Gauchos Named In Who's Who

Seven Gauchos will be included in this year's edition of "Who's Who" among students in American universities and colleges, according to information received by Dean Helen Sweet last week. This distinction has been conferred upon Georgia Kaufman, president of the elementary department; Phyllis De Pew, chairman of the activities control board; Dorothy Kenniston, assembly chairman; Odie Myers, finance committee chairman; Dorothy Sands, AWS president; Beatrice Terres, secretary of the student body; and Edith Van Meter, social chairman. Juniors or seniors were nominated on the basis of their academic accomplishment, leadership in campus activities, and general character by a committee composed of four faculty members and three outstanding students on campus, and elected by secret ballot. Observing its tenth anniversary, "Who's Who" recommends outstanding students to the business world, and its central offices for compiling and printing "Who's Who" are the University of Alabama, with H. Pettus Randall as editor.

Marines To Give Christmas Dance

Due to obvious conditions, a third Marine Base dance will replace the traditional Christmas formal, it was announced this week by Edie Van Meter, social chairman. In keeping with the formal theme, dress for state college women will be in order. One hundred and fifty women have been invited to attend, and those wishing to go are urged to sign the list in the Dean's office at once.

The procedure of the two preceding dances will be followed, with the transportation and facilities being furnished by the base, and refreshments for the dance given by the associated student body.

Busses will leave the campus at 7:15, and will arrive at the base at 8:00. Sponsors for the dance include Dean and Mrs. C. D. Woodhouse, Phethe Steer and Doris Wiegdan.

SweetBecomes Women's Dean

"No one can fill Dean Bennink's shoes, but I anticipate enjoyment of contacts with all students," asserted Dr. Helen Sweet, who has been appointed acting dean of women at Santa Barbara State college to succeed Dean Lois Bennink. Dr. Sweet, a member of the faculty for the last ten years, has been assistant dean since the first of the year. On her return from the East, Mrs. Jane Christopher Wentz resumed her duties as assistant to the dean. According to President Phelps, Dr. Sweet will continue in the science department, where she is a teacher of physiology, public health, and hygiene.

A graduate of Pomona College with an M.A. and a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, Dr. Sweet has long been active in student affairs, in the past in charge of the Roadrunner Revue and of Homecoming week, and now sponsor of Delta Chi social sorority. She had served as a sponsor of the class of 1938 for four years. Her family home is in Long Beach.

Bond Raffle Slated For Service Fund

In commemoration of the second anniversary of Pearl Harbor, a campaign has been initiated by the war bond committee, headed by Marjorie Walsh, chairman, to raise funds for scholarships for returning service men by raffling a $25.00 defense bond. A drive, during which tickets will be sold for one twenty-five cent defense stamp, is scheduled for December first through the tenth, climax by the bond drawing on December tenth. Those selling tickets are the shoe shining stand, in the quad. This year, Greek organizations are asked to take charge of the sale of tickets in the quad for an hour on one day during the drive, with special money raising stunts during the hour suggested.

Sweet Becomes Women's Dean

In conclusion of the second anniversary of Pearl Harbor, a campaign has been initiated by the war bond committee, headed by Marjorie Walsh, chairman, to raise funds for scholarships for returning service men by raffling a $25.00 defense bond. A drive, during which tickets will be sold for one twenty-five cent defense stamp, is scheduled for December first through the tenth, climax by the bond drawing on December tenth. On each day of the drive, there will be a table in the quad, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth hours, and noon for the sale of tickets.

Last year, during the "Salute the Jap" campaign, the organizations raised money to buy defense stamps by having special stunts, such as the shoe shining stand, in the quad. This year, Greek organizations are asked to take charge of the sale of tickets in the quad for an hour on one day during the drive, with special money raising stunts during the hour suggested.

Handbooks on Sale

Sale of student handbooks will begin Monday, with members of Las Espuelas in charge, according to Ruth Solomon, chairman of the handbook committee. Handbooks contain data on students and faculty, including addresses and phone numbers.
EDITORIAL

The Hydra-headed monster of bigotry is again on the rampage. This time it's "keep the Japs out, not for the duration, ... are committing acts of brutal savagery in other parts of the world. Of course, some Germans recently murdered 10,000 Polish officers who were their prisoners, but no one desires to appropriate the property of German-Americans. The brutality of our Japanese and German enemies was produced by the militaristic spirit of their countries; the only brutality in our democratic country is that of bigoted, vicious hate-mongers. American citizens of Japanese descent are dying for their country, too, and the unostentatious patriotism of the majority of them is preferable to that of the rah-rah God Bless America native fascism of some of their attackers. In fact, it is a wonder that Japanese-Americans aren't more critical of this country, considering the social prejudice and hostile legislation.

But as the good citizens of Santa Maria really warm to their point, we find that the preceding have been only incidental considerations. First, former county supervisor C. L. Prentser says of the Japanese encroachment in land ownership, 'They were bad for the valley because they 'mined' the soil, put nothing back into it, and when it was worn out went away and left it. They did business in such a way as to evade taxes, and by working their families, sub-standard living, and trading among themselves were a serious threat to white farmers.'

In actuality, the Japanese came here, poor, when labor was scarce, because the ranchers wanted them, welcomed a new source of cheap labor. They worked hard, at sub-standard wages and conditions, yes, bought in the names of their children, since the Alien Land Law prevented any more direct ownership, usually the poorer land of the state, since a few greedy Americans had long since cornered the best. Diligently they toiled, so that their small farms produced 350% higher than the average under cultivation in California. They farmed their land lovingly, emphasizing efficiency and conservation. If they evaded taxes, corporations would like to know of it, since hitherto only corporations have been able to elude successfully the tax laws of the United States. If they can't be assimilated, we have only ourselves to blame.

The whole affair reduces to war hatred fanned by economic interests. It is well known to any reader of Carey McWilliams that the California Associated Farmers, a curious alliance of the big ranchers and the railroad interests, fear any industrial group that can evade their stranglehold on the agriculture of California. And the small farmer hates that a patronized minority should be more sober, diligent, and thence more productive, than he; he would welcome this sweet plum which he knows that his country cannot be deprived of their constitutional rights without stooping to practices inconsistent with democracy.
