroling

Two readings by members of the Speech Department.

The final event of the program this year will be a silver collection for the American Friends Service Committee. The charitable fields of this committee encompass every part of the world, both free and communistic. "Of all the charities to which we could give a donation," AS President pointed out, "The American Friends Service Committee is probably the one which does the most actual good per dollar."

The AWS urges your attendance at this program, as it will prove to be a very worthwhile part of your Christmas season. Your support of the silver collection is also urged.

Free Afternoon? Tour Goleta Campus See New Beach Home

A tour of Goleta campus will be conducted on Monday, Dec. 14, from two until five, announced Miss Velma Morrell, supervisor of the Housing Office at SBC.

The purpose of the tour is to preview student housing accommodations and some of the 27 converted classroom buildings at the new campus. Two completed rooms in the girls dormitory will be on display. The tourers will also view the student union plan, the gym, and the campus swimming pool.

Free Bus Service

Bus service will be provided free of charge and will leave the Administration Building at two o'clock sharp on the day of the tour. Since a maximum of 70 students will be accommodated, those wishing to take the bus should sign up today at the Housing Office bulletin board. Students taking cars to Goleta should meet the buses at the campus beach entrance at 2:30 pm.

This tour is the first of a series being sponsored by the Housing Office and the Offices of the Dean of Men and Women. A "Grand Tour" of Goleta is being planned for next February by Dave Daniels, and will be followed by several others.

"We believe these tours will increase student enthusiasm for their new campus," said Dean of Women Helen Sweet.

'54 Summer Session Set; Opportunities For Special Research

The 1954 summer session at Santa Barbara College of the University of California will consist of a six-week term beginning June 28, it was announced today by Dr. J. Harold Williams, Provost of the college.

Classes for the summer session will be held on the Riviera and Mesa campuses of the College. Upon conclusion of this session, the college will begin the rigorous task of moving to the new 408-acre seashore campus near Goleta. The new site will be ready for operation at the opening of the 1954 fall semester.

Registration June 26

Registration for the summer session will take place on Saturday, June 26, which gives school teachers additional time between the closing of their schools and the beginning of the college session. A great many of the summer students are school teachers who wish to earn additional college credits and to keep up their professional training.

The UCSBC summer session does not require the formalities of regular admission procedures. It is open to high school graduates and those over 21 years of age. he college does not attempt, in general, to make inquiry concerning the educational qualifications of applicants for summer session admission who are more than 21 years of age, unless they are working for a degree or credential.

Nearly all of the regular academic departments will be represented in the summer program and all of the standing services of the college will be available, including student health center, placement office, bookstore, library, cafeteria and housing office.

Special Services

Special summer session services will include the annual demonstration school, which includes kindergarten through eighth grade.

Charities Committee Headed by Sherwin

Don Sherwin has been appointed by the Legislative Council as chairman of the Charities Committee. Positions are still open for members at large.

The committee has been set up by Dave Hodgins, president of Associated Students, to investigate charity donations on this campus. One of the problems confronting the committee is the question of whether there should be one drive per year or four drives as allowed by the University regulations.

The question of a Red Cross student blood bank on this campus was brought before the Legislative Council at a recent meeting. This question has been referred to the Charities committee for discussion and possible future action.

Any student who has a suggestion concerning the blood drive or the charity drives should get in touch with Don Sherwin by leaving a note in his Associated Students box in Building D.

Student Directories Are Selling Quickly

By today, over half of the 1953-54 Student Directories have been sold, according to Editor Lois Jaral. The books have been selling since Monday for 35 cents each, and will be on sale until Friday in the ticket booth near the Men's Gym lawn. In case of rain the books will be sold in front of the Graduate Manager's office. Two sale days will be held on the Mesa Campus.

CAL NEWS

UCLA, Dec. 3—Construction of a 70,000 square foot Music Bldg., which will be ready for occupancy by September of 1955, will give UCLA some of the finest facilities for musical instruction in the nation, according to the Office of Architects. Drawings on the $1,900,000 building have been completed and construction will begin sometime in Feb. 1954.

BERKELEY, Dec. 2 — A San Francisco City college teacher, John Mass, and several other witnesses before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, refused to testify on charges of participating in Communist activities. Mass invoked the fifth amendment, thus refusing to answer questions on alleged Communist activities on grounds of self-incrimination.

DAVIS, Dec. 3 — The annual Christmas Candlelight Caroling Service for the Aggies is coming up soon. The service has become a tradition on the Davis Campus and is attended by students of all faiths.

DAVIS, Dec. 3 — The first load of concrete for the foundation of the new Davis Memorial Union building was poured today. It will house a new student lounge, offices, student store, snack bar, cafeteria, and the Faculty Club.

Time For A Change . . .

We are soon to have a brand new home . . . a beach home, you might say, or a modern creation, or a sprawling expanse of buildings and land—lots of it. No matter how you say it, it adds up to one thing: our new campus at Goleta. Next year will be a very big year both for us and for this young, rather awkward expanse of land. Now comes the time when we should stop thinking of the new campus as something far off into the future, because it's here, and we are to be a part of it in just two more semesters.

Next week you will have opportunity to tour the new campus. You can peek into all the corners, test the paint and look at the residence hall rooms. This service is being provided for you so that you can see what the situation is and decide whether or not you are going to be one of the first SBC people to "live on campus." Later on, the Social Committee will host us to a bang-up partytime and tour on the new campus.

There is something very special about the fact that we have watched our new campus grow from mud and white boards to actual buildings and classrooms. We have seen an idea grow . . . an idea that started a long, long time ago and gradually began to take shape. There are going to be so many advantages to having a new campus . . . and sure, there will be just loads of disadvantages . . . a million of them our first year. But can you think of anything that doesn't have its drawbacks? Going to college certainly is a big advantage, but gad! There are drawbacks to that, too.

So far lots of committees have gone out to "look-see" the new campus. Those who have seen it have agreed that it's going to be "great." Ask the Student Union Committee. They are planning a super-colossal building that will hold everything from a lounge to a barber shop and post office. The architects have designed some pretty elegant residence halls that will hold numerous suites of rooms. And having a new campus will make possible some new courses that will be fun and interesting.

Like any new idea, however, the new campus needs some of your time and understanding before it has chance to prove its merits. It would be plain stupid to think that we could expect a nice little "Palm Springs" or "Apple Valley" all our own out there next year. Cadillacs just don't come with the campus either, and don't expect silk sheets in the residence hall . . . let's face it constructively . . . we are going to be one of the few colleges in the educational system that has had a chance to grow with its campus. Next year is putting an idea to work. All suggestions, our attitudes and our own ideas are being considered as much as possible in the construction of the new campus. The new campus is younger than any one of us. You just can't expect young ideas or young things to develop into anything unless you help them along, and we owe it to our campus to give it a start along its educational way by giving it a good looking-over, a careful consideration of its advantages and disadvantages, and most of all, a chance, because that way we will be giving ourselves a chance, too, a chance to enjoy something very new and different.

We've just become too big . . . and out-grown "the hill," just as we've outgrown old clothes or ideas or old styles or old beliefs. Now is "the big move," and we're picking up all our bags and moving to our new home.—P.M.

Dear Momma . . .

Please forgive me for not writing sooner, but the last few weeks have been very busy here at school. Besides all the usual activities there are many small student groups which are always doing things. The various student political groups are particularly active. Last Thursday night I went with a real nice senior political science major to a cell meeting at one of the instructors' house. There were other teachers there whom I met. One of them looked quite familiar, and I finally remembered that he was the teacher of my political science course. I'd seen him once before when I signed up for his class.

Basketball season has just begun, and there have been a lot of changes around school. Now the most desirable men on campus are no longer the big muscular ones but the thin ones who are over 6' 6". I went to the first basketball game we played in Santa Ynez, which is just over the San Marcos Pass from Santa Barbara. On the way there's a place called Cold Springs Tavern, so we never got to the basketball game. I guess he's a Cal Clubber, too.

That's about all for now. I'll send you my Christmas list soon.

Your loving daughter,

Caprice

"Take the High Ground" at the Granada has nothing at all to do with any ground that is high, but Richard Widmark and Karl Malden and an all-male cast are confronted with the problems of learning the "art" of war as well as the art of Elaine Stewart. "Mystery Lake," according to the officials at the Granada, is a complete mystery . . . they have no information regarding stars, story, producer . . . no nothing. Maybe that's just what it is—nothing.

"Escape from Fort Bravo" is escapism for any overwrought student who wants to go completely mad. Even William Holden and Eleanor Parker cannot prevent Fort Bravo from escaping.

That superb motion picture actor Paul Muni is back on the screen in "Stranger on the Prowl," but unfortunately he is left prowling around.

LATEST COLLEGE SURVEY SHOWS LUCKIES LEAD AGAIN

She hoped that he'd propose by mail,
And when she got his letter,
All he wrote upon the note
Was: "Luckies taste much better!"

Hyman Levy
C. C. N. Y.

Last year a survey of leading colleges throughout the country showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette.

This year another far more extensive and comprehensive survey—supervised by college professors and based on more than 31,000 actual student interviews—shows that Luckies lead again over all other brands, regular or king size...and by a wide margin! The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better.

Smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste, and the fact of the matter is Luckies taste better—first, because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And second, Luckies are made better to taste better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky!

To make a hit at Christmas time,
And really spread good cheer,
Give all your friends that smoother smoke—
Give Lucky Strike this year.

Dining and dancing were: Pete Dekker with Pat Shaw; Gary Walls with Alpha Phi Harriet Tyson; Chuck Theil with Marilyn Moulton; Gene Cranston and Natalie Hurd; and honorary Delta Sig Mr. Zytowski with Carolyn Varner. The fraternity also held an Alumni Reception at the house on Sunday.

CELEBRATING . . . Joe Costantino's wedding, also held on Saturday night, were literally hundreds of Sig Pi's. Among the champagne drinkers were: Bill Blackstone and Chi O Joyce Sader; Bill Bullough and Coletta Hebert; Bob and Helen LaBayne; Carl Perizzolo and Shirley Headley; "Laughing Boy" Dave Robinson and Nancy McClain; Gene Chauvel and Chi O Ronnie Leichter.

EARLY BIRDS . . . Rushing things a bit were the SAE's who had a Christmas Party last Saturday night. Among those present were: Doug Bass with Beverly Annis; Jack Christofferson with Gretchen Fate; Jack Becker with ADPi pledge Elaine diBello; Gene Allen with DG pledge Judy Smith; Rodger Gartland with Pi Phi Ann Hazelhurst and Hal Purcell with Mary Greenman.

I LOVE PARIS . . . especially when it's at the Sig Ep Parisian party. Names are too numerous to mention but I think I can safely say a good time was enjoyed by all.

FAMOUS . . . for doing the craziest things are the Lambda Chi's who held a very secretive informal initiation last Friday night and parked their cars 'way up in God's country.

FABULOUS . . . Jim Pitcher's "long" hair; Bill Latham's bowling; Happy Val Hamilton, who has her Larry back; Dale O'Hanlon's engagement ring; the Debate team's trip to Fresno (they won't talk about it).

Easy Come by Joanne Kyger

In direct competition to study and the fulfillment of assignments is the Santa Barbara College Library. However, since the social existence of the college is conceived, nourished, and given birth to in its comforting structure, no one objects to sacrificing the greater part of one's study time in carrying great stacks of books to and fro; wasting great quantities of ink in writing out cards of tremendous volumes in order to impress the librarian of the moment; wandering like lost causes from record library to card catalogue, to magazine porch in search of term topics (male or female); and practicing graceful eyelash poses behind inviting texts.

It's always a great source of amazement to parents when upon asking the reason for poor grades and late hours, the student with a guilty look mumbles that he just spent too much time in the library. Parents should not be misled, however, in supposing that time has been wasted, experience has not been gained, and IQ has not been functioning. It takes true intelligence and finesse to drag a student who has retreated to the confines of a New Yorker and earphones sprouting from an Aaron Copland recording to a place among the sprawled bodies on the cold clamminess of the library steps and to lead from a discussion of Shakespeare to an all expenses paid weekend.

The true end of each visit of course is to get from the inside to the outside with a newly acquainted escort in the shortest time and subtlest manner and to proceed from there onto infinite goals of frat pins, sugar and spice, and puppy dog tails.

To achieve this epitome of the binder and textbook, a definite technique should be developed. A few helpful methods are listed which may be of help to all parties who feel their grades are too high.

1. The slant eyed book sliding method: Shifty but sensible is the digging over of the book until it collides with opposite P.E. Course text. This of course necessitates apologies and introductions.

2. The I-never-did-pass-eighth-grade-math method: This demands gallantry on the part of any one who has passed college entrance requirements to explain the higher mathematics of the Library of Congress Cataloging. This easily takes hours and loss of direction among the book stacks.

3. Picturesquely sitting down on the table which says "This is for card catalogues only" method. One is bound to ask you if you are a card catalogue which if you are in top form can lead to a conversation of biological importance.

4. The glazed look method. Come in with a far off aesthetic look pretending any seat will be a nirvana to you. This way no suspicion will be involved if you barge into a complete and healthy table of the opposite sex, and sit down on a supposedly empty chair containing the most healthy specimen.

5. The frank "this-is-a-hell-of-a-course" addressed to the individual opposite method. Any one is bound to agree with you if they know the course or not. This, of course, necessitates a further discussion via a trip to the coffee shops and then on to break light barriers.

Summer Session Set At Oxford; Low Cost Six Weeks in England

The secretary of Oxford University Extension Lectures Committee, D. S. Wenden, was on this campus this week to inform students of the opportunity offered by British Universities for a low-cost six-week summer session, considered a stimulating and valuable experience for American students.

Details of the offerings are available in the Provost's office. In general the British universities offer about 8-units of credit which are accepted by most American Universities toward graduate work.

The cost of this six weeks including board, residence and tuition is between $175 and $205, not counting transportation. A limited number of tourist and cabin passages are reserved for applicants on Cunard liners at a cost of from $170 to $235 each way. The GI bill can be applied to those qualified and certain scholarships are available.

The four Universities taking part in this six-week term are:

University of Birmingham (July 3-Aug. 14), at Stratford-Upon-Avon, on Shakespeare and Elizabethan Drama.

University of London (July 12-Aug. 20), on Art, Literature and Music in England in the 17th and 18th Centuries.

University of Oxford (July 2-Aug. 13), on Politics and Literature in the 20th Century.

Scottish Universities (June 28-Aug. 7) at University of Edinburgh, on The Development of Modern Western Civilization.

Although the program is designed for college graduates, there is some opportunity for undergraduates to attend. Each university will limit their enrollment to between 80 and 125 students.

Applications may be obtained from the Institute of International Education, 1 E. 67th St., New York 21. Deadline for applications from those desiring Cunard liner transportation is March 24, 1954, and for all others April 7, 1954. All candidates will be informed of their application by May 1, 1954.

Intelligence Unit To Re-Open at SBC

On the Berkeley campus there is a Military Intelligence Unit composed chiefly of language students. The unit is functioning so effectively that 6th Army Headquarters is desirous of re-establishing a similar unit on the UCSBC campus.

The Santa Barbara unit will be under the sponsorship of Dr. Robert Beachboard, assistant professor of French. At least one year of foreign language or its equivalent, will be a requirement for most applicants. A limited number of students will be needed for the administrative work of the unit. These students will not be required to have knowledge of a foreign language.

Two Hour Meetings

Dr. Beachboard stated that the program would have many advantages for students currently taking language courses, since emphasis will be placed on language teaching at the Military Intelligence meetings. Pay will be given for each two hour meeting attended on a regular reserve-rank scale. Time in the MI unit will count toward fulfilling the Military Obligation, of 6 year duration, which normally follows the two years of active duty. Coeds will be given the same opportunities as the male students in the unit.

Interested students may contact Dr. Beachboard either in person or by leaving name, address and phone number in West Hall 104.

Anyone interested in being fashion coordinator for AWS fashion shows please contact Myra Jaccard at 20089 before Dec. 18. A fashion coordinator contacts the various shops and sees to it that models are available for the fashion shows. Any women student with a "C" average is eligible.

garden and grades one to six inclusive to be held at Peabody School for the six-week period coinciding with the college session. All children will be accepted in the school up to the enrollment limits. It is designed to illustrate the best practices in teaching procedures for teachers and prospective teachers under the guidance of trained educators. Remedial work in basic skills will also be offered at the demonstration school, which is arranged by the Department of Education at Santa Barbara College.

Many of the departments will provide opportunities for independent studies to pursue special research. These courses are offered by special arrangement with the department concerned.

Marines Interview Campus Candidates

Representatives of the Marine Corps will be on campus Dec. 11 to interview candidates, both men and women, for the Marine Corps officer training program according to Dr. Lyle Reynolds, Dean of Men.

Candidates must be between the ages of 17 and 26 in order to enroll in the Platoon Leaders' Class. They will attend two summer training periods of six weeks and will receive commissions upon graduations.

Seniors between 20 and 27 are also eligible. Upon graduation these enrollees are sent to Quantico, Virginia for a ten weeks training program before they receive their commissions.

ROSE BOWL CONTEST

John Dickenson, Chesterfield representative on the Santa Barbara campus, announced the Rose Bowl Contest to begin this week. "All you do to enter," said John, "is fill out the contest blank appearing in this issue and deposit the completed blank in the ballot box in the student book store."

There will be a carton of Chesterfields waiting for the person closest to the right score in the New Year's Day contest at the Rose Bowl.

AWS Annual Doll Contest Results Announced

There will be many happy children this Christmas, made happy by the work of the women students on campus. The Associated Women Students, in cooperation with the Santa Barbara Council of Cheer, have successfully finished the annual Doll dressing contest.

Winners of the event are: Workmanship—1. Janice Lyon, 2. Abbey French, 3. Jody Temple, Honorable Mention, Joane Meek, Barbara Balback; Originality — 1. Gloria Mark, 2. Sue McCracken, 3. Diane Linegar, Honorable Mention—Sandy Doell, Sue Small. Judges for the contest were Mrs. Douglas Whitney of the Council of Christmas Cheer; Mr. Howard C. Fenton, associate professor of art; and Mrs. Florence C. Meredith, professor of home economics.

Winners can pick up ribbons at Dean of Women's Office. Winning dolls are displayed in show case outside cafeteria.

Archery Tournament

An archery tournament will be featured next week in the Intramural Sports Division. The meet is under the joint sponsorship of the Women's and Men's Physical Education departments. The tournament will be held on two days, Dec. 15 and 16.

The targets on the women's gym field will be used for the tournament from two o'clock to five o'clock on both days. Scholastic rounds will begin at two, three, and four o'clock. Each round will be divided into beginners and advanced sections.

Participants may come down at their convenience and leave when they have finished their scholastic round. Those who would like to get in some extra practice before Tuesday may contact Miss Kay Horne in the Women's P. E. Office, who will furnish the necessary equipment.

Gaucha Sailing Team

Minor intercollegiate competition will take place with the Gaucha Sailing Team heading the list. Three six-man teams must be formed before the first regatta Dec. 19 and 20.

Men students who are good swimmers and experienced in sailing small boats are requested to try out immediately. Dr. Terry Dearborn, in West Hall 110, will supply the details. Santa Barbara College awards team members the "Circle C" award to those competing in three regattas during the year.

The first event this year will be the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate dinghy regatta to be held at Newport Harbor Yacht Club, December 19 and 20. Later, dual meets will be scheduled against Cal, UCLA and Stanford; last year the Gauchos claimed a victory over the visiting Indians.

GAUCHO SQUAD WHIPS WESTMONT WARRIORS; LOSE TO LOYOLA LIONS

The Santa Barbara College basketball squad, running into an icy cold third quarter in which they bucketed only seven points to 22 for their opponents, dropped a 56-49 decision to Loyola University last Friday night at Loyola Memorial Gymnasium before 1,500 fans.

Paced by Jim O'Hara and Clyde Maxen, Santa Barbara raced to a 30-22 halftime lead, hitting on a good 40 per cent of their shots.

Hit Cold Streak

The Gauchos were unable to find the scoring range in the third quarter, however, and Loyola took over the lead at 38-36 midway in the period, and stayed in front the rest of the way.

Wilton's crew managed to make but four baskets in 26 shots during the second half, with only one two-pointer in the entire final quarter. Led by Jim O'Hara, who again was high point man with 17 markers, the Gauchos cut the margin to 53-49 with two minutes to play, but fouls ruined any chance for a game-saving rally. Clyde Maxen scored 10 points for the only other Gauchos player to hit the two digit column.

Gauchos Edge Westmont

On Saturday Nov. 28 the Gauchos overcame a 38-28 halftime lead, and then stood off Westmont's Warriors for a 69-67 triumph.

Big Jim O'Hara scored 27 big points for Santa Barbara while veteran Warrior center, Tine Hardeman, was pouring an amazing 35 markers through the cords.

Westmont's usually high-scoring Johnny Crew was double-teamed constantly and his deadly hook shot smothered as he rang up only 13 counters.

Santa Barbara opens its home season this Friday night in a contest with Sacramento State.

FIRST HOME GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

GAUCHOS MEET SAC STATE IN ARMORY; LB STATE NEXT FOE

The Santa Barbara College Gauchos basketballers face their fourth and fifth opponents of the season this weekend. Sacramento State will see action from the Gauchos Friday in the home opener, while Long Beach State seeks revenge from last year's defeat on Saturday night at Long Beach.

Game time for the Sacramento game is set at 8 pm and the place will be the National Guard Armory at the corner of East Canon Perdido and Nopal streets.

While the Gauchos haven't battled the Sacramentans during the last few years, they appear to bring with them some shifty plays for the Gauchos to stop.

However, the Long Beach Staters will be a tough team for the Gauchos to tame. Last year the visiting beach team took a walloping from an able Gauchos quintet after losing a halftime 24-19 lead. The spirited Gauchos rallied during all of the second half and controlled the ball to a final gaping 70-48 margin which left the Staters on the floor.

The game will appear to be an even battle but the Gauchos' Jim O'Hara, Joe Koehler, Jim Balden, and Joe McCollough are expected to place the lead for a Gauchos victory.

The games scheduled against Fort Ord for next week have been canceled and the dates are still open.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

After two weeks of play in the Intramural Basketball league there are four teams left in the winners draw and six in the losers. One loss places a team in the losers draw and two losses puts it out entirely. Those teams left in the winners category are the Beach Rats, Sigma Phi Epsilon No. 1, Delta Tau Delta No. 1, and Lambda Chi Alpha. In the losers category are the Whiz Kids, the IA Club, SAE No. 1, Sigma Phi Epsilon No. 2, Sigma Tau Gamma, and Kappa Sigma No. 1. The winner of the losers draw plays the winner of the winner's draw for the championship.

MEN'S BOWLING

Sigma Tau Gamma has definitely captured the lead in the close race of the Men's Bowling league. Only a few percentage points behind, however, is Kappa Sigma. Close contests for second, third, etc. follow all down the line.

Last Thursday night high individual game went to Muhlethaler and also high individual series went to Muhlethaler with respective scores of 201 and 551. Kappa Sigma took high team game and high team series honors with scores of 1024 and 2833.

Next weeks games highlight a feature match between the two top teams, Sigma Tau Gamma and Kappa Sigma.

Following are the team standings:

Team	Won	Lost
Sigma Tau Gamma	20	4
Kappa Sigma	19	5
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	17	11
Sigma Phi Epsilon	14	10

Dean Reynolds To Be Member of Cal State Committee

Lyle G. Reynolds, Dean of Men, has been named vice-chairman of a statewide University of California Committee on Veterans Education, it was announced by Granville Siler, chairman of the Committee from the Berkeley campus.

This statewide committee plays an important part in working out the details and planning for the thousands of veterans enrolled on all of the University campuses. It serves as a liaison between the University and the Veterans Administration in implementing the GI bill as it affects veterans in the University, including the making of contracts with the Veteran's Administration.

Individual Problems

This committee, which took the place of the Veterans Coordinator on each campus in 1952, also clears the approval of certain University courses and considers individual problems of the veteran which may arise.

There are representatives from each campus and from UC Extension on the committee. Dr. Robert W. Webb, chairman of the physical science department at Santa Barbara College, who was formerly statewide veterans coordinator for the University, is an ex-officio member of this committee.

Freshmen Committees To Guide Activities; Chairmen Named

The Frosh Steering Committee, which has charge of planning and guiding all freshmen class activities, met Nov. 17 and set up the following committees with chairmen: Constitution, headed by Bill Carraway; Publicity, Rory Pleasant; Program, Mitnee Dugue; and Social, Joyce Engle. The Steering Committee feels that these groups will be an aid in the guidance of freshman activities.

The work of the Constitution Committee will be to establish a constitution for the organization during its four-year duration. Social and Program Committees will schedule freshman class activities for the year.

MILITARY BALL SET FOR NEAR FUTURE, NO WORRY OVER TUX

After having waited for almost a full semester, the men on the campus can finally see a formal approaching with refreshments and half time entertainment furnished, and without the worry or expense of renting a tux. The Annual Military Ball will be held at the Montecito Country Club on Saturday, January 9 with music provided by I. Newton Sousa (Perry).

This is the perfect time to find out who your girl has been hustling over the holidays—or vice versa. Tickets are on sale now and can be obtained from members of Scabbard and Blade and The Colonel's Coeds. There will be no inspection (for men) at this formation.

DR. H. FINGARETTE ADDRESSES CONFAB

Dr. Herbert Fingarette, assistant professor of philosophy at Santa Barbara College, addressed the final luncheon meeting at a conference of 400 elementary school administrators from Southern California, held recently in Redlands. The speaker's address was entitled "Backgrounds of American Values" which was one phase of the convention's theme, "Child Guidance." This annual event drew administrators, principals, supervisors and other school officials from nine southern counties of California.

Debate Team in Meet With Pepperdine in Discussion, Debate

Traveling out of town to try to better our showing at Fresno were Dr. Upton Palmer, debate coach, and part of the forensics team. Last weekend's trip took speakers to Pepperdine to compete in the Southern California division of the Western Speech Association tournament.

On the trip with Dr. Palmer were Ann Moore, Ruth Farstrup, Donna Wolfe, Miriam Birch, and veteran debater Gene Hambleton. They competed in individual events and debate.

In individual events Interpretive Readings were from the Bible, dramatic literature, and modern poetry. Extemporaneous Speaking topics were on taxation, and the Discussion groups handled the problems of Congressional investigations. The debate topic was Resolved: that the United States adapt a policy of free trade.

ALL SYMPHONY PLAN MAPPED BY STUDENT MUSIC COMMITTEES

Under the supervision of Carl Schafer, student committees have already begun working on the 1954 All California High School Symphony, scheduled for February 26, 27 and 28. The Associated Students annually sponsors the event, for which high school students from more than fifty high schools throughout California are chosen to participate. The purpose of All-Cal is to give promising young musicians the opportunity to perform under well-known conductors, and to increase their musical experiences.

The high school musicians will arrive in Santa Barbara on Friday, Feb. 26, and will begin three days of intensive rehearsal, culminating in a concert on Sunday.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA HONORS FOUR NEW MEMBERS RECENTLY

Tau Kappa Alpha, National Speech Honorary on campus, got its 1953 activities underway last Thursday. At this meeting the prospective candidates were chosen. They were: Ann Moore, Gary Hess, Frank Rowley, and Doris Kovak. All these students have distinguished themselves in forensic work during the past two years and have high ratings scholastically. The formal initiation will take place sometime after Christmas.

It was also decided that the organization would sponsor the Speech 11 contests as in past years. The preliminaries for the contest will be held Dec. 14, and the finals at 8:00 pm in Pine Hall 100 on the following day. The public is invited to attend. Winners are usually chosen by group decision.

Intra-mural as well as inter-collegiate forensic work should hit an all-time high this year. The squad shows exceptional depth in talent and numbers, thus providing T. K. A. with hopes of an outstanding year.

NEW PLACEMENT EXECUTIVE

Mr. E. L. "Chelly" Chelberg, Placement Executive on the SBC campus, is the man for the February and June graduates to see if they desire help in getting a job. The Placement Office will take applications for both teaching and non-teaching positions. Mr. Chelberg is also alumni secretary. Later on in the year he will handle part-time employment.

Stanford Offers Three Awards In Journalism

The Institute for Journalistic Studies at Stanford University is now receiving applications for graduate scholarships in journalism for the 1954-55 academic year. Two fellowships and a scholarship are to be awarded. They carry stipends of $1,200, $1,400, and $1,800.

Requests for additional information should be addressed to the Director, Institute for Journalistic Studies, Stanford University, Stanford, California. Feb. 15 is the deadline for formal application.

The awards, in memory of former students at Stanford, are the Charles Samuel Jackson, Jr., Fellowship, the Melville Jacoby Fellowship (awarded to a student preparing to work in the Orient), and the Stanley Stemmer Beaubaire Scholarship.

Modern Dance Workshop Begins Working On Concert Program Given in Spring

The Modern Dance Workshop group would like all students interested in participating in this year's Dance Concert to submit their names to Miss Jean Bellinger in the Women's Gym Office. This annual program is composed of original works by students and will be presented early in the spring semester.

The Dance Concert will be made up of five or six sections, each with a student director. One section, "Hawaiian Island Impressions," is now being choreographed by the Workshop. Another feature will be a group of solos and duets. Students who would like to compose short dances may try out for this section.

Student leaders for the event are Miriam Yates, chairman, and Nancy Jenks, secretary.
