Merrill Will Perform Work For Piano and Organ Tonight

Miss Eloise Merrill, a music major at the University of California, Santa Barbara, will give her senior recital tonight at 8:30 p.m. in the choral room of the music building at UCSB. The public is invited to attend.

Miss Merrill will offer a program of both organ and piano works by Vivaldi-Bach, Scriabine, Dohnanyi, Chopin and Mozart. Miss Linda Burhans will assist her in the Mozart concerto. This recital is given in partial fulfillment of the performance requirement for the bachelor of arts degree in Music.

Eloise Merrill

Prof. Lloyd Browning is Miss Merrill's piano teacher at the University, and Dr. John E. Gillespie is her organ instructor.

Active in music performance groups at UCSB, Miss Merrill has served as accompanist with the University Chorus. Last spring, she and Linda Burhans gave a two-piano recital under the direction of Dr. Wendell Nelson. She has also accompanied various soloists on campus.

A graduate of Santa Barbara High School, Miss Merrill is a member of Phi Beta, honorary music and speech fraternities, and the UCSB Women's Music Interest Group.

The following is her program for tonight's performance:

MARRIED STUDENT HOUSING AVAILABLE FOR NEXT FALL

Married student housing will be available for the first time next fall, according to Miss Velma Morrell, supervisor of housing services at UCSB.

The new University Apartments now under construction will accommodate 150 couples when opened in September. Additional facilities will be completed during the year. Rates are $80 per month for one bedroom apartments and $105 per month for two bedroom apartments.

Miss Morrell has announced that housing applications for the residence halls are now being accepted for the 1962 fall semester. Space will be available for 1,735 students in Santa Cruz, Anacapa, Santa Rosa, and Las Casitas halls. Early application is advised as hall assignments are made according to the chronological date of receipt of the application. Contracts are mailed in May and also throughout the summer as cancellations occur.

NEWS IN BRIEF

U.S. AMBASSADOR Llewellyn Thompson conferred with Russia's Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko as a first step in seeking a solution to the Berlin problem. The conference, which lasted over two and a half hours, is seen as a preliminary to further negotiations. However, at its conclusion, Ambassador Thompson declined to comment.

PREMIER FIDEL Castro marked his third anniversary this week as head of the Cuba dictatorship, a post which he assumed after the successful overthrow of Batista's regime in 1958. Preparations for a massive military parade were well underway as Castroite organizations urged Cubans to "mass at assigned assembly points" four hours before the scheduled parade time.

THE DOMINICAN government of President Joaquin Balaguer has found its assets sharply reduced. This is a result of Balaguer's program of redistribution of resources among the country's poor.

While his actions have been applauded by many as a way of depriving future leaders from using these resources for political purposes, some agricultural experts claim that distribution of the land among untrained poor, will break down efficient operations and upset the cattle industry.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY and his top defense advisors, both civilian and military, are meeting in Palm Beach, Florida for two days of talks on what he calls "a marginal military lead over the Soviet bloc."

Gamow Speaks At Campbell Hall Dedication

The dedication of UCSB's new circular lecture hall, Campbell Hall, will be held Tuesday, February 8 at 8 p.m. followed by the initial talk in the series, "Modern Ideas in Science" to be given by Dr. George Gamow, distinguished physicist and visiting professor-at-large for the spring semester. Students are invited to attend.

Tickets are required for this event and will be available free of charge to students, faculty, and staff beginning January 29 at the cashier's window of the Associated Students' business manager's office.

Professor Gamow's first lecture will be entitled "Einstein's Theory of Gravitation." In subsequent lectures, the physicist will deal with the uncertainty principle, nuclear energy, entropy, the creation of stars, our planet earth, and the nature and origin of life.

Author of 11 books on science and over 100 publications, Dr. Gamow has been accorded numerous international honors, including visiting professorships, fellowships, and a prize for making science knowledgeable to the layman.

This will be the first of eight public lectures to be given by the visiting professor-at-large. A concluding talk is scheduled for Thursday, May 24 at 8 p.m. at the Lobero Theatre in Santa Barbara. Others in the series will all be given at 4 p.m. on Feb. 15, March 15, March 29, April 12, and May 10.

An honors seminar for outstanding university students will also be conducted by Dr. Gamow during the spring semester. Students interested in participating in the seminar must apply to the dean of letters and science by Feb. 1.

New Scholarships To Be Available

The Scholarship and Loan office announces two new scholarship opportunities.

Residents of the La Canada Unified School District, including La Canada and Flintridge, are eligible to apply for scholarship funds up to $1,000 from the La Canada Thursday Club. Selection will be based on academic achievement, promise and financial need. Further information is available in the scholarship office building 404.

The F. S. Wade architectural scholarship competition is offered at UCSB by the Southern California and Southern Counties Gas companies. A $1,500 honor scholarship is provided.

Grad Record Exam Given

A Graduate Record Examination will be given on the Santa Barbara campus on January 20, 1962 in Room 1426, Arts Building, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Candidates interested in the exam are advised to contact the Educational Testing Service, 4640 Hollywood Boulevard, Los Angeles 27, California, prior to January 5th.

DVORTCSAK TO PRESENT FIRST ONE-MAN SHOW

Michael Dvortcsak will present an art exhibit of paintings and drawings January 7 through 26 in the Small Gallery of the Art Building marking the beginning of a series of one-man art shows by students.

"Mick" is currently a graduate student of special status and hopes to attend UCLA next semester to study painting.

This is his first personal one-man show.

He attended Santa Barbara for the first two years of college, then traveled through Western Europe for eight months. During that time he studied the masters in all the major cities of Europe and made several sketches of them. These drawings, however, will not be presented in the exhibition.

Returning to UCSB to finish his academic career, he studied under Mr. William Ptaszynski and Mr. Howard Warsaw. When asked why he chose Santa Barbara to begin his art studies, Michael stated, "The Art Department is an outstanding and well-rounded place where one can learn varied techniques of painting and drawing."

MEANINGFUL SYNTHESIS

"I rely on nature and methods of vision for my subjects and try to give a meaningful synthesis to these with tradition in mind. I choose simple ideas rather than metaphysical ones, and all of my paintings represent different ways of seeing the world."

The simplicity of his work is expressed in the titles of some of the drawings that will be on display: Dead Bird, Fish Heads, Conversion of St. Paul, Still Life With Lemons, Two Flat Shapes Against a Surface, and Self Portrait.

When asked to give his opinion of the rash of worm-wriggling, tire-tracking, and other sundry forms of current "non-objective" art, he remarked briefly and succinctly that "it has no meaning for me."

As to his plans following UCLA, he stated that he would like to paint mainly, but in order to make a living, he would like to teach on university level, possibly at Santa Barbara.

"Merging Figures" is a Dvortcsak oil painting, done in 1961.

ANNOUNCEMENT EFFECTIVE JULY FIRST- NEW RESIDENCE, NEW YORK CITY

Dr. Samuel B. Gould last night announced his resignation as Chancellor of the University of California, Santa Barbara, effective next July 1.

At a special faculty meeting convened last night, the chancellor regrettably announced his decision to accept the presidency of Educational Television for the Metropolitan Area, Inc., New York City.

Dr. Gould became the first chancellor of the UCSB campus on July 1, 1959. The impact of his educational leadership was felt immediately—on the campus, in the community and in the statewide university. His stature as a nationally known spokesman for higher education received wide attention during his tenure here.

HIS NEW POSITION

In his new post Dr. Gould will organize what is expected to be the major educational television station in the country. The non-profit organization will operate the newly purchased New York Channel 13 which will provide a high standard of educational television programming for a potential audience of 15,000,000 in the New York, New Jersey and Connecticut areas. It will also serve as the key station in the 58-station educational television association around the nation.

Chancellor Gould told the faculty last night that after considerable thought he came to the conclusion that this is an opportunity which he could not ignore for service in a different area of education.

FURTHER EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

"It is in this field in which I have had interest in the past and which has always been a major research area of mine. It is an opportunity to attempt the solution of major problems in educational television that have been facing the metropolitan area of New York and the country for a long time."

"I come to this decision with a great deal of regret since both Mrs. Gould and I have enjoyed so much being a part of the University of California and Santa Barbara community."

Chancellor Gould came to Santa Barbara from the presidency of Antioch College where he served for five years. He arrived on the local scene shortly after UCSB was designated as a "general campus" of the university and since that time his leadership has established a full university operation.

THE EPIC GRANT

In 1960, he was instrumental in obtaining a $128,000 grant from the Ford Foundation for the establishment of our five-year Experimental Program, Instructors for Colleges (EPIC) under which qualified students are provided a unique type of training to prepare them for college-level teaching careers.

He established the Affiliates of the University of California, Santa Barbara, just 14 months ago. It now has 800 members including most of Santa Barbara's leading citizenry.

He fostered the move to bring several distinguished full professors to the campus as regular members of the academic community.

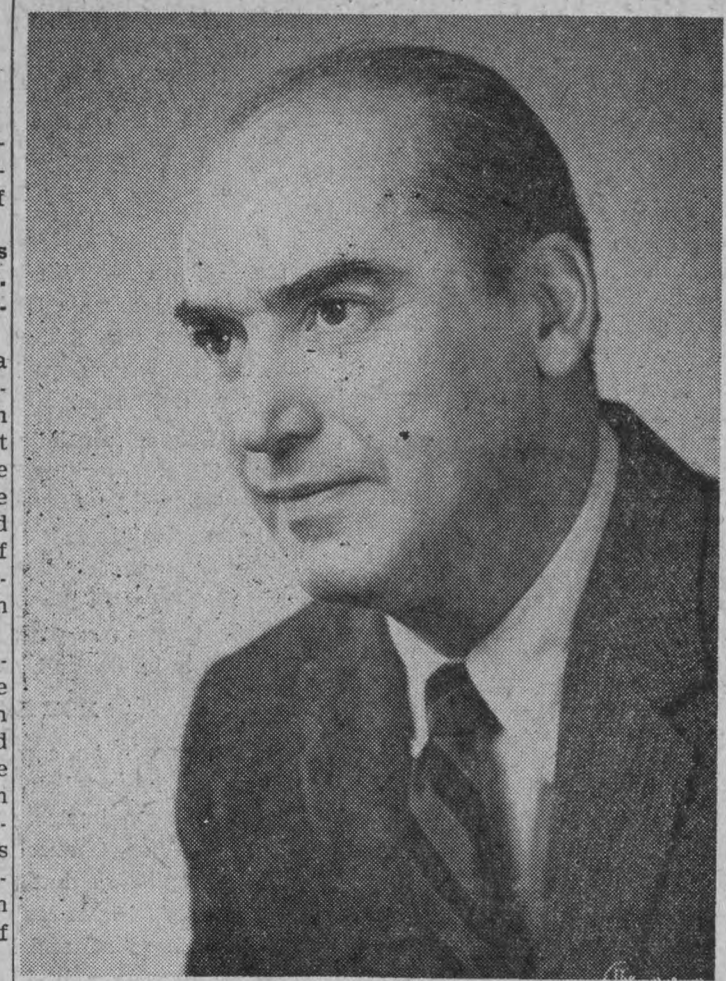

CAMPUS EXPANSION

In seeing the necessity for adequate future planning, his office last fall published "Design for Growth: The Realities of the Next Decade" in which he provided a total concept of the institution growth for 1960-1970. This blue-print of a university campus development received enthusiastic response from the Regents as well as other educational leaders.

Dr. Gould led the way for a program of articulation between the various levels of education in Santa Barbara County to improve the quality of teaching in the face of soaring enrollments.

His primary interest in the students led to what he considered the most pleasant part of his work—regular meetings and social occasions with students.

Faculty and administrative leaders on campus today were expressing their regrets over the Chancellor's decision to leave Santa Barbara.

Chancellor Samuel B. Gould announced yesterday his resignation, effective July 1.

EUROPEAN SITE CONSIDERED FOR UC CAMPUS ABROAD

Plans are underway for opening the University of California Education Abroad program in one of three possible European locations by the fall of 1962. This was the statement of Dr. William H. Allaway, director of the program. Foreign universities are being considered at Strasbourg, Bordeaux, and Padua.

Dr. Allaway has recently returned to the Santa Barbara campus, headquarters for the project, after an 11-week tour of 23 universities and educational centers in 12 countries.

FIVE YEAR PROGRAM

According to Dr. Allaway, current plans call for a long range five year program establishing centers located in Europe, Asia, and Latin America.

He stresses the fact that many problems will have to be solved before final arrangements can be made. Some of these include: academic arrangements, availability of library facilities, food service, provisions for medical care, and others.

UC STAFF

"The centers will be staffed partially from the University of California, with most of the academic instruction undertaken by professors in the host countries. Social and cultural orientation will be done here, in this country before the student goes abroad," stated Dr. Allaway.

Allaway said that most of the educators, government officials, and administrators with whom he spoke in his travels were interested in helping the university to achieve its overseas educational goals.

"They respect the position of the University of California among the educational institutions of the world and are aware of the benefits to be derived from educational exchanges," he noted. "They acknowledge the inter-university ties throughout the world and our common goal in searching for truth."

From his trip Allaway has derived many aspects of his task in developing foreign centers. "Important factors in our program," he observed, Minneapolis.

Art Prof Has One-Man Show

William Dole, associate professor of art and chairman of the department at UCSB, is currently having a one-man exhibition of collages, watercolors, and drawing at the Ester Bear Gallery in Santa Barbara.

Both the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis and the Santa Barbara Museum of Art have recently purchased collages by Dole. He also won a purchase prize at the "Drawing, U.S.A. Exhibition" at the St. Paul gallery in Minneapolis.

Our Loss: A Summary And A Regret

No single individual, in so short a time, has made a more magnanimous contribution to the maturation of Santa Barbara University than Dr. Samuel Gould. UC President Clark Kerr defined the Chancellor's mission as "long-range academic and physical construction plans." But, to the UCSB student that "mission" has a more personal relevance.

It is impossible to participate in our present college community and escape the direct influence of this man's dynamic leadership. In his short period of two and one-half years as Chancellor, the campus enrollment has increased from 2,800 to 4,000 and a highly accelerated building program has been initiated to meet the needs of our physical growth.

His plans for internal transformation of Santa Barbara College into Santa Barbara University intensified the Liberal Arts program, began the two new schools of Engineering and Education, increased the Master of Arts degrees to 16 fields and offered the Doctor of Philosophy in four.

EPIC, Education Abroad, the town Affiliates, even the residence of the Paganini Quartet are further evidences of his influence.

Yet, he never lost personal contact with individual students. Besides holding meetings and participating in social occasions with them, regular letters went from his desk to all parents and alumni.

A reiteration of some of his major contributions is inadequate tribute to their impact and influence. Yet recognition of his actions is, in a concrete way, recognition of the man. Along with President Kerr, we "wish him well in (his) vital new role." But we also feel deeply our sudden and extraordinary loss.

Paper Uses Competence, Gives Potential

Next semester when the temporary newspaper terminates and the permanent paper is reinstated, the proofreaders, typists, photographers, and reporters as well as the editorial staff must be competent students willing to assume long-term responsibility. "The University Post" believes such students exist, in plentiful but untapped numbers.

Signing up for next semester's staff, gives you the chance to make a definite contribution to your university and to gain experience and references that apply in almost any future career. The potential is inherent.

Presently before the Legislative Council is the "Post's" proposal to salary the newly created editorial positions and their assistants. The Editor-in-Chief would receive $600 a year (same as now), the Assistant, Campus, Sports, Feature, Layout, and Managing Editors $400 each, and the six Assistants $150 each. The proposal is modeled after the Cal newspaper setup. We recognize in theory as they do in practice that graduated payment of staff is essential to any paper that plans to function in a business-like manner, with a set scale of advancement that clearly outlines both the authority and the opportunity in the organization.

Coaches Interviewed-CCAA Move Evokes Mixed Reactions

By BOB WALTER

On December 9, 1961, the University of California at Santa Barbara submitted its resignation effective in 1963-1964 to the California Collegiate Athletic Association. The Gauchos have participated in this league for several years, going back to the days before they were part of the University of California.

This league, consisting of Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo, Fresno State, Long Beach State, Los Angeles State, San Diego State, and San Fernando Valley State, encompasses all sports from football to water polo. The administration, in submitting the school's resignation, said that they were not displeased with the CCAA but felt that now the campus is going through a period of rapid growth, it would be better not to be bound by an all-encompassing league.

NOT A DE-EMPHASIS

Some people on campus and throughout the western sports world have taken the resignation to mean that the school is de-emphasizing sports, especially football. Dr. Goodspeed, Vice Chancellor for student affairs, is quite eager to emphasize that this is a "wait and see" policy.

Two sports in particular are not going to be de-emphasized. Both baseball and basketball have made application for acceptance in a higher league. Dave Gorrie, baseball coach, believes that it will affect baseball for the better. "It (the change) will put us in a better league, but it will be more of a challenge." He emphasizes the fact that he is not unhappy with the CCAA, but he isn't unhappy to step up either. If the school is accepted, they will be playing in the California Intercollegiate Baseball Association consisting of such schools as Stanford, Cal, USC, and UCLA.

OTHERS TO BE INDEPENDENT

Other sports are going to be independent until such a time when they can be placed in an appropriate league. Asked how he thought dropping CCAA might affect football, head coach Bill Hammer said: "I really don't know. It might affect our attractiveness to high school and junior college prospects in either of two ways. Either they will think that we are de-emphasizing football and go someplace else, or they might think that we are building and be real anxious to come here." Hammer feels, however, that it will be several years before the situation stabilizes enough to really show the effect.

Track is also going on an independent basis. Acting head coach Sam Adams when questioned about the effect on track said that the change will have some good and bad effects. "It will take away the league finals which all the boys work for, but it will result in more varied meets and more travel."

Dr. Goodspeed has commented that, "We are looking forward to the day when there is an All-University meet."

What is the MUN? The initials stand for the Model United Nations, but what does the organization itself do? What is its purpose? Why should UCSB participate in it?

Twelve years ago students from all over California met to discuss formation of a mock United Nations. Encouraged by the Collegiate Council for the U.N., these young people sought to contribute what they could to an increased understanding among college students of the problems other nations face.

The structure of the MUN mirrors that of the U.N. There is a Security Council (complete with veto), a Secretariat, a General Assembly, six special committees, and an International Court of Justice.

Each participating school sends a delegation of five to ten students who represent their respective countries (last year UCSB represented Nicaragua; this year we will be Yugoslavia) in the MUN quires.

committees and General Assembly.

In the various committees, where much of the actual ground work is done, the delegates argue their country's viewpoint on colonialism, Laos, Algeria, the Congo, disarmament, and most of the other international headaches which fill the U.N.'s agenda.

The host school for this year's twelfth annual MUN session is San Diego State College. A definite departure time for the UCSB delegation has not been set yet but the conference dates are April 11-14th. In fact, the delegation has yet to be chosen.

Applications for the delegation (which have been out in the A.S. office since early December) are due by noon, today. The qualifying examination will be administered in the A.S. conference room from one to four p.m. today, by an impartial panel of faculty members.

Once the delegation is chosen a lot of time and effort on the part of the delegates is required to make them function as a team which will meet the standards MUN requires.

Fruit Juice Stains are Mean!

Grapefruit, orange juice, lemon juice—restful, refreshing morning pickups, yes sir! But when the hand is shaky, or Buster grabs and spills the fruit juice in your lap—or maybe dribbles it all over the new suit you just got for him—then you got trouble.

Well, fruit juices penetrate into the very fibers of the fabric, and often they're invisible—until heat is applied. Then a brown spot appears. And they're a breeding spot for moths too.

So bear with us when we repeat once again:

If the garment is washable—sponge with clear water. Don't use soap. And don't iron unless absolutely sure the stain is out.

If the garment is cleanable—leave it alone. Don't rub or wipe, as this will cause deeper penetration into the fabric fibers. Just let it dry and bring it in to be cleaned... the sooner, the better.

Fruit juices, being acid, require quick action because of their effect on dyes. If allowed to stay too long, not only will they affect the dye, but through again, often become permanent. And when that happens, another garment will become an "around the house" item.

And if you're like everybody we know, including ourselves, we have too many of those "around the house" things already and not enough "Sunday Best."

To keep your clothes at their "Sunday Best" longer

Mrs. Nysewander Retiring After 20 Years With UCSB

Mrs. Amy Nysewander, who joined the secretarial staff of the department of education at UCSB in 1941, retired from university work after 20 years of service on Jan. 1.

She became an administrative assistant in 1958 and continued to serve in this capacity in the new School of Education under Dean Gordon S. Watkins this past fall.

The retiring staff member came to Santa Barbara with her husband in 1928. A former credit man with Henry Levy furniture store, he passed away in 1940.

Mrs. Nysewander recounts nostalgically her years with the university on both the Riviera and Goleta campuses. "Enrollment in the department has almost tripled," she points out, "since the World War II years when most of the men were gone and we were a department of women."

She also recalls the initial move to the University's present 400-acre seashore site in Goleta. Not so glamorous in the early days, "there was just a library and a science building out here—and lots of dust, dirt, and mosquitos."

When she points to the 646 education majors enrolled this fall in the UCSB program she says she feels something of a sense of personal pride. Undergraduate students are now majoring in early childhood, elementary, and junior

RING IN THE NEW

Are you still writing "1961" on your papers and letters? I'll bet you are, you scamps! But I am not one to be harsh with those who forget we are in a new year, for I myself have long been guilty of the same lapse. In fact, in my senior year at college, I wrote 1873 on my papers until nearly November of 1874! (It turned out, incidentally, not to be such a serious error because, as we all know, 1874 was later repealed by President Chester A. Arthur in a fit of pique over the Black Tom Explosion. And, as we all know, Mr. Arthur later came to regret his hasty action. Who does not recall that famous meeting between Mr. Arthur and Louis Napoleon when Mr. Arthur said, "Lou, I wish I hadn't of repealed 1874." Whereupon the French emperor made his immortal rejoinder, "Titi que nous et tyler bu." Well sir, they had many a good laugh about that, as you can imagine.)

But I digress. How can we remember to write 1962 on our papers and letters? Well sir, the best way is to find something memorable about 1962, something unique to fix it firmly in your mind. Happily, this is very simple because, as we all know, 1962 is the first year in history that is divisible by 2, by 4, and by 7. Take a pencil and try it: 1962 divided by 2 is 981; 1962 divided by 4 is 490-1/2; 1962 divided by 7 is 280-2/7. This mathematical curiosity will not occur again until the year 2079, but we will all be so busy then celebrating the Chester A. Arthur bi-centenary that we will scarcely have time to be writing papers and letters and like that.

Another clever little trick to fix the year 1962 in your mind is to remember that 1962 spelled backwards is 2691. "Year" spelled backwards is "raey." "Marlboro" spelled backwards is "orolbram." Marlboro smoked backwards is no fun at all. Kindly do not light the filter. What you do is put the filter end in your lips, then light the tobacco end, then draw, and then find out what pleasure, what joy, what rapture serene it is to smoke the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. In 1962, as in once and future years, you'll get a lot to like in a Marlboro—available in soft pack and flip-top box in all 50 states and Duluth.

But I digress. We were speaking of the memorable aspects of 1962 and high among them, of course, is the fact that in 1962 the entire House of Representatives stands for election. There will, no doubt, be many lively and interesting contests, but none, I'll wager, quite so lively and interesting as the one in my own district where the leading candidate is none other than Chester A. Arthur!

Mr. Arthur, incidentally, is not the first ex-president to come out of retirement and run for the House of Representatives. John Quincy Adams was the first. Mr. Adams also holds another distinction; he was the first son of a president ever to serve as president. It is true that Martin Van Buren's son, Walter "Blinky" Van Buren, was at one time offered the nomination for the presidency, but he, alas, had already accepted a bid to become Mad Ludwig of Bavaria. James K. Polk's son, on the other hand, became Salmon P. Chase. Millard Fillmore's son went into air conditioning. This later was known as the Missouri Compromise.

In Missouri, or anywhere else, there is no compromise with quality in Marlboro or the new unfiltered king-size Philip Morris Commander. The Commander does something new in cigarette making—gently vacuum cleans the tobacco for flavor and mildness. Get aboard! You'll be welcome.

Dr. Samuel B. Gould, UCSB chancellor presents a 20 year certificate to Mrs. Amy Nysewander, administrative assistant to the School of Education who retired from university service on Dec. 31.

Politically Speaking

Flip Top Politics

by Phil Paisley

Politics 1962 is underway and the political factories in every state are turning out their polished products by the hundreds. We will have politicians in all shapes and sizes on the market with views so heterogeneous that it will be difficult to identify them by what they say in one area from another.

They're either Republicans or Democrats, but like the automotive manufacturers, both parties produce different types of men and hundreds of models of the different types and a complete assortment of colors (even two tones for those independent voting areas.)

In the progressive mood of this century, it looks like we've taken specialization a little too seriously. After the elections of 1960, I realized that a plateau in the changing political activities of this country had been reached. Platforms were almost completely replaced by the pleasing smiles and sterile ideas of political mannequins.

These men were not naive, they were all too clever. They knew just what to say, where, and at what time. They knew just what little numbers were on the hit parade of ideas that week, month, or year. The most polished and glib passed, the others went back for refinishing.

What we call politicians today depend, to a large extent, upon the techniques of advertising and particularly upon advertising's most valuable tool, the public opinion poll. California boasts of two great public relations organizations (North and South) which handle most of the professional advertising for political parties. Their most important function is opinion sampling which they interpret, analyze, and translate for politicians so the latter can know what they are to believe and speak of in certain sections of our state.

American politics 1800 presents a real contrast to the activities of our parties today. Public opinion was certainly the basis of politics. From public opinion political values were articulated. Most important, however, polls were taken to determine the effectiveness of a party's political technique and logic.

Samplings were a concurrent campaign and post-campaign activity. What we see today are political values reduced to polls for manipulation. There is a de-emphasis upon political platforms and a de-emphasis upon men who sell the public upon a series of ideas instead of simply selling themselves.

A CAUTION TO STUDENTS- GRADES SAY ELIGIBILITY

Students who have pre-enrolled in preparation for the next semester are cautioned that their eligibility to enroll officially in classes and register for the spring semester is determined by the grades earned during the current fall semester. Fee refunds in full will, of course, be available to any student whose grades for the current semester disqualify him for the spring 1962 semester.

Notices Mailed

On Tuesday, January 30, the Dean's office will mail an official notice of status to all students who have unsatisfactory grades according to the minimum Scholarship Requirements.

Any student whose grade average places him on probation for the spring semester must limit his program of courses to 13½ units. The student should confer with his department adviser or one of the deans regarding corrective actions to prevent a recurrence of unsatisfactory scholarship.

For students who are dismissed and denied the privilege of enrolling for the spring 1962 semester, the Committee on Unsatisfactory Scholarship has evidence and firm conviction that the future attainment of a University of California degree will be safeguarded if the student does not return immediately to the University.

If, however, a student believes that there are extenuating circumstances in his case, he may submit a written appeal for a review by the Committee on Unsatisfactory Scholarship. If the student decides to make an appeal, he must prepare and submit it according to the procedure described in the enclosure with his official notice of dismissal.

Probation Conditions
A student shall be placed on probation if at the close of any semester his grade point average is less than 2.0 (C average), computed on the total of all courses undertaken in this University for which he has received a final report.

Although students entering their junior year are preferred, other upper division students who will remain in the program 4 semesters and complete the Master's Degree will also be considered.

Interested students should confer with Dr. Webb, director of the program, or Mrs. Muriel Engle, Executive Secretary, in Room 1001, Physical Science Building.

Application deadline is Feb. 12.

opinion sampling and public relations activity in politics has destroyed the ideological bases of political parties. The only commodity left for political organizations to sell is personality.

The re-assertion of numerous political ideas outside of our traditional political system demonstrates the present lack of ideological assimilation on the part of the two political greats. Marches for reform, be they conservative, liberal, or independent of classification, represent a lack in our present political method in satisfying increasingly larger minorities.

American political parties must re-examine their functions and realize the responsibilities of an ethical political system to educate, represent, and finally to form an effective organization to put ideas into operation. The use of advertising methods will not satisfy the majority of voters for long. We are running a responsible government, not buying one.

North Hall Wing Opens

Five academic departments at UCSB are currently being moved into the newly completed office wing of North Hall.

This new building, the only three story structure on campus, will house the departmental headquarters and faculty offices for economics, history, mathematics, political science, and sociology-anthropology.

Now under construction is the classroom wing of North Hall which will contain 16 general classrooms of varying sizes; seminar rooms, staff and conference rooms, teaching and research laboratories, and a digital computer lab.

The project cost for the entire structure is $2,000,000. The classroom wing is scheduled for occupancy in the fall of 1962.

Stannard Gives Paper At U. of Michigan

"Presocratic Methodology" was the title of a paper delivered by Dr. Jerry Stannard, lecturer in philosophy at UCSB, at the annual meeting of the American Philological Association held at the University of Michigan December 28-30.

Dr. Stannard was especially invited to deliver this paper and joined over 500 classicists from colleges and universities across the nation at this meeting. His talk was given in a section of "Society for Ancient Greek Philosophy."

'Funny Five' Brings Tricks To UCSB Gym

Those fabulous Harlem Clowns, who get just as many laughs as they do points in their exhibition basketball games, will make an appearance at UCSB tonight.

The Clowns, nationally known for their ability and humor on the court, will set up shop at Robertson Gymnasium for an 8 p.m. contest against the College All-Stars. It promises to be an evening of wild basketball action for local fans while the Gaucho team is out of town for a weekend doubleheader at Cal Poly (San Luis Obispo) and Fresno State.

hardwood are a bunch of fun-loving cagers who play their audience for laughs from the time they romp out on the floor until they leave the court spinning basketballs on fore-finger tips.

The Clowns stage all the comic routines of clown basketball plus a lot of impromptu stuff; they often concoct gags as they go along.

There was the night that a college coach suddenly sent in men from the bench. The Clowns met this challenge by recruiting fans from the stands. The last two minutes was quite a merry mixup.

When the Clowns play the fun starts as soon as they come out on the floor: a fast warmup routine, followed by a lot of tricky stuff and fancy ball handling.

FROSH TEAM SET FOR TWO ROAD GAMES

Anxious to improve on their 4-3 season record, the UCSB freshman basketballers, after a week of inactivity due to Christmas Vacation, take to the road for the second time tonight and tomorrow for games at Cal Poly (San Luis Obispo) and Point Mugu. The Gaucho yearlings, under the tutelage of Don Volpi, and Jack Triguero, will play a preliminary game at Cal Poly tonight, then travel to Point Mugu tomorrow for a return match with the Naval Base Missiles. Santa Barbara won an earlier 74-45 decision from Point Mugu in the season opener at Robertson Gymnasium.

The team will return home on January 26 and 27 for preliminary games against Los Angeles Trade Tech and Coalinga Junior College.

WRESTLERS IDLE UNTIL JANUARY 27

The UCSB wrestling team will make its next appearance Saturday, January 27, in the "old campus gymnasium" against Fresno State at 7:30 p.m.

The Gaucho grapplers have been idle for almost a month due to Christmas vacation, and because of the conflict of the fall semester final examination schedule, a match against Long Beach State, originally set for next Friday, has been cancelled.

GAUCHOS TRAVEL

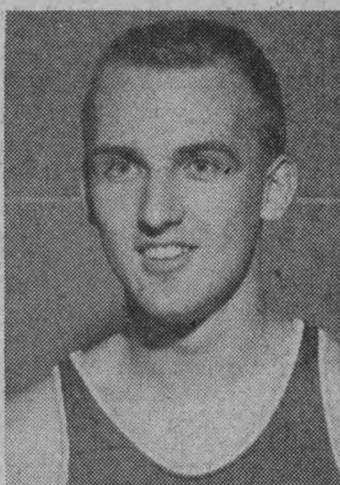

The University of California, Santa Barbara basketball team, fresh from winning its third straight California Winter Classic title will take a two-game victory streak on a Northern road swing this weekend that will make the start of California Collegiate Athletic Association competition.

Coach Art Gallon's Gauchos, who defeated both Redlands and Hawaii in the Winter Classic holiday tournament last week, will stop off at San Luis Obispo tonight to meet the Cal Poly Mustangs before moving on to Fresno tomorrow for a conference showdown with Fresno State's highly-touted Bulldogs.

Six CCAA opponents will be shooting for the championship that Santa Barbara won last season with an 8-2 record, and pre-league predictions indicate that Long Beach State and Fresno State will most likely be battling for top honors when the final whistle blows in late February.

But the Gauchos, who had won just one game in nine tries before last week, have been impressive as of late and have served notice that they will not easily be uprooted from the lofty position that they held last year.

Although UCSB dropped three games on a recent trip to Kentucky, Tennessee and Oklahoma, the Gauchos led at halftime in all three contests and battled such top-

YUMA. SAE FIVES CLASH FOR CROWN

Yuma Hall and Sigma Alpha Epsilon have earned the right to meet for the school's intramural basketball championship. The two play last night for the title.

Yuma continued to display an impressive offensive attack by downing Las Castas champion Yucca Hall, 64-40, in the semi-final round of the playoffs, while the SAE five avenged an earlier defeat to the Twisters by handing the Fraternity League winners their first setback of the season, 49-41.

The next sport on the intramural schedule will be volleyball. The deadline date for entries will be announced at the start of the spring semester.
