Finding a Job in Uncertain Times

By Don Lubach
Coordinator of Career Employment

If you are a senior or graduate student getting ready to search for a job, please read this.

In the job frenzy? Students have been walking into our pink building, changing into a new suit, and running with a job and full benefits. They seemed to be getting job offers before they ever had to answer a single question about their weaknesses or the snag in that difficult science class.

But the picture is fading now a bit like those framed family pictures I printed on my first ink-jet printer. The flood of the blue-chip corporations is rapidly being replaced by a new tide of UCSB seniors, graduate students and even alumni who are coming to our office seeking meaningful jobs — or, in some cases, any jobs in the world of work. Now that the job-hunting process is returning to "normal," we are expecting a lot of traffic this spring. Please read this.

With my colleagues here in the office and We're ready to help.

...more jobs listed out there than ever. It just takes a few clicks to find them. If you start at a place like the Riley Guide (www.rileyguide.com) you'll save time and find links by industry, geography, job title, etc. Click on the A-Z listing and you ought to be surrounded at the amount and quality of the information. The woman behind the site is a librarian and has used her powerful skills of organization to assemble one of the first and, we think, the best job hunting sites on the Internet.

Graduate into an internship. Consider extending your education in the form of a post-graduation internship. There are becoming more popular and enjoyable.

You can make a database of your contacts. They've all been on campus meeting students on all of the steps required in the school day here. The list of employers coming this quarter is on the web and listed on these pages. How to get started. Come to our office or visit our site. We are ustakn.

If you are a senior or graduate student wondering about anything. UCSB turns out socially intelligent graduates and some of you have yet to recognize the value of your twin strengths of social science and technology. I met a student who recently went to visit his girlfriend in Colorado and, while there, he picked up the phone and called a design company. Because he asked nicely, they agreed to give him a tour. He ended up spending the day with them and leaving with a job offer from their chief engineer.

Network. And, saving the best for last, the number one way to find a meaningful job after you graduate: use your contacts (or make your own contacts). Networking still reigns as the best way to find good work. Most jobs are never advertised. They just come up and get filled by nosy insiders and by people who know the game of networking and play it well. If you want to use this networking made a contact list. Sit down with a pen and paper and think of anyone who might have some possible connection to what you want. People in your desired field, other job seekers, prominent and not-so-prominent people. Don't evaluate their potential effectiveness yet. Just get into a networking mood and get as many names on paper as possible. Arrange the list in order. Arrange them in descending order according to their proximity to your career goals. Then, start making calls.

Campus Interviews. JobTRAK.com has thousands of job listings. UCSB, UCLA, Berkeley... all of us have partnered with this company down in L.A. that has built the most sophisticated site for the college market. Students like the site because the employers who post the jobs have paid to specifically target their job descriptions to the recent college graduates. The people at JobTRAK recently hosted a very popular job fair targeted specifically at our Ph.D. students. If you are in our computer science or engineering department this quarter, it is on the web and listed on these pages. How to get started. Come to our office or visit our site. We are ustakn.

Use Job Hunting Mega Sites. There are dozens of job lists on their web sites. Here's a fun way to find a meaningful job after you graduate: use your contacts (or make your own contacts). Networking still reigns as the best way to find good work. Most jobs are never advertised. They just come up and get filled by nosy insiders and by people who know the game of networking and play it well. If you want to use this networking made a contact list. Sit down with a pen and paper and think of anyone who might have some possible connection to what you want. People in your desired field, other job seekers, prominent and not-so-prominent people. Don't evaluate their potential effectiveness yet. Just get into a networking mood and get as many names on paper as possible. Arrange the list in order. Arrange them in descending order according to their proximity to your career goals. Then, start making calls.

Campus Interviews. JobTRAK.com has thousands of job listings. UCSB, UCLA, Berkeley... all of us have partnered with this company down in L.A. that has built the most sophisticated site for the college market. Students like the site because the employers who post the jobs have paid to specifically target their job descriptions to the recent college graduates. The people at JobTRAK recently hosted a very popular job fair targeted specifically at our Ph.D. students. If you are in our computer science or engineering department this quarter, it is on the web and listed on these pages. How to get started. Come to our office or visit our site. We are ustakn.

Use Job Hunting Mega Sites. There are dozens of job lists on their web sites. Here's a fun way to find a meaningful job after you graduate: use your contacts (or make your own contacts). Networking still reigns as the best way to find good work. Most jobs are never advertised. They just come up and get filled by nosy insiders and by people who know the game of networking and play it well. If you want to use this networking made a contact list. Sit down with a pen and paper and think of anyone who might have some possible connection to what you want. People in your desired field, other job seekers, prominent and not-so-prominent people. Don't evaluate their potential effectiveness yet. Just get into a networking mood and get as many names on paper as possible. Arrange the list in order. Arrange them in descending order according to their proximity to your career goals. Then, start making calls.
ALUMNI: It's Not a Dirty Word

By Marisa Voorhees

Many of you reading this article are about to graduate from UCSB and enter the real world. Like you, I had little knowledge about what it meant to be an alumna of my alma mater. Now that I know, I want to share my knowledge with you, and let you know that alumna is not a dirty word and being an alumna is an awesome thing.

Being a member of the UCSB Alumni Association isn't just about joining and getting a license plate frame (hint: an alumni membership makes a great grad gift). As a '96 alumna and Senior Recruiter for Opportunities Plus in Santa Barbara, said, "Membership is your gateway to information and continued involvement at UCSB. Membership helps you stay connected to UCSB and other alumni through exclusive programs."

These programs include nationwide UCSB Alumni Chapters. UCSB chapters located throughout the state of California, and in Seattle, Portland, New York, DC and Colorado are a great opportunity to meet alumnae living in your area. Each chapter plans activities including alumni mixers, fundraiser picnics, baseball games and tailgating parties, movie tours, weekend beer trips and much more. By being a member of the UCSB Alumni Association, you receive invitations and announcements to UCSB Alumni Chapter events and activities in your area.

Allie, a '99 alumna and Humanities Department Assistant at UCSB, found the San Diego chapter which gave me access to the UCSB San Diego Chapter where I was able to meet people in a city that was new to her. "Being a member of the UCSB Alumni Association opened my eyes to the vast opportunities that were all Gauchos." Alumni provided Allie with information about San Diego, shared their favorite spots, invited her to events and gave me access to the UCSB San Diego Alumni and Network with new people in a city that was new to her. "Being a member of the UCSB Alumni Association was also a great networking opportunity. As a professional, in the community that is important to me."

Jason, 99-00 A.S. president and proud UCSB Alumni Association member also has a great reason for being a member. "So, I have to ask myself in retrospect, why did I join? Well, did, when I first stepped on campus, I felt like I was a part of a bigger community and that was the most fun you can have on a campus."

The UCSB Alumni Association offers many other opportunities to stay connected to UCSB by participating in the UCSB Alumni Association's award winning Career Connections program, a database which alumnae and students can access for their career research. Lisa, an '88 alumna says, "The times I have spent at UCSB have been memorable and life altering. On top of getting an education, I had had opportunities to meet people and see new things. I hope by being a member of the UCSB Alumni Association, I can give back a small piece of what has shaped me into who I am today."

You're not alone. The connections don't end with a few networking programs. Members of the UCSB Alumni Association receive information about our travel program Gauchos Getaways. Great for someone who is 65, retired and ready to travel. But, did you know that Gauchos Getaways offers a senior citizen trip? This year's trip will include stops in London, Paris, Rome and Madrid. It open to all graduating seniors who are UCSB Alumni Association members. It is really affordable and a perfect grad gift.

As you get older, the travel opportunities keep getting better. Same summer, same campus where the students have graduated within the last 10 years. There are opportunities to the great west including special excursions to Belize, Cuba, Patagonia, Mexico and many favorite destinations throughout Europe. Having been on the Mexico trip myself, I can tell you that it is the most fun you will have on a vacation. As you know, your life and career are shaped by who you know. I am sure if you thought for a minute, you would realize that somewhere along your college career, someone connected to UCSB made a difference in your future. Or maybe you are the keeper of a "If I only knew then" secret that you could share with a future graduate. Either way, the UCSB Alumni Association can help you stay connected.

Now, some of you reading this article still have GEs, midterms and papers waiting for you in the fall. Since you are a Gauchos for life, the UCSB Alumni Association has a resource for you to keep in touch with us. The Student Alumni Association was created in 1976 to work with members of the Alumni Association to offer students programs which unite you with us for career development and networking purposes.

We do this through programs such as Dinners at Home where local alumni host students with a similar career interest to a home cooked meal and a chat about careers. Career Conferences that feature alumni speakers in the fields of law and communications who share their real job experiences with students; and Career Symposia which bring alumni back to campus for weekend career chats and coffee talks. SAA members have built networks and received internships, jobs and other great opportunities through SAA's programs.

Along with networking, SAA offers in membership leadership opportunities. There are great reasons to join. Allen, a '95 alumnus and President says, "My involvement with SAA has been all about helping other students and making the program more successful. In addition to the career and networking benefits of membership, I have been involved in planning events I know my fellow students would attend and participating in the success of an organization that is constantly evolving to better serve its members."

Whether you are graduating in spring or returning in fall, are a Gauchos for life. By being a member of the UCSB Alumni Association or SAA, you can continue to be a university supporter. Michael, a '96 alumna and attorney in Santa Barbara said, "Personally, I joined the Alumni Association not just as a member, but to be actively involved." I think there are few other organizations in the community that bring people together from such a wide array of backgrounds while still sharing a common bond, "SAA. Additionally, it is not just a great way to keep in contact with your fellow alumni, but it is a great networking opportunity." As a professional, in the community that is important to me.

Now that you have learned some of the good things about being a member of the UCSB Alumni Association, I have a confession to make. I am a young alumna. There, I have said it. No, my phone isn't ringing monthly for money solicitations, my alma mater isn't asking me for more money, and I have not willed my kidney to the science department. OK, confession number two: I work for the UCSB Alumni Association. So, as a meme this the next time you hear the word alumni don't scream, scream quiet, and smile, and know that the UCSB Alumni Association has you connected.

For further information about membership in any of the programs in this article, check out the UCSB Alumni Association website at www.ucsb-alumni.com. To receive SAA membership information, email saa@ucsb-alumni.edu, please include your address.

SIGNATURE ESTATE & INVESTMENT ADVISORS, LLC

Signature Estate & Investment Advisors, LLC (SEIA, LLC), a prestigious fee based Beverly Hills Registered Investment Advisor firm, seeks full-time Registered Investment Advisors to be part of a four year training program with guaranteed salary. SEIA offers fee based Financial Planning and Independent Investment Management Services utilizing Charles Schwab and Company, Inc. as custodian.

We will be conducting campus interviews on April 27, 2001
To obtain an interview log on to www.jobtrak.com

3833 Wilshire Blvd., Suite 800, Beverly Hills, CA 90211
www.seia LLC

SEIA
Congratulations To Counseling & Career Services Graduating Peers

Tiffany Asuncion
Alisa Brady
Jeff Bucholtz
Jessica Caberra
Ann Carey
Mark Galbo
Lupe Hernandez
Deborah Hom
Peter Lin
Austin Quinn-Davidson
Nash Solano
Kurt Vaughn

The staff of C&CS would like to thank you for your valuable work with students this year.

"Shoot for the moon, if you miss you will land among the stars!"

---

UCSB students have 0-4 drinks when they party*

1 drink = 12 oz. beer or 4.5 oz. wine or 1 oz. liquor

Over 3,000 UCSB Students DON'T DRINK AT ALL!

*Based on survey data collected by Student Health in 1999 from UCSB students in a randomly selected mailing.

For more information, call 893-2630.

What Will You Do Over Summer Vacation?

By Micael Kemp
Associate Director, Career Services

When we were children summer vacation was usually a time of rest and relaxation. Long days at the beach or the mountains or playing at home with siblings and neighborhood friends. The time between June and September seemed endless.

As we mature, the longing for those long summer days is balanced with other ideas about using that precious time wisely. Maybe a few months of down time is the wisest use that time. But other options may be more appealing or may offer a better way to prepare for life after graduation. For most of us, after our days as a student end, we look to find some kind of meaningful work. We will talk to employers and present ourselves as possible hires in fields of our choosing. But employers don't hire people solely because of their academic backgrounds. For employers, the best candidate is one who brings both education and experience and sound not your academic education. This will make you a compelling applicant for jobs that interest you.

There are several ways to accrue that experience. Part-time or summer jobs offer excellent opportunities to learn corporate culture, get introduced to office politics (which occur in every job, whether the setting is in an office, a restaurant, a sales floor or a construction site) and gain experience in working with a variety of managers. They also provide a little extra money, which always comes in handy. To find part-time and summer jobs, go to www.jobtrak.com and sign in. Choose "Part and Full Time Jobs" from the student main menu and survey the possibilities. Today the 40+ listings included jobs such as retail assistant designer for an architect, a staff geologist in San Jose or a construction site) and gain experience in working with a variety of managers. Any of these would provide you with interesting and useful employment experiences to discuss with future employers when you start looking for a career position.

Internships offer an opportunity to gain job-related skills and learn through experience whether or not a particular field is a good fit. Thinking of becoming a teacher? Or a stock broker? Or a writer? Or a biological engineer? A summer internship or volunteer experience will help you confirm or discount that this is the best choice for you for employment. It also enables you to make connections in the field and start networking for a full-time job after graduation. To preview the wide range of internships options available to you, go to career.ucsb.edu/interm/intern.html and choose the type of internship that best suits your goals.

Some of you will be graduating in June, and are seeking full-time career employment. If you haven't done so, now is the time to start. Check out the Part and Full Time Jobs as well as Interview/Work sessions of JobTRAK to get connected with employers seeking to hire. Take advantage of Counseling and Career Services as much as possible for the next few months. You have free access to all our services through graduation and for a "grace period" three months thereafter. This means that for up to three months after you graduate, you can continue to use Counseling and Career Services for free. After that, the cost is $50 per year. Counseling and Career Services will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. through the end of August. You can make an appointment or just drop by and we'd be happy to help with your job search. We will also be open from 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. from the beginning of September until school starts again in the Fall.

Oh — and have an enjoyable and productive summer "vacation!"

---

Zits

I DECIDED THAT I DON'T WANT TO BE AN EMPLOYMENT GENERATION

WHY WOULD YOU WORK WITHOUT SALARY WHEN IT CAN BOGGER?*

WHY DON'T I WANT TO WAIT THAT LONG?

---

Why Do You Still Smoke?

□ Smoking makes me feel relaxed.
□ Smoking gives me energy.
□ I need a cigarette to wake up.
□ I need a cigarette to get to sleep.
□ I need a cigarette with my coffee.
□ I want to keep my weight down.
□ All my friends smoke.
□ This is not a good time to quit.
□ Maybe later.
□ I have no willpower.
□ I'm too addicted to nicotine.
□ I light up without even noticing it.
□ I'm afraid I'll fail.
□ Smoking makes me feel in control.
□ Smoking helps me handle stress.
□ Smoking is a reward.
□ Smoking is my only pleasure.
□ My mother-in-law wants me to quit.
□ My spouse smokes.
□ My coworkers smoke.
□ I don't really deserve good health.
□ I'm in the middle of a divorce (or a job change, getting an education, moving to a new city, getting married, a loved one's death or illness, etc.).
□ It's probably too late to save my health.
□ Smoking is part of who I am—my identity.
□ I wouldn't know what to do with my hands.
□ I've tried to quit; I just can't do it.
□ Smoking makes me more effective in my work.
□ I need help coping with these roadblocks?

FREE CLASS

Mondays 12:00-12:50 OR Tuesdays 12:00-12:50
Goleta Valley Room Conference Room
UCEN
Student Health
Come to any Monday Or Tuesday Session beginning 4/16/01
Open to Students, Faculty and Staff. Questions? Call 893-8721
Paid for by Tobacco Prevention Settlement Program. Santa Barbara County Public Health Department.

---

MOST

UCSB students have 0-4 drinks when they party*

---

---

---
Getting Experience After Graduation
(Alternative Options for June Graduates)

By Deborah Arns
Coordinator, Internship Program

Not ready to tackle MBA, Law or Graduate School applications yet? Have you missed out on campus interviews? Your major is liberal arts, not accounting, computer programming or engineering. On top of this, you have limited experience given your UCSB BA/BS degree. So now what?

Option 1: Consider a part-time internship or fellowship that might give you experience in the field you want to pursue. Most programs require six to 12 months full-time commitments and provide a stipend or salary to offset relocation and living expenses. Check out the various options at the career website under post-B.A. internships for detailed options including such programs as AmeriCorps, Roxire Public Service Internships, Career Focused Programs in Public Affairs or the Institute for Human Studies. Also, information on the many short-term opportunities through Ralph Nader’s Good Works Directory of Social Action or Consumer Advocacy Organizations.

Option 2: Register for free with an employment or temporary agency (now called staffing services) in the location you hope to work. Lab Support is an example of a nationally recognized employment agency for science graduates seeking four to six month assignments with industrial research labs. Career Personal Services is a temporary agency that places college grads in management trainee and marketing/sales positions. American is a world-wide organization that specializes in finance and management information systems positions. Try in particular staffing services by using the search engine google.com.

Option 3: Develop your professional skills through UC Extension Certificate or Community College Adult Education classes. These courses are usually taught on weekends or in the evenings by professionals working in the industries you might be seeking. Programs in hazardous waste management, human resources, advertising, public relations, multi-media, web design and management are just a few examples of what you will find. This is a great way to network with people working in companies or organizations you think sound interesting. They can give you insider tips, and sometimes referrals to colleagues they know are looking for experience, eager college grads like you. The training also helps get you the edge on cover letters to get the interviews to break into fields you want. Check out your local area chamber of commerce for a list of community colleges and professional clubs nearest you. Web site: http://www.calchamber.com/.

Option 4: See the world. Develop your foreign language and intercultural communication skills. Consider teaching English as a second language. Combine your travel experience with a job overseas using the BINAC, CHE or Au pair Europe work exchange programs. See other short term work abroad, volunteer or teaching opportunities now on the internet under the “International” section of the internship portion of the C&S Career web page.

For all of the above options, stop by the Counseling & Career Services Internship Program Area at Counseling & Career Services, or attend a workshop on Alternative Employment Options in C&S, room 1109 on June 6 from 4-5 p.m. Also see details on our web page under internships and then “International” or “Post-B.A.” The web address is: http://careers.ucsb.edu.

MSW Programs To Hold Information Meeting

By Lily Maestas
On Monday, at 4:30 p.m. in room 1109 of Counseling & Career Services UCSB students are invited to meet with representatives from Cal. State Long Beach School of Social Work who will be here to discuss their extension on campus. They are offering the courses necessary to complete the Masters in Social Work program on the new CSU, Channel Islands campus.

For years students from the central coast interested in a MSW program in Southern California had to look at programs in Los Angeles, San Diego and Long Beach for the closest campuses. Many of the central coast residents interested in pursuing an MSW program are already working in the field and want to upgrade their credentials. There are also a consistent number of UCSB students who routinely ask for information on Graduate Schools of Social Work. Now there is an addition to the list of already available programs with the courses being offered at Channel Islands.

Jesus Rocha, MSW and program chair will be on campus to talk with students about the program, application process and answer any questions regarding special interests you might have in Social Work. This event is being co-sponsored by the Santa Barbara Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers. Several of their members will be on hand to answer questions about work settings and employment opportunities. For more information pick up the C&S Career workshop schedule in the Career Resource Room. No sign ups are necessary, just plan on being on time as space will be limited.
You must be a currently enrolled student to participate in the Campus Interview Program. Please complete both the C&GS and Campus Interview Program registration forms in order to participate in our program. Detailed information is available on the positions offered by these companies. This list is subject to changes.

Aberromie & Fitch
April 30
Arthur Andersen
April 30
Balboa Group
April 30
Burr, Pilger & Mayer CPA
May 10
California State Auditor
May 3
Cohn Handler & Co.
May 11
Consolidated Electrical Dist
May 2
Defense Contract Audit Agency
May 30
E Labor.Com
May 2
Enterprise Fleet Services
May 1
Fisher Investments, Inc.
May 3
Fortis Investors
May 29
Gallo Wine Company
May 1
General Dynamics Elec Sys.
April 30
LSI Logic Corporation
May 2
MIT Lincoln Laboratory
April 24
Mr Stock
May 8
Maxim Integrated Products
May 4
Mervyn’s
April 24
Naval Facilities Engr Serv. Cen
April 30
Novogradac & Co., LLP
May 10
On-Site
May 10
O’Rourke Sacher & Moulton
April 23, 26
Pacific Sunwear
May 9
Pain Weber
May 2
Score Learning Corporation
May 9
Signature Estate Inv. Advisor
April 27
Smith Lange & Phillips, LLP
May 7
TRW
April 25, 26
Teledyne
May 2
W.L. Gore & Associates Inc.
May 1

M.A. in Education with Teaching Credential
(one year program or individual pace)

For more information
(800) 347-4849

CAMPUS INTERVIEW PROGRAM
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SANTA BARBARA
RECRUITING SCHEDULE FOR SPRING QUARTER 2001
(805) 893-4636

Spring Quarter 2001 Career Workshops

Career Planning Seminars

Introduction to Graduate School
This workshop will provide you with valuable information on the graduate school application process, including accessing graduate school, getting effective letters of recommendation, writing outstanding personal statements, and learning the process necessary to help you with the application process.

Mon., April 16, 2-3 p.m.
Mon., April 30, 2-3 p.m.
Mon., May 14, 2-3 p.m.
Mon., May 21, 2-3 p.m.

Law School 2001
During this workshop, we will discuss the major issues that arise when applying to law school. You will receive current information regarding the law school application process. Improve your chances of being accepted by being informed.

Wed., April 24, 4:30-6:30 p.m.

Applying to MBA Schools
Evaluation of MBA programs and general information regarding the MBA application process will be discussed in this lunch hour workshop.

Tue., May 22, 11:30-12:30 p.m.

The Modern Job Hunt: Finding a Great Career in a Jittery Economy
Join our Coordinator of Campus Employment in this leisure review session of how to get an "in" on the most important final exam—your career! To prepare for the workshop, Dr. Lubach has gathered favorite tips from his local and world-wide colleagues in the current business and we will explore the most current and also the most time-tested methods for seeking and securing a job.

Wed. Oct 25, 11:30 a.m.

We’ll discuss the internet, phone calling techniques, voice tips, interviewing, using your networks, and maintaining the proper space when there’s danger.

The Modern Job Hunt: Finding a Great Career in a Jittery Economy
Join our Coordinator of Campus Employment in this leisure review session of how to get an "in" on the most important final exam—your career! To prepare for the workshop, Dr. Lubach has gathered favorite tips from his local and world-wide colleagues in the current business and we will explore the most current and also the most time-tested methods for seeking and securing a job.

Wed. Oct 25, 11:30 a.m.

We’ll discuss the internet, phone calling techniques, voice tips, interviewing, using your networks, and maintaining the proper space when there’s danger.

Alternative Graduate & Job Options for June Graduates
Not ready for the graduate or professional school? Looking for some creative ways to develop more experience and skills, and possibly pay back school loans? Not finding what you need or want in the most current and also the most time-tested methods for seeking and securing a job.

Wed., May 9, 4:30-6:30 p.m.

Career Workshops

Event co-sponsored by the National Association of Social Workers, Santa Barbara Chapter

Post Graduate Internship Workshops

Alternative Graduate & Job Options for June Graduates
Not ready for the graduate or professional school? Looking for some creative ways to develop more experience and skills, and possibly pay back school loans and/or save up for graduate school? Not finding what you need or want in the most current and also the most time-tested methods for seeking and securing a job.

Wed., June 6, 4-6 p.m.

How to Develop a Summer Internship
Learn specific tools for identifying and reaching employers in your particular career or industry field for the out-of-the-area state-wide internship and beyond! Representative examples of internships available will be provided along with handouts and advice on what questions to ask of whom for the information you need before applying.

Wed., June 6, 4-6 p.m.

Getting Started in Your Career
Learn specific tools for identifying and reaching employers in your particular career or industry field for the out-of-the-area state-wide internship and beyond! Representative examples of internships available will be provided along with handouts and advice on what questions to ask of whom for the information you need before applying.

Wed., June 6, 4-6 p.m.
Career Services Re-Organization

By Gary White

We have been busy here at Career Services. Offering a variety of services geared toward preparing students for life after graduation, Career Advisors have been increasing our knowledge of job requirements and skills for specific industries. While we were all generalists, and could assist students interested in general career issues, we had an internal referral system that would send students to the Advisor who specialized in a specific career interest. This has worked fine, but we noticed a need that is reflected at other Career Centers around the country.

We have seen that there are more students asking about careers out of their major area of study. Statistics have shown that 48 percent of people receiving a B.A. or B.S. have careers out of their major, and this has been true here at UCSB, too. To address this, we have begun to reorganize our programming to reflect this change. Every advisor now has a cluster of majors they are focusing on for career issues. In the months to come, we will offer specific workshops and programs for the majors we are working with, focusing on both general and specific career issues.

Here is a list of the Career Advisors and the majors they are focusing on:

- Alex Jiminez: Social Sciences — Law and Society, Physical Sciences — Aquatic Biology, Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, Biology, Biophysics, Cell and Developmental Biology, Chemistry and Biochemistry, Ecology and Evolution*, Marine Science (Interdepartmental Grad Program) Physics, Molecular, Cellular and Developmental Biology, Pharmacology, Physiology, Zoology, Bren School of Environmental Science and Management, Environmental Studies, Geography, Geological Sciences, Geophysics, Hydraulic Sciences and Physical Geography.

- Lily Meston: Area and Language Studies — East Asian Languages and Cultural Studies, Asian American Studies, Black studies, Chicano Studies, Chinese, French and Italian, Germanic Languages, Islamic and Near Eastern Studies, Japanese, Latin American and Iberian Studies, Linguistics, Slavic Languages, Spanish and Portuguese, Speech and Hearing (minor), and Women’s Studies.

- Mikel Kemp: Life Sciences and Physical Sciences — Agricultural Biotechnology, Biological Sciences, Biophysics, Cell and Developmental Biology, Chemistry and Biochemistry, Ecology and Evolution*, Marine Science (Interdepartmental Grad Program) Physics, Molecular, Cellular and Developmental Biology, Pharmacology, Physiology, Zoology, Bren School of Environmental Science and Management, Environmental Studies, Geography, Geological Sciences, Geophysics, Hydraulic Sciences and Physical Geography.

- Deb Arent: Social Sciences — Anthropology, Global Studies, Communications, Economics (including Math Econ and Bus Econ), Graduate School of Education and Women’s, Culture and Development Studies (minor).

- Gary White: Arts and Humanities — Art Studio, History (History of Art and Architecture), Classics, College of Creative Studies, Comparative Literatures, Dance, Dramatic Arts, English, Film Studies, History, History of Public Policy, Policy, Media Arts and Technology, medieval Studies, Music, Philosophy*, Religious Studies, Renaissance Studies and Theatre.

- Lily Meston: Area and Language Studies — East Asian Languages and Cultural Studies, Asian American Studies, Black studies, Chicano Studies, Chinese, French and Italian, Germanic Languages, Islamic and Near Eastern Studies, Japanese, Latin American and Iberian Studies, Linguistics, Slavic Languages, Spanish and Portuguese, Speech and Hearing (minor), and Women’s Studies.
We need your opinion about fee initiatives that are going on the Ballot!
Please submit Pro or Con Statements by Monday, 4/16 - 4 pm to UCen 2523-CAB Office, Above the MCC.

Isla Vista Community Improvements: The Isla Vista Community Improvements fund provides Isla Vista services and improvements such as I.V. Youth Project, I.V. Teen Center, events (community clean-up days, concerts, etc.), and Housing and Parking improvements to be administered under the auspices of the A.S. External Vice-President of Local Affairs, in consultation with the A.S. Community Relations Committee and other advisors.

Do you approve a Lock-in increase of seventy-five cents ($0.75) per student per quarter, bringing the amount to one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) for Isla Vista Community Improvements?

Legal Resource Center: The Associated Students Legal Resource Center provides free legal education and consultation to students on topics such as landlord-tenant disputes, marriage or divorce, consumer complaints, traffic tickets or violations, personal injury, student-police relations, harassment, wills, power of attorney, debtor-creditor issues, non-traffic arrests and others.

Do you approve of a one dollar and fifty cent ($1.50) lock-in for the Associated Students Legal Resource Center so that it may continue to provide free legal education and consultation to students?

Student Services Activities Fee: The Student Services and Activities Fee increase would provide necessary administrative support for student services such as the A.S. Bike Shop, A.S. Notetaking & Publications, A.S. Program Board, KCSB, CAB and other A.S. entities. In addition, the Student Services and Activities Fee would increase funding for student group events through A.S. Finance Board.

Do you approve of a Student Services and Activities Fee increase of five dollars and ninety cents ($5.90) to maintain student services?

Campus Point: Campus Point is a bimonthly publication committed to serving the students with a forum of Arts, Entertainment, and Student Life. A sixty-cent ($0.60) lock-in would enable Campus Point to pay for their own printing contract, pay reporters, pay honoraria for the staff and any other miscellaneous expenses.

Do you approve of an A.S. lock-in of sixty-cents ($.60) to support Campus Point?

Questions? email us at pamv@as.ucsb.edu