Great Greek Gyros and More at

Zeus & Co.

By Jury Guadalajara

My long-lost friend Madeline and I were looking for a place to catch up on each other's lives, since she had been away in Egypt hunting deadly asp snakes in the desert for so long.

A trip to a beer-soaked pizza or sandwich store or yet another burrito place just didn't seem appropriate for such an important meeting. We needed something unique to mark the occasion.

So we chose Zeus & Co.'s open patio area and their fine Greek food as the environs for this most important lunch. It would be a long time before we'd see each other again.

The first thing you should know is that I love Greek food more than anything. With word this summer that a Greek place would be opening this fall in I.V., I immediately postponed my graduation and looked for an apartment. It seemed as though I could smell the falafels and olive oil in the air long before they opened.

If God was to open a restaurant specifically for you that would serve your favorite kind of food, then you'd know what kind of experience we had at Zeus', Isla Vista's newest and probably most original restaurant. With a complete menu of Greek fast food, Zeus' is a great place to take a break from the burrito/Chinese/pizza/sandwich doldrums that is the usual fare here. The end to this cycle of the same old food over and over again was exactly what I was after.

Located in the heart of downtown I.V., Zeus & Co. was even very conveniently located for both of us.

Zeus' easy, walk-up format allowed us to quickly make our decisions on what we would have. I was aching with anticipation as we waited for our food to be prepared right in front of our eyes. Madeline ordered a Greek salad in a pita sandwich and I opted for a falafel plate, which comes with a salad. Falafels are the food of the gods.

In no time at all, we were presented our dishes and we made ourselves comfortable on the patio.

My falafel was outstanding, with a wonderful sauce and very soft, fluffy pitas, not like those cardboard ones you get at the grocery store. It was spiced just so perfectly and the portion was very generous for the price. When I asked Madeline how her pita salad sandwich was, she said, "Just fine. The pita was just fine." Madeline was always a master of understatement. The pitas were so good, she ordered a side order to go after our lunch was over.

The salads were marvelous as well, with a light, well-seasoned dressing and very fresh and crisp vegetables. "It was more than just lettuce, you know. It had lots of ingredients. Not a lot of salads have red cabbage in them," Madeline told me from behind her dark glasses.

The relaxed, open-air patio dining area was doused with sunshine as we enjoyed our meal and our conversation. It was a really fitting way to meet up and discuss our different life paths. When it was time for us to leave, I ordered a gyro and an oatmeal cookie to go. I just couldn't get enough of that great food at Zeus'.

The cookies they have are huge and delicious and the gyro, which I ate on the way back to the office, was exceptionally tasty. The meat was just spicy enough without being too spicy, and the woman working behind the counter, her name was Molina, told me that it was 20% lamb and 80% beef.

Zeus & Co. is located around there somewhere, and is usually open during the day. Their phone number is in the book.

That's Italian

J.E. ANDERSON/Daily Nexus

By Mortimer Trousers

Pino's Italian Restaurant and Pizzeria is Italy. The other night Flavia and I wanted to see a movie and give our taste buds a swirl too. The movie was easy, since neither one of us had seen anything since Cinema Paradiso, but as far as eats go we had exhausted most of Isla Vista, and knew there was more in the world's culinary cornucopia.

So we decided to give Goleta a try and immediately Pino's came to mind. And then about two bites into our dishes we were convinced that indeed Pino's is Italy.

At first you might be skeptical and suggest to me that a restaurant as fine as Pino's is still in Goleta, and thus about as far away from Italy as one can get.

You also might try and convince me that a series of suburban residence plots spread lazily between the metropolises of Isla Vista and Santa Barbara is hardly equal to a republic that boasts the likes of Milano, Roma, Torino and Venetia. Yet, by the end of this article, I am sure you will agree.

When you first enter Pino's you are enveloped by a hot wave of red, white and green. I say hot because the stove is right up front where the heat can't miss you. The proud colors of the fine republic line the walls, ceilings and table tops, while the generous mirrors widen this fine kaleidoscopic impression. And then there's sports.

While Shaq and Jordan are the images of choice, Pino's prefers paying respects to the those heroes of Cycling and Soccer whose profiles dart the walls proudly.

Our Alla Primavera's — hers a Ravioli, mine a Tortellini — were soaked in a luscious homemade tomato sauce with mushrooms, onions, bell peppers and punchy artichoke hearts.

So abundant were our pastas that Flavia opted to take her share home for other meals.

Pino's is located at 5863 Hollister Ave. in Goleta. Lunch and dinner served daily. Phone 968-1933.

There is some argument as to where pizza was invented. There is no argument as to where it was re-invented.

Mel's is More Than a Bar

DAN THIBODEAU/Daily Nexu

Mel's Bar is more than just a bar, it's a landmark.

By Reynard Van Nguyen

Nietzsche postulated the theory of eternal return during his syphilis days, but we won't hold that against him.

The truth of the matter is that there will always be those moments in life that we cannot, do not want to try to recreate, but the tide of life flows to wash us upon memory's shore (and more) again and again. Perhaps the faeries of fate desire that we saturate ourselves with those glimpses of perfection until we have had our fill, until we come away soaked in the existential sunbeams.

Amidst the Pine-Sol luster of Santa Barbara's Paseo Nuevo Ubermall there stands, like a staunch artillery dwarf, a place that is the living manifestation of the word "bar." Mel's.

Mel's, if it were a dog, would be named "Grouper" or "Herb" — it's that kind of place. The coffee comes out of a percolator, the chips come out of a bag, the ice comes out of a bucket. You know what that means.

Oh, Mel's, some have called you a hole in the wall, and I believe them. For I have penetrated your darkened maw for the solace of mahogany, in a land of stucco and adobe.

They say you are a dive, and I believe them. For I have plumbed the depths of a hungry man's soul to find myself hip-deep in bourbon within your poster-ered walls.

They say you are un-cool, and I believe them. For I have seen Gap shoppers recoil dubiously from your welcoming arms as I listened to Neil Diamond blasting from your jukebox.

None of this matters, however, in the face of the wisdom that repeated visits to Mel's may render unto the thirsty searching of the rut-wraith that modern man finds himself fading into far too often. Mel's provides substance to a world that worships transparency like some kind of Baal constructed of clear deodorant.

Mel's provides shade when the glare of surfaces neurotically polished to a numb sheen becomes too much to bear one more second. Mel's provides closeness when chasms of fear and distrust drive wedges, like flocks of Canadian geese, between hurting human beings.

In short, Mel's is the place to go to heal, to howl, to have a good time. It's reality in a realm of infomercials, infotainment and blasé infomaniacs.

I returned to Mel's after a long absence not too long ago, looking to escape the confinement of artifice that had made me, temporarily, weary of the world. Actually, I had to pay off some traffic tickets at the district attorney's office, but we don't need to relive that; not now, it's still too fresh. But I digress.

Once inside, however, a wave of cool came over me. Not cool like some advertised hipster with a head full of stock phrases with no connective tissue. Not even cool, like the authentic hep cat who exhales like a bearded dragon with heavy-lidded eyes.

No, I was greeted with the cool of the shade of a proud oak tree that has endured to the point in his life that he can say, "Yes, I have seen that, and so much more as well. I have no fear and can spread my arms and fingers and blot out the sun for those weary of its rays." It is the cool of a still, clear pool bordered by fresh fernbrakes and mossy rocks, of looking from beneath an umbrella at the dance of dragonflies in all their bottle-green glory.

My mood improved already, I breathed in the air, smoky like an Englishman's private library, liberating like the first watering hole in 3,000 miles of desert.

I ordered a drink.

Alex's Cantina Is Mexican Food

By Marsha Miller
Staff Writer

It's no wonder that Alex's Cantina has become such a staple of Santa Barbara living. Whether you go for the full dining experience at the Goleta Cantina or to the bodacious bar downtown, every night is a fiesta at Alex's!

In Goleta, Alex's offers everything you could ever ask for in a night — or morning or afternoon — on the town. From DJs and dancing, to a four-and-a-half-hour Happy Hour seven days a week, to the scrumptious food that virtually made Alex's the numero uno restaurant in the area ... fun, fun, fun always awaits you at Alex's.

Take a good friend of mine — she went to Alex's champagne brunch (Sundays, beginning at 9 a.m.), and you know what she had? Fun, fun, fun!

And when Quixote, Fred, Sheila and I sat in the bar all night drinking margaritas? You guessed it — fun, fun, fun! (Even Sheila transformed into a fun, fun, fun companion at Alex's.)

Want a fun, fun, fun

night of your own like a true Santa Barbaran? Then go to Alex's Cantina for lunch or dinner. Be sure to arrive before full-fledged hunger sets in so you can partake of some perfectly blended well drinks or the wide array of draft beers. If you time it right, which isn't difficult with the extensive Happy Hour (3:30 to 8 p.m. daily), you can get these spirits for $1.50 and $1 dollar, respectively.

Be sure to save some room for la comida, though. It's all so good you'll want as much as you can get.

My favorite dish, I mean my all-time favorite in the tri-counties, is the Fajita Chicken Salad. Whether you are a health freak like myself or not, you can't go wrong with this baby. Tender, lightly grilled chicken strips over a crunchy bed of lettuce, tender avocado, cheese ... the perfect blend of full fiesta flavor. Just thinking about it is making me hungry. Mmm-mmm!

Other dishes I know make top-notch meals are the regular fajitas with chicken, beef or shrimp — or a combination of all three. And Alex's soft tacos are always a hit. Sometime, though, you must try the Alex's special Chimi-changa, a deep-fried flour tortilla filled with beans, rice and chicken or beef.

Alex's Cantina in Goleta is located at 5918 Hollister. Hours: Mon-Thurs 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., Fri-Sat 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., Sun 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Prices: $5.95 to $8.95. 683-2577

End Notes:

Happy Thanksgiving from The Club Scene!
I hope that there's plenty o' stuff in here to satisfy all the freaks out there. If you're having trouble finding stuff to do — let me suggest a few tasty morsels...
Feelin' Irie? Check out JAH•B•ONE (Not Jah Bone!!) at Caribbean Cuisine Saturday the 27th.
Check out Windcave at the Brewhouse on either the 24th (with Electric Blue) or the 27th!! You won't regret it, these trippers will blow yer minds!
Last but not least, Check the listings at Buster's for some spine-tingling excitement. Late.
