The Mysterious Kris Kringle: Who is this bearded man?

Now I know that by now everyone that can read this sentence has probably at one time or another heard something about Santa Claus, a.k.a. "St. Nick," a.k.a. "Kris Kringle." I seem to remember quite a few return addresses on my Christmas gifts with his name and address, plainly printed, "Santa Claus, North Pole." And I always dreamed of how he would work his magic by bringing cheer to the whole world.

I was a gifted child growing up; I got lots of presents from everybody I knew, plus those from Santa. And I never really asked how or why this happened, like all the other kids. I knew better than to look a gift horse in the mouth.

I didn't care when kids my age started figuring out that Santa would not be able to spend more than two billionths of a second at each of the houses on his route to get to them all in one night. He made it to my house all right.

It mattered little to me that for Santa's operation to be realistic, his factory would be one of the biggest on Earth and cost billions of dollars every year. They were gifts, free to me.

The forty-eight ply, superabsorbent, nonabrasive Daily Nexus is now also perfect for gift-wrapping priceless treasures from antiquity for the holiday season.

And the flying reindeer? I won't tell you that I ever saw one fly, but that doesn't mean it couldn't happen. Rudolph's glowing nose could happen too, as a result of any of a variety of circumstances.

Even though I'd never been able to stay awake to see him coming down the chimney and eating the milk and cookies for real, I figured I still got my presents, and if it ain't broke, don't fix it.

Now even though the kids my age said Santa wasn't real, I knew better. So I tried to track down as many Santas as I saw and see what they had to say about the matter. BIG HINT: They usually hang out around places to shop.

While I was out looking for the Santas, I found gifts at stores that were exactly like what I was getting from Santa. All they cost was money! I didn't have to wait around for a whole year anymore!

So promptly I went out and worked hard to get a lot of money so that I can buy these gifts for myself. But in remembrance of the olden days of my youth when I got the stuff for free, I always shop for others, too, around this time of year. The advertisements on these pages can help guide your holiday spending, as they did mine.

Santa! Those were my toys from last year! Where are you taking them? What do you mean I'm on your bad list?

Not even the "PREZ" was this good!

Unfortunately,
sometimes you just gotta take off your Gramiccis.

Gramicci

Bummer.

No feathery cotton feel. No soft but sure grip of the elasticized waistband with built-in nylon belt. And not one bit of freedom from the specially-engineered crotch gusset.

Too bad. You've deprived yourself of all those features, typical of the many innovations you find throughout the Gramicci line. Fact is, Gramicci makes lots of stuff you'd hate to take off. And we've got the newest Gramicci styles and colors all in stock now, so come on in or give us a call.

But before you do, we highly recommend you pull your pants back on.
