One of the great teachers of the world will be in Santa Barbara tomorrow. Dr. Frank Laubach originator of "Each One Teach One" will be at the University Religious Conference Building tomorrow, 4 p.m., to discuss his experiences in underdeveloped countries.

His topic will be "WE THE PEOPLE CAN WIN THE PEACE". NEWSWEEK Magazine has said about him "Frank C. Laubach has taught some 60 million people to read. He hasn't done it all by himself, but the reading chart which he developed . . . and his Philosophy of EACH ONE TEACH ONE have mushroomed into a vast world-wide project."

His career began in the Philippines when he realized literacy was the most effective defense against all the human ills. Since that time he has carried on a program that has been followed by the United Nations in their educational projects, and won acclaim from educators and governments everywhere.

George Hawkins Declared Ineligible For VP Competition In 13th Hour Decision

by Neil Kleinman
El Gaucho Correspondent

George Hawkins was declared ineligible to run for Associated Students' Vice-President in a meeting held Wednesday evening, April 30. Present at the meeting were Dean Reynolds, Dean of Students, Dean Bowers, Counselor of Women, Jerry Combs, ASB President, and Don Cottle, ASB Vice-President.

The decision of those present at the meeting to remove Hawkins' name from the ballot came as a result of information from the Registrar's Office that Hawkins had never paid his compulsory sixty-five dollar entrance fee.

The delinquency to pay the required fee was discovered by the Cashier on April 23. The Cashier stated that the discovery was made at a later date in the term than usual since the master list of students took longer to compile. Hawkins was notified that he had not paid his fee on April 23. On April 29th, the Cashier's Office was obliged to forward the non-payment issue to the Registrar's Office.

When the Registrar received the information from the Cashier, he asked the Dean of Student's Office to investigate in order to gain a complete picture of the situation. Meanwhile the Registrar mailed out a letter to all concerned which stated that Hawkins' registration was to be considered lapsed. This meant that Hawkins could not attend classes, nor take tests, nor receive assignments.

The Registrar stated that the lapsed registration meant that Hawkins' status was in suspended animation or, as he termed it, "on ice." Dr. Wright, the Registrar, further stated that since this case was so "unusual" he had asked the Dean's office to investigate in order to determine the exact moral implications of the problem.

Hawkins' position in the school is under question. He is technically not a student since he had not completed the contract with the University, stated Dr. Wright. The payment of the fee is the final phase in the contractual arrangements between student and University. "After we determine the exact nature of the case, we will be able to make some decision as to whether George will be allowed to register," said Dr. Wright.

The uniqueness of this case in University history presented problems in its handling.

Hawkins has not been dismissed since he has legally never been a student and, thus, not able to be suspended. Yet, since he has not paid his fee, some decision must be made as to whether he will be allowed to do so at such a late period in the semester.

The meeting April 30 of Deans Reynolds and Bowers, and Combs and Cottle discussed Hawkins' status as a student and thus as a candidate for student office. Dean Reynolds said that it appeared to the group present that the issue was clear cut. Hawkins was at the time of election not a student. As Dean Reynolds stated, "You're either a student or not a student. There is no such thing as limbo in the academic world." The Associated Student Constitution states that anyone running for office must be a student with a load of at least 12 units and a member of the Association of Students. Dean Reynolds said that the members present felt that Hawkins did not meet these requirements. They did not wish to hold up the election, said Combs, since it would be unfair to the other candidate, Carolyn Jones.

Hawkins said that after receiving the call from the Cashier's Office April 23rd, he asked his bank for a statement of his Ten-plan check account. He thought he had paid his fee but had no receipt. On April 26, he received his bank statement and found that he had no check deposited for fee payment. He went to the Registrar's office April 30 but was not allowed to pay.

Hawkins worked on the registration line during the first week of school. He was not asked for a Cashier's receipt since he was handing out the Registration booklets. He says that he had three checks made out. When he came home he had none of them left and thus he thought he had given them to the right people. One of the checks, he says, was made out to the Regents for his Registration fee.

McGINLEY, JONES WIN IN UNCONTESTED ELECTIONS

Imaginary Write-In, 'Bill Wilson,' Polls 253 Votes; Mahoney Wins Secretary

With more-than-expected total of 927 votes cast, Stan McGinley, running unopposed, was elected President of the Associated Students in voting last Thursday and Friday.

McGinley's sole opposition came from a nebulous character dubbed "Bill Wilson," who received 253 write-in votes to McGinley's 595. Associated Students Vice-President Don Cottle, in charge of elections, checked the registration list only to find that there was no student named Bill Wilson enrolled in school. "Many people believed that this person actually existed, because of false campaigning," Cottle said. "This is not funny at all—someone even phoned KTMS, and used my name to advertise Bill Wilson on the radio," Cottle continued heatedly.

Maureen Mahoney won handsily over Connie Mohler, 512 votes to 346, in the race for Associated Students Secretary.

In the contest for Associated Men Students President, Bruce Patterson beat Gerald Bennett, 313 votes to 100. David Quisling and Rick La Barge were unopposed for Associated Men Students Vice-President and Secretary, respectively.

In the tight race for Women's Representative at Large, Judy Owen, with 252, Jan Bartlett with 224, and Judy Dean with 213 votes were elected. Neila Wiersema received 124 votes.

Chi Omega Melinda Erickson is the new Sorority Representative, with 109 votes in the final round, under the preferential system.

Don Leavey, affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon, polled 129 votes to Bob Richard's 49 to win the contest for Fraternity Representative. Sorority and fraternity representatives are a new feature of campus politics, created recently when the Associated Students voted to overhaul the system of representation on the Legislative Council.

In one of the more bizarre contests, Neil Kleinman was elected Non-Affiliated Men's Representative by a total of four write-in votes. His nearest opponent polled three write-ins. The post was open, with no candidates signed up, until the ballots were counted. Kleinman called it a "mandate from the people." Gladys Johnson was unopposed for Non-Affiliated Women's Representative.

Dick Perry bested Howard Reichner in the election for men's Residence Hall Association representative, receiving 76 final-round votes to Reichner's 27. The new Women's Residence Hall Association Representative is Carol Saindon, who received 130 votes to Judith Kirk's 91.

In the contests for class posts, George Hart was elected President of the Senior Class, polling 164 votes to runner-up Hank Vellekamp's 86. Jerry Quintana is the new Class Vice-President, winning over Janet Allen 229 to 120.

A recount of the ballots for the Men's Rep-at-Large post caused a change in the first announcement of the winning candidates. The final decision found Naiman Dennis winning on the first ballot, Bill Harris on the third and Vic McKeever defeating Russ Kokx by a narrow margin on the fourth ballot.

The preferential system of voting has many intricacies, commented AS vice president Don Cottle, and a mistake was made on the system during the initial counting.

Sandy Meyer, with 142 votes, defeated Kathy Grant for the Secretary - Treasurer post. Miss Grant polled 105 votes.

Guy Shipp polled 137 votes to Rosemary McDermott's 105, winning the presidency of the Junior Class. Sally Richards coped the Vice-Presidential post, receiving 126 votes to Jill Moore's 115. The new Junior Secretary-Treasurer is Gretchen Ziegler, receiving 151 votes to Marge Peterson's 88.

Ron Largent was unopposed for President of the Sophomore Class, and Rosendo Castillo will fill the second spot. Castillo received 147 final-round votes against his closest competitor, Anne Schank, who polled 86 votes. Patta Stevens received 178 votes to Janie Bjerk's 102, winning the post of Secretary-Treasurer.

The new President of the Associated Students has served in three prior elective offices on campus — he was Sophomore Class President and head cheerleader in 1956, and is presently rounding out his chairman of the constitution revision committee, which created several of the offices filled in this election, and heads the Frosh Camp Committee. McGinley is affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Campus Babies . . .

What started out to be a very dull election, at least from the view of what an editor could write about, suddenly turned into an affair that had several "headline" items occurring at once.

To begin with, the 13th hour decision eliminating vice presidential candidate George Hawkins from the competition caused a small furor on campus. Before this could even be set down in print, the cry of ballot box stuffing echoed across the grounds.

The Junior Class presidential race was questioned as to the legality of some of the voters and therefore as to the legality of the vote. As Vice President Don Cottle, who administers the student body elections, checked the registration lists and verified that skulldugery was afoot. He also ascertained that the number of votes illegally cast were too few to influence the outcome of the election no matter for which candidate the "little boys" voted. Therefore he ruled the final results valid.

We have no quarrel with this. It appears to be a sound decision on Don's part. We do take exception with the underhanded tactics employed by several members of the student body; those few members of the enlightened group of Americans with the mentality necessary to go to college. The "upper" 12 percent as I believe this is known.

Perhaps they do belong to this group . . . when it comes to learning from a book . . . a few historical dates . . . the solution to an elementary math problem . . . or . . . identifying famous names and places.

They haven't grown out of the junior-high-school-gang stage however when it comes to the world of ideas and abstractions. The concepts of free men governing themselves, making their own decisions and thinking and acting like honest, upright men are beyond them. After all, student government is democracy in practice, both for the officers and the students.

Democracy is the American ideal; the American way of life. Democracy makes possible the very fact that these corruptors of its institutions can go to a liberal arts college and pursue a curriculum of their choosing. It insures that they may work in a field of their choice when they graduate.

Democracy also gives them a voice in the governing of their affairs as citizens of this country. The escapade last week doesn't leave us with a lot of hope that they will be an advantage to society when the college turns them loose on the innocent honest people.

Honest people, who are perhaps accusable of being gullible by some for believing in the concepts of democracy, for believing in fair and honest races for positions of government, BUT still honest people, should condemn them.

As was mentioned before, the acts of these few were not enough to change the results of the election so the results are fair and valid as they stand.

Their acts are disgusting however, no matter their result. They are low, dirty and unethical. They are the acts which relegate them to the lowest caste.

The acts of babies are on a higher level . . . babies aren't expected to know better.

Seven League Strides . . .

With the recent announcement of the acquisition of Aldous Huxley to the UCSB faculty, the campus took a gigantic step forward in the academic world.

Huxley, world-renowned English novelist and critic, marks another milestone in the growth of the liberal-arts functions of the campus.

Although his position will be one dealing mostly with conferences, seminars and discussions, the contributions to student and community life a man of his ability makes are uncountable. The preparations and efforts to bring him to Santa Barbara are also highly commendable.

The students of today will be the leaders of tomorrow. What better way to prepare them for their future than to expose them to a keen, sharp, critical mind? What better way to keep active the "more mature" minds of the community than to be challenged by a respectable individual?

The cooperation manifested by the University's faculty committee and the Santa Barbara Citizens Committee is indicative of the growing realization on the part of the community that the college has many benefits to offer the area.

Additional evidence of this, to cite an example, is the presence of Donald Davie, visiting professor of English. Nation has acclaimed him "the foremost critical voice in the British Isles."

Tomorrow's world is being shaped today. Continued cooperation and sharing of mutual interests between the community and University will insure a better future.

Literary Critics Bolster Staff For UCSB Summer School

Four distinguished literary critics will lend international flavor to a stimulating group of English courses planned for the 1958 Summer Session.

The stepped-up summer program, with 35 new courses added this year, will have English poet-critic Donald Davie teaching "Modern Russian Literature," among other courses. Davie was recently termed "the best critical voice in the British Isles," and is the author of several books of poetry.

A noted Canadian literary figure, H. Marshall McLuhan, will teach a provocative course titled "The Poetic Response to the Challenge of Western Technology. He is the editor of the Canadian journal, "Exploration," and the author of "The Mechanical Bride" and other books.

Critic, short story writer, and author of the authoritative work, "Jane Austen: Irony as Defense and Discovery," Marvin Mudrick, associate professor of English at Santa Barbara College, will teach creative writing.

Donald Pearce, critic of contemporary literature and its background, and associate professor of English at UCSB, will offer a unique course for teachers on "How to Teach Shakespeare in High School."

CAL SCIENTISTS PUSH PHYSICS

Two scientists on the Berkeley campus, Luis Alvarez and Edward G. Lofgren, have been selected to participate in a national program of Visiting Scientists in Physics designed to promote a greater interest in physics in colleges.

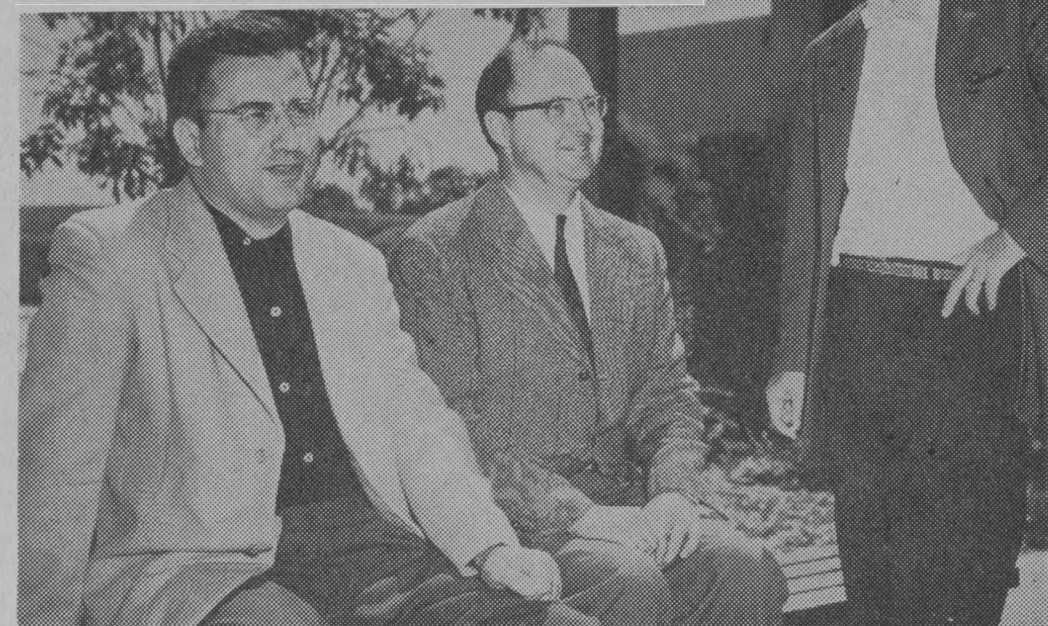

The program is sponsored by the American Institute of Physics in cooperation with the American Association of Physics Teachers, and is financed by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

Sixty scientists in the program are visiting small colleges to lecture on new developments in physics, to consult with faculty members about their research, and to explore ways to interest high school students in physics.

Alvarez, professor of physics and associate director of the Radiation Laboratory, visited the University of Wyoming on March 13. Prof. Alvarez is known for such work as the discovery of tritium and the development of the proton linear accelerator, a post-war accelerator.

Lofgren recently visited the College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash. Lofgren is known for his work in cosmic rays and as the physicist in charge of the Bevatron, the 6.2 billion electron volt atom-smasher.

UCSB "FIRST" AS THREE FACULTY MEMBERS WIN GUGGENHEIM AWARDS

Three faculty members at UCSB were named recipients of Guggenheim Fellowship Awards for 1958, it was announced today by the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation today in New York.

The recipients are Dr. John E. Cushing, associate professor of bacteriology; Dr. William Frost, associate professor of English, and Dr. Marvin Mudrick, associate professor of English.

Although four such awards have been made to UCSB faculty in previous years, this is the first time that multiple fellowships have been given in any single year.

The foundation's fellowships are granted to men and women who have demonstrated the highest capacity for original scholarly research and artistic creation. Scholars carrying on research in all fields of knowledge are assisted by the foundation.

Dr. Cushing's fellowship project will be undertaken at the University of Tokyo where he will serve as a visiting lecturer and continue his research identifying blood groups of fish, whales and fur seals. This is a continuation of a study of several years which have been supported by the Office of Naval Research, Scripps Institution of Oceanography, American Philosophical Society and the University. Through blood groups, it is possible to identify different populations of such fish as halibut and salmon, and distinguish among various species of whales.

Only three American and three Japanese scientists are engaged in this area of biological studies. Among the interesting applications of such finding is to distinguish the origin of salmon populations to provide information for establishing fishing treaties with Japan.

Dr. Frost will serve as a visiting associate professor of English at Yale University next year and the following summer will leave for an eight-month stay in England. There he will work on the project for which the Guggenheim was awarded, a study of the English predecessors of Pope's translations of Homer.

Associate professor Frost is the author of a book on Dryden's translations and of articles on Chaucer, Pope, and other writers. Recently his essay, "Shakespeare's Rituals and the Opening of King Lear," appeared in the winter issue of the Hudson Review.

Dr. Mudrick's fellowship project calls for a critical study of the fiction of the modern French novelist Colette during the 1959-60 academic year.

Book Selected

Dr. Robert Beachboard, Associate Professor of French, gained the distinction, this month, of having his book, "La Trinite," selected by "Le Club de Selection du Livre Francais." This French "Book of the Month Club" is sponsored by "Les Lettres Francaises," a literary review.

"La Trinite Maudite" relates the life and work of a family of artists: Utrillo, Valadon and Utrier.

demie year. He will work in Paris where original manuscripts and other source material is available.

As an author, Dr. Mudrick has been a regular contributor of both essays and fiction appearing in the outstanding literary magazines. His book, "Jane Austen: Irony as Defense and Discovery," was published in 1953. He is adviser to the UCSB literary magazine, Spectrum.

Another member of the department of English, Dr. Hugh Kenner is currently on leave of absence as recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship conducting studies on Anglo-American literature. He was recently honored with a fellowship in the Royal Society of Literature of the United Kingdom.

Folk Dancers Plan Summer Meeting

Sponsored by University Extension and the Department of Physical Education at UCLA, the third annual Folk Dance Conference at UCSB will be held this summer in cooperation with the Folk Dance Federation of California, South.

During the conference days from Aug. 24 to 30, Mexican, Spanish, German, Yugoslavian, Polish, Austrian, Swiss and Czechoslovakian dances will be among those to be featured, and dancers may select elementary, intermediate or advanced classes.

An enrollment fee of $34 per person includes room and board in Santa Rosa Residence Hall on the campus for the period of the workshop, tuition and a copy of the syllabus.

Information folders and applications for enrollment are available on request to the Department of Conferences and Special Activities, University Extension, University of California, Los Angeles 24.

Grad Awarded Key

John McFaul, a February graduate of UCSB, was the recipient of a scholarship key for the best paper presented at meeting of Phi Alpha Theta in Los Angeles recently.

The occasion was the ninth regional convention of the organization, which is a national honor society in history. Also in attendance from UCSB was Dr. Carl U. Schuler, assistant professor of history.

McFaul's award-winning paper was titled "The Motives of John Brown," and represented results of his own research conducted as a senior major in history.

NEWLY REVITALIZED SQUIRES TO GIVE FROSH A BIG BOOST

Through the labors of John Vincent and Dennis Naiman of the sophomore class council, and Dr. Clovis Shepherd of the Social Sciences Department, the Squires, honorary sophomore men's academic organization, has been revived for the schol year beginning in September 1958.

The organization, null on this campus since 1955, has definite aims for next year, starting off by boosting the Frosh Camp and then by helping "bewildered" freshmen through the first days of school.

Rocco Hurls SAE Nine To Softball Win

Behind the three-hit pitching of Jerry Rocco, the SAE's kept their perfect record intact in the intramural softball league by downing the Kappa Sigs 3-2 last Thursday.

The winners scored first in the top of third inning when Rocco drove in Chuck McFadden with a single. The Kappa Sigs evened it up in the bottom of the frame when they tallied the tying run.

In the top of the 7th inning, two walks and an error set the stage for Murray Smith's single which drove in two runs for Minerva's-men. The losers tallied their final run in the bottom of the seventh on a sacrifice fly scoring John Christianson.

In other action during the week, the Deltas kept their second place pace going by turning back Sigma Pi 12-10. Cypress Hall, also tied for second place, stopped Yucca-Pine 10-6.

Thursday afternoon, Yucca-Pine eked out a close 1-0 victory over the cellar-dwelling Lambda Chi's while the Deltas dropped the Cypress nine from the undefeated ranks by a 10-7 margin.

Gauchos Lose Second Place To Aztecs By Scant Three Points

Once again Fresno State College dominated the C.C.A.A. track championships as they won 13 out of 15 firsts, scoring 80½ points, in the annual meet held Saturday at El Camino J.C.

For the second straight year Santa Barbara was nosed out for second place as San Diego scored 30 points to 27½ for the Gauchos.

The biggest surprise of the day came in the 100 yard dash. With Fresno's Mike Agostini out with a muscle pull Santa Barbaras all around athlete Duke Ellington hit the tape ahead of the pack in 10.1. In one week, from the baseball diamond to the cinderpath, Ellington became the C.C.A.A. sprint champ. Ellington also picked up a third in the broad jump to lead the Gaucha point getters with seven. The Santa Barbara sprinters, not expected to garner many points, accounted for 13 of the 27½. Dave Boraker ran a close third in the 100 and finished second behind Fresno's Herbie Turner in the 220.

Santa Barbara's smooth running freshman Bernie Weiner upset the San Diego runners as he nabbed a second in the 440 behind Fresno's tireless Turner.

Jack Wilcox once again won the mile run as he stopped the watches in 4:15.7. Bill Collins was edged out for second by Bob Gallaher of San Diego. Don Kelliher, Santa Barbara's top point earner through the 1958 season, placed third in the shot and second in the javelin; it took a season best of 210 ft. by Spielman of Fresno to top the Gaucha weightman who threw 200 ft. Mike Kahn picked up a fourth place in the spear event with a toss of 187 feet. Senior pole-vaulter Gates Foss cleared 13 ft. for third.

Relay Team In Best Effort

The Blue and Gold mile relay team of Jim Law, Ned Wilson, Boraker, and Weiner turned in their best time of the season, 3:22.7, as they took second behind the Bulldogs.

An exciting dual for second place developed between the Aztecs and the Gauchos; the turning point came when the border bandits finished second, third, and fourth in the two mile. Luck was not with the Gauchos as broadjumpers Ellington and Jim Black scratched on their last jumps which was the best jump for both boys and would have given them second and fourth, respectively. In the javelin Kelliher had a throw over 210 but the spear landed flat failing to make a mark, and Kahn suffered a pulled back muscle and was able to take but one throw.

BLUE AND GOLD HORSEHIDERS DROP TO FIFTH IN CCAA DIAMOND ACTION

The Gauchos entered last week-end's frays with Long Beach State and San Diego State in 2nd place in the CCAA race and now look forward to the contests this weekend with Cal Poly and Fresno State with a temporary hold on 5th place after winning but one game out of three with their conference foes from the southland.

Friday's solo contest loss to Long Beach by an 8-4 margin saw the heretofore potent Gaucha batting power checked by the stylish slants of Jerry Sullivan, the Long Beach pitcher, until the 5th inning when the Gauchos put together a walk to Dave Inman, a single to Duke Ellington, and a fielder's choice putout to score their first run of the game. Potential scoring opportunities in the previous innings died on the bases due to the lack of a timely base-knock or two.

The 49'ers began their scoring offensive in the initial frame as their speedy centerfielder scored easily from 2nd base on a single to center. Long Beach made it look easy as they quickly built up a seven run lead in five innings before the Gauchos broke into the scoring column. Starting Gaucha pitcher Jim Hezlep was charged with the loss and was relieved in the 5th frame by Fred Warrecker who adroitly quenched a 49'er rally after Hezlep gave up a run on three singles in this inning. Warrecker's fine fireman performance came a bit too late as he held the 49'ers to one more run while fanning four batters. The Gauchos staged a three run uprising in the 7th inning and then quietly ended the ball game in the 9th with the bases loaded on free passes as the 49'er hurler struck out Wiph and Cairns and got Keenan to fly out to right.

UCSB returned to the Goleta campus diamond on Saturday to garner one game in the twin-bill with the powerful San Diego Aztecs. The Gaucha's Bill Wetzel went all the way in the first game to come out on top with a close 8-7 win in 10 innings. Bob Pope threw an excellent game in the second contest of the double-header as he gave up but one run on six hits while the Gauchos were unable to score on seven basehits.

The Aztecs jumped on Wetzel for their first run in the opening frame on two hits as the Gauchos continued to strand men on the bases. San Diego scored a brace of runs in the 3rd frame and three in the 4th. Meanwhile, the Gauchos loaded the bases in the 2nd inning without a hit or an out being registered and yet failed to dent the plate. UCSB came back in the next frame to again load the bases on three singles by Ned Permenter, Ron Heusser, and Frank Stevens. Aztec pitcher Bob Lusky got out of the jam by getting Keller on a fly to center and fanning Keenan and Wiph.

The Gauchos came through with their first run in the 4th frame as Heusser drove Schmandt home with a single to left. The Gauchos erupted for six big runs in the 8th to forge ahead in the game for the first time. The Aztecs sent the game into an extra inning when their 3rd sacker, Tom Rinks, led off the 9th frame with a homerun over the rightfield fence. UCSB held the Aztecs scoreless in the top of the 10th and then scored the winning run in their half of the inning on a free pass to Wiph, a perfect sacrifice bunt by Schmandt, a passed ball, and a single to left by Inman which drove Wiph across the plate.

The nightcap of the double-header was a display of a flawless defensive game as Gaucha left-hander Pope duelled with Aztec southpaw Dave Cavallin. The Aztecs scored the only run of the game in the 3rd frame on a single and a double. The Gauchos nearly knotted the score in the 6th when Keller led off the frame with a double to left center and was subsequently thrown out at home plate as he tried to score on Schumacker's single
