Over the Fence

By JACK SALYER

SIMPSON SUES

Earnest Aldrich Simpson doesn't like the particular tone the back fence artists of English society are using; in fact, he has been damaged and is going to try to collect in court. One Mrs. Lieut. Col. A. H. C. Sutherland whispered back to her fan that Simpson had been paid money to let his wife, Wally, get a divorce, but like all of that kind of assibilation, it got to his ears, and he is suing her for slander. If Edward VIII and Wally haven't done anything else, they have provided the upper crust with something to chatter about to ease the tedium of their vacant and empty lives, for it will be some months before the London society season opens.

OVERT PIRACY

The Palos incident gave Hitler what he thought was an excuse to smother Spanish shipping. He sent warships to Spanish waters, chased flies, loomed threateningly, and issued defies. This took world history back to the days of Sir Francis Drake. Newspapers, ever alert, so commented. Meanwhile England sent over 200 thousand tons of battleships to the Iberian peninsula, instructed the Loyalists to release the contraband cargo to Germany, and assured Largo Caballeros and the government that no German army would be permitted to enter Spain without comment from England, the inference being armed comment.

NOW THE JAPANESE

Fascist Franco is clearly hated and unpopular in Spain; he can't get Spaniards in any important quantity to fight for his Fascist cause. The desperation of his plight is emphasized when he notified his sponsors, Germany and Italy, that he must have at least 70,000 of their

Students Organize Campus Flying Club

Flying enthusiasts will be interested to learn that plans for a flying club on the campus are under way.

Lawson E. Miller is interested in organizing a local beginner's club. He is a junior transfer from Akron, Ohio and has organized several successful clubs in the east.

One of the primary aims of the club is to buy a block of time at the Goleta airport. Burton Bonde, flying instructor at the field, will be instructor for the club.

Interested students should see Lawson Miller or Denning McArthur at the earliest possible date.

SNYDER TEACHES

Notice was received that Kayle Snyder, former member of the junior high department is teaching at Raenford, a private boy's school in Los Angeles. Mr. Snyder is instructing in physical education and other department work.

Lynn Receives Prize for Best 1936 Editorial

'Newspaper Week' Takes Cup As Alphigm Heads Make Award

George W. Lynn, managing editor of the Santa Barbara Daily News, has been announced as the winner of the Alpha Phi Gamma cup for the best editorial of the year, his "Newspaper Week."

The decision was made by the California Newspaper Publishers association, incorporated, which will meet in convention from January 15-17 in the Civic auditorium in San Jose. The prize will be awarded by Iola Rust, national secretary of Alpha Phi Gamma, and John Smith, national president, at a luncheon to be held Saturday. The theme of the convention will be "Streamlined Newspapers."

The staff of El Gaucho cooperated with the downtown newspapermen in celebrating California Newspaper Week, and held a press luncheon on the college campus, at which Mr. Lynn was a guest.

Seniors Convene at Breakfast Meeting

Convening at the La Arcada the senior class held its final semester breakfast last Wednesday morning with Bill Hoyt presiding.

Chief item on the program was disclosure of the placement of three January graduates by Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham. Students placed are Lillian Talbot at Santa Maria as elementary, Dorothy Conn at Bakersfield as elementary, and Bruce Tomlinson at Bakersfield as junior high.

Other matters cared for at the meeting was the acceptance of Harrington "Pop" Wells as class sponsor and election of Don Follett as representative to the legislature.

One Horse Shay Aired Out for Evening of Fun at Rockwood

By AUDREY FLETCHER

"Grandpaw, hitch the horses up cause Zeke and I've finished the milking and we're all goin' to the shindig—S'gonno be some rip-snorter, I hear, and I shore am glad I got these here bluejeans washed up."

This conversation may well be transferred to any place on the Santa Barbara State campus and vicinity because everyone's going to the Hard Time dance, Saturday night, at Rockwood. Those former excuses—such as "nothing nice to wear" just disappear because the crazier the costume the better dressed you'll be.

Hill-Billy Music

Hill-billy music and Paul Jones' will be featured as entertainment, as well as other selections. Guests will dance to the music of Phyllis English and her orchestra. Decorations will be carried out in accord with the theme of the dance.

The dance starts at nine o'clock and ends at 12, and if everyone gets in the spirit of the affair a good time is assured.

GAUCHO CAPTAIN JOINS BETA SIGS

Doug Oldershaw, honorary captain of the 1936 grid eleven and president of the Anacapa club, was pledged to Beta Sigma Chi, social fraternity, at its regular meeting last Monday night held at the fraternity house on Cheltenham road.

With approximately 25 members present, plans for a party to be held January 29 in celebration of the fraternity anniversary were made. The organization has its 13th anniversary January 24.

Arrangements were also made for the decoration of the house den with pictures of all Beta Sigs who were on the 1936 Gaucho grid squad, including Howard Yeager, Bob Morelli, Doug Oldershaw, Frank Hayman, Barney Swanson and Bob Campbell.

Parry and Thrust

In an exhibition fencing match before the Men's club, Ross Lamoreaux, a new-comer to the Santa Barbara State college campus and acting student fencing instructor, defeated Captain F. F. Carpenter Jr., West Point graduate and head of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the Santa Barbara High school, 5-4, 3-5, and 2-5.

Before the arrival of Mr. Lamoreaux, no notice has been taken of a sport which has achieved popularity in a majority of colleges throughout the country. Advantageous from the point of exercise and poise, fencing is one of the sports which does not terminate with graduation. Fencing clubs and other similar organizations exist in many communities in the world.

To start the wheels turning, in establishing a new sport, money, long-lauded as the root of all evil, is recognized as a necessary factor. At the present time, interested students labor afternoons in the gymnasium learning the proper points of fencing. But they do so at their own risk. Receiving no credit for time spent, they parry and thrust without the necessary equipment. While an inexpensive sport as a whole, individual parts of a fencer's equipment, if purchased, require a large part of a student's allowance. However, for one hundred dollars, Mr. Lamoreaux could completely equip a class of 20. In view of student money spent for tours, concerts, trips, publicity and various other items, thoughtful consideration should be given to such a project, one that is included in the curriculum of most institutions. Would it not be worthwhile to utilize Mr. Lamoreaux's talent and ability to the utmost, and provide a regular fencing class, a source of recreation and an excellent opportunity for the utilization of leisure time?

Campus Sentiment

EDITOR'S NOTE: The letter below indicative of certain student sentiment on the campus, we feel worthy of a place in our editorial columns. The suggestion contained, we feel, is worth consideration by the student council.

It was with mild surprise and some curiosity that many of us not of the elect on the campus read the editorial in last week's Gauchito, "The Fool Hath Said." Perhaps this not unpardonable curiosity is reason and excuse enough for me to take up my pen and inscribe a few questions to be answered by whom so wills.

What goes on at council meetings? What members take active part? What ones are mere spectators? What ones hinder the legislative activities of the council with personalities and bickering? Is the body a "steamroller"?

These questions, I believe, reflect the thoughts of many students who are not content to elect their representatives and then forget all matters of government.

Possibly I take a great deal upon myself in offering a suggestion to our august legislators. However, it is offered in all good will and with a sincere desire to promote a feeling of understanding between the councilmen and the students. My suggestion is simply that the council hold one of its meetings, unpurged of any controversial material, in a student body assembly. If we of the common herd could see and hear our representatives in action, our doubts probably would be speedily dissolved.—T.H.

A Signal Honor

Readers of the Santa Barbara Daily News, both townspeople and students, and those persons interested in persuing the columns daily devoted to the editorial "we" in newspapers throughout the country, are extremely gratified to learn of an honor bestowed on George W. Lynn, managing editor of the Daily News. His editorial, "Newspaper Week," written several months ago regarding observance of the week set aside by Governor Merriam, was judged the best editorial of the year by the members of the California Newspaper Publishers association. The Alpha Phi Gamma award will be presented to him in the near future.

Mr. Lynn has constantly shown his interest in college journalism, and has always been ready and willing to offer advice, aid and encouragement to collegians directing their attention to the activities of the Fourth Estate.

In observance of California Newspaper Week, and to stimulate goodwill between the staff of the News-Press and that of El Gauchito, a press luncheon was held on the campus, at which Mr. Lynn and his associates were guests of honor.

May we extend our congratulations to Mr. Lynn, editor and friend, upon his achievements of so well-deserved an honor.

Long Shots

By LONGIE

I am still not responsible for the following statements. It certainly is nice to have "guest columnists" . . . same time, trouble and necks.

"LONGIE"

The time has come the author says, to write of many things. Of dates and rates, of hates and fates, Of cabbages and kings.

Of times as we rushed down ye olde gravel path to get our Gauchito, our steps have faltered because we feared we had unceremoniously hit the column . . . but here we are writing it, and with the fervent hope that those that dish it out can take it just as well.

Why does a certain literary dirt-disher-outer squirm uneasily over her once sure (?) steady . . . does it prove to those wise old sages that adverse truths are not acceptable, and when trouble hits home it cannot be laughed away.

Looks like the real McCoy that Nancy Darrow-Stewart combination . . . and it's flaming youth with O'Connor and Trotter blazing away . . . we ask Joe Albon who "Grandma" is . . . "those eyes" is all he can stammer back . . . We trust Ebie Vincent and Ray Stalmack . . . have peacefully reached an armistice.

John Echenique now knows how a girl feels waiting and waiting for hours . . . Sleepy Morris is wide awake when it comes to June Hopkins . . . s'truth . . . well, Helene Hughes has his ring, but we know his football is in good hands, those of Lillian Mulock . . . those tender token of devotion . . . how they do get around!

Scoop for the Snoop! Yeager, the Gauchito Flash will escort Madge Bunch hither and thither tonight . . . and Twaddell will take "fair Myrna Jullien" to hear Phil Harris . . . could that be an indirect burn-up for "ye olde ed" . . . and incidentally for A.W.S. prexy Seymour . . . Donk Hart seemed rather worried Wednesday morn when he asked Dr. Bishop about absent-mindedness . . . slipping or slipped, Hart.

Also scoop! Spied Mary Alice Halferly at the show with Willard Dolman, an ol' flame.

A MUSE

With Apologies to Walt Whitman
Out in the wilds of the mountains I hunt. Fleet of foot, light of soul, amazed at myself. Alone, kindling a fire, broiling a fresh killed game. Gathered leaves, my whispering bed—near by are dog and gun.

"The Yankee Clipper is under sky-sails, she cuts the sparkle and scud, My eyes settle the land, I bend at her prow or shout joyously from the deck."

WALT WHITMAN

Awakened early in the morn by clam diggers, I arose, tucked by boots full of trouser ends, and had a glorious time

Far in the west I saw the marriage of a trapper and the Indian maid . . . the open air their cathedral. Near by sat her heavily blanketed father and friends, cross-legged and smoking, a blank expression on each face. The coarse hair of the bride descended upon her voluptuous limbs, reaching to her moccasined feet; her eyelashes long, giving her a misty-eyes look. On the bank sat the trapper, luxuriant beard and curls protecting his neck.

I heard the motions of the runaway slave cracking the leaves near the woodpile . . . I had neglected raking them up. Through the open door I saw him limpsy and weak on the log. I brought him in, filled the tin wash tub for his sweated body and poor injured feet.

T'was a week before he'd recuperated, and passed to the north.

The above is a result of too much Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass." Try it sometime and see what happens.

Oh! for the chance to own a race horse. I'm not particular, any old nag will do, the one thing you have to do is sit back and wait until it makes up its mind to win. Sort of like waiting for your ship to come in. To explain, my lust is because Bing Crosby's horse "Fight On" (one of his many losers) finally won a race, paying 80-1, or $160 on a $2 ticket and $629 across the board. Bing won $800 besides the purse money.

One of Santa Barbara's local golf experts and an amateur, Jack Gage, did remarkably well in the Griffith Park Open Golf Championship. Competing against some of the finest golfers in the world he finished only 29 strokes behind the leader—not at all bad for 72 holes.

Gene Lillard, who formerly played third base for the Chicago Cubs, has been signed up by the San Francisco Seals ball club as a pitcher. Many critics claim that he will develop into a great chucker as soon as he gains better control.

During football season anyone could plainly see that Coaches Harder and Wilton were the best of friends. Each strategist has his own basketball club, Wilton the frosh and Harder the varsity. Despite the fact that they each represent Santa Barbara State they have to have their own personal feud as to who has the better team. To date, the Hardermen are one up on their rivals by virtue of a victory Wednesday 41-38 but it might be said that the varsity-men were quite lucky to win, yes, quite lucky. Good advice would be for them to keep on their toes because Wilton and his crew have the habit of not being hit twice on the same end and that is the losing end. Besides their basketball squads battling it out, they have even aroused their fourth period gym classes into thinking that the other is nothing much more than snakes-in-the-grasses.

In a special release from the Peagreener squad, Coach Wilton states that "we was robbed, and we want another game." Wilton also says that they were minus three of the best players thus hampering their chances of winning considerably. The freshmen wish that if the varsity would or should give them another game, Coach Harder would buy him a two-bit whistle and please stand inside the court if he wants to referee instead of doing it from the sidelines. If and when the two teams ever meet again it would be highly advisable to have a special assignment of cops handy to act as a third party for the squads and for the coaches in case their ire is disturbed too much and they should seem to engage in a bit of fisticuffs.

Frosh Travel to Play Black Dogs Tonight

Coach Wilton Stresses Strong Defense; Harold Fortress to Be Ready

Friday night the Frosh journey to Ventura to play the highly touted Black Dogs. This team is composed of numerous stars from around Ventura and are recognized as the strongest independent team in these parts. To date they are undefeated and hold a win over the strong Tommy and Willie hoopsters.

Coach Wilton of the Peagreeners has been working hard with his boys, stressing a strong defense and teaching them new offensive formations.

Harold Fortress, star forward, who has been bothered with a bad foot will be ready to play Friday night and will undoubtedly strengthen the youngsters' offense.

The Frosh team this year is unusually small in stature. Their roster boasts of only four men who are six feet tall but eight men who weigh 170 or more.

O'Neill is the largest man on the squad, standing 6'2½" and weighing 195. The smallest man on the team is "Greek" Valos, 5'7" and the lightest, weighing 151.

REDLANDS MEETS OXY IN BATTLE ON HOME COURT

REDLANDS, Calif., Jan. 12.—Redlands university's fast-paced courtsters will encounter the first challenger of their conference basketball supremacy won last year when the Occidental Tiger team, boasting the best prospects in Oxy history, invades Redlands Friday night.

Neither team will be granted much of an advantage for the contest, which is the curtain-raiser for the Southern conference hoop season, but comparative scores against Chapman college, the only foe the two squads have met, gives Redlands the slight edge. Oxy went down to the tune of 61 to 37 against Chapman, while the defending champions piled up a 46 to 26 victory over Chapman.

Veterans on Team

Occidental will have a quintet including three veterans from last year's team, while the top Redlands five will have only tall "Stix" Crawford, left. Redlands mentor, Ashel Cunningham, however, has his last season's junior five, that upset Cal Tech and Pomona, and a group of promising juniors and sophomores.

The probably starters for the Redlands Bulldogs will be Dave Tract, sophomore sharp-shooter, and Earl Riley, senior letterman, forwards; Bill Spriggs, senior two-letterman, center; "Stix" Crawford, remaining member of last season's top five and Gerry Smith, another two-letterman for guards.

"Oh, a wise guy, eh?" remarks a gridder who has just made a faulty block. But, unlike a human opponent, the dummy never talks back, roughs a foe, chides a referee, or interferes with a pass receiver!

2nd Decathlon Starts Monday

Competition in the second annual intramural decathlon will begin Monday afternoon, January 18 at Phelps field. Events will be managed by Ray Denno, varsity coach, and Doc Kelliher, freshman coach over a period of eight days.

With the decathlon open to all

GAUCHOS UPSET PERFECT PLAY

S. F. State had a perfect play. They used to practice it every day. To fullback Harkness the ball was passed

One back was stopped by half Hammond,

Then quarter Abbey and tackle Halliway

Blocked the secondary out of the way,

While Fisher and Harkness gaily tore

Down the field to an easy score.

S. F. State had a perfect play. They tried it on Santa Barbara one day.

To the fullback Harkness the ball was passed

A busily center with cruel zest

Burled Harkness over and sat on his chest,

Then a big green guard took the ball away

And that was the end of a perfect play.

—The Golden Gater.

Frosh-Varsity Scintillate As Veterans Win

Battle Grows Rough with 25 Penalties Called in 41-38 Game

By "GARDY" GARDENHIRE

In a fast game that had the fans on their feet throughout the 60 minutes, the Santa Barbara State college varsity eked out a 41-38 score over the frosh, last evening at the Methodist church gym.

The fracas was a rough encounter at times, with 25 fouls being called, and just about as many being overlooked (in a joking way), by referee Doc Kelliher who did an excellent job in working the game.

Wilton was quick to spread praise and to pat his boys on the back, and stated that his team had won a place in his heart for the great game they put up, despite the fact that they were greatly handicapped by the loss of Fortress, Spawn and Foley, three capable men who were out of the game due to injuries. Wilton also stated that in a return game (if one could be arranged) the frosh could do themselves justice by giving the varsity a good trimming of which the frosh are very capable.

With the Frosh leading 38-37 and one and one-half minutes left to play was the opportune time for what happened. Busby, 240 pound Varsity guard, sank a field goal from close in which was followed by Timmy Thomas's (the class of the Varsity forwards last season) bucket from out of the corner of the court to spell defeat for the classy Frosh hoopsters.

Johnny Bassett, by far the best man on the floor, kept the upperclassmen worried throughout the game with his sharp-shooting eyes. He rang up fourteen points, and according to those who have seen him play in the past say "he had an off night" or "he's not in shape yet." Bassett in ringing up his 14 points had to do so while well covered by the varsity guard, namely Jim Benton, the tall lanky boy who by the way, is known as "sucker sticks for legs" Benton. Benton is fast developing into one of the best guards that has been on the Gaucho campus for some time.

From the looks of the Frosh-Varsity game it is the writer's opinion that Wilton and Capt. Jones do their coaching during practice. Harder does his during the games.
