Pi Phi's Miss Five Trophies

Five trophies were reported stolen from the Pi Beta Phi sorority house, 1620 Grand Ave., Saturday night.

Karen Gunderson, house vice-president, said sorority members were at the annual Christmas party in another part of the city.

All doors and entries were locked, but there were no signs of forced entry. Among the trophies stolen was Marty Campilio's homecoming queen trophy.

Helen Garben, Pi Phi delegate to Panhellenic, reported the incident to Panhellenic Council Sunday morning. There was no immediate comment on the theft.

Student Union Will Undergo Cleaning

The Coffee Shop will be cleaned during the Christmas recess.

According to Mr. John Bahten, manager of the Coffee Shop: "Every means possible will be employed by Coffee Shop personnel to keep the Student Union Clean. However, the 100 percent cooperation of everyone using the facilities will be required."

A full time supervisor will be added to the Coffee Shop staff in order to keep the shop working smoothly.

An Express Line for coffee and other quick orders will be installed and tried out.

Mr. Bahten stressed the importance of student co-operation in keeping the Union clean. If this could be done, it would not be necessary to close down the Gaucho Room during the week for cleaning.

'GAME OF LOVE' REPEATS JAN. 8

The French movie, "Game of Love," will be shown again in the Classroom Auditorium, January 8 at 7 and 9 p.m. The showing is a result of popular demand; during the last showing an electrical failure occurred.

'By George, Ho, Ho, Ho'

BOMBS, SCHLITZ, SANTA CLAUS ALL GREET UCSB '58 CHRISTMAS SEASON

Bombs, Schlitz, St. Nick and Mr. Magoo—that's the way residence halls are greeting Christmas this year.

An idea originally created by the William Box Christmas cards has been used by Juniper Hall. Dear old Saint Nick drops a bomb down a chimney and says HO, HO, HO.

Palm Hall's contribution is Mr. Magoo decorating an untraditional Palm tree, the theme: "By George, it's Christmas."

A large brick wall leading to a fireplace covers the front of Cypress Hall with Santa Claus falling right into the flames.

In front of Oak Hall Santa Claus is blasting off from the North Pole in his rocket ship filled with packages. Around Santa, on the lawn, are a few of his helpers.

On Manzanita Hall an array of go-aheads adorned with bells and ribbons accompanies the sign "Go Ahead, have a Merry Christmas."

Simpler

One of the simpler decorations at Madrona Hall, is a Christmas tree covered with angel hair and laden with cheerfully wrapped packages.

A large can of Schlitz and the sign "Cheers" is the festive suggestion of Toyon Hall.

A tall church steeple with a beautiful Christmas tree inside gives a warm feeling to those at Sequoia Hall.

Cypress, Oak Win Christmas Contest

Students passing through the campus residence halls were often reminded that Christmas is almost here.

During the past week, the residence halls have been decked out in their yuletide finest, with decorations on windows and doors and displays in front of the Las Casitas halls.

Highlight of the traditional Christmas activity was the annual Christmas Decorations Contest among the Las Casitas Residence Halls.

First place in the large halls division went to Cypress Hall for their display, "Santa Comes to Cypress." Oak Hall took top honors in the small hall division with "Blast off, Santa Man," as a modern Santa traded in his reindeer for Vanguard II.

Second place among small halls was awarded to Palm Hall as Mr. Magoo explained, "By George, It's Christmas." Laurel Hall was second in the large halls division.

Judging was by Herb Harbison, residence hall supervisor, George O'Brien, director of the Office of Public Information, and Mrs. Shanon Kimsey of the Housing Office.

Santa Rosa Residence Hall, although not participating in the contest, has sponsored its own activities with girls decorating their doors and windows and hanging stars in the lounge.

CAROLS INCLUDED IN POPS PROGRAM

The Modern Chorale presents a Christmas "Pops" Concert today at noon in the auditorium.

Dr. Van A. Christy directs the 25 voice choir. A portion of the hour will be devoted to group singing.

The first section of the program includes old Norman, English and French carols. The second will include traditional carols and the third, "Beautiful Savior" by Christiansen, "Oh Barren Hills" by Miranda, the "Slumber Song of the Madonna," by Head-Krone featuring a violin obligato by Donald McInnes, and "Hodie, Christus Natus Est" by Pollak.

Students arriving late will be seated between selections.

CAMPUS ACCESS ROAD MAY SUFFER SETBACK

Charities Committee Makes Over $1,000 From Benefit Drive

Charities Committee chairman Mary Stewart reports over $1,000 was realized from the Alpha School benefit show and Charities Week.

Miss Stewart thanked Bill Stewart, master of ceremonies at the performance, Rood Printers, Quality Printers and Foster's Freeze for donations and the student body for its support.

She suggested today that the Students make the drive an annual event, with UCSB taking a "big brother" attitude toward the Alpha School.

MESA IMPROVES TV BROADCASTS

The Mesa Campus' closed-circuit television set-up, donated by Regent Edwin W. Pauley, chairman of the board of regents, is under further development according to Dr. Rollin Quimby.

Speech instructor Quimby said unlike television transmitters used by studios for long-distant broadcasting, the image is sent on the Mesa Campus via wires to the receiver.

By utilizing this method of transmission, the entire broadcast can be isolated to the campus. The method of televising, as well as the resulting picture, is the same as a commercially produced program.

Since the unit was donated, along with $5,000 to cover operational costs and upkeep, the Industrial Arts students have added to and improved the system. At present, they are installing a sound unit.

Quimby's beginning class in broadcasting journeyed to the Mesa campus last week to gain practical experience in televising. Angle shots and uses of different lenses were practiced. Students were able to see the immediate results on the television monitor.

Dr. Quimby remarked about the television unit, "It offers valuable lab experience in teaching this type of television work."

GAUCHO NOTICES

Drill Cancelled
The ROTC Drill scheduled for January 2 has been cancelled, according to Lt. Col. George C. Woolsey. This will reduce the hazards involved in students returning to the campus in the Jan. 1 holiday traffic.

All other classes will be held as scheduled.

Circle K, newly formed mens service club, has erected a Christmas tree in the school library. The tree will be donated to the Hillside House on Dec. 20.

Philosopher Speaks
Professor Leonard Hall speaks tonight at 8 p.m. on Heisenberg's Uncertainty Principle.

The newly formed philosophy club will sponsor the meeting at the home of Dr. Harry Girvetz, 242 Las Alturas, Santa Barbara. All students are invited to attend.

ACCESS ROAD? THREE ROUTES ARE POSSIBLE

State and local officials, under the limitations of present funds, have narrowed the choice of an access road to Santa Barbara College down to three routes.

They are:

(1) The G7 Route — This route would begin at the Goleta Beach entrance of the campus and proceed to a direct connection approximately two miles south of Goleta with Highway 101. The road would intersect with 101 approximately 2000 ft. from the Patterson Ave. intersection. Under present funds, it would be a two lane highway.

(2) The B1 route — This access road would begin at the Isla Vista entrance to the college (near the baseball field and track.) It would travel in a direct line to Highway 101 and intersect near the Sunkist Lemon Association plant. It is possible that this road could be a four-lane highway, even under present funds. It would be the shortest route.

(3) Route E — This route would begin at the Goleta Beach entrance. Unlike G7, it would proceed to Hope Ranch, skirting residential areas. It would connect with Highway 101 at the Hollister "Y" (near the Blue Onion Drive-In). Under present funds, this road would be a two-lane highway. It would be the longest of the three proposed routes.

FIRE! FIRE!

For the sake of women on this campus who entered Mademoiselle's College Board Contest we have received word that:

1. All entries that reached Mademoiselle before November 29 were destroyed by fire.

2. They can qualify without redoing their tryout by writing a note of application to Mademoiselle's College Board Contest, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N.Y.

Highway Commission Asked To Separate Ward Boulevard

by Pat Gower

Construction of the access road to Santa Barbara College, the Ward Memorial Blvd., may be in for a delay.

At least it will be shoved into a secondary position if recommendations pending before the State Highway Commission in Sacramento are approved.

Senator J. J. Hollister said today that arguments over the selection of the Ward access road have caused a delay in construction of a proposed freeway from Santa Barbara to Goleta.

Goleta Valley Chamber of Commerce President Garrett Van Horne said he has asked the State Highway Commission to go ahead with 101 freeway construction and set aside the access route "for the time being." Horne added that "representatives" of the UCSB Board of Regents and Administration were supporting him.

Senator Hollister said in Santa Barbara Saturday that he agrees the only solution is to separate the two projects. The Senator had just returned from Sacramento where he told incoming Highway Commission head Max Gillis, that 101 construction should "go ahead and get underway."

"Unfortunate"

C. A. Storke, co-publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press, said, "Everyone agrees that 101 is much more in need than the access road. It is extremely unfortunate if it is delayed."

The Chamber of Commerce and the Santa Barbara Farm Bureau sent Hollister to Sacramento Friday to request the separation. "A separate budget can be set up for the Ward Boulevard," Hollister told Highway officials.

Another stumbling block, the proposed G7 intersection at Highway 101, was criticized by Van Horne. "We are asking your commission to delete the G7 intersection from the freeway plans in favor of an intersection at Patterson Avenue," Van Horne told the Commission.

The G7 route would connect with 101 at a point approximately 2000 feet above Patterson Ave.

nue. This would involve building two interchanges practically next to each other—a plan financially impractical.

"Great Value"

"The Patterson Avenue intersection is of great value in Santa Barbara County's master road plan," Van Horne stated. "It has been generally felt that when the Ward road is constructed, it could be brought into 101 at this Patterson Avenue intersection, or at any other intersection as a special project."

The G7 Route, originally selected by the Highway Commission, is now being held up by protests from the Santa Barbara area.

Sen. Hollister said he favored the B1 route over G7 because of its direct approach to the campus. "Funds in Santa Barbara County are so short that if an access road is built at the present time, the B1 route seems the most feasible."

T. M. Storke, co-publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press, favored the E route and said that "the Board of Regents wants the access road to connect at the 'Y.'"

Co-publisher C. A. Storke, evidently referring to route E, said in a News-Press editorial October 9 that his greatest concern is the safety of the college students. "Each day that goes by increases the hazard encountered by 2,500 students of the Santa Barbara College in their daily travel between the campus and the city of Santa Barbara."

Nearest date for construction on the proposed 101 freeway is spring of 1959. Hollister said he is hopeful that some way can be found to start work on the freeway before that time.

SING BROTHERS, SING!

MUSIC IN THE AIR. Melodius singing will invade the campus auditorium today as choral tunes add to the Yuletide season. The Modern Chorale will feature many popular and traditional Christmas songs sung under the direction of Dr. Van A. Christy.

HIP FLASKS, RACCOON COATS GONE

MODERN COLLEGIATE YOUTHS FAIL TO CONFORM TO OLD TIME STANDARDS

The outside world is looking at college students of today with a puzzled expression. The tide of higher-education apparently has taken a different turn, and those who came and went before us are asking what it is that is so modified about college attitudes today. The professors who instruct the college sect across the land are doing their best to answer these confused queries.

Do you know what 'existentialism' is all about? Why don't you carry a hip flask and wear a racoon coat? Are you well versed on the writings of Aldous Huxley? Why don't you get down on hands and knees everytime a football star walks by? And finally, why don't you swallow gold fish?

These questions seem rather ludicrous to us moderns, but they are sincere efforts on the part of Alumni and the American public to discover the "new" college life.

If you, the reader, did not snicker or wonder about at least two of the above mentioned questions, then you are not aware of the past, for those were common terms, activities, and familiarities of the "Old" tradition. In short, we are being accused of not acting like college students are supposed to act.

Lack of Fire
It has been observed that we lack fire, the fire of rioting, cre-

Letter to the Editor

Ed Note: The following letter appeared in the Santa Barbara News-Press. The El Gauchito feels that the praise is well deserving.

Editor, News-Press: We would like to take advantage of your column to publicly thank Bob Lorden, graduate manager, and the Associated Students of UC-SBC, and also Miss Dorothy Davis for inviting us to attend the college football games this season.

We are grateful to all the citizens of Santa Barbara for maintaining a center to which we can come for rehabilitation, but the personal interest of the above has been a particular inspiration to us.

ating general chaos, hero worship, and such general gaieties as "swallowing goldfish." Of course, there is a minimum of the usual high jinks, but as a Princeton senior has put it, "... irrational actions such as riots are too much of a risk. Anything you do out of the ordinary brings ridicule."

A University of Texas philosophy major adds, "Anything that is in any way heroic or looks heroic—thumbs down. Don't ever stand up and pound your fist about anything, because that is sort of childish."

Interest in civic affairs is spreading throughout collegiate ranks. Intellectual learning, the intense competition of staying in an institution of higher learning, the idea of "getting ahead" in the world, and the increasing opportunities in business are many of the direct reasons for this unusual calm. Assistant Dean of Students Adolph Brugger of UCLA contends, "Times change and so does folly."

Objection

A feeble objection is that the generation we belong to today has never experienced depression. However a Columbia historian explains the college attitude here by pointing out "... there is nothing much they (college students) can do about so many things like radioactive fallout." In other words, as described by Amherst Psychologist Robert Birney, "They try to cope with what they can control. They don't worry about what they can't."

"The human predicament" has become the subject of interest to the collegian. A political scientist from Reed College points out our "anxiety about the prospects of the human race, and the profound search for intellectual anchors." Time magazine points out that the college student is not searching for leadership a la intelligentsia, but rather for a less spectacular role in the handling of the future of the world, the role in which we, the 'learning observer' of the present, will be cast in very soon.

William Duren, Jr., dean of Arts and Sciences at the University of Virginia pats us on the back, saying, "They're good people, remarkably good spiritually and morally—a lot better than their fathers were in the human sense."

Goal Defined

However a very well-composed definition of the collegiate's goal in life was remarked by Dean Wilbur Bender of Harvard, who says, "The weight of the world rests heavily on their shoulders. They want to do something about the world. But they feel that they have to know a lot more in their minds before they can become

New Scholarships From $500 - $800

Five scholarships of $500 to $800 will be awarded junior transfers to USBC. Dr. William Frost, chairman of the committee on honors and scholarships, announced today.

The scholarships are called the "Ina Therese Campbell Special Scholarships" as part of the Ina Therese Campbell Scholarship Fund. The fund provides more than half of total scholarships awarded here.

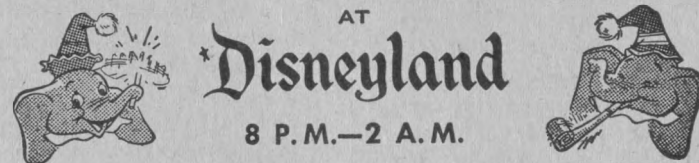

J. Halterman Named To State-wide Group

Dr. J. Frederick Halterman, professor of economics at UCSB, has been appointed to a State-wide non-academic Personnel Committee, advisory to President Robert Gordon Sproul, the University recently announced.

This group, under the chairmanship of Prof. Arthur Ross, director of the Institute of Industrial Relations, UC, Berkeley, will study the personnel policies and practices of the University.

SHOPPING TIPS GIVEN TO TARDY SHOPPERS

by Joan Bennett

Those hectic two weeks before Christmas have arrived and for most busy college students it means that the mad rush to do all the Christmas shopping in one big trip has come. Resolutions to get the dreaded chore done early have been forgotten in the maze of mid-terms and pressing Christmas activities.

The first big problem is what to get the current guy or girl-friend. (Let's hope you've narrowed it down to just one for Christmas! If not you'll learn an expensive but valuable lesson for next year.)

Everyone knows that the fastest way to a girl's heart is through clothing. A sweater or shirt to match yours is a lasting commercial for you when ever she wears it. If your gal is in the raised pinky set, there are always sterling silver monogrammed yo-yos. Cosmetics or jewelry are personal, meaningful and don't break the bank. You can't go wrong with a stuffed animal, and the sillier the better.

A leather cuff link case or a set of matching cuff links and tie clasp are the old reliables for the current man in your life, girls. But the guys seem to really go for the expensive crew neck sweaters. Ouch!

A Cinch

Fathers and brothers are a cinch! If dad is married to fused or button down collars, give him a handsome new shirt with a short-pointed, Glen-type collar and permanent stays. Another thought is to give him a shirt he would never buy for himself like an imported pima broadcloth. After-all, the old boy works pretty hard and is entitled to a touch of luxury now and then.

Kid brothers like anything that makes them look collegiate. This includes Cambridge Cloth shirts, bark striped neckties in Ivy colors, or knit shirts. A good leather belt with an initialed buckle always makes a hit too.

Next to girl-friends, mothers are the most impossible when it comes to Christmas. If we get her something to wear, it's always the wrong size, color or something. The smart move is to get help from your girl (and, in the process she may drop a few hints about what she wants).

Sisters are no problem. Get whatever she says, or, better yet, let her get it. She probably has had what she wants spotted ever since September.

Don't Give Up

Still haven't thought of something for that girl? Well, don't give up, just consider a few of these ideas: a compact, stationery or note paper with her name and address or a small amount of good perfume (this costs somewhere between $20 and $30 an ounce, but half ounce in an attractive bottle lasts quite awhile).

Here's a tip: whatever you get arrange for a flower to be delivered Christmas Eve. It won't cost much—but you'll find that you'll make more points with it than if you gave her diamonds . . . say, that's an idea. Why not?

Where do you get the extra $100,000?

"Some critics of business still maintain that profits are too high.

"I wonder if they have any idea of how much more it costs to do business today than it used to? Union Oil is a fairly typical example.

"In 1927, the company bought an 80,000 barrel storage tank for $25,000. Under Federal Income Tax laws, we were permitted to recover our investment over 30 years, the life of the tank.

"By 1957, when it's time to replace the tank, the company has set aside $25,000. But what has happened? Due mainly to inflation, higher wages and material costs, the tank now costs $125,000.

"Where do you get the extra $100,000? Union Oil gets it out of profits, and by increasing indebtedness from time to time. Out of profit? The fact is, we have to sell $1,250,000 worth of products to clear the $100,000.

"Put another way, the company's entire profit for one day, the total earnings that day on $400,000,000 invested by share owners, and the efforts of over 8,000 people—all went to replace one 80,000 barrel tank, of which we now have over 150.

"Without profits, Union Oil couldn't afford to replace that tank. And without the new tanks and other equipment we have to replace to stay in business, there'd be no jobs for any of us!"

Bob Dalbeck is something of an authority on profits. He is an Assistant Comptroller for the company.

He estimates that only about 19 minutes in the average company's 8-hour working day go to earn a profit. The rest is spent paying off the cost of doing business.

And less than half of those 19 minutes result in dividends to share holders. The other 9½ minutes are reinvested in the business to keep it up to date and competitive.

THE SPORTS SCENE

by Mike Kahn

May I cordially invite all fans (including song leaders) who have yet to see the Santa Barbara basketball team perform, to witness the quintet in action when they return to the Armory January 3 against Pasadena College.

You will find Santa Barbara to have one of their most exciting teams in years. You will see a team that plays a brand of ball that is most interesting to watch.

Under their new coach, Art Gallon, the Gauchos use a pattern offense with play options. It is style of attack with continued movement which leads to clever passes and open shots. The most distinguishing feature of this year's club is hustle.

The Gauchos present a strong defense that has limited their opposition to an average of 57 points a game. You might see them suddenly break into a full court press and on the next occasion into their three-quarter court zone press or man-to-man defense. The result was evident last Tuesday night as the Gauchos stole the ball from Westmont on numerous occasion; the thing is that they can never be counted out of a game. They were 13 points behind Cal Poly late in the last period but turned the tables for a seven point victory.

Tonight Fresno State, a team far superior in material, is expected to run away from the Gauchos. Despite their lack of size, I don't think any team will find the scrappy Santa Barbarans a push-over.

Morris All C.C.A.A.

Last weekend at the conference meeting a C. C. A. A. All-Star football team was selected. Here it is: ends—George VanZant, Fresno State; Ralph Anderson, L.A. State; tackles—Jim Brown, Fresno State; John Madden, Cal Poly; guards—Carlos Gonzales, Cal Poly; Mathias Medrano, Cal Poly; center—Don Klottenberg, Fresno State; quarterback—Joe Duke, San Diego State; halfbacks—JOHN MORRIS, SANTA BARBARA, Clayton Gouyd, Long Beach State, and fullback—Dean Fillpot, Fresno State. The Gauchos' center, Leon Schumacker and fullback, Bruce Varner were picked on the second team. Varner failed to receive the majority vote (3) for another year of eligibility, but it will be voted on again at the spring meeting.

GAUCHOS FACE STRONG FRESNO FIVE TONIGHT

Tonight the spirited Santa Barbara basketball team journeys to Fresno to play the powerful Fresno State Bulldogs in the opening C.C.A.A. game for both quintets. The game will be broadcast tonight at 8 p.m. over station KIST.

The Gallon forces with a 3-2 record face one of the strongest small college teams in the nation in the Bulldogs. Starting for the Gauchos will be Jim Whalen and Phil Rice at the forward positions, Jim Robitaille center and Ralph Barkey and Jim Hargrove at the guard spots. Frank Bennet, injured two weeks ago against Redlands, is expected to be ready for action.

Fresno C.C.A.A. Favorites

Coach Bill Vandenburg has the identical starting team back which defeated U.S.F. last year (the Dons were ranked third na-singles season scoring record. Can Gallon prepare his defenses to stop Alcorn? In the previous games the Gauchos have not been stung by big centers, but neither have they met the likes of Alcorn.

Rounding out the starting five for Fresno are as follows: forwards, Len Brown (6'3"), who led the Bulldogs in scoring in 1955-56, and Roland Todd (6'3"), who averaged 16.2 points a game last season; guards, Babe Williams and Dick Deibert who are both six feet.

After tonight's game the Gauchos will travel to Los Angeles where they will be hosted by the Pepperdine Waves, who are rated as one of the stronger teams in the West Coast Ath-Con. (Formerly the C.B.A.). Ducky Dowell's Waves are led by Mack Taylor (6'1") jumping jack and one of the best shooting forwards in Southern California. Taylor averaged 21.9 points a game in 24 outings and banged through 525 points to erase the old school mark of 471. Backing Taylor will be forward-center Jack Crowther (6'5"), guard Lee Decuir (6'5"), forward John Kasser (6'6"), guard George Taylor (6'2"), and guard John Gettberg (6'3").

The game will be held December 21st in the Pepperdine gym.

Next stop for the hoopsters is the Cal Poly Tournament which will be held Dec. 27th and 28th. When Santa Barbara plays Long Beach in the opening Tournament match, it will be counted as a league game.

U.C.S.B. vs. Pasadena Jan. 3

The Gauchos will return home after the Cal Poly tournament to take on Pasadena College, winner of the Redlands Tournament, at the Armory Friday, January 3rd.

Santa Barbara To Enter PCC Sailing Regatta Dec. 21, 22

The Pacific Coast Inter-Collegiate Sailing Championships will get underway at the Newport Harbor Yacht Club on the 21st of December. The team Championships will take place on the 21 and 22 and the individuals on the 23rd.

The 1st and 2nd place in team standings will go to the nationals, which will be held at Newport also, on the weekend of June 21.

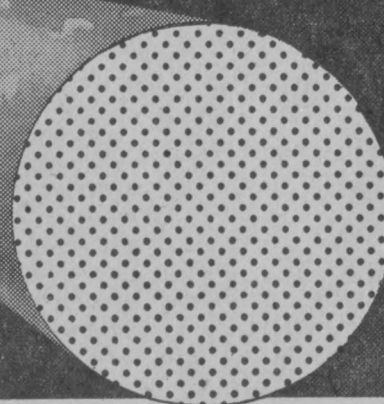

Bob Kielding will skipper one boat with Betty Bridges as his crew and Blair Francis will skipper the other with Jean Hammond as his crew. Two boats make up a team.

Dick and Gwen Hendrickson will guide the reserve boat if needed. The chances on placing in the finals are excellent, for last year Santa Barbara won more races than any other school. Leading the Bulldogs is 6'9" Gary Alcorn, who averaged 21.4 last season while breaking Bill Russell's C.R.A.
