Alan Mills, Canadian folk balladeer, will present folk songs and ballads from his country in a concert tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in Campbell Hall. Tickets are available at the Campbell Hall box office.

At the invitation of the English Folk Music Society and Joint Commonwealth Societies, he went to sing in England. This is the first time any Canadian balladeer has been given the dual distinction.

Mills, a onetime newspaper reporter, began collecting and singing folk songs as a hobby more than 30 years ago. He has authored or co-authored five songbooks and has recorded more than a score of long-playing albums.

Educational TV Has To Deal In Ideas Says Gould, Here For SB Conference

By Vic Cox

Former UCSB chancellor Dr. Samuel B. Gould commented about educational TV and the possibilities of a warless world during a recent visit to Santa Barbara.

Dr. Gould returned to Santa Barbara from New York where he is President of WNDT-TV, the largest educational TV station in the United States, to attend the 8th annual World Affairs Institute conference entitled "Warless World."

WNDT, New Dimension in Television station, gains its guidance from principles set down by the former UCSB chancellor that the station must "deal in ideas, ideas that are important and relevant."

If we are to pursue such a course we must be willing to deal political problems squarely and honestly and with enough depth to make the exploration of issues worthwhile."

The station reaches an estimated 1.5 million adults nightly and broadcasts educational programs to 19 million school children on week days,

In reference to closed-circuit campus TV, the educator said that he "cannot visualize any classroom of the future being built without facilities for television. The main advantages of TV in the classroom are, mentioned Dr. Gould, 'magnification' of experiments, bringing outstanding teachers to more people, intercampus exchange of professors via videotapes."

The experiment in educational TV over WNDT includes programming of music, the visual arts, some drama from the British Broadcasting Company, and analysis of news programs which include a study in depth of the day's two most crucial news items, and "Court of Reason," a weekly debate of current issues such as right of privacy, and capital punishment in a court room setting.

Dr. Gould's comments about the "Warless World" conference show a real concern for the awareness of the American people toward the problems of the time when he says the purpose of the conference is "to explore more seriously and in much more depth than Americans have done ... the components of peace. There are social, economic, psychological, political, and educational factors which need to be explored.

The conference, in Dr. Gould's opinion, serves as a symbol of what people should be doing everywhere, thinking, talking, and eventually action "to bring about a warless world."

But isn't this extremely idealistic and perhaps unrealistic? Idealistic, yes, said Dr. Gould. How unrealistic remains to be seen. There hasn't been a concentrated effort in that direction yet.

Critic Finds Ionesco Production A Failure As 'Hilarious Farce'

By Pete Kleinman

Ionesco's "Rhinoceros" which opened at the SB Lobero Theatre Thursday night fell far short of its advance billing as a "hilarious farce." Even Stanley Glenn's Jean could not salvage the production, which sagged badly with each successive scene.

Where the director of the UCSB production, Dr. Theodore Hatlen, could not be held completely responsible for the play's plodding cadence, may be playwright Ionesco should. Not possessing -- or, at least not employing -- the wit of Gilbert or Wilde, Ionesco in this farce of words often grows tedious and repetitive. His use of nonsensical argument and fallacious logic tires after its third or fourth demonstration.

In the second scene director Hatlen attempted to overcome this tedium by amusing his audience with slapstick. The antics of two feuding office workers appeared to please the audience. Amusing or not, this scene was incongruous, as done, with the whole mood of Ionesco's play. There is a persistent notion in the UCSB drama department that farce automatically calls for slapstick, whether the play is Wilde or Ionesco.

In the same scene, however, depiction of the dull, bureaucratic routine of the publishing house was handled cleverly as a small symphony of timed typewriter bells and turned pages played on stage.

It is unfortunate that a character like Jean must take second place to the melodramatic hero Berenger. The production moved well when Glenn as Jean jumped about the stage, tipped his hat, waved his cane, performed his acrobatics, and generally carried on as the self-assured bon vivant.

As soon as Glenn departed into the wings, even the most attentive and good-humored members of the audience found themselves restive, with the action on stage uncomfortably boring.

Bill Black gave more to his role than was called for. His Berenger appeared to be more a manic-depressive than a ridiculously unalienated alcoholic. The role is, if not just a difficult one, an impossible one.

The meaning of Berenger's character is lost when we find at the end that this erstwhile individualist is merely incapable of fitting into a conformist state. Ionesco lowers the curtain on a perplexing nihilistic note.

Because of the unevenness of "Rhinoceros," the stampe of hilarity ends dismally with a dud. A revised version might do better in a different genre, particularly as a short story. Dr. Hatlen's cast couldn't perform miracles with this play.

"Darwin" To Be Shown By Hardin Thursday

"Darwin," a film made by Dr. Gareth Hardin, professor of biology, will be shown Thursday noon in room 1100 of the physical science building to members of the Biological Sciences Club. The film showing is open to the public.

LISTENING POST

Use Wipers?

Dear Sirs,
We felt that we were completely satisfied with your excellent (sic) newspaper until, horrors, we discovered much to our chagrin and to our immediate disgust and to your endless humiliation that you have no column dedicated to the glorious science of astrology.

The worth of this proven study is substantiated by the dedication to its precepts by such historically prominent personalities as Napoleon, Hitler and Alfred Schwab.

Having recently moved here from New York, a civilized metropolis, where no mere human being dares stir out of his house without that he must needs consult the consul of the stars as divined by the various interpreters, we can barely comprehend a city of more than ten people and two dogs that dares put faith in its own collective thinking without the wisdom of celestial regulation.

As Katherine Ann Porter aptly said in The Theft, "It is written that we must be rained on tonight, said Camillo, so let it be together."

This same thought achieves literary continuity by appearing in a recent pamphlet published by the National Council for Safety of Motorcycles and Other Two-Wheeled Vehicles of Questionable Sanity which said: "... use windshield wipers when it rains."

In conclusion, we feel that the addition of a column of astrology will benefit this campus beyond all normal computation. Not only will our unspeakably unspeaking generation finally find a voice to follow, but also the preponderance of pre-marital sex relations, now rampant, will fall off.

What more valid argument is necessary for liberalizing dorm hours for women? We remain in all sincerity.

Your affectionate and future peace-core agitators
Mike Muller and Roxie Collins

Academics First

Dear Editor,
I find myself forced, though unwillingly, to take issue with Mr. Cox's article in Friday's "El Gaucho" concerning student apathy. Frankly, I am becoming nauseated with every issue that informs me that I am not doing enough for God and country, etc. Perhaps it is about time we stepped down from the soapbox and analyze what our role in college is.

I personally do not feel that I am at U.C.S.B. to attend model U.N.'s, sell candy canes, pound the pavement for a political measure, purchase cards for non-existent functions, et. al. I will support these projects, but not at the expense of my academic pursuits. And despite public opinion, college is a full time job in itself. Mine is not the ostrich attitude; it is the attitude of a struggling history major trying to make decent grades.

Many times I have observed students refusing to take as large a role as they could or should in something, but on the whole, I feel you will find that most students are vitally interested in the world around us. It is just that we also have to worry about such mundane things as tests, grades, and education.

Perhaps Mr. Cox would like U.C.S.B. to establish a counterpart to Berkeley's Sather Gate where bearded students would pass out pamphlets and harrangue the students to repent, the end of the world is nigh. Student participation--fine! but in academics as well as extracurricular activities.
Joseph Erickson

Read, Critic, Read

Dear Sir,
As pianists and music majors, we would like to comment on Dennis Dutton's criticism of Anja's Dorfman's (sic) performance November the fifth.

We would be very interested to know just what playing with "control of intonation" means. We suggest that the reviewer do some reading on the "unity" of Schumann's "Carnival." We also suggest that the reviewer explore the term "rubato" as pertaining to the music of Chopin. As for the piano, we didn't notice anything "dead" about it the night Ralph Votapek played at the Lobero. He specifically requested that the same piano be moved to the Lobero.

Sincerely,
Francesca Ansbro
Diana Gwin
Janice Schmutyer

To Prove Points

Dear Sir,
From the tone of Denis Dutton's letter in the November 30th issue of El Gaucho, one can't help but wonder how insulting and ridiculous a person can become in trying to prove that his opinion may be right. Mr. Dutton, "... sapienter idem/contrahas vento nimium secundo/turgida vela," (Horace, Odes, 2,10)

Bike Control Plan Initiated

First attempt at bike control at UCSB has been initiated with large stencils reading "No Bikes" on walks approaching various buildings. The purpose of these signs is to discourage leaving bikes in congested areas due to danger in case of fire. The paint used to stencil the letters is planned to wear off the sidewalk in time for the masterplan for bicycles to go into effect early in January.

The masterplan will include a section of the campus centering on the library around which the riding of bicycles will be prohibited due to bicycle and pedestrian congestion.

Bicycle registration fees of 50 cents have helped to off-set the cost of the project.

DECK THE HALLS

When you think of Christmas gifts you naturally think of Marlboro cigarettes, leading seller in flip-top box in all fifty states—and if we annex Wales, in all fifty-one—and if we annex Lapland—in all fifty-two. This talk about annexing Wales and Lapland is, incidentally, not just idle speculation. Great Britain wants to trade Wales to the United States for a desert. Great Britain needs a desert desperately on account of the tourist trade. Tourists are always coming up to the Prime Minister or the Lord Privy Seal or like that and saying, "I'm not knocking your country, mind you. It's very quaint and picturesque, etc. what with Buckingham Palace and Bovril and Scotland Yard, etc., but where's your desert?" (Before I forget, let me point out that Scotland Yard, Britain's plain-clothes police branch, was named after Wally Scotland and Fred Yard who invented plain clothes. The American plain-clothes force is called the FBI after Frank B. Inchecliff, who invented fingerprints. Before Mr. Inchecliff's invention, everybody's fingers were absolutely glassy smooth. This, as you may imagine, played hob with the identification of newborn babies in hospitals. From 1791 until 1904 no American parent ever brought home the right baby from the hospital. This later became known as the Black Tom Explosion.)

But I digress. England, I was saying, wants to trade Wales for a desert. Sweden wants to trade Lapland for Frank B. Inchecliff. The reason is that Swedes to this day still don't have fingerprints. As a result, identification of babies in Swedish hospitals is so haphazard that Swedes flatly refuse to bring their babies home. There are, at present, nearly a half-billion unclaimed babies in Swedish hospitals—some of them well over eighty years old.

But I digress. We were speaking of Christmas gifts which naturally put us in mind of Marlboro cigarettes. What could be more welcome at Christmas time than Marlboro's flavor, Marlboro's soft pack, Marlboro's flip-top box? What indeed would be more welcome at any time of year—winter or summer, rain or shine, night or day? Any time, any season, when you light a Marlboro you can always be certain that you will get the same mild, flavorful, completely comfortable smoke.

There are, of course, other things you can give for Christmas besides Marlboro cigarettes. If, for example, you are looking for something to give a music lover, let me call to your attention a revolutionary new development in phonographs—the Low-fi phonograph. The Low-fi, product of years of patient research, has so little fidelity to the record you put on it that if, for instance, you put "Stardust" on the turntable, "Melancholy Baby" will come out. This is an especially welcome gift for people who have grown tired of "Stardust".

Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night.

The makers of Marlboro cigarettes, who take pleasure in bringing you this column throughout the school year, wish to join old Max in extending greetings of the Season.

Basketball 'Murals Boasts Two Winners

Yuma Hall and the Goleta Beach Athletic Club have clinched titles in their respective leagues as the Intramural Basketball league rounds into its final week of regular play.

Both teams will go into the playoffs with two other clubs, yet to be named, next week.

The fraternity league, up for grabs, will name its champ Thursday night as the SAE's meet the Delts in a battle of unbeaten, Delt high scorer Steve Powers will lead the Delts against the favored SAE's, who boast a balanced scoring attack.

In Casitas action, three teams are currently in line for the title - Yucca, Cypress, and Laurel. A playoff seems in line here.

Yuma made the finals with a resounding 47-25 win over Modoc, as Lee Reid and Rollie Bauer led the way, holding Dave Phillips and Ray Dickey to a meager 11 and 6 points respectively.

Goleta Beach meets the Delt second team tonight after having sewn up the Independent League with an 83-38 win over the Gunners. The blistering fast break, along with rebounding and defense shown by GBAC, also enabled them to humble the UCSB frosh last week.

Geoff Smith's 22.6 ppg. scoring average leads, while Rick Aster at 17 ppg, Bill Wilde at 15 ppg, and "Goose" Tolton at 11, have also been instrumental.

Frosh Capture Two Hard-Earned Wins

By Geoff Smith

Featuring a driving second half finish, Coach Ralph Barkey's UCSB Frosh tamed Loyola by a 66-54 count, Saturday after defeating Westmont 53-44 on opening night.

Montrose's 5-11 Danny Cobb sparked the fast finish against the tough Lions, finishing as high man with 19 points, while Burlingame's all-around performer for the yearlings, John Peterson, hit fifteen counters and did a superb job on the boards for the winners.

Coaches Barkey and Ray Bosch noted the team effort which subdued Loyola, supposedly boasting its finest frosh aggregation since the days of Ed Bento and Jerry Grote.

Besides Peterson and Cobb, the Gauchos mentors spoke highly of the play of guard Steve Janson, and centers Dick Kolberg and Jon Crawford.

Janson contributed eleven to the winning total while playing a fine floor game against the aggressive Lions and Kolberg and Crawford hit nine apiece and kept UCSB even on the boards.

Against Westmont, the Gauchos displayed first game jitters, but were able to solidify their attack to beat the tremendously outmanned Warriors in a sloppy contest.

Kolberg stood as high man for winners with thirteen while Peterson tanked twelve and 6-5 forward John Holmes garnered eleven.

Dawson Takes Cycle Race

Rodger Dawson, graduate student in English, emerged as the winner of the second bicycle race of the year sponsored by the UCSB Cycling Club.

The fast-paced race was held over a half-mile course in the Del Webb industrial development at the corner of Hollister Ave. and Storke Road in Goleta.

The race, a European style criterium, featured a sprint for points every fourth lap.

Dawson, who this summer set a record of a little over 32 hours from San Francisco to Los Angeles, impressively placed first in every sprint.

Second place went to George Gallagher of Isla Vista. Don Culton, graduate in history placed third, John Posey, fourth and Robert Ryan, fifth.

The next event, scheduled for December 9, will be a road race over an eight milecourse.

Gauchos Errors Give Loyola Victory

By Bob Walter
An inability to put the ball through the hoop from the floor and the free throw line cost UCSB's varsity basketball team a "first-ever" win over Loyola.

The pressing, lightning quick Lions came from a 41-35 deficit to beat Santa Barbara 60-54 Saturday in a contest that was painful to watch from the home viewpoint.

After UCSB had shot its way to the aforementioned lead, the roof fell in as Tommy Lee, Howie Sundberg, and Gary Davis all had chances to put the Gauchos in the driver's seat, but ending up holding the tailgate.

UCSB could convert just 12 of 22 free tosses all night and only four field goals in the last thirteen minutes of play as lightning flashed in the form of reserve guard Phil Faist, a 5-7 guard who engineered the victor's closing drive.

The smaller Lions also held their own on the backboards against superior height with guard Brian Quinn and forward Dick Schindler leading the way.

The WCAC representatives applied a telling pressure defense, not allowing the Gauchos to go into their patterned play, thus foreshadowing the outcome of the game.

Forward Davis, with 12 points led the losers from the floor, while center John Conroy contributed 8.

On the brighter side, the Gauchos did come up with a win Friday, also a sloppy exhibition, with a 66-48 triumph over Westmont's "cold" Warriors.

Lee, both hot and cold in the two games, tallied 17 points as he led a determined UCSB rally midway through the game. Junior Jim Larsen tallied 12 to back up the scoring for the winners.

Building off a 30-23 halftime edge, Coach Art Gallon inserted his second unit and watched Lee and forward Orval Elkins take charge in the closing half as the Gauchos roared to victory.

Pall Mall Presents - GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

CAMPUS TYPE IV

The natural habitat of the Cupcake is the Home Economics kitchen. She believes, as her mother did, that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. While this viewpoint might be considered unsophisticated by many of today's more enlightened male students, none of them has ever been known to turn down a tin of her Fudge-Frosted Nut-Filled Brownies. She really has a way with a dish and, as you can see, she's quite a dish herself.

Just as the Cupcake has found the perfect recipe for Frosted Brownies, the makers of Pall Mall have found the perfect recipe for a delicious smoke. Taste Pall Mall's natural mildness and see what we mean.

Some recent college graduates talk about job opportunity at Pacific Telephone

Dick Allen, U.C. at Santa Barbara '61
Section Supervisor

"I would say the key word at Pacific Telephone is flexibility... in the types of assignments and responsibilities, in exposure to new managerial concepts, and in opportunities for individual growth. Being a manager doesn't just happen. You have to be willing to exert yourself in every way to meet new challenges. The company's Management Development Program is a great asset in this respect. And I'm also taking advantage of their tuition aid program while working toward a masters in business administration at U.S.C."

Chuck Kovely, Loyola '58
Senior Engineer

"Pacific Telephone's excellent training program provides an opportunity for self-development both as a communications engineer and as a manager. Anticipating problems to be encountered by a new supervisor, the company provides training not only in technical knowledge required by an assignment, but also in personnel administration, labor relations, etc. Because of the broad scope of assignments available, you find opportunity for rapid advancement in almost every field of endeavor."
