Men Establish New Record As Eckles Wins Highest Office

Gauchos Cast 484 Ballots in Third Election; Widman, Smith, Guerrero, Gray Take Other A.M.S. Positions

Howard Eckles, formerly declared out of the A.M.S. presidential race through a miscount in the primaries, bounced from defeat into the proxy's chair as a careful check of ballots cast in Wednesday's final election showed him to be a winner over his opponent, Warren Dorn, by the slim margin of 14 votes.

In one of the most evenly-contested ballot sessions in the history of the Gaucho institution, Eckles defeated Dorn in the final tally, Wednesday, 218 to 204. Milton Berman, defeated in Monday's second primary election, was written in on 59 ballots, which were declared void at Berman's request.

Three Void

Completing the total of 484 ballots cast were three which were voided because of failure to conform to voting regulations.

The 484 men who voted represented 63 per cent of the eligible male voters on the campus. At the same time, the former record for votes cast, 469, which was established Monday, went the way of all records.

Widman Elected

Official tally of the votes cast in Monday's balloting revealed the election of James Widman as first vice-president. Widman polled 246 votes, while Lewis Bedell, his opposing finalist, received 174.

The office of second vice-president, the only other position remaining to be filled at that time, went to Dick Smith, who emerged victorious over Marvin Sands by 13 votes, 215 to 202.

Other officers of the Associated Men Students for next year will be Tommy Guerrero, as secretary-treasurer, and Gordon Gray, social chairman.

Committee in charge of the election consisted of Bill Russell, Al Sprague, Dale Snyder, Dean Paul A. Jones and Bill Sears.

Frosh Plan Beach Picnic

Inspiring poetry from ardent freshmen advertisers, news of the coming beach picnic is feted in eight lyrical lines prominently attached to the front of the campus mail boxes. Slated for next Friday, the class picnic will be held at East beach beginning at 5 p. m.

Games of baseball and volleyball will be played in addition to the natural facilities of swimming. Dancing to recordings will provide after-dark entertainment as the freshmen and their guests swing and scrape on the rear terrace of the Ship cafe.

Acting with Ruth Suggs, social chairman, is Helen Marr, in charge of the picnic. Other committees include Mariam Reidy in charge of food with Rosie Offridi and Betty Lou Barr; games, Doug Winters and Kenny Smedley; advertising, Mary Lou Royal with Irene Williamson, Stan Bartlett and Winters; tickets, Miss Barr and Izzy Greco; fire, Don MacGillivray and dancing Miss Suggs.

Sig Alphas Prepare For Fashion Show

Competing for the honor of Queen of the Sigma Alpha Kappa annual formal dance, representatives of the seven campus sororities are preparing to take part in the fraternity's Spring fashion show on May 4. Each year, according to fraternity tradition, the winner of the show, in which the women model their own dresses, reigns as Queen of the Sig Alph formal dinner-dance.

The home of Dean and Mrs. Paul A. Jones will again be the scene of the affair, according to Social Chairman Jim O'Brien who is in charge. Bridge will be played during the early afternoon and tea served following the fashion show.

Local 'Experts' See New Record Vote In Student Body Election Wednesday

'Romeo and Juliet' Opens Run In Little Theater Thursday

Two Veterans Make Final Appearances

Nichols, Jorgensen, Hile Head Cast In Classic Tragedy

"Romeo and Juliet" in all their glory will emote at the State College auditorium Thursday night, the start of a three day run of Shakespeare's most famous tragedy. Experienced thespians will take the leads.

Frederic W. Hile's light and witty Mercutio adds to a long line of his varied Shakespearean roles. For several years he was the youngest and sole "Romeo" on the professional stage.

Two Final Appearances

Winifred Nichols' "Juliet" climaxes her third dramatic season at State, and her senior year here. Carl Jorgensen's part of Romeo is his final one at State, this being his senior year and third year of dramatics also.

A highlight of the production will be the complete score of the opera "Romeo and Juliet", played on the Hammond electric organ by Dorothy McReynolds during the play.

The curtain of "Romeo and Juliet" will rise at 8:30 Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Produced by Hile, the play is free to all students on presentation of student body cards, and 60 cents to faculty and townspeople. Tickets are on sale at Elmer's and at the college ticket office. Following the Thursday night performance, a free dance will be given in the music hall.

Members of Cast

Members of the cast include Miss Nichols as Juliet, Jorgensen as Romeo, Hile as Mercutio, Irving Manspecker as Friar Lawrence, Thomas Magnus as Tybalt, Paul Garrison as Genvolio, Ted Hanley as Capulet, Robert Gwynn as Paris, Jack Thompson as Peter, Frank Douglas as the apothecary and Gregory, Thompson as Balthasar, Harry Sloan as the Prince, Jack Freeman as Montague, Jean Haas as the nurse, Jeanne Houston as Lady Capulet, Gail Shepherd as Lady Montague, Morton Reitter as Abraham and Friar John, Dale Bennett as Samson, and Reitter as the page to Paris.

The production staff consists of technical director, Clifford Hale; stage manager, Clyde Cadwell; electrician, Harvey Seiple; costumes, Patricia Hazard, Kathryn Davis, Marjorie Low, Barbara Miller, Glen Gorham, Maxine Sudbury, Betsy Hoeffler; properties, Robert Graves, Josephine McBride; publicity, Nelva Kiefer, Helen Karas, Betty Schwan-kovskoy, Georgia Krebs; house, Alice McKee, Martha Jane Barker, Herbert Loewenstein, Dorothy Matz, Carlos Bee, Audrey Lockard, Virginia Taggart, Betty Pickford, Phyllis Durgan, Mary Jane Boggs, Ruth Taylor, Mary Esther Hentschke; prompter, Jane Langley; business manager, Ned Munsey; stage craft, Douglas Mattson, Gilbert McKeon, Thomas Kelley, Kenneth Nemiro.

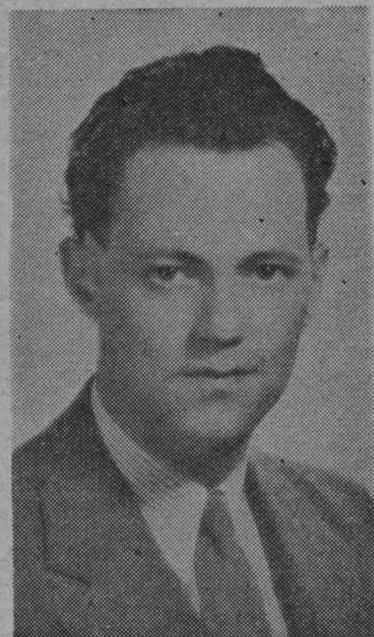

Pu Ko How Forms Plans for Semester

Meeting Monday night at the home of Wynona Hunt, Pu Ko How formulated plans for the rest of the semester. Marie Glover and Marie Evans were appointed as hostesses at the Phrateres spring formal to be held May 4, and Marie Glover and Betty Kellner were appointed as representatives to Phrateres for the semester.

Decisions for activities for this semester included a bowling party followed by a pajama party at the home of Lillian Birrell April 25, a pot luck supper at East Beach April 30, and on May 18 to 19, members of the organization will spend the week end "dude ranching" in the Santa Ynez valley. Hostesses for this affair will be Jane and Wynona Hunt who have planned a large barbecue on Sunday for members and their guests.

WINIFRED NICHOLS will portray "Juliet" while Director FREDERIC W. HILE plays "Mercutio" in the local presentation of Shakespeare's famous tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet," opening in the Little theater Thursday night.

California Poly Students Visit State College Wednesday

One hundred and fifty Mustangs will invade the Gaucho campus Wednesday as part of the eighth annual "Poly Royal" celebration staged by students of the California State Polytechnic Institute, in San Luis Obispo.

Sorority Sets Hop Tomorrow

Alpha Theta Chi sorority alumni sponsors their annual Bowery Ball tomorrow night at Montecito Country club from 9 to midnight. This is the postponed affair which was originally set for March.

Tickets sold at that time are still good, it was stressed. Additional tickets are being sold on campus and in the city by members of the local chapter, and will be offered at the door.

Doug Hoag's band will play for the costume ball which is slated for the purpose of reimbursement of the scholarship fund for Alpha Thetas in attendance at State college.

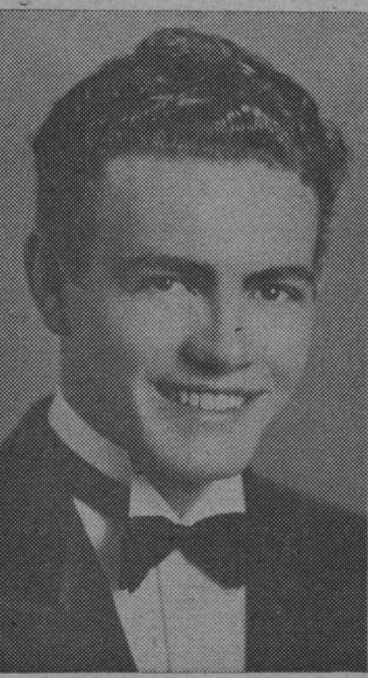

Stella Mae Knight, president of the sorority alumnae, acts with Mary Alice Halferty, in charge of the affair. Other committees include orchestra, Renata Macciantti; publicity Ann Seymour and tickets, Constance Breenstein.

Nani Leilani Plans Party After Formal

Regular meeting of Nani Leilani, sub-chapter of Phrateres, was held Monday night at the home of Barbara Roundtree, Charlotte Boyles and Ruth Jones.

Plans for a party to be held after the Phrateres formal were discussed and Ruby Bachstein was appointed representative to Phrateres board meetings.

Tannatt Wins Third Annual Extemp Tilt

Mock Debate Featuring 'Chicken vs. Egg' Question Entertains Audience

Speaking on "Kipling's India," Harry Tannatt, member of the local debate squad, won the third annual intra-mural extemporaneous speech contest, the finals of which were held Tuesday night in the college auditorium.

Tannatt took a first place in every round of the contest in which over 30 contestants took part. As winner, his name will be engraved on the Santa Barbara Toastmaster's club trophy, which is in the permanent possession of the school. For his own possession Tannatt received a miniature replica of the trophy.

Second place honors were won by Harry Wollin with a speech entitled, "After Civilian Bombings, What?" In the finals, Wollin tied for first place in one round and took second in a second. Seven contestants reached the finals. In addition to Tannatt and Wollin, there were Noel Frodsham, Gilbert McKeon, Stanley Wauchope, Robert Payne, and J. T. Daniel.

Judges for the event were Dean William Ashworth and W. Charles Redding, debate coach, Frank Douglas acted as chairman.

Following the speech tournament, the second annual mock debate: "Resolved: that the chicken came before the egg" was presented complete with vegetables, bombs, fire crackers and beer. Representing the affirmative, and Wall Street, Waldo Phelps and Bob Scalapino emerged victorious over the negative team of Harry Sloan and Frank Douglas who represented the Communist party.

Phi Delta Pi Holds Meeting

Regular meeting of Phi Delta Pi, national honorary women's physical education fraternity, was held Monday at the home of Miss Gladys Van Fossen, advisor of the organization.

At the meeting conducted by Mary Louise Moore, president, plans were made for the informal and formal initiations of Jane Boland and Elizabeth Randall, pledges to the society.

Dates of the rites have been set for May 4 and 5. The informal initiation will be conducted at the Girl

Using the hotly-contested A.M.S. election as an index, local "experts" predicted a record vote. The 23 candidates for 10 offices reveal that in all but two instances, where candidates are running unopposed, close battles should result for all of the other offices.

Three Vie for Presidency

Heading the ballot will be three candidates for the office of president of the Associated Students, Howard Joham, Jack Newman and Jack Richards, all juniors. Joham and Richards were introduced in conventional fashion at Tuesday's assembly while Newman was nominated from the floor.

Joham includes among his activities the presidency of Gamma Sigma Pi social fraternity and is second vice-president of the A.M.S., a member of the Activities Control Board, Blue Key and the elementary department.

Activities Listed

Chief activity for Newman has been director of athletic publicity, sports editor of El Gaucho, publicity director for the Roadrunner Revue and membership in the junior high department.

Two years as rally committee chairman highlights Richards' slate. Also included are the vice-presidency of Beta Sigma Chi fraternity, Blue Key and membership in the junior high department.

Other Candidates

Vying for the vice-presidency are Bernice Shedd, incumbent A.S. secretary and Don Estey, junior representative to the legislative council. For the position of secretary the names of two women will appear on the ballot, Gracie Williams, last year's Homecoming Queen and Barbara Gearhart, transfer from Chaffey junior college. Lewis Bedell and William Van Derhoof will compete for the office of head yell leader.

Council Candidates

For the various council positions Virginia Alderson and Alice Munneke will vie for senior women's representative with Patsy Bass, Georgia Mae Krebs and Donna Lambert seeking the women's junior class post. Walter Hopmans and Bob Scott are unopposed for men's representatives in senior and junior classes respectively.

Freshmen will have a choice of four women candidates, Marilyn Carlock, Patsy Eaves, Helen Marr, and Jean Pharoah and three men, Stanley Bartlett, Arthur Chauvel and Alex MacGillivray.

Names listed are unofficial pending investigation by the eligibility committee and checking of petitions, according to Carlos Bee, elections chairman. Other members of the committee include Frank Douglas and Robert Mangold.

Polls will be open at 8 p.m. on Wednesday and will close at 4 p.m.

'Peace Strikes' Sweep U.S. Campuses Today

Today is the day dedicated to Peace. Between war flashes over the radio and war extras of the press Mr. and Miss Student are supposed to find time to tell the world that "The Yanks Are Not Coming" or words to the effect of that fast-growing slogan.

In various Peace meetings and "strikes" throughout the United States a myriad of resolutions, plans and entreaties will be spewed forth. Boiled down the effect will be an attempt to thwart entries on the debit side of the peace ledger, and get behind the assets that are bulwarks of peace.

Chief target of the Peace orator will be his attack on Wall Street's willingness to have the American people fight to protect capital's vested economic interests. Next in line will be a plea to refrain from lending a cent to the allies, with a grim reminder of what happened in World War I.

Also under fire will be the lethargic attitude of many Americans in this life or death matter. Instead of a "you're damn right we're not getting into this mess" too many Americans reply "well, I hope not, but..." and so forth through ands, buts and ifs that lead to gullibility and persuasion.

Furthermore, the peace advocate will attempt to combat the natural sympathy of the Americans, those gained through blood and linguistic ties, by showing the folly of the last battle and declaring that this one will turn out the same.

The keynote of the peace drive in America today is that this country can best "save democracy" by staying out of the conflict, and then being in a position at its termination to aid in the forming of a just economic and social peace.

GAU-SHOW-CASE

By MARY RONK

It never fails! The first awkward question an interviewer blurts out when meeting a newcomer whether he's from Madagascar or Brooklyn... is, "How do you like Santa Barbara?"

And to the traditional question, Areeya Semprasat answered the traditional answer... "I like it, it seems just like home!" Santa Barbara's climate and geographical location is similar to Areeya's home—Bangkok, Siam. He left Siam first for the Philippines where he attended college for two years. He arrived in California in May, 1939, and attends State College on a Presbyterian Mission School scholarship.

For the purpose of disillusionment—elephants do not roam the streets of Bangkok—but the city, instead, is a combination of Oriental and Western civilization. One dresses as he likes—oriental, European or American, and he spends his time working, going to school, and going to American movies!

Every student in Siam learns the English language, and thus is able to understand the dialogue in movies. Some films are made using the Native language—but this is a comparatively new industry.

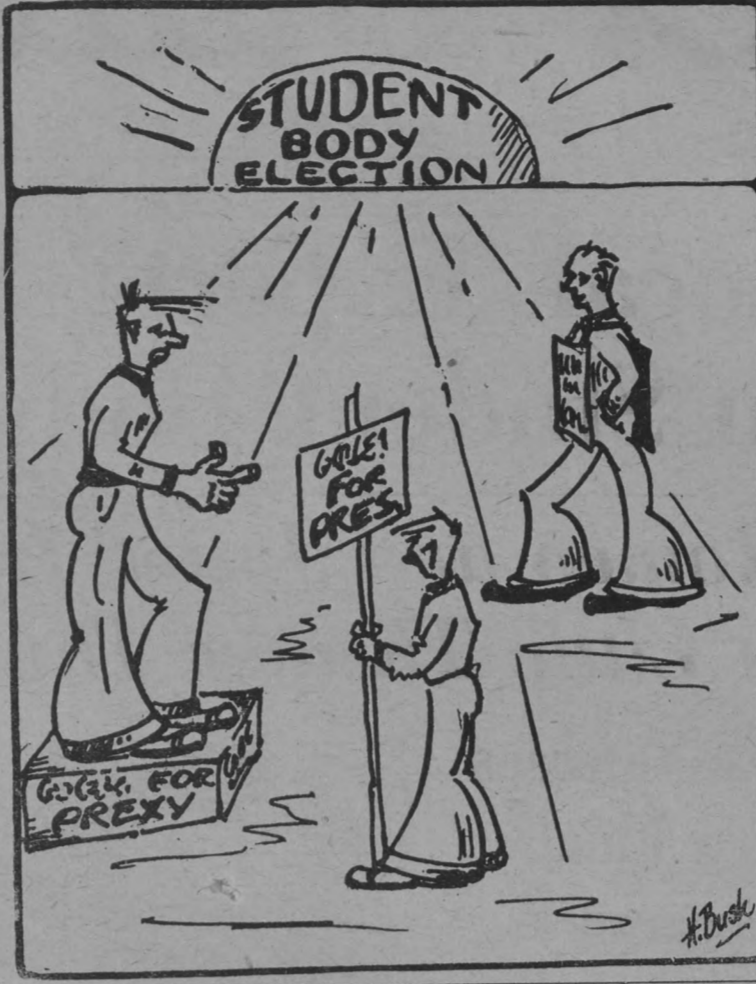

Correct name of the country is now Thailand, for it was changed last year. Nineteen thirty two marked the final year of the complete monarchy in Thailand and since then it is half a monarchy, ruled over by its royal family, and half a democracy ruled by a parliament, similar to the political set up of England. Republicans and Democrats don't sling mud in Siam—there's just one party—the People's party.

One could shoot questions at Areeya for hours—and receive enough information for volumes.

Areeya's a senior now... after graduation he will return to Siam—and there he will teach in the Presbyterian Mission School and tell all his students "What America is like!"

While Areeya Semprasat was going to school in the Philippines, Joe Turley was an ogling tourist wandering through the streets of the Singapore native quarter—less than 100 miles from Bangkok. While there, Joe was an interested spectator at a native ceremony while a penitent allowed his body to be pierced with long, narrow spears.

A canopy of ornaments and flowers was attached to his shoulders, and as he marched through the streets to the Temple, his friends followed playing flutes and chanting. Other penitents accompanied him; their torsos pricked with many small hooks similar to a fish hook without the barbs—and hanging on each hook was a billiard ball type of object.

The Rockwood dance last Friday night at Rockwood topped them all 'tis said. Standing out like a bargain in the cafeteria were the following: Al Rasmussen and Barbara Hunzeker (ed. of the Gaucho Gazette) doing a mean rumba; Howard Joham trying to keep up with Jeanne Houston; Pat Kelly (of yell king fame) having a hard time with pretty Ruthie Suggs (pronounced "s-ugs") but still jitter-bugging at a gallop; Andy McIntyre and Betty Neelands acting dignified; Chuck Moss really swinging it with Marilyn Carlock; George McCrea goo goo eying Jane Hunt; Bob Rego strutting around with Marian Miller; Ray Regalado and Betty Lund sitting them out consistently; Ronnie Hurt being that way over Bette Ann Robertson; Warren Dorn again with Barbara Whitmore.

Patsy Eaves has beached and moved with none other than Dick "Junior" Tuttle of Sacramento.

There seems to be a new twosome in the persons of Frankie Jones and Joyce Wharton (high school cutie).

Arthur Arundell is still carrying the torch for a certain Stanford company who is struggling along on its third million.

Editor's Note:

An open letter to Bob Scalapino, president of the Associated Students:

Dear Bob:

Comes now the time of the year when the maze of political events makes you the "forgotten man" of the State College campus, with all eyes focused on the candidates attempting to carry on your work next year. Of course, anyone who has been as close to you over the past year as we have, realizes that you will not actually give up your duties when the new head man is elected, but will continue working on the efficient program you have carried on since your inauguration.

Public mention should be made of the system you have worked out whereby the incoming president will know exactly how things stand when he takes office, of the function of the various boards and organizations. But we're wondering if this crop of candidates actually realizes what confronts them.

You have mentioned the fact that the job of A.S. president takes four hours a day. This is an understatement if we have ever heard one. As a member of eight committees and boards, you can testify to the wearisome hours spent in haggling over details and of the quick adjustments which have to be made so that all of the boards do not become confused in your mind.

And then the sessions of the legislative council, where everyone with an axe to grind holds forth in forensic competition. It takes a real leader to keep a semblance of order when the discordant factors discard parliamentary procedure for personal harangue.

More than these are the innumerable minor details which have to be personally handled by the student body head. There are organizations to join and meetings to attend to keep everyone happy, luncheons where you represent the Associated Students and have to use enough tact so that townspeople will not think that the College contains a gang of wild-eyed radicals, but a level-headed, serious-minded student body. Naturally, you get bored with the sameness of these affairs.

Then there are the things which no one thinks of. The job of student body president pays nothing and entails a great many expenses. Most of us, working our way through school as we are, would not have time to hold a job and keep the position at the same time, not to mention the lack of time for study. Most men who have held the position, although limited to carrying 12 units, have fallen off decidedly in grade averages. Even your own near perfect record has suffered over the past year.

Although the current crop of candidates is a good one, any man who steps into your shoes will start looking for an anchor. Carrying on the work you have started is certain to evoke comparisons between the next student body president and you, and the comparison is likely to prove unfavorable for the victorious candidate.

Just summing up all of the apparent disadvantages of holding our highest office, it seems to us that any man who even runs for the job should be subjected to a psychoanalysis. Imagine trading hours of gruelling labor and monotony for a picture in the College year-book and a little gold gavel.

By the way, Bob, the manner in which you gave hecklers at the California Youth Legislature hell last week did our heart good.

Yours for more recognition of the work you've done for the student body.

Gauchos Tangle with Spartans Today, Tomorrow

On The Sportside..

By JACK NEWMAN

Jack Newman's radio column, "On the Sportside" can be heard each Wednesday evening at 8:15 p.m. on KDB, the Mutual Broadcast.

Plenty of action looms for local athletes over the weekend and Joe Gaucho is going to have a rough time figuring out whether to attend the track meet on ing station.

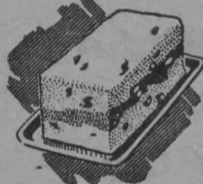

Phelps field or wander over to Laguna Park and watch Spud's lads tangle with San Jose.

Things look better for the track squad this week in spite of the fact that San Francisco State boasts a spotless record. Look-in winning over Humboldt State last week, the Golden Gaters gained a victory with some times, heights, and distances that have been equaled or bettered by nearly every member of the Santa Barbara team.

And maybe during the two mile you can get over to Laguna and watch us cinch the 2CA baseball title.

Hardermen Need Two Wins To Clinch 2C2A Baseball Crown

Jim Fitzgerald Hurls Against San Jose

Headed for their second California Collegiate Athletic Association crown in as many years, Spud Harder's varsity baseball crew moves into Laguna Park today and tomorrow to mix with San Jose State, last place Spartans.

El Gaucho rates a heavy favorite over the Spartans based on double victories gained during the Easter trip, and will be out to fatten their three game lead in 2C2A standings.

Jim Fitzgerald, ace State hurler, is destined to start the first game on Friday, while big Cliff Wrightson will climb the mound on Saturday.

San Jose hopes were dimmed even more when it was learned that Tony Nasimento, top Spartan hurler, will be lost for the season due to a broken collarbone suffered while umpiring a game up north.

Nasimento Hurt Turk Kasparovitch will undoubtedly start for the northerners instead of the injured Nasimento, while Ray Cressio will probably take over tomorrow.

Ben Frizzi, veteran outfielder, leads the Spartan hitting attack with a .362 average.

Harder will start the first string lineup composed of Mickey Berman at first base, Eddie Markham at second, Don Ripsch at third, Jack Fitzgerald, shortstop, Bill Adamson, left field, Joe Blake, center, Pierino Merlo or John Ceccerelli in the right garden, and "Shanty" Stansbury will do the catching.

Today's game will start at 3:15 p. m., while the gates will open at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. Admission is ten cents upon presentation of student body card.

Gym Squad Meets Trojans

One of the most powerful gym squads on the coast, the University of Southern California Trojans, invades Santa Barbara tomorrow afternoon for a practice meet with Dr. Elmer Noble's Gaucho gymsters at the State college gymnasium at 1 p. m.

Henry Garcia and George Draine who took first at San Diego in side horse and tumbling respectively, are expected to show up favorably against the vaunted Trojan squad.

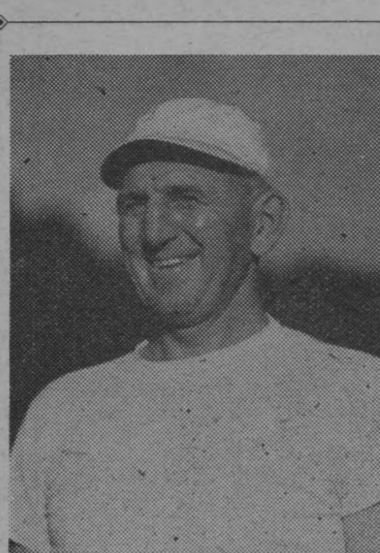

Others who are expected to garner points are Jack Brown, rope; George Winder, parallels, Kelly Hopmans, all-around; Jim Davis, all around; and Jimmy Jones, high bar.

Gauchitos Bow To Cal-Poly

Displaying power in the distance events, Coach Nick Carter's Gauchito tracksters bowed before the onslaught of Cal-Poly last Saturday afternoon at San Luis Obispo in a triangular meet with the Mustangs and Santa Maria Junior college. Cal Poly won with 79.5 points, the Frosh were second with 57 points and Santa Maria trailed far behind with 22.5 points.

Jerry Ferro, the UGauchitos' crack distance ace, added another pair of victories to his ever growing string when he easily won the mile run in 4:55 and the 2 mile in the slow time of 12 flat. Lack of competition accounted for the slow times.

Jack Roots accounted for another Gauchito win in the half mile when he toured the oval in the slow time of 2:09.5 while the mile relay team composed of Clyde Smith, Alex MacGilvary, Andy Stauss and Bob Gendron copped another first place.

Carter's aggregation takes a bye this week but will enter the Cal Poly relays the following week at San Luis Obispo. The Gauchitos have a season's record of 5 won and 3 lost.

Ventura Trounces Rustler Nine, 8-2

Ventura Junior college baseballers pounced on the offerings of Rustler hurler Jack Le Gassick to hammer out an easy 8 to 2 victory over Coach Coleman Stewart's aggregation yesterday afternoon in a farcas held on the Ventura diamond.

At the conclusion of the game, Al Zeigleman, ineligible varsity catcher, was elected captain of the Rustler squad. Walt Lohman, frosh infielder, still leads the hitters with a batting average hovering near the .500 mark.

Hilltoppers Meet Fresno In Two Tilts

Aided and abetted by the big bats of "Shanty" Stansbury, Eddie Markham, and Don Ripsch, Santa Barbara's loop leading Gauchos should gather two more wins from the Fresno Bulldogs when they meet Monday and Tuesday afternoons at Laguna Park.

Rumor has it that Bus Bachtelle, ace Bulldog pitcher, will be out of the lineup when the two squads tangle. Bachtelle is counted on for at least one victory, and if the rumor, which stated he had a sore arm is true, a Gaucho win looms brighter than ever.

Micky Berman, local first sacker, who has been in a terrific batting slump during late games, has been coming along and his big stick should start clicking out those base hits when needed most.

Starting Hurlers Jim Fitzgerald is slated to do the hurling Monday while buddy Cliff Wrightson takes over Tuesday. Relief hurler Gurdy Gardenhire will be ready if trouble arises.

Fresno, which has a record of 2 wins and 4 losses, gave the locals a scare during the Easter trip when it took 10 innings to quell the rampaging Bulldogs. Micky Berman banged out a double to bring in the winning tallies during the extra period to take out a 4 to 2 win for the Gauchos.

Gauchos Lead 2C2A Race

Los Gauchos, with 7 wins and one loss, continued to sit on top of the 2C2A baseball standings as the hot pennant race came into the home stretch. Fresno State is in second place with 3 wins and 4 losses and has but a mathematical chance to nose out the local contingent for the crown.

Santa Barbara Meets Frisco State Squad Tomorrow

Santa Barbara State college makes a strong bid for its first track victory of the season tomorrow afternoon at Phelps field at 2:30 when it hooks up in what is expected to be a closely fought battle against the undefeated Golden Gater cinder-path aggregation from San Francisco State.

Leading the way for the Gauchos will be Hovis Bess, the local's crack sprinter who has been smashing the school record every time he steps on the track. Last week against the San Diego Aztecs, Bess lowered the 220 yard dash mark from 21.5 to 21.2 and is out to crack the 100 yard dash mark which he and Howie Yeager hold jointly at 9.9s.

Captain Bill McArthur, who was out of the Aztec meet with an injured leg, is expected to be in good enough shape against the Bay City outfit to garner a couple of wins. John Lefcourt, San Francisco's best bet in the quarter, has done 51.7, a mark which McArthur has bettered several times.

The Gaucho captain is expected to have a tougher time of it in the 220 yard low hurdles where he hooks up with John Meir who has duplicated McArthur's mark of 25 flat.

Wolf Heinberg, the Hilltoppers' top weight man, will be hard pressed to win against Socrates Pantages, San Francisco's ace shot putter and discus thrower. Pantages has a mark of 44'5" in the shot put as compared with Heinberg's 45'4" and a mark of 127 feet in the discus which equals Heinberg's best toss this season.

Lowell Steward and Chuck Crow are expected to considerably bolster the local point total in the high jump pole vault and broad jump. Steward has high jumped six feet even and broad jumped 22 feet while Crow has vaulted 12 feet and broad jumped 22 feet.

The Golden Gaters will undoubtedly sweep the distance events and the high hurdle races. Fred Kline with a mark of 4:31 in the mile will have no competition from any of the local milers while Jack Caroly who has been flirting with the 10 flat mark in the 2 mile race is much too fast for any of the local entries.

On the other hand they are weak in the sprint events. Norman Crane, their best man has failed to better 10 flat in the century and 22 flat in the 220.

Printers Cop Mural Cage Championship

Paced by the sharpshooting of Cliff Wrightson, the Print Shop powered its way to the Intramural basketball championship last Monday night when it plastered a 36 to 24 drubbing on the heretofore undefeated Sigma Alpha Kappa five in the State College gymnasium.

Wrightson popped in shots from all angles to roll up 13 points for high scoring honors. Bruno Osellame of the Sig Alphas were next in line with 8 points each. The Print Shop was ahead all the way, leaving the floor at the end of the half on the top end of a 17 to 11 score. It easily pulled away in the second half to gain its large advantage.

At the conclusion of the tournament an All Intramural Basketball team was elected by Dale Snyder, who capably handled the tournament, Giles Liegerot, head official and Bill Sears, scorer.

Stansbury Heads Batters

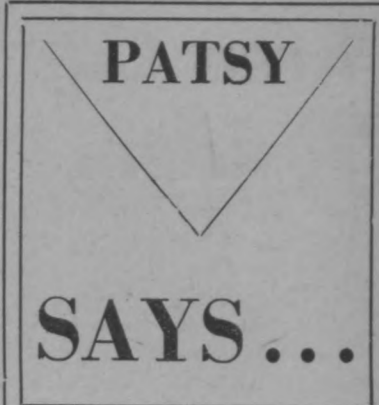

Shanty Stansbury, the Gauchos' crack backstop, spurred into the lead in the batting averages, replacing diminutive Eddy Markham, second sacker, who was the early pace setter. Stansbury is now batting at a .395 pace while Markham is second hitting .376. Don Ripsch holds down third place with a .360 mark and also leads in home runs with 5 and doubles with 8. Markham is leading in triples with 6.

Lowell Steward and Chuck Crow are expected to considerably bolster the local point total in the high jump pole vault and broad jump.

On the other hand they are weak in the sprint events. Norman Crane, their best man has failed to better 10 flat in the century and 22 flat in the 220.

Dear "She-She",

Well, here it is election time again, and I just don't know who to vote for. There are so many swell people running that to pick one who would be best is a real problem. I wish it were as easy to select a candidate as it is to see that the new country play clothes at the Jack Rose Shop are going to be the best nomination for the season.

I honestly believe you could not find a better candidate. Efficient, effective and smart—the country play clothes will serve you—guess I had better stop. I'm beginning to sound like a politician. Well, anyway, I think they're tops and I'm going to wear one of the three piece play suits today.

FOR A.S. PRESIDENT

Three Candidates for A.S. Presidency List Platforms

In the past our student body has been faced with the problem of a deficit. By the spring semester of 1941 this problem will have been entirely erased, due to the fact that past administrations have reduced a $22,000 deficit by $14,000. How will we meet this new situation of an $8000 increase in our budget?

Naturally every activity both large and small, should realize the benefits according to the activity's need. But we must be careful and continue with the policy of budgeting. We must increase our budget according to the intake of the previous semester, not on the expected income of the following semester.

With the increased budget the student body will be in a position to aid, for example, the AMS in presenting an active intramural program, sponsor a fuller music program, and help out the many other activities that are closely related to college life.

Next year there are many issues to be met. Among these the parking situation is important. There is also the question of traditions. We cannot postpone action on these issues any longer, and it will be one of my aims, if I am elected, to solve these problems.

—Howard Joham

To the members of the Associated Student body:

In presenting myself to you as a candidate for the presidency of the Associated Students, I ask you to consider primarily, the fact that I desire to represent the students of this college as a single unit. Affiliation with organizations or with any single group, I feel, leads to bias in favor of certain factions. Having no such affiliations, I believe I am capable of assuming the position of an impartial executive.

If elected, I propose:

1. More extensive intramural activities, continuing the policy inaugurated this year.
2. More adequate representation, by constitutional change if necessary, to give our growing student body the greatest possible voice in the management of its government.
3. Stimulation of more interest and participation in student body activities.

In closing, let me say that I fully realize the responsibilities connected with the position. I will be able and willing to devote the necessary time and energy, and feel that I am prepared to offer effective and efficient service.

JACK NEWMAN

Fellow Students:

Rather than enumerate any specific planks or promises contained in a political campaign platform, I would like to acquaint you with my feelings about the office of Student Body President.

I do not believe in a great many campaign promises for I know that you do not believe in them. I would like, however, to put forth a few specific tasks which will be undertaken should I be elected.

There will be an attempt to hold a weekly Pep Night session to maintain the rally spirit during the fall sports program. There will be an effort to eliminate the present 10 cent tax levied on Student Body members attending baseball and basketball games. There will be a conscientious policy in regard to retiring the deficit of the Student Body following, as closely as possible, the policy of the present student administration.

Let me say that my sincere purpose in seeking your support lies in the desire to serve the Student Body at large to the best interests of Santa Barbara State, and not to represent any single group interest or policy.

I want to thank you for your kind consideration and say that I will welcome the opportunity to answer any questions which might clarify my stand in relation to the office of Student Body President.

Sincerely,
JACK RICHARDS

Alhecama Bills French Film

One of the most popular motion pictures ever to come from a French studio, "Lucrezia Borgia", Abel Gance's eyebrow-lifting photoplay of history's naughty lady, opens its local exclusive engagement at the Alhecama theatre Wednesday with shows at 7 and 9 p.m. and closes Thursday with three performances at 2:30, 7 and 9 p.m.

Special price of 25 cents has been set by the management of the Santa Barbara street theatre for all students with cards.

Among other things, the picture is notable for the fact that it blasts the popular conception of the historically infamous Italian noblewoman.

Beautiful Lucrezia, portrayed by Edwige Feuerville, never poisoned anyone, according to this film. Her weakness was her amorous temperament, and one by one her lovers and husbands were assassinated by her power-greedy brother, Cesare.

In respect to settings, "Lucrezia Borgia" needs not bow to any film. Huge palaces, banquet halls and super bathtubs (with Lucrezia disporting herself in the best De Mille fashion) combine to make a sumptuous setting for the story.

Gabriel Gabrio is a sinister Cesare and other members of the cast, of importance, along with thousands of others, are Roger Karl, Josette Day, Aime Clariond and Maurice Escande. English titles translate the French dialogue.

Principals Study Script For Ninth Roadrunner Revue

Working feverishly under the direction of executive director, Doug Mattson, cast members of the 9th annual Roadrunner Revue are pointing for production dates May 16, 17.

With the complete script in the hands of the principals, Mattson feels that the show should find very little difficulty meeting dress rehearsal deadline.

All members of the cast are urged to watch their mailboxes for announcements concerning rehearsal hours. "These workouts are important, and I feel that a great deal must be done in order to produce a top show," stated Mattson.

The Revue is to be presented on the evenings of May 16 and 17 with a possible matinee to be arranged for high school students of Santa Barbara and vicinity.

Bumper cards advertising the Revue will be available to students in the early part of next week.

The show will feature original musical numbers, a chorus of college beauties, vocal selections, and a variety of top notch entertainment.

Phrateres Meets Sunday Morning

Oak Park will be a scene of festivity Sunday morning when Phrateres and all its cub chapters hold a breakfast there. Forty women are expected to attend with a charge of 15 cents per person. The breakfast will start at 8:30.

Refreshments are in charge of Mary Julia Peterson, the menu including fruit, scrambled eggs and bacon, hot rolls and coffee.

All women who attend are required to bring their own eating utensils.
