THREE COUNCIL MEMBERS RESIGN

Burton, Dilley, Kieding Quit Council Jobs; Move to Hold Solons to One Post Fails

by Jerry Bradley

Three Gaucho committee chairman have resigned their posts, AS president Stan McGinley announced to Council Tuesday night. The resignations of Recreation Control Board chairman Preston Burton, Finance Committee chairman Judy Dilley and Standards Committee chairman Bob Kieding bring the total number of Council resignations for the school year to six. Janis Lord, Frank Rath and Vic McKeever resigned their posts last semester.

Burton and Dilley gave as reason for resigning ill health. Keating stated that the demands of other activities prevented his meeting the needs of his office. President McGinley expressed his regret that the members found it necessary to resign.

Motion Defeated

A motion to prevent anyone currently holding Council office from seeking any additional Council office was defeated. The motion, which would effect a change in the by-laws and therefore require approval by 2/3 of all Council members, failed despite a 17-yes 13-no vote.

Athletic Investigation

Council directed McGinley to appoint a special committee to investigate problems concerning Associated Students participation in inter-collegiate sports. This was the result of a current study by Dr. Stephen Goodspeed, Special Assistant to the Chancellor on Student Affairs concerning inter-collegiate athletics.

The student committee will coordinate with the administration in studying this issue. Board of Athletic Control chairman Mike Rappaport stated that before extensive changes are made in the financing of UCSB teams "the students must decide just what sort of sports they want."

El Gaucho editor Bruce Loebs pointed out that while the other six CCAA schools can (and probably do) offer $500 athletic scholarships and $85-a-month jobs to team prospects, UCSB provides few lures to athletes.

Babary Coast

Special Events Committee announced that Les Brown, usually featured at Babary Coast, will not be available this year due to previous engagements. Other big-name bands are under consideration.

A change in the by-laws to the AS Constitution was adopted, deleting the requirement that Board of Athletic Control chairman be a voting member of Council. BAC chairman will still be required to attend all council meetings.

Motions to direct reps-at-large and unit reps to contact living groups once a week and to require Council members to publish proposed motions the day before Council meeting were tabled.

CANDIDATES FOR THREE VACANT OFFICES LISTED

Eight candidates have registered, as of 5 p.m. Wednesday, for the special AS elections, to be held Feb. 19 and 20. Three offices, Men's Rep-at-large, Non-affiliated Men's Rep and AMS President, are vacant.

Gay Wert, John Fiscalini and Ned Wilson are the candidates for the Rep-at-large position. Melville Sayerd and Chuck Warren are competing for the job of Non-affiliated Men's Rep. Those signed up for AMS President are Fiscalini, Wilson and Raymond Hall.

The two rep posts are voting members of the Legislative Council. The AMS President does not have a regular vote.

Polling places on the election days will be located in the Student Union, Library and Dining Commons.

In addition to the elective offices, there are three chairmanships open due to resignations presented to Council Tuesday.

Applications for the chairmanships of Standards committee, Recreation Control Board, and Finance committee may be turned into the AS office, until Monday, Feb. 23.

International Living Scholarship Open

A $500 foreign travel scholarship for a UCSB male undergraduate student is being offered for one week only, beginning today, by the "Experiment in International Living." Requirements for applying include a physician's report, the registrar's form, three personal references and a formal application for financial aid.

Selection of a winner will be made by a campus screening committee on the basis of qualifications and financial need. Applications are available in the Dean's Office. They must be returned to Dean Reynolds by next Friday.

Applicants for tours beginning in late June should contact the agency in the Carrillo Building in downtown Santa Barbara should do so immediately. For those who are not able to finance a complete tour, several scholarships are available through the agency for about 10% of the tourists applying.

BENEFIT STAR . . .

CHARITABLE ACTRESS — Barbara Whiting, former star of TV's "Those Whiting Girls" will be the featured performer in the Alpha School Benefit Show Monday night. Miss Whiting will be joined by Kirby Grant (Sky King), Gloria Winters, The Four Eligibles, and numerous local talent. Proceeds from the event go to support the Alpha School for the Mentally Retarded.

Initial Huxley Talk Stresses Need for General Knowledge

by Collier and Quarton

Aldous Huxley delivered the first in a series of lectures on "The Human Situation" before more than 750 students and townspeople at UCSB last Monday. This first lecture was introductory in nature to what will be covered in his later talks.

Huxley is deeply concerned over the emphasis which is being placed on "specialized learning." He stated, "Indeed, a great deal of highly specialized learning can be even more dangerous than a little learning."

He said this was not a modern problem, for his grandfather had been deeply concerned with it around the turn of the century when the patterns of modern education were being established.

Integrated Education

Huxley went on to say that, "If we start with (questions) such as, Who are we, 'How would we be related to our planet?', How are we to develop our individual potentialities?; we can bring together information from a great number of disciplines. It is probably only in this way that one can create a thoroughly integrated form of education."

"A man of letters can perform a valuable function by bringing together a great many subjects and showing the relationships between them."

He then discussed the Pontifex Maximus, who was head of the highest priestly college of ancient Rome, the Pontifical College, which had supreme jurisdiction in religious matters. Pontifex is the Latin word for bridge-builder.

Bridges Needed

Huxley then said, "The whole continued on page 4, column 1

Foreign Trade Expert Discusses Jobs Mon.

Stanton S. von Grabill, Vice President of the American Institution for Foreign Trade, will discuss job opportunities for individuals trained in foreign languages Monday, Feb. 16 at noon in building 431, room 102.

The Xi Chapter of Alpha Mu Gamma, National Foreign Language Honorary Society, will sponsor von Grabill's appearance in conjunction with National Foreign Language Week Feb. 15-2.

The public is invited to attend the discussion. According to President Bill Loscut-off, individual interviews with von Grabill may be held for interested students.

Tjader's Jazz Group Gives Concert Here

Modern jazz sounds make their way to Gaucholand again, in the form of Cal Tjader and His Quintet, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Campus Auditorium. This concert is a follow-up to Dave Brubeck's Quartet, which presented the first jazz concert of the school year.

The advanced sale student body rate is $1.25 and the student fee at the door is $1.50. General admission is $2. Since the Sophomore class is sponsoring the concert, Sophomores with class cards will be admitted for $1.

Tickets are available in the Graduate Manager's Office.

Tjader, himself an accomplished vibraphonist, has won honors in the jazz world recently, the highest being from "Down Beat" magazine. His quintet is a favorite among college jazz enthusiasts in the United States today.

BARBARA WHITING TOPS CAST, PRIZES AWARDED

by Phyllis Fisher

Talent, prizes and entertainment are in store for all who attend the Alpha School Benefit Show Monday night at 8 p.m. in the Campus Auditorium.

In order to raise money for the Alpha School for the mentally retarded, Charities Committee Chairman Peggy McGinley has turned to Hollywood for performers for the show. Barbara Whiting, The Four Eligibles, Gloria Winters (who plays "Penny" in the Sky King show) and Dave Bass will join local talent Galen Denning, Bruce Langshaw, Buzz Knight, Sylvia House and Barbara Frailey and other Santa Barbara performers in the variety show Monday night. Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Lou Stumpo of KEYT-TV.

Attendance Trophy

Ticket donations are $1 for students and $1.50 for general admission. The living group with the highest attendance percentage will be awarded a trophy. In case of a tie duplicate trophies will be given.

Tickets are now on sale at the ticket window of the Graduate Managers office and may also be purchased at Kallman's Nursery, Gammill's or the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Door Prizes

Door prizes are another attraction of the show. Over twenty valuable prizes, donated by stores of Santa Barbara and Goleta, will be awarded at Monday's performance.

Numbered ticket stubs will be drawn during intermission. Prizes include a $18 study lamp, a $17.50 woman's razor, men and women's clothes, a full tank of gas, car wash, an oil change and lubrication job.

At present the Alpha School, located in an old building on the Santa Barbara Junior College campus, is operating at a loss in order to make the care and training available to all who need it. Its fee of $1 per day covers about half of the actual operating cost.

Students Help

According to Carol Saindon, Co-chairman of Charities Committee, UCSB students can help the Alpha School approach its goal—to afford a new school with modern facilities, better adapted to giving complete care to its patients.

The $2,000 fund raising drive for the school began Monday with the placing of containers in living groups and gathering points on campus.

Whole-Hearted Support

Peggy McGinley stresses, "For the success of the drive it will be necessary to have the whole-hearted support of the entire student body. The success of this drive will greatly influence UCSB's relations with the townspeople of Santa Barbara."

Fraternities and sororities have agreed to relinquish Monday night's meeting to encourage a successful turnout for the show. In addition most Greek organizations have bought tickets to the performance.

Large Crowd Turned Away From Huxley Talk, Fire Problem Told by Chief Lowry

More than 200 disappointed persons were turned away from the first Aldous Huxley lecture on campus Monday. Fire regulations in the Campus Auditorium forced officials to close the doors after filling the 750 seating capacity. (See Editorial).

It was estimated that one-third of the crowd was composed of townspeople. The Santa Barbara citizens committee is jointly sponsoring Mr. Huxley's appearance at UCSB.

Out of Hand

As a result of the confused situation outside of the auditorium, campus fire chief Joseph Lowry told El Gaucho, "we have to do something about the condition which prevailed Monday. I am not condemning the students, they are usually very cooperative. For some reason they just got out of hand."

According to the official report filed with the fire department, some students climbed to the top of the auditorium to hear the lecture through the open vents.

Jacket Catches Fire

While on the roof the jacket of one of the students caught fire, probably the result of a cigarette, according to Lowry. The jacket was thrown from the building after burning a small spot in the roof.

Lowry pointed out that safety is essential in the Auditorium. "When the fireman thinks that the safety figure has been reached he has no alternative but to stop people from coming in."

However, Lowry pointed out that people were not willing to accept this Monday. "People tried to barge in. When we moved them out from the front of the auditorium someone inside would open another door and many more would move in."

Cooperation Asked

"I want to ask the students to cooperate with the firemen on duty. They have a hard time. There is always the danger of something happening. A fire could start. It is a good building with plenty of exits, but it has its limitations for a capacity crowd."

Lowry explained that when the building is full the exit doors must remain closed, since in case of fire a cross-draft would spread it rapidly.

For the future Huxley lectures, loudspeakers will be placed in the Music Building orchestra room.

In describing Mondays problem Dr. Noble stated "while we were extremely gratified at the large number of persons coming to the campus to hear Aldous Huxley for his opening lecture yesterday, we regret that many people were not able to get into the auditorium because of limited capacity."

SANKEY AWARDED $700 FELLOWSHIP

UC President, Clark Kerr has announced that a 1959 faculty summer fellowship has been granted to Dr. Benjamin T. Sankey, Jr., instructor of English here.

One of the purposes of the $700 grant is to release promising junior faculty members from the necessity of teaching during the summer in order to complete research projects.

Dr. Sankey's project is a study of perceptual theory in relation to the history of poetry from approximately 1600 to 1820. According to the summer fellowship recipient, this involves a certain amount of background research in such fields as epistemology and optics and a study of literary manifestoes and similar material. Sankey explains that he hopes to eventually help explain certain changes in poetic procedure, probably in a series of discussions of individual poems.

SAMUEL B. GOULD INTERVIEWED BY EL GAUCHO

New UCSB Chancellor Talks of Athletics, Greeks, Education Courses, Personal Life

(Editor's Note: Chancellor-elect Samuel B. Gould has been on the UCSB campus during the past week. In order to acquaint the student body with the school's new chief administrator, El Gaucho conducted the following informal interview. Bruce and Neila Loeb asked the questions. Bob Quitner took the pictures.)

Are Greek Organizations an important asset to a University?

"My personal experience with fraternities and sororities is very limited. There were no Greek organizations on campus when I was an undergraduate and there aren't any at Antioch. (Mr. Gould attended Bates College. He is currently the President of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.) Therefore, I have never been thrown directly into the situation. I see no reason why fraternities should not be a positive influence on a campus.

"I am very relieved to know that we don't have any fraternities with discriminatory clauses here. I would be unhappy if we did.

I think we should consider fraternities in light of what they can contribute to the University as a whole. They can create a kind of intimacy in their houses, that, if properly used, can do much for the academic status of the University."

Should athletes be given preference for on-campus jobs?

"I hate to use the word preference. Perhaps they should receive a certain priority because of the amount of time they devote to the University in participating in athletics..."

"The school has no right to place undue hardship on the athlete. If he wants to represent the University and if there are jobs available he should be considered."

How would you define an outstanding student?

"That is a tough one. An outstanding student, first of all, has enough mental equipment to meet the competitive world of the mind in his college career. He has a deep sense of motivation, knows why he is in college and has a good reason for being there. He is one who can primarily rely upon himself and carry the lion's share of the responsibility on his shoulders in searching out knowledge.

"He takes the initiative in contacting the faculty and fills out that part of his education which he cannot attain in the classroom.

"The outstanding student is a combination of ability and attitude. We never have enough outstanding students."

What is your opinion of Education courses and the teacher training program?

"There has been much criticism of the field of education and education courses, particularly in the last year or two. People who are planning to become teachers should have training in both methodology and in the art of communicating. They need this kind of training."

"I think there are essentially two problems in this area. 1) There is an overabundance in the attention given to methodology as opposed to content."

"2) Some courses are repetitive and boring for the students. Mind you I am not discussing the education department on this campus. I don't know enough about it."

"I think much is happening to change the program and give it more content. In the next few years, maybe five or six, we will see a new pattern for preparation of teachers. There will be a better balance in the program. The number of methodology courses will be cut down, and other types of offerings will be beefed up."

"There is much to be done in educational training. People are making some pretty wild statements which are not justified. Maybe we don't need any changes here at Santa Barbara. I haven't even looked at the list of courses. But education in general is being scrutinized. The need for better teachers is very pressing."

Has the fact that you do not have a PhD presented any problems to you in dealing with an academic community?

"I have never found it to be a stumbling-block in the things I have wanted to do. I had most of my work done for my doctorate when I went into the Navy. When I got out I was tied up in other things and didn't get around to finishing the work. I suppose many people recognize the PhD as a kind of a union card. It represents a certain amount of scholarly ability and research.

"If the faculty here or on any campus felt that I was inferior as an educator or scholar because I lack a PhD I would resign tomorrow. I don't intend to be placed in that situation. I might add that I have not been given the impression that such feelings exist here. People should be judged on their ability and performance."

What was your ambition as a boy?

"I wanted to go to West Point. I applied for an appointment through my congressman when I was 15 years old. I had to be 17 to apply. The congressman said I should go to college and when I became 17 to apply again. Two years later I got a letter saying I could have the appointment, but then I had been in college two years and no longer wanted to go to West Point."

Who are your favorite authors?

"I do a great deal of reading. Among the more modern authors I like Faulkner. I was once a Thomas Wolfe enthusiast, but now I am not quite as enthusiastic about him as I once was. I also enjoy the more classic writers like Dickens and Thackeray. My major field was English and I did graduate work in dramatic literature and Greek drama. I did my master's in 19th century prose.

"I can't read as much as I would like to because of my other obligations. I read on planes and trains during trips and late at night."

What is your political affiliation?

"I am a Democrat."

Who would you prefer for the Democratic nomination in 1960?

"I am a very impractical politician. I have never been involved or worked actively in political life. I still like Adlai Stevenson because of his knowledge of foreign policy, intellectual ability and ability to articulate, but I know he won't be the candidate again."

Are you an interested sports fan?

"I am an energetic fan. I came to be a Red Sox rooter during my years in Boston. I used to get a kick out of watching Ted Williams play ball.

"In football I have no real favorites. I have been watching the pro teams like the Cleveland Browns because of the magnificent brand of football they play. I am looking forward to watching the inter-collegiate events here in Santa Barbara."

What kind of music do you prefer?

"I like symphonic music. I don't understand jazz well enough to enjoy it as I should. In Boston we attended chamber music and the symphony. I am not keen on vocalists. By that I mean I would rather hear a good violin than a good soprano and a good symphony than a good violin."

40 minute interview begins

"That is a tough one..."

"I am a Democrat..."

"need for better teachers..."

Biscayne 4-Door Sedan shows the Fisher Body beauty of Chevrolet's lowest priced series for '59.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 10% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "git" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 135-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a vim-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

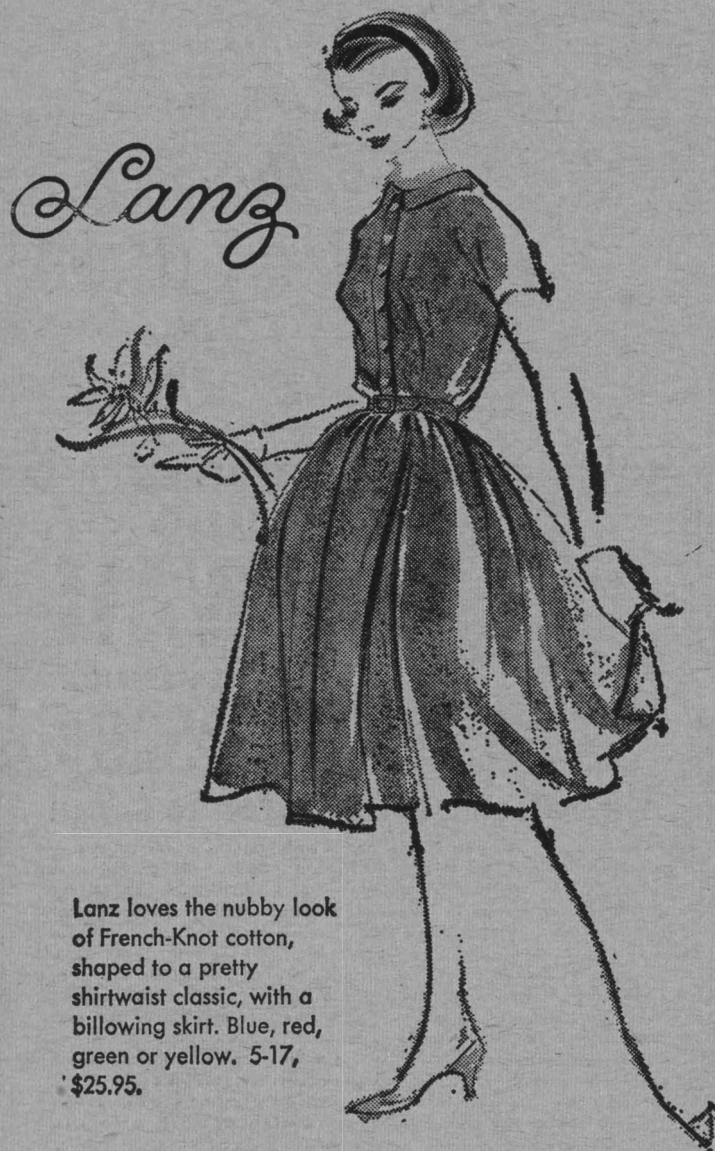

The smart switch is to the '59 Chevy!

SOS for IBM As Tired Coed Sings Registration Blues

by Debby Freiden

Brand new semester and we're really off on the right foot. Registration was a madhouse. Put through the wringer again. Man, what a hassle.

Sure hope the rumor about IBM registration coming to UCSB is true. Be a relief from writer's cramp and filling that repetitious registration booklet. Something about the psychology of writing your class schedule enough times that you remember it. Ha! I wrote "Hist. 39 Bldg. 421, Rm. 101" faithfully seven times on seven pages—all wrong. Seems I'm now enrolled in a wrestling class.

Lines, lines, lines. In line for two hours to pay registration fees. In line outside the gym, in the rain, waiting to drop cards. In line at the book store—entered rich, exited poor.

Books. Boy, am I burned. I was going to sell my used books, but they've all been "revised." Revised? How much new happens in Anthropology in a year? What is this, planned obsolescence?

Schedule is a mess. After working out that embarrassing problem of having three MWF 8 o'clocks simultaneously, I worked it down to where I go 8 to 3 without lunch. Well, I wanted to diet anyway.

The weekend was absolutely dead, I growled at my roommate, have homework in all my classes and got soaked in the rain.

Well-seasoned, ready to serve
America's second largest telephone system!

Dishing up telephones in the right place at the right time is the sort of catering service Gen Tel specializes in.

As servants to over 3½ million telephone subscribers, we strive to make communications so dependable that no one need ever give his phone a second thought.

And, in the growing communities we serve, our job is to enable more people to communicate with one another.

Indeed, Gen Tel is determined to give its growing "family" nothing but the best. That's why we never cease in our efforts to develop new products and services that will make the telephone still more convenient, economical and useful.

Knowing how vital the telephone is in modern American life, Gen Tel "invests ahead" in new plant and equipment to make sure that our telephone system will be equal to whatever task it is called upon to perform.

idea of Pontifex, or bridge-builder, is profitable, one we can make use of. The function of the literary man is principally to be a bridge builder, to make bridges between art and science, between objectively observed fact and immediate experience.

"If facts of science are to be incorporated into art they must become something more than mere facts, abstractions, generalizations. They must become facts of direct experience which have . . . an emotional context.

"Here we are up against a vicious circle. Facts of science cannot become suitable for literary art until they become emotionally tinged. It is unlikely that they will become this way until they have been expressed in artistic form.

Genius Needed

"The only way out of the vicious circle will be through the providential arrival of some vast genius who will break through and create for us the necessary verbal apparatus through which the facts and theory of science can become the stated material of art.

"This 'Pontifex Maximus' may someday come into existence. He may even be on this campus.

"The question is of finding a suitable vocabulary of ordinary speech, of prose literature, of poetry and we change the abstract vocabulary of scientific theory and that of textbooks, which as a man of letters I find extremely painful.

"It is the genius for handling words which marks the great man of letters.

"Our problem is somehow to discover a poetical vocabulary which would make it possible to pass from one point of view to the other."

Intellectual Celibacy

He said he had come across an interesting metaphor recently. It was "the celibacy of the intellect." In enlarging upon this he went on to say, "All specialized knowledge is a whole organized series of celibacies. We have subjects simply not intermarrying and not producing the children they ought to produce. The problem is to arrange marriage between these subjects in order to produce valuable progeny . . .

"Any form of higher knowledge requires specialization. Though specialization is necessary, it can be, if carried too far, absolutely fatal. We must discover some way to make the best of the highly specialized world and the married world of immediate experience in which nothing can be separated because it is all there."

Subsequent lectures will consider man and his resources, the biological problems of the individual, heredity vs. environment, man and society, the technological revolution and the human potential.

Forensics Students To Participate in Champions Tourney

by Linda Carver

Forensics activities will begin on March 6 when the Championship Individual Speech Tournament is held at UCLA. Four events will be entered by UCSB students—oratory, oral interpretation, extemp and discussion.

The subject for extemp is "Domestic Issues;" for Discussion it is "How can Latin American Relations be Improved?" From 12 to 16 students are expected to be entered in this tournament from Santa Barbara.

The second tournament of the semester will be held at Bakersfield College. Two upper division mens' teams will be entered.

Also in March, an alternate tourney will be held. This tournament will not be open to those who have not participated in either the UCLA tournament or the Bakersfield tournament.

Those students interested in Forensics who were unable to attend the meeting last Monday are asked to see Robert Cleath by appointment. He stated to the El Gaucho, "There is still opportunity for others to enter into the Forensics program and they are invited to attend the regular Forensics meetings."

Those returning to debate are Dave Peterson, George Hart, Bruce Loebs, Karol Nelson, Wendy Lee, Ingrid Bergh, Betty Lowry, Jim David, Bob Marshall, Dean Welin, Kay Armour, Jack Weller and Leslie Higginbotham.

Some new members to debate are Pat Hansen, Barbara McCready, Denise Lund, Joan Chaplin, Carol Nevard, Anne Zantop, Sally Shearer and June Sedorchuk.

Speech Scholarship

Delta Zeta sorority will award a $500 scholarship to a graduate woman student preparing to teach audiology or a closely allied subject (applied areas in speech and hearing). All material pertaining to this award must be in the hands of the Scholarship Committee on or before March 1, 1959, Kingston, R.I. Application forms are available at the reference desk of the UCSB Library.

Nobel Prize Holder Dr. Harold C. Urey To Lecture Here

Dr. Harold C. Urey, eminent nuclear chemist and holder of the Nobel Prize will give a special lecture here on Thursday, Feb. 26 at 8 p.m. in the campus auditorium. The public is invited to the free lecture.

Dr. Urey, who holds the title of professor-at-large of chemistry with the University of California, will speak on the topic, "The Problem of the Origin of the Solar System." Urey won the Nobel Prize in chemistry in 1934 for the discovery of deuterium. He has also made fundamental contributions to the development of the Atomic bomb and is recipient of the highest honor in American science, the Willard Gibbs Medal.

The UCSB Junior-Senior Prom, "Starlight Serenade" featuring the Elliott Brothers (Disneyland Date Nighters) has been announced for March 6 at the Coral Casino. Bids will be available to all students beginning Monday, Feb. 16 at the ticket window of the Graduate Manager's Office.

Gray Nolan, prom chairman, has announced that all men's living groups who wish to nominate a senior woman queen candidate must submit a poster with the candidate's picture by Feb. 23.

The queen will be elected at the dance by male vote.

URC Notices

The Lutheran Student Association will have a cost-dinner meeting at the Steinhoff home, 509 Calle Laureles, at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 15. Rev. Richard Borgstrom will speak.

Spurs Have Birthday

Tomorrow UCSB Spurs observe the 37th anniversary of the founding of the National Spurs Organization at Montana State College on Valentines Day, 1922. The local chapter of Spurs is one of 34 in various colleges and universities.

One of the local chapter's major projects this semester will be the selection of next year's members, who will be elected from women students who have at least a 2.5 grade point average and who will be of sophomore standing next fall.

The new spurs will be chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service to the school and personality.

Application will be available the first week in March and the new members will be announced at the Annual Associated Women Students Installation Banquet.

RETURN OF 'EASY'?—Santa Barbara's No. 2 bucket-bomber, Ed Haertel, who has been sidelined with an injured ankle for the past three weeks, hopes to return to action tonight against San Diego State. 'Easy', 6'5" junior forward, was the team's top scorer before sustaining his injury against Westmont.

Freshman Cagers Test Fullerton JC in Preliminary Game Tomorrow at Armory

Santa Barbara's basketballing Freshmen, ascending for the first time this season above the .500 mark in the win column, entertain highly-touted Fullerton Junior College tomorrow night in a 6:15 p.m. preliminary contest at the National Guard Armory.

Picking off a couple of wins last weekend against Los Angeles Trade Tech and the Cal Poly Frosh, the Gaucho quintet will shove a 6-5 record at the Hornets, who are knocking on the first-place door in the Eastern Conference behind Santa Ana.

The UCSB attack will be centered around the sharp shooting of forward Pete Sachse, who is currently out in front in the yearling scoring parade with better than a 19-point per game average.

Rohter's squad, owning two victories over Westmont and single wins over the Disciplinary Barracks and Santa Barbara JC besides last weekend's triumphs, will be counting on front-line strength from smooth-operating Gary Erickson and 6'9" Joel Verner, who has been rapidly improving with every game. The

League Leaders, 49ers Here for Weekend Twin Bill

It'll be San Diego State's high-flying Aztecs against "The Spoilers" tonight at the National Guard Armory.

The University of California at Santa Barbara's hot and cold Gauchos, mathematically eliminated from the CCAA title chase with a 1-5 record, meet the league-leading San Diegans in an important 8:15 p.m. contest.

Two nights of top-flight basketball are in store for local fans, as Long Beach St. moves into the Armory tomorrow night for the second half of a weekend double-header. The Gaucho Frosh tangle with Fullerton Junior College in a 6:15 p.m. preliminary attraction.

Coach Art Gallon's squad, without the services of the graduated Jim Whalen and Bob Deering, scholastically ineligible, but hoping for the return of the injured Ed Haertel, have gathered in all of their wins on the home hardwood and could well throw a monkeywrench into the championship plans of either the Aztecs or 49ers.

Santa Barbara, a four-point loser to UCLA's Bruins and Mr. Walt Torrence and five-point losers to Fresno St., the nation's 15th-ranked small college cage team, unveiled their prowess in the conference opener by upending Los Angeles State, 71-67. Only a few points have separated the Gallonmen from victory on many occasions, but currently they rest just a hop ahead of cellar-dwelling Cal Poly in the CCAA race with four games remaining.

DIABLOS RAP UCSB; 'COUSINS' NO LONGER

Tuesday was "Revenge Night" for Los Angeles State and unfortunately, the University of California at Santa Barbara's cagers happened to be around.

Sax Elliot's Diablos, still fighting for a share of the CCAA crown, sent the Gauchos reeling to their fifth conference setback, an 87-74 drubbing, thereby avenging an earlier defeat at the hands of the UCSB squad, Santa Barbara's lone win against league competition.

For 26 of the 40 minutes Coach Art Gallon's crew turned in a creditable performance, but for the remaining 14 minutes they managed to throw the ball away 16 times, thereby opening the gates for the Diablo victory.

The Gauchos trailed by a slim two-point margin, 23-21, with eight minutes remaining in the first half, but during that eight-minute period Santa Barbara lost the ball eight times and that was all she wrote as the Diablos rolled to a 37-24 halftime advantage and coasted home free.

Sophomore forward Gene Freeman (16 points), Kermit Harcos (14 points) and Carl Bosque (12 points) topped the UCSB point-getters, while the CCAA's leading scorer, Terry Bazadier, grabbed game honors for the Diablos with a 25-point performance.

Varsity Netters Open Play Today

Coach Ray Thornton's University of California at Santa Barbara varsity tennis squad lifts the lid on its 1958 schedule this afternoon at Pepperdine College. The Gaucho netters will remain in the Los Angeles area tomorrow afternoon for a match against Cal Poly (Pomona).

COUNCIL BATS .500 . . .

The Legislative Council went to bat twice Tuesday night got a clean hit and struck out.

After more than a month of inaction on the matter the legislators, at the recommendation of AS President Stan McGinley, set up a committee to study the athletic situation on campus. This committee will work with Dr. Stephen Goodspeed in making recommendations concerning the athletic problem.

Most Important Committee

This could be one of the most important committees in the AS student government program. The committee's main task will be to decide what to do about the financing of the athletic program. The Council should also take a firm stand on exactly what caliber of athletic program is desired at UCSB—and then support it accordingly.

While this action by the council was in the school's best interests, a second move was not. A motion proposed by Vice-President Carolyn Jones to limit members to just one position on council was rejected, even though 17 members favored the change while 13 opposed it. A two-thirds vote was needed for this by-law change.

In failing to adopt this motion, a minority of legislators has prevented more capable students from sitting on Council. Currently two members, Dennis Naiman (Men's Rep and Student Union co-chairman) and Kitty Joyce, (ACB head and Panhellenic President) hold two jobs on council.

John Fiscalini, IFC President, has signed up to run for both AMS president and the vacant men's rep position in next week's elections. Fiscalini told El Gauchero he will only seek one of the offices and hasn't made up his mind which it will be as yet.

Nobody Deserves Two Jobs

The point is nobody should ask for nor deserves two spots on Council. This is especially true when it is realized that the enrollment is rapidly increasing, bringing more qualified potential legislators.

There aren't so many outstanding individuals on Council that we couldn't use a few more. Any plan which would open Council to larger numbers of capable students should be implemented.

Council struck out on this pitch. We hope next time this proposal comes up they'll keep their eye on the ball.

AUDITORIUM NEED URGENT . . .

Our need for a decent auditorium was graphically demonstrated this week when more than 200 disappointed people were turned away from the first Aldous Huxley lecture. Mr. Huxley would have had them standing in the aisles were it not for fire regulations which say the aisles must be clear. The auditorium was filled to its limit—750—and fifty more sat in the wind to hear the talk via hastily-rigged outside loudspeakers.

Just how far in the future it will be until there is an adequate auditorium, is hard to determine, Dr. Noble told the Gauchero after the Huxley lecture.

"The building of a large auditorium is included in the master plan of the campus—but not within the next five years," said Noble. This would not prevent us from building an auditorium if we could get the money from outside sources." Noble continued, "The auditorium had been included in the five-year program, but was taken out. The Legislature feels quite rightly—that the money should be used for even more urgently needed classrooms and offices."

We now have an auditorium that seats just one-fourth of the school. And the way our campus population is growing, the auditorium is certainly not going to become more adequate as the years go by.

At times like this we wish there were some way to do exactly what UC president Dr. Clark Kerr said here—to make the college get smaller and smaller as it grows larger and larger.

It looks like we should investigate getting some money from outside sources. The auditorium could be part of the projected Student Union.

The only other answer is breeding a smaller species of student.

Letters to The Editor . . .

CLUB COUNCIL . . .

Dear Editor:

It has come to the attention of this student that there are some 45 different service clubs, interest groups and honoraries on this campus for the 2,700 students.

From my experience as President of IRC and conversations with many other students, it seems to me that the one thing which this college needs to make its organizations work is a coordinating group which could function as an Inter-Club council.

Such a council made up of representatives of all groups not already organized (Greeks, RHA and student gov.), could work to co-ordinate normally conflicting events, publicity and membership drives.

It's time that the many worthwhile groups on S.B. campus were given the opportunity to work for their common interests and purposes. Such groups are functioning as members of student councils and as guiding and influential forces on many other campuses.

UCSB should have organized long ago, but before more groups get started and established some are overlooked as the campus grows and needless competition between similar groups that should either work together or unite in their groups.

Any effort to organize an Interclub council should be enthusiastically supported and to my mind, this would be a step taken for the future of clubs on the Santa Barbara campus.
