

CHANGES PROPOSED IN PRESENT SYSTEM OF STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Last week we attempted to bring to your attention certain weaknesses in the Associated Students Constitution. We would now like to present for your consideration the changes which we feel are needed.

The basic problem is one of representation. Therefore, the major change which we wish to make is in the system of representation.

Remove At-Large Reps

The first step is elimination of the six representatives - at-large, who are elected by the entire student body. They would be replaced by 20 representatives elected from 20 different constituencies. These representatives, together with the student body president, vice president and secretary, would constitute the voting membership of the Legislative Council. The other offices which now are entitled to a vote would be given non-voting memberships. This would increase the voting membership of the Legislative Council from 16 to 23.

In order to elect the representatives the student body would be broken down into 20 units. The method by which this would be done is outlined below in the proposed amendment to Article IV:

The Representatives shall be apportioned in the following manner:

(a) The members of the Associated Students shall be divided into five groups according to place of residence. These groups shall be Women's Residence Halls, Men's Residence Halls, Fraternities, Sororities and Private Dwellings.

(b) Each group shall be entitled to one representative for every five per cent or major fraction thereof of the Associated Students which it contains.

(c) If any one of these groups is entitled to more than one representative, it shall be divided into as many units as representatives to which it is entitled. This division shall be the responsibility of the President of the Associated Students, the Vice President of the Associated Students, the Secretary of the Associated Students, the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women and the Graduate Manager, acting as a committee.

(d) The representatives must live within the unit from which they are elected.

(e) If a Representative moves out of the unit from which he is elected, he forfeits his office.

(f) A Representative must be elected by the voters from his unit.

Closer Contact

These provisions would bring the representative in closer contact with those he is supposed to represent. The representative would be responsible to a small group with whom he would have intimate contact. He could discuss the issues he votes on with those who elected him, and find out their opinions and desires.

Another major change would be accomplished through the addition of the following section to Article V:

Chairman of all standing committees except the Elections Committee shall be appointed by the Legislative Council from the Representatives.

Same Size

This would keep the size of the Legislative Council approximately the same as it is today.

The amendments which we have listed are the core of the changes which we propose. There are several other changes which should be adopted in order to facilitate those amendments we have listed above.

We feel the student body should be given the opportunity to see, discuss and vote upon all these amendments.

To make this possible we would like to see these amendments placed before the student body in a special election. To do this the student body must present to the Legislative Council petitions signed by at least 300 students. These petitions will be in circulation this week. Students interested in having these amendments discussed will be asked to sign the petitions.

LES BROWN FEATURED AT BARBARY COAST

by John Stephenson '59

In keeping with the great success of the All-Cal and Homecoming weekends, this year's Barbary Coast Carnival stands out from all the other activities of this spring term. It's 'way out in front. March 8 and 9 are the dates; write them down. The event is causing enough interest to have press, radio and television coverage.

Heading the big list of exciting attractions is Les Brown and His Band of Renown; six red-hot shows put on by campus organizations that feature the best talent in the college; 20 concession booths, including games of chance, refreshments, one booth featuring excellent surfing movies, and lastly the novel whiskerino contest displaying three-week-old beards trimmed and combed in various new

SECRETARIAT

The Student Manager's Office has declared that positions are now open for a secretarial position in that office.

Past member secretaries have been Ann Shonstrom, Fran Weston, Carol Hovde. All interested in a position as Student Manager Secretary should contact that office or see George Hawkins.

Sen. J. J. Hollister Briefs Students on State Government

In an informal get-together last Thursday evening, Sen. Jack Hollister (D) of the California State Legislature and the State Senator for Santa Barbara County, expressed his views and opinions before a group of Santa Barbara College students concerning the outlook and welfare picture in California.

The Senator, a native Californian and a traditional name in California state government, opened himself to discussion on any and all topics related to state and federal government in general.

More "close to home" topics discussed included: The proposed college road and the hot debate it has caused in certain Senate circles; the future problem that will be presented to all California colleges as a result of the increase in enrollment, and whether the state should actually build larger colleges or more of them.

styles possibly quite interesting to the coeds of campus.

The fun starts at 6:30 p.m. Friday the 8th with the carnival in full swing. The place to go is the athletic fields opposite the gymnasium. All the shows and booths will be operating, with barkers introducing their individual attractions over a public-address system. Two script booths will be conveniently located to sell coupons good for all events being held.

Saturday at 1:30 p.m. festivities roll again. From 1:30 to 5 the time is reserved mainly for the kids. At 6:30 the entire carnival opens and continues till 11:30 p.m. Judging of whiskers is to take place at 9:30. One half-hour later awards will be presented to the winning booths and shows.

There are first- and second-place trophies awarded in the show division. Booths will be divided into four divisions: fraternity, sorority, residence halls and organizations. The number of trophies to be awarded will depend on the amount of entries in each division. Judging is based on costumes, audience appeal, adherence to theme, etc.

Here's a bit of information on Les Brown: Les and the band were voted No. 1 in Downbeat's annual poll, No. 1 in Metronome as Big Band of the Year, No. 1 Dance Band from the Billboard annual poll. Les has just completed a 10-year hitch with Bob Hope and hopes to continue. He holds the record for engagements at the Paladium with a big 23.

College engagements is one of Les Brown's specialties. Since last February the band has flown across the continent three times for college engagements. The band has flown more miles than any other organized band in the history of the band business.

Included in the personnel of the Les Brown crew is a 24-year-old beauty from Hollywood. The name is Jo Ann Greer and her specialty is singing, which she does very well. Jo Ann is in her third year with the group. She will be making her presence known Friday, the 8th, when Les, Jo Ann and the band appear right here at Goleta. The whole outfit will appear at the auditorium from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. Be there . . .

LA CUMBRE DEADLINE

La Cumbre wishes to remind all those who have had their pictures taken at Gilbert's that the deadline for the return of proofs to Gilbert's is Thursday the 28th.

HOLTROP TALKS ON HOLLAND

A record of progress in the war-torn and flood-stricken Netherlands since World War II will be presented by Dr. William F. Holtrop, associate professor of industrial arts at Santa Barbara College, at this week's All-College Lecture at 4 p.m. today in Bldg. 431, Rm. 102. These lectures are free to the public.

His analysis of the problems and achievements of his native land is based upon several visits to Holland, the most recent being one of several months last year, making a study of the Dutch educational system while on sabbatical leave. An earlier study, resulting in the book "Vocational Education in The Netherlands," was published in 1950 by the University of California Press.

The problems resulting from Indonesia's independence and the disastrous flood of 1953 and the water-removal program, Holland economic and industrial expansion, and educational aims will be discussed by the speaker.

Beachcombers Ball Has Hawaii Theme

The 9th annual "Beachcombers Ball," the oldest established permanent floating dance at SBC, will be held March 2 from 9 to 12:30 in the campus auditorium. Tickets for this all-school occasion can be obtained from any active member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, sponsors of the dance, or from the graduate manager's office. Price is set at $1.75 per couple.

Herb Williamson and Dick Lorden, chairmen of the dance, state that Hawaiian costumes from Lavalavas to Mumus will be appropriate, or casual beach garb can be worn. Each ticket will be deposited at the door as a vote for one of the candidates in the Beachcombers Ball queen contest. Nominations for the queen are being made by the women's residence halls and the sororities. Flowered leis flown in from Hawaii will be presented to the queen.

Chip Crosby's combo, a favorite musical group with several campus organizations, will provide the latest in dance sounds. Hawaiian girls and Tahitian dances will be featured with the band. Ned Bartles, in charge of decorations, reports that the auditorium will be "acclimated" with the general theme of the ball and invites everyone to the presentation.

SBC College Day Welcomes Visitors

Future collegians from high schools and junior colleges throughout the state will be on the Santa Barbara College campus March 2 for the annual "College Day" event, designed to familiarize prospective students and their parents with the offerings and facilities available here.

Activities planned for the day include bus and walking tours of the campus with the college students serving as guides, visitation periods with faculty members and department chairman, an entertainment program and luncheon. Administrative offices will have representatives in the Student Union area to answer questions about admissions, housing, scholarships, employment, student activities and other information.

Registration for College Day will begin at 9:30 a.m., followed by tours and departmental visits. A luncheon will be served in Casitas dining hall, followed by a second visitation period. Later in the afternoon an assembly program is planned at which the visitors will be greeted by Dr. Elmer R. Noble, acting provost, and other officials. Student entertainment will follow. The campus residence halls will be open to visitors except during the lunch hour.

AWS Election To Be Held on March 7, 8

Tomorrow is the last chance for prospective AWS candidates to submit their names for the forthcoming elections. Those wanting to run for president, vice president (two are chosen), secretary or treasurer must sign up now in the Associated Student Body office behind the Student Union.

The date of the elections has been set up to March 7 and 8 because of the convention being held at Michigan State University which the new AWS president will attend.

The election will be conducted according to the Hart System, a method of polling which eliminates the necessity for runoffs. Voters not only cast their ballots for the candidate of their preference but also indicate the order of their choice for other candidates for the same office.

ELECTION ASSEMBLY TOMORROW IN AUD.

Only two days remain for campaigning in the special elections for the positions of Women's Representative-at-Large, Freshman Class President and Freshman Class Vice President.

Tomorrow voters meet the candidates in the election assembly. Held in the Auditorium at noon, the program will give candidates for the two major positions an opportunity to address the student body.

'El Gaucho' Appears Twice Weekly

As a result of approval by the Finance Committee and approval by the Legislative Council, El Gaucho will appear twice weekly for the rest of the spring semester.

A two-a-week publication will insure better news coverage, as well as more complete promotion of college activities.

Groups wishing publicity for their respective activities must submit requests for such at noon according to the following schedule:

ANTI-DISCRIMINATION RESOLUTION PRESENTED TO BERKELEY EX. COM.

A resolution to deny recognition to student organizations that restrict their memberships on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin has been presented to the Executive Committee of the Associated Students at the University of California, Berkeley.

Offered by Ralph Shaffer, ASUC graduate representative, the resolution recommends to University officials that this action be taken to "take the lead"

Running for the office of Freshman President are Bob Hodies, Alex Phelps, Duke Mitchell and Gary Marx.

Polls open Thursday, Feb. 28, at 9 a.m. Polling stations will be located at the Student Union and in front of the Library. Campus residents will be able to vote at Las Casitas cafeteria between 11 and 1. Similar hours will be maintained for voting on Friday, March 1.

To be permitted vote, all students must present their Associated Students membership cards.

Voting will be by the preferential system. Under this method, a voter votes for all candidates, ranking each one in order of preference. Thus, with seven candidates for the position of Women's Rep, a voter would mark all seven candidates, from one to seven.

Use of this system ideally negates the necessity of runoff elections. It is supposed to insure that the candidate elected is the overall choice of the voters.

Voters are reminded by Carol Fellman, Elections Committee chairman, that ranking your second, third, fourth, and so on choices does not detract from the vote which you give to your first choice. In reality, said Carol, it insures the election of the candidate most acceptable to the majority of the student body.

in urging other universities throughout the country to follow a similar policy.

The Executive Committee at Berkeley serves the same purpose as the Legislative Council at Santa Barbara College.

"I don't think," said Shaffer, "that the University, a public agency, collecting taxes from everyone in the state, has the moral, if legal, right to allow discrimination" in the way that it presently does.

Around Town

By Jack Nakano

Several live shows and other-than-live presentations are due in Santa Barbara this next week.

At the Lobero Theater the Chicago Opera Ballet will give two performances, at 2 and 8:30 p.m., Sunday, March 3. Starting today and ending Saturday, the Alhecama Players at the same theater will present William Inge's "Bus Stop" at 8:30 p.m. Student tickets are available.

Recitals by artist pupils at the Music Academy of the West will be given on March 9 and May 18 at 3:30 p.m.—something for those interested to keep in mind.

Two Broadway hits have been transferred into excellent motion pictures. "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" is at the Fox Arlington and has a good cast. "The Rainmaker" at the State already has won two Academy Award nominations and features outstanding performances by Katharine Hepburn and Burt Lancaster.

Legislative Council

Tuesday, Feb. 19, Legislative Council, the governing body of Santa Barbara College, had its weekly meeting. At a well-attended session, the Council reviewed and debated upon issues which the student body will come in contact with in the near future.

Some of the more prominent issues that were passed go as follows: Money to sustain possible loss of Les Brown engagement to be taken from Social Committee; El Gaucho to be printed twice weekly; Gayla Jung voted in as Social Committee chairman; Judy Owens voted in as Rally Committee chairman; Student Band Directors' salaries renewed; a revision of present Orientation Assembly procedure approved; Jan Bartlett voted in as La Cumbre editor as well as Press Control chairman.

Members of the Council wish to remind all students that the Legislative Council meetings are open meetings and that all members of the student body may attend these weekly sessions.

FORUM...FORUM...FORUM...FORUM...

Dear Sir:

In order to obtain readers and to stir up student action, El Gaucho has stooped to every underhanded propaganda technique in the book, resorting to loaded words, purposely distorted lines of logic, shock headlines which have little to do with the stories beneath, half-truths, and biased selection of facts. This is done not only in editorials, but in front page news (?) stories. The paper defends its policy by saying it has the right to "candidly comment" in factual features. The paper doesn't candidly comment, it coyly crucifies.

El Gaucho claims to be attempting to stir up student interest by presenting important issues to the student body. It doesn't present them, it CREATES them. Twice the paper has leveled blasts at two different student committees, criticizing them for not taking a specific action. In both cases not only had the action already taken place the previous week, but the editor was in attendance at the time. Every action of Legislative Council opposed by the editor seems to be written up as if these actions were taken specifically to deprive the people of their rights. The leaders on Legislative Council work hard and regardless of what the paper thinks, are in contact with the people of this campus and are doing a conscientious and creditable job.

Another issue created by the paper is that of discrimination on this campus. If the editor will bother to check some of the names of people in fraternities on the campus he will be convinced that this is not a problem here. At an IFC meeting last week it was made clear that no chapter here condones these clauses. Continual harping on this subject will only arouse bitterness where there is no cause for it.

I sympathize with your goal to arouse student interest; I despise your methods. You cannot create a situation, slap a man and tell him to do something about it, and expect him to run around like a chicken with its head cut off to do your bidding.

Dear Sir:

I take issue with the editor concerning some of the recent platitudinous, inflated editorials—there is nothing quite so smug as a self-righteous crusader in the midst of a den of iniquity. I abhor social and religious intolerance, but, the end of achieving understanding and tolerance does not justify the use of any and all means.

The editor has seized upon the "Homecoming Parade Episode" in which Negro students protested the parody of their race in one of the floats. The editor by making this a prominent issue compounded the error in judgment that had been made by those who prepared the petition.

True, the Negro is often cruelly and maliciously characterized, and has more right than most to be sensitive. However, it should be kept in mind that other racial or national groups are often parodied in a spirit of good natured ribbing that is common to American humor. Particular instances should be regarded individually as to intent and method, rather than applying an opprobrium to any such act.

Let me repeat, I respect the feelings and the opinions of the students who prepared the petition, but, the branding of a non-malicious act, such as the one that occurred in the parade, as discriminatory, does the accusing parties more harm than good since it makes them appear to be magnifying an incident to try to create an injustice which doesn't exist.

In my opinion, the editor, by underscoring the foregoing situation, was motivated by a need for sensational copy, in order to launch a crusade to which he could attach himself in self-righteous fervor.

I do not offer or intend to enter into the arguments, pro or con, on the value of fraternal organizations. What I wish to point out is that the editor has not made use of known facts in his denunciatory writings. While it is true that some of the fraternities on this campus do have discriminatory clauses in their charters, all of these organizations have taken measures to abrogate those clauses. The local chapters of the particular organizations have been instrumental agitators in effecting the demise of discriminatory clauses.

Certainly we are all guilty of discriminating in some way or another—it is a sin applicable to almost any field of human relations, but, to mount a white horse armed with generalizations and homey phrases, and to dash about wildly crying "bigotry" and "racial discrimination" borders on the ridiculous.

Don Petterson '56

Dear Mr. Petterson:

We indeed felt a need to pursue the issue. We have detailed this motivation in our editorial on Page 4.

SPORT - TALK

by Pete Vorzimer

If at any time in the cage season, the Gaucho squad needs the backing of the fans tonight. A not-too-impressive record with a few saddening last-minute losses which have resulted in San Diego's coming out on the top of the CCAA, have put a large dent in the morale of the Gaucho quintet.

Cal Poly beat Westmont . . . though by only a slim 76-75, but we held Cal Poly down in our first match . . . it goes without saying that we're going to give Westmont a run for their money tonight. The Gauchos will need a good turn-out for tonight's game because it seems that in the past that it's just when the team needs its boosters the most (after dropping a game or two) that hat is when they start to slack off. It's true that the game attendance has been mighty slim as is this season . . . but this can be easily compensated for by getting the guys and gals out there for the one or two that really count.

Post-Season Games

Another item. Win, lose or draw these last two games, Santa Barbara's Gauchos will be assured of a post-season game. At least in the NAIA playoffs. Although the Gauchos are right now in first place, the fact still remains that either Los Angeles or San Diego could wind up in first place. However, it looks like it will be unofficial for either of them. L.A.'s problem: Tony Davis, their center earlier in season, who has since gone, was ineligible—even L.A. admits it. He is gone now, and it takes someone to gripe before L.A. goes down the tubes. Ah! but someone is griping and this coming Sunday will tell the tale. It is more than likely that they (as we were two years ago) will find the whole team ineligible because of Davis. San Diego's problem: Last week the NAIA met and decided that because San Diego was delinquent in the payment of their dues, that they too will be ineligible for the NAIA playoffs. This leaves the Gauchos—in any event.

Latest thing is Santa Barbara's being invited to participate in the NCAA playoffs. If they win the CCAA they'll play an independent team (Chapman, no doubt) and if they win that one, it's off to Evansville, Ind. However, that's easier said than done. Chapman made a fine showing (almost coming out on top) at the Redlands Tournament.

Gauchos Drop CCAA Clash

Playing before a capacity standing room only crowd of 1,900, the UCSB Varsity cagers dropped their second game in conference play to San Diego State's Aztecs 82-69 Saturday night.

The CCAA setback to the taller border city hosts left the Gauchos with a 5-2 season record for conference play. San Diego has a 6-2 slate as the result of the win.

The locals need to win their tilt with Los Angeles State this weekend to grab a tie with the Aztecs.

Gaucho high scorer Lee Smelser, guard John Osborne and center Jim Robitaille started fast for the UCSB quintet that saw them jump to a 12-4 lead early in the opening minutes of play.

Too Much Height

The taller Aztecs broke the Gaucho zone defense late in the first period and crept to within two points at the two minute mark. Two fouls and three successive field goals by Tommy Pinkins gave the hosts a 38-30 half-time lead.

At the start of the second half the Gauchos went into a man to man defense and ran up against a San Diego fast break that saw the Aztecs spurt to a 21 point lead midway through the period.

Smelser topped the local scorers with 21 digits while Jim Hargrove tallied 14. Robitaille and Jim Whalen accounted for 11 points each.

The Wiltonmen connected for 34 per cent of their shots while the winners made good on 47 per cent. In the rebound department the hosts had it all over Coach Willie Wilton's crew 60-22 with Pinkins accounting for 23.

New Scoring Record

Pinkins also established a new record for most points scored in three seasons with only four minutes gone in the game. He needed only three points to tie the record and four to break it.

The 6' 3" jumping jack connected on two free throws and a field goal before going on to collect 27 points for the evening and a total of 1,415 in a three year span.

Wiltonmen Dropped By Cal Poly, 73-68

Coach Willie Wilton's Gaucho quintet dropped its first CCAA Conference basketball game, 73-68, last Tuesday evening to the Cal Poly Mustangs on the victors' court.

Trailing by 13 points at the half-way point, 40-27, the Gauchos rallied in the final period and pulled to within five points of the hosts but couldn't get over the final hurdle to net the win.

Smelser Tops Gauchos

Lee Smelser's 19 points were high for the locals, with seven of them coming in the last minute of play on three field goals and a charity toss.

Don Hoopingarner, Ralph Barkey and Jim Whalen tallied for 14, 12 and 11 digits, respectively, in the losing cause.

Height was the determining factor in the Mustangs' win, combined with a very "cold" night from the floor for the Gauchos during the first half.

Mustang Center Theo Dunn led the hosts' assault on the backboards. The 6'7" pivotman added 12 points to the winners' total while Atwood Grandberry took individual scoring honors for the night with 26 points.

The loss gave the Santa Barbara squad a 5-1 conference slate with two games remaining.

CROSSTOWN FOES TANGLE TONIGHT

Cast in the role of the underdog, the UCSBC quintet encounters its cross-town rivals tonight at the Santa Barbara Armory. Game time is 8 o'clock.

In their two previous encounters this season, Coach Jack Siemens' Warriors downed the Gauchos, 75-62 at the Redlands Tournament and 72-52 earlier this month.

Coach Willie Wilton hopes to retaliate tonight by starting All-CCAA Conference nominee Lee Smelser, John Osborne, Jim Whalen, Jim Hargrove and Don Hoopingarner.

Smelser, the leading scorer currently, claims a 16-plus-point average for conference play. In addition he has an 11.3 over-all average with 214 points in 19 games.

Osborne and Ralph Barkey follow with 190 and 184 points for 10 and 9.8 averages, respectively.

DON HOOPENGARNER, GAUCHO CENTER, gets away a jump shot for two points against 6'7" Cal Poly Center Theo Dunn in recent CCAA Conference action at Santa Barbara. The UCSBC five went on to win the contest, 61-53, but dropped their return encounter last Tuesday night on the Mustangs' home court. The loss to Cal Poly was the first in CCAA play for the local quintet and left them with a 5-1 season record for league play.

INTERCLASS MEET HELD

Six broken records and several outstanding performances highlighted the annual interclass meet held Thursday on the local track. The Seniors won the spikefest by accumulating 75 points to easily outscore the second-place Juniors who had 51 points.

Senior Ed Scott and Grad Sam Adams led the assault on the records. Scott, who was awarded the most-valuable-performer trophy, broke the 100-yard and 200-yard dash marks. He ran the century in 10 seconds to break Albert Triulzi's mark of 10.1, and then raced the furlong in 22.2 to easily break Mel Powell's long-standing record of 22.7 seconds. Scott was also a member of the record-breaking Senior 880 relay team which included John Morris, John Godfrey and Larry Smith.

Adams smashed the javelin, discus and shotput records. Adams, who narrowly missed making the Olympic team in the decathlon, threw the spear 213 feet 5 inches, flopped the platter 143 feet, and capped his great performance by heaving the shot 52 feet, 9 inches. The marks will count as records for the newly created grad division and will not be counted as interclass marks. Adams amassed 18 points to edge out teammate Ed Austin for the high-point trophy. Austin garnered 15 points as he won the high jump, low hurdles and placed third in the 100.

Junior Dick Major cracked the high-hurdles mark by over a second as he skimmed the timbers in 17 flat, and Larry Smith tied his own 440 record as he edged Tony Brambilla in 52.5.

Besides the above, Head Coach Nick Carter singled out the performances of Bill Collins, Kelley Hoover, Raul Yanez, Nel Wilson, Jerry Mullin, Don Kelliher and Mike Kahn.

Collins easily won the mile and then came back to edge Yanez in the 880 in the excellent time of 1:59. This was the race of the day as both Wilson and Mullin were timed in 2:02, which is usually good enough to win.

Kelliher threw the javelin 192 feet, which was four feet farther than his record-breaking intramural meet toss, while Kahn equaled his best performance of last year by throwing the spear 180 feet 1 inch.

Hoover threw the discus 137 feet 6 inches, 2½ feet farther than he has ever thrown.

Lederer - Ahern

Victorious

Pulling one of the biggest surprise upsets yet recorded in the annual Arizona Intercollegiate Invitational Tennis Tournament, were George Lederer and Johnny Ahern as they swept over the University of Redlands pair, Ray Sampson and Ken Turknette in three sets 6-3, 3-6, 8-6.

These two Gauchos, Ahern and Lederer are two of the top small college players in the U.S. and they played like it as they made many fast and well-placed service returns cramming the ball right back at the powerfully-serving Redlands pair.

In the singles, Ellis Bryant, first-seeded player at the Univ. of Arizona, knocked out John Ahern in the semi-finals, 3-6, 8-6, 6-3. Ahern started like a flash taking the first three games at love. However, the aggravation of an old back injury noticeably hampered and weakened his game.

Bigotry at Santa Barbara . . . (Part 4)

On November 30, 1956, El Gaucho received a letter from a group of Negro students on campus protesting the theme of a float that had appeared in the Homecoming Parade about two weeks before. A copy of this letter had also been received by the student Standards Committee, which asked El Gaucho to hold publication of the letter until the committee could prepare a statement. This El Gaucho agreed to do, reminding the committee that policy dictated that all letters received be published.

Activities on other campuses led El Gaucho about this time to become interested in the number of fraternities on this campus that had restrictive clauses in their constitutions.

El Gaucho went first to the office of the Activities Control Board, where copies of the constitutions of all student organizations are kept on file, as required by the Associated Students constitution. We were informed that these constitutions were secret, and referred to the Dean of Men. Dean Lyle Reynolds told El Gaucho that four local fraternities had restrictive clauses, and referred us to Dan Hon, '57, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, for the names of these groups. Dan Hon refused to name them.

Meanwhile, the Standards Committee was still considering what action to take on the letter from the Negro students.

Finally, on January 9, 1957, El Gaucho published the letter, along with a statement from the Standards Committee. An editorial on the same page mentioned that four local fraternities had discriminatory clauses.

Several days later, El Gaucho talked to a high-ranking member of the fraternity hierarchy, an elected officer, supposedly responsible for shaping fraternity policy on this campus. This individual, who termed himself a typical fraternity man, told El Gaucho that he felt that discriminatory clauses were perfectly all right, that fraternities ought to have them, and that they were no worse than the restrictions honor societies place on admitting poor students.

This individual went on to say that if El Gaucho published the names of the fraternities with restrictive clauses, we could expect to "find people standing on your lawn throwing rocks through your windows."

Because this person is in a position to exert influence on other fraternity men, and because he supposedly represents the viewpoint of those who elected him, El Gaucho felt the matter was of serious importance, and deserved the attention of the student body.

This was the NEED which El Gaucho felt, the need that prompted the series of editorials entitled BIGOTRY AT SANTA BARBARA. If such viewpoints were representative of most fraternity men, then the student body should know about it, and if not, such would be evidenced by replies to our editorials.

You can imagine our relief when a number of fraternity men expressed their sympathy with the views expressed in our first BIGOTRY editorial.

Four hours after El Gaucho hit the stands, Dan Hon, IFC president, dropped into the El Gaucho office to ask what we thought fraternities should do. We suggested two things: 1) IFC should publish a statement of their views on restrictive clauses. The statement on this page from that organization is a direct result. 2) Local chapters should write to their national headquarters telling them that they were dropping all restrictive clauses from their constitutions. Dan Hon liked this idea and promised to present it to IFC at its next meeting.

El Gaucho is proud that the Inter-Fraternity Council is "for the most part" working for the removal of discriminatory clauses. However, the presence of organizations with discriminatory clauses continues, and the student body has remained silent.

El Gaucho feels that this problem is one that concerns not only members of fraternities, but all students, and faculty. Applied or not, the presence of these clauses in a college that attempts to encourage the highest ideals of liberal thinking, humanitarianism, and knowledge, seems to us to be a mockery of all these ideals.

Therefore, El Gaucho recommends to the Legislative Council that it adopt a resolution to the administration urging denial of recognition to any student organization that restricts its membership on the basis of race, color, religion, or national origin. Similar action would be taken by the Associated Students.

We would like to recommend that this resolution would not take effect until September, 1959.

At the present time Santa Barbara College is striving for recognition among the liberal arts colleges of this country, many of which have either effectively removed fraternity restrictive clauses, or are taking steps to do so now. The problem is being widely discussed among the various branches of the University of California, as indicated by the article on Page 1.

The reputation that Santa Barbara College earns for itself will depend on the type of liberal ideas which it promotes and advances. The problem at hand offers the college an excellent opportunity to demonstrate the quality of its ideas to the community of liberal arts colleges throughout the country.

Inter-Fraternity Council President Says Local Chapters Opposed To Discrimination

We in IFC are all well aware of the problem and have been for several years. This has not only been a movement within fraternities but also in the nation as a whole. These formal clauses have necessitated the withdrawal of national fraternities, with and without restrictive clauses, from the university system of New York state. There are many fraternities, including ours on this campus, who have been required by the laws of several states to remove their clauses by 1960. And the rest of them have been debating this issue in their national conventions for a period of several years. Unfortunately, since the majority of these originate in the South, progress has been slow.

We of the local chapters have for the most part ignored such clauses in considering eligible men for membership. The tendency is for us to pledge men according to their merits in a social sense, and not according to their background. When our delegates go to their own respective national conventions they tend to vote against such restrictive clauses, with the realization that such clauses are distasteful to their own beliefs and to the beliefs of the members of their various chapters. I sincerely believe that all forms of formal restrictive clauses will be struck from the constitutions of all fraternities on the National Inter-Fraternity Council within the next few years.

It is the wish of the various fraternities on this campus to handle the national fraternity in their own manner, as they sincerely believe that this type of action will be far more effective coming from within the group than from without.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The World From My Window

by Larry Adams, '59

The senator. "... In what year do you think... (he) will be in a position to destroy us?" The general. "1960, he can do it..."

These words are not from an outdated story by Philip Wylie. They are from the report, released only this month, of the Subcommittee on Airpower of the Senate Armed Forces Committee. The senator in the exchange quoted from above is Stuart Symington, chairman of the subcommittee. The general is Curtis LeMay, commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command, the arm of the Air Force charged with delivering nuclear retaliation against any country which should attack the U.S. The opponent referred to is, of course, the Soviet Union. And by "us" the two men do not mean U.S. airbases or ground forces abroad. They are talking about the American nation.

Most Americans are apt to greet such statements with self-assured scepticism. The next of these articles will consider some of the criticisms made of the report, and some of its implications. First it is necessary to become acquainted with some of the subcommittee's central findings, which are firmly grounded in the sworn testimony of the nation's top military and civilian defense experts.

The subcommittee found that if America and Russia continue their aircraft production programs at their present rates, in the period 1958-60 superiority in strategic airpower will pass from the U.S. to the U.S.S.R. At the present Russia has in operation more modern combat planes than do we, and is producing more than this country. We are seriously lacking in long-range jet bombers and jet tankers, and we have no program for overcoming these deficiencies. Our strategic airpower is further weakened by our airbase system, both abroad and in the continental United States. At present the SAC does not have a sufficient number of bases to provide for the safe dispersal of its combat aircraft. This congestion not only makes the nation more vulnerable to surprise attack, but increases the possibility of loss of aircraft through natural disasters such as fire and windstorms, and raises the frequency of operational accidents. Even more serious, according to Air Force officials, is the shortage of trained mechanics and air crews.

The subcommittee also found: Our air-defense system does not provide adequate protection for the nation, primarily because most of our fighter planes are incapable of attaining sufficient altitude to attack successfully modern Soviet bombers, and because our radar warning network will not be completed for "several years." It appears that our radar warning system will be completed just about the time that the advent of the intercontinental ballistic missile will make such systems obsolete. We are "particularly vulnerable to submarine missile attack on military and civilian targets within our heartland" the Soviets have over 400 submarines as against our 110. We do not have air transport ("airlift") capacity adequate to ensure the army sufficient mobility to enable it to carry out its assignments. We have no program for correcting this deficiency.

Most disturbing of all, perhaps, and most indicative of Administration thinking on these matters, surely, is the fact that the Eisenhower Administration in 1953 imposed a rigid ceiling on expenditures for research. This ceiling has been retained despite the fact that Russia detonated a hydrogen bomb at a date much earlier than our government had expected; has nuclear physics research facilities superior to any others in the world; has developed jet aircraft engines more powerful than any we possess; and is ahead of us in at least some respects in the development of long-range ballistic missiles. Scientific and military experts testified before the subcommittee that if the present limitations on research spending are maintained, the Soviet Union—which already has a quantitative airpower lead—will after three to five years also own the qualitative advantage.

RHA WORKSHOP TERMED SUCCESS

"Mission accomplished" was the report given by RHA Council members returning from the bi-annual workshop held each semester at the Circle Bar B Guest Ranch. The workshop provided an opportunity for the new council members to become acquainted with each other, their advisors and the purposes of the organization.

After listening to the keynote address by Dean Reynolds, Dean of Men, and to guest speakers Frank Sanchez, Sandy Bechtold and Jerry Perry, the council held both formal and informal meetings for the main purpose of formulating the coming semester's activities.

Following the approval of the budget, committee chairmen for the social, recreation, publicity and student-faculty committees ing months. Receiving special presented their plans for the enthusiasm from the council members was the plan to combine social and recreational activities in such events as a combination street dance-swimming party and a "co-rec" night in the gym.

Candidates Invited

RHA reminds all candidates running in the special elections that they are welcome to contact all hall presidents and make arrangements to speak in their respective hall meetings prior to the election. The council itself extends an invitation to the candidates to attend the next RHA Council meeting, Feb. 27, in the X-Room.

PROFICIENCY TESTS

Proficiency tests will be given for those teacher credential candidates who have failed in any part of these examinations in the past.

The exams will be given on Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7:00-10:30 p.m., Bldg. 431, Rooms 101 and 102.

The following schedule and rules of procedure will be observed. Doors will be opened at the beginning of the administering of each of the Divisions only.

Reading Comprehension	7:00
Reading Vocabulary	7:30
Arithmetic Fundamentals	7:45
Arithmetic Problems	8:30
English	9:15
Spelling and Handwriting	10:00

Students deficient in any section of any division of the test must retake the entire division, and will be held responsible for any part taken whether passed formerly or not.

IT'S FOR REAL! by Chester Field

LOUIE, THE LOUSE

He strolled through a keyhole into my house,
A dignified, well-bred upper-class louse;
He smiled in a most superior way
And said, "Man has just about seen his day.
If you'll take my advice for what it's worth
Treat insects nice, they'll inherit the earth!
Try to be beyond reproach
In your dealings with the roach...
Bedbugs, ants and spiders, too.
Don't forget... WE'RE WATCHING YOU!"
