FIVE STAR FAST FOOD

For over 50 years, Carl's Jr.® has gotten great reviews from those who love great food. Every day, we charbroil all of our hamburgers and chicken sandwiches, because charbroiling sears in the natural juices of the meat. Our fries, onion rings and fried zucchini are all cholesterol-free.

We offer one of the most diverse menus around. There's an All-You-Can-Eat Salad Bar, an All-You-Want Beverage Bar, a full breakfast menu and more. Best of all, every guest gets a generous helping of old-fashioned, friendly service. In short, star treatment.

Carl's Jr. is not your average fast food joint, it makes an extra effort to please the hungry!

By Brick Gump

After nearly 40 years of advertising bombardment, one would have to ask, "What else can be said about fast food?" Well, quite a bit when it comes to the food served at Carl's Jr. restaurants.

By avoiding the opening of national and international food conglomerates like competitors McDonald's and Burger King, Carl's Jr. has maintained a rather down-home, easygoing atmosphere. As the pictures on the wall depict, the franchise began as a hot dog cart in Los Angeles during World War II, but has expanded to several hundred stores west of the Mississippi.

However, they have not become so big that they've forgotten their roots. From the moment you walk in the door you feel good. You don't get the cold, impersonal "get 'em in, get 'em out" routine like other fast food restaurants, you're treated like you're one of the family. I can only imagine, but I bet it's a lot like the way my parents felt whenever they headed down to the corner mom-and-pop burger stand or the neighborhood drive-in.

On my most recent visit, I had the Super Star with cheese (and extra cheese — I'm a cheesy kinda guy), onion rings, the "all-you-can-drink" beverage bar and a hunk of their delicious chocolate cake. It

DAN THIBODEAU/Daily Nexus

Yum!

When the urge strikes for a great burger and fries, or perhaps a chicken sandwich and onion rings, or maybe a salad, it's time to head for Carl's Jr.

makes an extra effort to please the hungry!

was great.

The charbroiled beef, which is real beef and free of most of the additives used by their competitors, has a smoky bite that is exactly right. So many charbroilers try to overwhelm you by adding smoke flavoring to their meat or hickory to their grill. But Carl's Jr.'s rotating conveyor grill slowly sears the beef and allows it to be smoked throughout the cooking process. This gives you a nice juicy burger that is absolutely delicious.

The onion rings were made with real onions — take that, Burger King — and are deep-fried in 100% vegetable oil, which reportedly helps to reduce the cholesterol level of fried foods. But even if it doesn't, it still cooks rings that are golden brown, very light and delightfully crispy.

The final touch to this incredible meal was the hunk of chocolate cake. It is double-double chocolate with a daub of what tastes like sour cream frosting. The cake is so moist you don't need anything to wash it down. Each bite caresses your taste buds and then explodes with a power-packed punch of chocolate flavor that will knock out even the most ardent lover of the cocoa bean.

The drink bar is now a staple in most fast-food restaurants, but at the Carl's Jr. around here, they think enough of their clients to have two dispensers. So if you are parched during a busy lunch, there are 16 spigots — no waiting.

Carl's Jr. is now offering an even lower-priced menu than their competition. Not only is their food a wonderful treat, but it's also easy on the budget.

I give Carl's Jr. my best rating of "Five Bricks" — one for each time I found myself saying, "Man ... this is great." If you haven't visited Carl's lately, get there today.

Carl's Jr. has several South Coast locations, including State St. and Carpinteria.

TA's: AOK

By Krystal Liddel

I donned my faded Birkenstocks and walked through the darkened streets of Isla Vista. Hunger consumed my body, and I longed for Mexican cuisine.

"Where," I asked myself, "can a health-conscious vegetarian find affordable, yet delicious food?"

Then, from out of the darkness, I saw a light ... and smelled the aroma of rice, beans, cilantro and guacamole. My Birks took control of my feet and led me into Tio Alberto's, where I was engulfed in the sounds of south-of-the-border rhythms and the laughter of kindred souls whose shoes had the same vibe as mine.

The wall-sized menu was a virtual cornucopia of herbivore delights: burritos, tacos, tostadas, many written with the prefix "Vegetarian." I tapped my foot to the beat of the music, and before I had a chance to pick which treat I would delight myself with, the cashier was asking me for my order.

The munchies taking hold of me, I ordered one of everything — without meat, of course. Fascinated, I watched as the authentic chef created plate after plate for me, asking each time what I wanted on the various delicacies.

My arms full, I wandered outdoors and sat at the picnic tables provided for my dining pleasure, and who should I see? None other than my good friend Mary Jane. Hard to miss in her brightly colored tie-dyed T-shirt. I called for her to join me, offering her a fork. She took the utensil in hand and we spent the next hour working our way through meatless delights. Rice topped with everything, wrapped in warm soft tortillas and covered with spicy Mexican sauce, steamed on the table before us. We took bite after bite of fresh, hot entrees, agreeing that this was the best stuff we'd ever tasted.

"How will we ever be satisfied with lesser quantity and quality again?" cried Mary. I replied, "Not to worry, the prices here are so reasonable, we can eat here every day!"

We laughed at our good fortune and thanked our lucky stars. Mary was quick to quote the Grateful Dead: "Nothing left to do but smile, smile, smile."

Tio Alberto's is located at 955 Embarcadero del Mar in Isla Vista. Call 562-8662 for details or for food delivery. They have meat dishes, too.

Baltieri's: The Sauce!

This Goleta landmark is the perfect place to bring your favorite couple!

By Odessa Robinson

The stars were especially bright the night Bertha, Bob, Reynard and I set off to experience the excellence that is Baltieri's. I know because I spent the short trip from Isla Vista laying down in the cargo area of a two-seater, staring up through the back window at the looming sky above. Don't get me wrong, though — I liked it, I liked it a lot. But, I liked Baltieri's more.

After pulling up to a nearby parking spot, the four of us lumbered out of the vehicle and made fast tracks for the welcoming doors of Baltieri's: the place for fine Italian dining.

A pleasant young hostess led us to our table as soon as we could say "mama mia." Not that we did, but if we had as soon as we had entered, she would have already had us on our way to the quaint table near the back.

Anyway, soon we were seated and left to observe

J.B. ANDERSON/Daily Nexus

Baltieri's is the place to go for delicious Italian food that leaves you with that ever-so-fulfilled feeling after you are done.

the magnificent surroundings, that, well, surrounded us. "This is a really nice place," Bob said, with his usual gift for understatement. We all nodded in agreement just as the menus arrived.

Oh, the selections to choose from! Seafood, pasta in all varieties, steak and chicken, all for the asking. As we munched on the fresh bread and butter, we pondered back and forth what looked the best. Of course, in a restaurant such as Baltieri's, one cannot go wrong with any selection, which makes the decision all the more difficult.

After asking the waitress for more time, more than once, our table of four was finally ready to take the plunge.

Bob chose the lasagna, which came to him so fresh out of the oven it was still bubbling. Bertha's selection was the cheese ravioli with meatballs, which she cheerfully devoured. Reynard picked one of his favorites, calamari steak, and couldn't stop talking about the delicious cream sauce that complemented his meal. I thoroughly enjoyed my plentiful portion of cheese ravioli, using the bread to soak up the last of my sauce, which, as Bertha agreed, was perfecto. All the dinners came with a Caesar salad, with just the right touch of garlic and anchovy.

The car ride back was spent talking about the great meal. Bob and I enjoyed the return trip in the cargo hold, laying in the back, watching the stars, fulfilled the way only a wonderful dinner can fulfill.

Baltieri's is located at 5892 Hollister Ave. in Goleta. Phone 967-2881.

Take Someone Special to Paradise — Paradise Cafe!

By Bertha Babylon

If one wishes to escape into another world of soft lights, comfortable ambience, pleasant service and spectacular food, all they have to do is make a date for a night at Paradise Café. It has become a traditional night out for myself and my companion, Dick, to escape the daily grind and enjoy the beauty of downtown Santa Barbara.

Paradise Café is much more than just burgers and delicious fries, it is a treat for all who enjoy excellent food. I ordered a dish filled with rock shrimp and spinach pasta. The shrimp was superb and the sauce it was in tasted only slightly of wine — just enough to make the pasta dish melt in your mouth. The dinner was served with a delicious salad and they always supply a basket of fresh bread.

For an appetizer, Dick ordered sautéed mushrooms. They were cooked with a tasty wine and plenty of garlic. Garlic is the key ingredient in any dish. But they didn't use too much, only a perfect amount to add that special touch. Dick finished the entire plate so that he was almost too full for his main course — almost.

One of the specials for the evening (Dick always orders the special) was roasted lamb. The meat was cooked so tenderly that Dick didn't need a knife to cut it. He had fresh steamed vegetables on the side, which I couldn't keep my hands off of.

Before dinner, it is ideal to sit in their full bar located downstairs. Here, friends gather to devour Paradise's warm atmosphere and good drinks. It's a wonderful place to simply enjoy your company and relax.

That's the best thing about Paradise Café. It is very relaxed. Although they serve top-notch food, they also have dishes such as the Paradise Burgers, which are perfect to eat on their outside patio. Each table is beautifully lit with small candles, which makes it all the more cozy.

The restaurant is diverse in its food and customers. At an outside table, a few friends wore blue jeans. Seated by us, a couple and their two young children ate happily. Across the room sat a well-dressed group ordering some fine wine. Did I mention their wine? The servers suggest different types of wine to suit the meal you are eating. However, if you just want a beer or a shot of whiskey, the bar is ready to serve.

The best part about Paradise Café is how good it makes you feel. No matter what mood you're in, if it's out on the town or just hanging out with good friends, Paradise will cater to your every needs. There's never an unpleasant moment when you are at Paradise Café.

Paradise Café is located at 702 Anacapa Street in downtown Santa Barbara. Call 962-4416 for more information.

WOODY'S
229 W. Montecito, 963-9326
At this Woody's location the patrons can enjoy their mason jars full of beer while soaking in the western atmosphere. I can personally attest to the quality of Woody's ribs. If you don't go to Woody's for the music, then go just for the ribs.

ZELO
630 State St., 966-5792
Closed for seismic retrofitting (improvement). Will be opening soon.

End Notes:

Hey boys and girls! Some neat stuff is happening soon, so listen up: This Friday and Saturday night support the SURFRIDE FOUNDATION by going to Toes for "Long May Your Ride 4." The big news is that NOMEANSNO is playing this Wednesday the 23rd with Victim's Family and Jeberrekenelle at the UFCW (7190 Hollister Ave.) for only $6. The show starts at 7 pm sharp! This place is alcohol free and all ages. Nomeansno rules it so I highly recommend seeing them, but if you have a bad attitude, I suggest that you leave it at home or don't come. S.B. needs cool places for bands to play, so don't fuck it up! Late.
