World News

• PARIS, Oct. 26—Fear was rising tonight over the "pirate" attacks on French vessels which were seriously attacked by airplanes of an unknown source. Immediately one destroyer was dispatched in search of the aggressor and an order for several more to follow was issued.

• KIANGWAN, Oct. 26—This city was in flames tonight as the Japanese offense was rolling its grand offensive into the suburbs of Shanghai. Also the Japanese have crushed the Chinese defense at Tazang and Miaochang.

• BERLIN, Oct. 26—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, economics minister of Germany, threw the Prussian financial center into a furor tonight when he handed his resignation to Reichsfeugrer Adolf Hitler. For the time, Schacht will retain his position as president of the reichsbank. Resignation came after steady conflict with Goering who is attempting a Germany of financial independence.

• BOSTON, Oct. 26—Former President Herbert Clark Hoover declared tonight that the duty of the Republican party was to protect the minority groups of the American people from persecution of an unbridled rule of a majority leader. Hoover also cited the bewildering status of the present administration.

PROFESSIONAL TALENT TO GIVE SHOWS

• Plans are on foot for getting paid assemblies for State college, according to Danny D'Alfonso, student body president. Seventy-five dollars donated by the faculty for educational assemblies and fifty dollars received by the service clubs and turned over to the assembly fund are to be used in procuring these assemblies. Tentative schedules have included exhibitions of Liquid Air, Television, The Wonders of Electricity, and Snakes.

Contacts are being made by the International Relations club for the procuring of foreign educational pictures to be shown in assemblies. St. Anthony's Choir is also slated to appear sometime next semester.

In speaking of the assembly schedule, Danny said, "If possible, we wish to make the assemblies so interesting this year that the auditorium will be packed for each one. If present plans work out, it is hoped that students will not have to be asked to go to assembly but will go because there will be something interesting for them to see."

LIBRARY SHOWS ODD PRINTS

• An unusual and attractive exhibit, consisting of hand-painted covers done by Mr. Fred W. Lueders, uncle of Mrs. Margaret Bennett of the faculty, is now on display in the college library.

The subjects of the delicate watercolor pictures reflect Mr. Lueders' leisure time interests: animals, outdoor life, deserts and mountain scenes, but never with a duplication of design. In this particular collection, which was selected from a large number written to Mrs. Bennett and her family, he has used clever designs for the name plates, such as a sign board by a road, an addressed package and a carved rock.

At Compton J.C.
Mr. Lueders, formerly a resident of Santa Barbara and now frequently a visitor here, is head of the Art department of Compton junior college. A number of his former students who are attending State too have received beautiful covers from him.

Repeatedly Mr. Lueders has been asked to paint covers for commercial purposes, but he has always refused, preferring to use his artistic gift for the pleasure of his friends.

Skill Trial Reveals Talent

Twenty-Five Participate in 'Talent Audition' in Auditorium

ENTERTAIN ALUMNI

Program Will Include Many
Last Year's 'Revue'
Performers

• Over twenty-five talented State students reported to the auditorium yesterday afternoon to participate in the "Talent Audition" sponsored by the rally committee and directed by Jack Manson.

The audition was held in preparation for the annual Homecoming rally to be given November 12 in the auditorium. General rehearsals will begin next week.

Largest Rally

The rally is the largest pre-game event scheduled during football season. Tickets for this performance are sold by the rally committee to students and townspeople.

The talent list for the "surprise program" includes many of last year's Roadrunner Revue stars and as well as many newcomers to the campus.

Will Notify Students

Those who were present yesterday will be notified as to rehearsal dates as soon as possible. Students who did not attend the try-outs and who wish to appear in the rally should contact Jack Kitchen, ack Manson or Petie McKinney immediately.

Students Talk for Contest Prizes in December

• With merchandise awards as prizes students will compete in an extemporaneous speech contest December 7 and 8. This is the first contest of this type to be held on the State campus. In charge will be the Speakers and Entertainers bureau.

Eligibility in the contest is limited only in that participants must be enrolled members of the student body. Finals will see eight speakers contending for prizes with longer speeches than the preliminaries. Entrance must be made by November 15.

Subjects Given

Subjects of the talks will be "Can America Remain Neutral?", "Basic Causes of Our Labor Trouble", "Will the Sino-Japanese War Affect Us?", "A Student Looks at Modern Marriage", "Education vs. Crime", "Is N.Y.A. Necessary?", "Professionalism in College Athletics", "Military Training in Our Schools", "The Effect of Vocational Guidance on Curricula", "Is It Practical to Work One's Way Through College?"

These are drawn by chance and if the speaker does not like the subject he may draw second which he must keep. Only one draw is allowed in the finals.

Rules forbid the use of notes or any materials to speak from. There will be a general review of all topics before the contest and a reference shelf in the library will be set up.

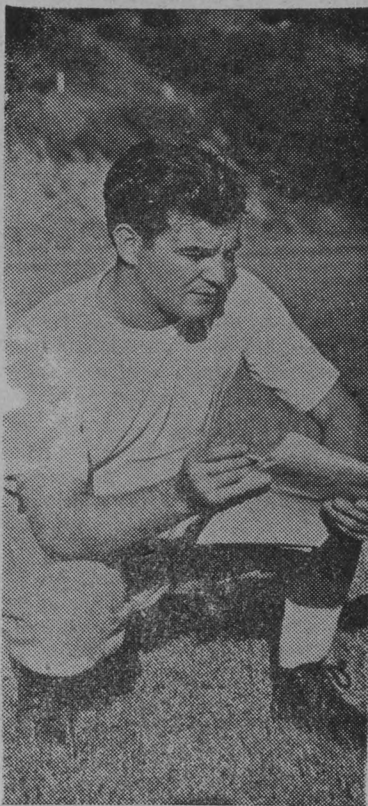

Speeches will be judged on poise, adjustment, voice, articulation, diction, content, physical bearing and gestures, total effect. Judges will be drawn from townspeople and faculty.

Halferty Wins in A.W.S. Poll

• Ballots cast in Friday's election named Mary Alice Halferty as second vice-president of the Associated Woman Students. Election was held to fill the vacancy left by Barbara Hoose. Mary Alice Halferty is a senior and a member of Alpha Theta Chi sorority.

Duties to be taken over by the new officer are the supervising of welfare work for the women's organization, organizing of the Christmas basket donations and sending flowers throughout the year to college students who are ill.

Coach Wilton

Wilton Heads Cage Sport for '38

New Set-Up Starts Team
Towards Battle for Loop Lead

• Serving notice that the conference basketball teams had better sit up and take notice, the faculty athletic committee yesterday appointed Willie Wilton as head of the cage sport for the 1937 and '38 season.

The new mentor was coach of the championship freshman team last year, and has had considerable experience since his graduation from U.C.L.A. in 1935.

"The ball in the basket-system" will characterize the green and white team," stated Willie, "and I mean the right basket."

Prospects Favorable

Prospects are favorable for a good season, with a number of last year's varsity men returning and bolstered by some excellent sophomores and men from the P.E. majors of last year. Added to the men of known experience are those being uncovered by the extensive intramural program now in progress under the direction of Coach Hal Davis. There are also several jaysee transfers on the campus who show promise.

The start of the season will depend on the termination of the present football schedule, but it will begin with a barnstorming trip through California. Tentative games have been drawn up with U.C.L.A. and the University of Hawaii and post season games will be played with the leading club teams of Southern California.

Morelli

• Ending a month old controversy ranging about the eligibility of Bob Morelli, Gaucho star halfback, the college faculty athletic committee, voted Monday, to bench the "Scooter" for the remainder of the season.

In light of the possible difference of opinion regarding Morelli's conference eligibility, the action was taken to protect the best interests of the school and the football team, according to Dr. Charles Jacobs, chairman of the board. The announcement was made through a letter to members of the Southern California Athletic conference.

The decision was made although it was known that Morelli would be in shape again, in two weeks recovered from a dislocated arm received in Texas Mines game. Clyde Frisholtz will be used to fill Morelli's shoes, according to "Spud" Harder. Bill McArthur, also an understudy of "Little Box", is out with an ankle injury for another week.

'Big Bad Wolf' Set for Homecoming Theme

Floats for Parade to Use Theme of Nevada Gridders Prior to Saturday Game

• "The Big Bad Wolf" has been definitely set by the rally committee as the general theme for floats in the annual Homecoming parade to be held the night of November 12, preceding the rally in the auditorium. The theme was chosen from the "Wolves," the school name of the University of Nevada whose football team plays against State Saturday night, November 13.

Deviation Acceptable

Any deviation from this theme will be in order, such as "Keeping the Wolf from the Door" or a suitable nursery rhyme. As Reno, Nevada is known as the "Divorce City," a theme pertaining to this will also be acceptable.

All campus organizations are urged to start work immediately on floats to enter, as first and second prizes will be offered by the rally committee for the floats and also decorated cars.

Organize at Beach

The parade will organize between Santa Barbara street and State street on Cabrillo boulevard at 7 o'clock and the line of march will be up State to Valerio.

A committee of judges to be composed of faculty members and downtown merchants will judge the parade from in front of the old post-office.

SWORD PUSHERS, WRESTLERS ENTERTAIN

• Clashing of foils and the grunts and groans of wrestlers enlivened the assembly hour yesterday morning when members of the minor sports teams gave an exhibition in the auditorium of their respective sports. Marlin Nelson and Norman Phillips gave an exhibition of fencing, with Marlin giving the audience explanations concerning the finer points of the game, explaining the difference between fencing as done in different countries and stating the purpose of the fencing group.

An exhibition of wrestling was given by Henry Bartol, student instructor, and Kent Pillsbury. Pillsbury told of the difference between intercollegiate amateur wrestling and professional and gave an idea of what is being done in the wrestling class.

Statements

• Anyone planning parties or events which would be suitable for La Cumbre photographs please get in touch with me preferably several days ahead of the date set.

BRUCE STEELE,

Photograph Editor.

• Arrangements should be made in the near future by classes, departments, fraternities, sororities to pay for their page or half-page in La Cumbre, State college yearbook. The price is $40 and $25 for a page or a half-page. A time limit will soon be set when the money must be turned in.

NORMAN PHILLIPS,
Business Manager.

• All Industrial Education department members should pay their dues of 75 cents to Richard Chatten as soon as possible.

RICHARD CHATTEN

MATHEWS MADE SUPERVISOR

• William C. Mathews, class of 1926, is now supervisor of trade and industrial education departments in 24 junior highs and high schools in Oakland. News of the promotion was received by E. E. Ericson, head of the industrial education department.

Mathews served as principal of the Central trade school in Oakland. He received a master's degree from Stanford.

Students Play 'Macbeth'

Club Picks Shakespearian
Tragedy for Second Production

• The cast for "Macbeth", second play of the year to be presented by the Players' Club was chosen Friday afternoon following tryouts in the auditorium during 7th and 8th hours. The cast is still subject to the approval of the deans and the eligibility committee, according to Mr. Frederick Hile, director and instructor in English department.

Call Plays Lead

Miss Theda Call was chosen to play Lady Macbeth opposite Mr. Frederick Hile as Macbeth. Mr. Hile is considered to be an excellent Shakespearian actor and has done much work on the stage as Shakespear. Carl Jorgenson, new president of the Players' Club will act the part of Macduff opposite Miss Winifred Nichols as Lady Macduff.

Others in the cast will be Miss Kathleen Macleish, Miss Betty Talbot, Miss Anna Lou Jacobs, Miss Betty Howell, Miss Caroline Smith, Mr. Forsyth, Paul Williams, Clyde Cadwell, James Lyons, Jed Blake, Lloyd Borstelmann, Norman Becchio, and Terry Boyer.

The performance which will follow "Whistling in the Dark" will run for three nights during the middle of January.

Completed Handbook Available for All Students

• Handbooks are now on sale at a desk inside the main entrance of the administration building.

Included in this student directory are the Gaucho campus traditions, constitution of the associated students, with all its by-laws and the faculty and student directory. It is left to every true Gaucho to know the local traditions. The constitution affords a valuable source of information such as organization regulations or requirements for an award. Finally, the value of the directory containing addresses and telephone numbers is self-explanatory. It is worth much more than the cost of printing price, ten cents.

MacKellar Edits

The handbook staff includes Christina MacKellar, editor; Shirley Moore, assistant editor; Petie McKinney, advertising manager; Norman Phillips, assistant advertising manager; and Miss Hazel Severy, faculty adviser.

Folders of the proper size to hold the handbooks may be purchased at the student cooperative store.

Committee Selects Cabin Group

• Under the sponsorship of the student body social committee, a new college cabin committee was chosen yesterday morning at a special meeting of the former group.

Merritt Sloniker was named chairman, with Bruce Steele, Wilma Keisner, as student aides, and Miss Gladys Van Fossen and Mr. Fred L. Griffin as faculty sponsors. Those meeting to appoint the new heads included Bill McKenzie, Wilma Keisner, Dean Lois Bennick, Miss Fossen, and Danny D'Alfonso.

Black Sheep?

• Friday morning the football team will leave the campus and travel to Whittier to be entertained by the Poets for a few hours during the evening, and probably between 500 and 1,000 supporters will follow the local eleven for another week-end of hilarious frivolity and consequently add another smudge to the already blackening reputation of our institution.

A point for Santa Barbarans to remember is that we as a school are growing and have a brilliant future ahead of us in the athletic world. But a rub comes in by reviewing the actions of the followers in out of town games during the past two years who in good faith whoop it up after the game. It's a lot of fun to be rowdy in a town away from home, but wanton destruction of property and petty thievery which characterizes the actions of over enthusiastic individuals is out of place on trips of this kind.

A fact of interest to the students here planning to be teachers is that it will become harder for them to be placed in schools in the southern section of the state if actions continue at the present rate. It is needless to say what an effect a boycott on Santa Barbara trained teachers would have on the growth of the school. This is not a discussion on the merits of prohibition, but it is one that appeals to the common sense of the individual to take care of himself and do his best to stay on the right side of public opinion.

If nothing is done to check these actions it will take only about two years and there will be no first class hotel wanting to risk the dubious honor of being the "Gauchito Headquarters." Results of the recent Redland's trip has caused Spud Harder to even consider keeping the Gauchito team in the Whittier refectory so as to remove any shadows cast at the official representatives of the school. The team will no doubt find some nice comfortable hotel to stay in, but every effort will be made to keep any "Campus Widows" from disturbing the squad.

Another point to remember is the newly formed board of students whose duty it is to recommend courses of action to the deans' offices, and the opinion of this group is that there is no room for drunks at football games or for vandalism afterwards.—J. E. J.

Cry Communist

• General Baron Sadao Araki came out with a funny one today in an interview with the press. He said that the reason Japan was fighting China was to prevent that wicked Chiang Kai-Shek from turning the country over to the Communists. This is faintly reminiscent of the public utterances of Samuel Insull, quondam ruler of Midwest Utilities for that worthy always shouted that his enemies were Communists. It is an ancient trick and worked at first, but now it has something of the staleness of last week's newspaper.

However, to clarify the record we may examine Araki's statement. Chiang Kai-Shek, it must be remembered, was a bitter foe of the Chinese Communists and shot them with monotonous regularity whenever they fell into his hands. He headed a strictly nationalistic organization, the Kuomintang party, and sent Mike Borodin, Soviet snooper, packing to Moscow. After that he sent out armies to fight the Chinese Communists. His armies were all defeated when they entered Communist soil, but it did not increase his love for them. His ardor was cooled, naturally, when he got a thumping defeat. Meanwhile the Chinese Communists looked over their ramparts and developed a strong Nationalist (and therefore anti-Communist) feeling when they saw Japan looting China. They agreed to call off the internecine war, patched up their differences, and sent their army to fight for Nationalist China.—J. C. S.

Letter to the Editor

• By your lief, dear editor-in-chief, I give you—
"An Ode to a Spook"
A silly, spooking goblin sat perched upon a fence,
And contemplated seriously his change
to the past tense.
I haven't spooked a soul today
or even given chase,
I'm slipping, he thought mournfully,
and a tear bounced off his face.

And then our spooky goblin just sat and sat and sat
Until the bright idea pounced upon him like a cat.
"Why bats and witches brooms!" he cried,
"I'll just change my disguise."
To be an up and coming spook one really must modernize.
So now on cool October nights when goblins sail the sky
Look closely when you pass them, at their tails, top coat, and tie.

(signed)
I'm really too bashful to claim my due fame
So I'll just be anonymous and not sign my name.

Questionnaire

• What do you dislike most about our college?

LEONARD FREDLUND:
Trying to find a seat in the library third period.

BILL HILTON:
The lack of a place to park.

JEAN HOLMAN:
Not allowing the girls to smoke on the campus.

BILL PAMBRUM:
Keep the Gauchito club a little more respectable. Too many childish pranks. Such as pouring salt on tables and piling glasses.

SUE BAAT:
The problem of finding a place to sit in the Gauchito club at noon.

RONALD HURT:
The lack of Friday afternoon dances.

BERNICE JACOBSEN:
The fact that the college is situated on top of the hill. I have to climb up and down about six times a day

JIMMIE STANLEY:
The lawn mower they call a piano in the Cafeteria.

BARBARA HOOSE:
Lack of ventilation in the smoke-filled Gauchito club.

WINNIE SNASDELL:
Eight o'clock classes on cold mornings.

MARY TUCKER:
Assemblies. They should all be as interesting as the last which I consider an exception to the usual run.

LAS ESPUELAS SELLS CANDY

• On Wednesday, October 27, Las Espuelas, sophomore women's service organization, are asking for the support of the students when they stage a candy sale for the purpose of raising money for the sophomore class. Candy will be priced at ten cents a bag and it is hoped by members of Las Espuelas that State students will get behind this event and make it a success.

Librarian Has Had Varied Experience

• Have you noticed the new smiling, red-haired librarian? Her name is Mrs. Ida Mae Edwards, and her home town since 1920 has been Santa Barbara. While attending Santa Barbara State Teachers' college in 1929 she was Miss Ball's only assistant. She graduated from here in 1932 and one year later graduated from the University of Oklahoma with a B.A.L.S. degree, finishing out with graduate work at Claremont college. Soon after that Mrs. Edwards did social service work for Santa Barbara County. For the past three years she has worked as librarian at La Cumbre junior high school.

Mrs. Edwards, formerly Miss Ida Mae Reeder, was married to Mr. James Sidney Edwards of England in June of 1936.

Texans Play Gauchos to Tie Game

State Footballers Receive Second Blemish on Season's Record

HEINEMAN STARS

Spectacular Miner Squad Outplayed and Outgained, But Not Outfought

• Another bomb was thrown into the Gaucha gridiron record last Friday night. However, it exploded only partially and the Staters emerged with a 13-13 tie.

The bomb took the form of a fighting band of Texas Mines football warriors, led by one of the finest backs to face State this year, "Hurling Heinie" Heineman. Although billed as successor to Sammy Baugh, former Texas Christian passer, Heineman found his accurate tosses exceedingly well covered by Gaucha backs, and forsook his specialty to show the locals some fancy steppin' during the game.

Yeager Leads

The Gaucha attack was led as usual by Howard Yeager, an infallible halfback if their ever was one. Removed in the second quarter with a badly cut lip, Yeager came back in the third period to pave the way to his team's tying touchdown and to threaten the Miners with several of his nice runs.

Texas made the first score in the second period, after Matthews had intercepted Wilson's fumble in mid-air and run 20 yards to a touchdown. The touchdown was not allowed at first, but after some discussion by the officials, the decision was reversed. Moore's conversion made the score 7-0. Later in the half, the Santa Barbarans' attack began to function smoothly and a sustained drive from their own 29-yard marker resulted in a score, Monson going over. The conversion was made on a buck.

Heineman Runs 56 Yards

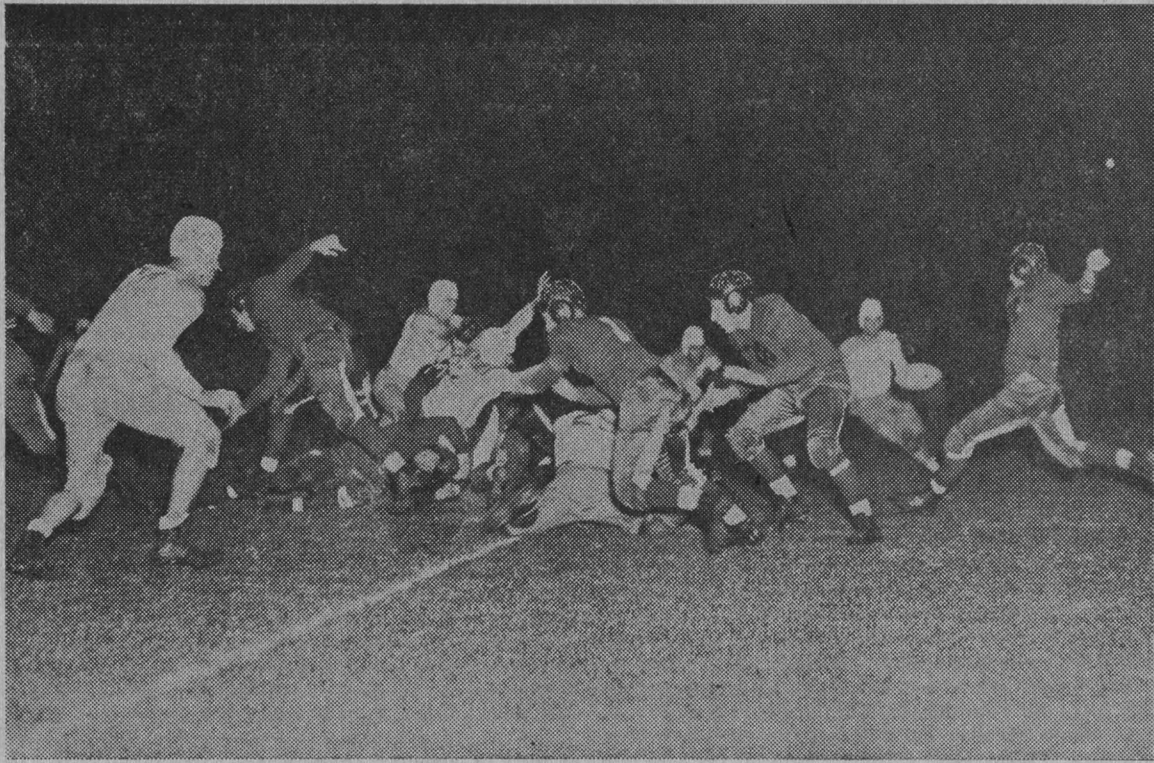

The most beautiful play of the game saw Heineman run 56 yards through the entire Gaucha team to make the score 13-7 in the latter part of the third quarter. Immediately following, the Hilltoppers again got moving and drove 70 yards downfield to tie the ball game, 13-13. It was Monson who tallied, again going over from the one-yard line.

The fourth quarter saw both teams trying desperately to score. The Miners' goal-booting ace, Arnold, attempted a field goal from the thirty-eight that was blocked by Oldershaw. As the game drew to a close, the State offense again started rolling and a sustained drive brought the pigskin within six precious yards of the goal, where the Miners held for downs. The game ended several plays later.

Morelli Injured

A severe blow was dealt the Hilltopper forces when little Bobby Morelli was taken out of the game several minutes after the start with a drawn up in November and State will entertain a majority of league foes on home courts. Practice will begin November 15 in the Flying A gym and footballers who wish to come out will be asked to report after the El Paso trip.

"The big question I am concerned with," Wilton added, "is will the school back basketball to the same extent they are backing football?" There is no reason why this should be only a football school. If the student body will support the home games I'm sure we can establish ourselves in the conference."

Don Kupfer has been asked to take over the frosh and another good season is looked for from the peagreeners.

dislocated elbow. He will be out for about two weeks. The previously injured, Bill McArthur and Peirino Merlo, were sorely missed. They will probably be ready for next Friday's encounter with Whittier, however.

Yeager again resumed his role as leading ground-gainer, after relinquishing it to Dave Pollock last week, and rolled up an exceptional average of a little more than eight yards per try. Santa Barbara outgained the Texans, 252 to 157. The Miners' forwards were so well covered that only five out of the nineteen passes thrown were completed. First downs stood at fifteen for the Staters and twelve for the Muckers.

San Diego Wins Over New Mexico Aggies As Oxy and Redlands Play Scoreless Tie

• The old story of unexpected victory and unexpected defeat was reenacted on the nation's gridiron again last week as the national pastime reached the season's half-way mark.

Every team in the local conference went into action for the second weekend since this year's football wars were started. However, the only encounter between conference members was staged by Redlands and Occidental who fought to a 0-0 tie. San Diego Aztecs reached their peak in trimming the New Mexico Aggies 20-0. Both squads proved to have plenty on the ball, indicating that the Gauchos will have two busy weekends with these foes they have yet to play.

La Verne made its first score of the season against Pomona, but lost a one-sided game, 27-7. The Whittier Poets lost their fifth straight battle to Willamette, 13-7. Although the Poets' record looks dismal, it is far from that; all but one loss they have suffered have been by only one touchdown, every opponent being a better than average team.

Big time football saw more undefeated clubs tumble and saw others strengthen their positions in the race for national honors. California's new Wonder team ripped through U.S.C. for three scores in the first half and then coasted during the second to win 20-6. Minor surprises witnessed U.C. L.A. lose 3-0 to Washington State and Stanford defeated Washington, 13-7.

In the east Pittsburgh, Yale and Fordham continued to be victorious, while Joe Kilgrow paced his Alabamans to a 19-0 win over George Washington U.

Passing in Review

By TOM WHARTON

• San Diego is 34 points better than State; San Diego is 3 points better than State; State is 26 points better than San Diego.

Lesse' now—State tied Oxy and San Diego beat Oxy 3-0. That makes us six points worse, no?

But we licked Redlands 31-0, Oxy tied us and was beaten 3-0 by San Diego, and then played a scoreless tie against Redlands! So we're twenty-six points on the good side of the Aztecs, the figures say.

Now look at this. We tied Texas Mines, Texas Mines lost 14-0 to New Mexico Aggies, New Mexico Aggies lost 20-0 to San Diego. The Aztecs are then thirty-four points on our bum side, don't you think?

Who said that figures don't lie? Looks like the only way we can get out of this is to play three games. Something like the Morelli case, ain't it?

By looking at these scores, one would gather that the Whittier Poets are pretty tough, too. They were defeated only by six points to the San Diego squad. Having lost their two principle stars of last year, Johnny Nelson and Elvin Hutchinson, the Poets are using an entirely new system from what they practiced in 1936. The plays are built around a little Japanese streak of lightning named Kunishima, nd Bob Shuler, son of the Reverend Shuler and brother of the Army star of last season.

Something about the New Mexico Aggies, while we're this close to the subject.

State plays them on December 4, the last game of the season. The Aggies' only loss was to the Aztecs last week, but outside of this they have not been scored upon. Not even Texas Mines could do it. Their offense is built around a tough little 170 pound guy named Eddie Miller. Reports have it that Eddie is one of the best punters in the South, having averaged sixty yards in some games last year. This sounds pretty tall, but the fact still remains that he is no slouch. He passes and runs, too, as well as anyone else on the squad, if not better. The Aggies are tough, and the Gauchos will be in for a hard afternoon on December 4.

Alumni Plans Extensive Program for Homecoming

Abraham Leads Alumni in Making Plans, Class of '12 to Meet

• Alumni in large numbers will invade the city and campus for the most comprehensive Homecoming in the history of State. This was revealed yesterday by Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, alumni secretary, upon completion of the multi-event program.

Featured by the Homecoming dinner and dance at the Santa Barbara Biltmore, Saturday evening, November 13, the round of activities will include group dances, teas, open houses, and many breakfasts, staged by the college fraternity and sorority organizations in honor of their alumni members.

An outstanding event of 1937 Homecoming will be the reunion of the class of 1912, celebrating its 25th anniversary. The class graduated in the Blake Memorial building on Victoria street and, according to Hoy Dia, official alumni publication, its membership includes civic and educational leaders of California and other states.

Guests will include Dr. Ednah Rich Morse, founder and president emeritus of the college; Mary Harris Tracy, first dean; Winifred Frye, Charlotte Penniman Ebbets (for whom Ebbets Hall was named), former head of the Home Economics department; President and Mrs. Phelps. Lillian Graves, '12, of Chaffey Junior college and L. Orrie Groce, '12, of Riverside High school have charge of the reunion festivities.

Held previously in the college dining hall, the big event of Homecoming, the banquet and dance, because of the large number of participants expected has been transferred to the beautiful dining and ball room of the Biltmore, said Mrs. Abraham.

A highlight of the banquet will be the special bridal couples' table. Heads of departments will be hosts at his or her own table, it was announced in Hoy Dia.

Current faculty members who will figure prominently in Homecoming activities as members of the Alumni association are Fred Allred, physical education; Helen M. Barnett, head of music department; Margaret Burke Bennett, English department; Ruth M. Doolittle, art; Isabel Morton Fish, art; Fred L. Griffin, industrial education; Florence L. Lyons, industrial education; Zelma Pierce, mathematics; John Porter, industrial education; Roy L. Soules, industrial education; Louie S. Taylor, industrial education; Schurer O. Werner, industrial education.

GAMMA SIGS PLAN HALLOWE'EN DANCE

• Holding their first dance of the semester the Gamma Sigma Pi social fraternity will stage a barn dance with a Halloween theme Saturday night from 9 until one in the Erving Barn near Goleta.

Fred Smoot, social chairman, announced that added to the members and pledges of the fraternity would be several members of the faculty who will be invited to attend.

The barn will be decorated with bales of hay, stalks of corn and a number of pumpkins.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

• Kappa Beta Kappa of Trinity and All Saints Episcopal churches, an organization of college young people, are announcing to members and their friends the preparation of a Halloween party 7:30 Saturday, October 30 in the parish hall at State and Micheltorena streets.

STUDENTS DANCE AT DEPT. PARTY

• The first social event of the year for the Elementary department students occurred Saturday night when they held their scavenger hunt. The hunt started from Ebbets Hall and proceeded from there to find such articles as watermelon seeds, cobwebs, old rubber boats and ancient calendars.

First prize was won by Miss Velma Stewart and Harry Stewart. Miss Scharleen Horner, Paul Oppy and Harrison Hopkins followed with second place.

At 10:00 P. M. dancing started in the cafeteria, featuring lemon, box and broom dances, with various games. Refreshments were served to the large group of students and supervising teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scalapino and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnett were sponsors for the affair.

A gift was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leister in honor of their child. Mr. Leister is a senior in the department.

Stores who donated various prizes for dances and games were Seeley's Candy store, the Town House, Routh's Candy Shop, Sheetz, Lee's Kandy Kettle and Thompson's.

Members of the department functioned as committee chairmen and members to make the affair a success.

• TOKIO, Oct. 26—Declaration that Japan should strike a direct blow at Russia was made by General Baron Sadao Araki to the American press. Araki accused China of being a Communistic suburb of Russia with Chaing Kai Shek as the ward leader.

Gnome Club Gives Initiation Dinner

• Members of the Gnome club held their formal dinner Sunday evening, October 24 at the Barbara hotel. Officers introduced by the president, Esther Carter, after dinner were, Juanita Eldridge, vice-president; Christina MacKellar, secretary; Ruth Parker, treasurer; Helen Brownless, social chairman; Ruth Matthews, historian; Mabel Forsythe, welfare chairman; and Kay Stock, publicity.

Table decorations for the affair were done in fall flowers and colors. Each guest was given a corsage by the club. Music during the dinner was furnished by Mary Marjorie Casity.

Mrs. Abraham, sponsor of the club, was introduced and responded with a few words to the guests.

After dinner the group adjourned to Mrs. Abraham's home for formal candle-light initiation. New members who were initiated were Dorothy McConnell, Babe Randell, Elizabeth Randall, Ruth Bowen, Phyllis Elliott, Mary Finney, Margaret Jones, Mary Dreyer, Betty Loomis, Marion Gragg, Lois Boege, Betty Smith, Lucille Stipe and Pauline Hays.

Church Group Gives Halloween Party

• A Halloween party will be given for all college students, League members, and friends at the First Methodist church on Friday evening, Oct. 29. Games, a ghost-walk, and refreshments will be the highlights of the evening. Guests are invited to come at 8 o'clock wearing old clothes or costumes. A prize will be given to the individual who is the most successful in concealing his identity. The church is located at the corner of Anapamu and Garden streets.

In Memoriam

• Sympathies are extended to the family and friends of Martin Coen, chief deputy district attorney for the county of Santa Barbara who died Friday evening shortly after falling from the top of Peabody stadium.

Services were in the Catholic funeral ritual with Father Stack officiating and extending personal tribute to the young man. Father Stack was the teacher of the attorney when Coen was a boy.

The accident took place when Coen became excited while watching the Texas football game and fell backwards over the wall. Immediately he was taken to the St. Francis hospital where he passed away.

Pu Ko How Enjoys Halloween Party

• Pu Ko How, social club of State college, enjoyed a combination kid and halloween party in a local barn, on Saturday evening. Children's games, bobbing for apples, and dancing filled a very lively evening.

The prizes for the most appropriate costumes were won by Wilma Kiesner and Mike Davis. The affair was sponsored by Mrs. Phil Kiney, sponsor of the club.

Members and guests present were, Viola Meroney, Eunice Lynn, Violet Barnett, Ethel Clendennen, Katherine Ruiz, Jeane Ruoff, Marie Glover, Mary Ellen Bolton, Pauline Stoops, Betty Peden, Marie Vierra, Lucile Solberg, Mary Tone, Rosie Pagliotti, Lillian Mulock, Wilma Keisner, Maxine Steele, Sally Chavez, Griselda Young, Allen Lavine, Mike Davis, Gordon Woosley, Richard McKeon, Karl Wollarth, Angelo Ferrario,

Alpha Thetas and D.Z.D's Meet Together

• Delta Zeta Delta and Alpha Theta Chi social sororities held a joint meeting at the home of Judy Drennen on Alta Vista road. Renata Maccianti and Alice Boeseke were in charge of refreshments. The decorations and refreshments were carried out in a Halloween motif. Presidents of the two sororities, Mary Alice Halferty, and Betty Palmaymesa, presided at the coffee and tea tables.

Special guests of the evening were Dean Bennink and Miss Clark, lawyer for all sororities on campus.

Sorority patronesses and sponsors present were Mrs. Byron Abraham, Mrs. Jack Porter, Mrs. Hitchcock, and Mrs. Theodore Harder.

Both of the sororities held short business meetings before the joint meeting. At these meetings they discussed further plans for Homecoming social events.

Members of both sororities who were in attendance were, Barbara Sharp, Barbara Tibby, Ellen Seymour, Alice Boeseke, Miriam Hendy, Phyllis La Source, Ann Seymour, Petie McKinney, Toots Arnold, Colleen Murphy, Betty Palmaymesa, Irene Minikin, Barbara Putman, Evelyn Warner, Barbara Philip, Audrey Lockard, Ann Gibson, Nancy Darrow, Wyn Nichols, Millicent Lincoln, Stella Mae Smith, Carol Warren, Rosalind Rawicz and Rena Saccagnah.
