Roadrunners Meet Southwestern University At Polo Field Tomorrow After Rally

Fresh from the victory over our old rivals, Bakersfield J. C., the Roadrunner team of Coach Gilliland will tackle the heavy outfit from Los Angeles tomorrow at 2:30 P. M. at the Polo Field in Montecito. Little is known of the southern team, but some real competition is expected and Coach has been sending the men through the gaits at top speed almost every evening.

Wednesday evening a stiff workout was held on Bartlett Field and the experience resulting from having a heavy game was shown.

Pep and fight never before shown was apparent and Coach could well afford to smile as he watched his charges go through signal drill. Most of the men are in top condition and anxious to start when the referee says, "Ready, Captain Linder?"

The probable line-up to start the game Saturday sounds like this:

"Tiny" Annin.....Left Guard
Francis O'Reilly.....Center
Otto Larsen.....Right Guard
"Ted" Copper.....Right Tackle
"Bane" Keim.....Right End

Exhibition of Coverlets To Be Held Soon

Miss Camp, who teaches Weaving, is planning to have an exhibition of coverlets on November 2 and 3. Anyone who has any old coverlets, especially overshot, double-faced, or double-woven, is asked to loan them for the exhibit. Good care will be taken of any that are loaned. A cordial invitation to the public is extended for Tuesday afternoon.

NEXT WEEK

Tuesday, October 27—Faculty meeting. Council meets. Elementary School Tea in the afternoon.

Wednesday, October 28—Social Science Club meeting at nite, Campus.

Thursday, October 29—Departmental meetings.

Friday, October 30—Q. E. S. Party.

Saturday, October 31—Cal Christian game at Los Angeles.

"Hal" Morehead.....Fullback
Jack Vince.....Right Half
"Curt" Curtis.....Quarterback

The reserve list reads like the list of a bigger college: Ends—Smith, Heggie, and Lopez. Tackles—Mabe, Carter, Hendry, and Hahn. Guards—Gunn, Jonberg, Batchelder, and Vandam. Center—Lane. In practicing this week the reserve backfield of Morehead, Clemore, Treloar, and Garber has been showing some real goods and will probably have a chance in Saturday's game.

Before the Game Tomorrow—

Everyone meet at the College campus at 1:15 P. M. As many as possible bring your cars or trucks. Brush the cobwebs off your Green and White pennants, rooting caps, etc., and bring them along, too.

A parade procession will leave the campus at 1:30, proceeding to State Street, which will be paraded several times. The line will then proceed to Bartlett Field.

If you desire transportation to the game, come to the campus before 1:30.

Elementary School Children Will Hold Tea Next Tuesday

Those interested in the Elementary School will be given an opportunity of seeing some of the children's work, as well as spending an enjoyable hour with the boys and girls of the lower grades, on Tuesday afternoon. At that time Miss Leonard's room will be converted into a gay hostelry, where carnival hawkers and entertainers will greet the visitor. "Spooks' Inn," it has been christened by the children.

Tea will be served from 2 until 5 o'clock. A program is to be presented by the children of the First, Second and Third grades. Booths are being erected, at which it will be possible (and desirable) to purchase such dainties as lollypops (in costume), crackerjack, and cookies. All the proceeds will be used to buy a Magic Rug to cover a corner of the classroom floor, so that the children can sit in a circle and tell stories. It is hoped that a sufficient number of grown-ups will recognize the crying need for this Magic Rug to make its immediate purchase possible.

Delegates Elected By A. W. S. for Southern Conference Thursday

At a meeting of the A. W. S. held in the College gym yesterday morning, four delegates were chosen to attend the Southern Conference of the A. W. S. to be held at Pomona, November 13, 14, and 15. Ester Janssens, A. W. S. president, was automatically chosen as one of the delegates. The three other women elected by the assembly were Edith Comstock, Janice Kennedy, and Grace Miksch. The delegates will go south accompanied by Dean Pyle.

A number of unofficial delegates were asked for by the central association. Some fourteen students expressed themselves as being willing to attend the conference.

The subject of this year's meeting will center about a general topic concerning the Responsibilities of Freedom. The local delegates will be called upon to express their opinion on various points, but as a special subject they are going to discuss "How to Keep the Girl Interested in the Association."

The conference at Pomona will be comprised of delegates from Santa Barbara, Fullerton, U. S. C., Southern Branch, San Diego, Redlands, Fresno, Occidental, and Santa Maria.

In discussing the Pomona convention, Dean Pyle recalled last year's A. W. S. conference, which was held in Fresno. Six delegates attended from Santa Barbara and impressed the convention very agreeably by appearing at all the meetings and functions in a uniform style of dress, their choice being white sweaters and skirts with green and white Santa Barbara caps and a cane decorated with the College color. Because Pomona is closer and more accessible than Fresno, Dean Pyle pointed out that the impression we are capable of creating at this year's conference can be made far to surpass last year's in beneficial results to the women students of our College.

Glee Club Entertains Students in Assembly

A taste of this year's Glee Club prospects was given to the Student Body at the Assembly last Tuesday, when a "double quartet," composed of members of the Glee Club, sang to the students. The "quartet" consisted of Lewis Peters, Irwin Vandam, Fred Seegert, Carl Wirths, Carroll Dawley, Eugene Conklin, Phil Smith, and James Dinwiddie, and they sang "Massa Dear." Carroll Dawley sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Wieler.

Spooks Haunt Gym Tomorrow Nite At Hallowe'en Hop

"Bring all your pennies and nickels to the Hallowe'en Dance and Carnival in the gym tomorrow night at 8:30, and come in costume," orders Phil Brotherton, chairman of the social committee and manager of the Carnival.

The feature of the Carnival will be the class concessions, from which a few cents will buy a trophy. Each class will have a booth, its feature being kept secret until the night of the Carnival. A prize will be awarded to the best concession. The Frosh concession is being managed by Rebecca Singleton, the Soph booth by Mildred Sample, the Junior concession by Harriet Coleman, and the Senior show by Jessica Lemmon.

The management asks that everyone, so far as possible, come in costume. If no costume is available, come masked. Prizes for the most original and for the funniest costume will be given.

Those who are assisting the manager are Charlotte Bellman, decorations; Ruth Chalmers, the "Ritual;" and Harold Furman, cleanup. Janssens' orchestra will furnish the tunes for the evening.

In short, "booths and all" will be the menu for the evening. The social committee will invite the players and rooters of the Southwestern University to stay for the Carnival.

It is understood that many students are planning to leave town for the week-end. Dean Pyle asks that since there are no socials next week, for the students as far as possible to remain in town this week and use next week for their home-going.

Football Rally Held This Noon In Court

Yell Leader Kenney is planning to awaken the College from its slumber this noon, when he stages a rally in the court for the Southwestern game. At this rally, which will be mainly to learn the new yells, prizes for the yell contest, which ends today, will be awarded.

The rally is a part of the program of the "pep" committee to resurrect College spirit. This committee, with Warren Atwood as chairman, and Janice Kennedy and Ester Janssens as assistants, has been working up a program of College spirit in preparation for the Southwestern game. Their program will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Toys designed by the class in Toy Construction will soon be on exhibit in the cases in the corridor.

A PIANIST AND A SONG LEADER

The suggestion has been made that the Student Body elect a pianist to play at rallies, Student Body stunts, etc. This would eliminate the calling for volunteer players, which is inconvenient and incurs an unnecessary waste of time.

We ought also to elect a song leader to lead the songs at rallies. We have several good school songs, but many of the students do not know them because we do not sing them enough. A song leader, for this reason, is almost as necessary as a yell leader. The song leader should be a Student Body officer, like the yell leader, so that he might take an interest in his office and pep up the students to the best of his ability. He, as well as the pianist, could study his special position and should be able to inaugurate some real pep at the Student Body rallies. The yell leader, song leader, and pianist could be a standing committee to arrange programs and dates for rallies.

We are just as tired as you are of hearing that this College is dead on its feet. The College is not dead, but it merely lacks something to take the pep out of it. Perhaps the election of a song leader and a pianist would help to solve the problem. The Student Body Constitution does not provide for the election of these officers, but they seem necessary enough to warrant an amendment. Think it over.

THE BAKERSFIELD GAME

Fourteen and twelve aren't very far apart, but they are plenty far enough when the fourteen belongs to us and the twelve belongs to Bakersfield J. C.

Three years ago Bakersfield came here and defeated the Road-runners 6-0, and Casey took eleven men there and lost 13-6 again. Two years ago the squad went to Bakersfield and lost again, this time 18-13. Last year Bakersfield came here with a crack team and we tied the score, 6-6. This year—well, read the papers.

We didn't see the game, but the fellows say that Bakersfield played better football and showed more fight than it did last year. That speaks well for the team.

Those who came to College last Tuesday morning found posters posted where "he who runs may read." Warren Atwood confessed to being the artist, when he had been run down. "Ray for our publicity manager! If a crowd doesn't come to Bartlett Field tomorrow, it won't be his fault. Now we're waiting for somebody to pipe "Oh, is there going to be a game tomorrow?" No, Dora; Atty just wanted to exhibit his talent.

English S Society Elects Officers for Term

Josephine Bolton was elected president of the English S Society at their meeting last Tuesday. Ester Janssens was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Action was also taken to establish a Women's Athletic Association unit at the College.

Dr. Ellison Speaks to Kiwanians Wednesday

Dr. Ellison addressed the Kiwanis Club at a meeting of that organization held last Wednesday noon on the subject of "The Pacific Era." Warren Atwood attended the meeting at the request of President Phelps and announced the game tomorrow with Southwestern University.

The Eagle Expands

How would you like a radical change in the make-up of The Eagle? Next Friday The Eagle is going to make its initial appearance as a five-column paper. In order to do this, we are forced to cut down expenses to the extent that we cannot use magazine paper as has been done in the past, but we will use real newspaper stock. We hope you will appreciate the improvement.—Editor.

Building Prints Secured, Arcade Contract Let

President Phelps returned from Sacramento early this week with five blue prints of different angles of the new Administration Building to be built early next year. He also announced that the contract for the rebuilding of the front arcade of the main building, that was shaken down in the earthquake, has been let to Grant Johnson, who will commence work at once.

The reconstruction of the arcade will cost $4500 and the contract calls for completion within sixty days after date of beginning.

The blue prints of the Administration Building are now on display in the show cases of the corridor.

Block S Investigated By Surveying Party

The Block S to be plotted out on the mountainside will be made as soon as a definite location is decided upon and ultimate specifications are arranged. A surveying party composed of Oran Booth, Arthur Evans, and Sidney Doner went to the mountains last Saturday to investigate possible locations for the letter. The locations in discussion at present are two upon the Tunnel Trail. The requirement of the location of the letter are that it must be visible from the College and from the town and it must be at once visible. This, of necessity, places the letter quite high in the mountains.

The plotting of the letter will be a unique problem for some engineering genius in the College, it was decided last Saturday; because there are no locations which meet the requirements in other particulars which are smooth enough to permit the plane formation of a letter.

The location will be about three miles away and the letter will therefore be about 250 feet high vertically.

C. M. NOTES

Work has started on the reconstruction of the tool room and shop of the C. M. Department. The tool room for the machine shop will be separate from the tool room of the woodworking shop. A wash room and offices for Mr. Ericson and Mr. Griffith will also be erected.

The wood shop room will also be remodeled and the sheet metal shop will be enclosed and rearranged. Also a printing shop will be installed, preparatory to making printing a standard course in the C. M. Department. There will also be a new wood finishing and staining room.

Mr. Ericson visited several schools in Los Angeles and vicinity recently and arranged for several of the men of the Community Mechanics Department, who are taking supervised teaching to visit some of these schools sometime during the semester.

Mr. Griffin * * * judge of the mechanical work at an exhibit at the recent Kern County Fair. The machine and forge work exhibited by the Bakersfield High School, where Dean Smith, a Santa Barbara alumnus, is an instructor, took the sweepstakes at the California State Fair at Sacramento.

The entrance to the machine shop and the sheet metal shop will be the walk from the gymnasium when the remodeling is completed.

Glee Club Dance Planned For November 4

At 9 o'clock on the night of November 14, there will be a dance at Recreation Center sponsored by the Men's Glee Club. Frank Greenough's seven-piece orchestra will furnish the music. Our last football game, that traditional grudge battle with Cal Poly on the local gridiron, will be played on the same day and everyone should go to the dance to finish the day right. It is open to the public.

The committee in charge of all the arrangements is Harold Furman, chairman; Paul Means, and Jim Dinwiddie. Tickets may be obtained from any club member. The price is one dollar per couple. A good time is assured by the committee in charge.

Notice of Error

Instead of stating that castes exist among the women students of this College, as was announced in last week's edition of The Eagle, Dean Pyle merely mentioned at a meeting of the A. W. S. held last week that castes exist in many other colleges and are detrimental to the welfare of the students in them.

Dean Pyle merely wanted to prevent the development of castes among the women of this College.

The Adventures of Hylas and Hercules

By ALICE M. SCHOTT, 6B

Chapter 1—How Hylas Was Saved.

Hercules was a Greek hero. He had a friend named Hylas. One day Hylas went down to a brook to get a drink. While he was drinking, the nymphs saw him. He was very handsome, and the nymphs fell in love with him. They drew him under the water and compelled him to live with them. A few minutes later Hercules came to the brook to tell Hylas to hurry, so that he could help get dinner ready. When he found that Hylas was not there he shouted, but there was no answer. Then he began to weep. Hylas was his best friend and Hercules was very sad to lose him.

The next day Hercules went down to the beach to think where Hylas might be. While he was thinking he saw the "Old Man of the Sea." Hercules asked him where Hylas was. The "Old Man of the Sea" told him how the nymphs had taken him under the water. Hercules thanked him and resolved to get Hylas back again, though it should cost him his life. That night Apollo gave him a dream. He dreamed that Apollo came down on the earth and went to Hercules' house. In his dream he told Apollo about his trouble and asked Apollo to help him. Apollo told him that there was a dragon with a hundred heads guarding the palace where the nymphs imprisoned Hylas. Apollo also told him that if the dragon was killed the nymphs would lose their power. Hercules thanked Apollo and then woke up.

He got up, dressed, and went down to the brook. As soon as he reached the brook he jumped in. When he reached the bottom he saw the palace. In front of it was the dragon. Hercules shivered all the way down his spinal column at the sight of the dragon. Then he advanced slowly toward the dragon and struck the monster a mighty blow, which slew ten of the monster's heads. The dragon grew furious. He sprang at Hercules, but Hercules dodged him. The dragon grew more furious, having missed his prey. He sprang again and hit Hercules a wicked blow.

'Merton of the Movies' A Local Talent Product

The Community Arts' latest production, "Merton of the Movies," which is being presented at the Lobero Theatre this week, is one of the most amusing comedies that Santa Barbara audiences have ever seen. The plot deals with Hollywood and a movie-mad young man. The story is of a clerk in a country store that tries to break into the movies; it tells of his adventures in the movie colony and of his subsequent success.

The play is a laugh from start to finish and no one can afford to miss it. The leading part is taken by Russell Lewis, who is a real "find" for the part. It is interesting to note that he was discovered by Mr. Clements, the director, working in a downtown store. Glesca Marshall, who plays a leading part, is already well known in Santa Barbara for her splendid work in "Liliom." The whole cast is splendidly chosen and the settings are well executed, so one may indeed be certain of an evening of good entertainment.

Cal. Chris. Plans Booklet For Next Game There

California Christian College, who plays the Roadrunners at Los Angeles next Saturday, has planned to issue a booklet at the game describing both teams and giving cuts and particulars to illustrate the material, according to a letter received by Coach Gilliland last Wednesday from Herschell McGee of the Athletic Department of Cal. Christian College. Mr. McGee requested material about the team and several cuts of the coach and a few players. Francis O'Reilly, Football manager, believes the idea is very good and has planned to send the material at once.

Steve: "So you gave her your seat?"

Bob: "No, I closed my eyes and pretended to be asleep."—Ex.

Roadrunners Trounce Renegades 14-12 In Hard Grid Battle Last Saturday

Showing more fight and spirit than was ever expected, the local team went to Bakersfield and upset the dope on the Renegade squad to the tune of 14-12 last Saturday. The potential strength of the squad was shown in the fact that the Roadrunners came from behind to a win over one of our strongest opponents.

The team showed the results of special coaching in the fundamentals in that time after time the whole Renegade team would be on the ground and out of the play. Special mention should be given the linemen who often stopped Caldwell, the tearing fullback of the red-shirts. He is perhaps the best line plunger that we will play against this year and that gives the team confidence that will help win the rest of the games.

Offensively they were just as strong and wide gaps were nearly always waiting for Andv. Vince, Cooper, and Curtis to tear through.

With Treloar, Morehead, and Clemore red to step in, the starting combination played with a recklessness that was sure to gain yards. Either around the ends with Andy or Vince packing the pumpkin or straight at the red line with Cooper in possession of the prized pigskin, the Roadrunners showed superiority.

"Curt" Curtis, new with the locals, did his share of carrying and passing the ball and proved himself capable to engineer the team. The uncertainty that was once present in the squad seems to have disappeared, and it was only the lack of a scoring play that prevented Bakersfield scoring several times.

By the time that the whistles for the start of the Southwestern U. Roadrunners game tomorrow, the squad will be in shape to spring some real football and football fight.

Another phase that shows the

Men's Tennis Tournament Held Early This Year; Many Interested

The annual men's tennis tournament will begin this year as soon as a sufficient number of men have signed up for the elimination proceedings. Those interested in tennis are asked to sign the petition on the student bulletin board, for a large number of players will make greater competition.

After the men have been eliminated to six players, an interscholastic tournament will ensue. Among the schools and colleges that are listed as adversaries are Santa Barbara High School, Deane School, La Verne College, and others to be arranged later. Last year's tennis team, composed of Ted Ellsworth, Philip Brotherton, Warren Atwood, and Fred Greenough, defeated Deane School and now that institution wants a chance for a comeback. Ted Ellsworth and Phil Brotherton defeated La Verne College also on the southern courts, and this year it is La Verne's turn to come north for a match to be arranged on local courts.

The men who sign up for the tournament will be divided into pairs, who will play off single matches at their earliest convenience to eliminate half of the candidates. The winners of this half will then play each other to carry on the elimination until the champion of the college is determined. The six best players will probably compose the team which will compete with other schools.

real strength of Casey's team is the fact that substitutions did not weaken the team either offensively or defensively. On account of a trick shoulder, Andy was replaced by Treloar and Rem proceeded to snag a pass and tear off the same twenty yards.

La Verne College was beaten by Southern Branch in football to the tune of 16-3.
