GEORGE R. BLISS
State Assemblyman, of Carpinteria who makes his announcement this week of his candidacy for re-election at the August primaries. Mr. Bliss has achieved an enviable record at Sacramento, and it is felt generally he will be returned.

To Form Sinclair Club

A public meeting will be held in the Little Theater of the High school next Tuesday evening at 7:30 to form a Sinclair club. Allen K. Thompson of Sierra Madre, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Mrs. Marian Craig Wentworth of Santa Barbara will outline the club's work. Phil Wiedman, Santa Barbara, will be another speaker on the evening's program. Officers of the organization are Henry Bliss, president, R. E. Moore, vice-president and the secretary treasurer will be selected at the meeting.

LINTZ TO DELIVER TWO COMMENCEMENT ADDRESSES

Superintendent Harry A. Lintz, grammar school head, will deliver the commencement addresses at both the Santa Maria and Orcutt grammar school graduations. His subject will be "Success is service."

Valley Merchants Take Santa Paula

The Carpinteria Valley Merchants traveled to Santa Paula last Sunday to defeat the league-leading Santa Paula Saragosas by a score of 7-3. The local team is now in third place in the league, and dropped Santa Paula down to tie with Sespe for the league championship. Carpinteria made 14 hits to Santa Paula 5. Bennett and Alonzo were the batteries for Carpinteria, L. Silva and R. Cuevas for Santa Paula. The victory was credited to Bennett. The locals travel again next Sunday to Oxnard to play the Oxnard Aces.

The Garden Club met today at the home of Katherine and Myrtle Ballard. About 40 guests were present to enjoy a picnic lunch and afternoon program.

Things To Remember:

Johnny Bailard's old "Lima Bean"—the horse that cleaned up every purse at the old Bradley Saltpond race track (now the bird refuge).

The old Octagon House that stood at the junction of Franklin canyon and Foothill roads—the landmark from which many a journey started.

Hauling water from Carpinteria Creek on a sled before the days of artesian wells.

The family of pickaninnies who used to live on the far side of Santa Monica creek.

The Texas longhorns and sheep that used to be driven through town amid clouds of dust—now they ride through town in elaborate trucks on dustless highways.

Softball League Formation to Be Completed Tuesday

Some thirty or more prospective soft ball players turned out Tuesday night to the organization meeting at the grammar school diamond. After a short discussion, sides were chosen and a short practice game was played.

All who reported were enthusiastic over the prospect of a Twilight League, so another meeting and practice was called for tonight at the grammar school diamond to further complete plans. It is hoped to organize about six or eight teams and form a league.

It is possible that both the high and grammar schools will enter teams and there is a rumor of a high and grammar school faculty team being formed. It is highly probable that local business houses will see fit to organize teams and enter them in the league.

It also is understood that local girls are interested in forming teams and crossing bats with the men.

Next Tuesday evening at five thirty there will be another meeting of all those interested during which time permanent teams will be organized, and if enough teams report, the league formed. The meeting will be held on the grammar school baseball diamond. Anyone is eligible to play and a much larger turnout is hoped for. Be there!

My main objectives will be (1) efficiency in government, (2) the lowest cost adequate to the needs of good government, (3) equalization of the tax burden, and (4) the stimulation of private employment and the provision of public employment on lasting worthwhile projects. Carpinteria Club Takes S. B. Japs in Fast Game; 10-6

A new baseball team, composed entirely of Americans, played rings around the rosy Sunday afternoon with the Santa Barbara Japanese Athletic Club nine and took the orientals to the cleaners.

The local boys showed up in grand style, full of pep, and would have taken the game from the White Sox—they were that rarin' to go. The result was the Japs went home with six runs and Carpinteria divided 10 among themselves. The Barbarens must have thought they were playing Goleta, for they brought along a chucker who found a bat nearly every time he tossed one in. They even changed twirlers, but the ball consistently followed the groove made by the first moundsman.

Carpinteria started off with Mix VandeMark and Aspttle in the workhouse. The little fellows never did find Mix to speak of, and he hung up five strike-outs. Barrick, who replaced VandeMark in the seventh, chucked in one strike-out.

With the game in the bag, Cy Treloar, manager, began changing the line-up in the sixth frame, to give everyone a chance to play.

Carpinteria took one run in the first round, two in the third, five in the fifth, one in the sixth and one in the eighth, giving them ten runs altogether.

High School Has Big Political Year

The high school is all agog with politics! Large colorful streamers, posters, handbills etc., announce the candidacy of students for offices of the Student Body Control. Vice-president—Frank Wymond, 82; George Bliss, 51.

THE FIRE DISTRICT

It will be a long time before Carpinteria will have another chance equal to the one it will have on Tuesday, June 12th. At that time the polls will be open to property owners to vote on the formation of a much-needed and long-hoped-for fire district. A number of times before the valley has had similar chances for better fire protection (although the procedure was more expensive at that time than now) and turned them down. This time there are more property owners who realize the comparative uselessness of the present fire protection set-up.

Thorough investigation as to the cost and possibilities of obtaining new fire-fighting equipment and the formation of the district have been made by the "Carpinterians" fire committee, of which Cyril Hartley, local Ford dealer, is the chairman.

Trips by the committee to Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and Montecito, conferences with the heads of other fire districts, fire departments and the Board of Fire Underwriters culminated in the circulation of petitions which were enthusiastically signed by over 25 percent of the property owners of the valley who, anxious to materially reduce property loss by fire, were the signers. Many of the signatures were of property owners who had heretofore considered any added protection unnecessary. The situation not only is necessary, but as a matter of cold fact is extremely critical!

The Montecito fire department has graciously offered its services in the formation of a local department in the event the vote carries. This in itself proves their district will not be greatly disturbed by the formation of the local district, as some have suggested.

DRUNKEN DRIVING

There is one potent mixture, which is a combination of three ingredients—two chemical in nature and the third physical. The ingredients are Gasoline, Alcohol and Speed.

This editorial is directed to no one in particular and makes no accusations against anyone, but is pointed largely to those who do not object to a "Bottoms up!" occasionally themselves. Hardly a day passes when one cannot glance through his daily papers and read of the mangled, almost unrecognizable bodies of unfortunates who have been victims of the above three ingredients. The law of averages does not exclude the helpless babes-in-arm, children and the aged. All alike go unwillingly before this "devil mixture" and the toll is high.

There is a code of highway courtesy—a code of common-sense driving—founded upon co-operation and the respect one driver has for another. To some drivers the courtesy law of sober driving is not in their book.

The state is making every effort to clear up this highway menace, and it is probable that in the near future drunken driving—in fact, driving with even the smell of liquor about the driver—may become a prison offense.

THE "PASSING" BOGEY

Will the child pass? At this season of the year, with the school session rapidly drawing to a close, this is the uppermost question in the minds of parents and pupils.

It is conceivable that it should be so, for to them it means the difference between success and failure, the difference between hope and despair, the difference between encouragement and discouragement, the difference between promotion and dragging wearily a second time over a group of study-subjects.

Many parents recall that they had the same hurdle to mount when they were children. Those who do remember have a fuller sympathy for the child who now is confronted as were they.

The end-term situation with its question of passing or failing has been long established. It is one that has offered a stubborn resistance to change. I am glad to say, however, that a change is underway at last.

School officials have come to realize there is no basis upon which to declare progress or failure. They are placing emphasis on the fact that ability is a relative term. It is false economy to rush a pupil through a year of school only to repeat the work. It is poor practice to proceed at a higher rate than the pupil's comprehension will justify. Overcrowding can have its deadening effect.

BREVITIES

E. Solari plans to attend the meeting of the Santa Maria Post American Legion this evening. Homer Chaillaux, district commander will be the speaker of the evening.

Miss Virginia Fennel of Santa Barbara was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Sawyer and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woolsey and Mrs. Dickinson of Gardena were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hebel.

The Bliss, Shorkley and Furby families spent Memorial day at the Bliss beach camp.

William H. James and daughter, Mrs. Harold Mead and children visited relatives in Riverside yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McKinney and children of Orange have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. McKinney.

Mrs. S. B. Hohmann returned on Monday after spending several months visiting relatives in Lincoln, Nebraska, and St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hohmann and son Billy left today for a camping trip in the Yosemite.

The modern trend in schooling calls for pace adapted to the ability of the pupil. It asks for a normal advance that will not be so rapid as to test the nerves and physical well-being of the child, yet sufficiently rapid to prevent lagging. As rapidly as our schools can adjust themselves to relative progress, so soon will the "passing" bogey disappear, to the relief of the parent, the pupil, the teacher and the superintendent.

GEORGE W. LYNN

Santa Barbara newspaper editor, who has announced his candidacy for Congress from the Tenth district, which includes the counties of Ventura, Kern, Tulare, San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara. Because of his writings and public utterances on government, political science and economics, Lynn is well-known throughout the state.

Santa Barbara, May 31.—George W. Lynn, managing editor of the Santa Barbara Daily News, has announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for congress from the Tenth district, comprising the counties of Kern, Tulare, San Luis Obispo, Ventura and Santa Barbara. Mr. Lynn, a World war veteran, who served with the American air forces in France, has been a newspaper editor in Santa Barbara for eight years. Actively identified with state and national politics, he is declared to be well-known throughout the district for his championship of the New Deal and his consistent fight for the rights of the common man against special privilege. He has achieved an enviable record as an editor and as a leader in his party.

In making his announcement, Mr. Lynn said that it would be his prime purpose to do all in his power to bring the full benefits of the New Deal to the people of the five counties of the district, and he pledged himself to make every effort to hasten government loans on farms, ranches and homes. There can be no real recovery, he said, until the man on the bottom—the small farmer, the small merchant and the wage-earner—is given first consideration.

Discussing the needs of the district, he cited as the foremost necessity in Kern and Tulare counties the immediate development of the $170,000,000 water project voted last December and stated that if nominated and elected to congress, he would work untiringly and in complete sympathy with local leaders to put through the necessary appropriations to get the water development program under way. A higher oil tariff was urged by Mr. Lynn as one of his objectives, in order that foreign products be kept out and that oil men of the district might have a fair opportunity to realize on their large investments, thus placing large numbers of idle men once more in gainful occupations.

Strict economy in the handling of federal affairs and the elimination of cheap politics from all phases of the recovery program also will be sought by Lynn, and he advocates a public works program that "will put skilled labor back on the jobs for which it is trained and will turn relief expenditures into channels of intelligent construction work."

Miss Mary Braley, who teaches school at Hueneme, spent Memorial day at her home here.

CARPINTERIA CLUB ACTS AS HOSTESS

Dr. David Banks Rogers spoke at the weekly open house of the Santa Barbara Historical society in the small tower room in the courthouse Monday afternoon, when the Carpinteria Woman's Club acted as the hostess organization. Doctor Rogers talked on the formation of the asphalt pit on the Higgins ranch and of the specimens of prehistoric life he had found there. A piece of wood from a tree not less than 20,000 years old was exhibited from the collection of Lucian Higgins, and a gavel and stand made from the wood which had been turned on an ordinary lathe. G. E. Franklin told of early Carpinteria days, and the curator of the society, Miss Elizabeth Mason, showed old photographs, some of which were taken in Carpinteria, those attending from Carpinteria were Dr. Genevieve Shorkley, Mrs. George R. Bliss, Mrs. W. Guy Stockton, Mrs. John W. Young, Mrs. Lucian Higgins, Mrs. L. C. Kirkes and G. E. Franklin.

WORLD FLIER PICKS U. S. PLANE, GAS, FOR RACE

Choosing an American made airplane and American made gasoline and motor oils as the weapons with which he will fight for supremacy in the greatest aerial contest of his career, Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, who to world aviation is what Lindberg is to American, has arrived on the Pacific Coast to complete arrangements for his entry in the 12,000 mile international race from London to Melbourne, Australia, to be held next October 20th.

This race, sponsored by Sir McPherson Robertson, millionaire manufacturer of Melbourne, is open to planes of any type and pilots from every country on earth. More than 20 of the world's ace fliers are expected to enter, including such outstanding figures as "Jimmy" Doolittle and Wiley Post of this country.

Discuss Plans

While considerable mystery surrounds Kingsford-Smith's negotiations in the United States, it is definitely known that he will fly a Lockheed-Altair low wing monoplane, now under construction at the Lockheed plant in Burbank, California. Also, much of his time while here will be spent in conference with refinery experts of Socony-Vacuum Corporation and its affiliate, General Petroleum Corporation.

Kingsford-Smith for the past four years has been technical adviser to Vacuum Oil Properties, of Australia, affiliate on that continent of Socony-Vacuum. The plane will be powered with a single Pratt and Whitney super-charged Wasp and will be shipped to Melbourne when ready, to be flown from that city to London by Kingsford-Smith just prior to the race.

An imposing list of entries is assured by the size of the purse offered by the sponsor. First prize is 10,000 pounds, or approximately $50,000; second prize is $10,000. Contest rules are simple—first man to reach Melbourne gets the big money. Control points along the route, which traverses some of the worst jungle and most treacherous races on earth, are Bagdad; Allahabad, India; Singapore, Straits Settlements; Port Darwin, Northern Australia; Charleville, New South Wales; to Melbourne.

Time Element

To all of the points named, as well as London and a number of world-scattered emergency fields, special supplies of gasoline, oils and greases will have to be shipped weeks in advance of the actual race. Special lubricating equipment will have to be placed in the hands of selected men stationed deep in tropical jungles and on the sand-scoured wastes of deserts. In many cases native personnel, some of them recruited from remote savage races, will have to be trained to expeditiously service a plane the like of which they have never seen before, for upon such services may depend Kingsford-Smith's possible winning margin of minutes over his rivals.

The famous pilot will be accompanied on the dash by Capt. P. G. Taylor as navigator and assistant pilot. He expects to cover the distance from London to Melbourne at a speed which will average nearly 4,000 miles a day. It will probably be the last great race of his extraordinary career, as he has already announced his intention to retire from long distance contests at the end of the year.

Warriors Scalp
 Nordoff High in Revenge Game

Revengeing a lost baseball game two years ago, the local high school team traveled to the Ojai field and took that school into their Warrior camp by a score of 7 to 2. Woods pitched excellent ball for the locals, allowing only four hits and striking out fourteen Nordhoff high boys.

Although the Warriors only connected for six safe blows, singles by Lambert, Schuyler and a three-bagger by Morelli gave the team a four-run lead from which they were never headed.

The Santa Barbara Antlers handed the Warriors their first defeat in seven games when they took complete charge of a 11 to 4 victory last Tuesday. This group of Santa Barbara boys has been playing together for three years, and when reinforced by four star players of the Santa Barbara high school team, it proved to be too experienced for the Warrior team. Although the local boys made eleven hits to thirteen by the visitors, the Antlers took such a commanding lead the first four innings that the last-inning rallies of the Warriors did little damage.

The last five innings were even, with each team making four runs out of seven hits, but the heavy hitting by the Antlers plus several misplays by the locals spelled defeat for them in the second, third and fourth innings.

Woods with four hits out of four times up, Peterson with three and Morelli with two hits were the batting stars for Carpinteria. Rossi made four hits out of five times at bat for the Antlers.

A return game is scheduled for June 8 in Santa Barbara.

Friday afternoon the Cate school first team will meet the Warriors at 2:30 p. m. The high school lads say they are not going to lose another game this year, so this contest should be an excellent one.
