A Student's Most Embarrassing College Moments

By Charles Gomer Scott

Life is full of embarrassments, but in a six-year college career there've been enough harrowing moments to make even the most spirited truck driver-type blush now and again.

Things have been happening to me since I came here that would've ruined a lesser man or woman, but I didn't get to be Charles Gomer Scott by not being able to take a joke, or a little bit of pranksterism from my friends.

Like the time I ... well, we'll get to that in a minute. There are a lot of people out there who'll tell you that all they need is a chance and they'll write the best piece ever written. I'm generally one of those people, and whenever my editor Stephen-Lynne (sure, we really call him that) asks for someone to sit around and be funny, well, you know by the fact that you're read-

Graduation Gift Hints!

By Bunyan Tom

One time, a few friends of mine were invited to a baby shower. "We're going to a baby shower, Bunyan," they told me, grinning like idiots and high-fiving each other. It was their first baby shower and, truth be known, there isn't much worse than a bunch of guys going to their first baby shower.

And since I was pretty annoyed that I didn't get to go, I decided to throw a wet blanket on their insufferably good moods. "So what are you going to get the baby?" I asked Garth, who was giving himself high-fives now.

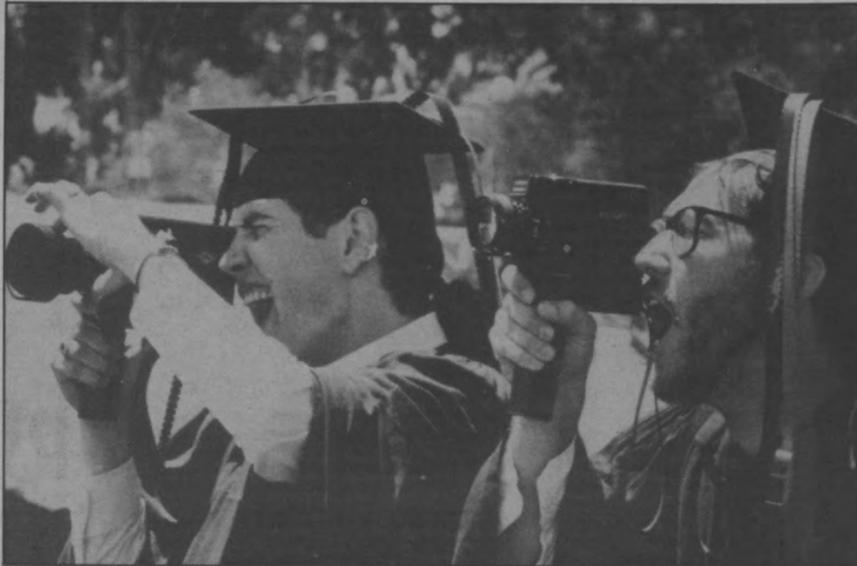

Boy did he look dumb then. The rest of the guys — meaning Sal, Oliver and the Rat-boy — just stood there slack-jawed, gawking at me and Garth in disbelief.

Eventually I felt sorry for them, with the way their brains appeared to have stalled and all, so I gave them a few ideas. Although it's no real challenge for most normal people to think up gift ideas for a baby shower, Garth, Sal, Oliver and the Rat-boy, who fall just this side of below-average, weren't making any headway. It's just lucky they weren't going to anybody's graduation.

There are few things as truly important — or as elusive — as the right graduation gift. It's got to be stylish and with-it while still retaining that bit of charm necessary to appear sophisticated but laid-back.

However, having been to more than a few graduation ceremonies myself, I've found there are a few old standbys that seldom fail to please that special undergrad in your life.

•Wall decorations — Perhaps the most overlooked gift after the sixteenth birthday, the poster is one of my personal favorites. However, for that 22-year-old looking to wow the real world with his or her post-collegiate intellectual prowess, the same old black and white "U2 World Tour, 1988" poster just ain't gonna cut it. (Besides, nobody likes Bono anymore.) Obscurity is the key here. A poster from the Avocado Festival in Carpenteria might do, but an artsy-type lithograph from an underground beat poets' convention in Omaha will really give that first apartment the right touch of Bohemianism.

•Lawn furniture for the living room — Again, this gift is sure to set the new graduate off from the dumb guy upstairs who manages Shir-tique. While he'll be sitting deep, deep, deep in a well-worn recliner that monopolizes the space in his room, this slim, avant-garde piece of decor will seat your favorite diploma-holder in style while he or she relaxes with a glass of wine and reads important post-modern fiction at day's end, which brings me to my next gift ...

•Funky lamps with tiny halogen bulbs — These are hip. They're a little on the expensive side, but they look gooooooood. First, buy one in black and only black. Make sure it's got spindly arms on it and looks like an engineering graduate student from Cal-Tech designed it. And the bulb must be small, I mean small. It also must be as bright as a 1,500-watt regular bulb would be. It must look like the sun imploded and you stuck it in a desk lamp. It's functional, it's neat-looking and, most importantly, it's impressive.

•Money — It's functional, it's neat-looking and, most importantly, it's impressive. •Cookbooks from cafes where international chefs work — These may be a bit over the head of some English majors, but they're perfect for the gourmet with a background in chemistry. Treating a date to a Cajun shrimp cocktail as an hors d'oeuvre while sitting on the floor in the middle of an apartment lit by halogen lamps can be functional neat-looking and, most importantly, impressive.

•Pithy advice — This is, of course, just an added treat that should be included in the graduation card, but an essential for the new graduate. It's like in the movie The Graduate when that old guy tells Benjamin to go into plastics. If he went straight into plastics, would he and Elaine have had those terrible, lost looks on their faces in the last scene of the film? Good business advice is a viable alternative to bad existentialism, if you know what I mean. It's not very neat-looking, but has the potential to be both functional and impressive.

Feeling foggy or is it just the JUNE BLUES?!!?

Helpful Grad Hints!

By Gutch Nice

Da — da-da-da da — da. Da — da-da-da — da. So you've finally made it. You've negotiated through the obstacle course of college and face only one final hurdle — commencement ceremonies.

A droning montage of pomp and circumstance, applause and of course, sitting — lots of sitting. It is the ritual created to honor you. The question for the sharp, now college-educated graduate, is how does one endure this final test of your ability to be somewhere you don't want to be for a long time, and still walk away smiling.

Yes, there will be the speeches reminiscent of the parents in Charlie Brown cartoons — "Wa wa wah. Wah Wu waaa, wa wa whhaa. Congratulations Graduates!" And there will be the discomfort of watching student after student get their names publicly mispronounced, walk up on the little risers, and receive an empty envelope.

But before you cancel your cap and gown order, I and my staff of fellow muck-rakers and fun consultants, have compiled a list of ways to beat the Graduation Day doldrums.

• TASSLE BOXING: This is an entertainment-rich method of commencement revelry which celebrates the one element of the entire procedure which is genuinely interesting and downright cool — the cap tassel. At any point during the course of the ceremony, when you find yourself contemplating being somewhere else, suicide or the meaning of Janet Jackson lyrics, simply punch the dangling tassel of your own or a friend's cap. While the tassel makes a small, lightweight punching bag, I think you'll find it surprisingly challenging and particularly captivating. Variations on the Tassel Boxing game include TASSLE FLIPPING, TASSLE SUCKING, TASSLE DANCING, TASSLE PUPPET SHOW and of course the truly distracting, and at times dangerous, TASSLE HYPNOSIS, where one stares at the base of the tassel while swinging it slowly back and forth until lulled into an altered state.

• THE VOYEUR'S DELIGHT: This age-old boredom remedy entails imagining your fellow graduates and the university heads stark naked. While it requires imagination, it's free, exciting and somehow morally questionable.

• THE HEAD COUNT GAME: Sitting in a sea of people wearing the exact same thing, it can be a true challenge to count the heads of all the graduates. Less inhibited individuals can add excitement to this activity by actually standing, turning about, pointing at each person and counting out loud.

• PRETEND TO LOOSE YOUR MIND: Particularly fun for the thespians in the group, this game can really jump-start the party. Building gradually, participants should start by mumbling quietly and staring at fellow graduates like you are very angry. Repeating the phrases "Billy's my name," "Koochie, Koochie, Koo bird-face," and "Watch out for the nurse-woman" is usually effective, though players may also find nonsensical patterns of noises like "Da Dupe Da Doo" even more of an attention getter. Suddenly crying uncontrollably, or chuckling under one's breath at random moments while rocking back and forth are also fine techniques.

Have YOU been in an ACCIDENT?

Are you experiencing:
 ■ Neck Pain ■ Headaches ■ Blurred Vision
 ■ Nausea ■ Numbness ■ Dizziness

Insurance companies pressuring you to settle?
 Medical Doctors say you're not injured?
 Think you haven't been injured because you're not in pain?

SEE DR. MARK DUELL BEFORE YOU SETTLE!

You could have suffered whiplash, an injury which insurance covers, but may go undetected.

A CHIROPRACTOR CAN DIAGNOSE AND TREAT WHIPLASH EFFECTIVELY AND, CHIROPRACTORS ARE RECOGNIZED AS "EXPERT WITNESSES" IN A COURT OF LAW. FACTS.

1. A whiplash injury can take weeks or even months to cause pain.
2. A chiropractor has been trained to detect a whiplash before it causes pain and discomfort.
3. It is not necessary to be in a major accident to sustain a whiplash injury.
4. A whiplash injury is not something to be dismissed lightly, often agonizing pain develops, severe headaches and decreased mobility of the neck.

WHIPLASH IS A SERIOUS, PAINFUL INJURY. BEFORE YOU SETTLE, RULE IT OUT THE ONLY LOGICAL WAY — SEE A CHIROPRACTOR.

This is the same neck restored to normalcy by Dr. Duell

Mark Duell, D.C.

To encourage you to take this health-saving step today, I am offering a whiplash injury screening to anyone who has been involved in an accident.

FREE WHIPLASH INJURY SCREENING NO COST * NO OBLIGATION

Find out today if you've sustained injuries that chiropractors are recognized experts in diagnosing. This examination will include an orthopedic test, neurological test, spinal alignment check, examination for restricted or excess motion in the spine, muscle strength test and a private consultation with the doctor to discuss the results. X rays, if needed, are included.

BUNGLE: Remembering

ing this that Charles Gomer Scott is always ready to do the job. He likes to see himself as a fellow up the challenge.

Except for that little thing called inspiration. The muse, my writer friend Sherlock calls it while he sucks on his pipe and drinks beer all day. That's what's missing from my little "funniest-things-to-happen-to-me-in-college-piece."

But it'll come, I'm sure, because this is probably nothing more than another one of those embarrassing moments. Yes, I said embarrassing, and I meant it, because here I am writing a juicy, high-readership potential piece on the cover of the graduation guide, and I've got absolutely nothing to say.

And that's embarrassing.

Well, sort of embarrassing anyway, but nothing like the sort of stuff that used to happen to me.

When I was a freshman I was really dumb. How dumb? It rained the first day of school, and I had a nine o'clock class — that's embarrassing now, having ever signed up for that one — and I naturally put on some spiffy college clothes to show off for the folks I'll be seeing in my classes.

Anyway, if you ride your bike in the rain, you get this line all the way up your back, and it looks like someone has just ridden their bike across your shirt, and dumb freshmen like me don't even know it.

So I'm strutting around all day, trying to be cool, seeing girls from the dorm, and girls I don't know, and all sorts of people, and all day long I've got the tire track on my back.

I find out about it from my roommate — who was a good-looking guy with style who never had to worry about tire tracks (the bastard!) — after I tried telling him how cool I'd been all day.

Now that's embarrassing.

Freshman year is full of those things, as it should be, of course. I got lost going to my first-ever English class in Girvetz, and it was English 20, so the professor was actually a professor, and he did not like me sliding in through the opposite door 10 minutes late as if nothing was wrong one bit.

Don't think all my embarrassing moments revolved around my freshman year. Oh no.

There was this really cute girl I was writing poetry about a few years back, and it was bad poetry of course, but that didn't stop a couple of my roommates from mailing her a sampling of it. Talk about shades of mediocrity.

She told me that I'd have a better chance of getting her to go out with me if I just told her I liked her. After which she added she would've laughed hysterically and then told me to get lost, which she did, but not before shredding my poetry finely in front of my eyes.

Sound unlikely? SO WHAT!! Some wounds don't heal so easy, so let's drop it, ok?

As some of you know, Charles Gomer Scott is a groovy world traveler too, and some of my most embarrassing moments ever came while traveling during a year I spent on the Education Abroad Program.

In some countries they don't have toilet paper, they just don't use it. I was embarrassed for myself when I realized that.

My most embarrassing moment at UCSB? Easy.

Having someone recognize me as Charles Gomer Scott, of course, after I'd written something good, as rare as that is, because any small bit of praise is always the hardest thing for me to take.

Good thing I don't have to worry about that here.

Film Noir Graduation!

By Dirk Dan Dave Dunhill

Graduation. For some it's a time for celebration. Four to 10 long years in education's answer to the Big House, and now you banged out your last license plate and the parole board is letting you loose, into real life.

For others it's a time to sob in your Dr Pepper and Rum. The Old Man's been forking out a googol G-notes so that you could an M.A. in Film Studies. Now you're making like a baby and heading out into the cold, hard professional world, expecting to make an honest day's dollar, and all you know how to do is tell us Ben Hur was a gladiator flick and The Golden Globes got nothing to do with Suzanne Sommers.

And for others still, Graduation is a four-syllable word that starts with "G." For me, however, Graduation meant one thing and one thing only: Trouble.

Name's Dunhill. Dirk, Dan, etc. etc. I investigate crime, privately, that is. That would make me a private investigator.

I was in my office, picking the tar off my wingtips, Santa Barbara can do that to a person, when I smelled something. It wasn't the tar, but I knew the smell well. You could surgically remove my nose and send it to Constantinople, by way of Danzig, and I would still know that smell like you had only sent my beak to Wyoming.

"Have a seat, Sasha." I said. I didn't bother to look up. I knew what she looked like. Sasha Strongbody's slinky silhouette stayed sketched inside my cerebellum, like a really well-painted Renoir or Diet Coke stain. Only Strongbody was twice as deadly, but not twice the calories.

We both knew what she was going to say next, so we said it together.

"Dunhill. I need you."

Eight bad jokes came to mind. Two were on their way to my mouth, but I stopped one right when it reached to back of my nose. The other one Sasha stopped, with the look of desperation in her eyes.

"Someone stole my transcripts. Without them I don't graduate," she said. This was no joke.

Maybe I'm a sucker. Maybe I wouldn't know a setup if it came up to me and called me "Milhouse." Maybe I'm a sucker for a pouty pair of red lips that have stepped on my soul so many times that I'm going to end up going to heaven on a stretcher. Maybe I took the case. Definitely I took the case.

First stop was the Art Building on campus. I knew a guy there that was just shifty enough to pull off a job like this. Fad "Dots" Francois. This guy was shifty like a car with nine gears. When I got there he was painting. The Scoundrel. He was painting a nude, no less.

"Dots," I said.

He jumped a mile. The touch of red he was adding to the canvas suddenly became a large blotch of red. Dots was scared of me, real scared. Scared like a dachshund in a wiener factory.

"What do you want?" he said. "I want to ask you a few questions," I said.

He didn't feel like answering. He grabbed the model and threw her at me. Nothing can stun an assailant like a well-thrown nude. But I was quick that day. I caught the nude and set her down. After getting her phone number, I had to think fast. It just so happened that there was another nude in the room, so I grabbed him and threw. Bam! Nude to the head and Dots was out like Neon Surf Visors.

When he came to, the nudes and I had tied him up. I was going to make him speak.

"Who stole Sasha Strongbody's transcripts?" I said.

"Can't say," he said.

"Can too," I said.

"Can not," he said.

"Can too," I said.

"Can not," he said.

"Can not," I said. (This is where I got tricky.)

"Can too," he said. (Candy from a baby, a really stupid baby.)

"Can not," I said.

"Can too," he said,

"Sasha paid me to steal her own transcripts. You butt head! I told you that I could ..."

I don't what made him stop. It could have been that he figured out that he had been duped. But I think he stopped his yapping because he saw the look on my face. It was one of those looks that make others give you quarters and train tickets to Yakima.

That night, I saw Sasha. "Why did you do it?" I asked.

"I did it for you, Dave. I love you. I didn't want to leave," she said.

My insides were jumping around like a small amount of gravel in a blender. I stayed calm. Never let 'em see you jump about hysterically, that's my motto.

"Yeah?" I said.

"Yeah," she said. "But I guess now that the jig is up, I'll be leaving ... but I still want to spend one, last long night with you."

Now, the gravel had broken the blender. A lot more than my insides were jumping.

"Yeah?" I said.

"Yeah," she said. "But first, let me slip into something more comfortable."

I had been waiting to hear those words since the first time those big blue eyes and red sequin dress had floated into my office and sent me through a loop and drove me loopy. I sat down and tried not to drool.

I waited for two hours, after the first 10 minutes I could not hold back the drooling. After the first hour I had stopped. I had a funny feeling.

I searched the house. I had been tricked. Once again, Sasha Strongbody had called the checkmate in our game d'amour. She was gone. Gone like red M&Ms, when they found out that they weren't good for you, back in the sixties. Dirk Dan Dave Dunhill, Private Dick and Lonely Heart.

But you know, eventually, red M&Ms came back, in the eighties. And, as I sat in the house, alone, I knew she would come back too.

I had her transcripts in my vest pocket.

Take Your Parents Cruisin'!

Foothills
A more ambitious but far more rewarding drive with the folks inevitably leads to the hills. The views are great, especially from Camino Cielo, which runs along the top of the mountains. Painted Cave Rd. is hard to find, so turn right at Camino Cielo, which is better-marked.

Mission Canyon
No trip should be complete without going to the Mission, but the most fun route is through Montecito, via Highway 192. It's twisty, but even getting lost is fun in these foothills.

Goleta
What can I say? Take 'em to a Goleta bar, just so they can see your habitat for themselves

UCSB/I.V.
Look. Show the folks the house. Since leases will be coming up, the place will probably never be cleaner, and that's to your advantage. Take the folks to the Lagoon and Campus Point, and to Campbell Hall. Check the library to laugh at anybody still studying.

Hope Ranch
House-lookers will have a field day with Hope Ranch's ostentatious villas, many of which are visible from the road. Careful not to confuse the horse stables with their mansions, though.

Downtown
Park the car and walk around for several hours. Take your parents shopping. You may be able to cash in on their good mood. Lots of stores, restaurants and sights. Take them a movie at the Arlington or look at the art in the Museum. Parking can be problematic, but there tends to be more in city lots 1 block on the mountain side of State St. By all means, eat outdoors. State St. is great for people-watching.

By Haden Guest

As a graduating senior (or so I think), I've had some time to collect my thoughts. But now isn't the time for intellectual heavy-lifting. I'll leave that to my valet. No, what I've figured is that my stay at UCSB has set mummy and daddy back about $35,000. Converted into terms you and I can understand, that's approximately 120,000 bags of Top Ramen. Or more crack than you, I, Marion Barry and Corey Feldman can smoke in a weekend in Ojai.

You may not get along too well with your folks. They are, after all, your folks, the people in the funny sports coats that smell like Old Spice. Mummy does, at least. But they've supported you for a long time, and now that they're coming to see you matriculate (and you thought it would make you go blind), the least you can do is show them a good time, not leave them to their own devices in a weird motel in Carpenteria. Nyet. The appropriate thing to do is spend quality time with them. Personally, some of the best quality time I've had with my folks has been in the car, just driving around looking for a public restroom. So take the folks for a drive while they're here. Impress them with your locals-only insights. Take them to little secluded places like the courthouse or the Arlington. My parents can't get enough of this kind of stuff. Every year, about this time when they think I'm graduating — I take them for a ride.

So,
You're Tragically Unfulfilled, And the only thing that will help is to become a NEXUS PHOTOGRAPHER!

We got you're self-actualization right here. We like hard work, we like motivation, and we like pizza. We also like experience, but lots of motivation can make up for a little missing background. The first summer training program meeting will be Wed, June 24 at 7:00 pm, so come in now and talk to Dave Rosen, Marc Syvertsen, or just leave an application.
