GAUCHO FEATURE EDITOR VACATION CRASH VICTIM

Dorothy Bradbury, El Gaucho feature editor, was killed in an auto accident last Tuesday near Jackrabbit, Arizona. Two other UCSB coeds, Nanette Chang and Louise Meiers, were injured.

Miss Chang is under treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital in Phoenix. She underwent brain surgery last Wednesday night. There will be a hospital report sometime this week regarding her recovery and the extent of her brain injury.

The three coeds were on a spring vacation trip.

Dorothy graduated last year from San Fernando High School, where she received the Evelyn Bryant Journalism Award.

"Dot was a mainstay of our staff," says Dan Petter, El Gaucho co-editor, "and could always be depended upon for technical assistance when we needed it most. Her fine personality and willingness to help others distinguished her as a most promising journalist."

"She patiently instructed me in my first steps in journalism," claims copy editor Bob Maddalon, "and helped me write my first story for El Gaucho."

Summer Sessions

Summer session bulletins from the four University of California campuses are available in the Summer Session Office on campus. We have recently ordered several copies of the University of Mexico summer session bulletin.

La Cumbre Honors Regent T. M. Storke

The Associated Students of UCSB will pay its respects to retiring Regent Thomas M. Storke for his service to the university by dedicating to him the 1960 edition of the yearbook, La Cumbre.

This recognition is seldom given to anyone not on the UCSB faculty or administration.

Patricia Downie, editor of the yearbook, stated that each year the editorial board of La Cumbre selects, with the concurrence of the Associated Students, an individual who has contributed significantly to the work of the university, the campus and the student body. "This year we wish to recognize the service and devotion of the community's leading citizen for his interest in our campus."

Storke, who received the honorary LLD degree during the UC Charter observance, will receive the No. 1 copy especially engraved for him when the book comes off the press in June.

The 300-page La Cumbre, being published for the 38th year, will be distributed to each student on campus. The cost of the book is included in the student body fee.

Hello South Africa From Texas, U.S.A.

SLATON, Tex., April 7 (UPI) — White City commissioners, surprised by the election Tuesday of Slaton's first negro commissioner, today planned a move to abolish the ward system which enabled the negro to win.

The negro is African Baptist minister Rev. L. L. Dixon, whose small congregation meets in a poor neighborhood called "The Flats."

He won over five white men. Dixon was elected by a Coalition of voters of the negro and Spanish-American races. They gave him a 207-170 margin over his closest opponent.

In Dixon's ward, 433 members of minority races paid poll tax. The balance of the total of 561 voters was made up of voters over 65, who are exempt from poll tax.

City commission spokesmen announced today a meeting May 10 to consider abolishing the ward system.

UCSB Delegates In Model UN Session At Berkeley Campus

A delegation of nine students from UCSB participated in a four-day model United Nations, on the Berkeley campus of the university.

The purpose of the model U.N., now in its 10th year, is to give experience and practice in the working of this international organization to students who are planning to make a career in politics or who have an interest in international affairs.

UCSB students participating have been selected from the entire student body taking into consideration such qualifications as speech ability, interest in current events, and leadership. All in all, over 1000 students from 82 colleges and universities in 11 western states attended the model U.N. Each delegation will represent a different member nation and attempt to assume the characteristics and voting behavior of that country. Santa Barbara students make up the delegation from El Salvador.

More Royalty

Important — There is going to be a king and queen contest held at the RHA Spring Formal. Each boy's hall is supposed to select a candidate for queen and each girl's hall a candidate for king. The names of these candidates must be turned in by April 22 to the mail box numbered 2208 in Santa Rosa.

The formal will be held from 8:30 to 12:30 at the Rockwood Country Club. The band of I. Newton Perry will provide the music. If you want them, pictures will be taken at the formal.

The next open house will be on April 24.

Navy Information

Officers from the U.S. Navy Recruiting Station, Los Angeles, California, and the U.S. Naval Air Station, Long Beach, California will be on campus Monday and Tuesday, April 25 and 26. They will counsel any interested students concerning officer programs in the U.S. Navy. Commissions are available in the fields of Line, Aviation, Engineering, Supply Corps, Medical Service Corps, and other specialties. Commissions are also available to qualified women in the Nurse Corps and as WAVE Officers.

Munger to Give Last Recital

A new work by Halsey Stevens, well-known composer and head of the music composition department at the University of Southern California, which has been written especially for Miss Shirley Munger, assistant professor of music at UCSB will be performed for the first time by the pianist in her faculty recital at the university on April 19.

The Stevens composition, "Ritratti per pianoforte," ("Portraits for Piano") will highlight a program of music for the piano inspired by paintings which will be given in the UCSB campus auditorium at 8:30 p.m. The public is invited.

In each of the three movements of the "Ritratti," the composer has utilized fragments of music which appear in the paintings: "Intrada" from "Portrait of a Musician" by Jacopo da Pontormo; "Riatta" from "Saint Cecilia" by Domenichino; and "Tema con quattro variazioni" from "Saint Augustine visited by Saint Jerome" by Vittore Carpaccio.

The Tuesday evening program will begin with Franz Liszt's "Spasmo." The title "Spasmo" ("Marriage") is derived from Raphael's painting of the Virgin Mary.

Miss Munger will also offer a musical suite, "Sports et Diverissements" by the contemporary French composer, Erik Satie. This suite, a musical counterpart to a set of drawings by the artist, Charles Martin, is considered by Milhaud one of the most characteristic products of the modern French school. To each of 20 thumbnail sketches describing different sports, Satie has added a verbal description which is inseparable from the music.

Help yourself to success!

Your success as an individual in a society dedicated to government through, by, and for the people is in direct proportion to your participation in the organizations shaping the policies directly related to you.

Liberate yourself!

In a recent speech, Chancellor Gould said, "Our students live in a state of arrested adolescence from which we never allow them to escape." A primary reason for this is that students have neglected to exercise their initiative through the organization designed to liberate them from arrested adolescence — their student government.

Pioneer individuality at UCSB!

The new student government at UCSB will be leading the entire university system in the trend toward developing leadership in students. Chancellor Gould says, "... heaven help the poor student who ignores the so-called system and tries to approach his education in any truly-individualized way." Now is your opportunity to realize your potential as an individual and gain experience in the organized leadership which will shape your future success, the destiny of UCSB, and ultimately the survival of our democratic society.

Letters to The Editor . . .

THE PUBLIC IMAGE IN ISLA VISTA

by Jeff Thompson

The following letter from the Dean of Students was received by students living in the Isla Vista area recently:

Dear Student:

This letter is being sent to all students living in the Isla Vista area. It will be welcomed by some and not by others. It meant to serve as a request for co-operation as well as a warning.

In the last several weeks standards of behavior on the part of some students in Isla Vista have reached a regrettably low point. Men have forced their way into women's apartments without invitation, large noisy parties often involving fighting have disturbed the peace and brought sheriff's deputies. In most of these cases illegal and excessive use of alcoholic beverages has been the basic cause of the problem. For several reasons that should be obvious, the University cannot tolerate such behavior. First, it costs the State of California approximately $1400 per year in terms of operating budget to enroll each of you as a student. The University assumes that each student has an earnest purpose and that his conduct will bear out this presumption. However, students who fail to make proper use of the opportunities freely given to them must expect to have their privileges curtailed or withdrawn. Second, behavior like that noted is causing owners in Isla Vista to cease renting to students. The end result of this is less and more expensive housing for students with its attendant hardships. Third, many citizens not connected with the University live or visit in the area. After seeing or hearing of these incidents, the public evaluation of the University is derogatory. I am sure that you do not want your University to develop the inevitable public image which would result from this kind of public relations.

This letter is to announce, in view of the points noted, that in the future anyone involved in illegal or injudicious use of alcoholic beverages or other conduct unbecoming a University student will be considered to have forfeited his right and privilege to attend the University. This policy is harsh but, it is felt, a necessary one to correct the situation noted. I would like to ask your determined co-operation necessary to make this a university and college community of which we can all be proud.

Sincerely yours,

Lyle Reynolds

Dean of Students

The incidents mentioned above received attention in the Santa Barbara News-Press and were the subject of some noticeable negative response on the part of the residents of Santa Barbara and Goleta. They wonder, justifiably, just what it is all about. Some of the students here at the UCSB campus join them in their bewilderment. If a public brawl is representative of the attitudes of university students, perhaps the whole idea of a university as a place of enlightenment and a source of wisdom is sadly out of date. After all, a university is no more or less than the sum of all its parts. And a great part are the students who contribute to the university enterprise. Yet, in the last month violence has taken the place of reason, and what should have been a sense of responsibility (to one's fellow students and those who share the university community) has disintegrated into a lack of that quality and the notion that "anything goes."

The problem is a communal one; either all co-operate to make the university community a decent place in which to live or else we all suffer. So far only a letter has been sent out. It would profit us well to read that letter carefully and think about it for a while. When authority has to be imposed on a community of adults (and if we are not that, we hardly belong here) there is something wrong with that community. It takes only a few to ruin it for the many. The letter reprinted above is an attempt to warn those few and should be encouraging to the many who have been and will continue to be their own authority as mature adults.

If this letter succeeds in rooting out the malady that afflicts the community it will have served a good office; if more drastic measures are necessary we may be sure that they will be applied. None of us wants to live in a restricted society; we grumble at laws which seem to get in our way, we talk about our "rights." But how many are capable of governing themselves? One answer would be: All those who welcomed the letter as an indication that the community in which some of us take such pride will not allow itself to decay and become a parody of a university campus.

There is no other solution to the problem as it now stands. If in the future the community regains its right to self government (a right that is the basis of effective student government) then we may be sure that future letters will be unnecessary.

MISPLACED PRINCIPLES

To the Editor and Messrs.

Nickerson, Reynolds, and Vaughn:

There is more than misplaced principle or ego suffering in a refusal to sign a disclaimer affidavit. As was pointed out in the letters to the April 7 El Gauchito, one cannot be prosecuted for his beliefs. Rather, one can be prosecuted for falsifying the record of those beliefs. The usefulness of the oath, then, is against "those citizens who are plotting to overthrow the government."

This is quite true. Most of the organizations on the Attorney General's list are not illegal, nor is membership in them illegal. The

Summer Program Set For High Schoolers

A Summer Debate Institute of two weeks for high-school debaters will convene on campus from June 25 to July 9, it has been announced by Dr. Upton S. Palmer, chairman of the department of speech and drama and director of the Institute.

assumption of "plotting to overthrow the government" is questionable in the case of most of the above groups. (Cf. Dr. John Somerville, The Communist Trials and the American Tradition, Cameron, N.Y., 1956.) The disclaimer oath is the way to hold persons publicly responsible for their beliefs, not their deeds.

This is a discriminatory practice, especially in the NDEA. The ideal of no discrimination because of race, creed, or color is abrogated by that Act. Public assistance is denied to some because of their legal beliefs.

Such oaths aim at a conformity of thought. These oaths could lead to a complete revival of the Alien and Sedition laws. They have created havoc in the faculty of this University. Why is not the simple oath to uphold the Constitution effective; the University came to realize this.

Gentlemen, misplaced principles are what allow a disclaimer affidavit to exist. It is in the best traditions and interests of our citizenry that such things be abolished.

Munger Recital . . .

Debussy's "L'Isle Joyeuse" fill out Miss Munger's recital. The Mousorgsky composition was inspired by an exhibition of water colors and drawings by the architect, Victor Hartmann, who had for many years been a close friend of the composer. The "L'Isle Joyeuse" is a musical representation of Watteau's "Embarquement pour Cythere."

Miss Shirley Munger is resigning her post at the University at the end of this semester to resume full time doctoral studies at USC. This will be her last faculty recital before that time and climaxes seven years of service to the university and community as an accomplished pianist, composer, conductor, organist, and clavichordist.

JUST HOW FAR OUT ARE YOU?

TEST YOURSELF!

If you see something wild in this ink blot, like maybe Lady Godiva fully clothed on a motorcycle, you're ready for non-directive therapy. That's the kind where the psychoanalyst doesn't say anything to you, and we ourselves are very interested in it because of its advertising possibilities.

With the non-directive approach, we'd just try to think you into smoking L&M's. We wouldn't have to tell you about how L&M, with its Miracle Tip, pure white inside, pure white outside, has found the secret that unlocks flavor in a filter cigarette. And about how this means fine tobaccos can be blended not to suit a filter but to suit your taste.

Following the non-directive approach, we'd simply show you the package. And this would give us more time to polish our wedge shot, which we seem to have trouble getting airborne. Or even moving.
