VOL. 53—NO. 60

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SANTA BARBARA

THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1973

Santa Barbara's last peace march(?)

been organized for the UCSB—Isla Vista community to augment the main march which will leave Alameda Park following an ecumenical service. UCSB—I.V. participants should follow the following schedule of events on Saturday:

9:30 a.m. A car caravan will leave I.V. from Perfect Park. Those with cars should bring them.

10:00. Isla Vistas will assemble at the Santa Barbara Mission.

10:30. The I.V.—UCSB contingent will leave mission and head toward State Street, staying on the sidewalk. 11:00. Once at State Street, locals will "feed" into the main march coming from Alameda Park. The unified march will then proceed along a predetermined route to SBCC's Del Playa Stadium.

Noon. Rally begins.
Professor Richard Flacks of UCSB,

With Inauguration Day on Jan. 20 just two days away, protests have been organized around the country to let President Nixon know that a significant segment of his constituents do not support his Vietnam war policy. The White House has announced that no pact will be signed before the inaugural.

In Santa Barbara, as part of the Inauguration Day proceedings, both a march down State Street and an ensuing rally are scheduled.

Diane Matsinger, chairman of the ad-hoc committee planning UCSB's part in the march and rally, stresses that the rally is important because "it is not just a peace rally, but a work rally to let people find out how they can become involved."

For the day's activities to be successful, however, student support is essential. A "feeder" march has one of the founders of SDS and Scott Kennedy, of the Isla Vista Youth Project, will be among those speaking.

Those who can help as march monitors should attend a meeting at 8 p.m. in UCen 2284.

For general information about the march or rally, call either the Santa Barbara Community Union at 963-9119 or Homefront Bookstore at 961-4140.

Santa Ynez, Justice Court petition drives continue

Volunteers still needed as January targets near Countywide efforts to get registered voters' signatures on petitions protesting the impending Insignis development in Santa Ynez and urging the formation of an Isla Vista Justice Court are starting to bear results.

With a week to go before their Jan. 24 deadline, Santa Ynez referendum backers report surprising success in the signature drive. Bonnie Adams, one of the Isla Vista coordinators for the Citizens' Committee for the General Plan-sponsored push, reports, "It looks like we're at the two-thirds point."

Almost 8,000 signatures have been affixed to Santa Ynez petitions and though only 8,575 valid signatures are needed, experience shows it will probably be necessary to collect 12,000 signatures to get enough valid ones. (Remember, only registered voters in this county may sign referendum petitions.)

Adams says that petition circulators are still needed in the northwest corner of Isla Vista, that is, the west end of El Colegio, Camino del Sur and the Berkshire Terrace area. Volunteers should call 968-2777. "We still need people to bear down to make it," she warns.

JUSTICE COURT

Overshadowed by the sudden publicity for the Santa Ynez petition drive, signature gatherers for the Isla Vista Justice Court project are planning a special effort to begin Jan. 28.

The Jan. 28 drive will last two weeks, till Feb. 10.

Its goal: 10,000 signatures.

To get them, planners have identified 100 "liberal" precincts in Santa Barbara. They hope to have one volunteer canvass each of these precincts and collect 100 signatures.

So far, the bulk of support for the Justice Court petition has come from Isla Vista itself. Some 80% of the 5,000 signatures already on the petition have been gathered in I.V. and on campus. To firm up this bloc of support, petition circulators hope to get another 3,000 signatures in I.V. during the Jan. 28 drive.

A core group of 30 volunteers has been carrying the bulk of the drive so far, reports Project Coordinator Ted Gillis. He singles out Mike Rawson for special commendation; Rawson has singlehandedly gathered over 1,000 signatures.

ELECTION OPTIONS

Two options are open to Justice Court backers when petitioning is completed.

If they have 10,000 valid signatures, the questions of a Justice Court will go on a general ballot countywide in the spring, 1974.

But if 20,000 signatures are collected, the question would be put to a vote in a special election this June. Since only supporters are expected to troop to the polls for a special election, this is the preferred goal of the project.

Gillis reports that the drive's main needs are bodies and money: people to circulate petitions and people to pay for the costs. A budget of only $143 has been scheduled for the special effort coming up, most of which will have to come from donations.

Persons with time or money to volunteer for the Justice Court project should call 968-0909.

Annapurna Inn tenants receive threats of suits over contracts

By Kelly Murphy

UCSB's drop in enrollment not only has school administrators dancing to make ends meet but landlords as well.

As more students move out of I.V. or fewer students move in, more choice housing becomes available. The exodus of renters into the more desirable areas of town has caused the owners of certain residence halls and apartment complexes to worry about keeping their heads above water.

For instance, at the beginning of fall quarter, the Annapurna Inn, at 785 Camino del Sur, I.V. found itself operating at approximately half capacity, with around 150 residents. Before the quarter ended, nearly one-third of the renters had given notice that they were moving out.

During finals week last quarter, Annapurna residents got wind, via an anonymous tipster, that the owner of 52% of Annapurna, Harold Stanton, allegedly intended to sue many of those moving out for the remainder of the year's rent. While many residents thought they had signed quarterly contracts, Stanton contended that they had signed yearly contracts.

Joan Mortell, head of the UCSB Student Housing Services office, was called in to mediate and confronted Stanton with the question: "Do you consider these valid quarterly contracts?" In the midst of an office filled with irate residents, Stanton replied "Yes."

The contracts in question had been yearly contracts, with paragraphs and prices crossed out and initialed by the manager, but they were orally represented as quarterly contracts. Annapurna manager Della Rush has since been fired and is now in the employ of the Tropicana Gardens.

'EXPENSE OF LITIGATION'

Their fears seemingly allayed, those who planned to move went ahead and signed contracts with their new landlords.

During Christmas break, however, many of those who moved out received intimidating letters from Santa Barbara attorney Charles Meshot, threatening them with "the further expense of litigation" if they didn't come up with the remainder of the year's rent (which in some cases ran as high as $960).

When contacted by the Nexus yesterday, Meshot denied that he was still working for the Annapurna (Continued on p. 8, col. 2)

Regan arraignment planned for today

Formal charges against Phil Regan, who allegedly tried to bribe Third District Supervisor Frank Frost for a yes vote on Monday's defeated Tyrolean Village project, will be filed today by District Attorney Tom Sneddon.

The charges are: one count of soliciting another for a bribe and two counts of bribing a supervisor. Regan is to appear at 9 a.m. for his arraignment.

Sneddon says that he still does not know whether the case will be heard by the Grand Jury.

IVCC uses phone tax to protest the war

Reps on horn to Ketchum in D.C. to protest war

IVCC recently voted to cease payment of the federal excise tax on telephone bills in continuing protest of the Vietnam war.

Refusal to pay the excise tax is but one facet of IVCC'S war against the war. At first, a raffle was to be held, the proceeds from which would be used as plane fare for two protestors at Nixon's Inauguration this Saturday.

SPIRALING PROTEST

The number of Americans who refuse to pay their telephone excise taxes as a form of war protest grew by some 5,000 in 1972, totaling 22,000 according to AT&T. That figure is up from only 12,000 in 1970.

The situation has become a source of vexation to both the Internal Revenue Service and AT&T. The IRS wants the phone company to discontinue service to all those tax-withholders, but the phone company says that it's the responsibility of the IRS to go after protesters.

Naturally, the IRS isn't very keen on the notion of trying to prosecute 22,000 telephone tax-withholders, and the phone company doesn't want to undertake the $200,000 expense of disconnecting all those phones.

Newly elected Congressman Ketchum will have an open telephone line this Friday at 2 with IVCC members. Phones will be set up in the Isla Vista Planning Office and KCSB will broadcast the talk.

A Republican, Ketchum has expressed antiwar sentiment.

Logan, IVCC member said of the proposed talk with Ketchum, "We plan to just talk with him. He is a man with a lot of principles. We know that he is a first-termer, and all and can't just start off bucking his party."

The republican congressional caucus is divided on the war. It is hoped that Congressman Ketchum will align with the antiwar segment seeking to end arms appropriations to Vietnam. At this point it is uncertain as to which way Ketchum will vote but his vote is nevertheless a swing vote.

IVCC is partially funded by the Regents of the University of California. Members of the Council do not feel that the refusal to pay the tax will bring static from the Regents. Council member Trish Davey commented, "I don't think that they are going to say or do anything. Isla Vista has been something of an embarrassment to them. They have already washed their hands of us."

The antiwar march will start at 1 p.m. in Santa Barbara at Alameda Park located on Santa Barbara Street and end at La Playa Stadium at Santa Barbara City College.

French gov't lauds UCSB prof

Professor of French at UCSB, Ronald W. Tobin, has been honored by the French government for scholarly contributions to French literature and the spreading of French culture in this country with the award of Knight in the Order of the Academic Palms.

The award, a medal, will be presented by the French Consul Saturday at McGuire House, 2311 Garden St., Santa Barbara, following a lecture in French by the French Cultural Attache at 3 p.m. The public is welcome to attend.

MacGillivray liaison holds hours

Assemblyman W. Don MacGillivray's campus representative at UCSB, A.S. Executive Vice President Jim Gazdecki, has announced that he will start holding office hours Thursday nights to see students who want information about government or local affairs.

"The Assemblyman recognizes that there's been inadequate communication between his office and the student body," says Gazdecki. "He's the only Assemblyman who keeps a campus liaison in office and he wants to be Assemblyman for all his constituents."

Gazdecki will be in the Associated Students office on the third floor of the UCen Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. The campus liaison program was in operation last year at UCSB under students Jim Acker and Deborah Kurilchuk.

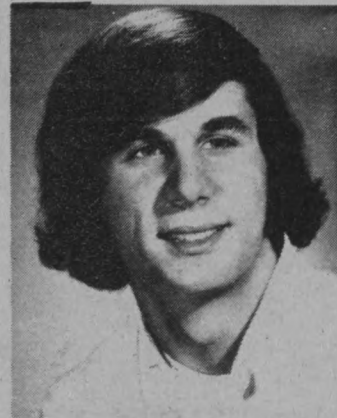

Expounding on reasons why students should seek to use the resources of the conservative Republican Assemblyman's office, Gazdecki concluded, "It's my opinion that students should use both parties to get the changes they want in government. It's ridiculous to put all your eggs in one basket."

Gazdecki sees Assemblyman MacGillivray periodically and will be able to deliver messages, questions or complaints in person.

Debate challenge

To the Editor:

M. Bruce Johnson, UCSB Economics Department chairman, stated in the Jan. 16 Nexus that "what he does in his spare time is his own business." He says further that his outside activities on behalf of his consulting firm pose no conflict of interest with his duties at UCSB. These are glib answers to a very complex question.

By accepting a position at the University of California, a professor shoulders the responsibility to teach, do research and engage in public service. Although not spelled out in actual hours per week, the professor is expected to devote a considerable portion of his time to these University duties.

Occasional consulting is a traditional perquisite of university professors and is considered acceptable. When occasional consulting is expanded into a major business, however, "spare time" turns into university time. At this point, the professor is no longer fulfilling his responsibilities to his students and the taxpayers who pay his salary. From all accounts, M. Bruce Johnson may be approaching this limit.

A parallel issue also involves Dr. Johnson and his business of preparing impact statements for land speculators. For some time, university communities have avoided involvement in war-related activities. Might it not be just as immoral to be involved with polluters such as oil companies and land developers? I feel strongly that it is, but would welcome opposing views. I would like to discuss these issues openly with Dr. Johnson and therefore challenge him to a public debate, at a time and place to be determined by mutual consent.

Bookstore hours

Dear Students of UCSB:

The staff of the Campus Bookstore expresses regret that some students were not able to get service at 11:30 p.m. one evening last week. The extended, midnight, closing hour was experimental and dependent upon actual traffic in the bookstore. An attempt to explain the "experimental" arrangement was made through the Nexus, the "Counter Catalogues" and through the "Winter Calendar." On the whole we feel the extended hours of operation were well received.

There were periods late in the week, however, when traffic became inadequate. On such evenings we had no alternative, except closing and devoting staff to other productive responsibilities.

We welcome suggestions on how the hourly schedule of the Campus Bookstore can meet the needs most adequately of the largest number of current students. Please feel free to generously drop suggestions in the "suggestion box" in the front of the bookstore.

Your ideas and suggestions will always be appreciated.

LETTERS:

Catterlin unfit for bench

Note: The following letter was mailed to Governor Reagan by I.V. Justice Court project head Ted Gillis last week.

Dear Governor Reagan:

With the retirement of Judge Walter E. Parent from the Santa Barbara-Goleta Municipal Court bench, your office is now faced with the task of finding a worthy replacement. I am sure that you are as desirous as we are that Judge Parent's replacement be a person of an unimpeachable reputation, in possession of an even-tempered disposition, and who would be fair and just to all citizens appearing before the court.

You have before you for your consideration 10 announced candidates for this judgeship. I would like to point out some facts concerning the character of one of the candidates-County Supervisor Charles F. Catterlin.

ETHICS: Mr. Catterlin, while campaigning for supervisor in 1970 was found guilty of behaving in violation of professional ethics by the Committee on Professional Ethics of the State Bar. Mr. Catterlin was depicted as a judge wearing judicial robes in his campaign literature, when in fact he, an attorney, had been sitting as a judge pro tempore, a duty that is rotated periodically among members of the local bar.

TEMPERAMENT: Mr. Catterlin attempted to physically assault Mr. William Botwright, then chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee to the South Coast Transportation Study (SCOTS) at a committee meeting last year. Mr. Catterlin had to be restrained by members of the committee.

PREJUDICE: Mr. Catterlin campaigned as the "chief prosecutor" of Isla Vista during the unfortunate troubles of 1970. Since then he has acted in a matter as to hamper and frustrate the peaceful and legitimate efforts of the concerned citizens of this community to solve their own problems and to conduct their own affairs in a just manner.

Isla Vista constitute approximately 10% of the population of the Santa Barbara-Goleta (Municipal Court) District. Based on his past attitudes and behavior, it is questionable whether or not any resident of this community could receive a fair and unbiased hearing before Mr. Catterlin.

Considering the above facts and the complex political situation that would be created by a vacancy on the Santa Barbara Board of Supervisors, I strongly urge you to reject Mr. Charles F. Catterlin's candidacy from consideration for Municipal Court judgeship.

'Just ask Katie Winters'

To the Editor:

During our years at UCSB, we have become aware of a bizarre phenomenon in UCSB's Physical Activities Department policy. There appear to be gross discrepancies between the privileges granted male and female gym students. The most obvious of these concerns the laundering and issuance of gym clothes. Women gym students quickly become aware that the University regards the laundering of their own gym attire as part of their feminine role.

Men, on the other hand, are given a motherly hand by the Physical Activities Department, which washes their gym clothes at least once a week, and exchanges soiled gym clothes for clean ones on request. Women students were given the following reasons for this practice:

1) Men sweat more than women. Therefore, their clothes must be laundered professionally by the P.A. Department. It is a well-known fact that women perspire only lightly, this appearing as dampness on the palms of their hands. Female perspiratory problems are easily and daintily taken care of in the home, in "secret." (Just ask Katie Winters.)

2) The P.A. Department will not wash women's gym clothes because, unlike men's gym clothes, they "have to" be ironed, which would overwork their personnel. Thus it is expected that UCSB coeds not only wash, but also iron, their own gym clothes. The consensus is that those female students who do wash their gym clothes one or more times during the quarter do not iron them anyway.

Women who do iron them relinquish this privilege for frequently washed clothes.

3) The wide range of gym suit sizes required to accommodate the body types of female gym students would cause complications in the laundering and exchanging of gym clothes. This problem does not occur with men's gym clothes, since men apparently come in only a few standard sizes.

When asked by a woman who desired clean gym clothes if she could check out men's gym clothes, the equipment man replied in the negative.

There are also discrepancies in the clothes that men and women are allowed to check out. It seems that men are issued tube socks, which are laundered on request. Women are not issued socks at all. Men are issued jock straps to help them cope with the stress and strain of P.A.'s.

After a day of particularly vigorous physical activity, men and women alike are plagued by sore muscles. While the men retire to the whirlpool bath provided for them by the P.A. Department, the women settle daintily into their bubble baths at home.

It appears that the University does not take women gym students or even women athletes seriously; this is evidenced by the insufficiency (and inequality) of the funds and facilities allotted to women-gym students and teams.

Support for women athletes

To the Editor and Students:

I fully support the improvements proposed in the letter Jan. 16, by Debbie Fank and others addressed to the Student Athletic Advisory Committee. Our women's intercollegiate basketball team, who just beat Santa Cruz 68-35 are a group of students who take pride in their sport.

For the advancement of fine playing and UCSB spirit, we must support and acknowledge our women's basketball team—giving them more funds, repairing their courts, providing adequate practice times and cheering them on at home games.

CATHY BAILEY

Another bike bust

To the Editor:

As an Isla Vista resident who enjoys hopes that I.V. is getting better all the time, and who supports the idea of decreasing automobile traffic and encouraging bicycle use, I was rather upset upon the presentation of a moving violation (failure to stop at a stop sign); not only because of the fine involved, but at the thought that such dedication on the part of the California Highway Patrol cannot but harm such hopes.

Law enforcement of this type will surely do nothing to foster positive attitudes in the Isla Vista community toward increased bicycle use.

PRESTON THAYER

UCSB to host environmental lectures

By Leonard Felson

Starting this Monday and continuing through April, a host of illuminaries will visit UCSB, all to pursue the problem of growth, the environment and other ecological issues.

Titled "The Limits to Growth," UCSB's Committee on Arts and Lectures along with The Environmental Studies Program and Associated Students will present a series of seven lectures with such authorities as Paul Ehrlich asking such profound questions as "Are There Limits to Growth?"

• Jorgen Randers, a Norwegian, who has researched such esoteric topics as inelastic scattering of neutrons will begin the lecture series Jan. 22. "The Carrying Capacity of the Globe —

A Look at the Ethical Alternatives" is his topic.

• The Stanford biologist-ecologist, Paul Ehrlich, will follow Randers a week later. President of Zero Population Growth, author of "The Population Bomb" and co-author of "How to be a Survivor: A Plan to Save Spaceship Earth," are but a few of his contributions to the ecology movement.

• Among the other "heavy weights" are Paul McCloskey, U.S. congressman, whose last visit to this campus was as a Republican presidential candidate in 1972. He still sees one of his goals as saving the country, though this time he will confine his remarks to the environment. McCloskey has been a long time activist in Congress on environmental issues.

• Other U.S. government officials to speak are economist Henry Wallich, who was former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. Lecturing on the topic "How to Grow Safely," he is currently, among other things, a columnist for Newsweek magazine. Wallich, a noted authority on national and international economic policies, also has served since January, 1969 as senior consultant to the Secretary of the Treasury.

• Another economist, Kenneth Boulding, is slated for the series. Author of "Economics as a Science," Boulding will speak on "The Elusive Doomsday." A graduate from Oxford University, he has taught economics at several American universities. In 1970 he was a member of Scientific Council of the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute.

• A Space Scientist from North American Rockwell, Kraff Ehrliche, will lecture on "The Extraterrestrial Imperative — A Challenge to Growth Limitation." Ehrliche has served as a consultant to the Defense Department and as chairman of the NASA Advisory Board on Electrical Energy Conversion.

• Winding up the series is Gordon MacDonald, environmentalist, and former member of the Council on Environmental Quality. MacDonald will conduct a symposium entitled "Components of a National Growth Policy." He is presently Henry Luce Professor of Environmental Policy and Director of Environmental Studies at Dartmouth College.

Tickets are still available for all lectures and cost 50 cents a lecture or $3 for the series for students. Non-students can pick up tickets at $1 per lecture or $6 for the series. Tickets are available at the Arts and Lectures Ticket Office, UCSB, La Cumbre Plaza and at the Lobero Theatre. For further information call 961-3535.

I.V. happenings

TONIGHT

Isla Vista's Park and Recreation District Board of Directors will hold their first public meeting tonight at 7:30 in the I.V. Planning Commission Office.

TONIGHT

The future of dogs will be discussed at a forum tonight at St. Mark's at 7:30. Because of the delicate nature of the discussion, dog owners are requested to leave their filthy pets at home.

LATER

A rabies clinic will be held Feb. 3 in Perfect Park. The county has been erroneously advertising it as being held this Saturday. Fifteen volunteers are needed to help with this event. Contact the IVCC office for information or to volunteer.

Gauchos hit the road

UCSB's league-leading Gaucho cagers get a two week respite from Pacific Coast Athletic Association action and take to the road to face the University of Arizona Thursday and Cal State Northridge Saturday. Both games are set for 8 p.m. tipoffs.

The Gauchos missed an opportunity to take sole possession of first place in the PCAA by dropping a 71-59 decision to the University of Pacific, but came back to hand San Jose State's Spartans their first league loss, winning by a 63-59 margin. San Jose and UCSB now sit atop the league with 3-1 records, while Cal State Long Beach boasts a 2-1 mark.

"We are still feeling great disappointment about Friday night's game with Pacific," commented UCSB coach Ralph Barkey. "We really put ourselves into a hole as far as the league race is concerned by losing this home game."

Barkey, calling the San Jose State contest "critical," felt his team made a tremendous comeback to stop the league-leading Spartans and tie them for the top spot in the PCAA race.

Arizona, now 7-5 going into this week's action, is expected to be especially tough upon returning to its compact Bear Down Gym. New head coach Fred Snowden has guided the Wildcats to their best start in recent years and Arizona has already improved on last year's 6-20 season.

The Wildcats are led by three freshmen — guards Coniel Norman and Eric Money and 6-8 forward Al Fleming. Norman leads the team in scoring with over 20 points per game, followed closely by Money's 17 point average. Fleming has been averaging 12 points per game and over 10 rebounds.

Pete Cassidy's Cal State Northridge Matadors are 7-7 on the year and 0-3 in the California Collegiate Athletic Association. Led by senior guard Louis Hamm, who averages 13.2 points a game, and 6-5 junior forward George Robnett, averaging 13.1 points a game, CSUN has a talented crew and is capable of beating a great many teams.

UCSB returns from Northridge to play host to Stanford University one of the top Pacific-8 clubs, and Utah State the following weekend.

"We're very concerned about our overall record and it is important to us to get as many of these non-league games as possible," Barkey said. "I hope during this two-week period to be able to play Kirt Anderson in particular. He has been an impressive player in practice for us and I think he's coming around to the point where he can help our club. I also plan to give Darrelle Lyons, our other sophomore, more playing time. He has played well for us in spots during the last two weeks."

LAST YEAR when the Harlem Globetrotters came to Robertson Gym the antics of Meadowlark Lemon delighted the capacity crowd. This year should prove to be just as entertaining.

Pictured here is Meadowlark Lemon when he became tired of playing during the game last year and decided to join the crowd and watch for a while.

Students are encouraged to purchase their tickets early as it will most likely be a sell-out again this year. Tickets for this Hoop Club sponsored event are only $3 for UCSB students and are available at the Robertson Gym Ticket Office. The price might seem a bit steep but the Hoop Club supports Gaucho Basketball and thus by buying a ticket one is helping the UCSB Basketball team.

Surfers defeat Golden West

Despite heavy partying on Saturday night, the UCSB surf team's 57-47 win made Golden West's top rated surfers look like floundering novices. Last Sunday morning Dave Johnson gave UCSB an early lead by displaying his powerful Australian style, capturing first place in the opening heat. Steve Mann ripped his way to a close second.

Three to four foot surf at Campus Point made a substantial population of inconsiderate wave hogs inevitable. Courtesy towards competitors was rarely exhibited.

President Bill Kendall used his experience and consistency to take first place in the third heat. Bill King, who had the take-off spot wired, carved his way to first place in the fourth heat and accredited his win to his morning bottle of Coca-Cola. In the fifth and final heat

Burt Fleming's impressive backside maneuvers brought him first place. He attributed this win to "...my morning tube of glue."

One of Golden West's top contenders, Waldo Wendoelmyer, was accidentally impaled on a rock during his heat and had to be scraped off at low tide. Golden West College had virtually the same team that won last year's Western Intercollegiate Surfing Conference Championship.

This Sunday morning UCSB surfers will host UCLA. The contest site will be either Campus Point or Sands. Come watch and you'll probably discover that there's more to surfing than knobby knees and a "D" average.

The surf team meets Thursday night at 10 p.m. in UCen 2292.

CHP cycling citations continue

Isla Vistans will continue to receive bicycle citations, according to the local office of the CHP. Although the CHP began writing tickets in the middle of November, they expect it will be March before they can make a determination as to whether the citations are reducing accidents. Last month, 256 citations were issued to local cyclists.

Most of the citations are for running stop signs. Many of the remainder are for not having a light. In December, there was only one accident involving a bicycle in I.V., but it must be remembered that many Isla Vistans were on vacation.

The current fine for bike violators is under $10 for all offenses. This is a reduction from the previous fee of $19. The reduction in the fines came after IVCC discussed the matter with Municipal Court judges.

The Santa Barbara area ranks No. 1 in California in severity of the bicycle problem, surpassing Los Angeles and San Diego. As a result, CHP officials have made a special effort to catch bicycle violators in both I.V. and the rest of the area.

By comparison with the rest of the CHP area, Isla Vista appears to receive slightly under a third (30% in December) of the total bicycle citations. The CHP area covers from the Santa Barbara City Limits to Winchester Canyon. In terms of accidents, I.V. fares slightly better (27% of all accidents involving bicycles).

IVCC and IVPC are investigating different alternatives to the bicycle safety problem in I.V. IVPC has asked the road commissioner to remove the East-West stop signs on Pardall along the bike path. Originally the IVPC wanted to replace the stop signs with yields, but that would have been illegal.

In other matters, the CHP announced that a new record was set for drunk driving arrests last year. In a 17% increase over 1971, 95,667 drivers were arrested. CHP officials say that they have a new policy of concentrating on drivers who endanger others. Previously, on occasion CHP officers were stationed at vantage points to apprehend speeders. Now the officers are on the road, looking for drinking drivers. As a result of this new policy a minor offender may be passed up so the officer can concentrate on a more serious offender.

Inn. "They misrepresented their contract to me without showing me a copy," he said. "I haven't received a dime from them, and I'm not working for them."

These tenants signed, in good faith, contracts that were orally represented as quarterly contracts. The Annapurna landlord, by his own admission, is taking them to task not because he doesn't like them, but because he sees his business being hurt.

Anyone 18 or over is legally bound by the contracts they sign. To avoid problems with court, Joan Mortell invites students to the UCSB Housing Office, located in the north wing of the ground floor of the Administration Building, to get ALL the information before they sign.

Applications for staff positions with Student Parent Orientation are now available in the Campus Activities Office, UCen 313. Sponsored by the Dean of Students Office and the College of Letters and Science, the program is conducted on the weekends during summer session and involves academic advising, testing, in-depth discussions about the University experience and general orientation for new freshmen, transfer students, and their parents.

The staff positions average about 30 hours a week paid employment. Freshmen or sophomores with a minimum GPA of 2.0 and juniors, seniors and graduate students with a minimum GPA of 3.0 are eligible, if they attended UCSB as freshmen. The application deadline is Jan. 31.

Abby Haight named to state Democratic Central Committee

Abby Haight, Nexus Isla Vista News editor, has been appointed to the State Democratic Central Committee. The appointment was made by defeated Congressional candidate Tim Lemucchi.

Each Democratic candidate for Congress and the State Legislature has three such appointments to make.

The Democratic State Central Committee is the main policy-making body for the Democrats in this state, and it will soon face the task of electing a state chairman. A battle appears to be shaping up between the moderates and McGovernites. Haight has come out for the liberal candidate, Assemblyman John Burton of San Francisco.

Haight, a 19-year old sophomore, has been active in Isla Vista governmental affairs and local politics in addition to writing for the Nexus.

IVCC plans Ketchum talk

Congressman William Ketchum, I.V.'s newly elected representative, has agreed to discuss Capital Hill actions concerning the war with an IVCC delegation during a telephone call Friday at 2 p.m.

The I.V. Planning Commission Office has been selected as the place Ketchum will be calling for this half-hour conversation. It is hoped that using this office will allow more people to hear the congressman's replies to the queries of the four member delegation. Included in this delegation are Councilman Carmen Lodise and Fifth District Collective member Scott Kennedy. Plans for broadcasting the discussion over KCSB are presently being pursued. Permission from the congressman is being sought, but it is doubtful it will be denied. The idea for such a conversation was conceived during an IVCC meeting recently and a letter requesting it was sent off. Lodise read from the letter sent to Ketchum, "There was one point that you made which most Isla Vistans agree with: that the government in Saigon is not worth the loss of anyone's life." The letter further stated, "In light of this shared antipathy we are very anxious to know how you intend to vote on any legislation in the near future to cut off funds for the continued support of our ally in Saigon."

Lodise indicated the conversation planned would take a "tone showing we are not attempting to change his mind on this, we are rather close on this issue. We want him to share with us his understanding of what is happening in Washington concerning cutting off all funds for the war."

Weather permitting, a rally is planned prior to the phone call at noon in the Free Speech Area. The rally will adjourn in time to regroup at the Planning Commission Office to receive the call from Ketchum.
