Collegians Welcome Christmas Season At Annual Formal

Social Committee Chairman Emphasizes Optional Corsage Rule for Yule Affair, Announces Timely Decoration Scheme

Santa Barbara State's most gala event of the winter social season, the Christmas formal ball, will be staged tomorrow night from 9:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. at Rockwood. Bill Marvel's eight-piece orchestra will play for dancing. "Contrary to the statement in last week's El Gaucho, corsages for this affair are in order," social chairman Margaret Parks stressed. "Although they are preferable according to rules of etiquette, a person who is unable to secure one should not let it keep him away from the dance."

Rockwood's decorations will be in keeping with old-fashioned Christmas-tide spirit.

Admission to this formal program will be by student body cards and guest cards. The latter may be obtained in Dean of Women Lois M. Bennink's office for $1 before 3 p.m. today.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening will be President and Mrs. Clarence L. Phelps, Dean and Mrs. Russell Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Abraham and Dean Bennink.

CORRECT ATTIRE

Since this is a formal affair, correct dress will be tuxedos for men and formal attire for women. However, dark suits for men may be worn.

Refreshments consisting of two kinds of punch, will be offered during the evening.

"The social committee urges all students to attend the Christmas formal since it is the one formal event of the fall semester," Miss Parks stated. "Decorations and lighting have been stressed this year in order to create an appropriate setting for the occasion and to afford everyone a delightful evening."

May Entertains City Teachers

Bringing into a vivid re-creation the literary brainchildren of Charles Dickens and other renowned authors, Dr. Clement May, noted character actor, appeared before the second City Teachers' institute meeting held Wednesday evening in the State college auditorium.

The session was sponsored by the City teachers' club with the general public invited to attend.

Dr. May has long been recognized as one of the foremost interpreters of literary characters. His acting repertoire varies emotionally from the humor of David Copperfield to the villainy of Fagin and the tragedy of Scrooge. He was secured for Wednesday's performance through the City teachers' club.

This week's meeting is but one of a series of Teachers' institute meetings being held in the State college auditorium. With several already completed, there remains but one more this month, three in January and three in February. Institute credit is given instructors for attendance and the general public is admitted without charge.

WAA Board Plans Banquet, Playday

Further plans for the Spring Banquet January 8, 1941, and the high school playday sometime in the spring were discussed at the W.A.A. board meeting Thursday evening at 5:30 in the college gym.

President Jane Wood, Vice-president Dolly Randall, Secretary Dora Weigand, Athletic Manager Jane Boland, Miss Gladys Van Fossen, sponsor, and all game chairmen participated in the discussion.

Distribution

Gamma Sigma Pi Handles El Gaucho

Copies of El Gaucho will be distributed by members of Gamma Sigma Pi fraternity hereafter on Fridays. This was decided at the regular weekly meeting last Monday evening at the social fraternity's home on De la Vina street.

Through noon the weekly will be distributed at the foot of the quad steps, but in the afternoon they will be placed in the administration building next to the financial office.

AWS Assembly Features Glee Selections

Modern Dance Group Presents 'The Juggler' In Christmas Program

Mozart's "Ave Verum" by the women's glee club will open the annual Christmas program, under the sponsorship of the Associated Women Students, fourth hour Tuesday in the college auditorium.

Accompaniment of the club will be provided by the string quartet which is composed of Margaret Kerr, Gordon Ludwig, Charlotte Koff and Jean Tapie. Josephine McBride plays for the second glee club offering, "As Joseph Was A-Walking" by Oldroyd, while Van A. Christy, head of the music department, directs the group.

"The Juggler," a two-act performance by the modern dance group which is directed by Miss Elizabeth Sehon, will be inserted by violinist Bradford Tozier's rendition of "Ave Maria" which was written by Boch Gounod.

A Burgundian air, "Pat-a-Pan," by the glee club will follow. "Crown Carols," an old English Christmas song arranged by Sarr, will be included in a violin obbligato by Helen Simmons will conclude stage presentations of the assembly.

Carol singing by the assembly under the direction of Christy will ring down the curtain on the annual program which is presented by the A. W. S. executives.

Acting in the place of Martha Conrad, A. W. S. program chairman who is in charge of the assembly but must be absent because of her teaching assignment, will be Margaret Glasford as mistress of ceremonies.

Movie Series Suffers Halt

Cancellation of the motion picture scheduled for next Thursday night and preparations for continuation of the series after vacation were announced yesterday by Don Estey, following a meeting of the motion picture board in Dean William A. Ashworth's office.

In the future, according to Estey, 35 mm. film will be shown, instead of the 16 mm. type used in the first show last month. It is promised that all technical difficulties met during the showing of the first film will be eliminated.

Improvements included are new equipment for projection and a new safety film to safeguard against fire. The next production, scheduled for January 9, in the college auditorium, will be supervised by William L. Rust, industrial education instructor who holds the highest obtainable projection permit it is possible to obtain, according to Estey.

An innovation in the coming program will be the use of the speakers on the screen, a move which is made possible by the change to 35 mm. film.

Departments Hold Joint 'Jinx' Dance

"Friday the Thirteenth Old Clothes Dance" in the college cafeteria December 13 will be co-sponsored by the elementary and industrial education departments.

"Chuck" Wessinger's ten-piece orchestra will give their renditions of the popular melodies of today plus novelty numbers from 9 p.m. until midnight. Added amusements will include fortune telling, door prizes and special contests.

Members of both departments will be admitted free. Guests must pay twenty-five cents at the door. There will be enough refreshments for all, according to Bill Watson, chairman in charge.

Gauchos Cagers Play Initial Home Game Against Invading Cal Poly Five Tonight

MARGARET PARKS, chairman of the social committee, supervises preparation for the annual Christmas formal to be held tomorrow night at Rockwood.

A P O Sponsors Annual Tree, 'Santa's Sack'

Continuing a long established tradition, Alpha Phi Omega will again bring the holiday atmosphere to the campus with a large Christmas tree in the foyer of the administration building at the entrance to the auditorium, according to John Daughenbaugh, who is in charge of the decorations.

As in past years, the service group invites the student body and all student organizations to contribute to the "Santa Sack" that will be placed at the foot of the tree.

According to Reg Sundin, president of the group, all donations will be turned over to some charitable institution such as the Red Cross or Neighborhood house for distribution to the needy.

Since there is only one more week of school before the holidays, the group urges all who can do so to contribute something, as soon as possible. Donations such as food, clothing, toys or anything of value that Gauchos can dispense with will do its part to provide a happier Christmas for some needy person in Santa Barbara.

Said Sundin: "For the past two seasons, the Christmas tree has been an outstanding success, and through it State collegians have done much to make Christmas in Santa Barbara a true American holiday. Alpha Phi Omega hopes that the 1940 season will carry the college banner still higher, and that Gauchos will obey the spirit of Yuletide and give."

'Y' Societies Sponsor Dance

Sponsored by the College Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., a sport dance held to all college students will be held Wednesday evening from 8 to 11 at Cabrillo pavilion, the proceeds of which will be used to send delegates to the Asilomar conference December 26 to January 1. Charge will be 25 cents per person.

Tickets may be purchased from members of both campus "Y" groups and at a table which will be set up in the quad on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Tickets will not be sold at the door.

Special features of the dance will be fortune telling, table games and a prize waltz with a loving cup to the winners. Refreshments will be served.

General chairman of the event is George McGinnis.

Students Receive Philharmonic Bids

Maurice Faulkner, music instructor, announced yesterday that students wishing to attend the Los Angeles Philharmonic concert next Tuesday evening may obtain tickets from him for 50 cents.

The orchestra, under the direction of Bruno Walter, will present music of Wagner as the second of a series of concerts held at the Fox Arlington theater in downtown Santa Barbara.

Sorority Bills Yearly Concert At Biltmore

Alumni, Active Members Of Tau Gamma Sigma Stage 'Soiree Musicale'

Tau Gamma Sigma sorority will present its ninth annual "Soiree Musicale" under the direction of Van A. Christy, college choral director, Wednesday evening, December 18, at 8:15 in the theater ballroom of the Biltmore hotel.

The public is invited free of charge.

H. Klyne Headly, guest artist, will present a group of his own piano arrangements and compositions. Other featured guests will be Jack O'Rourke, well-known baritone and Miss Helen Louise Jackson. Accompaniment to the group on the Hammond organ and solovox will be provided by Miss Jackson, who graduated last June from Santa Barbara State college, where she majored in music.

ENSEMBLE PERFORMS

Twenty-four voices of the chorus will give their rendition of "Nights," a fantasy by the noted composer, J. W. Clokey. Closing the program will be a Christmas tableau of Christmas songs under the direction of Miss Marilyn Jameson.

Other numbers to be presented by the ensemble include "Skylark's Song" by Mendelssohn; "An Irish Mother's Lullaby" by Lang; "The Two Clocks" by Rogers; the Christmas morn scene from "Silent Night" by Gruber and "Beau Soir" by Debussy.

In the latter number Dorothea Kent will appear as soloist.

O'Rourke will offer "My Lady Walks in Loveliness" by Charles and "Caliban in the Cola Mines" by Raymond. Original compositions to be played by Headley are Andante Affettuoso from his "Concerto Number 1" and "Jester's Dream" from his Miniature Suite. In the latter number, Headley will interpret the dance, the love song and the professional.

YULE NUMBERS
Charlotte Neess, soloist, will sing Erickson's arrangement of "Deck the Hall" and "The Sailor's Christmas" by Chaminade.

Director Sets Choir Dates

Announcing that the newly-organized verse speaking choir presents something entirely new in entertainment, Frederic W. Hile, director, set the first performance date sometime in April or May in the college theater.

The choir of 35 is planning a varied program of such selections as the familiar "Purple Cow," Carl Sandberg's "Jazz Fantasia," and featuring the "Ballad for Americans."

They also plan a series of radio programs for the near future. As the choir develops they hope to include pantomimic dancing in their programs.

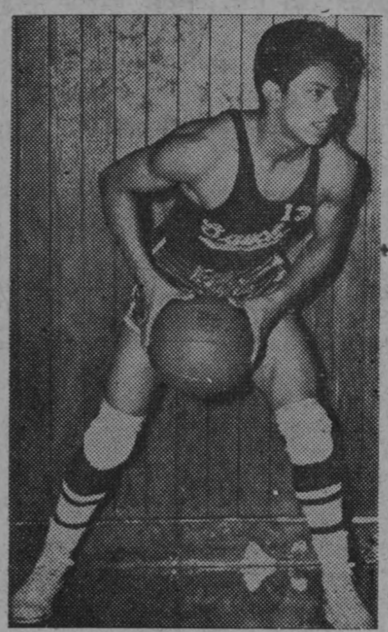

Eligible students may apply to Hile or to Betty Jo Daniels, secretary. New members will be chosen from the waiting list as the original members graduate or drop out.

Motion Pictures Illustrate Aquatics

Motion pictures illustrating correct methods in diving, life saving and canoeing, were shown last night in pine hall under the auspices of the American Red Cross.

Thomas Gill, field representative of the life saving division of the Red Cross at the Pacific branch in San Francisco, acted as narrator for the movies which showed famous swimmers and divers in action.

Gill stated that there are 17 aquatic schools in the United States sponsored by the Red Cross which offer a 10-day course each summer to persons interested in learning the techniques of life saving.

"PADDY" CAUDILLO receives the starting call at a forward spot as the Gauchos play their first home basketball game of the 1940-41 season against Cal Poly at the armory.

Harris Begins Work Program For Parking

Work of Ray Harris, custodian, and his crew in painting white lines around the administration building yesterday marked the beginning of a concerted drive to rid the campus of automobiles.

Scheduled to begin Monday of this week, the work was held up through the delay in obtaining materials.

Procedure outlined yesterday by President Clarence L. Phelps calls for the painted area to constitute a pedestrian way in which students may walk safely to and from classes without danger of being injured by passing cars.

This pedestrian way will be extended around the building and will eliminate parking in the painted areas. Faculty cars affected by this move will be moved to the outside of the drive on the west side of the auditorium.

The driveway leading from Alameda Padre Serra into the new parking lot will be widened during Christmas vacation so that it will provide both an entrance and exit and the lot will be surfaced and marked as soon as it is packed firm enough for this work to be carried out, according to Phelps.

The upper entrance to the parking lot will be widened and improved and will be used only for entrance to the lot. An obstruction will be placed at the corner of the auditorium to prevent motorists from driving through the campus.

Woman's Club Opens Dance

Santa's Postscript dance on Friday December 27, will be open to Santa Barbara State collegians whose homes are in this city or those who will be in town during the post-Christmas season, it was announced by student body president Jack Richards in expressing the invitation of the Santa Barbara Woman's club, sponsors of the dance.

Dancing will begin at 9 p.m. and will continue until midnight at the no-program semi-formal as Doug Hoag's band provides orchestrations in the modern swing manner.

Admission to the dance, which is sponsored annually by the Santa Barbara civic organization in the interest of youth's recreation, will be 25 cents per person.

Tickets for Santa's Postscript dance may be purchased either on the campus through Richards, at the local high school or at the door of the dance.

A Capella Groups Conduct Carolling

Christmas carolling will actively enter into student body life next week when the A Capella groups of the music department will conduct all-college singing in the quad on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday noons.

The men and women choir organizations will alternately lead in individual numbers, and will present single renditions.

Local Squad Meets Revengeful Mustang Quintet at Armory

Coach Wilton Plans Starting Lineup of Guerrero, Caudillo, Steward, Brewster, Rider in Return Tilt with Northerners

By George Stepanian
El Gaucho Sports Editor

Marking their cage debut before local fans, Coach Willie Wilton's Santa Barbara State college quintet will present an exhibition of the smooth precision-like form that enabled it to win the California Collegiate Athletic association basketball title last year when it tangles with the wild-shooting farmers from Cal Poly, tonight at 8:15 in the National Guard armory.

"This is My Last Goodbye" may well be the mournful refrain of the Mustangs who will be making their last appearance of the 1940 athletic season before Santa Barbara fans.

Twice have the Gauchos and Mustangs tangled, once on the gridiron and last week on the basketball court, and twice have the locals emerged victors.

GAUCHOS THOUGHT LUCKY
However, the final score doesn't seem to disturb the Cal Poly adherents who still claim that the Gauchos were lucky to win the football game and equally fortunate in winning last week's cage fracas.

So, to say that they are out for the Gauchos scalp is putting it mildly. Coach Wilton will present a veteran lineup against the invaders. Starting at the forwards will be the diminutive duo of Tommy Guerrero, all conference flash, and Paddy Caudillo.

Lowell Steward, high scoring sensation, will handle the center duties while Larry Brewster, all conference guard, and Dick Ridet, up from the frosh team, will take over the guard berths.

Coach Howie O'Daniels of the visitors bases his hopes for an upset win on his crack forward duo of Paul Blanton and Gil Trullus, flashy Indian scoring ace.

"MUSTANG" SPARKPLUG
Trullus is probably the outstanding player of the visitors and their foremost scoring threat, so Wilton will probably set Brewster on the trail of the tricky Indian.

Held in reserve should the first squad fail to crack through Cal Poly's tight zone defense are Bill Leveille and John Costas, forwards; Walter Wood, center and Bob Stockton and Gordon Gray, guards.

Last week the Gauchos knocked over the Mustangs, 31-28, being forced to come from behind. Trailing 16-22 at half time, the Green and White cagers, sparked by Steward and Guerrero, put on a spirited rally to hold the northerners to six points in the second half while scoring 15 themselves.

A.W.S. Begins Charity Drive
Culminating Christmas welfare work on the campus, the associated women students are sponsoring a Christmas tag sale starting Monday and continuing until Wednesday afternoon, the proceeds of which will go to the Neighborhood house, local welfare center.

All contributions from campus organizations are to be handed in to the A.W.S. clubroom before Wednesday.

Students participation in welfare work is urged, this being possible by the purchase of the tags.

Pu Ko How Wins Bowling Tourney
Finals of the bowling tournament sponsored by the Women's Athletic association in which college clubs, sororities and faculty groups participated were held last evening at the bowling center. Groups in the finals were Pu Ko How, Alpha Theta Chi and Phi Kappa Gamma, with Pu Ko How winning the trophy.

Future plans for tournaments sponsored by the W.A.A. include a ping pong contest for which any college organization is eligible. The tournament will be in doubles and will take place some time after Christmas.

Phyllis Durgan is in charge of ping pong registration.

Basketball

Follett Lists Ticket Rates

Admission prices for the 1941-41 basketball season, announced last night by Don Follett, graduate manager are general admission, 55 cents; high school students, 25 cents; if playing preliminary game, 10 cents and State college students, 10 cents.

Also announced by Follett is a game with Brigham Young university, scheduled at the last minute for Wednesday night in the armory.

Industrial Arts Faculty, Students Leave Today For Northern Meeting

Twenty-four upper division students of the industrial division of the State college will accompany a large number of the staff of the department in a trip to San Francisco for attendance at the American Vocational association convention during the early part of next week. This association, which is meeting in California for the first time in 13 years, has a membership of more than 20,000 persons from industry and educational fields. Headquarters for the convention is at Fairmont hotel where extensive commercial and school exhibits are also arranged.

GAUCHO EXHIBITS

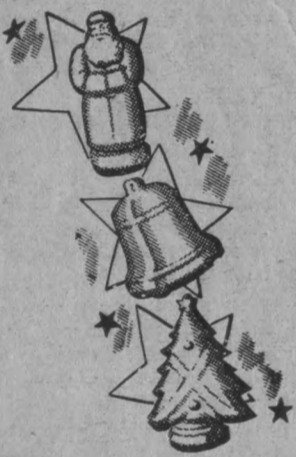

Among the school exhibits will be a considerable display of technical work done by Santa Barbara State college students. Among the articles displayed will be machine shop work and metal work of various kinds, radio and electrical projects, woodwork and a variety of craftwork, including glass etchings, work in plastics and carving.

A display of large photographs showing various views of the new industrial education plant and of activities of the division, such as aerobics and the flight training program, building construction and other technical work will be displayed.

FACULTY DELEGATES

Faculty members who will attend the convention are E. E. Ericson, Lynne C. Monroe, Dana M. Barnes, John T. Porter, Merle Weidman, Everett Weant, Jacob Hansen, Roy L. Soules and Harold Ormsby.

Ericson and Dr. Monroe are scheduled as speakers on the program.

Music Groups Present Winter Student Recital

Illness of Director Causes Cancellation of Some Numbers

Climaxing a program of instrumental and choral music with a presentation of "Democracy Forever" by the combined A Capella choir and the college band, the college music department presented the semi-annual Music Organizations Festival concert Tuesday evening in the college auditorium.

Due to the illness of Van A. Christy, music department head and choral conductor, the A Capella choir was unable to present a number by E. G. McManus, entitled "The Spires of Oxford" which was to have been the first public performance of the composition.

CHRISTY ARRANGES

Christy arranged the composition for choral work. The choir was also unable to present three other compositions originally on the schedule.

Under the direction of Maurice Faulkner, instrumental instructor, the orchestra offered the Entr'acte from "Thamos, King of Egypt" by Mozart and the "Andante Cantabile" Opus 11 by Tschaiakowsky.

The newly organized brass choir presented, under Faulkner's direction, "In Dulci Jubilo" and "Minuet" by Bach and "Conatina" by Reiche.

Presenting the numbers "Ave Verum" by Mozart-Davis, "As Joseph was a Walking" by Oldrowd, "Pata-Pan" an old Burgundian air and "Croon Carol," a Christmas cradle song of the fifteenth century, the women's glee club was led by Faulkner.

Assisting the chorus was the string quartet, composed of Margaret Kerr, Gordon Ludwig, Charlotte Cobb, and Gean Tapie. A violin obligato to the last number was played by Helen Simmons.

The band entertained with the numbers "Wachet Auf" by Bach, the Intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni, with a cornet solo by Nino Baudino and the "Overture Light Cavalry" by Von Suppe.

I. E. Fraternity Initiates Members

Pi Sigma Chi, industrial education fraternity, initiated 21 members at ceremonies performed last Wednesday evening in the A.W.S. clubroom.

William Woltes, president; Donald Edgar, vice-president; E. E. Ericson, chief counsellor and S. O. Werner, faculty adviser, officially inducted the new members.

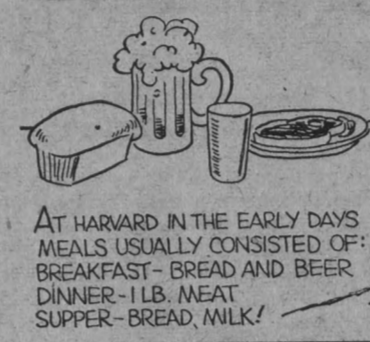

Plans of the fraternity include a group of professional meetings to which the public will be invited.

Bettie Schwankovsky Discloses Sidelights on 'R.U.R.' Heroine

Finding her unoccupied was no simple matter. Betty Schwankovsky is a busy lady these days. When finally snared at rehearsal the charming heroine of "R.U.R." smilingly answered all questions, however.

In reference to the play, she said, "It has a sort of a Buck Rogers idea in that the sets, furnishings, costumes and coiffures will all be extremely futuristic. I like both the play and my part very much.

"My character, that of Helena Glory, is that of a vital, sympathetic girl of 21." Miss Schwankovsky also modestly admitted that Helena Glory is supposed to be beautiful. "But most of all, the part calls for an actress and I am going to work hard to do the part as it should be done."

The heroine of the drama division's next major production recently made a name for herself in the campus workshop play "Hyacinths." Although this was her first State college performance, she has worked in plays both in high school and at the Laguna theater. At the latter she starred in "Of Mice and Men" and played the ingenue in "The Old Maid." At Manual Arts high school in Los Angeles Miss Schwankovsky portrayed the lead in "Trial by Jury" by Gilbert and Sullivan and also starred in the "Monkey's Paw."

OPENS NEW THEATER

"R.U.R." will open the new theater on the Leadbetter mesa campus on the evenings of January 16, 17, and 18. A special performance will be held for state and local officials on January 15.

Students are admitted free upon presentation of their student body cards at the theater box office in the administration building a week preceding the play.

Artist Bureau Exposes Talent

Doug Mattson and a scintillating cast of student performers "brought down the house" at the second artist bureau presentation fourth hour Tuesday in the auditorium.

The program, featuring the first campus performance of Miss Norma Yauni professional accordionist, was punctuated by touches of comedy by Mattson and company.

Miss Yauni gave a sparkling rendition of "Begin the Beguine" and "I'll Never Smile Again."

Homer Tunger, also a newcomer to Gauchos audiences, played Hoagy Carmichael's "Stardust."

Tom Bosley and his quartet, with new member, Clarinetist Gerry Linares, played toe tickling tunes.

A bathtub sketch by Chet Wilson, songs by Dick Miller and his "Scrubs" comedy trio of Chuck Widener and Tom Bosley completed the program.

Don Estey, director of assemblies, announced the appointment of Mattson as head of the artist bureau, Bill Guidinger head of the motion picture series and Georgia Mae Krebs as secretary of the organization.

Hiking Club Tours

With the Santa Barbara botanic gardens as a place of destination, the college hiking club will leave the gym at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon for another hiking event which is open to all students.

Social Sororities Stress Importance of Christmas Season Charity Affairs

Formulation of plans for Christmas charity work and social entertaining held the spotlight at regular bi-monthly meetings of college sororities held Monday evening.

considering plans for a dinner to be held for members and guests before the Pan-Hellenic formal which will take place sometime in January.

ALPHA THETA CHI

Meeting at the Beta Sigma Chi house, the Alpha Theta Chi sorority held a joint meeting with the Beta Sigs Monday evening. After short business meetings at which the at home tea which was held Tuesday afternoon was discussed and a Christmas party scheduled for next Monday in conjunction with the alumni chapter was planned, the meeting adjourned for games, dancing, and refreshments.

ARETA GAMMA

Meeting at the home of Edith Stark on San Andres street, Areta Gamma members completed plans Monday night for the third in the series of at-home teas to be held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. De Vighne on Puerta Del Sol.

Plans were also made for the annual Christmas party given in honor of alumni to be held following the tea. An exchange of gifts will be featured. Members are also planning a large Christmas basket which will be presented to the Neighborhood house just before Christmas.

DELTA SIGMA EPSILON

Under the direction of Raima Chancey, social chairman, Delta Sigma Epsilon members made final plans for an informal at-home tea which was held Tuesday afternoon at the house. Also planned at the meeting was a Christmas party to be held Monday at which an exchange of gifts will take place. Members are also

DELTA ZETA DELTA

Plans for a Christmas party for members and guests to take place next Monday evening were made this week by Delta Zeta Delta members. In charge of plans are Alice Freeman and Patsy Eaves. Members of the alumni group are to be invited.

The sorority also made plans for Christmas donations to Neighborhood house. On the social calendar are a dinner dance which will be held sometime during Christmas vacation and a future at-home tea.

GAMMA DELTA CHI

Meeting at the sorority house on Loma street, members of Gamma Delta Chi discussed plans for the annual Christmas contribution to the Neighborhood house. Final plans were also made at the meeting for the open house tea which was held yesterday afternoon and a Christmas party for members which will be held next Monday evening with an exchange of gifts to take place.

Plans for pledge pins were submitted at the meeting by Eileen Cozier, Barbara Millan and Dr. Helen E. Sweet.

PHI KAPPA GAMMA

Phi Kappa Gamma members formulated plans for a final open-house tea which will be held next Wednesday at the sorority house. Arrangements for the event are in charge of Emiline Baker. Committee heads under her are Sheila Grantham, refreshments; Meridith Morrison, decorations and Minta McArthur, invitations.

A special meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lawrence E. Chenoweth, sponsor, next Monday to make last minute plans for the tea and to discuss a Christmas party scheduled during vacation.

TAU GAMMA SIGMA

Preparations for the annual "Soiree Musicale" has been occupying the time of Tau Gamma Sigma members during the last few weeks. Both active and alumni members of the sorority plus guest artists will perform in the event which takes place next Wednesday evening at 8:15 at the Biltmore hotel. The public is invited and the event is free.

Following a rehearsal Sunday afternoon the alumni society is giving a Christmas party for the actives at the home of Margaret Mellinger on Garden street. A basket for the needy will be filled and gifts will be exchanged.

Locals Face 'Dark Horse' LaVerne Quintet Tomorrow

Brewster, Guerrero, Steward Head Santa Barbara Offense

Orin Cottle Heads Fiery Leopard Attack

BY BERT MARSHALL

Varying in size from dyna-mite Orin Cottle, five foot, six inch forward, to Johnny Haines and Joe Deal, six foot guards, La Verne college's greatly underrated casaba club will meet Santa Barbara's greatly overrated Gauchos in the National Guard armory tomorrow night.

The game is slated for 8:15 p.m. and is the local hoopsters third venture into competition this season.

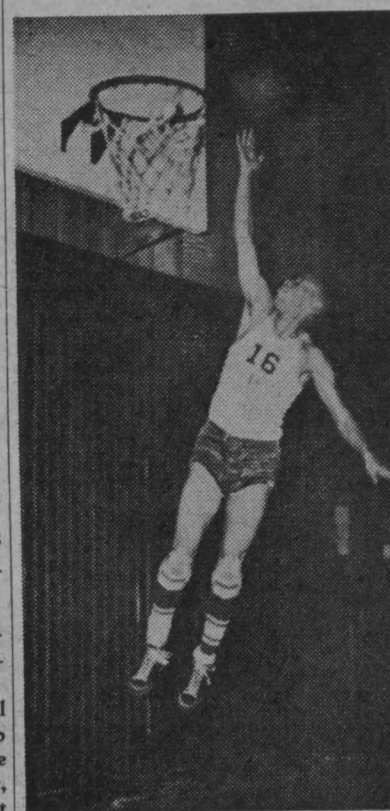

Four juniors and a senior will make up the Leopard's starting lineup with Cottle and Woodrow Wallace at forwards, Leland Newcomer, center, and Haines and Joe Deal at guards.

"Throttle" Cottle, although the baby of the squad, is the vital spark that keeps the energy up and the drive going. This is his second season of play. Wallace, lone senior and student body president, will hold down the opposite forward berth, and will be out to return his share of the Gauchos administered defeat to the La Verne football team.

Newcomer is expected to take the offensive lead since his adding antics have placed him at the head of the guests scoring column.

Two reliable transfers from Chaffey junior college are Haines and Joe "New" Deal, guards. Both boys are juniors and will be playing against their first collegiate competition of the current season.

Last week-end, the Wildcats engaged the Sportland aggregation and dropped the tiff by a narrow two-point margin. Behind at the half by 18 points, their last half rally was stopped short of victory by the proceeds of but one basket.

Dumping in one of his favorite one hand shots is LOWELL STEWARD, flashy Gauchos center, who will lead the offensive tonight against Cal Poly.

Aztec Quintet Drubs UCLA

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 12.—San Diego State college hurled a challenge at the Santa Barbara Gauchos, 2C2A champions, after their twin win over the strong U.C.L.A. Bruin quintet here Friday and Saturday.

Sparked by guards Dick Mitchell and Joe Davis, the Aztecs edged out the Bruins in the first game, 33-28. Mitchell took high point honors with 11 points while Jack Robinson led the Bruins with 7 points.

Cagers Dump Cal Poly Five In Close Duel

Coach Willie Wilton's Gauchos cagers made an auspicious start in the defense of their 2C2A basketball championship when they squeezed out a 31-28 decision over a surprisingly tough Cal Poly quintet last week at San Luis Obispo.

Lowell Steward, the Green and White five's top scorer, paced the Gauchos with 11 points while Tommy Guerrero took runner up honors with eight counters.

Paul Blanton and Gil Trillus, Mustang forwards, gave the Hilltoppers a hot time of it before finally succumbing to the local's terrific second half spurt.

Blanton headed the Cal Poly scorers with 10 points while Trillus made six points before he was ejected from the game early in the second half because of too many fouls.

Larry "Crash" Brewster with seven points and Gordon Gray with five points, comprised the rest of the Gauchos' scoring for the evening.

Wilton's charges were surprised by Cal Poly's defense, expecting a man to man style of play, instead, receiving the zone defense, and it took them a full half-hour before they them a full half to get started.

Did you like my Christmas letter that I mailed you the other day?
I hope it will help you a lot in choosing "her" gift. And did you read the wide number of suggestions on the back... and most any price you want to pay, too!

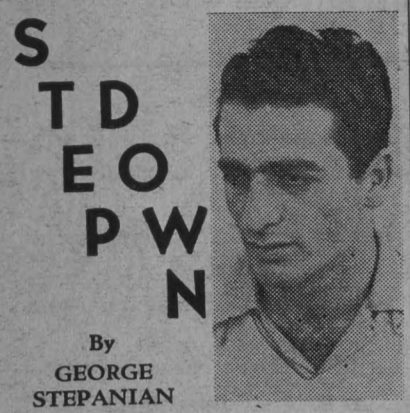

Take another look at your El Gaucho rotogravure, if you haven't done so already, and glance over those collector's items. If she's the sports type, you're sure to find something in this array of sportswear that will suit her fancy.

You see the Jack Rose "what-to-get-her - for - Christmas" list is practically unending. I couldn't possibly mention everything, so why not come in and see me. I'll be on the job from now until Christmas. I know I can help you.

Gazing off into the distance is Gauchos Coach WILTON "WILLIE" WILTON, who wonders what the future holds for his 2C2A championship cage squad.

STEEPEN
By GEORGE STEPANIAN

Those farmers are here again! Referring, of course, to the Cal Poly Mustangs who are back in town for tonight's basketball brawl with Coach Willie Wilton's 2C2A champions.

Those sons of the earth just haven't learned to read the scoreboard correctly. The Gauchos knocked them over in football, 18-14, and the Mustang players, rooters and coaches alike immediately put up a cry that they were the better ball club and that the officials had cheated them out of the game.

They even called the game statistics liars for publicizing the fact that Santa Barbara had made 21 first downs to their 2.

And last week, when Wilton's charges came through in the second half to edge out the Mustang cagers, 31-28, found them in an equally doubting mood.

MUSTANGS SING THE BLUES

Their publicity releases blared out with the same old refrain "we outplayed the visiting team all the way through." And, further on, it began to alibi for the defeat by wishfully stating, "had the Mustangs been in full power for the entire game the final score would undoubtedly have been different."

They very conveniently forgot to mention the fact that the Mustangs only scored six points in the entire second half to the Gauchos' 15. Yet they naively declared that they outplayed the Green and White squad throughout the game.

Perhaps the new electric scoreboard will enable them to get a much better view of the final score of the game and remind them that the team with the largest total is the winner of the game.

One thing is certain, the Mustangs are out for blood tonight and

Final 'Mural Meet Slated For Wednesday

All Performances Go Into Books as New Track Marks

When head starter Sterling "Skip" Winans fires the gun for the initial event of the intramural track meet Wednesday afternoon at Phelps field, he will start down the straightaway the first competitors of an intramural track meet in the history of Santa Barbara State. This is the first affair, as such, for strictly intramural competition in the records of the institution.

Every first place winner will establish a record in the event to go in the books for posterity to shoot at. Standard ribbons will go to the first five places in every event with points awarded as follows: first—5, second—4, third—3, fourth—2, fifth—1.

In order to facilitate the handling of the large entry expected, the meet will be held on two days, Wednesday and Thursday at Phelps Field. The field events will be run off on Wednesday and all of the running events on Thursday. As no entry lists are necessary all entries are to report before the scheduled time for the event.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS:

Wed., 4 p.m. Phelps field—4: shot put and pole vault; 4:30: discus throw and high jump; 4:50: javelin throw and broad jump.

Thursday 3:30 p.m. Phelps field—3:30: mile run; 3:50: 100 yard dash; 4: 70 yard high hurdles; 4:10: 220 yard dash; 4:20: 880 yard run; 4:35: 120 yard low hurdles; 4:50: 440 yard dash; 5:00: 440 yard sprint relay; 5:15: mile relay.

OFFICIALS:

Referee—Nick Carter; head field judge—I. A. Mather; Clerk of course—Walt Bradbury; scorer—George Stepanian; judges of events—Willie Wilton, Don Follett, Howard Yeager, Terry Dearborn, Spud Harder, Russell Buchanan, Jack Porter; head starter—Sterling Winans; head timer—C. L. Jacobs; timers—I. A. Mather, Russell Buchanan.

the Santa Barbara five had better be in form or else those wild-shooting farmers will spring an upset that will enable them to crow for years to come.

OLDERSHAW HITS GRID PINNACLE

In passing, we might mention the fact that Doug Oldershaw, the Gauchos' Little All-American guard of a few years back, was given the distinct honor of being selected to play for the professional all-stars against the world champion Chicago Bears.

His selection emphasized the fact that Oldershaw, now playing with the New York Giants, has been recognized as one of the five best guards in football, ranking along with such grid greats as Harry Smith, ex-U.S.C. All-American now playing with the Detroit club, Dick Bassi, Philadelphia Eagles, and Ted Livingston, Cleveland Rams.

All Stars Face Northrup Nine In Loop Finale

Coach Coleman Stewart's Gauchos All-Stars ring down the curtain on the local winter baseball season this Sunday afternoon when they tangle with the string Northrup Aviation nine from Los Angeles at Laguna park. Game time is set for 2:15 p.m.

The All-Stars, who have chalked up seven wins in nine games, will get stiff opposition from the southern horsehidiers who are managed by John Miljuz, former American league pitcher.

Starting on the mound for the local squad will be either Jim Fitzgerald, who hurled a 2-1 decision over the Colored Athletics last week, or Cliff Wrightson.

Big Bob "Shanty" Stansbury will handle the catching duties as usual. The infield will line up with Bud Tyreman at first base, Captain Don Ripsch at second base, Eddie Markham at third base and Jack Fitzgerald at short stop.

Squire Five Cops Double 'Mural Victory

With the schedule only a week old, the intramural basketball competition already is developing into a series of consistently hard fought rockem-sockem battles. Close scores are the rule rather than the exception as the thirteen teams battle for the pennant.

Editorially Speaking . . .

Children Express in Words Character, Morale of World

At a recent meeting of the California Student Teachers' Association, Miss Kay Bishop, a member of the Santa Barbara Junior high school faculty, gave an inspired lecture on the importance of character training in the public schools.

Defining character as the way in which an individual regularly behaves as a result of his experiences, Miss Bishop stated that the school should concern itself more with character and personality training than anything else. The welfare of a democracy, she contended, rests upon and is no better or worse than the character of its people.

The speaker stressed the importance of correct guidance, of stern discipline and punctuality in creating happy, honest, cooperative and responsible citizens.

But with all this we are agreed. It is with her evaluation of the other agencies that we are at odds. We concede, that the schools should do their best to mold strong characters, but we prefer to believe that the center of emphasis upon character, or of any other personal qualities, should and must be in the HOME. Character training begins in the home and is supplemented by the training in the school, the church, and social agencies such as Scouting and the Y.M.C.A.

If we are to accept the speaker's own definition of character, that character is the way an individual acts and behaves as a result of his experiences, we must recognize that the school is only one phase of our experiences. Compared to the home it is indeed a small phase.

We also disagree with Miss Bishop's belief that the effects of such governmental organizations as the W.P.A. are detrimental to national moral and to individual character. To prove our point we shall use the words of students in the very school system whose philosophy Miss Bishop's contentions are effecting.

In a junior high school room in Santa Barbara some few weeks ago, two boys were engaged in debate. Said one, a boy whose parents had never come in direct contact with any of the relief agencies, "The W.P.A. is holding back recovery; it is doing work that our industries need in order to get back on their feet; it is keeping men on the public payrolls who would otherwise be doing useful jobs in American industry."

Said the other, a Mexican lad, "The W.P.A. is not hindering recovery, it is not taking jobs away from industry; it is CREATING jobs; it is doing work that industry can or will not do. The W.P.A. is taking men who otherwise would have nothing to do and giving them a chance to work and earn the support of their families, thus helping not only them, but the entire country."

It is an old argument, the value of New Deal work projects. One we shall not enter into. But one thing we think is certain. As long as children of the W.P.A. can find words such as the above to express their beliefs, this nation need never fear a collapse of national morale or a degeneration of its working class.—D.J.P.

Just for fun . . .

(Editor's note: Due to the illness this week of the editorial manager who has added his name to the already long list of flu victims, Lew Bedell, yell leader and well-known "man-about-the-freshman-women" fills in. Inasmuch as Bedell has often been the "fall guy" for Newman's cutting remarks this semester, we think it only fair that he be allowed an opportunity to deliver a kick or two at his persecutor while the latter is helpless.)

Poor Newman has the flu
So I guess it's up to Lew
To talk of hair and purple pants

Or don't you care for idle rants?
With everybody going home this Christmas vacation, we find Newman working down at the Children's Shop for the holidays—well, I guess that would be home to Jackie-boy.

What this column needs is more personalities to satiate the egos of local collegians. The following students were seen about campus the other month: Geraldine Abbott, Raymond Acevedo, Alice Acres, Fred Acres and Burk Adams.*

The basketball team will really move into high gear tonight if condition means anything — they're READY! The boys have so many coats of benzoin on their feet that they're leaving off the shoes . . . Let's all get out there and support them, blisters and all, tonight.

You can't beat those freshmen for novel ideas—we saw two fellas running around the campus holding mistletoe in one hand and towing the Miss in the other.

We enjoyed the antics of that "Scrubbo" trio starring Dick Miller, Tom Bosley and Chuck Winder . . . hope to see more of them. Also, enjoyed Doug Matison and his stooge . . . too bad that they weren't good.

One thing we can say about the fellows who sit along "Wolf Row" on the quad steps is that they're all good "scouts."

Getting serious (and Roebuck), what would the student body think of selecting an outstanding man and woman student for each month until the end of the school year? The judging committee could be composed of the class officers and it could base its choice on achievement and personality of the individuals.

It's not bad enough that T. A. and J. L. have to play with water faucets, now Newman is playing around with toy trains. At his first day at work, a little boy asked Jack for a bridge, so Newman pulled out his teeth.

Jack's pretty sore at me. The other day I was visiting him and he asked me to put in a plug for him . . . how'd I know he was sitting on the electric fan.

Having a little space, will will discuss five more personalities . . . seen at the mail boxes last week were Irene Zehner, Walter Ziegler, Evelyn Zinn, Virginia Zscheile and Edward Zuzack.

Gauchos Display Surprising Versatility in Letters, Poem

Dedicated to those professors whose auditory centers are especially resistant to the stimuli of bell ringing.

After the bell is over,
After the class is through—
Why must you keep us waiting
When there's so much to do;
When we've a scant five minutes
Going from class to class,
Mail must be looked at,
Minutes are bound to pass.
E'en though you keep on talking
'Bout facts not oft repeated,
None of us 'ever listens,
All of us want to beat it.
There is a time for working,
There is a time for play;
Save what you want to tell us—
There'll be another day.
We can't help being restless,
The caf is already jammed,
We gotta get a lunch
And finish a lesson plan.
O after the bell is over,
Dear Prof.; if you keep me waiting,
Someday I'll break and run.
Things would be much more cozy—
Santa Barbara State quite swell,
If you would just cease talking
AFTER THE BELL.

Dear Sir:

Congratulations are due someone for the interest which has been aroused in this deplorable parking situation. Even though no one seems to know, yet, what is "cricket" and what isn't, a great many students are helping to uncover the beauty which exists under the covering which you described two weeks ago.

Of course, the new parking lot (and the old ones, too) need a lot of improvement before you can expect every car on the campus to be parked in it, but there is already a noticeable migration in that direction.
