PUBLIC SCHOOL WK. TO BE OBSERVED IN ALL CARP. SCHOOLS

April 24 to 28 Designated for State-Wide Interest in Educational Progress

PUBLIC Schools' Week, started some years ago by the Masonic order, will be observed in local and state schools next week from April 24 to April 28, during which time the public is urged to visit the schools and to get better acquainted with the educational system in general.

Examples of the pupils' work will be exhibited, and Thursday evening the classes of all Carpinteria schools will be open for visitation by parents and patrons from 7 to 8:30 p. m., followed by a general assembly in the high school auditorium, at which time the following program will be presented, with Rev. Leon Kirkes presiding.

"Fortuna" Overture, Zamecnik, Grammar school orchestra, Miss Sybil Baker, leader.

"In the Rose Garden," Scott; "Hark, Hark, the Lark," Shubert, grammar school glee club, Mrs. Lucy Treloar, leader.

The high school (advanced) music class will present a program depicting the methods and accomplishments of a unit of study. F. J. Greenough, leader.

Address by E. L. Van Dellen, superintendent of schools, Ventura.

The committee in charge are J. B. Hudson, B. W. Upson, L. A. Mather and J. M. Hawley.

Will Break Ground on Club House Next Wk.

Final approval having been given the plans, which included minor last-minute changes, ground will be broken early next week on the new Women's Club building on Vallecito Road.

Bids have been let to the following local contractors: Joe Hendy, Myron Robertson, Victor Stubbs, Frank Hebel, John Furby and the Carpinteria Valley Lumber company.

Important donations include $100, the gift of Z. U. Lescher, and a beautiful mahogany table donated by Mrs. Lewis McGeary.

At the club meeting yesterday the report of the nominating committee was accepted including the following recommendations:

President incumbent, Dr. Genevieve Shorkley will retain her office until someone else is elected. vice-president, Mrs. Guy Stockton, secretary, Mrs. Percy Houts, public welfare chairman, Mrs. Frank Thurmond, entertainment chairman, Mrs. Nelson Smith.

The one-act play "Two's Enough" was presented at the meeting with a cast which included Estelle Hebel, Mrs. Myron Robertson, Mrs. Victor Stubbs, Mrs. Julia Dowling, Mrs. Jack Bailard and Mrs. Frank Thurmond. The play was very ably directed by Mrs. Ann Hebel.

Salinas Man to "Tell It To Hizonor"

H. H. Adams, Salinas, has a date with Judge Tubbs in the near future all because he slowed down in Carpinteria. It happened like this.

Adams, Los Angeles bound, aroused the interest of traffic officers Hineman and Dinan when he sped through Montecito one night last week, and they took out after him. Their speedometer registered "80," they state, before they had followed him very far, and they still weren't gaining on their prospective customer. The chase might still be going on but for the fact that Adams slowed down when he passed through Carpinteria and the officers didn't.

Like the famous mounted, they got their man, who explained that his speedometer only registered "50." He will continue his explanation before the local justice of the peace at an early date.

FOUR 1-ACT PLAYS PRESENTED TONITE BY LOCAL PLAYERS

Wm Ashworth to Judge Merits Of Free Presentations

Closing their current season the Community Players will present four one-act plays at the high school auditorium tonight, the curtain lifting for the first offering promptly at eight.

Merits of presentation will be judged by William Ashworth, dean of men at Santa Barbara state college, and well-known drama authority, who in making his decision will not take into consideration the plot and setting of each offering, but rather the way in which each is presented.

The group whose offering is judged outstanding will receive an award of recognition, the nature of which has not yet been decided upon.

The four plays, their casts and directors, follow in the order of presentation.

"Thursday Evening"—directed by Lenore Giddings and enacted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Betts, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Stubbs and Mrs. Harry James.

"Rose of the Alhambra"—a fantasy directed by Earl Southworth and enacted by Elizabeth and Neal Furby, Marian Linkey, Dortha Lynn, Donald Stockton, Ralph Smith, Katherine Osterman, Isabel Rice and E. A. Southworth.

"Poor Old Jom"—under the direction of Phil Mills, with a cast composed of Sybil Baker, Curtis Linkey and Phil Mills.

"Suppressed Desires"—a drawing room comedy directed by Aubrey Crawford and enacted by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nelson and Ida Sinclair.

Admission will be free and the public is invited to be present.

Jesse Hawley to Talk On KDB Saturday Eve

In accord with the general interest in Public Schools' Week (April 24 to 28) the Chronicle is pleased to present on its weekly program tomorrow evening, Jesse Hawley, principal of the Carpinteria high school.

Mr. Hawley will speak on changes in the theory and practice of education during recent years, and explain the aims and purposes of Public Schools' Week, together with an account of what Carpinteria schools are doing towards making its observance of general interest to the parents and patrons of the valley.

Last week's program featured Howard Gabbert, magic-fingered master of the ivories (keys—not cubes) in an impromptu piano recital of popular selections. Gabbert, who is pianist-director of the Ambassador Ballroom dance band in Santa Barbara, has a style all his own, emphasizing subtle harmonies and sparkling modulations, and last week's quarter-hour was a pronounced success.

Tune in on KDB tomorrow evening at 5:45.

Ye Kronikal Almanack

CARTOONIST

Coles and his poison pen are still at large! That was the message which galvanized into action every member of Carpinteria's police force this week. Strong men wept and women warned their children not to stand still a single instant on the way home from school, lest the peering lens and prying pen of the mustachiod miscreant catch them unawares and preserve for posterity their likeness.

Is it possible that in this age of civilization and three-point-two beer such a menace to the peace and well-being of our community can run amok—or is it amuck? What are you going to do about it, Mr. Mayor? The Chronicle brings you Cole's latest victim, Aubrey B. Crawford, well known in local theatrical circles and long in the public's eye—and don't let me hear any wisecracks about being in the public's hair.

Those distended molars and that expression of satisfaction with the world in general were caused, the artist reports, by that tiny instrument of torture depicted in the lower right hand corner, commonly dubbed a "putter."

The victim was snapped in the act of explaining to a skeptical audience that the last hole took him nine drives and eleven putts, but he usually made it in six and four, so he marked in on his card as three and two, giving him a total score of ten for thirteen holes. The skepticism of his audience is contributed to by the fact that "Aub" has been two days and a half in making said thirteen holes. Further perpetrations by arch-criminal Coles will appear next week.

VALLEY CITIZENS' COMMITTEE OF FIVE NAMED TO DRAFT REVISION OF BYLAWS AND PLAN ENLARGED ORGANIZATION

Public Meeting Results in Plans for Broadening Scope of Chamber of Commerce and Revising By-Laws. New Committee Meets Next Week

ACTING upon authority vested in him by the 30 citizens present at a public meeting held Monday night, chairman Earl Chaffee announced yesterday that he had appointed Paulsen Visel, Marc Latham, Burchell Upson, Cyril Hartley and Linn Unkefer to act as a valley citizens committee to draw up suggested revisions to the by-laws of the present chamber of commerce, chart proposed activities and outline particulars for an enlarged membership and general revival of interest in a Carpinteria Valley chamber of commerce.

The committee will meet Monday and begin its work, the results of which are to be presented to the chamber of commerce and/or a mass meeting of valley citizens, accompanied by the recommendation that the report be acted upon immediately.

This procedure was selected after due deliberation and prolonged discussion by those who attended Monday night's meeting, called for the purpose of instilling new life into the chamber, take steps to revise the by-laws and to broaden the scope and membership of that organization.

After calling the meeting to order Earl Chaffee, president of the local chamber, summarized the body's present condition and mentioned contributing causes.

Directorate Deadlocked
The board of directors presents a unique example of a constitutional deadlock. Several members have resigned from the board and no longer attend its meetings, but according to the chamber's by-laws, these resignations cannot be acted upon and considered effective until voted by a meeting representing a quorum, or at least eight of the members. This renders it imperative that resigning directors be present at a meeting to act upon their own resignations, and that, as Chaffee pointed out, is hard to arrange.

"My hands are tied," he stated. "I've had my resignation as president written and ready to submit for weeks, but with the present directorate tied up as it is I can't get a legal meeting. If those who have announced their resignations could attend a meeting long enough to make a quorum, possibly their resignations could be accepted and their places filled."

Public Meeting
It was suggested and agreed to call the assemblage a "public meeting," thereby eliminating any connection with the chamber of commerce and leaving the group free to act unhampered by any set policies or precedents.

Columnist Present

Lee Shippey, famous columnist of the Los Angeles Times attended the meeting with secretary Herron of the Santa Barbara chamber of commerce, who had been invited to the gathering. Mr. Herron explained that his understanding with Santa Barbara's chamber included the provision that he was not to address gatherings in out-lying communities, whereupon he introduced C. E. Campbell, chairman of the northern body's publicity committee. Campbell spoke briefly on the identity of interests of Santa Barbara county communities and discussed various publicity angles now being tried by the Santa Barbara chamber, concluding with the statement that that organization would be glad to assist the local body in any way possible.

Many Attend Easter Services Despite Fog

Between 150 and 200 attended the annual sunrise Easter services held on Brentner's Hill Sunday. Although the dawn was obscured by a high fog the services were impressive and appropriate.

A young people's procession composed of all local choirs, community singing led by Mrs. Guy Stockton and Dr. Genevieve Shorkley, scripture lesson and prayer led by Rev. C. P. Moore, a violin solo by Fred Greenough and an Easter message by Rev. Wade Hamilton comprised the program.

This year marked the sixth of Carpinteria's sunrise Easter services, attendance at which has increased each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hawley were guests of friends in San Diego last week.

Lions to Attend Public Schools Week Program

Tom Burke and Harry Boswick of Santa Paula entertained the local Lions at their regular meeting last night, with a big-time assortment of magic tricks. Charles Curtis and George DeTroy were the entertainment committee.

There will be no program at next Thursday's meeting as the entire club will attend the Public Schools' Week program at the high school auditorium at 7:15.

Marc Latham and Chuck Verner attended the inter-county council meeting at Camarillo Wednesday evening. They reported an attendance of 44 Lions at the gathering, which was addressed by Dr. Walter Dexter, president of Whittier college and a member of the Whittier den.

Katherine Norlin spent last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Norlin.

Things to Remember

Small-time vaudeville at the old Portola theater in Santa Barbara.

Camping with other Carpinterians near Chalk Rock, on the Santa Ynez river.

When the old town hall burned down.

"Running the office" of the Valley News while editor Ben Sykes was in Santa Barbara.

Shell Martin concocting explosions in the chemistry lab of the high school.

Riding to the end of the block on the back step of the ice wagon.

A mysterious affliction that seemed to cripple the neighbor's chickens about the time I decided upon a baseball career.

Otis Grinstead chugging to town in his tiny Hupmobile roadster.

The fine "springin' board" my dad fixed for us at the swimming hole.

Numerous dusty detours when the road to Santa Barbara was being paved.

Ten-year-old West Tobey being fished from the bottom of every football scrimmage that the larger boys had.

Losing a skate at the climax of a supposedly whirl-wind exhibition for the special benefit of a certain small girl with long yellow curls.

WUXTRY, WUXTRY! ALL ABOUT THE BIG L. A. BANK ROBBERY

Local Boys Almost Get Their Feet Damp in Crime Wave

Carpinteria was represented at Los Angeles' latest bank robbery Tuesday afternoon by Phil Mills and Charlie Huber. Don't misunderstand us—the local boys weren't implicated in the crime in any way—but they stood across the street and watched it happen.

When a stick-up man held up a branch of the Security-First National located at 1500 W. Pico, and made off with $1,000 in currency Tuesday afternoon, Mills and Huber, standing opposite the bank, saw his hurried exit. As the fugitive ran up the street the bank's cashier gave chase, firing two shots in the general direction of Beverly Hills, but without effect. The thief returned the fire, putting a hole through the back of a parked car which was luckily unoccupied at the time, and climbed into a waiting coupe a block distant from the scene of the robbery.

A motor cop who gave chase eliminated himself shortly by a private collision with the curb, but a man said to be the thief was later apprehended and is said to have confessed to the crime.

Phil and Charlie said the whole thing resembled a movie so closely they expected to see Tom Mix catch the criminal before he had turned the corner.

And what part did our heroes play in this drama, you ask? Just the part any of us would have taken had we been there. They nearly knocked each other unconscious trying to get behind the same narrow post.

Police Seek Driver Who Refused Aid to Injured

Warren Wilcox, 25, of Wheeler's Hot Springs, and Walter Stevens, 26, of Ventura, were painfully but not seriously injured Saturday at 4 a. m. when the Chevrolet coupe in which they were riding north turned completely over in avoiding a parked truck.

The truck, driven by persons unknown, had stopped on the highway just west of Santa Monica road, and was not seen by Wilcox until his coupe was almost upon it. He swerved the car so abruptly its momentum caused it to turn over, coming to a stop right side up.

The driver of the parked truck refused to take the injured motorists to town, but instead drove quickly away in what appeared to be an effort to conceal his identity. Wilcox and Wheeler walked back to Batsch's service station and roused Charlie Batsch, who drove them to a Santa Barbara hospital where they were treated for cuts and abrasions.

The authorities have so far been unable to locate the driver of the truck which was responsible for the accident.

$3,000 EACH MONTH WOULD BE KEPT AT HOME BY NEW PLAN

And Local Merchants Given Break by Abolishing the Present Commissary

ACCORDING to information received by the Chronicle last night, the present welfare system is soon to be done away with and replaced by district set-ups whereby an investigator and a purchasing agent in each supervisory district will supplant the present arrangement of a centralized county welfare organization.

Four members of the board of supervisors are said to be in favor of such a step and it is reported that by the first of June the new system will be in operation.

Supervisor Dinsmore of this district, when questioned on the proposed change, stated that he is one of the board members who is working to have the district arrangement put through as quickly as possible.

"The plan is to have an investigator and a purchasing agent for each district," Dinsmore said. "The duties of the first would be to check up on the living and financial conditions of county cases, and to determine the worthiness and neediness of each case. The purchasing agent would compile a list of supplies required from want lists brought in by the house-wives of needy families, and would then buy the groceries and supplies from local stores."

"Adoption of this system would mean that about $3,000 a month would be spent with Carpinteria merchants instead of going into the pockets of wholesalers who do not help to pay our local taxes."

"I heartily approve the proposed change and I see no reason why it should not be put into effect as quickly as possible."

Carpinteria merchants voiced a protest against the present welfare system through the Chronicle's columns seven weeks ago, calling attention to the fact that money they paid in taxes was being used in part to finance the welfare department, which, under the existing organization, virtually constitutes competition of the most devastating type.

At that time Miss Aleta Brownlee, county welfare agent, answered their protests with a statement printed in this paper saying that the commissary had been used only as a last resort, and that the present system was utilized because it saved the taxpayer's money and because it assured proper food for the children under care.

Post Office in New Home First of May

Carpinteria's new post office building will be completed one week from today, according to word received this week. The contract called for its completion in 30 working days, the thirtieth of which falls on April 28, and the progress made thus far indicates the structure will be finished on schedule time.

The week saw the tile roof laid and the walls cemented, leaving only the installation of doors and windows to complete the work on the outside of the building, which is already a slightly addition to Linden avenue.

Postmaster Lewis said yesterday that in all probability the new building will be occupied shortly after the first of the month.

"We can be moved in and doing business within three days after the building is completed," he stated. "A good part of the equipment is already here, but one large shipment which is coming through the Panama canal has not yet arrived."

In the election held Friday to determine the third member of the Sanitary Board, Charles Batsch defeated Clarence Sawyer.

Miss Ruth C. Moore, of New York City, is visiting at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Moore, having arrived last week for an indefinite visit in California.

Our Hat is off to . . . HENRY STURMER

because he has demonstrated just how attractive a tiny house and a small yard can be made. Because he is consistently one of the busiest men in town, and he seems to enjoy it. Because he has set an example in "better homes" that is hard to keep up with. Because, darn him, every time I pass his place it reminds me of the yard work I forgot to do last week-end.

COME AND GET IT!

WE could use up more than this much space in mourning over past mistakes and the KNX fiasco. But too much time has already been wasted in doing that. And no benefits derived.

We could use up an equal amount of space with well-meant suggestions for the future, but they would fall upon ears long since deadened by incessant hammering of "I told you so." And that, too, would be futile.

All we might say in such an editorial can be summed up thusly:

Let's forget the past. Let's do away with this $190 ghost that haunts every meeting of the chamber of commerce.

May we inform the directors that a big round dollar awaits any representative they may see fit to send to the Chronicle office, as our modest contribution towards a worthy cause. No, a dollar isn't much, but neither is the $190 that seems to have paralyzed our civic organization for only too long. And if everyone in the valley who believes in Carpinteria puts in a dollar, in no time at all there'll be no deficit, the decks will be cleared for action and Carpinteria will be one step nearer an ideal of progress and civic harmony.

Come and get our dollar—it has a smile all over it!

PUBLIC SCHOOLS' WEEK

"PUBLIC Schools' Week, which will be observed throughout the schools of the state April 24 to 28, 1933, offers an excellent opportunity for interpreting the schools to the people. The theme, The Schools, about which center the activities of the week, suggests the fundamental character of education. It recalls the courage and faith as well as the vision of those early leaders in establishing educational opportunities which with the same courage and faith we must today struggle to maintain.

"Government by the people depends upon the ability of the people to govern. The permanence of democracy depends upon the excellence of its schools. Good schools grow out of community purpose, aspiration, and understanding. Through the schools, the community makes its own future. The children of today must be trained to be good citizens tomorrow. To prepare citizens of the new country for the duty of self government, the nation's founders established free schools. For more than a century statesmen have encouraged the extension of equal educational opportunity and have called upon the people to protect this inherent right whenever it has been threatened by selfish greed of financial difficulties. In the present emergency the friends of democracy will not weaken the support of the institution upon which popular government is built. They will preserve the schools in the same faith and for the same purpose for which they were established by the nation's founders."

U. KERSEY,

* Superintendent of Public Instruction

The above statement announcing Public Schools' Week affords, we feel, as good an editorial as could be written on the subject.

Visit our local schools this week and familiarize yourself with the progress education has made since the days of the little red school house. You'll be pleasantly surprised at the mature efficiency evidenced by your children in their school activities and interests.

The younger generation will be more able, intelligent and better equipped to handle life's problems than any this weary old world has ever seen. Today's school children are going to be mighty interesting people to live with when they are grown. They'll make better neighbors, finer citizens, broader executives.

A few hours spent in our schools will leave you with an increased optimism concerning the ability of tomorrow's men and women to solve the sorry tangle their elders left for them.

"Go to school" for a few hours this week, you'll learn something.

No wonder foreigners think this is a strange country. Beer has been harder to find since becoming legalized than at any time since the passage of the Volstead act!

All that "Spring" means to a service station attendant is more bugs to clean off the customer's windshield—and reader, we know whereof we speak!

GRAMMAR SCHOOL

By Eleanor Van Dusen (8th Grade)

Many boys and girls all over the United States help to observe clean-up week by keeping their schools and school grounds clean, homes, cities, forests, and any other places which might be improved upon, clean. Do not do this just in clean-up week, but all the time. People passing by will notice your work and say, "what a neat and pretty home." Help others to observe clean-up week by telling them what they might do. If you see any stray papers, please for your cities' sake pick them up, and throw them into a trash can. Have pride in your city or schools.

When on a camping trip do not throw your rubbish on the grounds. Leave it clean for the next fellow. Do not make the ranger pick them up either. It may cause a forest fire. Some careless person walking by might throw a cigarette butt on the ground, thinking no harm might come of it. There is a chance it might catch on some piece of stray paper. Result—our beautiful forests destroyed. Be careful and observe clean-up week!

By Martha Rose Dowling (7th Grade)

The school could have a clean-up day and have all the children clean up the rooms, hallways, and school yard. They could also make posters telling people to clean up their yards and sidewalks.

When going to the beach and you have any refuse to throw away, put it in the cans provided for that purpose. If you see any scraps of paper around town, school or home, the boys and girls can pick them up and burn them.

At home they can clean their own yards and plant it with flowers to make it pleasant to tourists. We should do this, because Carpinteria has fine homes for so small a town.

If the boys and girls see any nails or glass in the street or sidewalks they should pick them up, because it doesn't look nice and it might puncture a tire or a barefooted child may step on it. They should clean all the streets and sidewalks because they don't look nice dirty and it isn't healthy because dirt carries disease. It would be a good policy to keep these things even if it isn't clean-up week. After all that is what clean-up week is for: To make us get the habit of being clean in everything, yard, home and body.

Six boys from Carpinteria troop 1 attended the patrol leaders training camp, held at Camp Drake, Apr. 11, 12, and 13. The camp was conducted on the patrol plan, having six boys in each patrol. This gave troop 1 a complete patrol, which made the work much more interesting.

The patrol leaders camp is strictly a training camp for patrol leaders, assistant patrol leaders and other troop officers. Most of the time was spent in studying and working projects from the Patrol Leaders Manual. Some time was given to recreation. The boys went swimming twice each day and on a hike at least once a day. Other things to be remembered are: regular kitchen duties, patrol contests, cooking our breakfast, and last but not least, fifty pounds of chicken for lunch Thursday.

The boys attending the training camp were: Roscoe Masonheimer, patrol leader; Roland Wullbrandt, patrol leader of the Bear patrol; Garold Muth, patrol leader of the Outlaw patrol; Owen Robbins, assistant patrol leader of the Outlaw patrol; Ralph Walsh, patrol leader and Edwin MacDonald, assistant patrol leader of the Bear patrol.

Carps' Trim Jobless in Battery Battle; 5 to 4

It looked like the locals were at last to drop a game when the eighth inning opened Sunday, but the Unemployed couldn't stay on top.

With the score 4 to 2 against them Stemp's sluggers found their batting eyes in the next to the last chukker, when Bennett—yeah, the same Bennett we've been telling you about week after week—(he bats too) smacked a two-bagger with two on, tying the score.

The Jobless failed to score during their half of the ninth, but Carp still had plenty of business to tend to on the various bases. Alonzo, the granite faced, who hasn't struck out this season, started the inning and ended it as well as the ball game, all by himself when he smacked a three-bagger clear over your aunt Bella's wood-shed and stole home to wind things up.

In fact Alonzo staged a little one man fiesta on those bases all afternoon, turning in a homer, a three-bagger and a single Sunday to bring his batting average up to 466—and he hasn't fanned yet! Not good—just too restless to stay in one place. Stemp turns his demons loose on the Oxnard Aces this Sunday.

3rd Annual S.B. Open Track Meet April 29

Saturday, April 29th has been set as the date for the third annual Santa Barbara Open Track and Field meet to be held at Peabody stadium at the high school. The event is being sponsored by the Santa Barbara Junior Chamber of Commerce and is being held under the auspices of the Santa Barbara State Teachers college.

According to Nick Carter, former intercollegiate mile runner and 1928 Olympic games star who is managing the affair, there will be over 200 athletes of C. I. F. and A. A. U. standings entered in the events. High schools, junior colleges, and colleges from all part of Southern California and the San Joaquin valley will participate with entered teams, and in addition there will be a large number of outstanding athletes participating unattached.

Five athletes from Pomona College, all of them conference champions in their particular events have signified their intention of attending the meet. They include Pete Sonfeld, hammer throw; Dray Williams, hurdles; Don Plumb, sprints; Kenyon Smith, pole vault and Steve Wyhoff, high jump. Occidental College, Redlands, Whittier, Pomona, Los Angeles Junior College, Bakersfield State Teachers College are to be well represented, Carter said. Many high school stars are also expected to show their wares in competition with the college athletes, Carter said.

Big Lemon Pickings Predicted for Season

The lemon crop now being harvested set on the trees last summer under very favorable circumstances, states a bulletin by H. J. Ramsey, field manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. Weather and excellent tree conditions favored a late set with sizes on the trees well distributed, contrasting strongly with the unfavorable crop settings of the two preceding years.

Probably the heaviest picks of the season will be made during April and May. This situation is ideal from the standpoint of harvesting the crop immediately preceding the period of greatest demand in the market. It should insure an abundance of fresh fruit available for shipment at the right time.

General crop quality is far above average, with very little tree-ripe fruit to date. Although rainfall in California has been deficient during the past two months, the fruit has been growing and is in good condition on the trees.

The storage in Exchange houses as of April 1 showed 2,252 cars. This contrasts very strikingly with the April 1, 1932 storage of 6,015 cars and an April 1, 1931 storage of 5,606 cars. It appears now that the peak of storage this season will be around June 1, whereas in both 1932 and 1931 it occurred on April 15th. Fruit in storage at this time is of fine quality and Exchange houses are working close up on all colors, according to Mr. Ramsey.

Legion May Reconsider Backing Economy Steps

The Howland Shaw Russell Post, Carpinteria unit of the American Legion, met in regular monthly session, Tuesday evening, April 18, at 6:30 o'clock, in the Cerca Del Mar clubhouse. After a dinner, served by Comrades Joe Fraga and Dick Kistler, the business session was called to order by Post Commander A. E. Southworth.

The chief matter discussed was a proposal to reconsider the post's endorsement of National Legion Commander Louis Johnson's support of President Roosevelt. Considerable debate resulted. A decision was finally reached to carry the discussion over to the May meeting.

Another matter considered was the proposal to lease the Cerca Del Mar property from the county, once the state of California turns the property back to the county for administration purposes. It has developed that the local post nor the county can do nothing until the state submits a draft of the proposed lease. Action of this sort is expected within a reasonably short time.

Comrades Marc Latham and Frank Thompson were appointed as delegates to the meeting of the Santa Barbara County Council of the American Legion which will meet in Santa Barbara, Wednesday evening, April 26.

Naval Man Inspects Carpinteria From Air

Commander Ben C. Wyatt, U.S.N. executive aviation officer of the Pacific fleet who has recently been appointed by President Roosevelt as U. S. naval attaché at Paris, enjoyed an hour's flight over Carpinteria and adjacent territory Sunday in a Stinson cabin plane piloted by Bryant Hall from the local airport.

Commander Wyatt was in Santa Barbara over the week-end as the guest of the junior chamber of commerce of that city, and was accompanied on the flight by W. G. Herron, secretary of the Santa Barbara chamber of commerce, Ross Wood, chairman of the aviation committee of the junior chamber of commerce, Fred Alfred, president of that body, and Stanley Tomlinson, director of public relations of the same organization.

"From the air Carpinteria valley represents the happiest combination of intensive agriculture and natural beauty that it has ever been my good fortune to witness," said Commander Wyatt at the conclusion of the flight.

He also praised very highly the facilities of the Carpinteria airport and Hall's handling of the ship used for the trip. Wyatt leaves June 1, for Paris to take up his new duties there.

Cantor Picture Scenes True to Mexican Life

Promised by Samuel Goldwyn as the biggest as well as the funniest picture to come out of Hollywood this season, "The Kid from Spain" comes to the Alcazar theater tonight and tomorrow.

It is the annual screen song-and-dance comedy of Eddie Cantor, succeeding his "Palmy Days" of last season and "Whoopie" of the year before. Eddie makes but one picture a year, saving his energy, his voice and his laughs for a single big effort.

"The Kid from Spain" is the story of a button-eyed lad, who, getting kicked out of school with his roommate for suspicious goings-on in a girl's dormitory, gets involved in a bank robbery and escapes to Mexico disguised as Don Sebastian II, the famous bull-fighter. He accepts the acclaim of a great fete in his honor, trying desperately to maintain his masquerade until the minute he is forced into the arena to fight four bulls in the thrilling climax of the picture.

For the beauty and color of the arena and for the gala fiesta that precedes it, Goldwyn marshalled together seventy-six of the proudest beauties of the world, the most beautiful girls this side of heaven. Song, dance, music as well as laughter bring them into the picture and take them out.

TO THE CITRUS GROWERS OF SANTA BARBARA COUNTY

Dear Citrus Grower:

The directors of the citrus department of the Santa Barbara County Farm Bureau, have arranged for two meetings to be held in Santa Barbara county on Tuesday, April 25. These meetings are being arranged through the cooperation of the Santa Barbara County Farm Bureau, the Citrus Experiment Station, and the Agricultural Extension Service. Dr. H. S. Fawcett and Dr. H. J. Webber of the Citrus Experiment Station, will be the main speakers at each of the meetings. Both of these gentlemen are well known authorities in their particular fields. Dr. Fawcett will discuss the diseases of lemons, giving special attention to the diseases of young lemons, and the prevention of Gummosis on root stocks, and allied subjects. Dr. Webber will discuss the root stock situation and summarize briefly, points concerning the planting of young lemons.

The two meetings will be held as follows: Tuesday, April 25, 10 a. m., Stanley Shepard ranch on the Casitas road, Carpinteria; Tuesday, April 25, 2 p. m., Corona Del Mar ranch, west of Goleta.

Citrus growers are urged to attend at least one of these meetings, since it is rarely possible to get such recognized authorities on the program. Please do your neighbor a favor by telling him of these meetings, and bring him with you.

Very sincerely,
SYDNEY A. ANDERSON,
County Agent, U.S.D.A.

People are Honest Says Big Banking Concern

Is the public honest? Is the word of the average man good? Can you rely on the trustworthiness of the typical American family?

Yes, says the Security-First National bank of Los Angeles, after accounting for the avalanche of items that poured in after the recent bank holiday. More than 1,000,000 items were received by the bank during a period of a few days, according to D. Safwenberg, manager of the local branch who revealed interesting facts as to their disposal.

Included in the lot were thousands of checks cashed by grocery stores, filling stations and drug stores. Emergency checks drawn on savings accounts, and some signed in pencil were among them.

The bulk of these items was cleared of once. Remaining were hundreds that lacked endorsements, were drawn irregularly, or for some reason could not be collected. At length, however, the irregular checks were traced to their makers, the missing endorsements were supplied and the holiday book closed.

Result? A loss to customers of the bank so small as to be negligible. Given a wide opportunity, people generally refused to take improper advantage of the stores and business house that accommodated them.

The transit department of the bank now handles its daily grist of items with renewed faith in the honesty and integrity of the public.

Regulation Governing Oranges is Changed

The regulations governing the shipment of California oranges into Florida were recently revised and now restrict the season of orange shipment to the three months June, July and August, according to the field department of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. Otherwise the regulations are as in the past. Last year the open season of shipment was five months, June 1 to October 1.

The revised regulations read as follows: "Subject to the conditions hereinafter specified, lemons grown, picked, treated, cured and packed in California may be shipped into Florida throughout the year, and California grown oranges, picked treated and packed in California between June 1 and September 1 of each year, may be shipped into Florida."

Poor Predexis Pays Plenty Pesos for Plates

Predexis Moreno, of this fair city, has lost faith in the U. S. postal department. He has ceased to believe that signing one's name on the dotted line shifts any further responsibilities to those of Uncle Sam. And the disillusionment cost Predexis three pesos.

On January 14 he paid $3.00 for a postoffice money order with which to get his automobile license for 1933. After waiting for 3 months and still no license, Predexis lost patience. He found his way to the state highway patrol office in Santa Barbara and asked why he hadn't received his license plates. Upon being asked to show his money order receipt as proof that he had paid the fee, he produced the receipt from his pocket along with the money order and the white certificate.

Questioning elicited the fact the Predexis believed his part of the transaction complete upon having paid the $3.00 to the post office. The fine for applying tardily for plates is an additional $3.00.

So Predexis and his motor vehicle will soon be back in the line of traffic with a brand new set of $6.00 license plates.

Care is Taken in Co. Unemployed Welfare

Since each family known to the Welfare department is given aid according to need, and since all other possible resources are taken into consideration, it is natural that there is a wide difference in the amounts of relief given various families.

A recent study of 472 families of the unemployed showed that 70 percent of them pay rent, which means that cash is allowed by the county for this purpose and for utilities. There is a variation in the amount of cash given as 18 percent receive less than $10, 40 percent between $10 and $15 and 35 percent between $15 and $20 per month.

A study of food received by 678 families showed that 112 received less than $10, 161 between $10 and $15, 149 between $16 and $20 and 202 between $20 and $30. 56 received between $30 and $57.50 per month.

Care is taken in the matter of rents paid directly by the Welfare department, as is shown by the fact that of 571 families known 224 have free rent.

It is only through a definite knowledge of all the resources of a family and of their relatives, that it is possible to make every dollar count in these trying times.

The Chronicle Forum:

To my friend, the editor of the Chronicle:

Richard Kistler and I had a very good trip over the week-end. We were accompanied by two of our very best friends, Richard Morris and Harb Morris. We went over the mountains to the Morris camp. We started early Friday morning and got over there about noon.

We went to Richard's first. We stayed at Richard's all night and then went over to Harb's camp. We had to go around the Montecito water supply which is stopped by the Juncal dam.

We spent the night at Harb's and then the next morning we set out for home. We reached home about one o'clock. It was a fine trip.

Yours truly,
RICHARD HOUTS
