

AWARDS ASSEMBLY TUESDAY

The Awards Assembly is being held Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Auditorium. At this time a large variety of recognitions, awards, trophies and keys will be presented to the outstanding students during the past year.

The honor awards will include the AMS and AWS awards, the honor copy of La Cumbre, and 10 to 15 honor keys being awarded for the first time this year to graduating seniors with an outstanding record of activities during their college career.

The program will include the presentation of athletic awards for the year, Speech and Music awards, the La Cumbre dedication, Alpha Phi Gamma, Kappa Omcron Phi, Crown and Scepter, and AAUW awards. Newly elected council members will also be introduced at this time.

The assembly is being presented at night this year because of the crowded calendar and also to give the Mesa campus students an opportunity to attend the event. The award program will be varied, with entertainment being planned under the direction of Diana Evasovic, Assembly Committee chairman.

The entire event is being planned by the Awards Committee, with Barbara Pearce chairman. Other members of the committee are Marie Allen, Bob Christofferson, Miss Ellen Bowers and Dean Wilbur Jacobs.

Sigma Pi Wins Spring Sing; UCLA Group Draws Applause

Sigma Pi fraternity was awarded the first place trophy at the third annual spring sing, "Gaiety in Song," Friday night in the Quad. Solos by Vince DiFiore and Desmaond Kincaid highlighted their performance.

Delta Sigma Epsilon won second place, and Chi Omega was third. Sigma Phi Epsilon, presenting "Original Swiss Yodeling" won the specialty class. Trophies were presented to each of the winning groups.

Other choruses competing were those of Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Tau Gamma, Alpha Phi, Alpha Delta Pi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Gamma, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Sigma Kappa. Specialties were presented by Pi Phi and Sigma Pi.

A guest musical group from the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity at UCLA appeared singing "Looking for Henry Lee." Other music was provided by Skip Wilson and his combo and Rusty Buchanan. Wayne Kluth was general chairman of the event. Frank Walker served as master of ceremonies.

Fall Schedule Available

The "Schedule of Classes and Directory" for the Fall Semester, 1952, is now on sale at the College Bookstore. Students who plan to return for the Fall semester may contact advisers in order to plan their programs; such planning will facilitate registration during registration week. The period set aside for such counseling is May 21 through June 3.

Yell, Song Leader Tryouts Scheduled

Sign-ups for the positions of head yell leader and song leaders are now being taken in the Associated Student Body office. Sign-ups will close on Friday at 4 p.m. On Monday at 4, in Ridge Hall 101, there will be a required meeting of all candidates.

Head yell leader candidates must try out individually and not as a team. Song leaders may try out as a team if they desire but they must have a representative head song leader decided among them. Organizations on campus are urged to support or to sponsor a candidate or candidates for these positions.

This year the tryouts will be held according to the recently revised constitution. They will be selected by a group of people designated by the constitution.

The Rally Committee is offering classes in yell leading and song leading to any interested candidates. Candidates will be presented to the student body and judged at an assembly to be held in the Quad on June 3. Further information will be presented to candidates at the Monday meeting. All aspirants are required to attend this meeting.

Rolin W. Quimby to Speak on Television

Mr. Rollin W. Quimby of the Speech Department will be the lecturer this afternoon in the All-College Lecture Series sponsored by the Committee on Drama, Lectures and Music. The subject of the lecture will be "Must Television Inherit Radio's Weakness?" Mr. Quimby's interest in the field of radio took shape a number of years ago when he gave consideration to entering into the commercial work.

In his lecture, to be given in P.M. 100 at 4 o'clock, Mr. Quimby will start with background material of radio broadcasting in narrative form, bringing it up to why radio is as it is, and programs are as they are, then transferring over from radio to television. He will show what forces are at work now shaping television in the pattern it might follow.

It is Mr. Quimby's thought that if television is not to go the way of radio, the policies which will

Christofferson, New Prexy Attend Meet

Associated Students President Bob Christofferson and the incoming president, who will be determined by late this afternoon, will leave tonight for the 27th Annual Convention of the Pacific Student Presidents' Association in Seattle.

At the convention, hosted by the University of Washington, Christofferson will chair the discussion group which will deal with "Stimulating Interest in Student Activities," and will serve on the executive committee of the Association. Other discussion groups include finance, leadership training programs, student union administration, and other subjects related to student government.

The purpose of the association and of the convention is to stimulate friendly relations among the member colleges and universities and to provide a "training school" for the incoming presidents, with a staff of outgoing presidents conducting the training sessions and discussion groups. In addition to the seminars, informal exchanges of information and techniques will be held, current problems in student government will be discussed, and keynote addresses by prominent educators will round out the three-day program.

The association, of which Santa Barbara College has been a member for many years, is composed of 116 colleges and universities in California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Hawaii, British Columbia and the Republic of Mexico. Approximately 200 presidents are expected to attend. Jim Davis, Associated Students president of UCLA, is president of PSPA for 1951-52.

government television should be established now rather than after television has grown into the force it is likely to grow into, the idea being to discipline and correct "Topsy" before "Topsy just grows."

Mr. Quimby mentioned that the House of Representatives has started the wheels rolling to investigate radio and television productions for the purpose of setting up standards and policies for television. Mr. Quimby will deal with the question of why it is not necessary that television become the slave of radio.

Today is the last day for voting for the major elective Associated Students and class officers. The polls on the Mesa and Riviera Quad and Men's Gym Lawn will remain open today until 4 p.m. for the participation by all members of the Associated Students. Fr. Maynard to Give Baccalaureate

Fr. Maynard Geiger OFM, historian and archivist at the Old Mission, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at Santa Barbara College of the University of California, it was announced by Dr. J. Harold Williams, Provost.

The gassalaureate service will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday, June 15, in the Riviera Auditorium. Provost Williams will preside at the ceremonies and the Scripture reading will be by Adran Adams, president of the Senior class. Special musical numbers will also be provided. The public is invited to this service, when graduating seniors and the faculty will wear academic robes.

Fr. Maynard has distinguished himself in the field of research, as well as theological service, and was recently announced as the recipient of a Guggenheim award to enable him to continue special studies on the life of Padre Junipero Serra.

Commencement exercises at Santa Barbara College will be held at 4 p.m., Saturday, June 21, in the Quadrangle.

Regulations Given Covering 'E' Grades

Students and faculty are reminded by the Dean of Men and Dean of Women and the Registrar's Office of the regulations with reference to an "Incomplete Grade" or "E."

1. Only when circumstances beyond a student's control, e.g., illness, an emergency, occur within the last three weeks, May 29-June 19, 1952, may an Incomplete be given.

2. A petition to verify such circumstances must be initiated in the Office of the Dean of Women or Men during this period, by the student directly.

3. A student receiving an "E" must complete the work within six weeks after he has returned to college, unless there is authorization for an extension.

4. This timing does not apply to summer session; the college is not under obligation to offer special facilities for removing Grade E during summer session.

5. For every course in which a special examination is taken to re-

Following the counting of ballots, which begins this afternoon at 4 p.m., results will be announced at the movie in Pine Hall 100. The real race will begin for those offices in which there are more than two candidates on Friday, May 23, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Many students fail to realize the importance of the Run-Offs, but the votes during this day actually determine the final results which may not come out as anticipated.

'Taming of the Shrew' Opens On May 22 for 3-Night Run

Shakespeare's comedy, "Taming of the Shrew," opens at Santa Barbara College Thursday night for a three-performance run under what the immortal bard would consider "ideal" conditions.

A carefully picked cast will present the classic farce from the steps of the Riviera Campus quadrangle under the open sky. Every effort has been made to recreate the atmosphere of Elizabethan England when plays were presented in open courtyards and roofless theaters.

Moreover, a wind orchestra similar to those used by 16th Century dramatists, will support the production. In addition to incidental dance and accompaniment music composed by Carl Zytowski, UCSBC faculty member, two old English folk songs will be used in the play.

Tickets to all performances can be reserved by calling 3116, the Graduate Manager's Office at the College.

Zytowski, who earned his M.A. degree by translating Verdi's opera, "Macbeth" into English, also will appear in a leading role as Petruchio.

Opposite Petruchio, Shakespeare's ingenious wife tamer, will be Wesley Marie Tackitt as the shrewish Kate. They will be supported by a cast of 30, including a host of new faces.

A special performance of the play for the students of Santa Barbara schools is scheduled for Wednesday evening. First public showing will be Thursday.

Zytowski has had an interesting career in music and drama. In his "Macbeth" project he wrote the orchestration, directed the opera and sang the role of Macduff. In the theater he appeared in a London performance of "Prunella," "Spring Again" and the recent UCSBC production of "Tonight at 8:30."

Other musical ventures were lead roles in American premiers of two operas which later appeared on the Broadway stage. They were "Let's Make An Opera" and "The Rape of Lucretia." He also played the part of the Devil in Benet's opera, "The Devil and Daniel Webster."

Directing the college production is Dr. Stanley Hamilton, of the speech department faculty. It will be his last production here since he leaves in June to head the drama department at Montana State University.

A False Implication . . .

TIME magazine is extremely adept in the use of the barbed innuendo, the biased observation and the erroneous implication. This talent becomes glaringly apparent when Mr. Luce's little package of vitriol concerns itself with politics.

TIME's clever use of the implication is present in a book called "They Went to College." The book, edited by a TIME staffer, purports to give an accurate picture of the college graduate. It presents the results of a nation-wide survey of graduates from 1884 to 1947, giving information about their economic status, their love life and their politics—among other things.

The particular item which the survey brings out, and which the author twists to his own advantage, is that most college graduates vote as their fathers did, and, where they vote differently, the shift has usually been from Democrat to Republican.

This information, advanced by a magazine notorious for its unobjective reporting and reactionary tendencies, would ordinarily be immediately suspect. But it is probable that the results of the survey are accurate and it is only TIME's subtle inference that must be questioned.

The implication is clearly that education, higher intelligence and political enlightenment tend to bring about an acceptance of the ideals of the Republican party.

That is hardly reasonable.

It is more likely, since the subjects of the survey were mostly graduates who had been out of college for from one to 50 years, that the majority of them were in comfortable financial circumstances.

And it is probable that the increase in economic stability produced a conservatism, a concern with the maintenance of the status quo which is consistent with Republican political philosophy.

The Republican party is the champion of entrenched wealth and of the conservative middle class. It spends most of its energies defending the myth of American free enterprise.

Small wonder, then, that the professional men, the business men—the semi-contented mass of paunchy respectability, are drawn to the Republican party.

It is, of course, not surprising that, according to the survey, most college graduates vote as their fathers did. Political opinion, unfortunately, is based primarily upon emotion and training rather than upon free thought. The majority of Republicans and Democrats are such because of tradition—a tradition that arises from constant prejudice and early associations.

The most obvious case of this situation is in the South, where generations have continued to vote Democratic when the political philosophy is more akin to the more conservative Republican party.

One question which TIME left out of the survey which might have been revealing would have required the help of a psychologist—Do you vote the way you do because of 1) economic necessity, 2) tradition or 3) sincere conviction?

It is probable that the voters included in the third category would be extremely small in numbers.

At any rate, TIME's implication that an introduction to higher learning produces a marriage with the Republican party is obviously erroneous.

RAZIN' KANE

Today I want to take this opportunity to talk about music. During the last vacation I got a chance to listen at length to the radio; and now that my stomach is no longer upset, and I'm regaining my health, I'll tell you about it.

I must confess that I had not been aware of the new trend in popular music. It seems that we are leaving behind the silly songs like Stardust and Deep Purple. We are exploring new fields.

Lyrics especially have undergone great changes. The clever words that are now being put to music "send" me. Take this example: "I wanna love you. I wanna love you. I wanna love you. I wanna love you."

"I don't know the title of the song, but I think it's I Wanna Love You. Isn't it great? But to continue—"I wanna love you. I wanna love you."

Now watch this; this is really clever!

"I want love, love, love, love, love you."

And with that I curled up on the floor with agony.

Penning's From Peningers

Hi Girls:

Well, this has really been "flunk out of school weather," hasn't it. I don't know whether it's good or not. Sure is fun though!

The other day I discovered a real cute pair of pedal pushers for only $2.98 in the store. I was amazed and as I looked through some more, I found lots of other choices at a very good price. I decided to invest in a tee-shirt to match my new discovery and it was difficult to make up my mind because all those Jantzens are so cute. Finally I chose a pretty striped one for $2.98 also. For comfort you can hardly beat pedal pushers and tee-shirts!

The cotton dress supply is increasing and they seem to get prettier each week. To make those dresses even prettier I discovered some lovely stoles. There are white ones and colored ones — very smart! Another suggestion for a warm evening is a short white pique jacket. These are only $5.95. Quite a bargain! And of course jewelry can do remarkable things for a summer dress and a tan. Down at Peningers you will find practically anything you desire in white jewelry. There are many types of earrings, bracelets and necklaces. And most of them are only $1.00.

Come on down and view these things for yourself!

See you later.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 41...THE MAGPIE

He's a chatterbox himself — outclassed by no one! But the fancy double-talk of cigarette tests was too fast for him! He knew — before the garbled gobbledygook started — a true test of cigarette mildness is steady smoking. Millions of smokers agree — there's a thorough test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test...the 30-day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

SANTA BARBARA

SBC Military Backgrounds Equivalent to That at West Point, Barbano, Ward Say

There is little basis for comparison between Santa Barbara College and West Point, according to Ralph Barbano and Chester Ward, who recently returned from a trip to the world-famous military academy on the banks of the Hudson.

West Point, according to the two local ROTC students, is designed to produce future military leaders; Santa Barbara is a liberal arts college.

"But we get a military background equivalent to that at the Academy," Barbano pointed out.

"We get just as much tactical training in ROTC courses as the cadets do."

Both students were impressed with the emphasis placed on intramural sports at West Point.

Ward explained that every cadet is required to take part in either intramural sports or in a varsity sport.

Barbano, a senior at Santa Barbara, was put through the routine with the fourth-year cadets, while Ward, a sophomore, spent his time as a second classman. Both agreed that the discipline at West Point is much less rigid and less unreasonable than most people believe.

The cadets administer their own honor code and maintain a high standard of ethics and honesty without the imposition of a superior authority.

Barbano, who was an infantry soldier in Europe during World War II, believes that he had more personal freedom as an enlisted man than the cadets have. He pointed out, however, that this is largely because the cadets' time is utilized to the maximum, leaving them little time for anything but study and drill.

Ward explained that the cadets do manage to get in some recreation on Saturday and Sunday. There is a dance every Saturday night.

A novel arrangement between the cadets and their dates exists. The girls arrive at the "Point" in their own cars, pay their own bills and generally take a more aggressive part in the relationship.

Although they were impressed with the West Point educational setup and both plan to make careers of the Army, Barbano and Ward expressed a preference for the more academic background available at Santa Barbara College.

Ward and Barbano were selected for the trip by a special board of the local ROTC unit. They presented a comprehensive report of their four-day visit at the Academy to the Military Science department and brought back many interesting and illuminating impressions for their fellow ROTC students.

ROTC Squads Given Awards at Formal General Inspection

Squads which receive top ranking in drill in each company of the Santa Barbara College ROTC unit were given special awards at the annual formal and general inspection conducted by an inspection team from the Department of the Army.

The inspection team, which reviewed the ROTC unit at a ceremony held Thursday, was headed by Lt. Col. H. H. Robertson and included Maj. Roger S. Rees, Inf., and Capt. Alfeo L. Bernardi, Inf., from Headquarters, Southern California Sub-District, Fort MacArthur. Their itinerary included a conference with Lt. Col. Richard W. Mabey, commandant of the local unit, inspection of basic and advanced course classes, a meeting with Provost J. Harold Williams and inspection of facilities and equipment at the Riviera and Goleta Campuses.

The ROTC Cadet Battalion was led by Cadet Lt. Col. Arthur Hendricks in the formal review for the inspecting officers on the Mesa Campus. Relatives and friends of the Cadets were present to witness the review and the presentation of awards.

During the ceremony representatives from civic clubs presented cadet awards to Sgt. 1/c David Cole, squad leader; Cpl. Clyde Erickson, Pfc. Max Jamiesson, Vernell Canfield and Allen Asakura, winners in the "A" Company competition.

Taking first place in Company "B" were Sgt. 1/c William Faris, squad leader; Cpl. Harvey Robins, and Pfc. Joseph Kohler, Richard Bollinger, Howard Yokoyama and Harold Compton, Larry Yarbrough, Commander of Post No. 3, Amvets, presented these awards sponsored by his post.

The winning squad of Company "C" received awards from the Kiwanis Suburban Club of Santa Barbara. Dr. J. Harold Williams, Provost, made the presentation for this club. Members of the winning squad were Sgt. 1/c Melvin Cokley, squad leader; Cpl. Robert Wayland, Pfc. James Sikking, Cpl. Gary Morris, and Pfc. Harold Mooney and Nephtali Solis.

Up On The Hill..

By JOE COSTANTINO

UP ON THE HILL . . . I am pleased to report that there are indications that the American public is starting to use its head as well as its ears while listening to popular music. For the first time since "I've Got My Love to Keep Me Warm," we have an instrumental on the Hit Parade. "Blue Tango" has been up there several weeks, and now "The Brave Bulls" and "Delicado" are pushing Tango for the top spot.

All of you students who have missed hearing the sounds of good dance bands can take heart, for it seems that the average American is returning to his like of dance rhythms, and is going to cause an end to this ballad-happy stage we've been going through. We hope he has heard enough of Wild Geese crying and Swamp Girls moaning, of Riders pounding across the heavens, and is about to end our saga of singers who cry, tear their hair, moan about list loves, spin roulette wheels and float blythely along on Pink Clouds.

Billy May, Ray Anthony, George Siravo, Ralph Martierre and Les Brown are in the race to become top dance band. Brown especially has taken the best attributes of progressive music and made them palatable to the general public through skillful arranging.

Even the bands with the old Miller sound, notably Flanagan and Jerry Gray, are helping the return to good music with their freshened up Miller-type originals.

The other evening a group was talking about the "golden days" of swing when Goodman, Shaw, Miller, Dorsey, Clinton and Ellington were all putting out records that have since become a foundation for all of our popular music, and this group expressed the idea that perhaps we are once again entering on such an era. Let's hope so, because the Camarillo hospital is too full to accommodate any more refugees from Johnny Ray.

Company "D," presented by Richard Harp, Junior Governor of Lodge No. 605. Cadets in the group were Sgt. 1/c Gerald Read, squad leader, and Pfc. Robert Holland, Robert Fowler, Jack Watson and Hubert Pierce.

INQUIRING REPORTER

QUESTION — A recent nationwide survey shows that 84 per cent of college graduates would select the same college if they had it to do over again. If the decision were presented to you would you choose SBC again? Why?

Allen Asakura, freshman, mathematics major: I would choose SBC again. An incoming new student needs to adjust himself to college life; Santa Barbara College makes this adjustment easier because of its size and air of informality.

Joan Quintero, freshman, elementary education major: I would choose SBC again because it is rated as one of the best colleges for my major.

Joe Butler, senior, zoology major: Santa Barbara has the advantages of a small institution unparalleled by any of the larger brain factories. The main factor that differentiates the small campus is the atmosphere of friendliness. This to me is the main point in favor of SBC.

Carol Anderson, junior, English major: I would choose SBC again because I like the faculty-student relationship. This is something that is missing in the larger colleges because of size. I also like the people I have met here, and the scenery surrounding the college.

Roger Denny, sophomore, political science major: If I were a millionaire I would be at Harvard; but I'm not. For the money I have and the education I'm looking for, Santa Barbara suits me. It is a small school with a cultural environment and a swell faculty. That's a combination that is hard to beat.

Ginger Krehbiel, freshman, elementary education major: Santa Barbara has a friendly atmosphere and the classes are small enough so that you are able to know the instructor and be known by him. This is one very important reason for choosing a small college such as SBC. It is rated high as a college for teachers.

Glen Wilson, junior, music education major: I like my instructors for the purpose of teaching music in public schools. Later perhaps if I had more money an Eastern college would suit my needs better; however, SBC is a fine place in which to start your higher education.

Marion Combs, junior, physical education major: I would choose Santa Barbara again because it has many more advantages than other colleges I can think of: it's close to the mountains and the beach, the climate is good for my major, and the YMCA pool and tennis courts are within close range. I like the informality in the relationship of teachers and students.

Glenn Heathman, sophomore, mathematics major: If I had to go to college all over again I would not come back to SBC. My plan is to wander from one college to another in order to broaden my education.

Gauchos Meet San Diego; CCAA Championship at Stake

This Saturday afternoon at 1:30 the Santa Barbara College baseball team will meet San Diego State in a double header at Mesa Field. The outcome of these two games may well decide the CCAA championship. As of today the Gauchos have a 7-3 conference record as compared to 6-2 for the Aztecs. In two games last weekend the Gauchos kept up their winning ways by trouncing the Camp Pendleton Marines 10-5 on Friday and coming back Saturday to annex a key conference victory over Cal Poly 5-3.

First place went to Bill Cahdack of Pepperdine. Third was Rudy Rudge of Cal Poly with 154 and fourth was Lolo Faldana of Cal Poly with 159.

San Diego State won the team crown with a score of 636. Cal Poly was second with 640, Pepperdine third with 660, L. A. State fourth with 697 and Santa Barbara last with 710.

Pepperdine Takes CCAA Tennis Championship

Pictures of 1952 Grid Team Now Being Sold

Four team pictures of the 1951 varsity football squad are available at the ASB News Bureau, South Hall 104, for $1.25 each.

The pictures, which are 14x6-inch enlargements, were ordered for varsity members who did not pick them up. They will be sold on a first-come-first-served basis, Publicity Director Chuck Francis said. There will be no reorders.

Gauchos kept up their winning ways by trouncing the Camp Pendleton Marines 10-5 on Friday and coming back Saturday to annex a key conference victory over Cal Poly 5-3.

Undefeated Righthander Duane Mittan gave up nine hits in winning his fifth game of the season.

The Gauchos got off to a flying start in the first inning when lead-off man Alan Cox walked, George Mattias followed with a single and Bill Davis reached first on an error. Catcher Ray Knerr brought in two runs with a single to left. Roger Wilson walked to fill the bases and another run came in as the Marines made an unsuccessful attempt to convert Corkey Johnson's infield roller into a double play. Dave Townley singled home the fourth run, and shortstop Ray Palmer's second error let in the fifth run of the inning.

Four hits including a double by starting pitcher Dick Manchester netted the Marines three runs in the top of the second inning, and they added two more in the fourth to tie the score.

The Gauchos regained the lead in the same inning on Davis' single, Dave Gorrie's triple and a long fly by Knerr.

The Gauchos added two insurance runs in the sixth and another in the seventh. Mittan shut out the Marines over the last five innings.

Saturday's game, played as the second half of a doubleheader at Laguna Park, saw Cal Poly nick Gerry McIlvaine for lone tallies in each of the first two stanzas.

In the Gauchos' half of the third Mattias reached first on an error and scored on Davis' 380-foot triple to center. A line single by Dave Gorrie brought in the tying run.

McIlvaine and Mustang ace Frank Romero pitched hitless ball for the next four frames. Poly's catcher broke the tie with a bases empty homerun over the rightfield fence in the seventh.

Not to be outdone the Gauchos opened their half of the inning as Townley drew the eighth walk given up by Romero, was sacrificed to second by McIlvaine, bunting on a third strike, and scored on Cox's towering smash over the right field fence.

The Gauchos added another run in the eighth when Johnson doubled to left center and scored on an error.

The victory left the Gauchos trailing San Diego with a .700 percentage compared to .750 for the Aztecs who have two more games remaining, not including this Saturday's closing doubleheader.

2C2A To Continue; Will Not Form CCC

Athletic directors, coaches, graduate managers and faculty representatives of the five schools now members of the California Collegiate Athletic Association attended a two day meeting held at Santa Monica last weekend.

Faced by a proposed plan by the State College Presidents Council for the formation of a California Collegiate Conference, representatives of Cal Poly, Pepperdine, Los Angeles State, San Diego State and Santa Barbara College backed a policy of "business as usual," and went on to elect their new officers.

Ferren Losee of Los Angeles State was elected president for the 1952-1953 season, succeeding Al Duer, Pepperdine athletic director. Charles Smith of San Diego State was named vice president, Warren Reeves of Los Angeles State was elected secretary-treasurer and Robert O. Young of Pepperdine will act as publicity chairman.

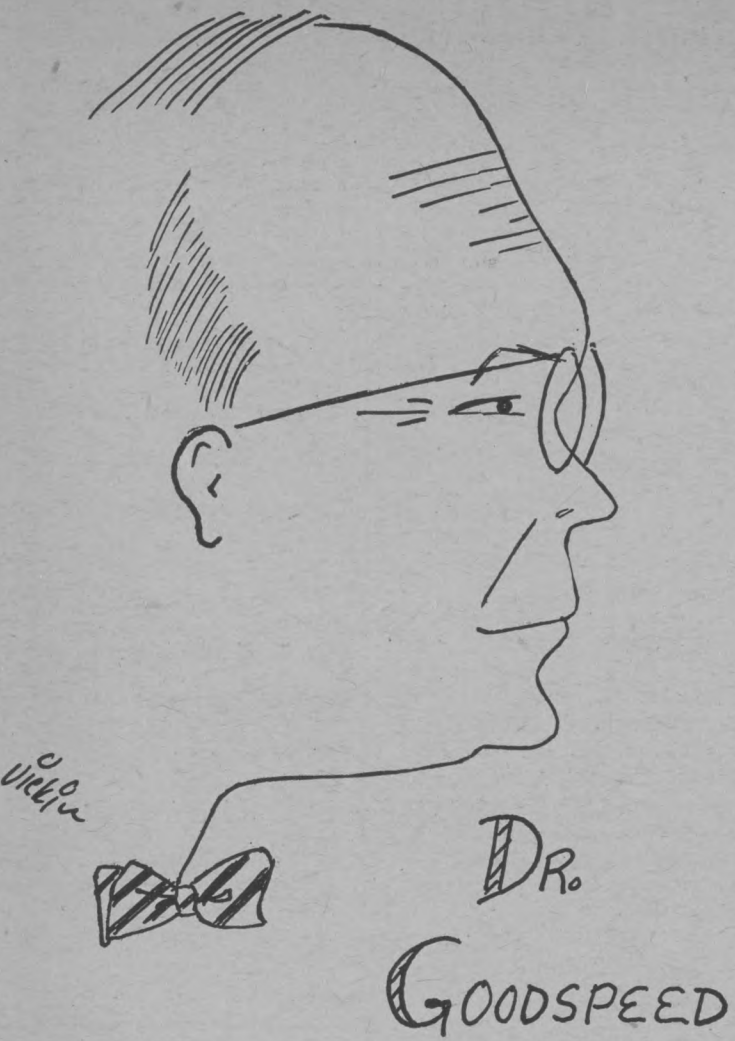

Following up last year's elimination of Spring football the group voted to restrict training tables and athletic subsidies in an attempt to bring athletics in line with other student activities.

Schedules were worked out for the 1953 basketball, track and baseball seasons, as well as tentative plans for an All-CCAA basketball tournament, possibly on December first of this year, in Los Angeles.

Making their plans in what they termed a "continuation of a move to reorganize the conference sports program" the delegates gave much consideration to the proposed CCC which poses a threat to the very existence of the CCAA. The consensus was that the CCC would not go into existence for another year, if then.

It was reported that Cal Poly, San Diego State, Pepperdine and Santa Barbara were opposed to joining the CCC, while L. A. State was ready to join if the new conference was formed. Cal Poly, San Diego, and L. A. State are all part of the state college system, and are among the 10 schools proposed for the CCC. Santa Barbara and Cal Aggies have also been invited to join.

In spite of the threat of the CCC the group devoted time to talk of expansion. Representatives of Fresno State College were on hand and were reportedly seeking readmission to the CCAA. However Fresno State is first committed to join the CCC. CCAA member schools all planned to schedule Fresno State in all sports next year, and officially made it possible for the Bulldogs to re-enter the conference in 1953, provided they can get out from under their previous commitment to the state college group.

Student Council Communique

By PAULINE BYARD

Dr. Snidecor and Dr. Clark came before Council at the May 13 meeting to present the proposed plan for Psychological Counseling. They reported that a program similar to the one being considered for Santa Barbara College is now in operation at both the Berkeley and UCLA campuses at a cost to the student of $2 per semester. The proposed program would provide a full-time counselor, vocational testing, interviews, follow-up meetings with the counselor, and advice on effective study habits for students on probation.

However, under such a program a student cannot expect protracted vocational counseling, nor can the service be expected to operate as a job placement bureau. Before the program would be put into effect, a referendum would be conducted to ascertain whether or not the majority of students desire such a service. In view of the fact that there is not sufficient time remaining in the semester to get the program effectively under way, the present Council voted not to take action at this time. Recommendations will be made to next year's Legislative Council on the matter.

After giving the campus UN group temporary recognition for a period of three weeks for the purpose of completing organization plans, Council voted to give them permanent recognition.

MESA MEMO

By DOROTHY McCCLURE

Leaving the first part of June by plane for Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind., is Clyde Keener, who will spend the next year and a half there working on his Ph.D. Much of his life having been spent in California, Clyde will certainly experience a change with that noted Midwestern winter weather rolls around. Auto-shop has not been scheduled for next year, so his classes are overflowing with students.

Returning from a year's leave of absence is Joseph Sayovitz, who again will teach radio and electricity. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis. S. T. McNeal, who has been doing a splendid job in Dr. Sayovitz's place, will be teaching at Orange Junior College in the fall.

During the rest of this week committees of specialists from the various industrial arts fields from the community will spend their time judging students' projects completed this year for the annual Project Contest. George Kostakis and Bob Craig report that a wide and very well-done selection of entries was submitted. Everyone really deserves a prize.

Project Contest prizes will be awarded at the annual Industrial Arts Club Banquet to be held on Wednesday evening, May 28, at the Mar Monte Hotel. Tickets are on sale for $2.50.

Ed Dodge, outgoing president, will act as master of ceremonies to introduce the evening's principal speaker, Dr. Paul A. Dodd, Dean of the College of Letters and Sciences at UCLA.

Lindy Zichichi, social chairman, and the other officers are working hard to make the evening the last and biggest social event of the Mesa Campus.

Epsilon Pi Tau, industrial arts honorary fraternity, elected Chuck Temple as its new president to replace Bill Toohy. Other officers include Kemp Richardson, vice president; Marvin Melvin, secretary; Elton Ward, treasurer, and Willis Jolly, historian.

Beach Party, Banquet Are Senior Events Planned

A variety of events has been planned for all graduating seniors starting June 3. Adran Adams, senior class president, has announced a list of six events open to all seniors. In addition, three departments are honoring their seniors before graduation. All events are open to February, June and August 1952, and February 1953 graduating seniors.

Senior Ditch Day will begin the round of events on June 3, with a beach party at Goleta Beach from noon until 5. There will be equipment for softball and volleyball, and plenty of refreshments will be served.

On June 6 at 8:30 p.m. the traditional Candlelight Recessional will be held in the Quad. It is sponsored by Crown and Septer.

The Senior Banquet begins at 7 p.m. on June 7 and is to be held at the Montecito Country Club. On the same night, from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m., the Junior-Senior Prom will be held. Prices are $3.50 per guest for the dinner and dance, and $1 per guest for the dance.

Seniors, parents, friends and faculty members are invited to the Baccalaureate which will be held in the auditorium at 4 p.m. on June 15.

Featuring dancing and refreshments, the Boomer will be held at the Cabrillo Auditorium on June 20, from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Commencement will be held on June 21 in the Quad, starting at 4 p.m. A reception for all seniors, parents, and faculty members will be held on the gym lawn following commencement.

Faculty chairman and advisors are invited to attend any of the events they wish, and all faculty members are requested by the Senior Class to attend the Senior Banquet and the Baccalaureate.

Activity cards may be obtained at the Graduate Manager's office for $5 for the Senior Ditch Day, Senior Banquet and the Boomer. All these activities are free to any senior now joining the University of California Alumni Association. Those wishing to do so may contact the Graduate Manager, Bob Lorden, or Bob Christofferson.

Events honoring seniors will be sponsored by the Home Economics, Industrial Arts and Women's Physical Education Departments.

Barbara York was elected president of the Colonel's Coeds at their last meeting of the semester recently. She will be an honorary colonel next year.

Other officers elected are Doris Clare, major, vice president; Jane Hardman, colonel, secretary; Margie Alexander, colonel, public relations.

Business for the evening concerned the uniforms to be worn. They will consist of a skirt, sweater and blazer jacket. The new president will look into various pin designs for the group.

The agenda for next semester will include the election of freshmen girls and replacements, if needed, in the ranks of captain, major and colonel; the serving of refreshments with Scabbard and Blade at all athletic events, and participation at the formal military ball sponsored by Scabbard and Blade each fall.
