Hobo Brawl Finishes Contest

Bearded and Beardless End Whiskerino As Mermaids of West Beach

FACULTY TAKE PART

Seegert Wins with Longest Bristles; All Fellows Eat Chili Beans

Actually living up to its name in every sense of the word the annual "Hobo Brawl," which climaxed the whisker growing activities on the men of the campus, went its riotous way last Wednesday afternoon, May 12 at West Beach, from 3:30 to seven p.m.

Both the bearded and beardless, regardless of age or professional standing were thrown into the brink with all clothes on. Among the faculty subjected to the treatment were "Spud" Harder, "Pop" Wells and Jack Porter. Over 50 students, including the "hairy jowl" winners also enjoyed an impromptu dip.

Seegert Wins

The winners of the bristly chin proposition were longest and bushiest, Fred Seegert; the thickest, Allan Sprague; first prize for the longest, Donald Jockimsen; second prize was divided between Doug Oldershaw and Danny Mulock; the best color, Ronald Crary; most artistic attempt, Donk Hart and Clarence Lair; Bill McArthur and Fred Valenzuela, were consoled for the best attempt.

Enjoy Feed

Men and "mice" alike enjoyed a meal composed of chili beans, French bread, ice cream, and milk. Games of volleyball, baseball, and other sports were on the program. The Fighting Forty won a baseball game from the Anacapa club.

Judges for the beard contest were Jack Porter, "Spud" Harder, "Pop" Wells, and Captain Paul Jones. The "brawl" was arranged by Dave Pollock, Men's club president, aided by a committee composed of Danny D'Alfonso and Ed Cole.

Allred Moves to New Office

The new offices for the controller and Student Body which have been constructed from the Men's clubroom have been completed this week.

Fred Allred and his assistant, Leona Rasmussen, supervised the moving of equipment from the controller's office yesterday. The old clubroom has been divided into two offices, one for the controller and one for the Student Body officers. There is also a smaller office adjoining the controller's office for Mr. Allred.

"The new office will give us a better opportunity to serve the students," stated Mr. Allred. "It will also enable us to keep the student activities closer together."

Seniors Plan Harlem Night Floor Show, Program, Dinner Given

What! A "night club" at State? The senior class seems to be doing night-life on us with their "Night in Harlem" theme at the dinner which will be held next Tuesday night in Ebbets hall.

The blow-off can well be classed as something new and different under the sun, for a soft-drink cabaret will be in operation (I said SOFT). The cover charge of 55 cents provides for dinner and dancing. The Coffee Shop will be open so that guests can imbibe the cokes and lemonade, but this will

Seniors Receive Invitations to Rockwood Prom

K.P. Group Gives Annual Play Next Week

"The Toy Shop", an original play with songs and dances, will be presented by the kindergarten-primary department next Saturday afternoon, May 22, in the college auditorium at 2 p.m. A play is given by the department annually under the direction of Miss Edith Leonard, department head.

The list of characters and students in the cast are Shirley Temple, Millicent Lincoln; Aunt Jemima, Ardis Hendry; Old-fashioned dolls, girls, Ramona Koepf; boy, Phyllis Badger; Mexican doll, Katherine Ruiz; elephant, Lena Lutz; Chinese doll, Helen O'Banion; Jack in the Box, Nina Wilson; Brownie, Veree Church; Cat, Margaret Parks; Clown, Marjorie Mansfield; Dutch Doll, Rosalind Rawicz; Mickey Mouse, Jane Goslin; Teddy Bear, Eleanor Hourihan; French Doll, Mable Kemp; Sailor Doll, Kathryn Curtis; Raggedy Ann, Miriam Turton; Raggedy Andy, Katherine Riley; Shopkeeper's wife, Laura Campbell; Shopkeeper, Ruth Chapman.

Production Staff

Production staff for the play includes Jane Goslin, general chairman; costume, Mrs. Mabel Kemp; properties, Kathleen Macleish; music Miriam Turton; dances Rosalind Rawicz; manuscript, Veree Church; program, Millicent Lincoln; publicity, Marjorie Mansfield; stage, Eleanor Hourihan, and make-up Katherine Ruiz.

Tickets will be ten cents for children and twenty-five for adults.

Dance Has Nautical Theme Used in Decorations and Programs

Formal invitations were sent to the seniors this week for the traditional Junior-Senior Prom which will be held next Friday evening, May 21, at Rockwood from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m., to the music of Frank Greenough's eleven piece orchestra.

The theme of the dance is Nautical with decorations of nets and fish specimens covering the walls. The dancers will enter the hall on a gang plank and at the end will present docking cards. The orchestra will be dressed in sailors outfits and the leader in a captain's uniform. The Junior Knights will act as the crew to prepare the decks for entertainment, which will consist of dances and sea songs presented by professional teams. A boat whistle will blow the number of dances. Blue lights will be used throughout the dance.

Summer Formal

The affair has been designated as a summer formal, which means formal dresses for the girls and sports coats for the boys. The

KING GEORGE VI

With all the pageantry of the middle ages King George VI was crowned by the Archbishop of Canterbury while gaping multitudes admired the splendor of the show. Among the spectators was Maxim Litvinoff whose government was called by the late King George V "the bloody butchers of my cousin", the Czar, Maxim at one time warmed a seat in a jail cell in England for peddling without a license, a far cry from his present occupation. In Ireland the British flag was burned, for the Irish resent his claim to be their King, and are quite vocal on the subject. Anyway, George VI is king as long as the British people want a king, and they seem to prefer it longer than any other first rate European people.

Upper Crust Enjoys 'Class Day'

Activities Include Breakfast, Assembly, Unveiling of Gift and Dinner As Program of Events

For the first time in several years, the Senior class will hold its "Class Day" next Tuesday, May 18, under the direction of Dorothy Taylor. Mortar boards will be worn by all graduating members on this day.

A breakfast will be given at seven a.m. in the College cafeteria. Bill Hoyt urges all seniors to be present. Tickets will not be sold, but those attending must pay at the breakfast.

Senior Queen

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained from Bill Hoyt, Allen Neil, Jean Goss, Wilma Kiesner, John Ingram and Bob Moore.

The name of the senior woman who has been chosen to reign as queen of the Junior-Senior Prom will be announced at the assembly beginning Senior Class Day activities next Tuesday, May 18.

The entire student body is invited to attend the meeting in the auditorium second hour. The program will feature a 14-piece orchestra, with its special arrangement of "Stardust", and numbers by the Senior glee club chorus.

Following the program, all students are asked to gather on the gym lawn for the unveiling of the Senior class gift.

"A Night in Harlem" will be the keynote of the dinner dance in the college cafeteria Tuesday night. Olive DeMotte will supervise arrangements for the banquet. Dorothy Taylor will act as manager of the day with Melvin English as master-of-ceremonies for the assembly. Kaye Grow will act as chairman of the gift committee.

Concert Ends Glee Club Season

Over Fifty Students Take Part in Program Given in Auditorium

Climaxing its season, more than 50 members of the Men's and Women's Glee clubs presented a concert last night in the college auditorium, before a large audience of students and townspeople.

This is the first time for several years that the clubs have given a concert at home. Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, head of the music department, together with Mr. J. W. McAllister, director of the Men's glee club, directed the presentation.

The program opened with three numbers by the Women's Glee club, including "With Revels and Wassails", Woodman, "Ashes of Roses", Gaul, and "Sweet and Low" by Hawley.

Students Take Part

Students appearing on the program included Leonard Scofield, who sang two selections; Scharleen Horner in a piano solo; Frances Smith, who was featured in two piano solos; and Frances Jane Miller and Mrs. Anita Priest in a two piano group.

"Water Girls", an interpretive dance directed by Miss Elizabeth Sehon, was given by Irene Baptiste, Virginia Hutchison and Hanna Pelch.

An arrangement of the "Italian Street Song" from Naughty Marietta, with Mrs. Barnett and the combined glee clubs closed the program.

Education Frat Holds Debate

A debate on "The Three Most Outstanding Schools of Psychology," by the six pledges of Kappa Delta Pi took place Wednesday evening, May 12, at the home of Dr. Charles Jacobs, 1841 Loma street, sponsor of the educational fraternity.

The pledges who took part in the meeting were Kay Riley, Bernice Bolte, Jane White, Jane Goslin, Phyllis La Source, and Peggy Flynn. Phebe Steer, president, conducted the meeting.

Three Pledges Read Papers Before Fraternity

Three pledges read their entrance papers to Alpha Phi Gamma, journalistic fraternity, Wednesday evening, May 12, at the home of Carolyn Hofer, 2034 Hollister Avenue. Those pledges were Jack Kitchen, Norman Phillips, and Betty Wishard. Jack Salyer, the fourth pledge will read his at the next meeting.

A nominating committee composed of Bob Paden, Irene Minikin and Bill Hoyt was appointed to select nominees for officers for next semester. Jack Kitchen announced the pledge party which will be given next Wednesday in Club Chico at the Fox-Arlington theatre.

Members who attended were Dorothy Hornor, Yale Lorden, Mary Hughes, Allan Neil, Lawrence Leslie, Irene Minikin, Leona Rasmussen, Bob Paden, Bill Hoyt, president and the hostess.

State Sails for Santa Cruz Island Trip Interests Collegians

Just two weeks from today a group of State students will embark on a week-end jaunt to Santa Cruz island, bent for three days of concentrated fun, adventure, and good times.

Each year the entire campus looks forward to this spring event and students lay aside money to make the trip. This year is no exception, as many Gauchos members have asked for information concerning the trip. Definite information will probably be available to the students early next week.

Doubt was evinced several weeks ago when the island was purchased from the original owner that it would be possible to have the trip, but a letter was received from Mr. E. Stanton, the new owner, inviting Santa Barbara State students to be his guests at the island.

The cost of the trip has averaged five dollars in the past, but no definite price has been set yet. Wilma Kiesner and Dave Pollock are in charge of the trip, aided by Ted Rohlfsen. More information will probably come from them.

A Fine Situation

The flagrant violation of student parking regulations by the students themselves, shows the highest type of non-cooperation. Why is it that this evil runs rampant on the campus?

On a list submitted by the Welfare committee there are 48 names, several of these are prominent members of the student governing body, while others are outstanding campus personages. This list also states that many of the students have had as many as five tickets issued to them.

It is this writers opinion that the Welfare committee is not asking too much of the students to allow the faculty to park in their designated places and to obey the few parking regulations that have been set up. On other campi the students are not even allowed to park on the grounds, but must leave their cars outside the college boundaries.

The Welfare committee is not assuming a dictatorship in this matter, as it is merely an attempt to prevent conditions that might exist on this campus if students were allowed to park wherever they saw fit. This cannot be accomplished without the aid and cooperation of all students driving cars to school.

This appeal from the chairman of the Welfare committee, Bill Murphy, is not to be taken light-heartedly. The issuance of tickets to a parking violator is not done in an unfriendly manner, and should not be assumed as such.

The situation today, in the students attitude, is not as bad as it might be. If these regulations are continually violated the congested conditions now existing will continue to grow until all but faculty cars are banned from the campus.

The students are reminded of the lot on the north-east end of the campus which is to be used for parking space. This lot is not far from student activity to be inconvenient and yet is far enough away to eliminate the noise of the cars which is anathema to the professors in the college.

With all the cooperation that the students have given in other activities it seems too bad that a little cooperation cannot be given in this vital matter.—H.L.

One Jump Ahead

New traditions and ideas are always helpful and welcome on the campus to build up our prestige and importance. Despite all the numerous events and organization affairs taking place this semester one group has consistently kept itself before the public eye with its many activities.

This group is the senior class, which this year has surpassed itself in excellent organization and usefulness. Under the leadership of Bill Hoyt, class president, the seniors have perpetrated a new tradition which is destined to become an annual event on the hill-top campus.

Next Tuesday has been set aside to be called "Senior Day." Then the June graduates will hold a breakfast meeting, prepare and stage an assembly for the entire student body, and will wear caps and gowns throughout the entire day.

Also on the program of activities will be the unveiling of the class gift. The nature of the intended presentation to the school has been kept a surprise, as is the custom. In the evening a dinner and gala celebration will conclude the day's activities.

The senior class has been unusually precocious this year. It has held several breakfast meetings and the entire body has been most active individually as well as collectively.

Such a group is to be commended and congratulated for its superior school and class spirit and for the excellent example it will be to succeeding classes.

GNAT'S GNASTY GNASHING

In opening my column this week, I should like to express my displeasure at Gnutty Gnat's disparaging remarks about the little play in which I recently appeared. This Hawaiian drama was a great success to the lei mind. And artistic? Gnat should have seen Ebe Vincent's dance in a cellophane hula skirt.

JOBS, SENIORS, JOB

According to a survey by the Northwestern National Life Insurance company, sore necks of college graduates looking around the corner for prosperity are now a thing of the past. The principal industries of the country—automobile, construction, electric, general manufacturing, life insurance, packing, merchandising, etc.—will, according to the survey, absorb much more than the upper third of the 1937 seniors. All major industries and 76 university campuses were consulted in making this optimistic report.

CATCHUM FIREWATER?

"You can lead an Indian to drink, but you can't take him fishing afterwards," at least not at Celilo Falls, Oregon. Warm Springs, Umatilla, and Yakima Indian officials announced recently that protective measures are required for the tribesmen who come to the Falls to fish. Last year so many of them were drowned in the Columbia River after becoming thoroughly swacked and then coming to the river with their rods and reels that stringent resolutions were made this year and no more fishing will be done by tipsy Indians.

Book Chatter

Lowell Thomas' fame and popularity has never been so great. Radio, movies, newspaper syndicates all make him a glamorous figure to millions of people.

He brings to us the story of Tex O'Reilly, probably the most famous soldier of fortune alive—surely the most war-loving and most Irish. The name of the book—"Born to Raise Hell: The Life Story of Tex O'Reilly, Soldier of Fortune."

Some years ago Doubleday, Doran and Co. Inc. issued with marked success a two-volume set bringing together ALL the Sherlock Holmes stories, short and long. With the continuing demand for a less expensive, more compact edition, the entire contents of the set have been reset on a large clear page to make ONE handsome, easily handled volume. The famous introduction by Christopher Morley has been retained, and the text has been retained intact. The completed volume "The Complete Sherlock Holmes" by A. Conan Doyle will be one of the outstanding book bargains ever seen. The 2-volume edition goes out of print after one edition, so I understand.

So that German universities will have a better chance to inculcate the Nazi spirit and attract students away from the fraternity or "corporation" way of living, the German government has banned wandering from one institution to another. Whether it is true or not is mere guesswork. But the English newspapers printed the same story, and consequently Mussolini has banned all but three English newspapers in Italy and recalled Italian correspondents from England, all of which hurts England not at all.

ROOSEVELT REVERSE

The House revolted against Roosevelt's CCC bill by a vote of 385 to 7, the most thumping defeat the Squire of Hyde Park has received in his whole presidential career. Instead of voting the CCC as a permanent organization, they merely voted to extend its existence two more years. However, the story is not ended, for in the Senate Roosevelt hopes its original features will be restored.

BLUM AND PEASANTS

For the first time since the bloody French Revolution, in which noble nobbs dropped rhythmically into the basket, the peasant have joined hands with the radicals. That is the why of Leon Blum. After the first Revolution, it will be remembered that the clod-hoppers got their fists on the land and have held on ever since. They were suspicious and indifferent to the city workers and always voted conservatively. But the banks have mortgages on most of the farms, and the sons of the soil are scared and vote with the socialists.

Gridiron Men Return for Practice

Harder Pleased As Many New Stars Bolster Gaucho Hopes

Spring football practice, under the direction of Coaches Harder, Wilton, and Kelliher, gives promise for a good year for the Gaucho varsity, despite the fact that several outstanding performers were lost from last year's roster.

When Coach Harder surveyed the material on hand he found that nine members of last year's first string were returning. Roll call shows at least two good men for each position. At present the backfield appears to be stronger than the line, but a flock of new transfers will probably remedy the situation.

Monson in Backfield

Last year's fullback, Fred Monson will undoubtedly get all of the competition he wants from Buck Bailey, freshman full. In the backfield to aid Yeager and Morelli are Jack Smith, Johnson and Powell, also last year veterans. Bill McArthur and Bill Jes-sup, a couple of Doc Kelliher's boys will give them competition, however.

Dave Pollock, Jim Monson, and Barney Swanson are returning for the position of signal caller but they will be pushed to the utmost by Peirino Merlo, a veteran of high school and frosh football. Donk Hart and his understudy of last year Jack Joseph at center will be re-enforced by Al Sprague, promising new transfer.

Oldershaw on Guard

Captain Doug Oldershaw and Perfie Riparetti are returning guards. George Valos and Norm Davis will fill in the gap left by the graduation of Gardner and Hale.

SPORTS SHORTS

By JACK KITCHEN

Time Marches On! and be-gory the parade of sports has definitely marched into one of those well-known lulls as far as the Gaucho campus is concerned; so—at this stage of the game the sports writers rack their brain to think of interesting news to write and about all we accomplish is "sittin' and thinkin'." If the copy isn't in by deadline time, a pesky fellow by the name of Porter comes running over and hollers, "what about your deadlines?" then the editor flies into a rage, dishing out threats of various varieties—but do we worry, naw cause we know what we are capable of in case of a crises—so we go off and sit and think some more.

While thinking the old mind wanders back to the past season of sports. As far as basketball is concerned the Gauchos had the best season they ever had in the history of the school though they only won two league games; in track there were a few outstanding men but that was about as far as it went; in baseball it was only the tough breaks in the last series that kept the Big Green from capturing the title; and in football we all remember the results so we look forward to the day of reckoning mainly the day of November 19 when Coach Harder will send his charges out to lasso those mighty lucky lads under the tutelege of Coach Calland

Women's Archery Set for Week May 13-20

The eighth annual Women's Inter-Collegiate Telegraphic Archery Tournament sponsored by the National Archery association will be held between the period of May 13 and May 20. Santa Barbara State college will enter one team of eight members.

The rules of this year's contest permit a competitor to shoot several complete rounds during the prescribed period and then report as the official round the highest be shot as the official play.

All-Conference Horsehidors Selected

Season End Finds Scribes Selecting Choice for Perfect Squad

Again at the conclusion of the present diamond season, your scribe, in an attempt to scoop the correspondents, dragged out all available statistics to select the men who in the estimation of the writer performed in a manner deserving of mention.

At the conclusion of any bonafide season of sport the statisticians drag out the results of hits, runs, and any other point worth a debate, so the Gauchos get the preference in naming the official, well maybe not so official, all-conference baseball team for the 1937 season

All-Conference Squad

- 1b—"Shires" Erhard, (SB).
- 2b—Ford, (SD).
- 3b—Evans, (SB).
- ss—Farrell, (LV).
- lf—Busby, (SB).
- cf—Murray, (SB).
- rf—Hastings, (SD).
- c—Galindo, (SD).
- p—Putman, (R).
- p—Lyons, (O).

A short analysis on the selections and the reasons for placing several players are as follows.

Selects Erhard

First base, selection of Lloyd Erhard of the local nine is due to the fact that not only was he the most consistent player but he also pitched the local team to victory more than once. He is the writer's choice for the second year in a row. He will be back next year for his senior term.

Second base, Ford of San Diego. This lad was a steady infielder and his accurate throwing saved the day for the title holders more than once.

Third base, Elmo Evans, the outstanding player of the entire conference. His fielding was sensational at all times and his hitting ranked him only second to Busby in the entire conference. This junior diamond ace is definitely professional material, as many diamond devotees will ascertain.

Short stop, Farrell of La Verne college deserves mention as the outstanding diamond performer in this department, and also the La Verne squad's reliable leader.

Left field, Clair "Buzz" Busby, Gaucho garden guarder led his teammates in hitting and also the league in home runs; Busby is headed for bigger and better things in the horsehiding game. He performed as a sophomore this year and with two more years of experience he will be ready to step into a professional job.

Center field, Bobby Murray, local choice in this spot. Murray made the official all-conference last year as second baseman and his work this year makes him a worthy candidate again for the coaches' team.

Right field, Hastings the Aztec

Hastings a Hitter
Right field, Hastings, the Aztec lead-off hitter was a steady fielder and his stick work was sensational in the Gaucho series alone; he hit safely eight times in 14 attempts.

Peagreeners Upset Dons

Davis Holds Vaqueros to Three Hits

Getting vengeance for their two previous defeats, the Gauchito Frosh baseballers, Tuesday afternoon, turned the local high school diamond squad back 10-2 behind the three hit chucking of Norman "Red" Davis.

Eddie Ferrante, Frosh first-sacker, proved to be the hitting spark of the State team, when he hit safely three times out of five appearances at bat. Valentino of the Don's hit out a double for the day's longest hit.

Bassett, Bailey, Roth, Burt and both Gordon and Norm Davis got hits for the Frosh.

Jimme Van Meter, Varsity short-stop, acted as Frosh coach in the absence of Wilton Wilton, regular baseball mentor.
