The News in Brief

LONDON, May 11—Seizure of Danzig and threats of Polish independence would start a general war in which England would have to fight, Prime Minister Chamberlain warned Germany today. "We are determined not to submit to the dictators," the British prime minister said in addressing a meeting of 10,000 women members of the Conservative party.

Hitler's denunciation of the naval treaty limiting Germany's fleet to one-third the size of the British also called for a rebuke by Chamberlain. His statement was taken as a hint that Britain can outbuild Germany if the latter wants to start an armaments race.

PARIS, May 11—France is strong, unified and ready to fight if necessary, Premier Daladier told parliament today in a militant speech of warning to the dictators. He admonished Germany and Italy that continued massing of troops will result in further French rearmament

17 Students Compete in Oratory Tilt

Intra-mural Contest Begins Thursday; Hile, Redding Judge Forensic Work

Seventeen State college students will battle their way into the preliminaries of the first campus intra-mural oratory contest Thursday. The orators will compete on subjects chosen by their own selection covering a length of approximately 1500 words.

Competition will start Thursday in the preliminary and continue over to Friday. Judges will be W. Charles Redding, director of forensics, and Frederic W. Hile, head of speech arts. A third judge is still to be selected.

Finals Monday

Finals of the oratory contest will be Monday evening, May 22. J. T. Daniel, student forensics manager will direct this program. Speech awards for the year may also be presented on this evening.

While Harry Sloan and Robert Scalapino will divide first and second prizes according to present ratings a strenuous battle is to be waged for third place. Closing up on third place are Raymond Baez, J. T. Daniel and Frank Douglas.

Week's Activities

Headlining the speech activities for the past week have been the series of panel discussions conducted in the class debate technique where foreign relations, campus government and progressive education have been under consideration. The panel on foreign relations was "fanned out" Tuesday evening when Scalapino, Sloan, Bob Perry, Jack Alderman, Baez and Daniel appeared before the La Cumbre-P.T.A. with Redding as chairman.

The chicken-and-egg debate introduced to the campus this year will be staged before the crowd at the Community Dance Saturday evening at the Armory. Participants will include Scalapino, Sloan, Jimmie Fullerton and George Booth.

AMS Officers Take Positions

Newly-elected officers of the Associated Men Students were installed at a meeting in Pine Hall, last Tuesday during second hour.

and announced that last year France spent $1,325,000,000 to safeguard the country.

"If anyone menaces peace, he will feel the force of our arms. . . . Neither force nor ruse shall prevail against France," Daladier said to the cheering chamber of deputies. He denounced the dictator's threatening tactics as a "war of uncertainty."

CHICAGO, May 11—Destroying five grain elevators along the Calumet river on the far south side of Chicago, a terrific dust explosion and fire killed eight men today. An unofficial check showed 13 persons missing or unaccounted for although the official police report placed the death toll at eight.

MOSCOW, May 11—Blundly stating that it would not be left to shoulder the brunt of war alone, the Soviet government speaking through its official organ, Izvestia, today refused to enter into any Anglo-French combine against aggression unless it received ironclad guarantees the U.S.S.R. would not be left holding the bag.

College Slates Carnival for Next Friday

Anniversary Commemorated By Festival

With 1939 the year for exhibitions, exhibitions and carnivals, and the leading advocates New York and San Francisco, Santa Barbara will get its share of festive spirit when the College presents its first annual "Santa Barbary Coast" carnival to commemorate State's 30th anniversary next Friday.

All classes will be dismissed at noon when the carnival barkers start pelting their wares. All of the concessions will be open until midnight, with the entire carnival being climaxed by a "nickel dance" in the gymnasium from 10 p.m. to 12.

Decide on Prizes

The carnival executive committee meeting yesterday, decided against a proposal by some of the organizations that script be used instead of prizes in some of the concession; sponsoring games of chance. To alleviate too heavy a burden on these organizations, the committee decided to purchase enough prize to sell to each concession. In this way, the organizations will be able to purchase only enough prizes for their actual need.

Concessions committee chairman Betty Howell announces that she will be in the publicity office at noon today to allocate locations to all organizations who have not yet applied for or been assigned a place for a concession. No more applications for concessions will be received. Miss Howell states.

Whiskerino Judging

Expected to be one of the main features of the carnival is the judging of the Whiskerino. When the carnival idea was suggested, the Associated Men students decided to lengthen the annual Whiskerino two weeks so that judging could take place at that time.

An attraction to all youngsters of Santa Barbara is expected to be the contest to pick the boy and girl in this city with the most freckles. The winning youngsters will receive a pass to every concession in the carnival.

As a medium of exchange and to facilitate handling, script, to be sold at $1 for five cents will be used. All finance for the carnival will be under the direction of Lloyd Borstelmann, while general chairman for the event is Bill McArthur.

Marcia Meyer, Stepp Tell of Engagement

Marcia Meyer, sophomore, surprised her friends by announcing her engagement to Jack Stepp, off campus man, at an informal party held at Club Chico last night. The announcement was made by means of novelty theater programs. Miss Meyer plans to finish her schooling at the College before further plans are made.

Is America headed for war against Germany?

To prognosticate in the field of political science is to take a long risk and to prognosticate a state of war is the longest of adds. Yet throughout the press of modern America it is a well-established fact that at least 50 per cent of the leading commentators believe there will be a war. The men who are paid to help the public know its business believe there will be a war.

Prognosticators Predict War As Unavoidable

The obvious reason for the fears arising is to be answered in one word—Nazi. In six years the government of Germany has done a great many things that no one thought they could do. They have compelled the return of vast territories on the continent of Europe, they have forced the world to assume the burden of a Germanic minority, the German Jew, and they have smashed the treaty of Versailles which had strangled the German republic into the weakened position that led to Hitler.

All of this might not appear to concern the United States specifically. But when it was discovered that agents of the Third Reich had not only honey-combed South America with spies but also started open organizations of storm-troopers in our own country many people began to do a trifle more than announce their antipathies for an Austrian maniac.

In the past weeks Roosevelt has had sharp words with Herr Adolph. Representatives of the Scandinavian democracies—the only democracies in Europe—found a popular greeting in their good-will visit while their governments were refusing treaties dictated by the Reich. The greatest monarch of Europe, George VI, is the subject of the most elaborate welcome of all. And Congress votes $700,000, naval appropriations which surely can not be used to stay at home with.

Is it any wonder that 50 per cent of the men whose business is to understand the public's business believe that America is preparing for—F.C.D.

Rude People Put Editorialist In Doldrums

There are some people in this school who are very rude. They have no excuse for being rude, and we don't care particularly for that type of bald-dash.

In some of the laboratory courses the student finishes the current work, yet is compelled to stay and diddle around 'till roll is taken, until some ungodly hour as of 4:30, when the bent, and a very virtuous one indeed, is toward time spent in profitable occupation.

We don't know whether Europe is going to engage in war this spring, are darned tired of speculating about it, and feel there are more pressing problems, i.e., 10 million unemployed, Dorothy Parker's new book, and the interesting problem of Gypsy Rose Lee collecting clothes for the Spanish refugees.

Women's hats and clothes have been given a working over so often that one wonders why every ten years some woman startles the known world by asking why men don't wear pinks and the other pastels, and we always feel we'd look silly.

We also don't care about people telling us of work they haven't done—it seems to be a virtue—don't go for people who deliberately seek us out to argue with us—they should try something else to keep awake—we hate to sit in class for only the purpose of having roll taken, and now that's off our chest, we'll resume our chaos of inertia.—B.M.

Biologist Says Better Food Grows Hair

CLINTON, N.Y. (ACP)—Men, if your hair is growing thin in places and baldness is approaching, you should eat more and better food to arrest the receding hair line.

That is the assertion of Prof. Ear. O. Butcher of the department of biology at Hamilton college who recently gained evidence for his statements in experiments completed on white rats. Dr. Butcher proved that demands for energy and for body repair are first met before the hair reserves its quota of nutrition.

Business and domestic worries, the common excuse given for falling hair, may cause the loss of appetite and in that way decrease the intake of food necessary to nurture the hair cells, Dr. Butcher says.

Dr. Butcher noted that white rats get a new growth of hair every thirty-five days. If the animals, however, are underfed, their bodies continue to grow in length, and they are as active as ever, but their hair growth occurs only every 50 or 60 days, if at all.

Undernourishment retards the hair growth through the endocrine glands. Just exactly how these glands allow the other necessities of the body to be satisfied at the expense of the hair is being further investigated. Another challenge to scientists is the extent that endocrine glands can be altered so that hair can be induced to grow.

"Less worry and better appetites, more rest and less energy-consuming activity should be the salvation of America's hair problem," Dr. Butcher declared.

U.S. Education Report Proves Surveys False

WASHINGTON, D.C. (ACP)—Despite the popular surveys to the contrary, college graduates are not so bad off as many would have you believe.

This is the paragraphic summary of a 207-page report just issued here by the U.S. Office of Education after a year of intensive research.

Proof of the summary statement are these excerpts from the report: During the eight-year period of survey, about two-fifths reported that they had been idle for one or more months since graduation. But 57.8 per cent of the women reported that they have not been idle since graduation.

More than 98 per cent of the alumni reported that they have never been on public relief, but the typical period of relief is only 6 months.

Eight years out of college, 31 per cent of the men graduates own their own businesses, while less than 1 per cent are employed as unskilled laborers.

The average salary, after eight years of employment, is slightly more than $2,400 for the men and more than $1,600 for the women who are graduates of institutions that have more than 3,000 enrollment. Graduates of the smaller schools earn less.

Eight years out of college, 75 per cent of the men and 52 per cent of the women graduates are married.

The divorce rate among alumni is lower than that of the country as a whole, with only 19 divorces per 1,000 marriages.

More than half of the college graduates live in cities of 100,000 population or over. Only 11 per cent of the men and 12 per cent of the women live in communities of less than 2,500 population.

Exactly 64 per cent of the men and 55 per cent of the women included in the survey report a close connection between their present employment and their college major.

Those surveyed indicated that "the most advantageous way for a graduate to find work after college is through an active personal solicitation of his own without waiting for anybody to find a job for him."

This Collegiate World

• "An appreciation, acknowledgment and encouragement on the part of men everywhere of the irresistible, irrepressible urge to know is needed in these days, of 1939. If collectivism, irrepressible urge to the urge to know, it would be an unspeakable calamity. There would be no superiority, no advancement, only mediocrity." Union College's Dr. Edward Ellery believes that colleges and universities should foster and encourage more than ever thought and knowledge.

• "Education within the state is so intricately interwoven with human welfare and the success of man in business, on the farm and in industry that one cannot view education in a state university without recognizing that it likewise must take its place within its orbit and function unselfishly to the welfare of all."

Dr. Fred Engelhardt, president of the University of New Hampshire, effectively re-states the place of the state-supported institution of higher learning in modern democratic society.

• "Scholarly work is by no means confined to studying; it necessarily includes writing. Knowledge isolated in a scholar's mind is useless unless it is disseminated. The only way that dissemination may be accomplished is through the use of language, and the student must therefore know how to use English idiomatically and correctly." Columbia university's Dr. C. J. H. Hayes urges Ph. D.'s to take more English so they can write better reports and theses.

March of the Caesars

Old Bogey Budget

When Frederic W. Hile and his eager young proteges celebrate the birthday of a fellow named William Shakespeare next Wednesday and Thursday, the College will be made aware of the fact that certain portions of this terrestrial sphere have retrogressed two thousand years. No better object lesson could be unfolded, to our way of thinking, than the presentation of a play, written over three hundred years ago, which conforms exactly to a situation in present-day society.

Elmer Rice, with "Judgment Day", and Sinclair Lewis, with "It Can't Happen Here" have written great plays about states under the rule of a dictator. But Bill the Bard wrote of authoritarian states long before the present crop of writers, wrote in such fashion as to make them adaptable to any period, with a few changes in costume. Hitler, Mussolini, Franco and other despots dominating the world scene today, are of course, cheap imitations of the original, hard-headed Julius Caesar.

Saying the least for Julius, he was working for the good of Julius, while Adolf, Benito and Francisco are forever purging, invading and persecuting for a capitalistic minority. Further, Caesar brought Roman civilization, such as it was, to many barbaric parts of the world. Hitler and Mussolini bring barbarism to civilization. Witness the despoiled cultures of Germany, Austria, Italy, Czechoslovakia and every other spot on the globe in the cancerous grasp of the Fascists. Caesar, in addition, was a scholar, writing many tomes on Roman civilization and Roman law, while Mussolini's literary efforts have been restricted to bombastic editorials in his early days as a socialist and a few mediocre books which nobody reads. Hitler, as an author has enjoyed great success. Everyone in Germany reads his book, "Mein Kampf" because it is healthy to purchase a copy. But the book itself is confused, emotional, far from literature.

But the Roman emperor and the present gang of cutthroats who are attempting to carve themselves a like niche in the hall of ill-fame use the same methods to accomplish their purposes and base all of their claims to power on violence. Then, as now, the army was in control of the balance of power, making and breaking emperors. The Roman army broke many emperors and the German army has been on the verge of purging Hitler. Revolution in the ranks of this powerful group might still be the answer to Germany's problem. If this revolution did occur, it would save the rest of the world the price of another world conflict, the loss of the world's youth and wouldn't necessarily imply a revolution of the proletariat.

To get back to what we started out to say, "Julius Caesar" gives every sign of being a performance well-done, with Hile employing the technic of Orson Welles in presentation. Traditional Shakespearian togas will be discarded in favor of modern dress and some of the dialog will be revamped to fit the modern scheme. The modernization idea has already clicked in New York and San Francisco and seems to be a means of reviving the classics so as to attract the average audience.

On Tuesday morning, as many of the Gauchos at State College who are interested will gather in Administration auditorium to hear the Finance committee read off the budget for next year. The $20 per year in student activity fees paid by each student will be disposed of at this time, with John Q. Gaucho in at the disposal with his vote. John Q. Gaucho, of course, will be very much surprised at the slashes in the budget for next year, but will consider it none of his business and pass the thing. He might possibly wonder why he isn't getting as much for his $20, but over a period of one year, he won't miss one dance less sponsored by the Associated Students and he is certain to be satisfied with one edition of his campus newspaper a week when he had two a week last fall.

In any event, John Q. Gaucho will resign himself to acceptance of a puzzling situation and will forget all about it immediately. At least, the members of the Finance committee hope he will.—S.C.

THE FWH LITTLE THEATER PROJECT IS ABOUT ready to present the greatest drama of the year on next Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the college theater. Some fifty collegians have been diligently preparing for the presentation of the tragedy since early in January.

Frederic W. Hile who has played in Julius Caesar over 300 times makes his debut in the role of Brutus, in the show. In his production, Hile undertakes to imitate one of the most successful Broadway shows of last year when Orson Welles, the bogey-man of radio, presented the Bard's Roman show in modern dress and with a touch of mimicry of totalitarian and regimented states in the action. The play ran in the Mercury theater for 157 performances using the modern adaptation as prepared by Welles and John Houseman.

In the roles with Director Welles, who played Brutus, too, of course, were George Coularris as Antony, Martin Gabel as Cassius, Evelyn Allen as Calpurnia and Joseph Holland in the title role. These same parts will be portrayed with a hint of the same professionalism by Clyde Cadwell, Carl Jorgenson.

Georgia Mae Krebs and Robert Scalapino, respectively, in our college's production.

Local audiences will be exposed to the work of a man who has had great training in Shakespearean production and acting and this show should prove to be an outstanding stage presentation during the Santa Barbara season. It will possibly, also, surprise many of you to see the fine art of finished acting that will be assumed by Jorgenson, Cadwell, Scalapino, Dale Bennett as Casca; Irving Manspeaker as Decius; Lloyd Borstelmann as Arimodorus; Esther Horner as Portia; Krebs as Calpurnia.

Topping all the acting and action will be the work of a well-timed mob with hysteria, fright and rage all teamed together to represent artificial Germany, Italy, et al under the tongue-lashings of modern mobsters, who assume the IQ of 40 for gross activity. Mob leaders are Virginia Snipes, Bestall, Booth, Fullerton, Miller, whose words sway 30 blood-mad Romans to "mutiny and rage."

That it's a master production, there's no doubt, and when cannon and machine gun fire and the wailing of dying men and screams of terrified women with shouts of praise and anger are all blended into the final whole, a guy who misses the show will just be missing an education in mob and dictator psychology.

Coast Squad Tops Valley Gridders 7-0 In Contest Wednesday At La Playa

Coasters Capitalize on Fumble for Single Score of Evening as Spring Training Ends in Third Annual Game

Sparked by halfback Bill McArthur, the Coast gridiron warriors won the third annual spring game Wednesday evening on the La Playa Turf before a crowd of better than 1100 fans, climaxing ten weeks of intensive drills in preparation for the 1939 season.

McArthur scored the only tally of the game when he plunged

Trojans Hand Local Gymsters First Defeat

The Gaucha gymsters met their first defeat since the squad was organized when the Trojans piled up a 74-55 score against the locals Saturday in the toughest competition the Hilltoppers have met to date.

Walt Tilford, star of Coach Noble's contingent, paced the meet, taking first in the all around and first in the rope, upsetting the pre-dope by nosing out Rand Hall and Bill Roberts of the S.C. squad.

Tilford made the best intercollegiate time of the year when he climbed the 20 foot rope in 4.2 seconds, only .2 over the national record.

The strength of the Trojans in free exercise and tumbling accounted for the win, as the Gauchos held them to even terms until these last two events.

Bob Hall took third in all around, taking the spot from Roberts and placing after Rand Hall, Trojan star.

Complete results were as follows: Rope: Tilford (S.B.), DeVilbiss (S.C.), Hall (S.B.), Fravy (S.C.), Roberts (S.C.).

Horizontal bar: Roberts (S.C.), Tilford (S.B.), R. Hall (S.C.), B. Hall (S.B.), DeVilbiss (S.C.).

Side Horse: Levy (S.C.), Hopmans (S.B.), Tilford (S.B.), R. Hall (S.C.), B. Hall (S.B.).

Parallels: Roberts (S.C.), Levy (S.C.), Tilford (S.B.), B. Hall (S.B.), Levy (S.C.), R. Hall (S.C.).

Rings: R. Hall (S.C.), Roberts (S.C.), B. Hall (S.B.), Tilford (S.B.), Brown (S.B.).

Long Horse: DeVilbiss (S.C.), Tilford (S.B.), B. Hall (S.B.), Levy (S.C.), R. Hall (S.C.).

Tumbling: Fravy (S.C.), R. Hall (S.C.), Roberts (S.C.), Hall and Brown (S.B.).

over the pay line from the 1 yard marker early in the second quarter and brought the score up to seven—nothing when he drop-kicked the conversion.

A fumbled punt recovered by Marshall gave the Coast their scoring opportunity, and an 11 yard pass from McArthur to Madison Swank, end, started the march to pay dirt, followed by Garrison, first down run over his right guard.

Coast then received a five yard set back for offside, but after one incomplete heave, McKeever found McArthur for a 17 yard throw, placing the ball on the three yard stripe with four downs to push it over.

Valley's strong line held the Coast offense for three plays, giving up but two yards, but McArthur hurried over the line on the last attempt for the touchdown.

With the exception of the single score of the evening, the teams appeared to be very evenly matched, and the all around performance showed considerable improvement over the past season's early form. Both squads favored the aerial attack throughout the game, indicating Harder's intentions for a strong pass offense in the coming season.

Pass defense was not as strong as it might have been, but the Gauchos have received but little drill in that phase of the game during spring workouts.

Coast threatened to score in the second quarter but Bill McArthur again came through to break up the attempt when he intercepted Lyn Lightner's pass.

The coast contingent had a large number of substitutes which it used freely, giving fans little chance to observe the performance of individual players. However, Butch Engle, Blyn Wilson, Larry Pickens, Marv Palmer, Madison Swank, Lloyd Garrison and Bill McArthur showed up well in the Coast contingent, and Neely, Lightner, Condley, Sprague, Jessup and Valos looked good for the Valley.

Cal Poly Mustangs Defeat Freshman Thinclads 94-35

Coach Howie Yeager's frosh cindermaen dropped the most disastrous meet of the season when they came out on the short end of a 94-34 score with the Cal Poly Mustangs Saturday on Phelps field.

Starting a small squad, the Gauchos managed to secure only three first place spots. Shoemaker in the century, Hengstler in the shot put and Lightner in the broad jump.

St. Johns, Yamba and Carter tied for first honor spots for the visitors, each winning two events. St. Johns placed in top spot in the mile and double mile, Carter in the 440 and 220, and Yamba in the high jump and javelin.

Although the score was lopsided, the local squad did well as the small turnout made it impossible to run a full squad.

Bert's Berth

By BERT POWERS

Wednesday night's preview of the 1939 Gaucha grid squad in the third annual Coast-Valley fray gave the local fans plenty to mull over between now and the opening whistle in next fall's first pigskin encounter.

All in all, there was some pretty fair football demonstrated on the La Playa turf, among new men and Gaucha veterans alike. To enumerate the various players on both squads who deserved the plaudits of the crowd is impossible here. There were too many of them!

Naturally, we can't help but mention Billy McArthur's ball totting ability, passing, blocking and hard tackling. Bill of course, is a veteran in Gaucholand, but he has seldom looked as good as he did Wednesday. Bill will be one of the mainstays of the Hardermen, or we miss a guess.

Quarrel Patched

Most discouraging news of the week concerning the fate of the newly formed 2C2A comes from Fresno, where it was announced that a contract for a grid affair between that school and San Jose has been entered into between the two institutions. The whole conference started when San Jose revised her eligibility rules, which were out of accord with the Far Western Conference which were stipulated in the original agreements. After the failure of many negotiations, we are glad to see the two schools get together, and so further the interests of the entire conference.

Those of the student body who have as yet failed to see Coach Spud Harder's horshide congregation in action will still have a chance to do so, for from the present set-up it seems that the boys will be exhibiting their wares at Laguna every Sunday until the end of school.

Tilford Stars

Walt Tilford, State's crack gymnast, piled up quite a record for himself Saturday when he took first place in the all around against such outstanding men as Rand Hall and Bill Roberts of Southern California.

Swimmers . . .

All swimmers and divers interested in competing in the events to be held during the 2C2A sports carnival to be held here May 19 and 20 are asked to get in touch with Nate Johnson or leave a note in box 'J' immediately. Training facilities at the Municipal pool will be available to all men at State who wish to enter.

Spartans Take Local Track Squad 81-50

Mathermen Show Best Form of Current Season

Santa Barbara State's cinder squad suffered their fourth consecutive defeat when coach Tiny Hartranft's San Jose Spartans handed them an 81 to 50 setback Saturday at Phelps field.

Although the 31 point margin was large enough, the Gauchos showed a far more impressive type of competition than has been exhibited this season. They were dumped by a 95-36 total by Fresno the week preceding, and San Jose took the Bulldogs earlier in the season by a 16 point lead.

The locals swept the 100, McArthur, Gandy and Morgan coming in in that order. McArthur also pocketed the 220, breaking the tape in 22.3 seconds, the fastest time for the year on the Hilltop track.

Ed Doty and John Moore will represent Santa Barbara State college in the freshman doubles to be held here in conjunction with the 2C2A sports carnival to be held here May 19-20.

Doty and Moore, who upset the dope bucket at Ojai when they defeated Dave Freeman, junior national champion and his partner, are expected to sweep the conference championship.
